APPLICANT'S REPLY BRIEF

In reply to the brief of the Examining Attorney filed January 9, 2012, for which the period for reply ends January 29, 2012, Applicant requests reversal of the refusal to register and publication of the application. For the first time on record, the Examining Attorney contends that the combined term ARCADEWEB is descriptive and relies, exclusively, on Applicant's prior Supplemental Register registration for the same term. However, circumstances have changed since that registration, and in view of the new evidence presented herein to counter the Examining Attorney's new argument, any contention of descriptiveness should be deemed unpersuasive and the application should advance to publication.

I. DISCUSSION

A. The terms "arcade" and "web" are not merely descriptive of Applicant's services

The Examining Attorney first alleges that the individual words "arcade" and "web" merely describe features of Applicant's services—a contention completely inconsistent with the Examining Attorney's prior insistence, in an Office action, that the Applicant had to disclaim the combined term ARCADEWEB. At that time, the Examining Attorney contended that the combined mark could not be dissected into separate terms, and the Board should require the Examining Attorney to adhere to the well-established anti-dissection rule. The problem for the Office, of course, is that the mark is presented as a coined, combination term, and in all actual commercial use—as exemplified by the evidence presented for separate purposes elsewhere in this brief—the Applicant consistently uses the combined term. The Examining Attorney has presented zero evidence of record to suggest that the public would perceive the mark as two words or perceive the words as descriptive; there is no consumer survey or evidence of descriptive usage of "arcade web" to refer to anything. The Office has not met its burden to show mere descriptiveness by substantial evidence.

Furthermore, if the terms "arcade" and "web" are properly considered separately, the terms are not merely descriptive of Applicant's services, based on the identification of services that is presently of record. Applicants have fully addressed this issue in their opening appeal brief and the Examining Attorney's brief does not present any new arguments on this issue. For at least this reason, the Examining Attorney should be reversed and the case should move to publication.

B. The term ARCADEWEB is not merely descriptive of Applicant's services

1. Supplemental Register Registration is Moot

The Examining Attorney also alleges, for the first time, that the combined term ARCADEWEB is descriptive in relation to the services recited in the application, relying solely on Applicant's registration 3881836 of the mark ARCADEWEB on the Supplemental Register[1] as alleged evidence of descriptiveness. However, the Examining Attorney's contention should be deemed unpersuasive because Applicant have already addressed the issue, the issue is moot in view of a new filing by the Applicant or, in the alternative, because the mark has acquired distinctiveness.

Applicant has already established in its opening brief the term ARCADEWEB is not merely descriptive of the services for which registration is sought. The Examining Attorney has failed to effectively refute Applicant's argument on that point. In addition, the only evidence presented by the Examining Attorney in support of her allegation–Applicant's Supplemental Register registration—is effectively now moot; Applicants have since filed an application for the same mark to be registered on the Principal Register, application 85/527,505 of January 27, 2012. An application on the Principal Register is an assertion that the mark applied for is inherently distinctive. As there is no procedural mechanism to "promote" a Supplemental Register registration to the Principal Register, a new application is the recognized mechanism to accomplish the same effect.

[1] Applicants applied on October 16, 2009 on an ITU basis, filed a Statement of Use establishing use at least as early as May 24, 2010, and amended to the Supplemental Register on July 9, 2010.

Moreover, circumstances have changed since the October 2009 application that resulted in the Supplemental Register registration; Applicant has achieved extensive use of the subject mark, with millions of page views as further described below, and the mark is properly viewed as inherently distinctive or at least as suggestive. The Supplemental Register registration is immaterial and is utterly inadequate, in the face of all other evidence herein, as a basis to refuse registration. For at least this reason, the Examining Attorney should be reversed.

2. In the Alternative—Mark Has Acquired Distinctiveness

While Applicant maintains that ARCADEWEB is not descriptive of Applicant's services and is inherently distinctive or at least suggestive, in the alternative, the ARCADEWEB mark has acquired distinctiveness under Section 2(f) of the Trademark Act. The descriptiveness of a mark shall not prevent the registration of a mark used by the Applicant "which has become distinctive of the Applicant's goods in commerce." 15 U.S.C. §1052 (f).

The ARCADEWEB mark has acquired distinctiveness at least through Applicant's widespread usage of the mark. The mark has been extensively promoted. In addition, a vast number of people have used Applicant's services, with which the mark has been prominently displayed. Furthermore, there is substantial evidence that the ARCADEWEB mark has only been associated with the Applicant as the source of goods. See Declaration of David Shapiro, General Counsel and Executive Vice President of Business and Legal Affairs at the Applicant company, with accompanying exhibits, submitted concurrently herewith; Declaration of Christopher J. Palermo, with exhibits, submitted concurrently herewith. For all these reasons, Applicant is entitled to a claim of acquired distinctiveness and registration of the mark.

Extensive promotional efforts have been devoted to the ARCADEWEB mark, resulting in extensive use on the internet by individual users, all of whom can be assumed to recognize the ARCADEWEB brand and identify the mark with one source. The website Arcadeweb.com and a Facebook application each feature the ARCADEWEB mark. Shapiro Decl., Exh. 3, 9, 10, and 11. The web analytics firm Compete.com has determined that Arcadweb.com receives over two million unique visitors per year and is ranked the 904th most commonly visited website in terms of unique visitors per year. Shapiro Decl. ¶4, Exh. 1, Exh. 2. For the kind of service that is provided through the ARCADEWEB site, a ranking of 904 is remarkably high and indicates great popularity, as does having two million unique visitors per month—they indicate that over two million different people per month are exposed to the brand, recognize the brand and associate it with the source. Id. ARCADEWEB's Facebook application has been "liked" by over 15,000 users. Shapiro Decl. ¶4, Exh. 3. According to data gathered by AppData, an application metrics firm, the ArcadeWeb facebook application has at least 400 active users per day and 5,000 active users per month. Shapiro Decl. ¶4, Exh. 4.

The ARCADEWEB web site has been remarkably popular. Shapiro Decl. ¶2. The site has awarded frequent cash prizes to online players; at least 7,900 cash prizes, totaling over $100,000, have been given out since May 24, 2010. Id. Indeed, Shapiro Decl. Exh. 9 features 164 pages of actual testimonials by people who won cash prizes through the ArcadeWeb website or application. Shaprio Decl. ¶5, Exhibit 9. Each visitor to the ArcadeWeb website was heavily exposed to the ARCADEWEB mark, because as Exhibits 9, 10, and 11 show, the ARCADEWEB mark is used prominently on the pages of the website.

Furthermore, there is substantial evidence that the public associates the ARCADEWEB mark primarily with Applicant's services. See Palermo Decl. ¶2, Exh. 5, 6, 7, and 8, which show the first four pages of a Google search for the term "arcadeweb." Exhibit 5 indicates that a search using the keyword ARCADEWEB yields over 46,000 references to the term. In the first four (4) pages of results submitted here, every one of the results reference services associated with the Applicant. For example, the results include links to the ARCADEWEB website described herein, social media outlets such as Facebook and Twitter pages for the ARCADEWEB app and related services discussed above, news articles discussing the same website, and YouTube videos featuring a particular game offered by Applicant.

Applicants have provided substantial evidence that the mark ARCADEWEB has acquired distinctiveness through Applicant's widespread usage of the mark. At minimum, the record provides ample evidence "tending to show that the mark distinguishes such goods," the standard of 37 C.F.R. §2.41(a), as Applicant is not required to prove distinctiveness beyond a reasonable doubt. While the mark clearly should be deemed inherently distinctive or at least suggestive, the record provides ample support for an alternative finding of acquired distinctiveness. For all these reasons, the Examining Attorney should be reversed.

II. CONCLUSION

The terms "arcade" and "web", considered individually, are not descriptive of Applicant's services. In addition, the coined combined term ARCADEWEB is also not descriptive of Applicant's services based on the evidence of record when considered in connection with the services recited in the application. In the alternative, the mark ARCADEWEB has acquired distinctiveness under §2 (f) of the Lanham Act.

Accordingly, Applicant respectfully requests reversal of the Examining Attorney's refusal to register the Mark and requests an order for withdrawal of the requirement to disclaim the term ARCADEWEB so that the application may proceed to publication.

Respectfully submitted,

DECLARATION OF DAVID SHAPIRO

I, DAVID SHAPIRO, DECLARE:

1. I am General Counsel and Executive Vice President of Business and Legal Affairs at the applicant company Future Ads LLC and its wholly owned subsidiary ArcadeWeb LLC. I am familiar with the above-referenced trademark application. I am aware that the Examining Attorney mailed an Appeal Brief in the Appeal of this application on January 9, 2012 and I make this declaration in support of a reply to the Examiner's Appeal Brief. I am over the age of 18 and competent to make a declaration in this jurisdiction.

2. Future Ads LLC and/or its wholly owned subsidiary ArcadeWeb LLC has owned and operated an online service, accessible using a Web browser at the domain arcadeweb.com, under the brand ARCADEWEB, since at least as early as May 24, 2010. In our view, the ARCADEWEB site is remarkably popular. We have awarded at least 7,900 cash prizes, totaling at least $100,000, to individual end users of the ARCADEWEB site since inception.

3. Attached to this declaration as Exhibit 1 and Exhibit 2 are true and correct copies of screen images prepared in January 2012 from an online service at the domain www.compete.com. The COMPETE service is a well-known, third party service that measures traffic to web sites and compiles data about the number of unique visitors to sites, typically on a monthly basis, and ranks the popularity of websites. As seen in Exhibit 1, COMPETE reports that the ARCADEWEB site enjoyed at least 2,193,375 unique visitors in December 2011, and ranked 904th among all web sites in terms of visitor traffic. Exhibit 2 shows the definitions of Unique Visitors and Rank that COMPETE uses. For the kind of service that we provide through the ARCADEWEB site, a ranking of 904 is remarkably high and indicates great popularity. Having two million unique visitors per month also indicates great popularity and brand recognition—it indicates that over two million different people per month are exposed to the ARCADEWEB brand and view or use the service.

4. Attached to this declaration as Exhibit 3 is a true and correct copy of a screen image that was generated in January 2012 by an ARCADEWEB application, in the Facebook social networking service, that is published and provided by us. As indicated in Exhibit 3, over 15,000 users of the Facebook service have indicated that they "like" the ARCADEWEB application and at the time over 500 users had posted messages or other comments about the ARCADEWEB application. Attached as Exhibit 4 is a true and correct copy of a screen image that was generated in January 2012 from APPDATA, an online service that tracks and reports the usage of online applications including Facebook applications. Exhibit 4 states that as of the last 30 days, ARCADEWEB on Facebook enjoyed at least 400 daily application users (DAU) and at least 5,000 monthly users (MAU). These figures also indicate that ARCADEWEB enjoys significant brand recognition and widespread usage within the Facebook community.

5. Attached as Exhibit 9, Exhibit 10, and Exhibit 11 are true and correct copies of screen shots of the ARCADEWEB service at the domain arcadeweb.com. Exhibit 9 depicts and features actual testimonial messages from real people who won cash prizes through the ARCADEWEB website or application. Exhibit 10 is an example of a game play screen. Exhibit 11 is an example of a complete home page screen.

6. VERIFICATION. The undersigned, being hereby warned that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under 18 U.S.C. 1001, and that such willful false statements and the like may jeopardize the validity of the application or any resulting registration, declares that all statements in this declaration made of his/her own knowledge are true and all statements in this declaration made on information and belief are believed to be true.

Signed at Irvine, California, this 30th day of January, 2012.

DECLARATION OF CHRISTOPHER J. PALERMO

I, CHRISTOPHER J. PALERMO, DECLARE:

1. I am an attorney of record in the above-referenced application, representing the applicant company Future Ads LLC. I am aware that the Examining Attorney mailed an Appeal Brief in the Appeal of this application on January 9, 2012 and I make this declaration in support of a reply to the Examiner's Appeal Brief. I am over the age of 18 and competent to make a declaration in this jurisdiction.

2. Attached to this declaration as Exhibit 5, Exhibit 6, Exhibit 7, and Exhibit 8 are true and correct copies of screen images prepared in January 2012 from the results of keyword searches performed using the nation's leading online Web search service, Google. Exhibit 5 indicates that a search using the keyword ARCADEWEB yields over 46,000 references to the term. Exhibits 5-8 are four (4) successive pages of the top search results for such a search and all uses of the term ARCADEWEB in the search results refer to the ARCADEWEB service of the applicant company.

3. VERIFICATION. The undersigned, being hereby warned that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under 18 U.S.C. 1001, and that such willful false statements and the like may jeopardize the validity of the application or any resulting registration, declares that all statements in this declaration made of his/her own knowledge are true and all statements in this declaration made on information and belief are believed to be true.

Signed at San Jose, California, this 27 day of January, 2012.
