JUSTIN COX,

called as a witness, having been duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows:

EXAMINATION

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. Good morning. My name is Ross Dannenberg. I'm with the law firm Banner & Witcoff.

For the record, this is applicant's testimony, the deposition of Justin Cox. This is Opposition Number 91210379, Atlas Brewing Company LLC versus Atlas Brew Works LLC.

Good morning.

A. Good morning.

Q. Please state your name for the record.

A. Justin Cox.

Q. And, Mr. Cox, what is your educational background?

A. I have an undergraduate degree from Vanderbilt University in engineering science and economics, and I have a JD from George Mason University School of Law from 2009.

JUSTIN COX

Actually graduated with Evan there.

Q. And what is your present employment?

A. I'm the founder and CEO at Atlas Brew Works.

Q. When you graduated from undergraduate school, did you go straight to law school or was there any employment in between?

A. I did not. I worked as a temporary paralegal for a few weeks and then my first full-time job was at a corporate executive board doing like corporate business practice research.

Q. That was before or after law school?

A. That was before law school.

Q. And then did you have any other employment before law school?

A. No.

Q. And I meant subsequent to undergraduate. After law school -- sorry, when did you say you graduated from law school?

A. 2009.

Q. And what was your employment subsequent to law school?

A. After law school, I was a presidential management fellow with the General Services Administration, specifically, the Public Building Service within GSA.

Q. And what type of duties did that job entail?

A. It was the -- it's called the PMF program and it's a government management training program and so it was sort of a rotational program where I'd spend time in the different departments within the Public Building Service kind of learning how they work. And then after -- that was for the two-year program. Then after that, I became -- the fellowship converted into a -- I don't know what it would be called, a full-time position, I guess, with the Real Estate Finance Division.

Q. And how long did you work there?

A. From 2009 until probably 2012. I think it was around July of 2012.

Q. You said you were a founder of Atlas Brew Works. When did you decide to start a brewery?

A. I got -- I'd always been thinking about it, but I got serious about it, putting things down on paper, in late 2011.

Q. Who did you work with to do that? Did you do that by yourself or with anyone else?

A. Well, it started with just me putting the business plan together and then my -- a friend of mine from college who was or is a professional brewer was helping me on the technical side of the business plan. And then eventually he came onboard the project.

Q. He's your brewer today?

A. He is our head brewer today.

Q. What's his name?

A. Will Durgin D-U-R-G-I-N, Durgin.

Q. You said you are a CEO of Atlas Brew Works?

A. Yes.

Q. And have you held any other positions with Atlas Brew Works?

A. No.

Q. So you've always been the CEO of Atlas Brew Works?

A. Yes.

Q. Are you familiar with the work that was entailed in setting up a brewery?

JUSTIN COX

A. Yes.

Q. And you're familiar with Atlas' decisions with respect to its trademark issues and names?

A. Yes.

Q. And are you familiar with your company's sales and advertising activities?

A. Yes.

(Atlas Brew Works Exhibit No. 6 was marked for identification.)

MR. DANNENBERG: We're going to mark two sets just so we have a duplicate. Would you prefer to have an unmarked copy?

MR. CARROLL: It doesn't matter at all to me.

MR. DANNENBERG: Let's do this.

MR. CARROLL: That's fine, yeah. If there's a separate set --

MR. DANNENBERG: We have a third set of stickers.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. Mr. Cox, I'm showing you what's been marked as Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 6. Can you tell me if you recognize this document?

A. I do.

Q. And what is it?

A. This is the response to our interrogatories?

Q. Well, no.

A. No.

Q. The title at the top, what does that read?

A. "The Declaration of Justin Cox in Support of Applicant's Opposition to Opposer's Motion for Summary Judgment."

Q. And if you turn to page 5 of the document, is that your signature?

A. It is.

Q. Do you recognize this document as your declaration?

A. I do.

Q. If you can take whatever time you need to review the statements made therein, I'm just going to ask you to verify that they are still accurate and correct to the best of your knowledge.

JUSTIN COX

A. Yes, it is.

MR. DANNENBERG: And just for the record, this is the redacted version. The sealed exhibits are not included.

MR. CARROLL: Okay.

MR. DANNENBERG: Mark this.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. I'm showing you what we're marking as Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 7. Can you read the title at the top?

A. "Applicant's Response to Opposer's First Set of Interrogatories."

Q. Have you seen this document before?

A. I have.

Q. And can you turn to the second-to-last page? Is that your signature?

A. It is.

Q. Taking whatever time you need, I would like you to review the responses that begin on page 4 and I'm going to ask you to confirm that your responses are still true, complete, and accurate to the best of your knowledge.

A. Yes, it is.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. I'm showing you what we're marking as Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 8. Do you recognize this document?

A. I do.

Q. What is this document?

A. This is our Certificate of Formation for Volstead Beer Works LLC in Delaware.

Q. And what is the date that this document was filed?

A. It was filed on November 4, 2011.

Q. Now, who or what is Volstead Beer Works?

A. Volstead Beer Works was our original company name.

Q. And that you and Will decided to form, or was that -- at that point, was it just you?

A. It was just me at this point.

Q. And so tell me a little bit about the process you went through to set up the brewery once you incorporated Volstead Beer Works.

JUSTIN COX

What happened next?

A. After we had formed the LLC we, of course, had to open a bank account and kind of the administrative side of things.

We went through the process of trying to raise money for the next five months or so. I believe we closed that in May of 2012.

At that point, we had -- everyone -- all the investors had signed our operating agreement, including Will.

Q. At any point during that time, did you seek to protect the name VOLSTEAD?

A. I did. We had filed for an Intent-to-Use application for I believe it was Volstead Beer Works.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. I'm handing you a packet of information. I'm going to give you a minute to look at it. And tell me if this looks familiar to you in any respect.

JUSTIN COX

A. It does.

Q. And what does this look like to you?

A. This looks like our -- the prosecution history for our application, trademark application for VOLSTEAD BEER WORKS.

Q. Okay. And looking at the top right of the first page, what date was this filed?

A. January 29, 2012.

Q. And does this look like a true and accurate copy of those records to you?

A. It does.

Q. So you filed your Volstead -- sorry, the mark as filed was VOLSTEAD BEER WORKS. Thank you.

After you filed Volstead Beer Works' trademark application, your name now is not Volstead Beer Works, so what happened to cause it to change?

A. Well, we got an office action from the PTO looks like on May 9 2012. Apparently, there was a distillery in -- on the West Coast somewhere that was using the name VOLSTEAD for one of their vodkas. And there was also a bar in Boston, I believe, that has a trademark on the term BEER WORKS.

So after we received that notice from the PTO, I called -- or emailed and called the CEO of I believe it's House Spirits or House Distillery. It was the owner of -- I think it was an application at the time for VOLSTEAD, to try to reach some sort of agreement with him because we really liked the VOLSTEAD name and wanted to use it and wanted to talk with him about the possibility of working out some licensing agreement perhaps.

After reaching out to him a couple times, I finally got him on the phone and he said he was going to talk to his counsel, which at that point I figured it was probably not going to happen.

So in the meantime, we were scrambling trying to figure out what we were going to call ourselves if we couldn't use VOLSTEAD. We didn't want to -- it was obvious to us that Volstead had superior rights than we did from their filing and so we did not want to go through a drawn-out process with them if we couldn't work something out cordially, I guess.

JUSTIN COX

Q. So when you realized you weren't going to go forward with VOLSTEAD, did you -- how many names did you consider?

Did you go straight to ATLAS?

Were there other names in consideration? Tell me a little bit about that process.

A. There were other names in consideration. I don't remember exactly how many. I know we had a big list trying to kind of scramble and find a word that would fit in with kind of our design theme and our, you know, kind of our marketing plan, I guess.

Q. Had you started marketing under the name Volstead?

A. We had not. No, I guess not.

Q. Okay. So, sorry, going back to choosing the ATLAS name, you said you had a number of names. And then did ATLAS -- was it one of, you know, five that you winnowed it down to? Was it one of two? Was it one of ten?

How many names did you give serious contention to after VOLSTEAD?

JUSTIN COX

A. We kind of brainstormed and had a long list of names. I don't know how many on the list, but came down to maybe -- I don't quite remember, but maybe three or four with ATLAS being kind of the frontrunner of those names.

(Atlas Brew Works Exhibit No. 10 was marked for identification.)

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. So I'm showing you what has been marked as Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 10. Take a minute, review the document, and tell me if you recognize this document.

A. I do recognize this document.

Q. What is this document?

A. This is an email chain starting with an update to our investors and then looks like a kind of a back-and-forth between me and a single investor.

Q. So with the exception of the areas marked "Redacted," does this look like a true and accurate copy of that email chain?

A. Yes.

Q. I'd like to draw your attention to page 2. Underneath where it says "Hello all," the second paragraph, can you read me the first sentence there?

A. "After racking our brains through hundreds of alternatives, we landed on Atlas Beer Works."

Q. So when you went through all these alternatives and you had four or five on the short list, what, did you ultimately pick ATLAS out of those four or five?

A. Yes.

Q. This email or at least the excerpt that you just read from is indicated from an email June 5, 2012 at 8:56 a.m.

What time do you get to work in the morning?

A. At this point, maybe 8 a.m.

Q. So when you state here that you landed on Atlas Beer Works, was that June 5? Did that actually happen at June 5 at 8:56 a.m. or sometime prior to that?

A. It happened prior to that.

Q. And when did it happen?

A. Probably the day before.

JUSTIN COX

Q. Okay. Which would be June 4, 2012.

A. June 4.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. I'm showing you what's been marked as Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 11. Do you recognize this document?

A. Yes.

Q. And what is it?

A. This is a mockup of a possible tap handle design that we got from our -- the designer we were working with at the time.

Q. And where's the date on this document?

A. June 4, 2012.

Q. And did you recall receiving this document?

A. I do.

Q. As of June 4, 2012?

A. Yes.

Q. So this was a mockup for an ATLAS handle or was this a mockup for VOLSTEAD?

A. An ATLAS handle.

JUSTIN COX

Q. So if he provided you a mockup on June 4, 2012, had you started discussing this with him that -- was it a same-day turnaround?

A. It was not.

Q. How long did it take him to turn this around to you?

A. I don't remember exactly. I assume from our other interactions with him, maybe three days to a week.

Q. Okay. So let's take assumptions out of the mix. What's the shortest amount of time he's ever turned something around to you?

A. Maybe a day.

Q. So at least June 3, 2012 you would have started discussing this with him?

A. Correct.

Q. What other concept development did you do for ATLAS in addition to the tap handles?

A. We worked on our logo, our -- adapting our original VOLSTEAD logo into ATLAS.

Q. When you say the original -- adapting the original logo into ATLAS, what do you mean?

What was the original logo?

JUSTIN COX

A. We had an original logo that was a kind of map of -- like a steampunked map of D.C. with all kinds of -- I don't know how to describe it, really, other than last of brass and hops and gear things mixed in with it and gears that had our name, "Volstead," prominently in the middle, so we adapted that to change from VOLSTEAD to ATLAS.

I remember there was -- it was not a particular font. Our designer had actually just hand drawn the letters, and so I guess there was no Ss in "Volstead" so he had to create an S in order to convert that to ATLAS.

Q. But you used a similar font?

A. Yes, exactly.

Q. I see.

And how did you settle on the name ATLAS? You said you had a map in Volstead. What did you settle on the name ATLAS?

A. Well, from the kind of list of frontrunners we had, we liked ATLAS because, I mean, it starts with an A so it would put us at the top of lists in festivals and in bar menus. It's short, easy to remember. We liked the play of the "book of maps" meaning of "atlas" because of our kind of whole design theme with the steampunk. It was an ohmage to the neighborhood we were hanging out in a lot at the time. We also thought, of course, that the Titan here, this was a pretty great design that we could integrate and adapt across many different beer styles.

(Atlas Brew Works Exhibit No. 12 was marked for identification.)

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. Showing you what we've marked as Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 12, if you can take a minute and familiarize yourself with the document.

A. Yes, I'm familiar with this.

Q. What is this document?

A. This is the prosecution history of our filing for ATLAS trademark on the word ATLAS.

Q. So this is your trademark application records for the mark ATLAS?

A. Yes.

Q. And does this look like a true and accurate copy to you? I'm representing to you personally that we have not made any changes to it.

A. It does.

Q. If you look at the top of page 1 in the top right, what's the application filing date?

A. June 4, 2012.

Q. So on June 4, 2012, if I draw your attention back to Exhibit 1, which you should have in front of you --

A. Yes.

Q. -- on page 2, that is the day before your email where you state "We landed on Atlas Beer Works"?

A. Yes.

Q. Thank you. When you filed the ATLAS mark, were you -- where did you stand with VOLSTEAD?

A. I was waiting to hear back from the CEO of the distillery on the West Coast about the possibility of working some sort of arrangement out.

Q. Were you still hopeful at that point?

JUSTIN COX

A. No.

Q. Did you file any other trademark applications for any other names to change the name to?

A. For the brewery?

Q. For the brewery.

A. No.

Q. So ATLAS was the only other name that you pursued the trademark application for other than VOLSTEAD for the name of the brewery?

A. Yes.

Q. What did Volstead end up doing?

A. What do you mean?

Q. I'm sorry, let me -- okay. Can we go off the record a minute?

(Discussion held off the record.)

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. Did Volstead ever send you any correspondence regarding this issue?

A. You mean House Distillery?

Q. Sorry, House Distillery Spirits, yes.

A. I don't remember. I remember talking on the phone with him, and I don't remember if he sent me an email memorializing that or not.

JUSTIN COX

Q. Did you receive any correspondence from any attorneys on their behalf?

A. Oh, I did.

Q. And what was that?

A. It was a cease and desist letter.

Q. And do you recall when that was?

A. I don't exactly. It must have been early June of 2012.

MR. DANNENBERG: I'm handing you Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 13.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. Take a minute and familiarize yourself with the document, please, and then tell me if you recognize this document.

A. I do.

Q. And what is this document?

A. This is the -- our change of name with the State of Delaware for our LLC from Volstead Beer Works LLC to Atlas Beer Works LLC.

Q. And what's the date on this?

A. Looks like I executed the document on the 15th of June 2012 and it was filed on June 18, 2012.

JUSTIN COX

Q. Are you still using the name ATLAS today?

A. Yes.

Q. Have you invested in the name ATLAS?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you sign corporate agreements in the name of ATLAS?

A. Yes.

Q. And, sorry, when I say "ATLAS," is it Atlas Beer Works that's the name on this document, or is it something different?

A. The name on this document is "Atlas Beer Works LLC."

Q. And is that the name that you sign in today?

A. No.

Q. What name do you sign in today?

A. We sign "Atlas Brew Works LLC."

Q. So you've changed your name again from Atlas Beer Works to Atlas Brew Works?

A. Yes.

Q. And why was that?

JUSTIN COX

A. Because somebody in, I believe, Boston had superior rights to the term "BEER WORKS."

Q. How many beers do you brew today under the ATLAS name?

A. Today, we have six available.

Q. And in addition to beer, do you have any other products that include the ATLAS name?

A. We do.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. I'm handing you the document marked Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 14. Can you tell me what this document is?

A. These are pictures of our various beer labels and merchandise using the name ATLAS.

Q. And do these photographs look like true and accurate depictions of those items?

A. They do.

Q. If you can turn to -- well, let's start with the first page. Can you tell me what that is?

JUSTIN COX

A. That is a keg collar, which is the label we put on our kegs before sending them out.

Q. And what does the keg collar read? I'm sorry for this being upside down. What does it read at the top of the keg collar, which is actually the bottom of the photograph?

A. It is our logo, "Atlas Brew Works," and then "Brewed by Atlas Brew Works LLC, Washington, D.C."

Q. And page 2, what is that?

A. That is a picture of our kegs with the ATLAS silk screen on them.

Q. Written on the side of the keg?

A. Yes.

Q. The fourth page, what is that?

A. So this is a t-shirt with ATLAS on it and our main book art icon design.

Q. And you said you have, I think you said earlier, a steampunk theme?

A. Correct.

Q. This is the steampunk?

A. This is a steampunked ATLAS, as in the book of maps.

JUSTIN COX

Q. Okay, thank you.

The last page, what does the last page depict?

A. This was an old tap handle design.

Q. So this is not your current tap handle design?

A. No.

Q. Do you remember about the date that this was your tap handle design?

A. It was until somewhere around February of 2013.

Q. Okay. And when did you start using that design?

A. This was the original design from our old designer, who was helping us when we were still Volstead, and then he adapted from Volstead to Atlas. And then we had these manufactured probably -- I don't remember exactly, but maybe around -- starting that process in July of 2012.

Q. The design and manufacture of it?

A. The manufacture of it. The design had happened previously.

Q. If you turn to the pages that are marked ATLAS49 at the bottom, and you're looking at the next 49, 50, and 51, what are those?

A. These are glasses with our ATLAS logo on them.

Q. And the page ATLAS52, what is that?

A. That is a growler with our ATLAS logo on it.

Q. What is a growler?

A. A growler is just a large jug. This one happens to be 67 ounces, two liters, that we fill up at the brewery for people to take beer home.

Q. Do people come to your brewery to purchase beer?

A. Yes.

Q. So how would I do that?

If I wanted to come buy beer from you, what type of facility is your brewery?

A. Well, it's a brewery, so it's a big warehouse. We do have a little tasting area within the warehouse.

Q. So if I show up at your warehouse, is there a door with your name on it?

JUSTIN COX

A. Yes.

Q. And how often are you open for sales?

A. We officially open Friday evenings 5 to 8, Saturdays 1 until 8, and Sundays 1 to 8. But we also -- we do get walk-ins throughout the week when we're in production. As long as we have time or the customer doesn't mind waiting, we will fill up the growlers or sell them a bottle of beer any time during the week.

Q. Okay. And when did sales to the public start?

A. We sold our first beer to the public on September 2, 2013.

Q. So you said September 2, 2013. Was that from the brewery or was that from somewhere else?

A. That was from out at a bar. We sold to our distributor previously. I don't remember that date exactly, but it was in mid August.

Q. So September 2, 2013 was when someone at a bar bought one of your beers?

A. Yes.

Q. And what bar was that?

JUSTIN COX

A. It was Meridian Pint.

Q. Good bar.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. I'm handing you Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 15. Do you recognize this document?

A. I do.

Q. What is this document?

A. This is our brewer's notice from the Department of Treasury Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau.

Q. And does this look like a true and accurate copy of that document to you?

A. Yes, it does.

Q. And at the top of page 1 under section 2 it says the notice date. And what is that date?

A. December 27, 2012.

Q. What does that date represent?

A. That is the date that our application was approved by the TTT -- TTB to be a brewer.

Q. Well, actually, sorry. So looking at the bottom of page 2, the effective date then.

JUSTIN COX

A. Yes, I'm sorry. I think the notice date may be when we had submitted this document, and then it was approved by the TTB on April 11, 2013.

Q. Okay. So what does this represent? What are you trying to get from the Department of the Treasury here?

A. This allows us to operate as a brewery to produce beer.

Q. So this is a permit you need?

A. Yes.

Q. Are there any other permits you need to produce beer?

A. Yes.

Q. Like what?

A. I mean, we needed building permits from D.C. We needed a D.C. permit from the -- from ABRA, which is the local alcohol regulator. We needed a Health Department license.

Q. Can you brew beer before you get all of those licenses?

A. No. Well, you can, but I don't think it's legal.

JUSTIN COX

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. I'm handing you what we've marked as Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 16. This is a document, a printout of the 27 CFR 25.61. That's the Code of Federal Regulations. Is the information on this familiar to you?

A. Yes.

Q. Have you seen this information before?

A. Yes.

Q. When would you have seen it before?

A. First during my research of just generally opening a brewery, and then we -- I looked at this yesterday as well.

Q. Can you tell me -- can you read 25.61(a)?

A. "Establishment: Operations as a brewer may be conducted only by a person who has given notice as a brewer under this subpart. A person may not commence the business of a brewer until the appropriate TTB officer approves the brewery and the brewer's notice, including all documents made part of that notice."

Q. So referring back to Exhibit 15, is the date that the TTB officer approves the notice -- which date is that on your document 15?

MR. CARROLL: Objection to the extent it calls for a legal conclusion.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. When was it your understanding that the TTB had approved your notice?

A. On April 11, 2013.

Q. And that is based on the effective date on the second page of your TTB notice?

A. Yes.

Q. Thank you.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. I'm showing you what's marked Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 17. Take a minute. I believe the -- do you recognize this document?

A. Yes.

Q. What is it?

JUSTIN COX

A. It is a printout of the "Definitions" portion of the Code of Federal Regulations dealing with alcohol, tobacco products, and firearms.

Q. So looking in the definitions on page 2, there's a definition of "brewer." Can you read the definition of "brewer" for me?

A. "Any person who brews beer, except a person who produces only beer exempt from tax under 26 USC 5053(e), and any person who produces beer for sale."

Q. So ignoring the parenthetical, can you read that again?

A. "Any person who brews beer and any person who produces beer for sale."

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. I'm showing you what's marked Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 18. Take a minute and look at the document and tell me if this is familiar to you.

A. Yes, it is.

Q. This is a printout of a web page.

JUSTIN COX

Have you looked at this before today?

A. I have.

Q. Does this look like an accurate copy of what you reviewed before?

A. Yes.

Q. Turning to page 2, there's an item marked B5. Can you read that to me?

A. "B5: When I have applied, can I start to make beer?"

And the answer is: "No. TTB must approve your operations before you begin to make beer. TTB may initiate an onsite inspection of the proposed premise and operations."

Q. And, I'm sorry, I forgot to ask. What is this document?

A. This is a Frequently Asked Questions page from the TTB's website.

Q. And the TTB being who?

A. The Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau.

Q. And what government?

A. I believe it's part of Treasury.

Q. It says "U.S. Department of Treasury"

JUSTIN COX

at the top, so --

A. Yes.

Q. When did you start construction on your brewery?

A. Around the end of May 2013.

Q. And did you have to purchase any special equipment to brew beer?

A. Yes.

Q. And what type of equipment did you have to purchase?

A. Lots of stainless steel. We have a kettle and a mash tun and then fermentation vessels.

Q. And was this something you can go down to Walmart and purchase?

A. No.

Q. How do you obtain these materials?

A. There's a few manufacturers around the world, really, that manufacture this type equipment, some in Europe, some in U.S., Canada, and China.

Q. And where did you obtain yours from?

A. Our equipment came from Pacific Brewing Systems Technology I believe is their name. It's PBST, which is a office in California but manufactured in China.

Q. And when did you receive that equipment? Do you recall?

A. I don't recall exactly. I believe -- actually, some of our fermentation vessels showed up on Inauguration Day, which was January 14, maybe.

Q. Of 2012?

A. Of 2013.

Q. 2013? Oh, right, the election is -- sorry.

A. And they came in a few different shipments. I remember that date specifically having one because we had to leave, or Will had to leave the inauguration to go meet the truck driver.

Q. So that was, you said, January of 2013 you received the equipment. Did you set it up and immediately start brewing beer?

A. No.

Q. Why not?

A. Well, we didn't have all of our necessary permits.

JUSTIN COX

Q. Prior to April 11, 2013, did you use your equipment to brew test batches?

A. No.

Q. Prior to April 11, did you use your equipment to brew beer for investors?

A. No.

Q. Prior to April 11, did you use your equipment to brew beer just for giveaways and walk-ins?

A. No.

Q. Why not?

A. My understanding, it wouldn't be legal.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. I'm handing you Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 19. You can take whatever time you need to familiarize yourself with this document and let me know when you're ready.

A. Okay.

Q. What is this document?

A. It is a collection of our various logo'd glassware, tasting sheets, bottle labels, business cards, t-shirts, tap handles, and just kind of our general merchandise.

Q. Does this look like a true and accurate copy of those items?

A. It does.

Q. The previous set I showed you as Exhibit 14 was photographs. What type of images are these?

A. These are -- they're the, I guess, the mockups, computer images rather than the physical specimens.

Q. So turning to page -- I believe it's the page marked ATLAS498 -- and you might need to correct me if I'm wrong here -- and compare that in Exhibit 14 to the page marked ATLAS55.

A. Okay.

Q. So first of all, what is the photograph on the page marked ATLAS55?

A. It's a photograph of three of our tap handles.

Q. And are those your current tap handles?

A. Yes.

Q. And what is the image on the page marked ATLAS498?

JUSTIN COX

A. This was the art design for the tap handle.

Q. Okay. And so does the artwork on ATLAS498 correspond to the -- any of the tap handles on ATLAS55?

A. Yes.

Q. Which one?

A. To the District Common handle.

Q. The one on the left?

A. The one on the left.

Q. And looking at page 499, what is that?

A. That is the artwork for our Rowdy tap handle.

Q. Which is the middle tap handle on ATLAS55?

A. Yes.

Q. And ATLAS500?

A. That is the tap handle for our NSFW.

Q. Does that correspond to any of the tap handles on ATLAS55?

A. Yes, the tap handle on the right.

Q. When did you start using these new tap handles?

JUSTIN COX

A. Well, we used them in the brewery sometime in mid August and then used them corresponding with our launch into the market the first week of September 2013.

Q. You said that was 2013?

A. Yes.

(Atlas Brew Works Exhibit No. 20 was marked for identification.)

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. I'm handing you Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 20. Take your time and look through this document to familiarize yourself with it and let me know when you're ready.

A. Okay.

Q. And what is this document?

A. This is a combination of some coaster designs, some glassware designs, our growler design, our keg collar design, our keg screen prints, t-shirt designs, some limited print designs, more glassware designs, some of our bottle label designs, and some of our tasting sheet and merchandise advertising sheets and tap handles.

JUSTIN COX

Q. Looking at the combined efforts represented in Exhibits 14, 19, and 20, how much time did this take to generate?

A. For all the things included in these three exhibits, I mean, we started working on all this in maybe June of 2012 and April until -- I mean, we continue to work on it today.

Q. So is this your full-time job, or is this a --

A. Very much so.

Q. Do you have any other employment?

A. I do not.

Q. So your only job is CEO of Atlas Brew Works?

A. Yes.

Q. To the best of your recollection, when did you start advertising using the name ATLAS?

A. It would have been towards the end of 2012.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

JUSTIN COX

Q. I'm handing you Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 21. It's a single-page photograph. What is this document?

A. This is a photo of an ad that we took out in the Washington City Paper.

Q. Do you remember approximately the time frame that you placed this ad?

A. It was during D.C. Beer Week.

Q. Of what year?

A. I don't remember exactly. It was either late 2012 or early 2013. It might have been during the Craft Brewers Conference, which is in March of 2013.

Q. Okay. So it could have been as late as -- well, could it have been as late as March 2013 or as early as late 2012 --

A. Yes.

Q. -- to the best of your knowledge?

But this ad was run in what newspaper?

A. In the Washington City Paper.

Q. And is that a generally known newspaper?

A. Yes.

JUSTIN COX

Q. How big is that newspaper, say, in comparison to the Washington Post?

A. I don't know.

(Atlas Brew Works Exhibit No. 22 was marked for identification.)

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. I'm handing you a one-inch stack of papers marked as Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 22. Please take your time to familiarize yourself with it and let me know when you are ready.

A. Okay.

Q. What is this stack of papers?

A. This is a printout of the Atlas Brew Works Twitter feed.

Q. And what dates does this Twitter feed encompass?

A. The first tweet was on December 6, 2012.

Q. And what is the date at the bottom right-hand corner of page 1?

A. December 23rd, 2013.

Q. So does this document include all tweets between December 6, 2012 and December 23rd, 2013?

JUSTIN COX

A. I believe so.

Q. The last tweet is dated on page 1, December 20th. Is that of 2013?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Does this look like a true and accurate copy of Atlas Brew Works' Twitter feed to you?

A. It does.

Q. And in this stack of papers, it's ATLAS pages 113 through ATLAS317, so about 200 pages, how many tweets would you say are in here?

A. I would say 825.

Q. That sounds like a specific number. Where are you getting that from?

A. Right on the front page here, it has a count.

Q. Thank you. So 825 tweets in about a one-year period.

About, on average, how many tweets per day is that?

A. Two and a half.

Q. So daily --

A. Yes.

JUSTIN COX

Q. -- you were actively tweeting on Twitter?

A. Yes.

(Atlas Brew Works Exhibit No. 23 was marked for identification.)

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. So I'm showing you what has been marked Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 23. Let me know when you have reviewed the document and are ready to proceed.

A. Okay.

Q. What is this document?

A. This was an email I sent to our investors with an update on how the business was progressing.

Q. Does this look like a true and accurate copy of that email?

A. It does.

Q. The portion marked REDACTED at the top, what was -- what was there? What type of information was there?

A. Those are the email addresses of our investors.

Q. So you said you are in a warehouse.

JUSTIN COX

Is that warehouse referenced in this email?

A. No.

Q. The beginning of the second paragraph, you say you're concentrating on securing warehouse space. That's not the same warehouse space you're in today?

A. No.

Q. What warehouse space is that referring to?

A. The one in the Florida Avenue market. This one was, I believe, the space near Union Market we were negotiating on.

Q. And why didn't you end up in that space?

A. Well, for a lot of reasons, but the -- we got frustrated with the owner. The landlord was taking way too much time to make decisions, get back to us, and delaying our process so we ended up walking away from the deal.

Q. Did you keep searching for warehouse space?

A. We did.

(Atlas Brew Works Exhibit No. 24 was marked for identification.)

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. I'm showing you Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 24. What is this document?

A. This is another email update to our investors.

Q. Is this a true and accurate copy of that email?

A. Yes.

Q. With the exception of the redacted portion?

A. Yes.

Q. What's the update provided with respect to your leasing space?

A. Our -- we were negotiating on a space on 3rd Street but then switched -- I'm trying to remember. I think this previous email that we just spoke about was about a third space, so I think this was not the Union Market space but a space still within the Florida Avenue market.

Q. But this is another warehouse location you were pursuing?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you ultimately lease this space?

JUSTIN COX

A. No.

Q. Why not?

A. This is the one where the landlord was dragging their feet and taking forever to get back to us.

(Atlas Brew Works Exhibit No. 25 was marked for identification.)

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. I'm showing you Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 25. What is this document?

A. This is another email update to our investors.

Q. And is this a true and accurate copy of that email?

A. Yes.

Q. And what is the subject matter of this email?

A. "Real Estate Update."

Q. And so what are you telling your investors in this email?

A. There was a zoning issue with the warehouse in Union Market. I think it had something to do with loading requirements and so the developer had to go through a zoning change or get an exception for the building before we could proceed with finalizing any lease.

Q. Is this the building you ultimately finalized a lease in?

A. It is not.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. I'm showing you Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 26. Do you recognize this document?

A. I do.

Q. And what is this document?

A. This is another email update to our investors.

Q. And does it appear to be a true and accurate copy of that document?

A. It is.

Q. With the exception of the redacted portion?

A. Yes.

Q. So what are you telling your investors happened at this point in time?

A. I was thanking them for coming out and meeting Will. We had a little get-together at my house for the investors to meet him, asking them about what kind of shirts they wanted, size of shirts, and then on the real estate front saying that the deal on the Union Market space had fallen through and we were looking at another warehouse at that time.

Q. And in the beginning of the fourth paragraph, you state, "We found another spot at 2052 West Virginia Avenue."

A. Yes.

Q. Is that the space you are currently in?

A. Finally, that is the space that we found.

Q. So that was at least the, by my count, third or fourth space you were looking at?

A. It was the fourth, fourth space that we were in serious negotiations for.

Q. And that's where you're located today?

A. Yes.

Q. Are you still located there today?

JUSTIN COX

A. Yes.

Q. Do you have any intention to move?

A. No.

Q. Have you signed any additional leases since then?

A. We have.

Q. Tell me about that. What lease is that for?

A. It's for -- we originally occupied about a quarter of the first floor or, sorry, quarter of the building, which was half of the first floor, and now we're taking over the rest of the first floor of our building.

Q. So you're expanding?

A. We're expanding, yes.

Q. Why are you expanding?

A. We need more room. We need -- business has been -- really liked the beer, so we are trying to make more beer, and to do that we need more space.

Q. Have you signed any exclusive contracts with any entities in Washington, D.C.?

A. Yes.

JUSTIN COX

Q. With who?

A. We have a distribution agreement with Premium Distributors of Washington, D.C.

Q. Okay. And they distribute to who?

A. They distribute to bars and restaurants and anyone with a license, a liquor license in D.C.

Q. Are there any other venues that you sell your beer in?

A. We sell our beer to the Washington Nationals stadium, we sell beer at the Verizon Center, which is the basketball/multiuse arena in D.C., above and beyond kind of the normal bars and restaurants around town.

Q. What beer is sold at the Washington Nationals stadium?

A. It's called the 1500 South Cap Lager.

Q. What is 1500 South Cap?

A. That is the address of the stadium.

Q. Can you get that beer anywhere else?

A. Now you can. We have it at the brewery and a couple bars around town, but during the baseball season, that was exclusively at the ballpark and our brewery.

JUSTIN COX

Q. Did you develop that beer just for the stadium?

A. We did.

Q. How many bars in D.C. carry Atlas beer?

A. I believe it is around 153, -54.

Q. And what is that? When you say 153, 154, is that bars?

A. That is number of handles, so the number of lines that we have in places around town. So it would be one per location, or some locations will pour two of our beers.

Q. So there are 152 or 153 handles, meaning drafts?

A. Yes, draft lines.

Q. Draft lines pouring beer. So it could be less than 153 bars?

A. Yes.

Q. Are you familiar with the number of handles that any other breweries have in the city?

A. I am.

Q. What brewery would be that?

A. I'm familiar with the number of handles that Anheuser-Busch has for Bud Light in this town.

JUSTIN COX

Q. How are you familiar with that number?

A. Through someone at a distributor meeting told me this earlier in the week.

Q. And what number did he tell you?

MR. CARROLL: Objection. This is hearsay.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. You can answer the question.

A. He told me that it was -- that Bud Light had 152.

Q. So is it your understanding that you have more handles than Bud Light in the city?

A. It is my understanding.

Q. When did you first learn about the Atlas Brewing Company?

MR. DANNENBERG: Shall we refer to it as Atlas Chicago? Is that okay?

MR. CARROLL: That's fine.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. When did you first learn about the Chicago Atlas group?

JUSTIN COX

A. I don't remember exactly, but it was after -- after June 4, after we had filed for our mark and sometime in -- I don't remember exactly. Sometime maybe December-ish.

Q. If I can draw your attention back to Exhibit 7 with respect to interrogatory request number 5, can you read interrogatory request number 5 to me?

A. "Describe in detail the circumstances under which applicant first became aware of opposer, including but not limited to identifying the date on which applicant first became aware of opposer's marks and the persons involved in obtaining that knowledge."

Q. And in the response to that, ignoring the objection portion, starting on the third line with the word "applicant," can you read your response?

A. "Applicant responds that it first acquired knowledge of opposer's mark ATLAS BREWING COMPANY after it filed the federal trademark application for applicant's mark. The first written reference applicant has relating to opposer's mark is correspondence applicant received from its tap handle manufacturer in July of 2012. The person involved in obtaining this knowledge was applicant's -- was applicant's chief executive officer, Justin Cox."

Q. And that's you; correct?

A. That's me.

Q. So this correspondence from a tap handle manufacturer, does that remind you of anything?

A. It does. So when we switched our name from Volstead to Atlas and were working -- we had our design for the tap handle and we were working with tap handle manufacturer to have those actually made, and I believe he got our design mixed up with Atlas Chicago's design.

Q. And that was in July 2012?

A. Yes.

Q. So when you found out about Atlas Chicago, what did you do in response to that?

A. Nothing.

Q. Why not?

A. Well, we didn't have any kind of -- I mean, we just had an application with the Patent Office. There was no sort of firm right associated with that so we were just waiting to see how that -- what happened with the Patent Office.

Q. Did Atlas Chicago, did they -- did you have any correspondence or contact with them at any point?

A. We did.

Q. And when was that?

A. It must have been in January of 2013, I think, we got an email from Steve.

Q. From Steve Soble?

A. Yes.

Q. And what was the context of that email?

A. That he was going to be in town and wanted to get together so we could talk about our potential conflict with the name ATLAS.

Q. And did you, in fact, meet with Mr. Soble?

A. I did.

Q. When?

A. Maybe February.

JUSTIN COX

Q. Of?

A. 2013. Maybe late January. I don't remember exactly.

Q. And where did that meeting take place?

A. That took place at a Caribou Coffee down here in D.C.

Q. What did you discuss at that meeting?

A. We discussed our respective businesses and our respective names and we -- kind of the -- yeah, just kind of beer brewing in general.

Q. Mr. Soble requested the meeting with you?

A. Yes.

Q. Why did he want to meet with you?

A. To talk about our two names and the potential conflict.

Q. Did he make you any offers to resolve that conflict?

A. Not at that time, no.

Q. Did Mr. Soble mention anything about previous trademark conflicts he's had?

A. He did.

JUSTIN COX

Q. And what did he tell you?

A. That he had a bowling alley called Lucky Strike that got into a trademark issue with a national chain bowling alley with the same name.

Q. So it's your understanding that he's been through trademark disputes before?

A. Yes.

Q. Did Mr. Soble offer to buy the name ATLAS from you?

A. He -- no. He offered -- or I don't know if he offered, but we -- I think he asked for a proposal to resolve the situation.

Q. Was it your understanding that he was asking for you to provide him a financial number, or something different?

A. Yes, financial number.

Q. Did you, in fact, make Mr. Soble a financial offer?

A. I did.

Q. And what was that financial offer?

A. It was $300,000 for us to abandon our use of the name ATLAS and withdraw our trademark application.

JUSTIN COX

Q. And how did you arrive at that number?

A. Well, we sat down and looked at kind of the hard cost of what we had spent thus far on our advertising and marketing and development of the brand, took into account some of the goodwill that we built up from -- at that point, we'd had some national press in the -- about our brewery, and just kind of factoring in how much it would take to go through the whole name change process.

Q. Did you view Mr. Soble's offer as a way to get rich quick?

A. No.

Q. Mr. Soble during his testimony stated, and I quote: "I wanted them to give me a, you know, financial number to make this go away. And he called me back and said, you can give us $300,000. And I felt like that was extortion," end quote.

Did you ever intend to extort Mr. Soble?

A. Absolutely not.

(Atlas Brew Works Exhibit No. 27 was marked for identification.)

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. I'm showing you what's marked Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 27. Do you recognize this document?

A. I do.

Q. And what is this document?

A. This is a cease and desist letter from Fuksa Khorshid, which is the firm representing Atlas Chicago.

Q. And what's the date on this letter?

A. February 26, 2013.

Q. And does this look like a true and accurate copy of that letter with exhibits?

A. It does.

Q. And is February 26, 2013 before or after you met with Mr. Soble?

A. After.

Q. And what did you do in response to receiving this letter?

A. I believe I called you-all.

Q. Did you withdraw your trademark application?

A. No.

JUSTIN COX

Q. Did you change your name?

A. No.

Q. You changed your name once when you ran into a trademark issue with Volstead. Why didn't you change your name here?

A. Because we believed that we had superior rights to the name.

MR. DANNENBERG: I think now's a good time for a break.

(Recess taken.)

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. Mr. Cox, earlier in your testimony, I asked you a question, "When you found out about Atlas Chicago, what did you do in response to that?"

And your response was, "Nothing."

I asked you, "Why not?"

And you said, "Well, we didn't have any kind of -- I mean, we just had an application with the Patent Office. There was no sort of firm right associated with that."

What was your understanding of rights based on that application?

A. Well, that our -- how do you mean?

JUSTIN COX

Q. Well, you said you didn't have a firm right associated with that. What do you mean by that?

A. Meant by that that we had not been granted a trademark by the PTO.

Q. Okay. But you understood that you had certain rights associated with the filing of an Intent-to-Use application?

MR. CARROLL: Objection. That's a leading question. Go ahead.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. What rights did you understand you had based on the filing of that application?

A. Well, my understanding of Intent-to-Use applications is that the date of filing is kind of your sort of time stamp on putting -- saying hey, we're planning on using this mark and kind of let everyone know that that's what's happening, and then that later can convert to a actual -- not actual, but a full trademark, I guess, with that -- that filing date being the important start date of that -- of those rights, I guess.

Q. So you understood that was your understanding of rights that you had based on an Intent-to-Use trademark application?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Moving on.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. I'm showing you what is marked Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 28. Take your time to review the document and let me know when you are ready.

A. Okay.

Q. What is this document?

A. This is a printout of a Merriam-Webster dictionary website for the entry "atlas."

Q. And what does Merriam-Webster -- I'm sorry, have you ever heard of Merriam-Webster before?

A. Yes.

Q. How do you know that name?

A. They're a pretty large dictionary company.

Q. And what is their definition for the word "atlas"?

A. "A book of maps."

Q. Do they provide any other definitions for "atlas"?

A. Yes.

Q. And can you read these for me?

A. "A Titan, for his part in the Titans' revolt against the gods, is forced by Zeus to support the heavens on his shoulders."

Q. Is there any more?

A. "One who bears a heavy burden."

Q. Are there any others?

A. "A bound collection of maps often including illustrations, informative tables, or textual matter."

Q. Are there any others?

A. "A bound collection of tables, charts, or plates."

Q. Are there any others?

A. "The first vertebra of the neck."

Q. Are there any others?

A. "A male figure used like a caryatid as a supporting column or pilaster - called also telamon."

JUSTIN COX

Q. In the remainder of the document, are there any others?

A. It restates "the first vertebra of the neck" in the medical context.

Q. In the middle of page 2 under "Biographical note for 'atlas,'" what does it say there?

A. "Atlas: Greek mythological character. In Greek legend, Atlas was a Titan who took part in the revolt against the gods. As a punishment, he was condemned to hold the heavens aloft forever. Atlas was usually represented as a human figure bearing the heavens or the celestial globe upon his shoulders."

Q. Would you please point out in this document where "atlas" is defined as "a geographic neighborhood of Washington, D.C."?

A. It is not.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. Still looking at Exhibit 28, what is the date on that document? Look at the top left.

A. October 30, 2014.

Q. Thank you.

I'm showing you now Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 29. Can you look at this and let me know when you're ready to proceed?

A. Okay.

Q. I'll call your attention to the URL in the bottom. Do you recognize this document?

A. I do.

Q. Do you understand what this document represents?

A. Yes.

Q. What is this document?

A. This is an Internet archive document.

Q. And what is the Internet archive? Or what's your understanding of the Internet archive?

A. My understanding is that it's a printout of what this page looked like at a certain date in history.

Q. And is there a date in history associated with this document?

A. Yes.

JUSTIN COX

Q. And what is that date?

A. June 4, 2012.

Q. Where are you getting that date from?

A. In the very top of the first page kind of to the right of the Wayback Machine header.

Q. And does this have any different definition of "atlas" from the previous definitions we just looked at?

A. No.

Q. I mean, the book of maps is -- from the first one is not present in the second one. Do you see that?

A. Yes.

Q. Other than that, does the substance of these two documents look substantially the same?

A. Yes.

Q. Would you please point out in Exhibit 29 where "atlas" is defined as "a geographic area of Washington, D.C."?

A. It is not defined as such.

(Atlas Brew Works Exhibit No. 30 was marked for identification.)

JUSTIN COX

MR. CARROLL: I'm going to object, because this hasn't been produced in discovery, to my knowledge.

MR. DANNENBERG: Okay, I'm representing to you that this was included as an exhibit from applicant's opposition to opposer's motion for summary judgment and that this document has been produced or not -- produced in that context.

MR. CARROLL: Okay. I'm going to maintain my objection until I can verify that.

MR. DANNENBERG: Assuming that's the case, you would withdraw your objection?

MR. CARROLL: Yes.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. I would like you to look at Exhibit 30 of Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 30, which I provided to you, and let me know when you're ready to proceed.

A. Okay.

Q. What is this document?

JUSTIN COX

A. This is a document from the Washington, D.C. Economic Partnership about the H Street Northeast neighborhood.

Q. And what is the H Street Northeast neighborhood?

A. It's a neighborhood on H Street Northeast in Washington, D.C.

Q. Is your brewery located in the H Street neighborhood?

A. No.

Q. There's a photograph on page 1 of this document. What is that photograph, the largest photograph of the five? What is that?

A. It is a photo of the street with the Atlas Theater in the foreground.

Q. And is the H Street neighborhood known by any other names?

A. Yes.

Q. What other names is it known by?

A. Near Northeast, Capitol Hill East, SoFlo, the Atlas District.

Q. So "Atlas District" is a term to refer to that neighborhood?

A. Yes.

JUSTIN COX

Q. How long have you lived in Washington, D.C.?

A. Since July of 2004.

Q. In D.C. proper or the D.C. area?

A. In the D.C. area.

Q. And do you live in the D.C. area or Washington, D.C. now?

A. I live in Washington, D.C. now.

Q. And how long have you lived in D.C. proper?

A. In my current location, for -- since 2009.

Q. In total?

A. Like in total, so when I first moved to D.C. I was here for maybe two or -- in the District itself for two or three years, then spent three years in Arlington, Virginia, then moved back to D.C. This current run, maybe five years.

Q. So you've lived in D.C. proper for approximately seven or eight years?

A. Yes.

Q. And is your understanding -- what is your understanding of what the H Street

JUSTIN COX

Northeast area is -- what is your understanding of what it is known as?

A. Known as?

Q. If you were going to tell your friends you were going to go out in that geographic area, what would you tell them?

A. H Street.

Q. Just H Street?

A. Uh-huh.

(Atlas Brew Works Exhibit No. 31 was marked for identification.)

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. I'm showing you what's marked as Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 31. Can you take your time to review this document and let me know when you're ready?

A. Okay.

Q. What does this document appear to be to you?

A. Looks like a printout of the website from the Atlas Theater.

Q. And on the top of page 2, can you read the first sentence for me?

A. "H Street Northeast, originally known as Swampoodle, was a bustling commercial district for much of the early and mid 20th century."

JUSTIN COX

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. I'm showing you Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 32. Take your time to review this document and let me know when you're ready.

A. Okay.

Q. What does this document appear to be to you?

A. A printout of a website.

Q. And what is the website called?

A. It looks like Atlas District D.C.

Q. And can you read to me the first sentence of the second paragraph in the body?

A. "atlasdistrictdc.com is a convenient online resource with information regarding businesses and events on H Street Northeast, also known as Atlas District."

Q. Does it surprise you that people are referring to H Street Northeast as Atlas District?

JUSTIN COX

A. No.

Q. Why not?

A. I mean, it's a term that people use.

Q. Do a lot of people come into your brewery?

A. Yes.

Q. How many people come into your brewery on a weekly basis?

A. Depends on the week, but I'd say somewhere around 500 people come through.

Q. Do those people ever -- do they ever ask you about your name with respect to the geographic area known as the Atlas District?

A. They do.

MR. CARROLL: Objection to the extent it calls for hearsay testimony.

MR. DANNENBERG: Not going to the truth of the matter.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. But you can answer.

A. They do.

Q. And when they ask you about your name with respect to ATLAS, and what do you tell them?

JUSTIN COX

A. We tell them that it's based on the Titan and the book of maps that fit in with our kind of steampunk theme, depending on how long the conversation takes. But I like to explain the whole -- that we used to be Volstead and had some issues and had to change the name to Atlas. And it's kind of short and sweet and makes an impression.

Q. So you get asked about your name with respect to the Atlas District. Do you get asked about your name with respect to anything else?

A. We do. We get people asking questions if it's somehow related to Ayn Rand and the Atlas Shrugged book.

Q. Okay. Anything else?

A. Those are the major two.

Q. What is your understanding of the principal name of the geographic area that encompasses H Street Northeast to be?

A. H Street.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

JUSTIN COX

Q. I'm showing you Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 33. Review the document and let me know when you're ready to proceed.

A. Okay.

Q. What is this document?

A. It is a printout from yelp.com.

Q. And what is the subject matter of this document?

A. It's "Browsing the H Street Corridor, Atlas District, Near Northeast, Washington, D.C. Businesses."

Q. And do you have any understanding of what H Street Corridor, Atlas District, near Northeast is?

A. Yes.

Q. And what is your understanding of that?

A. In terms of boundaries?

Q. Okay. So by you asking that question, I take your understanding to mean it's a geographic area.

A. Right.

Q. When you read this, what do you understand that it's referring to?

JUSTIN COX

A. To H Street Northeast, kind of the grouping of restaurants and shops and bars there I'd say between, I don't know, 8th and 14th Street Northeast.

Q. Okay.

(Atlas Brew Works Exhibit No. 34 was marked for identification.)

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. Showing you Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 34. Please review this document and let me know when you're ready to proceed.

A. Okay.

Q. What does this document look like to you?

A. It is driving directions from looks like the -- my brewery down to 8th and H Street Northeast.

Q. In addition to the driving directions, is there any visuals included in this document?

A. There is a map.

Q. And what does that map show?

A. It shows the path to drive if you're going from Atlas Brew Works to the H Street

JUSTIN COX

Corridor.

Q. What geographic areas does that map depict?

A. In terms of?

Q. Micro areas of D.C.

A. So the overlay has lots of neighborhood names on here. There's Bloomingdale, Eckington, Ivy City, Trinidad, Near Northeast, Swampoodle, Carver Langston, Truxton Circle.

Q. And where on this map is "Atlas District" written?

A. It is not.

MR. CARROLL: I'm going to object to the extent that it says "Atlas District" in the top left corner of the document.

MR. DANNENBERG: I thought I said "where on the map."

MR. CARROLL: If I missed that, I apologize. If it says "map," I withdraw my objection. I apologize.

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. Are you personally familiar with the types of businesses in the H Street area?

JUSTIN COX

A. Yes.

Q. What types of businesses are there?

A. Restaurants, bars. There's a bike shop, some small retail places.

Q. And is H Street known for beer? For the production of beer?

A. No.

Q. What do you think of when you think of H Street?

A. I think of kind of quirky little restaurants.

Q. Is the H Street area a popular place to go in D.C.?

A. Yes.

Q. What's your understanding of the types of people who like to go to H Street?

A. It's a young crowd. It's kind of -- H Street is sort of the new hip place to go out.

Q. Referring back -- I'll ask the question first, then we can look at the document if we need to.

When you applied for the mark ATLAS with the United States Patent and Trademark Office, did you get a rejection of the name ATLAS based on a geographic descriptiveness nature?

A. No.

Q. Is your brewery in the H Street Corridor?

A. No.

Q. Where is your brewery?

A. Our brewery is in a neighborhood known as Ivy City.

Q. So looking at Exhibit 34, is the tab marked A representative of the location of your brewery?

A. Yes.

Q. And the Ivy City that you're referring to, is that the same Ivy City printed just to the left of the A button on Exhibit 34?

A. Yes.

Q. Do any of your merchandise or marketing materials specifically draw an association between your brewery and the H Street area?

A. No.

JUSTIN COX

MR. DANNENBERG: I think we will take a short break to make sure we have covered everything, then turn it over to you guys.

MR. CARROLL: Sounds good.

MR. DANNENBERG: Go off the record.

(Discussion held off the record.)

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. Turning back to Exhibit 12, is the Patent Office records for the prosecution of your ATLAS trademark.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. I'd like you to turn to the page marked as ATLAS page 405. Let me know when you're ready.

A. Okay.

Q. I'd like to draw your attention to paragraphs 1 and 2 at the bottom of that page. What is this portion of the document?

A. This is an affidavit that I submitted in response to an office action from the PTO.

Q. If you look at page 408, is that your signature at the bottom?

A. Yes.

JUSTIN COX

Q. And in paragraph 1 on page 405, you state: "Our ATLAS mark will be used exclusively in connection with our brewery in the Washington, D.C. area."

What is your understanding of "the Washington, D.C. area"?

A. I would consider that D.C., Virginia, and Maryland, maybe part of West Virginia.

Q. Do you have any reason to believe that any of the documents I've presented in front of you today are not true and accurate copies of those documents?

A. No.

MR. DANNENBERG: We move to enter all the exhibits we have used today into evidence.

MR. CARROLL: I have one question regarding this map. Is this map one of our attachments from the motion for summary judgment?

MR. DANNENBERG: That's your own exhibit.

MR. CARROLL: I thought so, but I just wanted to double-check. No objection.

JUSTIN COX

MR. DANNENBERG: We have no further questions.

MR. CARROLL: Okay.

(Discussion held off the record.)

EXAMINATION

BY MR. CARROLL:

Q. Good morning, or afternoon, Mr. Cox. I'm the attorney for the opposer in this action, Tom Carroll. I just have a few questions here.

To begin with, you mentioned that you were involved -- well, you mentioned that your original name was Volstead; correct?

A. Uh-huh.

Q. And when you decided on the name Volstead Beer Works, did you perform any sort of a search to see if there were competing entities using the same mark or a similar mark?

A. I did.

Q. What sort of a search did you conduct?

A. A search on the PTO website and probably Google.

JUSTIN COX

Q. Did you conduct the search on the PTO website yourself?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you employ an attorney to conduct such a search?

A. No.

Q. And did you conduct the Google search that you mentioned yourself?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you employ an attorney to do that?

A. No.

Q. Okay. When you performed the PTO website search, did you come up with any apparently conflicting marks for the VOLSTEAD mark?

A. No.

Q. When you performed a Google search, did you find any potentially competing marks for the VOLSTEAD mark?

A. No.

Q. Okay. Now, you testified that at some point, you became aware of VOLSTEAD, a competing VOLSTEAD mark out on the West Coast;

JUSTIN COX

correct?

A. Yes.

Q. And when you became aware of that, you changed the name. You decided that you -- you began talking over new names; correct?

A. Not immediately.

Q. Okay. What was your immediate reaction when you received the office action regarding VOLSTEAD?

A. To try to get in touch with the other applicant and see if we could work something out.

Q. Okay. And I believe you testified that when it became apparent that you weren't going to be able to work something out, you started coming up with -- brainstorming new names; is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. And among those names was "Atlas"?

A. Yes.

Q. Is that correct?

You said that you narrowed it down to three or four sort of final choices. I'm assuming one of those was "Atlas"; correct?

JUSTIN COX

A. Yes.

Q. What were the others, if you recall?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Okay. At some point, you decided on the ATLAS mark. Early June of 2012, you decided on the ATLAS mark as the mark you were going to go with; is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. And at the time that you decided to go with the ATLAS mark, did you perform a USPTO search to search for conflicting marks?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And did you perform a Google search to search for potentially conflicting marks?

A. I did. I don't remember when, but I did.

Q. And did you come up with anything on the PTO search?

A. There was an ATLAS mark for beer from a Panamanian company that was dead, and I think that's the only one that I saw.

Q. Was that on the USPTO website or --

A. Yes.

JUSTIN COX

Q. Did you run across that on a Google search as well?

A. Well, after I saw that on the PTO site, then I Googled that specific Panamanian beer and tried to figure out what the status of it was.

Q. So was the Google search that you mentioned a minute ago with reference specifically to the Panamanian ATLAS that you discovered on the PTO website?

A. The what search?

Q. The Google search. You testified a moment ago that you had conducted a USPTO search and a Google search upon choosing the ATLAS mark. Was the Google search that you mentioned in that testimony a search strictly related to the Panamanian ATLAS beer?

A. I think there was two searches, so one of those was specifically for the ATLAS Panamanian beer and then there was another search that I did just on "atlas beer" in general that I'm not sure of the time frame on.

Q. Okay. You mentioned that you began discussing the prospect of the ATLAS mark as an alternative with your graphic designer at some point on or about June 3, 2012; is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. I may be off on the date slightly, but -- and at that time, we looked at an exhibit -- and I'll ask you to look at that exhibit again, but it's Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 11.

A. Okay.

Q. You testified that this was a design that your designer proposed in response to the ATLAS name; is that correct?

A. Correct.

Q. Did you incorporate this design into any of the products that you put out into the marketplace as Atlas Brew Works?

A. No.

MR. CARROLL: I'm going to ask you to look at an email. I'm going to show you what we will mark as Opposer's 25.

(Opposer's Exhibit No. 25 was marked for identification.)

BY MR. CARROLL:

JUSTIN COX

Q. Take a minute to look through the pages that I've just handed you. Have you had a chance to look through those documents?

A. Yes.

Q. And do you recognize those documents?

A. Yes.

Q. What are these documents?

A. This is an email between me and my graphic designer.

Q. Who is your graphic designer?

A. Alan Guidera.

Q. And that's the same person we mentioned a minute ago who designed the ATLAS with the top hat on it.

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. So I'm looking at the first page. What is the date of the email that is on the first page here?

A. May 23rd, 2012.

Q. And this appears to be an email from you to Mr. Guidera, your graphic designer. Would you agree?

A. Yes.

Q. Will you please read that email for me?

A. "Alan, we've run into an issue with the name Volstead, are not sure we will be able to use it (damn lawyers). Just wanted to let you know" -- "wanted to let you know for any work you were doing now and that name on our logos. Hope to have it resolved soon. Considering Atlas as an alternative. Do you have any suggestions?"

Q. Is this the first time that you mentioned the possibility of the ATLAS mark to your graphic designer?

A. Possibly.

Q. Do you recall mentioning the ATLAS name as a potential name prior to May 23, 2012, to your graphic designer?

A. No, I don't recall that.

Q. Okay. Moving on in the same packet, I'm looking at the second page now. Looking at what appears to be the second email down sent on June 10, 2012, at 4:55 p.m., do you see what I'm talking about?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Why don't you read the first paragraph of that email to me?

A. "We are going to stick to your original tap handle designs after all. They are too awesome not to use. I'm thinking about using the Atlas guy as a beer logo for the rye maybe. Still tossing that around in our heads."

Q. Is the Atlas guy that you're referring to in that paragraph the Atlas with a hop on his shoulders and head that we looked at as an exhibit a minute ago?

A. Yes.

Q. And this email appears to be stating that you're not going to use that as your general logo but may use it for your rye; correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you end up using that logo for your rye beer?

A. No.

Q. What logo do you use for the rye beer?

A. We have a -- we kind of went through a whole redesign of our graphics in February or so and so the rye now is a -- the icon for it is a motorcycle.

Q. Okay. So when you say "We are going to stick with your original tap handle designs after all," those were the designs that he had designed for Volstead Beer Works; is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. And so I believe you testified that some of his work was incorporating the or integrating the new name into the original designs. Is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. And is that generally what you're referring to in this paragraph?

A. Yes.

Q. Looking down further on the page, there's an email from -- it appears to be from June 4, 2012, from Mr. Guidera that begins with "Hey Justin." Do you see what I'm talking about? It's about two-thirds of the way down the page.

A. On which page?

Q. On the third page. It's ATLAS607 is the Bates mark.

JUSTIN COX

A. Yes.

Q. Okay.

A. Okay.

Q. And Mr. Guidera says, "I never put the mythological Atlas together with the new name. As soon as I saw the Ayn Rand cover, I thought of this. See attached."

Was the attached logo that -- the same logo that we looked at a minute ago with Atlas holding a hop on his head?

A. I think so.

Q. Would you agree that the date on this email, June 4, 2012, is the same date as the date label on the exhibit that we looked at a moment ago?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Have you used any logos incorporating the Titan Atlas in regards to your company's beer?

A. "Used," meaning?

Q. Have you used any picture images of the Titan Atlas on any of the beer products that you've put into the marketplace?

JUSTIN COX

A. No.

Q. Okay. I'd like you to take a look at -- I'd like you to look at what's been previously marked as Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 10.

A. Okay.

Q. Looking specifically on the second page, do you see the email that appears to have been sent on Tuesday, June 5, 2012 at 8:56 a.m.?

A. Yes.

Q. And that was sent from you to whom?

A. That was from me to our investors.

Q. Okay. Looking down at the second paragraph, will you read the second paragraph to me in its entirety?

A. "After wracking our brains through hundreds of alternatives, we landed on Atlas Beer Works. The Atlas District is the name of a commercial strip neighborhood in D.C. that we will be near. I think the name goes well with our current logo, and my designer sent the attached preliminary sketch of a tap handle that makes a strong impression. We think the name is simple, strong, and memorable, and the initials ABW will be useful in swag, etc. Would love to hear your thoughts."

Q. So you testified that in conversation, you would refer to the Atlas District as the H Street Corridor earlier; is that correct?

A. Uh-huh.

Q. But it appears from this email that you would also in conversational use use it as -- you'd refer to it as the Atlas District. Would that be fair to say?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And it appears from this email that your motivation in naming Atlas was to reference the Atlas District; is that correct?

A. I would say that was part of the mix of multiple reasons we chose that name.

Q. So you reference another reason here. "We have a preliminary sketch of the tap handle that makes a strong impression." Was that the same tap handle design that your graphic designer designed and that we looked at as an exhibit a moment ago?

JUSTIN COX

A. I don't know. This email's from June 5. And when did we get that? On June 4? Yes, I think so.

Q. So you felt that that -- that would be a contributing factor to the name Atlas?

A. Yes.

Q. But you didn't end up going with that tap handle design; correct?

A. Correct.

Q. You didn't end up going with anything similar to that; correct?

A. Correct.

Q. And you didn't eventually use the Titan Atlas in any of your goods to the public; is that correct?

A. Correct.

Q. Will you look at the first page of this same Exhibit 10? At the bottom of the first page there's an email Wednesday, June 6, 2012 at 8:42 a.m. Do you see what I'm talking about?

A. Yes.

Q. Will you read the first paragraph of that email to me please?

JUSTIN COX

A. "Thanks, dude. It's a shame to give up the sweet asshole theme but we can still keep the logo, just change the tap handles. Fucking beer biz has so many names between breweries and all their beers, the trademark world's tough. If for some reason Atlas doesn't work, I was thinking Byzantine Beer Works and going with the original theme."

Q. Was Byzantine Beer one of the names that you had contemplated when you mentioned that you narrowed it down to three or four names?

A. From this email, I assume so.

Q. Did you ever use Byzantine or anything similar to that in any of your merchandising or on any of your products?

A. No.

Q. You testified that you became aware of the existence of my client's brewery in July of 2012; is that correct?

A. When the -- from the tap handle people, yes.

Q. Specifically, who alerted you to the existence of Atlas Chicago? We will call it that for the record just for continuity's sake, if that's okay.

A. I believe -- I mean, the tap handle manufacturer we were using was taphandles.com. I don't remember if we talked to other ones before, but I assume it was taphandles.com.

Q. Do you remember who specifically -- so in what context did you learn about Atlas Chicago?

A. I don't -- I don't remember if I got something, one of Atlas Chicago's handles' proofs sent to me or if he -- or if whoever the TapHandles guy was asked. It came up in that context. So taphandles.com was working on handles for Atlas Chicago or had worked on them and was working on ours, and he got confused somehow that -- thinking that we were the same company, and that's where it came up.

MR. CARROLL: I'm going to show you what we will mark as opposer's 26.

BY MR. CARROLL:

Q. Do you recognize this document?

JUSTIN COX

A. I do.

Q. What is this document?

A. It is an email from me to taphandles.com.

Q. You say here, "We are Atlas Beer Works, not Atlas Brewing Company." Is this the exchange you were referencing a moment ago with the tap handle manufacturer?

A. I think so.

Q. Did you receive an email that this was a response to?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Okay.

A. It looks like maybe -- I mean, it was an address thing so it could have been -- I don't know if it was a bill or a shipping thing or what.

Q. So you don't know if there's an accompanying email that this was responsive to?

A. No, I don't know.

Q. But it appears that in this email, you are clarifying the distinction between your company, Atlas Beer Works, and Atlas Brewing Company; is that fair to say?

JUSTIN COX

A. Yes.

Q. And that was in response to Ms. Kendzierski from taphandles.com's confusion over the issue?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Did she tell you anything about Atlas Brewing Company outside the context of this email?

A. I don't remember. I didn't remember this until I saw these emails today.

Q. Okay. So other than what's in this email, do you remember anything about that exchange?

A. No.

Q. So based on this email and this testimony, you became aware of Atlas Chicago in July, at the latest, July 30, 2012; correct?

A. Yes.

Q. And at that time, you had just recently decided on changing the name to Atlas; correct?

A. What do you mean, "recently"?

Q. You had -- within the last couple of months, you had decided to change the name from Volstead to Atlas Beer Works; correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, just so I have a clear time line, when did you decide to change it from Atlas Beer Works to Atlas Brew Works?

A. I don't remember that. We should have done it probably from the get-go, and I don't know. We were focusing on the kind of -- the first word, I don't know what the term for that is, but the first word of it and then the kind of "Beer Works" versus "Brew Works" we saw as sort of ancillary to the whole name, and so I don't know. I don't know when that happened.

Q. Was it before -- well, strike that.

The name of Volstead was "Volstead Beer Works"; correct?

A. Correct.

Q. At the time it was Volstead Beer Works, were you aware of the entity that you mentioned in Massachusetts that had established rights in the name "Beer Works"?

A. I found out about those two simultaneously.

Q. You found out about Volstead and the

JUSTIN COX

Boston or the Massachusetts entity simultaneously?

A. Yes.

Q. So before you decided to change the name to Atlas, you were aware of the BEER WORKS mark; correct?

A. Yes.

Q. And it was sometime after you changed the first word in the mark to ATLAS that you changed the second word in the mark to -- from BEER WORKS to BREW WORKS; correct?

A. In the mark?

Q. Yeah. Well, not -- okay, in the name of your company.

A. Could you repeat that?

Q. Sure, sure.

Is it correct that at some point after you changed the name of your company to "Atlas Beer Works" that you then changed it to "Atlas Brew Works"? Correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Why did you wait to change the name from "Beer Works" to "Brew Works"?

A. I don't remember, honestly. We changed it because we didn't want to get into -- I mean, we didn't want to get into a situation where we couldn't use our -- the name that we wanted to, obviously, but I don't remember why it took later or why -- I don't know.

Q. Okay. Did you ever receive a cease and desist letter from the Massachusetts entity that had rights in the mark BEER WORKS?

A. No.

Q. Did you receive any other types of correspondence from them demanding that you cease to use the name?

A. No.

Q. Did you receive correspondence from the USPTO informing you of the conflict in the mark?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And so if you became aware of Atlas Chicago's use of the name ATLAS in July of 2012 and you had just recently gone through one dispute and were aware of another potential conflict in the name, why didn't you choose at that time to engage Atlas Chicago in discussions over the use of the name ATLAS?

A. Well, because we -- I mean, we had our application filed but we didn't -- I don't know what we would have done. Like, what that would have solved. We didn't have the -- our mark hadn't gone through the PTO yet and so we just didn't -- didn't think that that -- that we had a -- as I said earlier, we hadn't firmed anything yet, so I don't know what we would have discussed.

As far as I saw there, there was -- you know, they hadn't filed the mark. And I don't know if they were open yet at that point.

Q. Well, given how things had gone with Volstead, and given your emails discussing how crowded the beer market is and how difficult it is to find a mark, why wouldn't you seek to affirmatively deal with the issue of a potentially conflicting mark?

A. Well, the time -- timing wasn't the right -- I didn't think it was the appropriate time.

Q. What would have been the appropriate time?

JUSTIN COX

A. Once we heard back from the PTO about the status of our application.

Q. Okay. And when was your application processed by the PTO, USPTO?

A. When was it processed?

Q. When did you obtain approval?

A. I don't think we have obtained approval.

Q. So there would have been no point in time when it would have been appropriate to engage Atlas Chicago in discussions over this, in your opinion, based on the failure of the USPTO to approve your mark?

A. Well, no. I'm confused.

Q. You testified a moment ago that you didn't think it was the appropriate time to engage Atlas Chicago in July of 2012 because your mark hadn't been approved. So when -- so when in the time line between then and now would have been an appropriate time to engage Atlas Chicago in discussions?

A. At the point that our mark was approved.

MR. CARROLL: Okay, I'm going to show you an email that I'll mark as Opposer's 27.

JUSTIN COX

BY MR. CARROLL:

Q. Do you recognize this document?

A. I do.

Q. Can you read this? What is this document?

A. It is an email from my graphic designer to me.

Q. Can you read it to me?

A. "Trying my best. The damn S is giving me issues again. I attached a scan. What are your thoughts? I stylized the A a bit, added a touch of art nouveau. And just like the Volstead logo, the letters will have an offset edge with a slight reveal. The file I'll working in is a vector program so I can send it to the manufacturer without any hassle."

Q. So what is he talking about here? What process is he describing here?

A. He is describing changing the tap handle design lettering of Volstead to Atlas.

Q. And did eventually succeed in incorporating the new name into the old logos?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And those are the logos that you're using to this day; correct?

A. No.

Q. No? Okay. So when did you adopt a new logo?

A. Somewhere around February of 2013.

Q. Was that before you actually put products out in the marketplace?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. I'm going to show you --

A. Well, I mean, we had stickers out before then.

Q. I'm sorry?

A. We had stickers out with the old logo before we changed our design scheme.

Q. Okay. Where would a consumer have found those stickers?

A. I mean, we passed them out at events and stuck them on bar walls and things like that.

JUSTIN COX

Q. Are there any of the original logos still -- any of the original logos that are still in use in the marketplace, to your knowledge?

A. There is.

Q. Okay. Where are those logos being used?

A. I know of one at The Pug, which is a bar on H Street. There's one on our forklift inside the brewery. Probably some other places around. There's two I know for sure.

Q. I'm a bit confused, because if the logo change occurred prior to putting beer into the marketplace, why would a bar have products with the old logo on it?

A. Well, they have stickers.

Q. Okay. And those stickers had been stickers that are just stuck up on the wall?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay, okay. But on beer products themselves, tap handles or kegs or bottles, is the old logo in use at this point?

A. No.

MR. CARROLL: I'd like you to look at what was previously marked as Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 7.

JUSTIN COX

THE WITNESS: I have 9, 6, but not 7.

MR. DANNENBERG: What document are we looking for here?

MR. CARROLL: Your Exhibit 7. It's the response to interrogatories.

BY MR. CARROLL:

Q. You testified earlier that these were answers that you gave in response to Atlas Chicago's interrogatories in this action; is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. And you testified that these answers are complete and accurate as of this date; correct?

A. Yes.

Q. I'd like you to look at interrogatory number 7. Can you please read the interrogatory to me?

A. "Describe in detail the process in which applicant created and/or chose applicant's mark, including when it was created, the reasons for its creation, and the persons involved in its creation."

Q. Okay. Now, based on what you just read, "the reasons for its creation," do you see any limiting language in there, or do you interpret that as all of the reasons for its creation?

A. I'm not sure I understand.

Q. Well, do you think that this interrogatory is asking you to list some reasons or all of the reasons for its creation?

A. The reasons.

Q. The reasons? All of the reasons?

A. Yeah.

Q. Okay. So can you read the response that you gave, skipping past the general objection, which is the first sentence, so starting with "Subject to."

A. "Subject to and without waiver of the general objections in the foregoing objections, applicant respond that it originally intended to use the term "Volstead" with its beer. On May 9, 2012, applicant received an Office Action in its U.S. trademark application for VOLSTEAD BEER WORKS, citing a likelihood of confusion refusal. Accordingly, in late May 2012, applicant's Chief Executive Officer, Justin Cox, began considering the mark ATLAS as an alternative. This was because the Atlas District is the name of the commercial strip neighborhood in the District of Columbia near the intended location of the brewery. Moreover, the name was determined to go well with the logo designed by applicant's designer, Mr. Guidera, for the previous mark and a preliminary sketch of the tap handle by Mr. Guidera was found to make a strong impression. Applicant's Chief Executive Officer also concluded that the initials of the intended brewery name, Atlas Beer Works, ABW, would be useful for promotional purposes. Applicant's Chief Executive Officer also searched the U.S. Trademarks Office database and did not find or did not identify any conflicting registered or pending marks."

Q. So would you say that that response is fairly consistent with the statement of reasons for changing, or for changing the name to Atlas in your June 4 email to the investors that we looked at a moment ago?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And the tap handle that you reference in your response to interrogatory request number 7, the preliminary sketch of the tap handle by Mr. Guidera, is that the same tap handle, the design for which was an exhibit that we looked at with Atlas with a hop on his head?

A. Yes.

Q. So given the opportunity to state your reasons for choosing of the name ATLAS, you cited the Atlas District, a tap handle, and the attractiveness of the ABW abbreviation. Is that fair to say?

A. Yes.

Q. And you interpreted this interrogatory to be asking all the reasons for the creation of the Atlas Brew Works label; correct?

A. Yes.

MR. CARROLL: I'd like to take a short break, then we may be going into the confidential information, in which case we will ask Mr. Soble to leave the room.

MR. DANNENBERG: Okay.

(Recess taken.)

BY MR. CARROLL:

Q. Mr. Cox, I'd like you to take a look at what's been previously marked as Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 23.

A. Did you ask me about that previously?

Q. I haven't asked you about it yet.

A. Okay.

Q. It was an email. It was a May 10 email.

A. Here it is.

Q. You testified earlier that this was an email that you sent to your investors on May 10 updating them, among other things, on the real estate situation for your warehouse; correct?

And the email states that the market area is bound by Florida Avenue on the south, New York Avenue and Penn Street Northeast to the north and west, and 6th Street Northeast to the east. Can you tell me roughly what neighborhood that location was in?

A. NoMa.

Q. And where is NoMa in relationship to the Atlas District?

A. Well, NoMa, I mean, it's -- it's -- I don't know like distance between it, but NoMa's near the New York Avenue Metro, and H Street is, you know, ten blocks away on H Street.

Q. Okay. So the -- on May 10, 2012, the space that you were contemplating setting up your business was in the NoMa District about ten blocks from the H Street or Atlas District; correct?

A. Correct.

Q. Okay. And then looking at what's previously been marked as Atlas Brew Works Exhibit 24, it's an email dated August 15, 2012.

A. Okay.

Q. You mention a second piece of property here, having decided against the NoMa property that we discussed a moment ago; correct?

JUSTIN COX

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. So was that location the original location? You didn't mention the address, but here, it appears you mentioned an address of 1225 3rd Street. Was that the NoMa location that you mentioned a minute ago?

A. Well, they're both in NoMa, actually.

Q. Okay. So the location that you're looking at now in the email of August 15, 2012 to investors, that's the 550 Penn Street; is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. And so that's also in NoMa?

A. Yes.

Q. Approximately how far in blocks or miles, if you know it, is that location from the Atlas District?

A. Probably ten blocks. This location is two blocks from the previous location we were talking about.

Q. So they're both roughly equidistant from the Atlas District; correct?

A. Correct.

Q. Okay. And in your email to the investors of June 4 where you mentioned the association between the name ATLAS and the Atlas District, were you looking at a different location in the Atlas District that isn't mentioned in these emails?

JUSTIN COX

A. No.

Q. Okay. So the ATLAS location that you had looked at prior to June 4, prior to the June 4 email to investors, was --

A. What are we talking? What year is this?

Q. 2012, 2012.

A. Okay.

Q. When you decided on the ATLAS name and sent out the notice to the investors that the name would be ATLAS.

A. Do you know what the number is on that email?

Q. I'm sure we can find it. It's previously marked as Exhibit 10. Specifically, page Bates labeled ATLAS18. It was a June 5 email. Do you see what I'm talking about on ATLAS18?

A. Yes.

JUSTIN COX

Q. So at the time you sent this June 5, 2012 email to investors, you were looking at the 1225 3rd Street location as the location of your brewery; correct?

A. It looks like we were looking at that location and the -- both the locations that we were in negotiation with two landlords.

Q. The email, the June 5 email says "We're in negotiation with two landlords."

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Okay. Which two locations were those? Were those the two NoMa locations that we discussed a minute ago?

A. There was four locations we've looked at, and they were all in NoMa.

Q. Okay. And were they all approximately equidistant to the Atlas District?

A. Yes.

Q. I'd like to take a look at what was previously marked as Atlas Brew Works 12. This was your application for the ATLAS mark.

A. Okay.

Q. You testified that this is the full and complete application for the intent to use the ATLAS mark; correct?

JUSTIN COX

A. Yes.

Q. Looking at what's Bates labeled ATLAS405, I believe we looked at this before, but do you recognize that document?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And in paragraph 1, you read it into the record that it says: "Our ATLAS mark will be used exclusively in connection with our brewery in the Washington, D.C. area."

Is Atlas beer still sold exclusively in the D.C. area?

A. Yes.

Q. Has it ever been sold outside the D.C. area?

A. No.

Q. And just for clarification, you referenced the D.C. area as sort of the Maryland, Virginia, District itself and potentially parts of West Virginia; correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you sell any beer in West Virginia?

JUSTIN COX

A. No.

Q. What about in Maryland?

A. No.

Q. What about in Virginia?

A. No.

Q. So do you sell ATLAS beer exclusively in the District of Columbia?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Now, it says in paragraph 2 of that same affidavit: "Our beers will be marketed exclusively to beer connoisseurs in the Washington, D.C. area between the ages of 21 and 40 with disposable income who are seeking local beers."

Would that demographic description in paragraph 2 correspond with your characterization of the Atlas District as a trendy place for young people to go?

A. I don't understand the question.

Q. I'll make it simpler. Are you talking about the same crowd that would be likely to go to the bar and restaurant scene in the Atlas District?

A. I mean, I'm sure there's lots of people between 21 and 40 who don't go over to H Street, and there's plenty that do.

Q. But would you say that the Atlas District bars and restaurants that are seeking to attract, you know, trendy young people per your earlier characterization are aiming at roughly the same demographic as your company?

MR. DANNENBERG: Objection, calls for speculation.

MR. CARROLL: I'll rephrase. Strike that.

BY MR. CARROLL:

Q. Based on your knowledge of the business practices of bars and restaurants in the Atlas District, are they aiming at the same 21 to 40 demographic with disposal income that you're describing in your affidavit?

MR. DANNENBERG: Same objection.

BY MR. CARROLL:

Q. Go ahead and answer.

A. I mean, you have to ask the bar owners who they're going after.

Q. Okay. So we looked at your Twitter feed for -- I believe it was the year 2013;

JUSTIN COX

correct?

A. Yes. I think it was some overlap into 2012.

Q. There might have been some 2012, I think. I believe you established the Twitter feed in December of 2012; is that correct?

A. That was the date of our first tweet.

Q. Why did you establish a Twitter handle for Atlas Brew Works?

A. For marketing purposes.

Q. Outreach to potential customers; correct?

A. Yes.

Q. Mr. Cox, did you have a domain name established for Volstead Beer Works?

A. I believe we did.

Q. When did you obtain that domain name?

A. I do not know. I don't remember.

Q. When did you first -- I believe you testified that you first started putting ideas on paper for a brewery in late 2011; correct?

A. Correct.

Q. So in relation to that late 2011 date, approximately how long did it take you to obtain the Volstead domain name?

JUSTIN COX

A. I don't remember. I assume that it was -- it was early, I mean, probably right when we were putting the business plan together. I don't know. I don't remember.

Q. Is that the sort of thing you'd have records for?

A. I'm sure somebody has a record of that.

Q. Okay. Mr. Cox, what's your projected barrel volume for 2013?

A. For this year?

Q. Yeah.

A. About 2,000 barrels.

Q. What was your barrel volume for 2013? Do you know?

A. I don't know. I have that email on my phone actually with that information in it that I have not been able to open.

MR. CARROLL: I think we'd like to go into some of the items that are trade secrets and therefore will ask Mr. Soble to leave the room.

(NOTE: Mr. Soble left the deposition room.)

MR. DANNENBERG: Let the record show that Mr. Soble has left the room and that this portion of the deposition record is marked as highly confidential by applicants.

EXAMINATION

BY MR. DANNENBERG:

Q. We just have a few questions for redirect and then we can all go to lunch.

Mr. Cox, did you ever file a trademark application for the name BYZANTINE?

A. No.

Q. Did you ever change the name of any company to Byzantine?

JUSTIN COX

A. No.

Q. Did you ever have a company with the name Byzantine in it?

A. No.

Q. What was your understanding of the relative rights as between you and House Distillery Spirits when you decided to change your name from Volstead to Atlas?

A. Well, I know that they had filed their application before ours and so they were -- that was a -- you know, they had a prior time right, I guess. I wasn't sure about the beer versus liquor distinction in the trademark world but decided it wasn't worth going down that path.

Q. And what was your understanding of the relative strengths of rights between you and the Massachusetts group Beer Works?

A. It seemed pretty obvious that they were superior to ours.

Q. And what was your understanding of the relative strength of rights as between you and Atlas Chicago?

A. That ours were superior to Atlas

Chicago.

Q. Looking at Exhibit 11, it is the logo with the hop on it that we have been referring to.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. This is the exhibit here if you want to glance at that.

Who is that character?

A. That is Atlas, the Titan.

Q. And if we look at Exhibit 7, the interrogatory request number 7 where you state was -- you state that "Moreover, the name was determined to go well with the logo designed by applicant's designer," is this the same logo? I believe you testified it was --

A. Yes.

Q. -- earlier, if I'm correct. If I'm not correct, I'm sure you'll let me know.

So when you refer to "the logo," "The name was determined to go well with the logo that had already been designed," you're stating the name was determined to go well with this ATLAS logo that was already designed; is that correct?

JUSTIN COX

A. I don't remember. I don't remember if it was that logo or if it was the previous logo, like the VOLSTEAD tap logo we had.

Q. In response to interrogatory request number 7 -- you can use my copy there.

I'll let you read it and refresh your recollection.

A. So this is referring to both, actually.

Q. Okay. Drawing your attention to Exhibit 12, it's the records for the ATLAS trademark.

Under the mark information at the top of page 1, can you read me what the mark information is?

A. "Mark literal elements: ATLAS. Standard character claim: Yes. The mark consists of standard characters without claim to any particular font, style, or color. Mark drawing time: 4 - standard character mark."

Q. So in the various iterations of your logo that you went through that we've discussed throughout this deposition, once you made the decision to change from VOLSTEAD to ATLAS, did every iteration of that logo include the characters A-T-L-A-S?

JUSTIN COX

A. Yes.

Q. You stated earlier you've lived in the District for I think seven years directly and longer than that when you count the D.C. area.

Do you consider yourself generally familiar with areas in D.C. that people like to go out at night?

A. Yes.

Q. Are there any other areas other than H Street that people from 21 to 40 years old go out?

A. Yes.

Q. What are some of those areas?

A. Adams Morgan, 14th Street, U Street, Barracks Row, Glover Park, Georgetown. All over the city, really.

Q. Have you ever sold beer to someone you know to take that beer out of D.C.?

A. Yes.

Q. So you have customers that, while they purchased the beer from you in Washington,

JUSTIN COX

D.C., they have taken it outside of Washington, D.C.?

A. Yes.

MR. DANNENBERG: We have no further questions.

MR. CARROLL: We have none either.

DECLARATION OF JUSTIN COX IN SUPPORT OF APPLICANT'S OPPOSITION TO OPPOSER'S MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT

The undersigned, Justin Cox, being duly sworn, declares as follows:

1. I am Chief Executive Officer for Atlas Brew Works LLC ("Applicant") and am authorized to execute this Declaration on behalf of Applicant. This Declaration is submitted in support of Applicant's Opposition to Opposer's Motion for Summary Judgment.

2. In 2008, I met with Applicant's head brewer, Will Durgin ("Durgin"), to discuss developing a brewery.

3. In October 2011, I began putting my plans to develop a brewery on paper and considering recipes.

4. On or around November 4, 2011, I formed Volstead Beer Works LLC. Attached as Exhibit A-1 is the incorporation application.

5. In December 2011/January 2012, I began securing investors for the brewery.

6. On January 29, 2012, I filed the VOLSTEAD BEER WORKS trademark application Serial No. 85/528066.

7. On May 9, 2012, Durgin officially signed the membership agreement as head brewer of Applicant.

8. On May 9, 2012, a potential likelihood of confusion rejection issued in the VOLSTEAD BEER WORKS trademark application based on a citation for a pending application owned by House Spirits Distillery LLC for the mark VOLSTEAD, Serial No. 85/424098, for distilled spirits. As this entity appeared to have superior rights to VOLSTEAD, on or about May

ATLAS BREW WORKS
Ex. 6
Atlas Brewing Co v.
Atlas Brew Works
Opp. No. 91210379

30, 2012, I reached out to its Chief Executive Officer to discuss a consent agreement. After followup from me by telephone and email, on June 11, 2012, the CEO informed me that, based on counsel from its lawyers, House Spirits Distillery LLC wanted us to "...avoid the use of our VOLSTEAD mark now and in the future" [emphasis in original]. Further, on July 11, 2012, we also received a cease and desist letter from House Spirits Distillery LLC's attorneys. Attached as Exhibit A-2 are copies of my email correspondence with the CEO of House Spirits Distillery LLC, as well as the July 11, 2012, cease and desist letter received from its attorneys. As explained below, by the time we received the cease and desist letter, we had already changed our name to Atlas Beer Works.

9. In late May/early June of 2012, when the CEO of House Spirits Distillery LLC was not responding to our attempts to contact him, we became concerned that we would not be able to overcome the potential objection based on the VOLSTEAD mark owned by House Spirits Distillery LLC. Accordingly, we began to explore alternative names.

10. Ultimately, we decided on the name ATLAS. We conducted a preliminary search of the United States Patent & Trademark Office records and preliminary internet searches for ATLAS. When no obstacles were identified, we decided to proceed with "Atlas Beer Works".

11. As part of our initial activities with respect to the name ATLAS, we had our designer sketch a preliminary drawing of a tap handle featuring "Atlas" the mythological figure bearing the weight of hops and incorporating our previous map theme. Attached as Exhibits A-3 through A-5 are copies of correspondence between myself and an investor regarding the ATLAS theme involving Atlas from Greek mythology (Ex. A-3), the preliminary drawing of the tap handle featuring "Atlas" (Ex. A-4), and correspondence between myself and my designer regarding the creation of new designs for ATLAS incorporating Atlas from Greek mythology (Ex. A-5).

12. In a June 5, 2012, email to Applicant's investors cited by Opposer in its Summary Judgment Motion, (Ex. B to Opposer's Summary Judgment Motion), I explained the difficulties we had with the VOLSTEAD BEER WORKS mark, and stated that in "racking our brains" for a new name, "...we landed on Atlas Beer Works. The Atlas District is the name of the commercial strip neighborhood in DC that we will be near. I think the name goes well with our current logo and my designer sent the attached preliminary sketch of a tap handle that makes a strong impression. We think the name is simple, strong and memorable. And the initials ABW will be useful in swag, etc...." At the time I sent this email, Applicant had not yet signed a lease for its brewery, so we did not know the exact location for it. However, we expected it would be somewhere in North East Washington, which included the commercial district known as the Atlas District, among others.

13. My June 5, 2012, correspondence (Ex. B to Opposer's Summary Judgment Motion) solicited comments from our investors about our trademark situation. However, the decision to adopt ATLAS as our alternative trademark in case we could not resolve the VOLSTEAD matter was already decided when the June 5, 2012, correspondence was sent to investors. In fact, we had already filed a trademark application for ATLAS on June 4, 2012 (the one that is the subject of this opposition), and, as shown by Exhibits A-4 and A-5, we were working with our designers to work in the theme of ATLAS the Titan with our prior logo, including a map theme.

14. We continued throughout early June 2012 to work with our designer on a stylized version of ATLAS and the ATLAS Logo. In addition to Exhibit A-5, Exhibit A-6 includes correspondence between me and my designer regarding the creation of new designs for ATLAS incorporating Atlas from Greek mythology and correspondence between me and my designer regarding creation of a stylized version of ATLAS.

15. Initially, our decision to pursue the ATLAS trademark was contingent on whether we could negotiate a consent agreement on behalf of the Applicant with House Spirits Distillery LLC. However, I confirm that at the time the trademark application for ATLAS was filed on June 4, 2012, Applicant had a bona fide intent to use the ATLAS trademark in commerce in connection with the goods covered by the application, as is evidenced by the preliminary work in selecting the mark as an alternative to VOLSTEAD BEER WORKS, including work with our designer for a logo for ATLAS. The only reason we would not have proceeded with the ATLAS name was if we were able to obtain a consent agreement from House Spirits Distillery LLC. When House Spirits Distillery LLC informed us on June 11, 2012 that it would not grant consent for us to use and register the VOLSTEAD BEER WORKS mark, we decided to move forward with ATLAS.

16. On June 15, 2012, I reported to Applicant's investors that the decision to change the brewery name to "Atlas Beer Works" was official and that I had already changed my email address and Durgin's email address to "@atlasbeerworks.com" addresses. Attached as Exhibit A-7 is correspondence from me to investors reporting the official name change to "Atlas Beer Works" and that myself and our head brewer had changed our email addresses to "@atlasbeerworks.com" email addresses. As of that date, Applicant had no intention of pursuing its trademark application for VOLSTEAD BEER WORKS. However, rather than file an express abandonment of the VOLSTEAD BEER WORKS application at that time, Applicant instead elected not to respond to the pending office action and allowed the application to go abandoned.

17. On June 18, 2012, we officially changed our name from Volstead Beer Works LLC to Atlas Beer Works LLC with the Delaware Secretary of State. (Subsequently, on September 25, 2012, our name was further amended to Atlas Brew Works LLC.) Exhibit A-8 includes copies of the Delaware Secretary of State records documenting the name change filings on June 18 and September 25, 2012.

18. Once we had changed our name to Atlas Beer works, we continued with our business activities to get our brewery up and running, including the activities described in the following paragraphs.

19. As of July 2012 Applicant was purchasing brewing supplies and materials. An invoice for brewing materials is attached as Sealed Exhibit A-9. (The sealed exhibits are submitted separately from the non-confidential exhibits to this Declaration and are subject to the protective order in the proceeding.)

20. A location was chosen and a lease was finalized on December 6, 2012. The lease for our property is attached as Sealed Exhibit A-10.

21. Our first press release was issued December 10, 2012, and a copy is attached as Exhibit A-11.

22. On December 27, 2012, we filed our Brewer's Notice with the Department of Treasury Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau. Attached as Exhibit A-12 is a copy of Applicant's application for its Brewer's Notice with the Department of Treasury Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau.

23. On February 23, 2013, Applicant signed an agreement with a branding company to help further develop and expand the brand. Attached as Sealed Exhibit A-13 is a copy of Applicant's contract with its branding company.

24. Applicant entered into a distribution agreement on April 2, 2013. Sealed Exhibit A-14 is a copy of Applicant's distribution agreement.

25. Applicant received its license from the Alcoholic Beverage Regulation Administration to provide tastings to consumers on July 26, 2013. Attached as Exhibit A-15 is a copy of Applicant's license from the Alcoholic Beverage Regulation Administration to provide tastings to consumers.

26. On August 28, 2013, we had a private event and tasting for our distributor at our brewery in Washington, DC. Our first event for the public where our beer was sold was September 2, 2013 at Meridian Pint in Washington, DC. Thus, by September 2013, our beer was commercially available at bars in the District of Columbia.

27. Meanwhile, as we were preparing to get our business operations up and running under the ATLAS name, our trademark application (Serial No. 85/642549), which I had filed myself, was going through the examination process. During the course of the prosecution of our trademark application for ATLAS, a prior registration for the mark SKINNY ATLAS LIGHT (Reg. No. 2,089,219) was cited against our application as a bar to registration on the ground of likelihood of confusion. We retained counsel to represent us in prosecuting the application, and our response to the office action dated October 12, 2012, included an Affidavit by me. (See Ex. F to Opposer's Summary Judgment Motion.) In that Affidavit, I explained that ATLAS in our mark was intended to represent the Titan, Atlas, whereas it was my understanding that the cited mark was a reference to a lake in Syracuse, New York, where the owner of the SKINNY ATLAS LIGHT application was located. (As shown in Ex. A-5, the earliest logo we developed for ATLAS was based on the Titan, Atlas.)

28. As explained in the June 5, 2012, email to investors (Ex. B to Opposer's Summary Judgment Motion) the selection of the ATLAS name also was desirable because it fit well with our marketing plan. We expected that our brewery would be near the Atlas District in the District of Columbia. However, the proximity of the Atlas District was not the sole basis for selecting ATLAS, as was explained both in the June 5 email to investors and in my Affidavit before the USPTO (Exhibits B and F to Opposer's Summary Judgment Motion). Indeed, at the time we selected the ATLAS name, we had not yet signed a lease for our premises. As it turned out, after negotiations for two different leases in the NoMa neighborhood fell through, we eventually located our brewery in the Ivy City Neighborhood in DC, which is near the Atlas District, but not within the Atlas District.

29. Although the Atlas District is a neighborhood in the District of Columbia, I do not believe that the name Atlas District is generally known. In fact, it is not even the most common name for that neighborhood, which is more commonly known as "H Street District," "H Street Northeast", "H Street Corridor", or simply "H Street".

30. I am personally familiar with the types of businesses located in the Atlas District. The Atlas District was named after the Atlas Theater, and as evidenced by Exhibits H and I to Opposer's Summary Judgment Motion, it is known as an "Arts and Entertainment" district. To the best of my knowledge, the Atlas District is not particularly known for beer, nor are purchasers likely to believe that Applicant's beer originates from the Atlas District.

31. Applicant's goods, namely, beer, do not originate from the neighborhood in DC known as both the Atlas District and the H Street District.

The undersigned, being hereby warned that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under 18 U.S.C. §1001, and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of Applicant's application or any resulting registration, declares that the facts set forth in this declaration are true; all statements made of his knowledge are true; and all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true.

Tom,
Thanks for the reply. I am sorry to hear that you are not open to reaching an agreement to avoid a potential issue in the future. However, as stated we have no intention of using the term Volstead in the distilled spirits category that your mark is in.

Best of luck,
Justin

Hello Tom:

My name is Justin Cox and I am in the process of opening a craft brewery in Washington, DC. We are currently planning on using the name "Volstead Beer Works" and saw that you were just granted a trademark for the use of "Volstead" in the distilled spirits category. We have a pending application in for the name "Volstead Beer Works" for use in the beer category. My understanding is that once your trademark converts to registered, this might affect our ability to also use the word "Volstead." While there is a distinction between distilled spirits and beer, as well as between our names, I would like to discuss the matter with you now so I can concentrate on building a brewery and making some delicious beer here in DC.

This is a small start-up business for me and my partner/head brewer Will Durgin (coincidentally working at Pyramid in Portland until he moves East). We are two friends that after years of talking about it are taking the leap to realize our dream of owning our own business and bringing our passion for craft beer to market. We have not started production yet, but hope to have our build out done and equipment installed by late summer.

We want to be upfront with you and hopefully build a lasting and amicable relationship. We've invested some money but more so time, heart & soul into the name, the story, and the logos for Volstead Beer Works. As you can imagine it fits a DC brewery quite well. We are not at the point of no return but would love to retain our brewery's name and art with no ambiguity over propriety. Would you be open to reaching an agreement for us to use our name Volstead Beer Works? We hope we can work something out small business to small business. Let's hop on the phone sometime soon. I would love to speak with you and talk through all of this. I'd also like to tell you more about our story and beer, and send you some samples once things are up and running!

Thanks for your time and I look forward to hearing from you.

Cheers,
Justin

Re: VOLSTEAD Trademark

Dear Mr. Cox:

We represent House Spirits Distillery LLC ("House Spirits"). It has come to our attention that Volstead Beer Works: (1) recently filed for an intent-to use application for the mark VOLSTEAD BEER WORKS, Ser. No. 85/528,066, for beer (the "Infringing Mark"); (2) is using the name Volstead Beer Works as its business name; and, (3) intends to sell beer branded with the Infringing Mark. On behalf of House Spirits, we write to demand that Volstead Beer Works promptly cease use of the word "VOLSTEAD" in all variations, in connection with its products and services and abandon its intent to sell beer and related goods under the Infringing Mark. As explained in this letter, House Spirits believes such uses of the Infringing Mark infringes House Spirits' prior rights in its VOLSTEAD trademark and related federal application.

As you know, House Spirits is in the business of selling distilled spirits and related goods and services. House Spirits owns the federal trademark application for the mark VOLSTEAD for "distilled spirits," Ser. No. 85/424,098, which published and received a Notice of Allowance on February 28, 2012 (the "VOLSTEAD Mark").

Volstead Beer Works' use of the Infringing Mark for beer would constitute infringement of the VOLSTEAD Mark, be likely to cause confusion among consumers and would damage the distinctiveness, value and customer brand appeal of the VOLSTEAD Mark. For these reasons, Volstead Beer Works must promptly abandon its intent to use the Infringing Mark.

Moreover, the United States Patent and Trademark Office ("USPTO") agrees there is a conflict. The USPTO determined in an Office Action dated May 9, 2012 that the application for the Infringing Mark may be likely to cause confusion with the VOLSTEAD Mark.

As background, courts have held that beer, wine and distilled spirits are related goods. Also, when dominant portions of the marks are the same (i.e. "VOLSTEAD"), confusion may be likely notwithstanding other differences between the marks. See Palm Bay Imps., Inc. v. Veuve Clicquot Ponsardin Maison Fondee En 1772, 396 F.3d 1369 (Fed. Cir. 2005) and In re Chatam Int'l Inc., 380 F.3d 1340 (Fed Cir. 2004). Given that: (1) "VOLSTEAD" is the dominant portion of the marks; and, (2) beer and distilled spirits are related goods likely to be encountered by the same consumers and travel in the same trade channels, confusion is likely.

Therefore, if Volstead Beer Works begins using the Infringing Mark, it would constitute infringement of House Spirits' prior trademark rights, constitute unfair competition, injure House Spirits' business reputation, and dilute the distinctive quality of the VOLSTEAD Mark, all in violation of applicable state and federal laws.

We trust you will agree that it is best to resolve these issues without legal action. Therefore, we request that you expressly abandon the pending application for the Infringing Mark and abandon any other trademark and/or business name containing the Infringing Mark or marks confusingly similar to the VOLSTEAD Mark.

Please confirm your agreement to the above requests in writing no later than July 28, 2012. This will provide you with a reasonable time to transition to a new name. Although we hope that this matter will be resolved amicably, House Spirits does not waive any rights whatsoever in connection with its trademarks, and expressly reserves all such rights and related remedies.

Thank you for your prompt attention to this matter. If you have questions about this letter, please feel free to call me or have your legal counsel do so.

Very truly yours,

kraken beer?

There is an Panamanian Atlas beer. They had trademarks registered but they both are "dead" as of 2004 and 2006. Not sure what the implications of that are really, but we'll see what the PTO says.

I love the idea of different items on Atlas's back relating to the beer. I think the hop works well with your rye or an IPA...and an onion dome for BORIS would make a great stout or black ale (boris sounds like a dark bearded man). After your brand is established, though, I wouldn't limit yourself to that specific pose. You could have Atlas standing and holding items (e.g., a bushel of wheat for a heffe) or doing something (tossing a bolt of lightning?).

I think for Steam, you could simply put an old cool looking propeller (in lieu of a turbine) on dude's back. Plenty to look at here:

Thanks dude. It is a shame to give up the sweet ass old theme. But we can still keep the logo, just change the tap handles. Fucking beer biz has so many names between breweries and all their beers, the trademark world is tough. If for some reason Atlas doesnt work, I was thinking Byzantine Beer Works and going with the original theme.

We are also throwing around the idea of putting different stuff on Atlas's back for different beers. At least the specialty ones. e.g. a Russian onion dome for BORIS, etc. You have any ideas what would be good on there for Steam? I thought something like this: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/File:Aeolipile_illustration.JPG but that may be too complicated. For our flagships, cant decide if its better to use the hop for our rye beer and something else for the steam. Or just use different colored hops for each...

I miss me some nashvegas. Done with my gov job on June 25th, might have some time for a trip before we get balls deep in build out for the brewery. Where'd you all get bikes?

Sounds good, man! I liked the old name and theme, but the new one is good (great!) and that's a great image work up you have.

The only question is, who is Justin Cox?

We had a fun time in Nashville last weekend partying with the Quinns, etc. We did a lot of biking around, too.

Take care and good luck,

Hello all,

I wanted to pass along an update on our progress with Volstead. First thing is we've run into a trademark issue with the name Volstead Beer Works. House Spirits distillery in Portland, OR applied to register a trademark for "Volstead" in the distilled spirits category about two months before we applied to register in the beer category. That does not necessarily preclude our using that name, but it does cloudy the water in terms of our chance of parsing the trademark details out in court. Rather than run that risk, we reached out to the CEO of House Spirits in hopes of reaching an agreement allowing us to use the name without litigation. I spoke to him in person briefly yesterday, he plans to get back to me in the next couple of days after talking with his lawyers. I've never known a lawyer (you know who you are out there) to be optimistic and advise a client to take the risk, so I am not hopeful we will be able to use the name Volstead.

After racking our brains through hundreds of alternatives, we landed on Atlas Beer Works. The Atlas District is the name of the commercial strip neighborhood in DC that we will be near. I think the name goes well with our current logo and my designer sent the attached preliminary sketch of a tap handle that makes a strong impression. We think the name is simple, strong, and memorable. And the initials ABW will be useful in swag, etc. Would love to hear your thoughts.

We are still trying to work out a lease for our brewing space. We are in negotiations with two different landlords. One is a two story building about two blocks from the NY Ave metro and the other is a warehouse space in the Florida Avenue Market (about 1/2 mile from metro). The process has been slower than I would like, but I hope to have something locked up in the next couple of weeks. Our preference is the 2 story building (in which we would only take about 1/4 of the bottom floor but have access to the roof deck). The listing broker has been dragging his feet in responding to our request for proposal and we just learned that he was working a deal with another tenant interested in the entire building, but that looks to be falling through. His attention is now focused on us and I hope they will have something over to us in the next couple of days. In the meantime, we are going through the proposal process with the Florida Avenue Market space as well. Trying to keep the ball moving as quickly as possible.

Once we have a deal worked out at either location, we will order our equipment and begin the build out. There is about a 14 week lag time for delivery of equipment which we will use to build out the space, apply for permits, design and post our website, facebook, twitter, merchandise, and start pre-selling some beer! We are waiting until he have some real estate locked down before we issue a press release about our existence. Most breweries start talking about their plans in the press more than a year before they are ready to brew. Our time frame should be a matter of months and I hope the quick ramp-up time will build some instant gratification excitement in the DC beer community. If we can get the real estate deal done in the next couple weeks, I believe we will still be on track for production starting in September.

Thanks for all your support and I will be in touch with another update as soon as we have news to break.

Cheers,
Justin

Trying my best! This damn "S" is giving me issues again. I attached a scan. What are your thoughts? I stylized the "A" a bit; added a ltouch of art nouveau. Oh, and just like the Volstead logo, the letters will have an offset edge with a slight reveal. The file I'm work in is a vector program so I can send it to the manufacturer without any hassle.

Afternoon Alan! Sorry for the barrage of emails, just lots of things happening right now that require art. I'm working with the tap handle manufacturer and trying to sharpen up our name on the handles. Do you have the name "Atlas" in vector and/or .3dm file format from the logo? If I can send that to them, they can directly import it to their modeling.

Let me know!

Thanks again for all your work on this and I promise I'll stop emailing you soon...very soon.

Best,
Justin

Alan,
We are going to stick to your original tap handle designs after all. They are too awesome not to use. I am thinking about using the atlas guy as a beer logo for the rye maybe. Still tossing that around in our heads.

As for Atlas, is it possibly to send the word or letters in a vector format that I can send to the tap handle manufacturer? They did a first round of design and captured most really well, but would like the letters to be a bit sharper. These handles have a humongous lead time, so the sooner the better on this. Is what I'm asking even possible or useful?

I'm also starting to work with a website designer. Is it OK with you if I put her in touch with you about the art you've done for us?

Thanks again Alan and I'm looking forward to getting all this logo stuff wrapped up!

Alan,

I'm talking it through with some investors now about the change in direction. But in the meantime can we talk concept a little bit?

I'm digging this handle a lot. I hate to give up the badass handles you designed previously, but this might be a better approach...

We need to have the logo and the handles relate, but I don't think its imperative that they fully integrated. I'm thinking that the Atlas guy is on top of a platform that has either Atlas Beer Works on it in the same lettering/rivets, etc as the logo. And have Atlas himself be metal. maybe with an exposed gear or something. Where would we put the name of the beer? Or vis-a-versa?

We could use the hop for all our standard beers but then have Atlas holding something else up for specialty beers, seasonals, limited releases etc. (e.g. a Russian onion dome for an imperial stout, etc). Would be awesome to do that for each beer, but that will get expensive and I'm not sure what we could put on there for things like schwarzbier, or our flagship steam beer (ideas?).

Should the tap be fully 3D? Would a 2D silhouette work? Anything else you can think of? Any ideas of how to use the other handles as well?

Hey Justin,

I never put the mythological "Atlas" together with the new name. As soon as I saw the Ayn Rand cover I thought of this (see attached). Thoughts? I think it might work great on tap handles. Working it into the logo might be difficult; we can explore that option if you'd like. A couple things:

1. Did you want me to continue and change the text to Atlas on the two tap handles?

2. Let me know if you want me to continue finalizing the logo with the Atlas text, etc or if you want to explore more. I'm trying to limit how much we re-do (for both our sake!)

BTW... The more I'm thinking of it, I'm a big fan of Atlas holding the hop. Very memorable!

Cheers!

i'm going back and forth between Atlas signifying the old map type stuff or the mythological guy holding up the world - although they are interrelated and probably we should incorporate both. I'd love to incorporate the myth guy, as that icon seems to me would be an easily recognizable. I was thinking having Atlas holding up our logo, or holding up a stripped down version with just the text and details that would show up if printed on t-shirts and glasses, etc. Could either be something you do if you are comfortable and have time to do it soon, or I can reach out to another designer for that portion and tell the to use your logo as the thing he's holding up. And maybe changing the hops on top of the tap handles to be spherical like a globe but with hop cone textures.

What do you think about all that? Good idea/bad idea? feasible? too complex? What's your artistic/designer idea?

I propose we tighten up some of the piping around the text, creating some end caps to the filigree background to the text, and add a little bit more piping to fill things in a bit. Also, your idea regarding a "globe" inspired me to take the aluminum aircraft / leather background and bend it from a flat object to semi-spherical shape. As you can see from my test render, through really clean and none of the detail is on it, it's reading much better and comes across much more like metal.

Thoughts? Let me know!

Justin,

Bummer on the name. I think the name "Atlas" will translate just fine to the logo and handle. If anything, since it is less letters and the "V" is gone, it may work even better. To change the text in the logo and to add it to the tap handles I would estimate I would spend maybe 4 hours. Lucky for you, all but one letter is already designed; they just need tweaking. Now because the name Atlas is shorter, we should tweak some components on the logo a bit to balance things out. See the attached file, there is now extra space on each side of the text. Granted, I can enlarge the text but we'll have to add a bit in my opinion.

Regarding your website, yes you can give your designer my contact info. If things come up that you would like my assistance on I'd be happy to help. My July will be busy as a forewarning, but I'm happy to help. We can judge things as they come up if you'd like.

Hope you had a nice holiday weekend. So we're still working on this name issue, but I don't have much hope that we will prevail. So that leaves me with a couple questions for you:
1) How long do you think it would take you to alter the current logo and tap handle drawings to incorporate "Atlas" rather than "Volstead"? and
2) We're starting web site development now too, do you mind if I put my designer in touch with you regarding your files? As you mentioned, if something comes up and we need more drawings/design from you - do you have the capacity for some more design work (for pay of course)?

Cheers!

Trying my best! This damn "S" is giving me issues again. I attached a scan. What are your thoughts? I stylized the "A" a bit; added a ltouch of art nouveau. Oh, and just like the Volstead logo, the letters will have an offset edge with a slight reveal. The file I'm work in is a vector program so I can send it to the manufacturer without any hassle.

Hello everyone,
Just a quick update. We are officially changing our name to Atlas Beer Works. Our new email addresses are justin@atlasbeerworks.com & will@atlasbeerworks.com . Our old address should forward to the new ones, but that may take a week or so to take effect.

I'll be in touch with a real estate update soon.

Cheers,
Justin

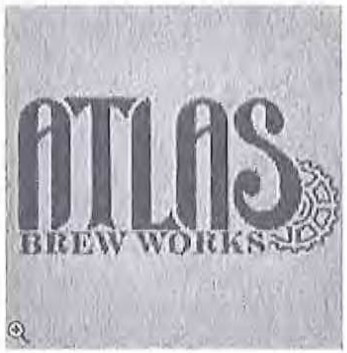
Atlas Brew Works Coming to Northeast DC

Monday, December 10, 2012, by Missy Frederick

A homebrewer and a commercial brewer are teaming up to open Atlas Brew Works in Northeast DC come next year.



The new venture is a partnership between Will Durgin and Justin Cox, according to a press release. You'll be able to find the brewery at 2052 West Virginia Ave NE, and it will open some time in the first three months of next year.

The dirt on Durgin and Cox: The two became friends at Vanderbilt University (both were engineering students). Cox has spent eight years brewing beer at home, winning awards in contests such as the DC State Fair homebrew competition and the DC Homebrewers Association Contest. Durgin, for his part, has been brewing since college, and his resume includes stints at Telegraph Brewing Company in Santa Barbara and Pyramid Breweries in Portland, Oregon.

The brewery will be pretty large, at almost 10,000 square feet, and be open to the public for tours, tastings and growler purchases. The partners have been tracking some of their progress on the brewery's Facebook page.

. What happens if I do not complete this notice? We will return your notice to you for correction if it is not completed in accordance with these structions or does not include all of the required information and documents. If you do not complete the notice you may not produce or ackage beer.

. What items do I need to complete on this notice? You must complete all items on this notice that apply to your business, regardless of the urpose for which you are filing.

. How long must I keep my copy of this notice? At your brewery you must keep available for TTB inspection during your normal business hours:

- Your most recently approved Brewer's Notice and
- All attachments and documents that provide current and complete information of this form.

Specific Instructions

em 1. What serial number do I use? Serially number each notice. Begin with No. 1 for the first notice and continue in sequence for each amendment or supplemental notice you file after you start business.

em 2. What is the notice date? The date that you submit this notice for approval.

em 3. What is my brewery's name?

If you are....	Then your name is....
n individual	Your name, followed by 'sole owner' and the name you use to operate partnership	The name of each partner followed by the name you use to operate limited partnership (LP)	The name of your LP corporation or limited liability corporation (LLC)	The corporation or LLC name and, if different, the name you use to operate

m 4. What if I use a trade name? You must list all trade names you use to do business or to package beer. Approval of a trade name does not necessarily constitute approval as a brand name for labeling purposes. Submit your requests for brand names to the Alcohol Labeling and Formulation Division on an Application for and Certificate/Exemption of Label/Bottle Approval, TTB F 5100.31. If your State requires you to register your trade name, you must submit a copy of the State trade name registration.

m 5. What is our business address? Your business address may be different than the actual location of the brewery. Your business address is where you receive mail deliveries and you conduct office activity. You must include the county of this address.

m 6. What is our brewery location? Your brewery location is where you actually brew your beer.

m 7. Who may be a contact person? Your contact person must be someone who has authority to speak or write to any of our officers regarding any aspect of your brewing operations. You must file with us a signing authority or power of attorney for this person.

m 15. What information must I provide if I am a member of a controlled brewery group?

1. A controlled brewery group is a group of breweries that share common ownership or controlled interest. Controlled groups of breweries include groups where:
   (a) One brewery owns controlling interest in the other brewery or
   (b) there is a common ownership in the controlling interest in each brewery.
2. If you are a member of a controlled group of breweries and you intend to transfer beer between breweries without payment of tax, you must:
   (a) give the name and principal business address of each of the other breweries; and
   (b) state whether condition 1.(a) or condition 1.(b) applies. If condition 1.(a) applies, state which brewery owns controlling interest in the other and the percentage of that interest. If condition 1.(b) applies, give the name and principal business address of the person owning controlling interest in both breweries and state the percentage of interest in each brewery.
3. If you are a member of a controlled group of breweries and the total production of all the breweries in the controlled group is less than 2,000,000 barrels of beer per year, you may be eligible to pay tax at the reduced rate. You must:
   (a) give the name and principal business address of each of the other breweries;
   (b) provide a list to allocate the reduced tax for 60,000 barrels between the members of the controlled group; and
   (c) state whether condition 1.(a) or condition 1.(b) applies. If condition 1.(a) applies, state which brewery owns controlling interest in the other and the percentage of that interest. If condition 1.(b) applies, give the name and principal business address of the person owning controlling interest in both breweries and state the percentage of interest in each brewery.

em 17. Who may sign for my corporation? You may indicate signature authority in two ways.

- ( ) By corporate office: In item 17 you may list the corporate offices or employees whose incumbents may sign for your corporation. Check the box that indicates how your board authorized these officers to sign. Include the date of the meeting. List the offices by title. Attach your corporate seal. These authorities remain with the office when you change personnel in that office.

- ( ) By name: You may authorize specific individuals to sign by executing a power of attorney (use TTB F 5000.8) or a signing authority for corporate officials (use TTB F 5100.1). You may limit these authorities to specific actions. For instance, you may grant a signing authority limited to monthly reports.

em 18. When must I initial the brewpub information? If you are a brewpub, then you must initial each box and provide tank capacity to demonstrate that you understand special considerations for operating taverns on brewery premises. These operations are more commonly known as brewpubs.

em 20. What are the attachments for my type of business? Follow these instructions. You must attach the organizational information and documents we require for your type of business.

If you are....	Then you must file....
Sole proprietor	( ) A list with the name and address of each person who holds an interest in the brewery, whether the interest appears in the name of the interested party or in the name of another for that party.
Partnership	( ) A copy of (1) articles of partnership of association, if any; or (2) the certificate of partnership or association if required to be filed by any State, county, or municipality. ( ) A list with the name and address of each person who holds an interest in the brewery, whether the interest appears in the name of the interested party or in the name of another for that party.
Corporation	( ) A copy of the corporation charter or of the certificate of corporate existence or incorporation. ( ) A list with the name, address, and title of each officer and director. ( ) Copies of extracts or digests of minutes of meetings of the board of directors authorizing certain individuals to sign for the corporation. ( ) A statement showing the number of shares of stock (or other evidence of ownership) authorized and outstanding and the voting rights of the respective owners. ( ) A list with the names and addresses of all persons having a voting interest of 10 percent or more in the corporation whether the interest appears in the name of the interested party or in the name of another person. For each person listed, show the amount of the stockholding or other interest.

a. May I refer to information that I filed for another operation? If you have already filed information with us, you may incorporate that information by reference if that information is complete and accurate. You may, instead of resubmitting that information, provide a statement that:

( ) identifies the other premises by operating name, type (brewery, winery, etc.), and location (city and State) ; and ( ) specifies which organizational information and documents are being incorporated. You must attach all organizational information and documents you do not incorporate by reference.

b. What must I keep available for TTB inspection? You must keep available for our inspection the originals of the corporate documents we require under item 20 of this notice and certain other corporate documents (articles of incorporation, bylaws, State certificates authorizing the brewer to operate in the State where located). Each brewer's notice filed by multi-plant brewers must state, as part of the response to item 20, the location where we may inspect these original corporate documents.

Item 21. Who is the "authorized person" who must sign this notice? These are the persons authorized to sign this notice:

If you are a....	The notice must be....
Sole proprietor	( ) signed by the sole owner or ( ) an empowered attorney-in-fact.
Partnership	( ) signed by all partners, or ( ) a partner authorized to sign on behalf of all of the partners, or ( ) an empowered attorney-in-fact
Corporation	( ) executed in the corporate name, followed by the signature and title of a person authorized to act for the corporation

Paperwork Reduction Act Notice

This request is in accordance with the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995. We use this information collection to determine your identity as a brewer, the location and extent of your brewery premises, and whether your brewery operations conform with Federal laws and regulations. The information we request is required for you to obtain or retain a benefit and is mandatory by law (26 U.S.C. 5401(a)).

We estimate the average burden associated with this collection of information is 3 hours per respondent or recordkeeper, depending on your individual circumstances. Address your comments concerning the accuracy of this burden estimate and suggestions to reduce this burden to: Reports Management Officer, Regulations and Rulings Division, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau, Washington, DC 20220.

An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a current, valid OMB control number.

Privacy Act Information

We provide this information to comply with Section 3 of the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a(e)(3)):

1. What is TTB's authority to ask for this information? We require this information under the authority of 26 U.S.C. 5401(a). You must disclose this information to obtain authority to conduct brewing operations.
2. What is the purpose for this information collection? You provide this information to give TTB notice of your intention to establish a brewery, so that we may identify you as a brewer, and to identify your brewery location and processes.
3. How does TTB routinely use this information? We use this information to make determinations for the purposes described in paragraph 2. Also, we may disclose the information to other Federal, State, foreign, and local law enforcement and regulatory agency personnel to verify information on the form where such disclosure is not prohibited by law. We may disclose the information to the Justice Department if it appears that the furnishing of false information may constitute a violation of Federal law. Finally, we may disclose the information to members of the public in order to verify information on the form where such disclosure is not prohibited by law.
4. What is the effect of my not supplying the information TTB requests? If you fail to supply complete information then we will delay processing and may disapprove or deny your application.

ADDITIONAL BREWERY/BREWPUB PREMISES INFORMATION

Describe each tract of land comprising the brewery, and a listing of each brewery building by its designated letter or number, giving the approximate ground dimensions and the purpose for which ordinarily used

There is only one building on the tract of land, a 36,000 square foot two story building. Our brewery space is 9,200 square feet on the first floor South West side of the building. The building is a multi-tenant building with a theater company set construction space, a vocational program space, our brewery, and some vacancy.

Describe the layout of the brewery premises, including the location of the equipment, tanks, bottling lines, doors, windows, loading docks, empty keg storage, and packaged goods storage areas, including dimensions. This description will assist TTB in interpreting the Diagram submitted with the application

As shown on the submitted diagram, our space has one front pedestrian entrance from the front of the building. After the second door, there is a loading dock area with two sets of bay doors. One set of bay doors facing the street and one set of bay doors separating the production space from the loading bay.

The actual production space is mainly an open rectangle. There is a small office space to the bottom right abutted by a small tasting/dock sales area. Our walk in cooler is just above the tasting area. There is a bathroom in the back corner.

Our tanks and brewhouse are located in the left-hand portion of the interior space.

There are two back exits that lead to a fire exit corridor for emergency use only.

If a brewpub, you must identify the portion of the brewery which will be operated as a tavern by providing the boundaries of the tavern. You must identify areas of the brewery which are accessible to the public and areas which are not. Describe security measures to be used to segregate public areas from non-public areas. Describe in detail the method to be used for measuring beer for the purpose of tax determination. Identify the tanks which will periodically contain tax-determined beer, and any other areas where tax-determined beer will be stored

Provide description of the brewery security. Brewery building must be arranged and constructed to give adequate protection to the revenue. Describe locks, access to the brewery and how un-taxpaid goods will be protected during and after business hours

Our building is solid concrete construction with very limited access points. We have a security buffer with our loading dock area that gives a second set of locked doors between the outside and the production area of the brewery. All doors, interior and exterior have locks. We also will install a security system that is monitored 24 hours a day and 7 days a week from an offsite location that will alert local authorities in the event of a breach. We also plan on installing a video surveillance system. All un-tax paid beer will either be store within the fermenting vessels which are immovable without heavy rigging equipment, or stored in our locked walk-in cooler.

APPLICANT'S RESPONSE TO OPPOSER'S FIRST SET OF INTERROGATORIES

Pursuant to Rules 26 and 33 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Trademark Rule 2.120, and subject to its right to supplement these responses based on further investigation and discovery, Applicant, Atlas Brew Works LLC ("Applicant"), hereby objects and responds to Opposer's, Atlas Brewing Company, LLC ("Opposer's"), First Set of Interrogatories ("Opposer's Interrogatories") as follows:

PRELIMINARY STATEMENTS

1. Applicant's responses are made solely for purposes of this action. Each response is subject to the general and specific objections set forth below, as well as to all objections as to competence, relevance, materiality, and admissibility, and to any and all other objections on any grounds that would require the exclusion of any statements contained herein if such interrogatory were asked of, or statements contained herein were made by, a witness present and testifying in court, all of which objections and grounds are expressly reserved and may be interposed at the time of trial.

ATLAS BREW WORKS
MP Ex. 7
Atlas Brewing Co v.
Atlas Brew Works
Opp. No. 91210379

2. Discovery in this matter is still ongoing. Accordingly, the following responses are made without prejudice to Applicant's right to produce evidence of any subsequent discovered fact or facts that it may later recall or discover. Applicant further reserves the right to change, amend, or supplement any or all of the matters contained in this response as additional facts are ascertained, analyses are made, research is completed, and contentions are made.

3. The assertion of any objection to the interrogatories below is neither intended as, nor shall in any way be deemed, a waiver of Applicant's right to assert that or any other objection at a later date.

4. No incidental or implied admissions are intended by the responses herein. The fact that Applicant has answered or objected to any interrogatory should not be taken as an admission that Applicant accepts or admits the existence of any "facts" set forth or assumed by such interrogatory. The fact that Applicant has answered all or part of any interrogatory is not intended to be, and shall not be construed to be, a waiver by Applicant of any part of any objection to such interrogatory.

5. "Applicant's Mark" shall include the following U.S. trademark application that forms the basis of this Opposition: U.S. Serial No. 85/642,549.

GENERAL OBJECTIONS

Applicant makes the following General Objections to each interrogatory, to each instruction, and to each definition in Opposer's Interrogatories:

1. Applicant objects to Opposer's Interrogatories to the extent they seek to impose on Applicant any obligations or responsibilities other than the requirements mandated by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and the Rules of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board.

2. Applicant objects to providing any discovery that is subject to the attorney-client privilege, the work product doctrine, or that is otherwise privileged or protected against discovery. Applicant will agree to a mutual exchange of withheld document logs at a mutually convenient time for the parties.

3. Applicant objects to Opposer's Interrogatories to the extent any interrogatory seeks each, every, all, or any and all persons, information, or documents as overly broad and unduly burdensome. Applicant will undertake a reasonably diligent search for responsive information within its possession, custody, or control.

4. Applicant objects to Opposer's Interrogatories to the extent they seek information, documents, or materials not within Applicant's possession, custody, or control.

5. Applicant objects to Opposer's Interrogatories to the extent they seek information not relevant to this action, not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence, or otherwise beyond the scope of permissible discovery in this action.

6. Applicant objects to Opposer's Interrogatories to the extent they are overly broad, unduly burdensome, oppressive, redundant, vague, or ambiguous.

7. Applicant's responses are made to the best of its current employees' present knowledge, information and belief. The responses are at all times subject to such additional or different information that discovery or further investigation may reveal and, while based on the present state of Applicant's current employees' recollections, is subject to such refreshing of recollection, and such additional knowledge of facts, as may result from its further discovery or investigation.

8. Applicant's responses to Opposer's Interrogatories are hereby made without in any way waiving or intending to waive, but rather, to the contrary, by preserving and intending to preserve:

(a) All questions as to the competence, relevance, materiality, and admissibility as evidence for any purpose of the information or the subject matter thereof, in any aspect of this or any other court action or judicial or administrative proceeding or investigation;

(b) The right to object on any ground to the use of any such information, or the subject matter thereof, in any aspect of this or any other court action or judicial or administrative proceeding or investigation;

(c) The right to object at any time for any further response to this or any other request for information or production of documents; and

(d) The right at any time to amend or supplement this response following further discovery.

9. In addition to these General Objections, Applicant has further, specific objections to Opposer's Interrogatories as set forth below. By stating these specific objections, Applicant does not waive any of the General Objections that may also be applicable to specific requests for documents.

SPECIFIC OBJECTIONS AND RESPONSES

Interrogatory Request No.1.

Identify all products and services the Applicant intends to offer under Applicant's Mark in the United States and the date on which the Applicant intends to commence its Use in Commerce for the Applicant's Mark.

RESPONSE:

Applicant objects to this request as overly broad and unduly burdensome at least because it seeks information regarding "all" products and services. Subject to and without waiver of the General Objections and the foregoing objection, Applicant responds that it currently offers beers under Applicant's Mark as well as posters, limited edition prints, shirts, glasses, stickers and growlers. Applicant reserves the right to expand its offerings under Applicant's Mark and the right to supplement or amend its response to this interrogatory as discovery continues.

Interrogatory Request No.2.

For each product or service identified in response to Interrogatory No. 1, identify all documents relating to Applicant's intended first Use in Commerce as set forth in response to Interrogatory No. 1.

RESPONSE:

Applicant objects to this interrogatory to the extent it seeks information protected by the attorney client privilege or work product doctrine, and confidential business information. Applicant also objects to this request as overly broad and unduly burdensome at least because it seeks identification of "all" documents. Subject to and without waiver of the General Objections and the foregoing objections, pursuant to Rule 33(d) F.R.Civ.P., Applicant responds that documents from which the response to this Interrogatory can be ascertained are included in Applicant's Response to Opposer's First Set of Production Requests as ATLAS0000014 – ATLAS0000024, ATLAS0000318 – ATLAS0000528 and Trade Secret/Commercially Sensitive Documents ATLAS0000529 – ATLAS0000605.

Interrogatory Request No.3.

For each product or service identified in response to Interrogatory No. 1, identify the date Applicant first used the Applicant's Mark anywhere. If the Applicant has not used the Applicant's Mark, please state the date on which the Applicant intends to begin using the Applicant's Mark anywhere.

RESPONSE:

Subject to and without waiver of the General Objections, Applicant first used Applicant's Mark with beer at least as early as September 2, 2013. It first began use of the mark on posters at least as early as February 2013, limited edition prints at least as early as February 2013, shirts at least as early as September 17, 2012, glasses at least as early as June 23, 2013, stickers at least as early as December 13, 2012 and growlers at least as early as January 25, 2013.

Interrogatory Request No.4.

For each product or service identified in response to Interrogatory No. 1, identify all documents relating to Applicant's first use anywhere, or intended first anywhere, as set forth in response to Interrogatory No. 3.

RESPONSE:

Applicant objects to this interrogatory to the extent it seeks information protected by the attorney client privilege or work product doctrine, and confidential business information. Applicant also objects to this request as overly broad and unduly burdensome at least because it seeks identification of "all" documents. Subject to and without waiver of the General Objections and the foregoing objections, pursuant to Rule 33(d) F.R.Civ.P., Applicant responds that documents from which the response to this Interrogatory can be ascertained are included in Applicant's Response to Opposer's First Set of Production Requests as ATLAS0000014 – ATLAS0000024, ATLAS0000025 – ATLAS0000060, ATLAS0000318 – ATLAS0000528 and Trade Secret/Commercially Sensitive Documents ATLAS0000529 – ATLAS0000605.

Interrogatory Request No.5.

Describe in detail the circumstances under which Applicant first became aware of Opposer, including, but not limited to, identifying the date on which Applicant first became aware of Opposer's Marks, and the person(s) involved who obtained that knowledge.

RESPONSE:

Applicant objects to this interrogatory to the extent it seeks information protected by the attorney client privilege or work product doctrine. Subject to and without waiver of the General objections and the foregoing objections, Applicant responds that it first acquired knowledge of Opposer's mark "ATLAS BREWING COMPANY" after it filed the federal trademark application for Applicant's Mark. The first written reference Applicant has relating to Opposer's Mark is correspondence Applicant received from its tap handle manufacturer in July 2012. The person involved in obtaining this knowledge was Applicant's Chief Executive Officer, Justin Cox.

Interrogatory Request No.6.

Describe in detail all transactions which relate to Applicant's ownership or right to use Applicant's Mark, including all assignments, transfers, licenses, security interest or other similar documents.

RESPONSE:

Applicant objects to this interrogatory to the extent it seeks information protected by the attorney client privilege or work product doctrine, and confidential business information. Subject to and without waiver of the General Objections and the foregoing objections, Applicant responds that it changed its name from Volstead Beer Works LLC to Atlas Beer Works on June 15, 2012, and then changed its name from Atlas Beer Works to Atlas Brew Works on September 25, 2012.

Interrogatory Request No.7.

Describe in detail the process in which Applicant created and/or chose Applicant's Mark, including when it was created, the reasons for its creation, and the person(s) involved in its creation.

RESPONSE:

Applicant objects to this interrogatory to the extent it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege or attorney work product doctrine. Subject to and without waiver of the General Objections and the foregoing objections, Applicant responds that it originally intended to use the term VOLSTEAD with its beer. On May 9, 2012, Applicant received an Office Action in its U.S. trademark application for "Volstead Beer Works" citing a likelihood of confusion refusal. Accordingly, in late May, 2012 Applicant's Chief Executive Officer, Justin Cox, began considering the mark ATLAS as an alternative. This was because the "Atlas District" is the name of the commercial strip neighborhood in the District of Columbia near the intended location of the brewery. Moreover, the name was determined to go well with the logo designed by Applicant's designer, Alan Guidera, for the previous mark and a preliminary sketch of the tap handle by Mr. Guidera was found to make a strong impression. Applicant's Chief Executive Officer also concluded that the initials of the intended brewery name, Atlas Beer Works, "ABW" would be useful for promotional purposes. Applicant's Chief Executive Officer also searched the U.S. Trademark Office's database and did not identify any conflicting registered or pending marks.

Interrogatory Request No.8.

Describe in detail all advertisements (i.e. promotional materials, marketing materials, commercials, brochures, labels and the like) for Applicant's products or services utilizing Applicant's Mark that have been used in the United States. Please include the date(s) of each advertisement.

RESPONSE:

Applicant objects to this request as overly broad and unduly burdensome at least because it seeks identification of "all" documents. Subject to and without waiver of the General Objections and the foregoing objections, Applicant responds that exemplary advertisements include newspaper advertising in June 2013, labels in September 2013, press releases on December 10, 2012, April 10, 2013 and August 8, 2013, shirts at least as early as October 2012, stickers at least as early as December 19, 2013, glasses in September 2013, growlers at least as early as September 28, 2013, tap handles around December 2012/January 2013, website on September 25, 2012, Facebook on September 2, 2013, Twitter on June 22, 2012, and tasting sheets at least as early as September 3, 2013.

Interrogatory Request No.9.

Identify all advertising agencies used to develop or create the advertisements identified in response to Interrogatory No. 8.

RESPONSE:

Subject to and without waiver of the General Objections, Applicant responds that Bates Creative Group and Alan Guidera assisted in the development and creation of the advertisements.

Interrogatory Request No.10.

Describe in detail the geographic scope of the dissemination of the advertisements identified in response to Interrogatory No. 8.

RESPONSE:

Subject to and without waiver of the General Objections, Applicant responds that its advertising was published nationally and in metropolitan District of Columbia.

Interrogatory Request No.11.

State the total dollar amount Applicant has expended to date on all advertisements that include Applicant's Mark that have been used in the United States, for each year from the date that the advertisements commenced to the present.

RESPONSE:

Applicant objects to this Interrogatory on the ground that it is overbroad and unduly burdensome and seeks Trade Secret/Commercially Sensitive information. Subject to and without waiver of the General Objections and the foregoing objections, Applicant responds that the mark ATLAS has consistently appeared on all of its advertising materials for the brewery and it has expended in excess of $70,000 on advertising.

Interrogatory Request No.12.

Identify all persons that are knowledgeable regarding Applicant's use of Applicant's Mark in the United States, in Commerce or anywhere. If the Applicant's Mark has yet to be used in the United States, in Commerce or anywhere, identify all persons that are knowledgeable regarding Applicant's intended first use, in Commerce and anywhere, of Applicant's Mark in the United States.

RESPONSE:

Applicant objects to this request as overly broad and unduly burdensome at least because it seeks identification of "all" persons. Subject to and without waiver of the General Objections and the foregoing objections, Applicant responds that Justin Cox and William Durgin, the persons listed in Applicant's Initial Disclosures, are the persons at Applicant most knowledgeable about its use of Applicant's Mark.

Interrogatory Request No.13.

Identify all geographical areas in the United States in which Applicant has used, in Commerce or anywhere, the Applicant's Mark. If the Applicant's Mark has yet to be used in Commerce or anywhere, identify all geographical areas in the United States in which Applicant intends to use, in Commerce and anywhere, the Applicant's Mark.

RESPONSE:

Subject to and without waiver of the General Objections, Applicant responds that it has distributed its beers in the metropolitan District of Columbia area and sells to consumers from all over the country.

Interrogatory Request No.14.

Identify all persons knowledgeable regarding Applicant's decision to file, and the filing of, the trademark application identified by United States Application Serial Number 85663054.

RESPONSE:

Applicant objects to this request as overly broad and unduly burdensome at least because it seeks identification of "all" persons. Subject to and without waiver of the General Objections and the foregoing objections, Applicant responds that Justin Cox, William Durgin, Applicant's former trademark counsel, Matthew H. Swyers at The Trademark Company and Applicant's current trademark counsel at Banner & Witcoff, Ltd. have knowledge about the decision to file and filing of the application.

Interrogatory Request No.15.

Identify all documents relating to the approval, or denial, of any governmental approval that Applicant received for products and/or services offered, or intended to be offered, under Applicant's Mark.

RESPONSE:

Applicant objects to this interrogatory to the extent it seeks information protected by the attorney client privilege or work product doctrine. Applicant also objects to this request as overly broad and unduly burdensome at least because it seeks identification of "all" documents. Subject to and without waiver of the General Objections and the foregoing objections, pursuant to Rule 33(d) F.R.Civ.P., Applicant responds that documents from which the response to this Interrogatory can be ascertained are included in Applicant's Response to Opposer's First Set of Production Requests as ATLAS0000070 – ATLAS0000089.

Interrogatory Request No.16.

Identify all persons who are likely to have discoverable information that Applicant may use to support its claims or defenses in this proceeding.

RESPONSE:

Applicant objects to this request as overly broad and unduly burdensome at least because it seeks identification of "all" persons. Subject to and without waiver of the General Objections and the foregoing objections, Applicant responds that Justin Cox and William Durgin are likely to have discoverable information.

Interrogatory Request No.17.

Identify each person whom Applicant expects to call on to give evidence as an expert witness in this proceeding.

RESPONSE:

Applicant objects to this interrogatory on the ground that it is premature. Applicant will provide this information in accordance with the scheduling order governing this proceeding and the TTAB Rules. Applicant states that it does not intend to call any expert witnesses in this proceeding.

Interrogatory Request No.18.

Identify all opinions of counsel (written or oral) regarding Applicant's Mark or Opposer's Marks.

RESPONSE:

Applicant objects to this interrogatory to the extent it seeks information protected by the attorney client privilege or the attorney work product doctrine.

Interrogatory Request No.19.

Identify all related companies (including current related companies and predecessor related companies) of Applicant.

RESPONSE:

Subject to and without waiver of the General Objections, Applicant responds that Volstead Beer Works LLC and Atlas Beer Works LLC are companies related to Applicant.

Interrogatory Request No.20.

Identify all documents relating to use, or intended use, of Applicant's Mark by any related companies of Applicant.

RESPONSE:

Applicant objects to this interrogatory to the extent it seeks information protected by the attorney client privilege or work product doctrine, and confidential business information. Applicant also objects to this request as overly broad and unduly burdensome at least because it seeks identification of "all" documents. Subject to and without waiver of the General Objections and the foregoing objections, Applicant responds that to the best of its knowledge it does not have documents relating to the use, or intended use, of Applicant's Mark by any related companies of Applicant.

Interrogatory Request No.21.

Identify the person(s) who provided information for responding to each of the above Interrogatories.

RESPONSE:

Applicant objects to this interrogatory to the extent it seeks information protected by the attorney client privilege or the attorney work product doctrine. Subject to and without waiver of the General Objections and the foregoing objections, Applicant responds that Anna King of Banner & Witcoff, Ltd and Justin Cox, Chief Executive Officer of Applicant provided information responsive to these requests.

Respectfully submitted,

ATLAS BREW WORKS LLC

On behalf of the Applicant, I have interposed certain objections to the Interrogatories which are believed to be consistent with the Federal Rules of Civil procedure and are not made for any improper purpose.

OFFICE ACTION

STRICT DEADLINE TO RESPOND TO THIS LETTER

TO AVOID ABANDONMENT OF APPLICANT'S TRADEMARK APPLICATION, THE USPTO MUST RECEIVE APPLICANT'S COMPLETE RESPONSE TO THIS LETTER WITHIN 6 MONTHS OF THE ISSUE/MAILING DATE BELOW.

ISSUE/MAILING DATE: 5/9/2012

TEAS PLUS APPLICANTS MUST SUBMIT DOCUMENTS ELECTRONICALLY OR SUBMIT FEE: Applicants who filed their application online using the reduced-fee TEAS Plus application must continue to submit certain documents online using TEAS, including responses to Office actions. See 37 C.F.R. §2.23(a)(1). For a complete list of these documents, see TMEP §819.02(b). In addition, such applicants must accept correspondence from the Office via e-mail throughout the examination process and must maintain a valid e-mail address. 37 C.F.R. §2.23(a)(2); TMEP §§819, 819.02(a). TEAS Plus applicants who do not meet these requirements must submit an additional fee of $50 per international class of goods and/or services. 37 C.F.R. §2.6(a)(1)(iv); TMEP §819.04. In appropriate situations and where all issues can be resolved by amendment, responding by telephone to authorize an examiner's amendment will not incur this additional fee.

The referenced application has been reviewed by the assigned trademark examining attorney. Applicant must respond timely and completely to the issue(s) below. 15 U.S.C. §1062(b); 37 C.F.R. §§2.62(a), 2.65(a); TMEP §§711, 718.03.

Likelihood of Confusion

Registration of the applied-for mark is refused because of a likelihood of confusion with the mark in U.S. Registration No. 3293664. Trademark Act Section 2(d), 15 U.S.C. §1052(d); see TMEP §§1207.01 et seq. See the enclosed registration.

Taking into account the relevant du Pont factors, a likelihood of confusion determination in this case involves a two-part analysis. The marks are compared for similarities in their appearance, sound, connotation and commercial impression. TMEP §§1207.01, 1207.01(b). The goods and/or services are compared to determine whether they are similar or commercially related or travel in the same trade channels. See Herbko Int'l, Inc. v. Kappa Books, Inc. , 308 F.3d 1156, 1164-65, 64 USPQ2d 1375, 1380 (Fed. Cir. 2002); Han Beauty, Inc. v. Alberto-Culver Co., 236 F.3d 1333, 1336, 57 USPQ2d 1557, 1559 (Fed. Cir. 2001); TMEP §§1207.01, 1207.01(a)(vi).

The applicant applied to register the mark VOLSTEAD BEER WORKS for non-metal taps for beer kegs; unfitted neoprene beer keg tap covers; beer jugs; beer mugs; and beer; beer wort; beer, ale and lager; beer, ale and porter; beer, ale, lager, stout and porter; beer, ale, lager, stout, porter, shandy; beers; malt beer; pale beer; porter. The registered mark is BEER WORKS for beer.

In a likelihood of confusion determination, the marks are compared for similarities in their appearance, sound, meaning or connotation, and commercial impression. In re E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., 476 F.2d 1357, 1361, 177 USPQ 563, 567 (C.C.P.A. 1973); TMEP §1207.01(b)-(b)(v). Similarity in any one of these elements may be sufficient to find the marks confusingly similar. In re White Swan Ltd., 8 USPQ2d 1534, 1535 (TTAB 1988); see In re 1st USA Realty Prof'ls, Inc. , 84 USPQ2d 1581, 1586 (TTAB 2007); TMEP §1207.01(b).

In this case, applicant's mark consists of the registered mark in its entirety, BEER WORKS, modified by the term VOLSTEAD. The mere addition of a term to a registered mark generally does not obviate the similarity between the marks nor does it overcome a likelihood of confusion under Trademark Act Section 2(d). See In re Chatam Int'l Inc. , 380 F.3d 1340, 71 USPQ2d 1944 (Fed. Cir. 2004) (GASPAR'S ALE and JOSE GASPAR GOLD); TMEP §1207.01(b)(iii).

Furthermore, applicant's mark and the registered mark are used in connection with beer. The goods of the parties need not be identical or directly competitive to find a likelihood of confusion. See Safety-Kleen Corp. v. Dresser Indus., Inc., 518 F.2d 1399, 1404, 186 USPQ 476, 480 (C.C.P.A. 1975); TMEP §1207.01(a)(i). Rather, it is sufficient to show that because of the conditions surrounding their marketing, or because they are otherwise related in some manner, the goods would be encountered by the same consumers under circumstances such that offering the goods under confusingly similar marks would lead to the mistaken belief that they come from, or are in some way associated with, the same source. In re Iolo Techs., LLC, 95 USPQ2d 1498, 1499 (TTAB 2010); see In re Martin's Famous Pastry Shoppe, Inc. , 748 F.2d 1565, 1566-68, 223 USPQ 1289, 1290 (Fed. Cir. 1984); TMEP §1207.01(a)(i). Since applicant's and registrant's goods travel in the same trade channels, confusion as to origin of said goods is likely.

The overriding concern is not only to prevent buyer confusion as to the source of the goods and/or services, but to protect the registrant from adverse commercial impact due to use of a similar mark by a newcomer. See In re Shell Oil Co., 992 F.2d 1204, 1208, 26 USPQ2d 1687, 1690 (Fed. Cir. 1993). Therefore, any doubt regarding a likelihood of confusion determination is resolved in favor of the registrant. TMEP §1207.01(d)(i); see Hewlett-Packard Co. v. Packard Press, Inc., 281 F.3d 1261, 1265, 62 USPQ2d 1001, 1003 (Fed. Cir. 2002); In re Hyper Shoppes (Ohio), Inc., 837 F.2d 463, 464-65, 6

USPQ2d 1025, 1025 (Fed. Cir. 1988).

Although applicant's mark has been refused registration, applicant may respond to the refusal(s) by submitting evidence and arguments in support of registration. If the applicant chooses to respond to the refusal to register, the applicant must also respond to the following issue.

Disclaimer

Applicant must disclaim the descriptive wording "BEER WORKS" apart from the mark as shown because it merely describes the nature of applicant's goods. See 15 U.S.C. §§1052(e)(1), 1056(a); In re Steelbuilding.com, 415 F.3d 1293, 1297, 75 USPQ2d 1420, 1421 (Fed. Cir. 2005); In re Gyulay, 820 F.2d 1216, 1217-18, 3 USPQ2d 1009, 1010 (Fed. Cir. 1987); TMEP §§1213, 1213.03(a). The term BEER WORKS is widely used in the relevant industry as a descriptive identifier of the origin of beer. (See attached websites)

Applicant may submit the following standardized format for a disclaimer:

> No claim is made to the exclusive right to use "BEER WORKS" apart from the mark as shown.

TMEP §1213.08(a)(i); see In re Owatonna Tool Co., 231 USPQ 493 (Comm'r Pats. 1983).

Pending Application

Information regarding pending Application Serial No. 85424098 is enclosed. The filing date of the referenced application precedes applicant's filing date. There may be a likelihood of confusion between the two marks under Trademark Act Section 2(d), 15 U.S.C. §1052(d). If the referenced application registers, registration may be refused in this case under Section 2(d). 37 C.F.R. §2.83; TMEP §§1208 et seq. Therefore, upon entry of a response to this Office action, action on this case may be suspended pending final disposition of the earlier-filed application.

If applicant believes there is no potential conflict between this application and the earlier-filed application, then applicant may present arguments relevant to the issue in a response to this Office action. The election not to submit arguments at this time in no way limits applicant's right to address this issue at a later point.

Applicant May Wish to Seek Trademark Counsel

Applicant may wish to hire an attorney to assist in prosecuting this application because of the legal technicalities involved. The Office, however, cannot aid in the selection of an attorney. 37 C.F.R. §2.11. A pplicant may wish to consult a local telephone directory for a listing of attorneys specializing in trademark or intellectual property law, or seek guidance from a local bar association attorney-referral service.

Assistance

If applicant has questions regarding this Office action, please telephone or e-mail the assigned trademark examining attorney. All relevant e-mail communications will be placed in the official application record; however, an e-mail communication will not be accepted as a response to this Office action and will not extend the deadline for filing a proper response. See 37 C.F.R. §2.191; TMEP §§709.04-.05. Further, although the trademark examining attorney may provide additional explanation pertaining to the refusal(s) and/or requirement(s) in this Office action, the trademark examining attorney may not provide legal advice or statements about applicant's rights. See TMEP §§705.02, 709.06.

What People Are Saying About Boston Beer Works

FEATURED REVIEW

Eric Grossman
Contributor

The Scene – Your experience at this original Beer Works depends on the time of year: Baseball season brings lengthy lines and standing-room crowds, but the huge, neo-industrial dining areas sport plenty of empty tables between November and March. Sox fans and college-aged beer connoisseurs enjoy an ever-changing assortment of 16 beers on tap--massive kettles produce award-winning brews, like the colorfully named Bambino and Bluebeery Ales. Service can be exceptionally rushed and distracted when the place is packed. -- – The Food – An epic menu ranges from healthy and...

BUT YOU CAN HELP.

Great food/beer. Very busy.

I've always enjoyed going to Boston Beer Works. The food is great and they have a huge selection of beers. The staff is friendly. The only downside is that it gets extremely busy there (even very late at night) and can be hard to find a table and can get a little slow.

Fried Pickles. Nuff said

Any place that's a microbrewery has a special place in my heart. I've gone to Boston Beer Works in every season to try their seasonal selections, and I have yet to be disappointed.

My favorite appetizer is the fried pickles. Doesn't get much better than a cold beer and fried pickles in my world. The food is good pub grub. The atmosphere is relaxed and the waitstaff is always friendly and speedy. Great place to hit before a game (if you can get a table) or before heading to a movie at the Regal Fenway theater down the street!

Pros: microbrew beer, fried pickles, perfect to watch a game
Cons: don't expect to get near it when the Sox are in town

Created with Admarket's flickrSLiDR.

Kelly Taylor started brewing beer about 20 years ago using a hot plate in his college dorm room. Now, he manages one of the largest breweries in Brooklyn.

Mr. Taylor owns Kelso of Brooklyn beer and serves as the head brewmaster for Heartland Brewery — a chain of brew pubs in the city. Both companies brew their beer in a two-story brick brewery in Clinton Hill called Greenpoint Beer Works. Greenpoint Beer Works is a brewery, not a brand of beer, and it is the exclusive home to Kelso and Heartland. "They're not made anywhere else," Mr. Taylor said.

The brewery expects to pump out 20,000 kegs of beer this year, up from 12,000 in 2009. Aside from Heartland and Kelso, Mr. Taylor also does contract brewing, making beer for other breweries that don't have the space in their factories. He has previously brewed for Sixpoint in Red Hook, and now brews for two upstate breweries, Great South Bay Brewery and Empire Brewing Company.

Greenpoint got its start when Heartland wanted to move production out of their restaurants into a separate space to save money. Mr. Taylor, a Washington State native, designed the brewery, and its construction was completed in 2003. The brewery was going to be built in Greenpoint but after the original space fell through and the brewery ended up in Clinton Hill, Mr. Taylor said it was easier to just keep the Greenpoint Beer Works name.

When Mr. Taylor decided he wanted to have his own label, Heartland suggested that they share the space in Greenpoint Beer Works.

"Since I already built this place anyway," he said, "I might as well make my beer out of here."

In 2006, Kelso brewed its first pint. Mr. Taylor got the name by combining his first name, Kelly, and his wife's, Sonya. She runs marketing and social media for the brewery.

In the beginning, it was hard for Mr. Taylor to compete with bigger labels and imports.

"It had been frustrating for a while just to go out and say, 'look, my beer's made like three miles from here,'" he said. "People were like, 'Oh well, who cares. I got Stella and everybody knows what that is.'"

But over the last few years, local has become a selling point, Mr. Taylor said.

"People are starting to figure it out that you can buy local products and it's going to be in many ways better quality, or at least it's going to be fresher," he said. "You've seen that mental switch just in the last few years and that's been very gratifying to see."

Kevin Avantanzo, business manager for the bar and restaurant Union Hall in Park Slope, said he stopped carrying beer from the most famous local label, Brooklyn Brewery, because much of its production was actually upstate. (Brooklyn Brewery's recent expansion will allow production to be split between Brooklyn and Utica by 2013.) Mr. Avantanzo has kept Kelso on tap.

"Brooklyn Brewery had gotten fairly large, and I was concerned about keeping things even more local," Mr. Avantanzo said. "Breweries like Kelso are relatively small. Kelly I might see a couple of times, and I've never met the owner of Brooklyn Brewery. It's one of those connections that two of and the Brewers Association estimated that craft brews made up $7.6 billion of the $101 billion in beer sales last year, 7.6 percent of the market.

There are 70 breweries in New York State, three in Brooklyn (Brooklyn Brewery, Greenpoint Beer Works and Sixpoint), and New York breweries make up just under 10 percent of craft brewery beer sales nationwide, said David Katleski, president of the New York State Brewers Association.

"It's still not where we want it to be," he said. "The biggest challenge for breweries in New York State is to get the public to really focus on the beer being produced in New York and try to buy local."

The local craft brewery competition may be cutthroat, Mr. Taylor said, but it's also an exciting time to be making beer in Brooklyn.

"We think there's tremendous growth in the craft market, in the draft market, in New York City," he said. "There's a lot of imported tap handles out there that are ready to fall."

kraken beer?

There is an Panamanian Atlas beer. They had trademarks registered but they both are "dead" as of 2004 and 2006. Not sure what the implications of that are really, but we'll see what the PTO says.

hmm, disregard...already kraken beer. And Atlas Beer.. Uh oh...

have squids/kraken been used on a beer yet? cause that would be a cool thing to have wrapped on atlas's back...and I think it somehow relates to steam....just a thought!

I love the idea of different items on Atlas's back relating to the beer. I think the hop works well with your rye or an IPA...and an onion dome for BORIS would make a great stout or black ale (boris sounds like a dark bearded man). After your brand is established, though, I wouldn't limit yourself to that specific pose. You could have Atlas standing and holding items (e.g., a bushel of wheat for a heffe) or doing something (tossing a bolt of lightning?).

I think for Steam, you could simply put an old cool looking propeller (in lieu of a turbine) on dude's back. Plenty to look at here:

Congrats on leaving the Fed govt! Holler if you're in Nashville--aren't you going to be there in late July for Abby's b-day, or is that just girls?

Thanks dude. It is a shame to give up the sweet ass old theme. But we can still keep the logo, just change the tap handles. Fucking beer biz has so many names between breweries and all their beers, the trademark world is tough. If for some reason Atlas doesnt work, I was thinking Byzantine Beer Works and going with the original theme.

We are also throwing around the idea of putting different stuff on Atlas's back for different beers. At least the specialty ones. e.g. a Russian onion dome for BORIS, etc. You have any ideas what would be good on there for Steam? I thought something like this: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/File:Aeolipile_illustration.JPG but that may be too complicated. For our flagships, cant decide if its better to use the hop for our rye beer and something else for the steam. Or just use different colored hops for each...

I miss me some nashvegas. Done with my gov job on June 25th, might have some time for a trip before we get balls deep in build out for the brewery. Where'd you all get bikes?

On Wed, Jun 6, 2012 at 8:35 AM REDACTED wrote:

Sounds good, man! I liked the old name and theme, but the new one is good (great!) and that's a great image work up you have.

The only question is, who is Justin Cox?

We had a fun time in Nashville last weekend partying with the Quinns, etc. We did a lot of biking around, too.

Take care and good luck,

Hello all,

I wanted to pass along an update on our progress with Volstead. First thing is we've run into a trademark issue with the name Volstead Beer Works. House Spirits distillery in Portland, OR applied to register a trademark for "Volstead" in the distilled spirits category about two months before we applied to register in the beer category. That does not necessarily preclude our using that name, but it does cloudy the water in terms of our chance of parsing the trademark details out in court. Rather than run that risk, we reached out to the CEO of House Spirits in hopes of reaching an agreement allowing us to use the name without litigation. I spoke to him in person briefly yesterday, he plans to get back to me in the next couple of days after talking with his lawyers. I've never known a lawyer (you know who you are out there) to be optimistic and advise a client to take the risk, so I am not hopeful we will be able to use the name Volstead.

After racking our brains through hundreds of alternatives, we landed on Atlas Beer Works. The Atlas District is the name of the commercial strip neighborhood in DC that we will be near. I think the name goes well with our current logo and my designer sent the attached preliminary sketch of a tap handle that makes a strong impression. We think the name is simple, strong, and memorable. And the initials ABW will be useful in swag, etc. Would love to hear your thoughts.

We are still trying to work out a lease for our brewing space. We are in negotiations with two different landlords. One is a two story building about two blocks from the NY Ave metro and the other is a warehouse space in the Florida Avenue Market (about 1/2 mile from metro). The process has been slower than I would like, but I hope to have something locked up in the next couple of weeks. Our preference is the 2 story building (in which we would only take about 1/4 of the bottom floor but have access to the roof deck). The listing broker has been dragging his feet in responding to our request for proposal and we just learned that he was working a deal with another tenant interested in the entire building, but that looks to be falling through. His attention is now focused on us and I hope they will have something over to us in the next couple of days. In the meantime, we are going through the proposal process with the Florida Avenue Market space as well. Trying to keep the ball moving as quickly as possible.

Once we have a deal worked out at either location, we will order our equipment and begin the build out. There is about a 14 week lag time for delivery of equipment which we will use to build out the space, apply for permits, design and post our website, facebook, twitter, merchandise, and start pre-selling some beer! We are waiting until he have some real estate locked down before we issue a press release about our existence. Most breweries start talking about their plans in the press more than a year before they are ready to brew. Our time frame should be a matter of months and I hope the quick ramp-up time will build some instant gratification excitement in the DC beer community. If we can get the real estate deal done in the next couple weeks, I believe we will still be on track for production starting in September.

Thanks for all your support and I will be in touch with another update as soon as we have news to break.

Cheers,
Justin

Serial No.:	85/642,549	Examining Attorney:	Christine Martin
Filed:	June 4, 2012	Law Office:	104

Commissioner for Trademarks

RESPONSE TO OFFICE ACTION

COMES NOW the Applicant Volstead Beer Works (hereinafter "Applicant"), by counsel Matthew H. Swyers, Esq., The Trademark Company, PLLC, and submits its request that the examining attorney withdraw her refusal to register the instant mark under Section 2(d) of the Act stating as follows:

ARGUMENT IN SUPPORT OF REGISTRATION

The Examining Attorney refused registration of the mark on the basis that, if registered, the Applicant's mark would create a likelihood of confusion with the marks SKINNY ATLAS LIGHT as used by Berhard P. Molldrem as more fully identified in U.S. Registration Number 2,089,219 (Hereinafter referred to as "Molldrem mark") and the prior pending mark ATLAS & PLEIONE as used by AA Energies, Ltd. as more fully identified in U.S. Serial Number 85/590,021 (Hereinafter referred to as "AA Energies mark").

Applicant respectfully disagrees with the Examining Attorney's decision as more fully set forth below.

The Standard for a Determination of a Likelihood of Confusion

A determination of likelihood of confusion between marks is determined on a case-specific basis. In re Dixie Restaurants Inc., 41 USPQ2d 1531, 1533 (Fed. Cir. 1997). The examining attorney is to apply each of the applicable factors set out in In re E.I. DuPont DeNemours & Co., 476 F.2d 1357, 1361, 177 USPQ 563, 567 (CCPA 1973). The relevant DuPont factors are:

(1) the similarity or dissimilarity of the marks in their entireties as to appearance, sound, connotation and commercial impression;

(2) the similarity or dissimilarity and nature of the goods or services as described in an application or registration or in connection with which a prior mark is in use;

(3) the similarity or dissimilarity of established, likely-to-continue trade channels;

(4) the conditions under which and buyers to whom sales are made, i.e., 'impulse' vs. careful, sophisticated purchasing;

(5) the number and nature of similar marks in use on similar goods; and

(6) the absence of actual confusion as between the marks and the length of time in which the marks have co-existed without actual confusion occurring.

See id.

The examining attorney is required to look to the overall impression created by the marks, rather than merely comparing individual features. Mead Data Cent., Inc. v. Toyota Motor Sales, U.S.A., Inc., 875 F.2d 1026, 1029, 10 USPQ2d 1961 (2d Cir. 1989). In this respect, the examining attorney must determine whether the total effect conveyed by the two marks is confusingly similar, not simply whether the marks sound alike or look alike. First Savings Bank F.S.B. v. First Bank System Inc., 101 F.3d at 645, 653, 40 USPQ2d 1865, 1870 (10th Cir. 1996) (recognizing that while the dominant portion of a mark is given greater weight, each mark still must be considered as a whole)(citing Universal Money Centers, Inc. v. American Tel. & Tel. Co., 22 F.3d 1527, 1531, 30 USPQ2d 1930 (10th Cir. 1994)). Even the use of identical dominant words or terms does not automatically mean that two marks are similar. In General Mills, Inc. v.

Kellogg Co., 824 F.2d 622, 627, 3 USPQ2d 1442 (8th Cir. 1987), the court held that "Oatmeal Raisin Crisp" and "Apple Raisin Crisp" are not confusingly similar as trademarks. Also, in First Savings Bank F.S.B. v. First Bank System Inc., 101 F.3d at 645, 653, 40 USPQ2d 1865, 1874 (10th Cir. 1996), marks for "FirstBank" and for "First Bank Kansas" were found not to be confusingly similar. Further, in Luigino's Inc. v. Stouffer Corp., 50 USPQ2d 1047, the mark "Lean Cuisine" was not confusingly similar to "Michelina's Lean 'N Tasty" even though both marks use the word "Lean" and are in the same class of goods, namely, low-fat frozen food.

Concerning the respective goods with which the marks are used, the nature and scope of a party's goods or services must be determined on the basis of the goods or services recited in the application or registration. See, e.g., Hewlett-Packard Co. v. Packard Press Inc., 281 F.3d 1261, 62 USPQ2d 1001 (Fed. Cir. 2002); In re Shell Oil Co., 992 F.2d 1204, 26 USPQ2d 1687, 1690 n.4 (Fed. Cir. 1993); J & J Snack Foods Corp. v. McDonald's Corp., 932 F.2d 1460, 18 USPQ2d 1889 (Fed. Cir. 1991); Octocom Systems Inc. v. Houston Computer Services Inc., 918 F.2d 937, 16 USPQ2d 1783 (Fed. Cir. 1990); Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, N.A. v. Wells Fargo Bank, 811 F.2d 1490, 1 USPQ2d 1813 (Fed. Cir. 1987); Paula Payne Products Co. v. Johnson Publishing Co., 473 F.2d 901, 177 USPQ 76 (C.C.P.A. 1973). See generally TMEP § 1207.01(a)(iii).

If the goods in question are not related or marketed in such a way that they would be encountered by the same persons in situations that would create the incorrect assumption that they originate from the same source, then, even if the marks are similar confusion is not likely. See, e.g., Shen Manufacturing Co. v. Ritz Hotel Ltd., 393 F.3d 1238, 73 USPQ2d 1350 (Fed. Cir. 2004) (cooking classes and kitchen textiles not related); Local Trademarks, Inc. v. Handy Boys Inc., 16 USPQ2d 1156 (TTAB 1990) (LITTLE PLUMBER for liquid drain opener held not confusingly similar to LITTLE PLUMBER and design for advertising services, namely the formulation and preparation of advertising copy and literature in the plumbing field); Quartz Radiation Corp. v. Comm/Scope Co., 1 USPQ2d 1668 (TTAB 1986) (QR for coaxial cable held not confusingly similar to QR for various products (e.g., lamps, tubes) related to the photocopying field). See generally TMEP § 1207.01(a)(i).

Moreover, circumstances suggesting consumers would exercise care in their purchasing decision tend to minimize likelihood of confusion. . See generally TMEP § 1207.01(d)(vii).

Applying the legal standards as enumerated above, it is clear that confusion is not likely to exist and Applicant's mark is entitled to register despite the existence of the prior registered mark.

Dissimilarities in the Marks as to their Respective Appearances and the Number and Nature of Similar Marks in Use on Similar Goods and Services.

The Applicant applied to register the mark ATLAS. The cited marks are for SKINNY ATLAS LIGHT (U.S. Registration Number 2,089,219) and ATLAS & PLEIONE (U.S. Serial Number 85/590,021). Copies of the applications for Applicant's mark and for the allegedly blocking marks are attached hereto as Exhibits 1 – 3 respectively. See Exhibits 1 - 3.

Facially, the applied for mark differs from the marks identified in U.S. Reg. No. 2,089,219 insofar as the blocking mark adds the term "SKINNY" to the beginning of its mark and "LIGHT" to the end of its mark, while Applicant does not add any additional terms. See Exhibits 1 - 2. U.S. Serial Number 85/590,021 differs from Applicant's mark insofar as it adds "& PLEIONE" to the end of its mark. See Exhibit 3. As such, it cannot be said that the marks are identical and true differences do exist in the appearances thereof.

Additionally, the connotation of Applicant's mark is completely separate and distinct from the connotations of the cited marks so as not to create consumer confusion. Applicant's mark is used in reference to the titan, Atlas, while the Molldrem uses their mark in reference to a lake in Syracuse, New York. Molldrem's beer is named after the famous pristine lake, Skaneatles, from which the Empire Brewing Company draws its brewing water. The Molledrem mark is meant to be a play on words, as the pronunciation of Skaneatles is very similar to "Skinny Atlas." Thus, most of Molledrem's patrons will make an instant association to the lake referenced therein. See Exhibit Exhibit 38

As such, it is submitted that these differences in appearance and connotation between the applied-for mark and the cited marks referenced herein create a separate and distinct commercial impression. This analysis, however, is not submitted in a vacuum with respect to these applications. If other registrations appear that are owned by more than one registrant, the dilution of those terms indicates that there is no likelihood of confusion as between the applied-for and cited prior registered mark. See TMEP § 1207.01(d)(x).

In this regard, in addition to the dilution already submitted by the examining attorney, Applicant respectfully submits Exhibits 5 through 15 which display 11 registered marks incorporating "ATLAS" in International Classes 32 or related classes. See Exhibits 5 through 15. The marks are as follows:

> ATLAS PEAK, U.S. Reg. No. 1647598, owned by Ascentia Wine Estates, LLC, used in connection with "wines" in International Class 33. See Exhibit 4;
> ATLAS PEAK VINEYARDS, U.S. Reg. No. 1471598, owned by Ascentia Wine Estates, LLC, used in connection with "wines" in International Class 33. See Exhibit 6;

ATLAS PEAK, U.S. Reg. No. 3035687, owned by Atlas Peak Olive Oil Company, used in connection with "Olive Oil" in International Class 29, See Exhibit 7;

ATLAS, U.S. Reg. No. 1150010, owned by Atlas Hotels, Inc., used in connection with "restaurant Services, cocktail Lounge Services, hotel and motel Services" in International Class 35, See Exhibit 8;

TRIPLE SHOT WORLD ATLAS, U.S. Reg. No. 4098448, owned by Il Gallo Cedrone Ltd., used in connection with "café services" in International Class 43, See Exhibit 9;

AMY ATLAS EVENTS, U.S. Reg. No. 3754626, owned by Amy Atlas Events, LLC, used in connection with "catering" in International Class 43. See Exhibit 10;

ATLAS, U.S. Reg. No. 699649, owned by Uniqema Americas LLC, used in connection with "Hexahydric Alcohols" in International Class 1, See Exhibit 11;

ATLAS, U.S. Reg. No. 392251, owned by Redlands Foothill Groves, used in connection with "Fresh Citrus Fruits" in International Class 31, See Exhibit 12;

ATLAS, U.S. Reg. No. 3732895, owned by Archer-Daniels-Midland Company, used in connection with "Flour" in International Class 2, See Exhibit 13;

ATLAS FARMS, U.S. Reg. No. 3484436, owned by Karlene's Landscaping, Michigan Division LLC, used in connection with "Fresh and raw vegetables, namely, tomatoes, pumpkins, summer squash and eggplants" in International Class 31, See Exhibit 14; and ATLAS, U.S. Reg. No. 3900968, owned by Atlas Meat Company, used in connection with "Meat, namely, beef, veal, poultry, pork, mutton, lamb, goat, and processed meat and products thereof, namely, steaks and burgers" in International Class 29, See Exhibit 15.

Accordingly, based upon the distinctions between the appearance and connotations of Applicant's mark as apart from the cited registered marks and in consideration of the dilution of the term "ATLAS" as it relate to marks in International Classes 32 or related classes, Applicant respectfully submits that these DuPont factors favor a finding of an absence of a likelihood of confusion should Applicant's mark be permitted to register.

Dissimilarity Between the Marks' Respective Goods and Services.

Although the evidence presented by the examining attorney somewhat suggests that wine and liquor may also be offered by entities which provide brewery services, there is no evidence of record that such overlap exists in actual use of such marks. In this regard, Applicant respectfully submits Exhibits 16 through 37 which display multiple marks with similar or identical names which have been allowed to co-exist despite the fact that one entity produced beer and the other produced wine or liquor. See Exhibits 16 through 37. The marks are as follows:

Exhibit	Mark	Reg. No.	Goods
16	FULL MOON	3573073	Class 32: Beer
17	FULL MOON	3028015	Class 33: Wines
18	FIREFLY	4180438	Class 32: Beer
19	FIREFLY	3423985	Class 33: Wines
20	RUSSIAN RIVER BREWING COMPANY	3380766	Class 32: Beer
21	RUSSIAN RIVER RANCHES	1587070	Class 33: Wines
22	REDROCK BREWERY	4165607	Class 32: Beer
23	RED ROCK WINERY	1803895	Class 33: Wines
24	RED ROCK	4202017	Class 33: Alcoholic Beverages Except Beer
25	SURF BREWERY	4106597	Class 32: Beer
26	SURF POINT	3522284	Class 33: Wines
27	LOST RHINO	4147493	Class 32: Beer
28	WHITE RHINO	3825177	Class 33: Wines
29	LOST COAST BREWERY	2910083	Class 32: Beer
30	LOST VINEYARDS	2914664	Class 33: Wines
31	NAKED FISH	4154207	Class 32: Beer
32	FISH HOUSE	3430838	Class 33: Wines
33	WILD DOG	4073790	Class 32: Beer
34	DOG HOUSE	3199575	Class 33: Wines
35	STONE ARCH BREWERY	4151420	Class 32: Beer
36	STONE VALLEY	4034914	Class 33: Wines
37	STONE CHERRY	3959919	Class 33: Alcoholic beverages except beer

As such, it is respectfully submitted that it would be inconsistent for the Office to deny registration of the Applicant's mark by concluding that beer and wine are in overlapping classes where the above-referenced marks have been permitted to register on the Principal Register.Comparing the goods and services of the Applicant and the goods of the registered marks, it is apparent that the goods and services of the Applicant differ significantly from the goods of the registrants. Applicant's goods and services are used exclusively in connection with a brewery in the Washington, DC area. The mark will be used in association with the brewery itself; however, Applicant will sell a variety of different beers under individual names. See Exhibit 4, Affidavit of Justin Cox. Additionally, Applicant uses its mark in connection with goods and services that are provided through its brewery location in Washington, DC and will be offered at wholesale to various local bars and restaurants in the Washington, DC area. Id. In the alternative, the Molldrem mark is used in connection with a light beer created by The Empire Brewing Company in Syracuse, New York. See Exhibit 38. Also in contrast, it can only be assumed that the AA Energies mark is used exclusively in connection with wine and liquor.

Additionally, evidence is attached concerning like organizations that specialize in brewery services in the Washington, DC area, such as Capital City Brewing Company, DC Brau, and Old Dominion Brew House. See Exhibits 39 - 41. All of the above mentioned breweries operate exclusively in the Washington, DC area and have no association with beers or breweries in Syracuse, New York.

It is respectfully submitted that there is little if any relation between the goods of the Applicant and the goods found in the registrant marks and, as such, this DuPont factor also favors a finding of an absence of a likelihood of confusion should Applicant's mark be permitted to register.

Dissimilarities Between the Trade Channels for the Marks.

Applicant's goods and services are offered through its brewery location in Washington, DC and will be offered at wholesale to various local bars and restaurants in the Washington, DC area. See Exhibit 4.

In the alternative, the trade channels of the Molldrem mark is offered exclusively through their website hosted at www.empirebrew.com and exclusively through the Empire Brewing Company in Syracuse, New York and do not offer any goods or services outside of that area. See Exhibit 38.

Also in contrast, the AA Energies mark does not currently have any trade channels. The owner of the mark, AA Energies, is listed as a provider of oilfield equipment and does not mention liquor, wine, or alcoholic beverages of any kind on their website. See Exhibit E of Affidavit of Justin Cox.

As such, it is respectfully submitted that Applicant's goods and services travel in a channel of trade wholly diverse from those which would be expected for the goods of the registered marks. Moreover, as the evidence of record indicates that the Applicant's channel of trade for its goods and services is completely distinct from the goods of the registered marks, it is submitted that their respective goods and/or services would not be encountered by the same persons in situations that would create the incorrect assumption that such goods and/ or services originate from the same source and, accordingly, this DuPont factor also favors registration of the Applicant's mark.

The Marks' Goods and Services are Marketed Differently

The goods offered in connection with the ATLAS mark are marketed through word of mouth referrals, social media, promotional materials distributed to local bars and restaurants, promotional events hosted at Applicant's brewery, participating in festivals and events, and through Applicant's website hosted at www.atlasbrewworks.com. See Exhibit 4.

The Molldrem mark does appear to maintain an active website but does not appear to market its goods and services through promotional materials distributed to Washington, DC bars and restaurants, promotional events, or by participating in local festivals or events.

The AA Energies mark also appears to maintain an active website but the mark referenced herein is not mentioned anywhere on that website. The AA Energies website appears to only be used in association with oilfield equipment and does not mention alcoholic beverages of any kind. See Exhibit E of Affidavit of Justin Cox. Additionally, the AA Energies mark does not advertise through social media, promotional materials distributed to local bars and restaurants, promotional events, or participating in festivals and events. AA Energies does not appear to be marketing its goods at all.

As such, it is respectfully submitted that these factors also favors registration of the Applicant's mark.

Sophistication of the Purchasers of the Respective Goods and Services.

Applicant's goods and services exist to beer connoisseurs in the Washington, DC area, between the ages of 21 and 40, with disposable income who are seeking local beers. See Exhibit 4. Applicant's goods and services are designed specifically for beer connoisseurs in the Washington, DC area, between the ages of 21 and 40, with disposable income who are seeking local beers. Thus, clients will be purchasing goods and services which are designed exclusively for them.

In contrast, Molldrem's mark is used to attract individuals in Syracuse, New York who are seeking beers brewed in that area.

Also in contrast, the AA Energies mark is used to attract individuals seeking wine and liquor. However, no evidence could be found that any goods are being sold under the AA Energies mark at all.

As such, the average purchaser of goods and services sold under registrants' marks would exercise a high level of sophistication in choosing registrants' respective goods as apart from the goods and services of the Applicant's mark, therefore minimizing any likelihood of confusion. See TMEP § 1207.01(d)(vii). As such, it is suggested that this DuPont factor also favors registration of the instant mark.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion, based upon the foregoing it is submitted that the DuPont factors addressed herein favor registration of the Applicant's mark. The goods and services themselves are completely distinct and do not travel in similar trade channels or marketing channels such that they would be encountered by the same class of purchasers. Additionally, the sophistication of the Applicant's consumers and the conditions under which sales are made by Applicant are wholly diverse from those of the registrants.

WHEREFORE it is respectfully requested that the Examining Attorney reconsider her refusal of the instant proceedings, remove as an impediment the cited registrations, and approve the instant application for publication upon the Principal Register.

Respectfully submitted this 12th day of October, 2012.

AFFIDAVIT OF JUSTIN COX

COMES NOW Justin Cox, a resident of the District of Columbia and a citizen of the United States of America above the age 18 and states as follows:

My name is Justin Cox and I am a citizen of the United States of America and resident of the District of Columbia.

In the course and scope of my work I have become familiar with the goods which will be offered under the ATLAS mark, the manner by which these goods will be offered to the public, general information concerning our customers, as well as general information concerning the use of the mark ATLAS to identify our goods. I have also conducted research concerning the prior registered mark SKINNY ATLAS LIGHT as used by Berhard P. Molldrem as more fully identified in U.S. Registration Number 2,089,219 (Hereinafter referred to as "Molldrem mark") and the prior pending mark ATLAS & PLEIONE as used by AA Energies, Ltd. as more fully identified in U.S. Serial Number 85/590,021 (Hereinafter referred to as "AA Energies mark").

In this regard, I state the following based upon my own knowledge:

1. Our ATLAS mark will be used exclusively in connection with our brewery in the Washington, DC area. The mark will be used in association with the brewery itself; however, we will sell a variety of different beers under individual names.

2. Our beers will be marketed exclusively to beer connoisseurs in the Washington, DC area, between the ages of 21 and 40, with disposable income who are seeking local beers. It is a highly specialized industry in which there is no overlap in the trade and/or marketing channels utilized by the average consumer of wine, liquor, or local beers brewed in Syracuse, New York. In support thereof, I have attached evidence concerning like companies that specialize in local breweries in the Washington, DC area, such as Capital City Brewing Company, DC Brau, and Old Dominion Brew House. See Exhibits A - C.

3. In contrast, the Molldrem mark is used in connection with a light beer created by The Empire Brewing Company in Syracuse, New York. The beer is named after the famous pristine lake, Skaneatles, from which the Empire Brewing Company draws its brewing water. The Molledrem mark is meant to be a play on words, as the pronunciation of Lake Skaneatles is very similar to "Skinny Atlas." Thus, most of Molledrem's patrons will make an instant association to the lake referenced therein. See Exhibit D.

4. Also in contrast, it can only be assumed that the AA Energies mark is used exclusively in association with wine and liquor. However, no evidence could be found that the mark is currently being used in commerce at all.

5. The trade channels of our goods bearing the ATLAS mark will be offered exclusively through our brewery location in Washington, DC and will be offered at wholesale to various local bars and restaurants in the Washington, DC area.

6. In contrast, it appears that the trade channels for the Molldrem mark are offered exclusively through the Empire Brewing Company in Syracuse, New York. See Exhibit D.

7. Also, in contrast it appears that the AA Energies mark does not currently have any trade channels. The owner of the mark, AA Energies, is listed as a provider of oilfield equipment and does not mention liquor, wine, or alcoholic beverages of any kind on their website. See Exhibit E.

8. Accordingly, there is simply no overlap in the channels of trade between the goods which will be provided under our ATLAS mark and the goods provided under the Molldrem mark or AA Energies mark.

9. To sell our goods bearing the ATLAS mark we will market through word of mouth referrals, social media, promotional materials distributed to local bars and restaurants, promotional events hosted at our brewery, participating in festivals and events, and through our website hosted at www.atlasbrewworks.com.

10. The Molldrem mark does appear to maintain an active website but does not appear to market its goods and services through promotional materials distributed to Washington, DC bars and restaurants, promotional events, or by participating in local festivals or events.

11. The AA Energies mark also appears to maintain an active website but the mark referenced herein is not mentioned anywhere on that website. The AA Energies website appears to only be used in association with oilfield equipment and does not mention alcoholic beverages of any kind. See Exhibit E. Additionally, the AA Energies mark does not advertise through social media, promotional materials distributed to local bars and restaurants, promotional events, or participating in festivals and events. AA Energies does not appear to be marketing its goods at all.

12. In my experience with our business our clients will exercise a very high level of sophistication in choosing the goods offered under the ATLAS mark. After all, they will be choosing goods which are designed to attract a very specific group of individuals, namely, beer connoisseurs in the Washington, DC area, between the ages of 21 and 40, with disposable income who are seeking local beers.

13. We will offer growlers of beer at our brewery for approximately $10 and will sell our beers to local restaurants and bars for approximately $6 per pint. In contrast, Molldrem's mark is used to attract individuals in Syracuse, New York who are seeking beers brewed in that area. It can only be assumed that Molldrem's goods cost approximately $5 to $8 per pint, based on similar goods, as no price lists could be found. Also in contrast, it can only be assumed that the AA Energies mark would be used to attract individuals seeking wine and liquor. However, no evidence could be found that any goods are being sold under the AA Energies mark at all.

14. In both my personal life as well as in my understanding of wines, liquors, and beers brewed in Syracuse, New York, I do not believe that there is any potential for a likelihood of confusion between our ATLAS mark and the blocking marks. This assertion is strengthened further by the fact that Molldrem is using their mark in association with one, individual beer, while we are using our ATLAS mark as a brand identifier for our brewery and will sell our beers under a variety of different names. Additionally, Molldrem uses their mark in reference to a lake in Syracuse, New York We, while we use the term ATLAS in reference to the titan, Atlas. Thus, the commercial impressions are very distinct from one another.

BEFORE ME, the undersigned authority, this 2nd day of October 2012, personally appeared Justin Cox, who after being first duly sworn, states that the above information is true and correct, and who is personally known to me or who has produced DC-DL as identification and who did take an oath.

The Legend of Old Dominion Brewing Company

"The secret to a rich life is to have more beginnings than endings." -David Weinbaum

The tale of Old Dominion begins in 1989 with a man and a dream. That man was Jerry Bailey. Like a lot of folks in the DC metro area, he had a 9-5 job with the Federal Government. Working for the US International Aid Agency, Jerry's dedication, integrity, and big heart helped to aid families in several foreign

Robust Porter
Empire's Robust Porter is the strongest porter we have made to date. It is dry, with a solid hop aroma, bitterness, and flavor. It finishes with roasted flavors as well as a hint of chocolate and a nutty caramel-like aftertaste. It pairs well with burgers and steaks. 7% ABV

Saison
Saisons are Belgian in origin. This style is one of the hoppiest styles the Belgians brew, and ours reflects that tradition. Unfiltered and hazy, spicy and earthy characteristics are present. 5.6% ABV

Scotch Ale
A dark beer brewed in the tradition of a strong Scotch ale. Sweet and strong, made with a traditional Scottish ale yeast, this hearty brew will make ya see plaid. 7.5% ABV

shandy
Empire's Skinny Atlas Kolsch blended w/ pink lemonde 4.2% ABV

skinny atlas light
Named after the famous pristine lake from which Empire draws its brewing water, this is one of our lightest offerings. Pale yellow in color, Skinny has the flavor of a light German pilsner, crossed w/ the crisp cleanness you might find in an American Ale. 4.8% ABV.

Smoked Porter
A porter-style beer brewed with an addition of German smoked malt. Medium bodied with a hint of smoke on the finish, this beer pairs great with bbq and meat dishes. 6.5% ABV

Sub-Terranian Ale
A unique beer, a cross between a Belgian farmhouse ale, and a Belgian tripel. Tart like a farmhouse ale, and sweet and strong like a tripel. This is a beer to be sipped and enjoyed in moderation. 9.5% ABV

summer ale
Our Summer Ale has an all pilsner malt base, & is hopped w/ German Hallertauer hops. Finished w/ a hint of lemon peel, this beer is crisp & refreshing. 6% ABV

Wheat Wine
Made w/ 100% NYS grown ingredients. 50% Organic wheat and 50% Barley Malted at valley malsters. 8.5% ABV

white aphro
White Aphro is a Belgian style Wit Ale made w/ lemon peel, ginger & lavender. It is fermented w/ a traditional Belgian yeast strain & wheat malt is added, giving it a Belgian white characteristic. 6.3% ABV

Winter Warmer "Tog Grog"
The base of this beer is a strong Scottish ale, with the addition of some unique spices. Cardamom and allspice give this hearty brew a holiday aroma and flavor. 7.5% ABV

STATEMENT

To the Commissioner of Patents:

Olive Heights Citrus Association, a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of California and located at Olive, California, and doing business at Olive, California, and whose post-office address is Box 127, Olive, California, has adopted and used the trade-mark shown in the accompanying drawing, on FRESH CITRUS FRUITS, in Class 46, Foods and ingredients of foods, and presents herewith five specimens showing the trade-mark as actually used by the applicant upon the goods, and requests that the same be registered in the United States Patent Office in accordance with the act of February 20, 1905. The trade-mark has been continuously used and applied to said goods in the business of applicant since about May, 1914.

The trade-mark is applied or affixed to the goods or to the packages containing the same by placing thereon a lithographed or printed label on which the trade-mark is shown.

Robert E. Harris, whose post-office address is 616 East Grove Street, Ontario, California, is hereby appointed by the undersigned as its attorney, to prosecute this application for registration, with full powers of substitution and revocation, to make alterations and amendments therein, to receive the certificate, and to transact all business in the Patent Office connected therewith.

Robust Porter
Empire's Robust Porter is the strongest porter we have made to date. It is dry, with a solid hop aroma, bitterness, and flavor. It finishes with roasted flavors as well as a hint of chocolate and a nutty caramel-like aftertaste. It pairs well with burgers and steaks. 7% ABV

Saison
Saisons are Belgian in origin. This style is one of the hoppiest styles the Belgians brew, and ours reflects that tradition. Unfiltered and hazy, spicy and earthy characteristics are present. 5.6% ABV

Scotch Ale
A dark beer brewed in the tradition of a strong Scotch ale. Sweet and strong, made with a traditional Scottish ale yeast, this hearty brew will make ya see plaid. 7.5% ABV

shandy
Empire's Skinny Atlas Kolsch blended w/ pink lemonde 4.2% ABV

skinny atlas light
Named after the famous pristine lake from which Empire draws its brewing water, this is one of our lightest offerings. Pale yellow in color, Skinny has the flavor of a light German pilsner, crossed w/ the crisp clearness you might find in an American Ale. 4.0% ABV.

Smoked Porter
A porter-style beer brewed with an addition of German smoked malt. Medium bodied with a hint of smoke on the finish, this beer pairs great with bbq and meat dishes. 6.5% ABV

Sub-Terranian Ale
A unique beer, a cross between a Belgian farmhouse ale, and a Belgian tripel. Tart like a farmhouse ale, and sweet and strong like a tripel. This is a beer to be sipped and enjoyed in moderation. 9.5% ABV

summer ale
Our Summer Ale has an all pilsner malt base, & is hopped w/ German Hallertauer hops. Finished w/ a hint of lemon peel, this beer is crisp & refreshing. 6% ABV

Wheat Wine
Made w/ 100% NYS grown ingredients. 50% Organic wheat and 50% Barley Malted at valley malsters. 8.5% ABV

white aphro
White Aphro is a Belgian style Wit Ale made w/ lemon peel, ginger & lavender. It is fermented w/ a traditional Belgian yeast strain & wheat malt is added, giving it a Belgian white characteristic. 6.5% ABV

Winter Warmer "Tog Grog"
The base of this beer is a strong Scottish ale, with the addition of some unique spices. Cardamom and allspice give this hearty brew a holiday aroma and flavor. 7.5% ABV

The Legend of Old Dominion Brewing Company

"The secret to a rich life is to have more beginnings than endings." -David Weinbaum

The tale of Old Dominion begins in 1989 with a man and a dream. That man was Jerry Bailey. Like a lot of folks in the DC metro area, he had a 9-5 job with the Federal Government. Working for the US International Aid Agency, Jerry's dedication, integrity, and big heart helped to aid families in several foreign

OFFICE ACTION

STRICT DEADLINE TO RESPOND TO THIS LETTER

TO AVOID ABANDONMENT OF APPLICANT'S TRADEMARK APPLICATION, THE USPTO MUST RECEIVE APPLICANT'S COMPLETE RESPONSE TO THIS LETTER WITHIN 6 MONTHS OF THE ISSUE/MAILING DATE BELOW.

ISSUE/MAILING DATE: 9/21/2012

The referenced application has been reviewed by the assigned trademark examining attorney. Applicant must respond timely and completely to the issue(s) below. 15 U.S.C. §1062(b); 37 C.F.R. §§2.62(a), 2.65(a); TMEP §§711, 718.03.

- Section 2(d) Refusal: Likelihood of Confusion with U.S. Reg. No. 2089219

Registration of the applied-for mark is refused because of a likelihood of confusion with the mark in U.S. Registration No. 2089219. Trademark Act Section 2(d), 15 U.S.C. §1052(d); see TMEP §§1207.01 et seq. See the enclosed registration.

The applicant has applied to register ATLAS in standard characters for "beer." The registered mark is SKINNY ATLAS LIGHT in typed form for "beer and ale."

Trademark Act Section 2(d) bars registration of an applied-for mark that so resembles a registered mark that it is likely that a potential consumer would be confused, mistaken, or deceived as to the source of the goods and/or services of the applicant and registrant. See 15 U.S.C. §1052(d). In the seminal decision In re E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., 476 F.2d 1357, 177 USPQ 563 (C.C.P.A. 1973), the court listed the principal factors to be considered when determining whether there is a likelihood of confusion under Section 2(d). See TMEP §1207.01. However, not all the factors are necessarily relevant or of equal weight, and any one of the factors may control in a given case, depending upon the evidence of record. Citigroup Inc. v. Capital City Bank Grp., Inc., 637 F.3d 1344, 1355, 98 USPQ2d 1253, 1260 (Fed. Cir. 2011); In re Majestic Distilling Co., 315 F.3d 1311, 1315, 65 USPQ2d 1201, 1204 (Fed. Cir. 2003); see In re E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., 476 F.2d at 1361-62, 177 USPQ at 567.

In this case, the following factors are the most relevant: similarity of the marks, similarity and nature of the goods, and similarity of the trade channels of the goods. See In re Viterra Inc., 671 F.3d 1358, 1361-62, 101 USPQ2d 1905, 1908 (Fed. Cir. 2012); In re Dakin's Miniatures Inc. , 59 USPQ2d 1593, 1595-96 (TTAB 1999); TMEP §§1207.01 et seq.

Comparison of the Marks

Marks are compared in their entireties for similarities in appearance, sound, connotation, and commercial impression. In re Viterra Inc., 671 F.3d 1358, 1362, 101 USPQ2d 1905, 1908 (Fed. Cir. 2012) (quoting In re E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., 476 F.2d 1357, 1361, 177 USPQ 563, 567 (C.C.P.A. 1973)); TMEP §1207.01(b)-(b)(v). Similarity in any one of these elements may be sufficient to find the marks confusingly similar. In re White Swan Ltd., 8 USPQ2d 1534, 1535 (TTAB 1988); see In re 1st USA Realty Prof'ls, Inc. , 84 USPQ2d 1581, 1586 (TTAB 2007); TMEP §1207.01(b).

In the present case, applicant's mark ATLAS in standard characters is similar to the registered mark SKINNY ATLAS LIGHT in typed form in sound, appearance, and connotation. Both marks include the word ATLAS. Marks may be confusingly similar in appearance where there are similar terms or phrases or similar parts of terms or phrases appearing in both applicant's and registrant's mark. See Crocker Nat'l Bank v. Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce , 228 USPQ 689 (TTAB 1986), aff'd sub nom. Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce v. Wells Fargo Bank, Nat'l Ass'n , 811 F.2d 1490, 1 USPQ2d 1813 (Fed. Cir. 1987) (COMMCASH and COMMUNICASH); In re Phillips-Van Heusen Corp., 228 USPQ 949 (TTAB 1986) (21 CLUB and "21" CLUB (stylized)); In re Corning Glass Works, 229 USPQ 65 (TTAB 1985) (CONFIRM and CONFIRMCELLS); In re Collegian Sportswear Inc., 224 USPQ 174 (TTAB 1984) (COLLEGIAN OF CALIFORNIA and COLLEGIENNE); In re Pellerin Milnor Corp., 221 USPQ 558 (TTAB 1983) (MILTRON and MILLTRONICS); In re BASF A.G., 189 USPQ 424 (TTAB 1975) (LUTEXAL and LUTEX); TMEP §1207.01(b)(ii)-(iii).

Although the registered mark includes the additional wording "SKINNY" and "LIGHT", the mere deletion of wording from a registered mark may not be sufficient to overcome a likelihood of confusion.

See In re Mighty Leaf Tea, 601 F.3d 1342, 94 USPQ2d 1257 (Fed. Cir. 2010); In re Optica Int'l , 196 USPQ 775, 778 (TTAB 1977); TMEP §1207.01(b)(ii)-(iii). Applicant's mark does not create a distinct commercial impression because it contains the same common wording as registrant's mark, and there is no other wording to distinguish it from registrant's mark.

Overall, the marks have the same commercial impression.

Comparison of the Goods

The goods and/or services of the parties need not be identical or directly competitive to find a likelihood of confusion. See Safety-Kleen Corp. v. Dresser Indus., Inc., 518 F.2d 1399, 1404, 186 USPQ 476, 480 (C.C.P.A. 1975); TMEP §1207.01(a)(i). Rather, it is sufficient to show that because of the conditions surrounding their marketing, or because they are otherwise related in some manner, the goods and/or services would be encountered by the same consumers under circumstances such that offering the goods and/or services under confusingly similar marks would lead to the mistaken belief that they come from, or are in some way associated with, the same source. In re Iolo Techs., LLC, 95 USPQ2d 1498, 1499 (TTAB 2010); see In re Martin's Famous Pastry Shoppe, Inc. , 748 F.2d 1565, 1566-68, 223 USPQ 1289, 1290 (Fed. Cir. 1984); TMEP §1207.01(a)(i).

The applicant's goods are "beer" and the registrant's goods are "beer and ale." The applicant's and registrant's goods are related because the goods of both parties include "beer" and the registrant's "ale" is a type of beer.

Since the marks are similar and the goods are related, there is a likelihood of confusion as to the source of the applicant's goods. Therefore, there is a likelihood of confusion between applicant's and registrant's marks, and applicant's mark is refused pursuant to Trademark Act Section 2(d).

Although applicant's mark has been refused registration, applicant may respond to the refusal(s) by submitting evidence and arguments in support of registration.

Applicant should note the following potential ground for refusal.

- Prior Pending Application

The filing date of pending U.S. Application Serial No. 85590021 precedes applicant's filing date. See attached referenced application. If the mark in the referenced application registers, applicant's mark may be refused registration under Trademark Act Section 2(d) because of a likelihood of confusion between the two marks. See 15 U.S.C. §1052(d); 37 C.F.R. §2.83; TMEP §§1208 et seq. Therefore, upon receipt of applicant's response to this Office action, action on this application may be suspended pending final disposition of the earlier-filed referenced application.

In response to this Office action, applicant may present arguments in support of registration by addressing the issue of the potential conflict between applicant's mark and the mark in the referenced application. Applicant's election not to submit arguments at this time in no way limits applicant's right to address this issue later if a refusal under Section 2(d) issues.

ADVISORY: TEAS PLUS APPLICANTS

TEAS PLUS APPLICANTS MUST SUBMIT DOCUMENTS ELECTRONICALLY OR SUBMIT

FEE: Applicants who filed their application online using the reduced-fee TEAS Plus application must continue to submit certain documents online using TEAS, including responses to Office actions. See 37 C.F.R. §2.23(a)(1). For a complete list of these documents, see TMEP §819.02(b). In addition, such applicants must accept correspondence from the Office via e-mail throughout the examination process and must maintain a valid e-mail address. 37 C.F.R. §2.23(a)(2); TMEP §§819, 819.02(a). TEAS Plus applicants who do not meet these requirements must submit an additional fee of $50 per international class of goods and/or services. 37 C.F.R. §2.6(a)(1)(iv); TMEP §819.04. In appropriate situations and where all issues can be resolved by amendment, responding by telephone to authorize an examiner's amendment will not incur this additional fee.

ASSISTANCE WITH PROSECUTING THIS APPLICATION

Because of the legal technicalities involved in this application, applicant may wish to hire an attorney s pecializing in trademark or intellectual property law. For attorney referral information, applicant may consult the American Bar Association's Consumers' Guide to Legal Help at http://www.abanet.org/legalservices/findlegalhelp/home.cfm or a local telephone directory. The USPTO cannot aid in the selection of an attorney. 37 C.F.R. §2.11.

RESPONSE GUIDELINES

For this application to proceed toward registration, applicant must explicitly address each refusal and/or requirement raised in this Office action. If the action includes a refusal, applicant may provide arguments and/or evidence as to why the refusal should be withdrawn and the mark should register. Applicant may also have other options for responding to a refusal and should consider such options carefully. To respond to requirements and certain refusal response options, applicant should set forth in writing the required changes or statements.

If applicant does not respond to this Office action within six months of the issue/mailing date, or responds by expressly abandoning the application, the application process will end, the trademark will fail to register, and the application fee will not be refunded. See 15 U.S.C. §1062(b); 37 C.F.R. §§2.65(a), 2.68(a), 2.209(a); TMEP §§405.04, 718.01, 718.02. Where the application has been abandoned for failure to respond to an Office action, applicant's only option would be to file a timely petition to revive the application, which, if granted, would allow the application to return to live status. See 37 C.F.R. §2.66; TMEP §1714. There is a $100 fee for such petitions. See 37 C.F.R. §§2.6, 2.66(b)(1).

CONTACT INFORMATION

If applicant has questions regarding this Office action, please telephone or e-mail the assigned trademark examining attorney. All relevant e-mail communications will be placed in the official application record; however, an e-mail communication will not be accepted as a response to this Office action and will not extend the deadline for filing a proper response. See 37 C.F.R. §2.191; TMEP §§304.01-.02, 709.04-.05. Further, although the trademark examining attorney may provide additional explanation pertaining to the refusal(s) and/or requirement(s) in this Office action, the trademark examining attorney may not provide legal advice or statements about applicant's rights. See TMEP §§705.02, 709.06.

TO RESPOND TO THIS LETTER: Go to http://www.uspto.gov/trademarks/teas/response_forms.jsp. Please wait 48-72 hours from the issue/mailing date before using TEAS, to allow for necessary system updates of the application. For technical assistance with online forms, e-mail TEAS@uspto.gov. For questions about the Office action itself, please contact the assigned trademark examining attorney. E-mail communications will not be accepted as responses to Office actions; therefore, do not respond to this Office action by e-mail.

All informal e-mail communications relevant to this application will be placed in the official application record.

WHO MUST SIGN THE RESPONSE: It must be personally signed by an individual applicant or someone with legal authority to bind an applicant (i.e., a corporate officer, a general partner, all joint applicants). If an applicant is represented by an attorney, the attorney must sign the response.

PERIODICALLY CHECK THE STATUS OF THE APPLICATION: To ensure that applicant does not miss crucial deadlines or official notices, check the status of the application every three to four months using Trademark Applications and Registrations Retrieval (TARR) at http://tarr.uspto.gov/. Please keep a copy of the complete TARR screen. If TARR shows no change for more than six months, call 1-800-786-9199. For more information on checking status, see http://www.uspto.gov/trademarks/process/status/.

TO UPDATE CORRESPONDENCE/E-MAIL ADDRESS: Use the TEAS form at http://www.uspto.gov/teas/eTEASpageE.htm.

1.
a beer fermented in an open vessel using yeasts that rise to the top of the brew. Compare beer, lager[1].

2.
(formerly) an alcoholic drink made by fermenting a cereal, especially barley, but differing from beer by being unflavoured by hops.

3.
Chiefly Brit another word for beer.
[Old English alu, ealu; related to Old Norse öl, Old Saxon alofat].

General Instructions

. Where do I send my application?
File this form with TTB at this address:
Director
National Revenue Center
550 Main St, Ste 8002
Cincinnati, OH 45202-5215

. When may I start Brewing? You may not operate your brewery until we approve your Brewer's Notice (including all attachments) and your ırewer's Bond.

. When must I file a Brewer's Notice? You must file this form:

- ◯ To start business at your brewery premises;
- ◯ To amend or supplement information you previously submitted or;
- ◯ In connection with a new bond.

. Do I need to file any other documents with the Brewer's Notice? You must file the attachments this form requires. Also, we may require you ɔ furnish any additional information we find necessary to protect revenue and insure collection of taxes.

. What happens if I do not complete this notice? We will return your notice to you for correction if it is not completed in accordance with these ıstructions or does not include all of the required information and documents. If you do not complete the notice you may not produce or ackage beer.

. What items do I need to complete on this notice? You must complete all items on this notice that apply to your business, regardless of the urpose for which you are filing.

. How long must I keep my copy of this notice? At your brewery you must keep available for TTB inspection during your normal business hours:

- ◯ Your most recently approved Brewer's Notice and
- ◯ All attachments and documents that provide current and complete information of this form.

Specific Instructions

ɛm 1. What serial number do I use? Serially number each notice. Begin with No. 1 for the first notice and continue in sequence for each amendment or supplemental notice you file after you start business.

ɛm 2. What is the notice date? The date that you submit this notice for approval.

ɛm 3. What is my brewery's name?

If you are....	Then your name is....
ın individual	Your name, followed by "sole owner" and the name you use to operate
ı partnership	The name of each partner followed by the name you use to operate
ı limited partnership (LP)	The name of your LP
ı corporation or limited liability corporation (LLC)	The corporation or LLC name and, if different, the name you use to operate ım 4. What if I use a trade name? You must list all trade names you use to do business or to package beer. Approval of a trade name does not necessarily constitute approval as a brand name for labeling purposes. Submit your requests for brand names to the Alcohol Labeling and Formulation Division on an Application for and Certificate/Exemption of Label/Bottle Approval, TTB F 5100.31. If your State requires you to register your trade name, you must submit a copy of the State trade name registration.

ım 5. What is our business address? Your business address may be different than the actual location of the brewery. Your business address is where you receive mail deliveries and you conduct office activity. You must include the county of this address.

ım 6. What is our brewery location? Your brewery location is where you actually brew your beer.

ım 7. Who may be a contact person? Your contact person must be someone who has authority to speak or write to any of our officers regarding any aspect of your brewing operations. You must file with us a signing authority or power of attorney for this person.

ım 15. What information must I provide if I am a member of a controlled brewery group?

1. A controlled brewery group is a group of breweries that share common ownership or controlled interest. Controlled groups of breweries include groups where:
   (a) One brewery owns controlling interest in the other brewery or
   (b) there is a common ownership in the controlling interest in each brewery.

2. If you are a member of a controlled group of breweries and you intend to transfer beer between breweries without payment of tax, you must:
   (a) give the name and principal business address of each of the other breweries; and
   (b) state whether condition 1.(a) or condition 1.(b) applies, If condition 1.(a) applies, state which brewery owns controlling interest in the other and the percentage of that interest. If condition 1.(b) applies, give the name and principal business address of the person owning controlling interest in both breweries and state the percentage of interest in each brewery.

3. If you are a member of a controlled group of breweries and the total production of all the breweries in the controlled group is less than 2,000,000 barrels of beer per year, you may be eligible to pay tax at the reduced rate. You must:
   (a) give the name and principal business address of each of the other breweries;
   (b) provide a list to allocate the reduced tax for 60,000 barrels between the members of the controlled group; and
   (c) state whether condition 1.(a) or condition 1.(b) applies. If condition 1.(a) applies, state which brewery owns controlling interest in the other and the percentage of that interest. If condition 1.(b) applies, give the name and principal business address of the person owning controlling interest in both breweries and state the percentage of interest in each brewery.

:em 17. Who may sign for my corporation? You may indicate signature authority in two ways.

- ○ By corporate office: In item 17 you may list the corporate offices or employees whose incumbents may sign for your corporation. Check the box that indicates how your board authorized these officers to sign. Include the date of the meeting. List the offices by title. Attach your corporate seal. These authorities remain with the office when you change personnel in that office.

- ○ By name: You may authorize specific individuals to sign by executing a power of attorney (use TTB F 5000.8) or a signing authority for corporate officials (use TTB F 5100.1). You may limit these authorities to specific actions. For instance, you may grant a signing authority limited to monthly reports.

:em 18. When must I initial the brewpub information? If you are a brewpub, then you must initial each box and provide tank capacity to demonstrate that you understand special considerations for operating taverns on brewery premises. These operations are more commonly known as brewpubs.

:em 20. What are the attachments for my type of business? Follow these instructions. You must attach the organizational information and documents we require for your type of business.

If you are....	Then you must file....
Sole proprietor	○ A list with the name and address of each person who holds an interest in the brewery, whether the interest appears in the name of the interested party or in the name of another for that party.
Partnership	○ A copy of (1) articles of partnership of association, if any; or (2) the certificate of partnership or association if required to be filed by any State, county, or municipality. ○ A list with the name and address of each person who holds an interest in the brewery, whether the interest appears in the name of the interested party or in the name of another for that party.
Corporation	○ A copy of the corporation charter or of the certificate of corporate existence or incorporation. ○ A list with the name, address, and title of each officer and director. ○ Copies of extracts or digests of minutes of meetings of the board of directors authorizing certain individuals to sign for the corporation. ○ A statement showing the number of shares of stock (or other evidence of ownership) authorized and outstanding and the voting rights of the respective owners. ○ A list with the names and addresses of all persons having a voting interest of 10 percent or more in the corporation whether the interest appears in the name of the interested party or in the name of another person. For each person listed, show the amount of the stockholding or other interest.

a. May I refer to information that I filed for another operation? If you have already filed information with us, you may incorporate that information by reference if that information is complete and accurate. You may, instead of resubmitting that information, provide a statement that:

- ○ identifies the other premises by operating name, type (brewery, winery, etc.), and location (city and State) ; and
- ○ specifies which organizational information and documents are being incorporated. You must attach all organizational information and documents you do not incorporate by reference.

b. What must I keep available for TTB inspection? You must keep available for our inspection the originals of the corporate documents we require under item 20 of this notice and certain other corporate documents (articles of incorporation, bylaws, State certificates authorizing the brewer to operate in the State where located). Each brewer's notice filed by multi-plant brewers must state, as part of the response to item 20, the location where we may inspect these original corporate documents.

Item 21. Who is the "authorized person" who must sign this notice? These are the persons authorized to sign this notice:

If you are a....	The notice must be....
Sole proprietor	○ signed by the sole owner or ○ an empowered attorney-in-fact.
Partnership	○ signed by all partners, or ○ a partner authorized to sign on behalf of all of the partners, or ○ an empowered attorney-in-fact
Corporation	○ executed in the corporate name, followed by the signature and title of a person authorized to act for the corporation

Paperwork Reduction Act Notice

This request is in accordance with the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995. We use this information collection to determine your identity as a brewer, the location and extent of your brewery premises, and whether your brewery operations conform with Federal laws and regulations. The information we request is required for you to obtain or retain a benefit and is mandatory by law (26 U.S.C. 5401(a)).

We estimate the average burden associated with this collection of information is 3 hours per respondent or recordkeeper, depending on your individual circumstances. Address your comments concerning the accuracy of this burden estimate and suggestions to reduce this burden to: Reports Management Officer, Regulations and Rulings Division, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau, Washington, DC 20220.

An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a current, valid OMB control number.

Privacy Act Information

We provide this information to comply with Section 3 of the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a(e)(3)):

1. What is TTB's authority to ask for this information? We require this information under the authority of 26 U.S.C. 5401(a). You must disclose this information to obtain authority to conduct brewing operations.
2. What is the purpose for this information collection? You provide this information to give TTB notice of your intention to establish a brewery, so that we may identify you as a brewer, and to identify your brewery location and processes.
3. How does TTB routinely use this information? We use this information to make determinations for the purposes described in paragraph 2. Also, we may disclose the information to other Federal, State, foreign, and local law enforcement and regulatory agency personnel to verify information on the form where such disclosure is not prohibited by law. We may disclose the information to the Justice Department if it appears that the furnishing of false information may constitute a violation of Federal law. Finally, we may disclose the information to members of the public in order to verify information on the form where such disclosure is not prohibited by law.
4. What is the effect of my not supplying the information TTB requests? If you fail to supply complete information then we will delay processing and may disapprove or deny your application.

ADDITIONAL BREWERY/BREWPUB PREMISES INFORMATION

Describe each tract of land comprising the brewery, and a listing of each brewery building by its designated letter or number, giving the approximate ground dimensions and the purpose for which ordinarily used

There is only one building on the tract of land, a 36,000 square foot two story building. Our brewery space is 9,200 square feet on the first floor South West side of the building. The building is a multi-tenant building with a theater company set construction space, a vocational program space, our brewery, and some vacancy.

Describe the layout of the brewery premises, including the location of the equipment, tanks, bottling lines, doors, windows, loading docks, empty keg storage, and packaged goods storage areas, including dimensions. This description will assist TTB in interpreting the Diagram submitted with the application

As shown on the submitted diagram, our space has one front pedestrian entrance from the front of the building. After the second door, there is a loading dock area with two sets of bay doors. One set of bay doors facing the street and one set of bay doors separating the production space from the loading bay.

The actual production space is mainly an open rectangle. There is a small office space to the bottom right abutted by a small tasting/dock sales area. Our walk in cooler is just above the tasting area. There is a bathroom in the back corner.

Our tanks and brewhouse are located in the left-hand portion of the interior space.

There are two back exits that lead to a fire exit corridor for emergency use only.

If a brewpub, you must identify the portion of the brewery which will be operated as a tavern by providing the boundaries of the tavern. You must identify areas of the brewery which are accessible to the public and areas which are not. Describe security measures to be used to segregate public areas from non-public areas. Describe in detail the method to be used for measuring beer for the purpose of tax determination. Identify the tanks which will periodically contain tax-determined beer, and any other areas where tax-determined beer will be stored

Provide description of the brewery security. Brewery building must be arranged and constructed to give adequate protection to the revenue. Describe locks, access to the brewery and how un-taxpaid goods will be protected during and after business hours

Our building is solid concrete construction with very limited access points. We have a security buffer with our loading dock area that gives a second set of locked doors between the outside and the production area of the brewery. All doors, interior and exterior have locks. We also will install a security system that is monitored 24 hours a day and 7 days a week from an offsite location that will alert local authorities in the event of a breach. We also plan on installing a video surveillance system. All un-tax paid beer will either be store within the fermenting vessels which are immovable without heavy rigging equipment, or stored in our locked walk-in cooler.

PART 25—BEER
Subpart G—Qualification of a Brewery

§25.61 General requirements for notice.

(a) Establishment. Operations as a brewer may be conducted only by a person who has given notice as a brewer under this subpart. A person may not commence the business of a brewer until the appropriate TTB officer approves the brewery and the brewer's notice, including all documents made part of that notice.

(b) Brewer's Notice, Form 5130.10. Each person must, before commencing business as a brewer, give notice on Form 5130.10. Each person continuing business as a brewer as provided in §25.71 must give notice on Form 5130.10. Each notice will be executed under penalties of perjury, and all written statements, affidavits, and other documents submitted in support of the notice will be made part of the notice.

(c) Additional information. The appropriate TTB officer may at any time require the brewer to furnish, as part of the notice, additional information which is necessary to protect and insure collection of the revenue.

Subpart B—Definitions

Back to Top

§25.11 Meaning of terms.

When used in this part, where not otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof, terms have the meanings given in this section.

Administrator. The Administrator, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau, Department of the Treasury, Washington, DC.

Appropriate TTB officer. An officer or employee of the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau (TTB) authorized to perform any functions relating to the administration or enforcement of this part by TTB Order 1135.25, Delegation of the Administrator's Authorities in 27 CFR Part 25, Beer.

Balling. The percent by weight of dissolved solids at 60 °F. present in wort and beer, usually determined by a balling saccharometer.

Bank. Any commercial bank.

Banking day. Any day during which a bank is open to the public for carrying on substantially all its banking functions.

Barrel. When used as a unit of measure, the quantity equal to 31 U.S. gallons. When used as a container, a consumer package or keg containing a quantity of beer listed in §25.156, or other size authorized by the appropriate TTB officer.

Beer. Beer, ale, porter, stout, and other similar fermented beverages (including saké and similar products) of any name or description containing one-half of one percent or more of alcohol by volume, brewed or produced from malt, wholly or in part, or from any substitute for malt. Standards for the production of beer appear in §25.15.

Bottle. A bottle, can or similar container.

Bottling. The filling of bottles, cans, and similar containers.

Brewer. Any person who brews beer (except a person who produces only beer exempt from tax under 26 U.S.C. 5053(e)) and any person who produces beer for sale.

Brewery. The land and buildings described in the Brewer's Notice, Form 5130.10, where beer is to be produced and packaged.

Brewing. The production of beer for sale.

Business day. The 24-hour cycle of operations in effect at the brewery and described on the Brewer's Notice, Form 5130.10.

Calendar quarter. A 3-month period during the year as follows: January 1 through March 31; April 1 through June 30; July 1 through September 30; and October 1 through December 31.

Cereal beverage. A beverage, produced either wholly or in part from malt (or a substitute for malt), and either fermented or unfermented, which contains, when ready for consumption, less than one-half of 1 percent of alcohol by volume.

Commercial bank. A bank, whether or not a member of the Federal Reserve System, which has access to the Federal Reserve Communications System (FRCS) or Fedwire. The "FRCS" or "Fedwire" is a communications network that allows Federal Reserve System member banks to effect a transfer of funds for their customers (or other commercial banks) to the Treasury Account at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Concentrate. Concentrate produced from beer by the removal of water under the provisions of subpart R of this part. The processes of concentration of beer and reconstitution of beer are considered authorized processes in the production of beer.

Director of the service center. A Director of an Internal Revenue Service Center.

District Director. A district director of internal revenue.

Electronic fund transfer or EFT. Any transfer of funds made by a brewer's commercial bank, either directly or through a correspondent banking relationship, via the Federal Reserve Communications System (FRCS) or Fedwire to the Treasury Account at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Executed under penalties of perjury. Signed with the prescribed declaration under the penalties of perjury as provided on or with respect to the return, claim, form, or other document or, when no form of declaration is prescribed, with the declaration: "I declare under the penalties of perjury that this _____ (insert type of document such as statement, report, certificate, application, claim, or other document), including the documents submitted in support thereof, has been examined by me and, to the best of my knowledge and belief, is true, correct and complete."

Fiscal year. The period which begins October 1 and ends on the following September 30.

Gallon. The liquid measure containing 231 cubic inches.

Losses. Known quantities of beer lost due to breakage, casualty, or other unusual cause.

Package. A bottle, can, keg, barrel, or other original consumer container.

Packaging. The filling of any package.

Person. An individual, trust, estate, partnership, association, company, or corporation.

Racking. The filling of kegs or barrels.

Removed for consumption or sale. Except when used with respect to beer removed without payment of tax as authorized by law, (a) the sale and transfer of possession of beer for consumption at the brewery, or (b) any removal of beer from the brewery.

Secretary. The Secretary of the Treasury or his or her delegate.

Service center. An Internal Revenue Service Center in any of the Internal Revenue regions.

Shortage. An unaccounted for discrepancy (missing quantity) of beer disclosed by physical inventory.

This chapter. Title 27, Code of Federal Regulations, Chapter I (27 CFR Chapter I).

Treasury account. The Department of the Treasury's General Account at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

U.S.C. The United States Code.

Wort. The product of brewing before fermentation which results in beer.

[T.D. ATF-224, 51 FR 7673, Mar. 5, 1986, as amended by T.D. ATF-345, 58 FR 40357, July 28, 1993; T.D. ATF-437, 66 FR 5478, Jan. 19, 2001; TTB T.D.-21, 70 FR 235, Jan. 3, 2005; T.D. TTB-44, 71 FR 16941, Apr. 4, 2006; T.D. TTB-91, 76 FR 5478, Feb. 1, 2011]

Standards for Beer

Back to Top

§25.15 Materials for the production of beer.

(a) Beer must be brewed from malt or from substitutes for malt. Only rice, grain of any kind, bran, glucose, sugar, and molasses are substitutes for malt. In addition, you may also use the following materials as adjuncts in fermenting beer: honey, fruit, fruit juice, fruit concentrate, herbs, spices, and other food materials.

(b) You may use flavors and other nonbeverage ingredients containing alcohol in producing beer. Flavors and other nonbeverage ingredients containing alcohol may contribute no more than 49% of the overall alcohol content of the finished beer. For example, a finished beer that contains 5.0% alcohol by volume must derive a minimum of 2.55% alcohol by volume from the fermentation of ingredients at the brewery and may derive not more than 2.45% alcohol by volume from the addition of flavors and other nonbeverage ingredients containing alcohol. In the case of beer with an alcohol content of more than 6% by volume, no more than 1.5% of the volume of the beer may consist of alcohol brew-on-premises (BOP) is a business that provides space and equipment to the public to brew and bottle their own beer. The following Federal guidelines apply to BOPs that are not on a TTB qualified brewery. (See item #2 for information regarding BOPs on TTB qualified brewery premises.) State and local requirements may vary. Click here for contact information for State alcohol control boards.

FAQs

B1: What are the guidelines regarding brew-on-premises ("brew your own" facilities)?

1. Owners of BOPs
A person may establish and operate a BOP without qualifying with TTB under the conditions outlined below. Further, no Federal excise tax is imposed on beer produced by individuals at a BOP under the conditions outlined below.

Proprietors of BOPs must operate their business in compliance with State and local laws. The provision to produce beer for personal or family use and without payment of tax at a BOP under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (IRC, 26 U.S.C. 5053(e)) does not authorize production of beer by adults, or operation of a BOP business, in violation of any State or local law.

Proprietors and employees of BOPs may:

- Furnish space, brewing equipment, ingredients, bottling supplies, and advice and expertise to customers.
- Furnish unfermented wort to BOP customers.
- Provide certain assistance to customers, such as:
  - Moving containers of beer between storage areas;
  - Cleaning, maintenance, and repair of equipment;
  - Climate and temperature control;
  - Disposal of spent grains and wastes; or
  - Quality control (including laboratory analysis and tasting of beer for quality control purposes).

ATLAS BREW WORKS
Ex. 18
Atlas Brewing Co v.
Atlas Brew Works
Opp. No. 91210379

Proprietors and employees of BOPs may not:

- Provide assistance to, or on behalf of, customers in the production, storage, or packaging of beer, such as:
  - Fermenting mash,
  - Adding sugar, CO_2, or any other ingredients to beer,
  - Filtering or bottling beer, or
  - Providing physical assistance in the production, tank transfer, racking, or the bottling or kegging of beer.
- Produce or provide non-taxpaid beer to customers or prospective customers for sampling purposes.

Operation of a BOP business in a manner contrary to the conditions outlined above may cause the facility to be considered a brewery, subject to all statutory and regulatory provisions relating to brewery operation under Chapter 51 of the IRC and TTB regulations under 27 CFR part 25.

Proprietors of BOPs who have questions regarding what services they may or may not provide to their customers may contact the manager of the Beer Program within the Regulations and Rulings Division by telephone at (202) 453-1039, Ext. 110 or by email at BeerRegs@ttb.gov.

2. TTB Brewers Operating BOPs
Under some circumstances, a TTB qualified brewery may operate a BOP. All beer produced at a BOP on brewery premises is taxable under Federal law, must be labeled in accordance to 27 CFR part 25, must bear the Government Warning Statement required under 27 CFR part 16, and is subject to recordkeeping and other requirements.

For further information regarding qualification of a brewery or operation of a BOP at a brewery, contact the Brewery Applications Section at the National Revenue Center, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau, 550 Main Street, Room 8002, Cincinnati, OH 45202, or by:

Telephone (toll free): (877) 882-3277
Fax: (202) 453-2978
E-mail: TTBInternetQuestions@ttb.gov

3. Individuals "home brewing" at BOPs
A person producing beer at a BOP must do so in accordance to 26 U.S.C. 5053(e) and TTB regulations 27 CFR 25.205 - 25.206, which provide that:

- Adults may produce beer for personal or family use without payment of tax;
- Adults are defined as 18 years of age or older (or the age required for the purchase of beer in the locality of the BOP);
- Adults may produce, without payment of tax, per household, up to 100 gallons per calendar year if there is one adult residing in the household, or 200 gallons of beer per year if there are two or more adults residing in the household;
- Adults who produce beer at a BOP may remove their beer for personal or family use, including use in organized affairs, exhibitions, or competitions (such as homemaker's contests or tastings);
- Adults may collaborate with other adults in the production of beer at a BOP provided they are not considered a corporation or an association; and
- Adults may not produce beer for sale or offer their beer for sale.

Adults using BOPs should note that owners and employees of BOPs are limited in the assistance they may provide customers. It is the responsibility of BOP customers to carry out the activities that are required to brew, store, and package beer.

TTB regulations do not authorize the production of beer that is contrary to State or local law. Click here to contact State alcohol control board for more information.

▼ B2: How do I determine the barrel equivalent of beer containers?

Conversion tables for computation of taxable quantity of spirits, wine & beer

Barrel equivalents of common keg and case sizes are printed in the beer regulations. Brewers must request case equivalent computations for other sizes from the Regulations Division in Headquarters. One barrel equals 31 U.S. Gallons.

27 CFR 25.156 Determination of tax on keg beer.

27 CFR 25.157 Determination of tax on bottled beer.

▼ B3: Must TTB approve my operations when I intend to make beer?

If you intend to make beer for other than family or personal use, TTB must approve your operations. Refer to the answer for limitations on making beer for personal or family use.

▼ B4: If TTB must approve my operations to make beer, how do I apply?

Register for Permits Online! Permits Online makes it easy for you to apply for operations to make beer and to start your business - just follow the instructions and prompts. When you finish entering the required information and click submit, we begin processing your application, and send you a tracking number so you can check the status of your application online. There is no fee to apply.

NOTE: Those applying for federal authorization to start a business in the alcohol, tobacco, or firearms and ammunition industry are no longer required to submit original documentation for bond forms and power of attorney forms. We will accept these forms, along with all other required documentation, through a completely automated process within the Permits Online system. Previously, you were required to send us paper copies of these forms, which could prolong the application approval process. With these changes, you can send us your applications electronically, eliminating the need to mail in paper forms.

B6: How much does it cost if TTB approves my operations to make beer?

There is no fee required to obtain a Brewer's Notice. However, brewers must have bond coverage before beginning the business of brewing. Surety (insurance) companies charge premiums for bond coverage. There also are charges involved in the purchase of Treasury Notes, which may be used as collateral bonds. TTB will also accept collateral bonds secured by cash or other tangible assets.

IRC law and TTB regulations require sufficient bond coverage to cover authorized activities conducted on brewery premises. The minimum penal sum of a bond is $1,000. The maximum penal sum of the bond, if you will prepay the tax on beer, is not to exceed $150,000, or $500,000 if you will defer the tax and pay the tax semimonthly.

For more information on bond coverage requirements, see the TTB regulations at Subpart H of 27 CFR part 25. For questions regarding bonds you may contact the Brewery Applications Section at the National Revenue Center, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau, 550 Main Street, Room 8002, Cincinnati, OH 45202, or by:

B9: What is TTB's policy with respect to "growlers"?

What are the concerns for filling a "growler?"

A growler is either a bottle or a large glass. The distinction is solely dependent on the manner in which the brewer fills the container.

When is a growler a "bottle?"
A growler is a bottle when the brewer fills the container in advance of sale. The brewer may fill the growler prior to removal, on the brewery premises, or after tax determination on the brewpub premises.

When is a growler a "large glass?"
A growler is a large glass when a consumer uses the container to make a purchase and the brewer then fills the container. Consumers may furnish their own growler or may purchase it from the brewer.

When is tax determined on beer used to fill growlers?
There are two conditions for tax determination (please refer to §§25.25(c), 25.157, and 25.158).

- If the brewer fills a "bottle" on the brewery premises, the tax is determined upon removal for consumption or sale. Since the growler is a bottle, tax is determined on the stated net contents.
- If the brewer fills a "glass" on the brewpub premises, the brewer must fill it from a tank that is tax determined.

What are the labeling requirements for growlers?
When you are required to label your growler you should note that the label must contrast with the background. If you silkscreen your containers, the ink colors must contrast with the filled containers.

What are the requirements for the government warning label?
The Alcoholic Beverage Labeling Act (ABLA) of 1998 applies to sealed containers the brewer offers for sale to consumers. The ABLA does not apply to glasses or containers a brewer uses to serve beer at the brewpub. These containers do not meet the definition for a sealed container in which an alcohol beverage is offered for sale to the public.

However, the law applies to any keg or serving tank from which the brewer dispenses beer to containers. The brewer must apply a government warning label to the keg or tank. The brewer must comply with 27 CFR Part 16 regardless of whether the public has view of the keg or tank.

The statement must comply with these conditions.

- It must be legible under ordinary conditions, and on a contrasting background.
- The words "GOVERNMENT WARNING" must be in capital letters and bold type. The rest of the statement may not appear in bold type.
- The maximum number of characters per inch of the warning statement is 25. All characters, including both upper and lower case, must be a minimum 2 millimeters in size.

What are the requirements for growlers that are "glasses?"
When the brewer fills a growler at the tap at the brewpub, and not in advance of sale, we consider the growler as a large glass sold at retail. These growlers are not subject to Federal labeling requirements. Some States consider this bottling activity and regulate accordingly. Brewers should check with State authorities.

What are the requirements for growlers that are "bottles?"
When the brewer fills on the brewery premises or on the brewpub in advance of sale, the growler is a bottle subject to labeling requirements of 27 CFR Part 16 and 27 CFR Part 25. In some States the requirements of 27 CFR Part 7 also apply.

Since growlers may be considered bottles we recommend that brewers silkscreen or label their growlers with all of the mandatory label information to avoid potential problems with growlers the brewer might subsequently refill under conditions that we would consider bottling. (See § 25.142 and 27 CFR Part 16.)

What is the mandatory label information?
You must label your beer with this information:

Brewer name or trade name

Place of production – the place of production is the city, and, if necessary for identification, the state. The place of production must appear in direct conjunction with your name or trade name. If you operate more than one brewery you must choose one of these options:

- Show all brewery locations on the label
- Show the place of production on the label
- Show your principal place of business on the label

In the event that you select to show all your locations or your principal place of business, rather than the place of production, you must also mark your label with a code to show which location actually produces the beer.

Net contents – show net contents as ½ gallon. You may use "64 ounces" in addition to but not in place of "½ gallon."

Do not make a statement as to payment of internal revenue taxes.

Government warning label – use the guidelines above (see 27 CFR Part 16).

▼ B:10 What are the guidelines for a Nano brewery?

Nano-breweries, which we define as very small brewery operations, are springing up across the country. Nano brewing is a result of the steady appeal for craft-brewed beers and the beneficiary of the growing home brewing movement. We issue this advisory as a reminder that any beer produced for sale by home brewers is not exempt from Federal excise tax payment.

Section 5092 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (IRC) defines a brewer as a person who brews beer or produces beer for sale. Section 5053(e) of the IRC provides an exemption from Federal excise tax payment for beer that is produced for personal or family use.

Pursuant to § 5053(e) any adult may, without payment of tax, produce beer for personal or family use and not for sale. The aggregate amount of beer exempt from tax under this subsection with respect to any household shall not exceed–

(1) 200 gallons per calendar year if there are 2 or more adults in such household, or

(2) 100 gallons per calendar year if there is only 1 adult in such household.

For purposes of this subsection, the term "adult" means an individual who has attained 18 years of age, or the minimum age (if any) established by law applicable in the locality in which the household is situated at which beer may be sold to individuals, whichever is greater.

Persons who produce beer for sale, no matter how small the amount, must qualify as a brewer under the provisions of 26 U.S.C. 5401. In addition to paying the Federal excise tax on any beer that is removed from the brewery for consumption or sale, consumer packages must contain the government health warning statement (see 27 CFR part 16). Further, the labeling and advertising provisions of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act, which are found at 27 U.S.C 205, may apply. Regulations implementing § 105 of the Act, as they relate to malt beverages, are set forth in part 7 of the TTB regulations (27 CFR part 7), Labeling and Advertising of Malt Beverages.

If you have a question regarding whether your operation qualifies for the exemption as found in § 5053(e) or whether you need to complete the brewery qualification process pursuant to 26 U.S.C. 5401, please contact the TTB National Revenue Center at 1-877-882-3277 or e-mail at: TTBInternetQuestions@ttb.gov.

▼ B11: Am I permitted to label my product with a specialized farming term to show my compliance with or concern for environmental initiatives and movements?

A description of specialized farming practices generally may appear on alcohol beverage labels as additional information provided it is truthful, accurate, specific, and does not conflict with, or in any manner qualify, mandatory labeling information. However, due to the constantly evolving nature of this field, TTB reserves the right to request clarification and documented verification of any graphics, seals, logos, definitions or language appearing on labels. For instance, any label specifically stating that the producer is certified by an agricultural organization must have documented proof.

Terms that refer to the environmental impact of the process and packaging rather than the product itself are usually acceptable. These words and phrases may not modify mandatory information on brand labels, but might appear as additional information after review on a case-by-case basis.

B12: May a brewer transfer bulk beer to a brewery, bonded wine premises, or distilled spirits plant?

Brewery	Yes, but only if the brewers are under the same ownership. Under Federal law and TTB regulations, a brewer may only remove bulk beer in bond for transfer to another breweryif the brewery transferring the bulk beer and the brewery receiving the bulk beer are under the same ownership. Certain regulatory requirements, such as recordkeeping requirements, apply. See 26 U.S.C. 5414 and 27 CFR 25.181-25.186.
Bonded Wine Premises	No, brewers may not transfer bulk beer to a bonded wine premises. Federal law regarding operations that may take place on bonded wine premises do not include receipt of bulk beer. In addition, TTB regulations addressing agricultural wine (that is, wine produced from agricultural products other than fruit) provide that beverage alcohol products made with grain, cereal, malt, or molasses (such as, beer) may not be produced or stored on bonded wine premises. See 26 U.S.C. 5361 and 27 CFR 24.200.
Distilled Spirits Plant	Yes, a brewer may transfer bulk beer in bond from their brewery to a distilled spirits plant if the beer is to be used as distilling material and if the transfer is covered under the brewer's bond. See 26 U.S.C. 5053(f). A brewer also may transfer bulk beer from the brewery via pipeline to the bonded premises of a distilled spirits plant that is located contiguous to the brewery. Certain regulatory requirements, such as recordkeeping requirements, apply. See 26 U.S.C. 5412 and 5222 and 27 CFR 25.201. See 27 CFR part 19 for regulations applicable to distilled spirits plants, including regulations regarding the receipt of beer at a distilled spirits plant.
See information regarding bulk transfers of wine or spirits.

ATLAS
BREW WORKS

Atlas Brew Works, a packaging craft brewery, is located in northeast Washington, DC. Founded by Justin Cox and award-winning professional brewer Will Durgin, Atlas focuses on providing the District with fresh ales and lagers in the traditions of the old world and the new.

GRAB A GROWLER!

Atlas Growlers only $10. GROWLER FILLS: District Common / Rowdy: $12 NSFW: $18

DISTRICT COMMON

Inspired by the beers that accompanied America's westward expansion, District Common is fermented using lager yeast at temperatures common to ale fermentation. The result is a pale, well-balanced beer combining crisp lager character with fruity ale notes. The clean grain bill provides a refreshing drinkability and supports late aroma and dry hop additions of Czech Saaz hops. Pair with locally harvested oysters or roast pork medallions. This is no common beer!

ROWDY

Made with three varieties of hops and a generous amount of specialty malts, Rowdy offers a complex flavor and aroma that is both aggressive and fun. The addition of malted rye to the grain bill lends a peppery character to the beer which complements the bitterness and floral notes of brewhouse hop additions. Finally, this deep ruby ale receives a liberal addition of dry hops in the fermenting vessel, imparting citrus aromas and a crisp, clean finish. Enjoy Rowdy with barbequed meats at your next cookout; it is great for sharing with old friends or perfect strangers.

ATLAS
BREW WORKS

Atlas Brew Works, a packaging craft brewery, is located in northeast Washington, DC. Founded by Justin Cox and award-winning professional brewer Will Durgin, Atlas focuses on providing the District with fresh ales and lagers in the traditions of the old world and the new.

GRAB A GROWLER!

Atlas Growlers only $10.
FILLS: District Common / Rowdy: $12
NSFW: $18 Saison: $15

DISTRICT COMMON

Inspired by the beers that accompanied America's westward expansion, District Common is fermented using lager yeast at temperatures common to ale fermentation. The result is a pale, well-balanced beer combining crisp lager character with fruity ale notes. The clean grain bill provides a refreshing drinkability and supports late aroma and dry hop additions of Czech Saaz hops. Pair with locally harvested oysters or roast pork medallions. This is no common beer!

ORIGINAL GRAVITY:	12.5°P
ALCOHOL BY VOLUME:	5.1%
BITTERNESS:	35 IBU
COLOR:	12 SRM

ROWDY

Made with three varieties of hops and a generous amount of specialty malts, Rowdy offers a complex flavor and aroma that is both aggressive and fun. The addition of malted rye to the grain bill lends a peppery character to the beer which complements the bitterness and floral notes of brewhouse hop additions. Finally, this deep ruby ale receives a liberal addition of dry hops in the fermenting vessel, imparting citrus aromas and a crisp, clean finish. Enjoy Rowdy with barbequed meats at your next cookout; it is great for sharing with old friends or perfect strangers.

ORIGINAL GRAVITY:	14°P
ALCOHOL BY VOLUME:	6.2%
BITTERNESS:	60 IBU
COLOR:	23 SRM

NSFW

Not a beer to bring home to Mom, NSFW is most at home in shady joints and dives from Mos Eisley to Gommorah. Born on a moonless winter night in the mountains of the Pacific Northwest, it made its way east, dodging authorities at every turn. So black it makes both the pot and the kettle blush, NSFW features criminal hop bitterness and a resinous pine aroma that will make police dogs alert their handlers. Use with extreme caution, and don't tell your boss.

ORIGINAL GRAVITY:	21°P
ALCOHOL BY VOLUME:	9.2%
BITTERNESS:	100 IBU
COLOR:	40 SRM

SAISON DES FÊTES

This is a beer to celebrate. Our winter Saison balances spicy French hops, aromatic European malt, and a unique Belgian yeast. Welcome to the farmhouse. Settle in, warm your firkles by the fire, and drink in the festive season.

ORIGINAL GRAVITY:	15.4°P
ALCOHOL BY VOLUME:	7.1%
BITTERNESS:	25 IBU

Volstead Update

Thanks everyone for returning the LLC Operating Agreement signatures so quickly. We're still waiting on one signature page to come in (you know who you are!) and then we should be officially done with the paperwork.

Right now, we are concentrating on securing warehouse space to house Volstead. We are in negotiations with a landlord for ~5,380 sq ft in the Florida Avenue Market (aka Union Market) in North East DC. I'm hesitant to give out the actual address until we have something in writing, but the market area is bound by Florida Avenue on the South, New York Ave and Penn St NE to the North and West, and 6th Street NE to the East.

This area serves as the food wholesale distribution center for DC restaurants and is thus well suited for beer distribution. It is also a quick >.5 mile walk from the Ny Ave/Gallaudet metro station. The interior of a main building in the market area recently burnt and is currently being redeveloped to serve as a high-end wholesale farmers market and retail location with flex restaurant/cafe space. They even recently relocated an old diner from the 50s to the market to aid the development.

Fingers crossed that our negotiations are fruitful, I will be in touch with updates as I receive them.

Will and I are also searching for a name for one of our flagship beers formerly known as Rowdy Rye. Sierra Nevada recently released a beer names Righteous Rye sweeping the alliterative rye name game right our from under our feet. So, we thought we'd put it you all to help with the naming of what we hope will be our most popular offering. Here are the parameters we're looking for:

- Short and sweet name, only one or two words
- We are trying to stay away from blatantly including styles in the names of our beers (no Rye Pale Ale, or Volstead Pale, etc).
- Our other flagship will be called "Steam" - for context
- We thought about "Turbine" to keep with the factoryish/steampunk theme of Volstead thus far.
- Here are the names of some Rye seed varietals for inspiration: Hancock, Rymin, Arcostook, Cougar, Danko, Metzi, Puma, Von Lochow, Dacold, Paster, Wheeler, Elbon, Maton, Oklon, Trical.
- Let figure something out that is catchy, interesting, and delicious!

Thanks everyone for you help and I look forward to hearing your ideas.

ATLAS BREW WORKS
MAP Ex. 24
Atlas Brewing Co v.
Atlas Brew Works
Opp. No. 91210379

I've got some really exciting news for everyone today, we are changing locations. We will no longer be at 1225 3rd Street, but instead have signed a letter of intent and are reviewing a first draft lease for 7,000 sq ft at 550 Penn Street NE! Of course nothing is final until the lease is signed, but all signs are pointing to yes on this deal working out.

There are many reasons why this space is such a better fit for Atlas Beer Works. Numero Uno, we will have a seven year lease rather than the two year agreement at the other location. So no nasty moving of equipment right when we are growing, etc. Also, the ceilings at 550 Penn are 28' high rather than the 14' ceilings at 3rd Street which eliminates many of the customization and ensuing potential issues with a shorter space.

Secondly, the 550 Penn St warehouse is part of the larger Union Market project by real estate developer Edens. They renovated the old DC Farmers Market building and are turning the building into a local foodie epicenter modeled after Ferry Building in San Francisco. The tenants in the market building will include a charcuterie shop, a cheese monger, a wine shop, a butcher, a pickler (pickle hawker, monger ? not sure what they should be called but I'm open to suggestions), an oyster bar, a speak easy bar/restaurant/night club, and an artisanal soda maker and mixologist, and more. There are plans to build condos/apartments on the site, a boutique hotel, and some office space too. Attached are some of the development's marketing materials.

We will be in a warehouse about 500 feet behind the main market building. Our tenant neighbors will include production facilities for Red Apron Butchery (the same people with the retail site inside the market building), Dolcezza Artisanal Gelatto, and the Neighborhood Restaurant Group (that owns beer mecca Churchkey along with 5 or 6 other beer-centric restaurants and bars in the area). The networking and potential partnerships with our neighbors will be a huge leg up as we grow our business.

Edens is heavily promoting the market and its tenants too (http://unionmarketdc.com/). This landlord has a truly vested interest in making sure its tenants' businesses thrive and thus increase the value of their investment. That is a refreshing difference from the other landlords we've been talking to who are just looking for someone to fork over some cash until they tear down and rebuild their buildings. For ABW this means we will have a huge supplement to our own marketing efforts by a professional marketing team with reach throughout the entire East Coast - a wonderful bonus!

As for timing, Edens expects to have their construction of a demising wall and running all the utilities to our space done by December. We should be able to get our work and permitting done simultaneously with the landlord's work, but we are probably looking at a December opening date now rather than the late October/early November date. The good news is we don't have to pay rent until we open up.

We put the deposit down on our brewing equipment and our tap handles are being manufactured currently. We are finishing up the website design and hope to have some swag, shirts, etc made soon. Things are really starting to take shape!

Thanks again for all your support and Will and I look forward to toasting a nice frosty mug of Atlas Beer Works beer with you soon!

Cheers,
Justin

ATLAS BREW WORKS
Ex. 25
Atlas Brewing Co v.
Atlas Brew Works
Opp. No. 91210379

Hello everyone:

Bit of a hiccup on the real estate front I thought I'd share with you.

We sent our lease comments back to the developer. They came back and said the property ran into a bit of a problem with the zoning office. Red Apron (the charcuterie place that would be our tenant neighbor) was in the process of obtaining their permits when they were denied due to an insufficient amount of parking at the property. To get around this, Eden's is changing the zoning with regards to parking to make it so the property does not have to offer a certain amount of onsite parking, and can more heavily rely on street parking.

While they are confident the parking situation will be resolved through this zoning change (their works: "99% sure") they do not want to commence a build-out of our space until they have the final word from the city, which will be given on October 16th. If the city for some reason denies their request, again which they feel is highly unlikely, they would have to demolish our part of the building to construct parking spaces, as Red Apron is already under lease and they have to do everything they can to comply with their lease.

We are still maybe a week or two away from finalizing the lease but this will cost us a delay. They were very apologetic, and are still very anxious to get Atlas Beer Works into their project. However, this is a major oversight on their part and we are going to get another month of free rent to compensate Atlas for the lost time.

In the meantime I had our broker look into what else is out there in case this falls through. Once we move away a bit more from the metro, there is plenty of space available and the prices are right. I told our manufacturer to keep with the manufacturing assuming we have 16' ceilings (which all the places on the broker's report do). So best case scenario: DC gives the go ahead on Oct 16th and our equipment should be delivered in December and we get another free month in the space. Worst case: DC says no go on October 16th and we go find a new space ASAP. Even that gives us plenty of time to get a deal worked out before the equipment gets delivered so we're not paying for space we are not using.

If everything goes to plan, we should get a green light from the city on October 16th, at which we should have a finalized lease ready for signatures and build-outs can commence.

I'll be in touch with updates as I receive them.

Cheers,
Justin

ATLAS BREW WORKS
Ex. 26
Atlas Brewing Co v.
Atlas Brew Works
Opp. No. 91210379

Hey everyone,
Thanks to everyone who came by last weekend to hand out and meet Will. We both had a great time and enjoyed the opportunity to catch up. For those who didn't make it, we will do it again soon!

Those who did make it saw me and Durgin in our sweet new Atlas Brew Works logo-ed work shirts. And as a thank you for all of your support during this process, we'd love to send you each your very own shirt. Please send me what size shirt you want and we will make that happen! Here is the shirt for sizing, etc reference (http://www.automotiveworkwear.com/RedKap/SP46/Security-Uniforms.html). The color is Navy. Some of the ladies asked about a women's shirt, I think we can do this style if you prefer (http://www.automotiveworkwear.com/RedKap/HS1266/womens_law_enforcement_uniforms.html). Just let me know.

We've had some major things happen on the real estate front. First, we walked away from the deal on the Union Market space. The landlord was taking forever to get back to us on anything and missing deadlines we mutually agreed upon. I had a conversation with the leasing person Friday before last where I told her we absolutely had to have a lease review meeting scheduled for Monday because I was fed up with the delays and needed to have some progress to show you all. Then I heard nothing back from her. I just got an email from her two days ago saying she'd get the lease revision to me "soon." Unacceptable, so we decided to walk away. The grapevine tells me that a prominent restaurateur here in DC just walked from a deal with the same landlord for the same reasons we did. He might even be seeking legal redress, so I think we made the right decision there.

In anticipation of the old landlord keeping up its unresponsiveness, Will and I went and scouted some other properties last Friday. We found another spot at 2052 West Virginia Ave Ne Suite 102. The space is 9281 sq ft which is bigger than what we had at Union Market. It has 3 big bay doors with an indoor loading dock that will be great for receiving materials deliveries and for loading up beer to distribute around DC. It is also much cheaper (by about half), thus saving us money on overheard that we can put to better use generating beer and a return for all of us. The new landlord is a bit of a cowboy with a 'get shit done' attitude, and that's a welcomed relief. We just got a signed letter of intent back from him a few minutes ago, all within a week of first engaging him. We expect to have a lease reflecting the terms of the LOI on Monday, have our lawyers review it, and hopefully have a signed deal done before Thanksgiving.

We've spoken to the architect that is doing the build-out for the other tenants in the building about our project as well, and he's ready to roll as soon as the lease is signed. Because he's been doing so much other work in the building, he already has our space drawn out in CAD and know where the utilities, etc are. That should result in some big time savings for us.

Our brewing equipment is scheduled to ship from China sometime at the beginning of December, and we'll have it at our space a couple weeks later. We ordered our chiller and are negotiating a deal on a boiler. Those are all the major components to make some beer and we will fill in the smaller stuff as we move forward here.

DC permitting is always an wildcard, but I see no reason why we can mash-in on our first batch of beer in late January. Can't wait.

Thanks again and we'll be in touch soon!

Cheers,
Justin

Re: Atlas Brewing Company – Trademark Infringement

Dear Mr. Swyers:

Please be advised that this firm represents Atlas Brewing Company, LLC ("Atlas"). Atlas owns and operates a brewpub, bar and restaurant in Chicago, Illinois. Atlas possesses a unique trademark, "Atlas Brewing Company," which has attained a significant amount of recognition from consumers across the country. In an effort to protect its brand, Atlas has applied for federal protection with the United States Patent and Trademark Office ("USPTO"). Currently, Atlas holds common law trademark rights while its registration with the USPTO is pending (Federal Serial Number 85762603). Atlas began using the trademark "Atlas Brewing Company" in commerce at least as early as May 4, 2012 when it began advertising its brewpub, bar and restaurant services via its website and various social media websites. The trade name "Atlas Brewing Company" has been used to identify Atlas since at least as early as November 16, 2011. In addition, "Atlas has been using the Atlas name to identify its beers, including, but not limited to, Atlas Golden Ale.

Atlas regularly polices its markets to quell any infringing activities by its competitors. In doing so, Atlas discovered your prospective brewery, "Atlas Brew Works." Your use of the word "Atlas" in the name for your prospective brewery in Washington D.C. will infringe on Atlas' trademark rights as soon as it is used in commerce.

Currently, your use of the word "Atlas" infringes on Atlas' common law trademark rights. However, once Atlas' marks are registered, your infringement will constitute false designation of origin under §43 of the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. §1125. Specifically, your use would imply that your brewery is affiliated with Atlas Brewing Company, and therefore, create a strong likelihood of consumer confusion. Section 43 of the Lanham Act allows a registrant to file a federal trademark infringement lawsuit against an infringing party and seek the infringing party's profits from use of the mark, costs of the lawsuit, attorney's fees and other damages caused by the infringement.

You currently use the word "Atlas" on your website, Facebook Page, and Twitter page. (To further illustrate my point, a current screenshot of your website is enclosed as Exhibit A; a current screenshot of your Facebook page is enclosed as Exhibit B; and, a current screenshot of your Twitter account is enclosed as Exhibit C.)

At this point, it is decidedly in your best interest to select a new name and cease using the word "Atlas" before opening your brewery, "Atlas Brew Works." However, if you choose to proceed with your use of the word "Atlas" in commerce, our client will have no choice but to pursue all available remedies to the fullest extent possible. I am hopeful that we can resolve this matter promptly and in an amicable fashion. In that interest, I must receive written assurance that you will cease using the word "Atlas" within fourteen (14) days of receiving this letter.

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact our office.

Best Regards,

Robert J. Schaul, Esq.

Looking for the use of the word as a verb. In Ben Masters's The Noughties, (Penguin Books 2012, p. 65) it reads "Atlassing burden on our backs". Just wanted to know if that use is his invention or if it's a considered a verb here.

H Street Festival visitors in 2012

H Street has returned to its roots as a thriving, commercial hub, and is home to a diverse, cohesive community. A revitalized visual and performing arts scene, hip bars and restaurants, art galleries, music venues and a boom of high-end condos and apartments are quickly reshaping the historic corridor.

Whether it's pho, falafel or fried fish; bluegrass, jazz or rock; DC-made clothing, bicycles or vet visits, H Street offers something for everyone. The one-and-a-half mile commercial corridor boasts coffee shops, a farmer's market, more than 100 retail stores, and a collection of international cuisines, including Italian, Ethiopian, Vegan, Middle Eastern, French, Irish, Vietnamese, Japanese, Caribbean, British, Belgian and Southern, among many others. Exciting new retail stores, such as the Daily Rider and CAT Walk, enhance the quality of life in this exciting, walkable neighborhood.

There are performances to see and even participate in every night at H Street's many venues, including the Atlas Performing Arts Center, a restored Art Deco landmark theater, the Rock and Roll Hotel, and Twelve Restaurant and Lounge. Dance to free bluegrass at The Argonaut; join or watch an open jam session at HR-57 Center for the Preservation of Jazz and Blues, or sing karaoke at Sticky Rice.

All of this activity and energy has earned H Street several national awards including the 2013 Great American Main Street (National Trust for Historic Preservation), a Top 10 Great Urban Neighborhood (USA Today) and America's sixth Hippest Hipster Neighborhood (Forbes).

Union Station anchors the western end of H Street and provides local, regional and interstate access via Metrorail, Metrobus, Circulator, Amtrak, VRE, MARC, Megabus, BoltBus, Capital Bikeshare and in 2014, the H Street streetcar line.

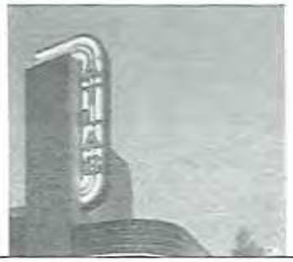
ATLAS MISSION

The Atlas mission is to bring people together through the arts to share and celebrate a range of artistic expressions and traditions. The Atlas fulfills its mission by:

- fostering the growth of professional and aspiring artists throughout the region through offering opportunity, support and respect;
- providing a collaborative management environment to promote partnerships and appreciation;
- using the arts to give young people a chance to spark imagination, enhance self-esteem, and promote mutual understanding;
- training individuals in the arts and stagecraft to build respect for the arts as a vocation;
- actively engaging its neighbors to make the Atlas a center for community conversation and a force to sustain the economic and cultural revitalization of H Street.

The Atlas vision is to create a dynamic hub where artists, audiences, seniors, young people, neighbors and arts enthusiasts are actively engaging in and having meaningful conversations about art and ideas. It is the Atlas' belief that the arts have the capacity to connect people and create understanding and respect among them and build a stronger community for all. In this way, the Atlas increases public understanding of the value of the arts in our community, enhances the civic wellbeing of all its citizens, and strengthens Washington, DC's role as an international leader in the arts.



ATLAS HISTORY

The Atlas Theater was originally built in 1938 by the Klogod-Burka movie chain. The very first film shown in that 1000 seat theater was the Mickey Rooney vehicle, Love Finds Andy Hardy. The Atlas was one of four movie theaters which once thrived on the H Street corridor.

H Street Northeast, originally known as Swampoodle, was a bustling commercial district for much of the early and mid twentieth century. The neighborhood consisted of Irish, Russian, German, Jewish and African-American residents and business owners who lived and worked in relative harmony considering that much of the city was

H Street Northeast, originally known as Swampoodle, was a bustling commercial district for much of the early and mid twentieth century. The neighborhood consisted of Irish, Russian, German, Jewish and African-American residents and business owners who lived and worked in relative harmony considering that much of the city was segregated during this time period. The neighbors even petitioned the city to allow them to have an integrated school but they were denied.

Department stores, music shops, pharmacies and car dealerships all kept company with the Atlas throughout this heyday. In the late 1950s and early 1960s residents and businesses began leaving cities throughout the country for the nearby suburbs and H Street began to lose its neighbors as well. This flight was exacerbated by the riots which followed the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in 1968 and devastated several areas of the city, including H Street. While many buildings were burned and destroyed the Atlas remained.

The neighborhood fell into decline as residents and businesses fled and the Atlas Theater closed its doors for good in 1976. The 1980s and 90s were difficult for the neighborhood as the many vacant buildings provided havens for drug users and the streets became better known for their criminal activity. The Atlas was shuttered and become covered in graffiti and the lights on the historic marquee were dark.

In 2001 The Atlas Performing Arts Center purchased the empty theater with the idea of creating a multiple venue arts center which would be the catalyst for the revitalization of H Street Northeast. The city got behind the idea in 2003 creating the H Street Overlay which divided the street into three sections, the Atlas anchoring the new Arts and Entertainment District. The Atlas re-opening sparked the economic revitalization that is occurring on H Street NE.

While the Atlas continues to promote economic development, the board and staff understand that today's performing arts centers may also act as curators of neighborhood identity. Through its programs and service to the community, the Atlas seeks to honor and maintain the history and traditions of H Street, NE while also fostering the changes taking place to renew the H Street corridor. The Atlas seeks to be a center for community conversation where a range of artistic and individual experiences can come together to be celebrated.

The Atlas presents innovative, thought-provoking performances, and it provides arts education opportunities for DC's Near Northeast community. Today this neighborhood is known as the Atlas District. The Atlas' restored Art Moderne marquee once again shines over H Street which has become a nightlife destination for eclectic dining, music and the performing arts.

Alan,
We've run into an issue with the name Volstead and are not sure we will be able to use it (damned lawyers). Just wanted to let you know for any work you're doing now around that name on our logos. Hope to have it resolved soon. Considering "Atlas" as an alternative. You have any suggestions?

Cheers,
Justin

Afternoon Alan! Sorry for the barrage of emails, just lots of things happening right now that require art. I'm working with the tap handle manufacturer and trying to sharpen up our name on the handles. Do you have the name "Atlas" in vector and/or .3dm file format from the logo? If I can send that to them, they can directly import it to their modeling.

Let me know!

Thanks again for all your work on this and I promise I'll stop emailing you soon...very soon.

Best,
Justin

Alan,
We are going to stick to your original tap handle designs after all. They are too awesome not to use. I am thinking about using the atlas guy as a beer logo for the rye maybe. Still tossing that around in our heads.

As for Atlas, is it possibly to send the word or letters in a vector format that I can send to the tap handle manufacturer? They did a first round of design and captured most really well, but would like the letters to be a bit sharper. These handles have a humongous lead time, so the sooner the better on this. Is what I'm asking even possible or useful?

I'm also starting to work with a website designer. Is it OK with you if I put her in touch with you about the art you've done for us?

Thanks again Alan and I'm looking forward to getting all this logo stuff wrapped up!

Cheers,
Justin

Goodmorning Justin,

If you're good on the logo, I'll get it into full, finishing gear. And of course, I'll pull out the "everyday" logo for you. No worries there. Do you have any thoughts on getting the Atlas man in the logo or just on the handles? Regarding timeline; a few more weeks to wrap this up would be great; my next few weeks are relatively open.

Thanks,

Alan

Alan,

I think we are good to go with finishing up the Atlas logo. Can you also somehow pull out just the Atlas Beer Works part to be used as more of an everyday logo for biz card, swag, etc? What do you think as far as timeline here?

Thanks,
Justin

Alan,
I'm talking it through with some investors now about the change in direction. But in the meantime can we talk concept a little bit?

I'm digging this handle a lot. I hate to give up the badass handles you designed previously, but this might be a better approach...

We need to have the logo and the handles relate, but I don't think its imperative that they fully integrated. I'm thinking that the Atlas guy is on top of a platform that has either Atlas Beer Works on it in the same lettering/rivets, etc as the logo. And have Atlas himself be metal. maybe with an exposed gear or something. Where would we put the name of the beer? Or vis-a-versa?

We could use the hop for all our standard beers but then have Atlas holding something else up for specialty beers, seasonals, limited releases etc. (e.g. a Russian onion dome for an imperial stout, etc). Would be awesome to do that for each beer, but that will get expensive and I'm not sure what we could put on there for things like schwarzbier, or our flagship steam beer (ideas?).

Should the tap be fully 3D? Would a 2D silhouette work? Anything else you can think of? Any ideas of how to use the other handles as well?

Hey Justin,

I never put the mythological "Atlas" together with the new name. As soon as I saw the Ayn Rand cover I thought of this (see attached). Thoughts? I think it might work great on tap handles. Working it into the logo might be difficult; we can explore that option if you'd like. A couple things:

1. Did you want me to continue and change the text to Atlas on the two tap handles?

2. Let me know if you want me to continue finalizing the logo with the Atlas text, etc or if you want to explore more. I'm trying to limit how much we re-do (for both our sake!)

BTW... The more I'm thinking of it, I'm a big fan of Atlas holding the hop. Very memorable!

Cheers!

I did the map idea. Here is an old school map of DC that I see around historic places

i'm going back and forth between Atlas signifying the old map type stuff or the mythological guy holding up the world - although they are interrelated and probably we should incorporate both. I'd love to incorporate the myth guy, as that icon seems to me would be an easily recognizable. Here are a couple images: http://www.google.com/imgres?start=174&hl=en&biw=1439&bih=813&gbv=2&addh=36&tbm=isch&tbnid=clk3eoHnTrSJoM:&imgrefurl=http://www.amazon.com/Atlas-Shrugged-Ayn-Rand/dp/0452011876&docid=tPtva6f2PU1AKM&itg=1&imgurl=http://ecx.images-amazon.com/images/I/5139Z9VGNGL._BO2,204,203,200_PIsitb-sticker-arrow-click,TopRight,35,-76_AA300_SH20_OU01_.jpg&w=300&h=300&ei=fa_MT-eRB6q26gH65Iwn&zoom=1&iact=rc&dur=354&sig=118427871399076786924&page=6&tbnh=143&tbnw=140&ndsp=35&ved=1t:429,r:14,s:174,i:35&tx=75&ty=93

I was thinking having Atlas holding up our logo, or holding up a stripped down version with just the text and details that would show up if printed on t-shirts and glasses, etc. Could either be something you do if you are comfortable and have time to do it soon, or I can reach out to another designer for that portion and tell the to use your logo as the thing he's holding up. And maybe changing the hops on top of the tap handles to be spherical like a globe but with hop cone textures.

What do you think about all that? Good idea/bad idea? feasible? too complex? What's your artistic/designer idea?

Justin,

Attached is yet another rough sketch. I propose we tighten up some of the piping around the text, creating some end caps to the filigree background to the text, and add a little bit more piping to fill things in a bit. Also, your idea regarding a "globe" inspired me to take the aluminum aircraft / leather background and bend it from a flat object to semi-spherical shape. As you can see from my test render, through really clean and none of the detail is on it, it's reading much better and comes across much more like metal.

Maybe a wire frame or some other globe in there somewhere?

Justin,

I'll sketch up a revised logo and we can discuss further. July should be fine depending on the modifications.

Lets do it! Do you think you're able to bang out the Atlas changes before your busy July? With less text in there now, I think the Potomac River background might show a bit more. Can we make a larger juxtaposition between the Arlington and DC sides of the background?

Thanks Alan. You going to come down and have some beers with us once we're ready to brew?

Justin,

Bummer on the name. I think the name "Atlas" will translate just fine to the logo and handle. If anything, since it is less letters and the "V" is gone, it may work even better. To change the text in the logo and to add it to the tap handles I would estimate I would spend maybe 4 hours. Lucky for you, all but one letter is already designed; they just need tweaking. Now because the name Atlas is shorter, we should tweak some components on the logo a bit to balance things out. See the attached file, there is now extra space on each side of the text. Granted, I can enlarge the text but we'll have to add a bit in my opinion.

Regarding your website, yes you can give your designer my contact info. If things come up that you would like my assistance on I'd be happy to help. My July will be busy as a forewarning, but I'm happy to help. We can judge things as they come up if you'd like.

Cheers!

Alan,

Hope you had a nice holiday weekend. So we're still working on this name issue, but I don't have much hope that we will prevail. So that leaves me with a couple questions for you:

1) How long do you think it would take you to alter the current logo and tap handle drawings to incorporate "Atlas" rather than "Volstead"? and

2) We're starting web site development now too, do you mind if I put my designer in touch with you regarding your files? As you mentioned, if something comes up and we need more drawings/design from you - do you have the capacity for some more design work (for pay of course)?

Cheers!

Justin,

I think you should name your brewery to "Fuck Lawyers Brewing Co.". I think you would get a huge following. ;)

No worries. I'll continue wrapping up the logo except the text portion. Keep me posted on where you land.

Thanks,

Alan

Alan,

We've run into an issue with the name Volstead and are not sure we will be able to use it (damned lawyers). Just wanted to let you know for any work you're doing now around that name on our logos. Hope to have it resolved soon. Considering "Atlas" as an alternative. You have any suggestions?

Cheers,
Justin

Shannon,
We are Atlas Beer Works not Atlas Brewing Company. Our address (for the moment) is:

1124 7th st NE
Washington, DC 20002

Also, the purchase agreement refers to 6 pages in the document, I only have 5 pages. And can you please elaborate on the effect of the "Seller-Owned Designs" section?

Thanks,
Justin

Trying my best! This damn "S" is giving me issues again. I attached a scan. What are your thoughts? I stylized the "A" a bit; added a ltouch of art nouveau. Oh, and just like the Volstead logo, the letters will have an offset edge with a slight reveal. The file I'm work in is a vector program so I can send it to the manufacturer without any hassle.
