We have 6 varieties of Corn Thins available in the USA - Original, Flax & Soy, Multigrain, Sesame, Tasty Cheese, and BBQ. Real Foods also now sells a Rice Thin in the US, which is a great tasting Wholegrain THIN Rice Cake.

Most natural foods stores should be able to stock our Corn Thins & Rice Thins. If your local natural foods store does not have any in stock, may we suggest that you could approach the store's grocery manager and request that he or she order the Corn Thins & Rice Thins in for you.

About Real Foods

"Proud to be producing wholesome and natural products for people who enjoy great tasting real food."

Our core purpose is to provide innovative, quality food products that contribute to the health and well being of people around the world.

Our company history dates back to 1980, and our own food philosophy and company vision is reflected in our approach to food and distribution.

Real Foods Pty Ltd is an Australian company producing, marketing and distributing popped-grain crispbreads for the Australian and export markets.

The company was founded in 1980 by Michael Pels, the current owner and Managing Director, and employs 100 people in its manufacturing facility in Sydney, Australia.

About Real Foods

Real Foods Pty Ltd is an Australian company producing, marketing and distributing popped-grain crispbreads for the Australian and export markets.

The company was founded in 1980 by Michael Pels, the current owner and Managing Director, and employs 100 people in its manufacturing facility in Sydney, Australia.

Real Foods has experienced rapid growth over the last 12 years since the development and launch of its major product line, Corn Thins, a natural, low-fat crispbread made from popped corn.

Real Foods is strongly focused on innovation and technical development, having developed, in-house, the unique technology used to produce the Corn Thins range. This technology is subject to patents in Australia, the US, the EC and other countries around the world.

History of Real Foods

Real Foods is a wholly Australian owned and family operated company, established in 1980 by Michael Pels, the current owner and Managing Director.

Real Foods pioneered the development and introduction of rice cakes into the Australian market in the 1980s. Since commencing manufacture of rice cakes, we have actively been developing and improving the technology used in rice cake production, and have been manufacturing our own rice cake machines since 1985.

Real Foods Corn Thins were first launched into the Australian market in 1996, and was the first product under the Real Foods brand name.

With this revolutionary new product, Real Foods was able to produce a product with the delicious taste of popped corn, which also has a nutritional value that is superior to that of the already very healthy rice cake. This corn, which also has a nutritional value that is superior to that of the already very healthy rice cake. This enabled the company to produce a product that would satisfy the large percentage of consumers who want to eat healthily, without having to sacrifice taste. Corn Thins uniqueness made them an instant hit upon entry into the market, and were soon competitive with products in the biscuit category made by much larger Australian and Multi-national companies. This remains the case today.

After first expanding into the New Zealand market in 1999 Real Foods have successfully branched into South Africa, the United States, Canada, United Kingdom, Israel, Hong Kong and the United Arab Emirates.

Today, Real Foods Corn Thins is one of the highest selling crispbreads on the Australian market, and its popularity in increasing year by year.

Genetically Modified Organisms Statement

It is the policy of Real Foods to ensure that every product manufactured is free from any Genetically Modified Ingredients.

Real Foods have asked for and received assurances from our suppliers of maize, soybeans, rice, buckwheat, millet, sorghum, sesame seeds and sunflower oil that none of the products sourced from them contain genetically modified organisms.

Maize and soybeans are the foods most subject to genetic modification in the United States and are therefore of primary concern. None of our Maize or soybeans are sourced from the United States. Real Foods have implemented a rigid Vendor Assurance Program, requiring written confirmation from each supplier, that the ingredients supplied are free from Genetic Modification. Further to this, we conduct random sampling of our raw materials and have these samples tested by an independent laboratory to confirm the

Frequently Asked Questions

1. Where are Corn Thins available from?

2. What type of salt do you use in your Corn Thins? Does it have any anti-caking agents?

A Real Foods P/L use fine sun dried sea salt for all of our Corn and Rice Thins. This solar dried sea salt is acknowledged by Biological Farmers of Australia Co-op as suitable for use in Organic products. There are no anti-caking (free-flow) agents in this salt. Real Foods does however have anti-caking agent 551 in its flavoured products (Sour Cream & Chives, Feta & Sundried Tomato, and Tasty Cheese Corn Thins). The anti-caking agent is required to ensure flavour (seasoning) can be evenly dispersed on Corn Thin.

of these Corn Thins varieties mentioned on the side of the pack. In the past Real Foods have produced ONE VARIETY of Corn Thins that contains gluten, the Rye and Caraway Corn Thins (which we stopped producing in 2009, but may still be in some stores). When Real Foods did produce Rye & Caraway in the past we implemented a strict manufacturing and clean down regime, which is implemented each time the Rye and Caraway Corn Thins were made. Production staff were not permitted to commence manufacturing new product until the clean down program has been completed, inspected and verified by the Quality Department as satisfactory. To validate the effectiveness of the cleaning programme, we tested other product, which has been manufactured at the same time, but on separate production line, as the Rye & Caraway and have found no evidence of air borne cross contamination. This has been verified through independent laboratory testing product called Soy & Linseed (Flax and Soy), how do you prevent this product from contaminating your other product lines?

Q 10. I am concerned about the increasing use of genetic technology in food, how do you ensure that your products are GM free?

A Real Foods only purchase product that has been certified as GM free. This is supported through a rigorous Vendor Quality Assurance programme which requires our suppliers to provide certified evidence that the product we are receiving is 100% GMO free. Further to this requirement, Real Foods randomly check incoming product from our suppliers for compliance to this requirement, in order to ensure total confidence in our claim.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q 11. Are your products kosher approved?

A All our Unflavoured Corn Thins are Kosher (Parev). Our Flavoured Corn Thins (Sour Cream & Chives, Feta & Sundried Tomato, and Tasty Cheese Corn Thins) have milk solids in the flavouring component, which are not Kosher Approved. To ensure there is no cross contamination between our Flavoured products and Unflavoured Kosher Parev products, Real Foods have implemented a specific process in conjunction with Kashrut NSW, including a clean down regime, which is implemented each time the Flavoured Corn Thins are made. Production staff are not permitted to start production until a kosher supervisor has approved (koshered) the line to produce kosher products. This is verified by regular supervision inspections by Kashrut NSW. Our kosher products are identified by the KA logo.

Q 14. Do Corn Thins contain yeast?

Q 15. As a diabetic, I would like to know what is the Glycemic Index of your Corn Thins?

A The GI of Real Foods Corn Thins are 87 +/- 10, which is classed as High GI. Foods with high GI values raise blood glucose levels more than those with low or medium values. They are useful for dietary variety and for replenishing muscle fuel stores after exercise. To lower dietary Glycemic Index simply combine high GI food that you would normally eat (eg Corn Thins, potatoes, or white rice) with lower GI foods (eg salad, fruit, vegetables, pasta, muesli) at each meal.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q 16. How do you make your Corn Thins?

A Real Foods source the best ingredients to manufacture Corn Thins and Rice Thins. These products are manufactured in accordance with HACCP Food Quality system requirements, to ensure the safe consumption of products by our consumers. A measured amount of pre-mixed grain is dropped into a mould. The mould is heated and the grain pops due to the high temperature of the mould. The popping grain can not escape and it fuses together in the circular shape of the mould that it is contained in. This is how the corn cakes are formed in the grain-popping machines. Flavoured Corn Thins are made exactly as above, but also have flavour delicately sprinkled on top to make a seriously tasty snack.

Flavoured Corn Thins are made in a similar way to unflavoured Corn Thins, by simply popping grains of sun ripened corn, combined with rice

18. What is the Potassium content of Corn Thins?

A As the declaration of Potassium content on packaging is not a regulatory requirement, this information has not been included in the Nutritional Panel of Corn Thins packaging. We do realise that some people are interested in the Potassium content, so we have included this information on each of the Corn Thins variant's nutritional panels on the website. Just click on the 'Corn Thins' page, pick the Corn Thins variant you are interested in, then click on the 'Nutrition Information'.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q 17. Recycling.

Q 18. What is the Potassium content of Corn Thins?

Q 19. Does Buckwheat Contain Gluten?

A No. Buckwheat is not a form of wheat and does not contain gluten. It is a seed that can be used like many other grains to produce food products. Buckwheat (like many foods, including common foods like rice or corn) is not generally know as an allergen, but a very small percentage of the population may display an allergic reaction.
