Opposer the University of Southern California ("Opposer" or "California") hereby introduces into evidence by this Notice of Reliance excepts from the yearbooks Garnet & Black, published by Application University of South Carolina ("Applicant" or Carolina"). These excerpts reflect the sports and athletics sections of Carolina's yearbooks for the period 1931-1948.

Opposer submits these excepts to demonstrate the general sports insignia in use by Carolina during this 18 year period. The evidence is relevant to demonstrate the lack of any significant use of any "SC" insignia by Carolina during this period.

This Notice of Reliance is submitted pursuant to stipulation dated May 2, 2006 and filed May 3, 2006 between the parties allowing submission of portions of the Carolina yearbook by means of a Notice of Reliance, and is further submitted as a printed publication pursuant to 37 C.F.R. § 2.122(e) and TBMP § 704.07. # Wade Hampton

1818-1902

General—Governor—Senator

Wade Hampton, South Carolina's greatest soldier, and one of her greatest governors, was born in Charleston, S. C., March 28, 1818. Not long after, his family moved to their plantation at Millwood near Columbia, S. C., where Hampton spent his youth.

After graduation from South Carolina College in 1836, Hampton, like so many of his time, read law to round off his education, with no idea of ever practicing. His life before the war was spent on plantations in South Carolina and Mississippi, in the care of the estates and the control of over a thousand slaves. Hampton was a true Southern gentleman, with beautiful manners and a natural courtesy, a fine example of the men of his time.

Hampton's only military training prior to the War for Southern Independence was in the State militia. He knew nothing of the "Art of War," but in spite of this he rose to be one of the two cavalry officers of the Confederacy to attain the rank of Lieutenant General, the other being Forrest. Later, Hampton succeeded J. E. B. Stuart as Commander of Cavalry of the Army of Northern Virginia, and won the greatest praise and respect from General Robert E. Lee.

In the trying times of 1876, Hampton, as Governor, and "the pillar of the people's hopes," redeemed his State with his two lieutenants, M. C. Butler and M. W. Gary (both South Carolina College graduates). Hampton further served his State as United States Senator.

When he died in 1902, over 20,000 people gathered to witness his funeral and pay tribute to him at Trinity Church, Columbia. Long may his spirit watch over the Palmetto State.

Resume of Football Season

The season of 1930 was truly one of ups and downs for the Gamecocks. It seemed that the fighting spirit of one game could just not be carried over into the next.

The season started with a bang. The usual victory over Erskine was followed by the unexpected defeat of Duke. But Georgia Tech took the cockiness out of the Gamecocks to the tune of 45 to 0 the following Saturday. The reaction from this drubbing was a 7 to 6 victory over Louisiana State.

Although Carolina scored first on Clemson, the Tigers came back to win 20 to 7. Still tired from this game the Gamecocks barely managed to eke out a 13 to 0 victory over the Citadel Bull Dogs. The following Saturday saw the Gamecocks at their best and their worst, the worst coming when the best was needed, resulting in a 14 to 0 victory for Furman. Sewanee fought and fought, but lost 14 to 13. Some unseasoned Gamecocks defeated N. C. State 19 to 0. But Auburn took the last game of the season 25 to 0.

So the Gamecocks came home to rest, until spring practice.

On the all-state team, Carolina placed Captain Gressette at end, "Bru" Boineau at halfback, and "Fuzz" Freeman at guard. Curran Hughey received many mentions for all-state, and had honorable mention for Knute Rockne's All-American team.

CAROLINA 19—ERSKINE 0

Due to the downpour of rain which mired the fast Gamecock backs, Carolina had to be content with a 19 to 0 victory over Erskine. Carolina's line plungers marched steadily from Erskine's 38-yard line to score the first touchdown. Boineau and Edens scored the other two on long runs. The Gamecock line proved impenetrable.

CAROLINA 22—DUKE 0

Rising to unexpected heights, the Gamecocks outplayed Duke 22 to 0. Duke did not lose a game after this defeat. The Gamecocks were at their best, exhibiting heads up ball, well-timed blocking, and vicious tackling throughout. Carolina reserves proved to be the stars of the game. Edens, Bostick, and Brantley were outstanding. The line proved its strength by repulsing every Duke assault.

CAROLINA 0—GEORGIA TECH 45

The "Rambling Wrecks" made chicks of the Gamecocks, and took advantage of fumbles and intercepted passes to win 45 to 0. Carolina's team was really not as bad as the score would indicate, and several Gamecock players, notably Captain Gressette, received the plaudits of the crowd.

CAROLINA 7—L. S. U. 6

Displaying unusual drive and defensive power, Carolina defeated Louisiana State 7 to 6. In three previous games, L. S. U. had scored 232 points. But Carolina's husky linesmen socked the State backs before they could pass the danger line. Miles Blount dashed off tackle in the first quarter to score for Carolina. From then on we had our hands full keeping this advantage.

CAROLINA 7—CLEMSON 20

After Boineau had dashed 64 yards on a perfectly timed play with perfect interference, to score for Carolina in the first five minutes, Clemson came back with a vim, and won 20 to 7. Clemson's speed and power in the line were too much for the Gamecacks. Shand and Gressette played stellar ball.

CAROLINA 13—CITADEL 0

Apparently listless and stale, the Gamecocks finally won from Citadel, 13 to 0. Gressette scored one touchdown by blocking a punt, while the other was the culmination of a drive from midfield. Freeman and Hughey, Carolina's brawny guards, were always in the midst of the scrimmage. Wilson played best for Citadel.

CAROLINA 0—FURMAN 14

While Carolina threw away four chances to score, Furman took advantage of every opportunity to score, and won, 14 to 0. The Gamecocks pushed and plunged their way into scoring position four separate times, only to lose the ball on downs or fumbles. Culp caught a pass from Boineau over the goal line but the score was not allowed because he stepped out of the end zone. Boineau broke his collar bone in this rough and tumble game.

CAROLINA 14—SEWANEE 13

After Carolina had amassed a lead of 14 points in the first half, the Sewanee Tigers, mud-caked, battered, and bruised, came back in heroical style the second half, only to lose by one point, 14 to 13. Laval played a great defensive game. Edens was the best ground-gainer. Monk Shand, pseudo-quarterback, called signals from his regular position at right tackle.

CAROLINA 19—N. C. STATE 0

Sophomore reserve backs, and the "old horses" in the line got together in fine style to beat N. C. State 19 to 0. Although the field was wet, the young Gamecocks ran well. Fleming, Reynolds, Wylie, and King, proved to be capable backs. Blount, DeVaughn, Gressette, and Shand, also played well.

CAROLINA 7—AUBURN 25

Old man hard luck camped on the Gamecock roost for the last game of the year, and Auburn defeated Carolina 25 to 0, to win her first conference game in four years. Captain "Bob" Gressette, "Monk" Shand, "Bru" Boineau, "Hap" Eden, "Pat" Leardo, "Bully" Farr, and Gerard Blount, donned the "Garnet and Black" for the last time.

Resume of Freshman Football

Combining perhaps the best assortment of high school and prep school stars ever collected at Carolina, the strong "Biddie" eleven won four, and tied one, of the five games played.

When the season was over, the Freshmen had amassed a total of 149 points to 13 for their opponents. P. C.'s little team made easy prey for the husky "Biddies." The score was 52 to 0. Clemson fell, 26 to 0. Running up, down, and all over the field at will, the Freshmen walloped Citadel 59 to 0. Furman proved to be the strongest team the "Biddies" encountered, and caught them napping to tie the score at 6-all. On Thanksgiving Day, the Frosh team, minus some of its stars because of influenza, barely managed to beat Oak Ridge 6 to 0.

It would be hard to name the stars of the season because of the general excellence of the whole team. In the backfield, Wolfe, Clary and the two Shinns were outstanding. In the line, Hajek, Husky, Fortson and McManus were powers. The session of spring practice just passed gave the "Biddies" opportunity to prove their ability to fill varsity positions next year.

Resume of Basketball Season

The 1931 basketball team was probably the most unfortunate that has ever been assembled at Carolina. They won only one game, the victim being Georgia Tech. There seemed to be nothing Coach Norman could do about the matter, for he did the best he could with the material he had. The players were not so bad, but they had trouble in playing together. The greatest trouble seemed to be in hitting the basket.

Few of the games were walkovers. Many of them were lost in the last few minutes of play. We are not blaming the season's failure on anybody, nor are we trying to belittle the team or any of its players. We enjoyed the games, and commend the Gamecocks for the good fights they put up.

Several of the team deserve especial mention: DuPre, Hughey, Brantley and Bedenbaugh could always be counted on. Freeman, Boineau, and Watson did well as subs.

Track Forecast

With a victory over Furman, and losses by close margins to P. C., Clemson, and Davidson, the Carolina Track Team prepares to enter the State Meet with a slightly better advantage than it had last year.

As a whole, the team is more experienced than last year's. With men like Captain Bostick, Hughey, Adair, DuPre, Fishburne, DeVaughn, Craig, Brown, and Scott, to form a nucleus, and with the addition of new men like Ewing, Smith, Wetmore, Duval, and Latham, the team should make a very creditable showing at the State Meet.

Baseball Resume

For the second consecutive season, Carolina claims the State Championship in baseball.

The Gamecocks presented one of the smoothest working nines seen on Melton Field in many a day. A fast-moving infield, an alert outfield, and dependable batteries showed evidence not only of excellent individual talent, but also of expert coaching. In addition to the pretty fielding, the team excelled at bat. Notable among the sluggers were Harley, Laval, Eden, and Vaughn.

Hugh Stoddard bore the brunt of the mound work, but Brigham and Keels also hurled effectively in their turns. Captain Smith and Hicks were capable catchers.

The infield was composed of Sikes, first base; Vaughn or Porter, second base; Eden, short stop; Laval, third base. In the outfield were the fleet-footed Boineau, Harley, and Nolan.

Baseball Forecast

It looks as if Carolina's crack baseball team is on the way to its third consecutive State Championship. So far, the Gamecocks have lost only one game. All that remains in the way of the cup is Clemson.

The following teams have fallen victims to the Gamecocks: Georgia Tech, Erskine, P. C., Newberry, Citadel, and Florence of the Palmetto League. The Gamecocks also dropped one game to this club.

Old men back are Captain Eden, Laval, Vaughn, Porter, Sikes, Hicks, Boineau, Harley, Richards, Keels, and Brigham. New stars appearing are Blair, Ouzts, and Correll.

Boxing Resume

By virtue of victories over The Citadel and P. C., Carolina won the State Championship in boxing.

In out of state contests, the Gamecocks were not so fortunate, winning from N. C. State, and losing to the University of North Carolina, Duke, and V. M. I.

W. O. Callahan, middleweight, was awarded the Gittman Medal for being the most scientific boxer on the team. The best fighters were in the lighter weights. Tommy Scott, Red Watts, and Co-Captains Wilson and Brailsford could nearly always be counted on to win. The heavies were not so dependable, but were good scrappers nevertheless.

Rogers, Green, Faile, Urquhart, and J. Scott, fighting in varsity bouts for the first time, gave creditable performance, and showed promise of developing into first-rate fighters under the guidance of Coach Jack Allison.

Minor Sports

Minor Sports

Through the efforts of Mr. Crawford, instructor of gymnastics, and director of minor sports, over three hundred men took part in minor sports during this year.

Every afternoon the gym is filled with sweating men, and while many of them consider it a drudge, there are those who welcome this opportunity to keep a sound body. The gym team and the advanced classes in apparatus work offer opportunities for the more skilled gymnasts to display their agility.

The most popular and most successful minor sport is tennis, Carolina having won two consecutive State Championships in this sport. Boxing, now the most popular sport next to football, was inaugurated as a minor sport by Mr. Crawford.

Archery, fencing, cross country running, and intramural basketball, boxing, and baseball, also offer diversion.

The intramural sports have been very successful, drawing a large number of participants. Many varsity stars have been recruited from the ranks of the intramurals.

Continuing the successes of last year, the State Champion Gamecock Tennis Team crashed through to another State Championship with seventeen consecutive victories.

Clemson, Furman, Citadel, P. C., Erskine, Wofford, and the College of Charleston all bowed to the Garnet and Black racqueters. Sewanee, the only out-of-the-state team played, was also beaten.

James Henley Thornwell, D.D., LL.D.

1812 - 1862

Preacher—Teacher—Scholar

James Henley Thornwell, perhaps the greatest divine the Presbyterian Church has ever had, was born in the Malborough District, near Society Hill, December 9, 1812. Having had an excellent preparatory education, he graduated from South Carolina College in 1831, with highest honors.

After preaching in the churches at Lancaster, Waxhaw, and Six-Mile Creek, he was elected to the Chair of Logic and Criticism of his Alma Mater. This he resigned in 1840 to become pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Columbia.

His health failing in 1841, he went to Europe.

After preaching in Charleston, he was elected President of South Carolina College in 1852. Three years later he resigned to accept the Chair of Theology at the Theological Seminary in Columbia. While a professor at South Carolina College he received the honorary degree D.D. from Hampden-Sydney College, Jefferson College, and Centre College.

Dr. Thornwell was a man of great force and influence, though he was very quiet and reserved. As a preacher, his power lay in his strength of argument and cogency of logic—not in his eloquence. His power over students was remarkable. As a teacher he sought truth, law, and principle. He was a man of great common sense, and noble character.

Director of Student Activities

"Our hats are off to the man who stands above the criticism of those who have no conception of what he has to contend with. We regret that those who do not know the man may never have the opportunity to possess this priceless gift of friendship, for students are often too hasty in criticizing. In this brief space, we wish to acknowledge his interest in the University and advance the hope that his dreams may come true for a bigger and better University of South Carolina."

WILLIAM L. LAVAL

"A man who commands the respect of the students whom he trains off the field as well as on—a man who sets a worthy example in sportsmanship and gentlemanly conduct as well as in athletic achievement. The success of the University teams in Southern Conference circles and state competition is all due to his untiring efforts. We're behind you Billy and that combination can't lose."

CHEERING at Carolina took on a new color this year. The old custom of separating the Co-eds from the men was abandoned and evidently added to the volume of sound that rocketed back and forth at the football games. Perhaps the girls succeeded in awakening a spark of life in the men. Who knows? At any rate, the plan worked so successfully that the cheer leaders encountered difficulty in the Furman game when trying to keep the cheering section quiet enough for signals to be heard on the field. That's the kind of spirit Carolina needs. The cheer leaders should not be forced to drag yells from the throats of the students but should act as leaders to produce uniform cheering.

Carolina 7 — Duke 0

Captain Miles Blount, Fullback

Carolina's sophomoric Gamecock aggregation opened their 1931 season with a 7-0 triumph over the formidable Duke Blue Devils, Wallace Wade's first team at the Durham institution.

Nearly 15,000 spectators jammed the fairgrounds stadium to witness the clash between Carolina's widely heralded sophomores and Wade's first football team at Duke.

Making a splendid come-back after the Blue Devils, with the aid of a short kick which the Tarheels recovered on Carolina's 43-yard line, had backed the Gamecocks to their own 2-yard line, the Birds presented a rock-like defense while the backs blocked and ran well. Fred Hambright punted out from back of his own goal and Duke never again offered a serious scoring threat.

Henry McManus, Tackle

The Gamecocks registered the lone score of the game early in the second quarter. Curran Hughey pounced on a Duke fumble on the Devils' 25-yard mark and from this point Earl Clary, in a series of line bucks and end runs, crossed into the end zone with the ball. On the first play Clary hit tackle for a yard. He then attempted a pass but was swamped for a 5-yard loss when no receiver got clear. Another line play failed and on the fourth down Clary fought his way to the 7-yard line, worming his way through for a gain of 22 yards and a first down. Shinn lost a yard at center but Clary gained two at the same spot and on the next play Clary skirted left end for a touchdown. Chuck Hajek, trusty-toed Carolina lineman, converted the extra point with a placement that split the uprights.

The running of Clary and Shinn, Hambright's punting, Captain Blount's blocking, and the work of the entire line featured the victory.

Georgia Tech 25 — Carolina 13

Georgia Tech's Golden Tornado proved too strong for the Gamecocks in the second contest of the season although Carolina threw a scare into the Tech camp by overcoming a 13-0 lead and tieing the score at the end of the half at 13-all. The Georgians, however, counted twice more in the second half while holding the Gamecocks in check, and maintained their reputation for playing fine football on their home field, Grant Field in Atlanta.

Grayson Wolf, Carolina's ball-tossing reserve quarterback, entered the fray in the second period and tossed a series of aerial bombs which cleared the way for Carolina's two touchdowns. The Bird come-back began when Tech fumbled on its own 35-yard line and Carolina recovered. After two line plays had failed, Wolf tossed a 20-yard pass to Clary to place the ball within 15 yards of the goal line. Three line plays again netted little yardage and Wolf shot a pass to Clary on the fourth down for the score. Hajek place-kicked the extra point.

After a pass, Wolf to Clary, had netted an 18-yard gain and placed the ball on Tech's 48-yard line, Wolf faked another heave to the Gaffney back, but instead passed to Hambright who raced to Tech's 10-yard line before being dragged down. Two line smashes and a lateral failed to gain and Wolf again passed to Hambright for the second Carolina score. A pass play failed to add the extra point and the score stood 13-13 as the half ended.

Slocum snagged a pass after it had been knocked high in the air by Shinn and raced 10 yards for Tech's first touchdown in the opening quarter while a 40-yard pass, McArthur to Barron, paved the way for the second score. Barron skirted right end for six yards and the Tornado's second touchdown. Twice more in the second half, once in the third quarter and once in the fourth, Coach W. A. Alexander's boys pushed over touchdowns. Hart circled right end for 12 yards for the third score while Cherry crashed through the line for 25 yards and the final tally.

Joe Shinn, Gamecock center, suffered a leg injury in this game that kept him on the sidelines the remainder of the season.

Earl Clary, Halfback

L. S. U. 19 — Carolina 12

Louisiana State University scored a thrilling 19-12 victory over the Gamecocks in a night game played at Baton Rouge when the Bengals rallied to overcome a 12-7 lead which the South Carolinians had established at the half.

The birds were the first to score, tallying shortly after the kickoff when Bryant Adair crashed through to block an L. S. U. punt. A beautiful punt by Hambright had gone out of bounds on the L. S. U. 2-yard line and when Torrence, Bengal back, attempted to punt out from behind his own goal line, Adair blocked the kick and Captain Blount recovered over the line for a touchdown. The try for extra point failed.

L. S. U. rallied and a short while later took the lead when after a drive which had placed the ball on Carolina's 24-yard line Almokary tossed a pass to Fleming, who made a sensational catch and sprinted for a score. Almokary placed-kicked the extra point and L. S. U. led 7-6.

Wolf's brilliant 31-yard return of an L. S. U. punt to the Bengal 37-yard mark placed the Gamecocks in scoring position and after two line plays Wolfe shot a long pass to Clary. The ball was knocked in the air by Smith, of Louisiana State, and when it came down it nestled in the arms of Clary across the goal line. Wolf's place-kick for extra point failed.

The Tigers came from behind in the third quarter when Fleming again scored on a pass from Almokary, and the victory was clinched in the fourth quarter when Almokary hit the line for two yards and the Tiger's final touchdown.

Carolina 21 — Clemson 0

South Carolina defeated its ancient rival, Clemson, in its fourth game of the season, 21 to 0, for the Bird's first victory over the Tigers in four years. Clemson fought valiantly in the first half to hold Carolina 0-0 when the second quarter ended, but led by a hard charging line, Clary, Shinn, and Blount were able to advance the oval into the end zone three times during the second half while Jess Neely's eleven was battered down in their path.

In the first half the Birds were continuously in Clemson territory but all efforts to score were nullified by the brilliant Clemson defense. Opening the second half, the Gamecocks marched straight to a score with Clary lugging the ball on practically every play. He scored on a sweeping end run that, although it netted only two yards, would have proved a sufficient margin of victory. Hajek place-kicked the extra point, the first of three during the day.

after Curran Hughey had recovered a Clemson fumble and the Birds had been halted in their touchdown march on the Tiger's 8-yard line. Clemson punted out to mid-field. Clary and Shinn on line smashes added 15 yards and Clemson was penalized 15 yards for roughness. A pair of line plays placed the ball on the Tiger's 13-yard mark and Shinn, faking a pass, hit the center of the line for 13 yards and a touchdown. Hajek again converted.

The Gamecocks tallied their third score a short while later, Captain Miles Blount crashing over from the two-yard line for the touchdown after Clary and Shinn had sliced off tackle and hit center to advance the ball deep in Bengal territory. Hajek place-kicked the extra point.

Played before 13,000 persons, the game was witnessed by the usual colorful throng annually attracted to a Carolina-Clemson game. Blocking and hard tackling in both line and backfield featured in Carolina's victory.

GRAYSON WOLF, Quarterback

Carolina 26 — Citadel 7

Led by the redoubtable Earl Clary, Carolina continued its march to the state grid championship with a smashing 26-7 victory over Citadel's Bulldogs at the Orangeburg county fair. The Gamecock's first score came early in the first period after "Skipper" Adair had blocked a Citadel punt on the Bulldogs' 10-yard line. A 15-yard penalty set the Birds back at this point and on the first play Clary heaved a 25-yard pass to Buddy Laval for a touchdown.

Quarterman got off a short punt in the second quarter and the Gamecocks put the ball in play on Citadel's 30-yard line to begin another scoring march. Passes were mixed in with line plays to advance the ball to within one yard of the goal and Hambright went over for the touchdown. The pass from center on the extra-point try was bad and Carolina failed to convert.

"FUZZ" FREEMAN, Guard

Citadel's touchdown came about midway in the second period after three consecutive penalties, one for 15 yards, had backed the Gamecocks up against their own goal. Jennings hit center for a yard and the score.

After Hajek had intercepted a Citadel pass and run it back to mid-field, Clary contributed one of his most sensational runs of the season, skirting right end and shaking off half a dozen tacklers to run 48 yards for a touchdown. Featured by a 19-yard run by Captain Blount and several shorter gains by Clary, Carolina tallied its final touchdown in the fourth period, Clary hitting right tackle for the score.

The Bulldogs failed to threaten, McIntosh showing up to the best advantage for the cadets, turning in runs of 19 and 22 yards as well as shorter gains through the line. The victory was Carolina's second within the state.

Carolina 27 — Furman 0

Carolina clinched it's first undisputed state football championship in nineteen years by defeating Furman's Purple Hurricane, 27-0, before 10,000 spectators in the Fair Grounds Stadium. Superb defensive football marked the play of the Gamecocks as the Hurrican backs were stopped time and again at the line of scrimmage and practically every Carolina touchdown came as the result of defensive tactics. Furman's widely heralded passing attack acted as a boomerang, two touchdowns resulting from the Bird's interception of aerial bombs. Altogether, Carolina intercepted six passes during the afternoon.

NOLAN RABY, End

The Gamecocks scored about midway in the opening quarter when Alley fumbled Hambright's high punt and Adair recovered for Carolina on Furman's 3-yard line. Three line smashes netted only two yards and on the fourth down a double reverse pass, Hambright to Shinn, went for a touchdown. Hajek place-kicked the extra point.

After Furman had recovered a Carolina fumble on the Hurricane's 20-yard line, the Baptists' board of strategy called for a pass and Clary intercepted it, running it back for 25 yards and a touchdown. He squirmed away from Pittman in making the run.

With the ball nearly in mid-field, Furman again resorted to the air, finding the Carolina line impregnable. Hajek drew in one of Pearson's heaves and raced 45 yards for a touchdown. Wolf place-kicked the extra point. Gamecock reserves had the ball deep in Furman territory as the half ended.

7-yard line, and on a lateral, Hambright to Shinn, the latter skirted left end for the touchdown, aided by the timely blocking of Blount.

Carolina 6 — Florida 6

Two minutes of wild aerial explosions that brought each eleven a touchdown served to brighten up a listless 6 to 6 tie game between Carolina and Florida at Tampa before a capacity crowd of 9,000 persons. The game almost duplicated a tie score contest of a decade ago played in Tampa, the 1921 affair ending in a 7 to 7 deadlock.

The Gamecocks and Gators seemed evenly matched, Florida playing mostly in Carolina territory in the first two quarters and Laval's charges reversing the situation in the closing stanzas. Florida made nine first downs against five for Carolina.

The Birds, however, outgained the Gators, 259 yards to 139 in rushing, and completed four of their 13 passes for 125 yards while the Floridians gained but ten yards on two complete passes in seven tries.

Al Rogero, Gator triple threat ace, snagged a Carolina pass in the closing minute of the first half, shook off one tackler and raced 65 yards down the sidelines behind perfect interference for a touchdown. Pheil, Florida left tackle, made a valiant try for the extra point but Gilmore, Carolina reserve center, broke through and smeared the kick before it had gotten under way.

Grayson Wolf heaved a 40-yard pass to Astor Fleming who ran 15 yards after taking in the oval for Carolina's lone touchdown. Only one minute and ten seconds remained to be played when the Wolf-Fleming combination functioned to save Carolina from defeat. Jubilance took possession of Carolina fans at the game when the Gamecocks scored for Hajek had missed only one extra point try in six games and it looked as if the Birds would eke out a 7 to 6 victory. However, a bad pass from center spoiled Hajek's chance of pulling the game out of the fire.

a 21-0 victory. State had established itself as a formidable foe for the Birds since it had defeated Duke and held North Carolina to a 3-point margin.

Taking the ball on State's 47-yard line, the Gamecocks marched to their first touchdown in the opening period, a 15-yard pass from Wolf to Laval featuring in the drive. Fleming went over from the two-foot line for the touchdown. Hajek place-kicked the extra point.

The Birds retained this 7-0 lead until the fourth quarter when they chalked up another pair of touchdowns. McQuage punted out of bounds on State's 46-yard line just as the third period ended and from here the Gamecocks swept to a touchdown with a sustained power drive. Shinn, Blount, and Wolf played a large part in the march, Blount going across for the touchdown. Hajek again converted.

Hambright broke into the clear after hitting a hole at right tackle and raced 43 yards to State's 6-yard line and after a 5-yard penalty against Carolina, Wolf hit the center of the line for 11 yards and a touchdown. Wolf place-kicked the extra point. The quarterbacking of Grayson Wolf, who also did a major portion of the ball carrying for the Gamecocks, was a feature of the game. The Birds were without the services of Clary, who had received a bad knee injury in the Florida fray. Shinn also played only a few minutes.

State threatened only twice, once ending a drive with an incomplete pass over the Carolina goal line and losing the ball on their second thrust into Carolina territory on downs. The second attempt carried to the one yard line but there two line plunges failed to gain and the ball was given to the Gamecocks. The game was the last home stand of the regular season for the Gamecocks and the first appearance of the team on Melton Field during the season, as the other home games had been played it the State Fairgrounds' Stadium.

Carolina 6 — Auburn 13

Completing all of their scoring in the first half, Auburn's Tigers won, 13 to 6, from South Carolina in a Thanksgiving Day game played in Montgomery. The Gamecock's touchdown came in the first half, Wolfe crossing the goal line after receiving a lateral pass from Hambright in the second quarter. The game was marred by frequent penalties and fighting, Meers, of South Carolina, and Molpus of Auburn being ejected for slugging.

Trailing 13 to 6 in the third quarter, Earl Clary, who played one of his best games of the season despite a knee injury which he favored with a noticeable limp throughout the game, led the Gamecocks to the Tiger one inch line, but Auburn stopped Clary on an attempted end run on the fourth down.

The scoring opened in the first quarter as Kimbewll, Auburn back, broke through right tackle and scampered 79 yards for a touchdown. Hatfield's placement kick was good. Carolina then opened up with a passing and running attack from their 26-yard line with Clary leading the drive. A pass, Wolf to Laval, was good for 58 yards, placing the ball on Auburn's 16-yard line. In four plays Clary carried the ball to Auburn's five-yard mark where Wolf and Hambright worked a lateral pass that sent the former over for the score. Hajek's kick for placement was wide.

Seemingly on their way to victory, Coach Billy Laval's team started another drive from its own 40-yard mark, Clary carrying the ball on almost every play. Reaching the Auburn 26-yard line Carolina was halted when Meers, Gamecock tackle, was sent from the game for slugging and Carolina penalized half the distance to the goal.

Taking the ball on its own 20-yard line, Auburn uncorked two brilliant passes to sweep down the field for the second touchdown. The first, Hitchcock to Grant, carried to mid-field and the second, Hitchcock to Dupree, was good for the remaining distance. Both times Clary made a desperate effort to reach the receiver but his tired legs failed him. Hitchcock failed to kick the extra point.

With the exception of one spurt which carried the Gamecocks to the Auburn one yard line, the second half found both teams hurling passes in an effort to score.

Carolina led in first downs, 11 to 8, and gained more consistently through the line than did the Tigers. Clary, Wolf, and Hambright brought the Turkey Day crowd to its feet time after time but the scoring punch was not to be found as the ball neared the Tiger's goal.

A galla day for the Birds, a long sought for revenge after three years of waiting.

Carolina 7 — Centre 9

ALLEN CORRELL, Center

Centre College's Praying Colonels defeated a sluggish South Carolina Gamecock team in a post season charity game, played on Melton field, 9 to 7. The Kentuckians outplayed Carolina throughout the game, the Gamecocks fumbling in costly fashion time after time.

The Colonels marched to Carolina's 7-yard line in the first quarter after gaining possession of the ball by virtue of a Gamecock fumble and there were halted. Hambright stepped back to punt but fumbled the pass from center, recovered and was tackled by Noe behind the goal for a safety. Centre added to this two-point advantage in the second quarter after Coach Billy Laval had run in an entire team of substitutes, scoring in seven plays from its own 40-yard line. Barksdale caught a pass from Kottler for 11 yards and then caught another by Tenekat for 24 yards to put the ball on the five-yard line, from where Noe in two tries bucked the ball over for the score.

LESTER HAMILTON, Center

Bryant Adair, whose play at his tackle position was the only shining light in the performance of the Birds, blocked Tenekat's punt in the third quarter and straight line plays netted the intervening 25 yards between the point of recovery and the goal. Clary and Shinn did most of the ball carrying, Clary scoring with a dive over the center of the line. Hajek place-kicked for the extra point.

From that point on, however, the fighting Colonels smeared every effort of the Gamecocks and staged a stirring rally of their own in the closing minutes of the game. The Centre team piled up 12 first downs to Carolina's 5. Noe, Tenekat, and Moody played stellar ball in the Colonel backfield and Ruffini and Barksdale, ends, were brilliant performers. Adair was Carolina's best man, and Clary looked good for a few brief moments.

BILL BARRENTINE, Fullback

ELLIOTT MCCARRELL, Manager

The defeat was stunning, since Carolina had been doped to win by a comfortable margin and Coach Laval had announced he would test out much of his next years material. ## Varsity Basketball

Captain Curran Hughey, Guard

Playing sixteen state games, winning nine and losing seven, the University of South Carolina 1932 Basketball team finished third in the race for the state championship, which Furman captured for the third straight year. The Birds were an in-and-out lot all the season, playing brilliantly at times and returning probably the next night to bore the spectators with a dull exhibition. Carolina's two best games were perhaps against the three-time state champions, Furman. In the first contest with the Hurricane in Columbia, the Birds with the aid of a burst of speed shortly before the half ended drew up to a 15-15 tie with the Baptists as the teams left the court for the intermission. A nip-and-tuck fight followed in the final twenty minutes, which saw the Hurricane triumph in a thrilling last-minute rally by a margin of seven points.

Bryant Adair, Center

Going to Greenville for the return game, Carolina gave an even better account of itself against Dizzy McLeod's powerful Hurricane. Although Furman led most of the way, Carolina was never far in the rear and it was only by virtue of another strong finish that Furman nosed out the Birds, 22 to 19.

Challenged by strong opposition occasionally, Furman had a difficult time in keeping its season record clear, but the smooth Baptist five nevertheless sailed through fourteen consecutive state contests without a defeat. This record included in addition to a three-point victory over Carolina, two-point wins over Wofford and the Citadel.

Jack Douglas, Guard

Peter Richards, Guard

Grayson Wolf, versatile Carolina forward, led the scoring on the Carolina team and ranked high in the state scoring with 118 points. Wolf was at his best against Presbyterian College, registering 19 points. Richards, DuPre, Watson, Powell, Nevergold, Smith, and Killingsworth were the most consistent performers for Carolina throughout the season.

Captain Curran Hughey, relegated to the sidelines because of a weak knee, saw little service, although he played a big part in Carolina's victory over the College of Charleston on the latter's home court. DuPre was one of the most outstanding guards in the state. Much of Carolina's success is due to his heady floor work and passing.

Coach A. W. Norman early in the year divided the candidates into two lots: one small and speedy and the other tall and a little slower. At times he inserted a whole new team into the game, a policy which proved effective in some of Carolina's victories.

Seven of Carolina's games were decided by three points or less. Probably the toughest loss of the season was at the hands of Wofford's Terriers in the University Field House. With some five minutes left to play, the Birds were out in front, 24 to 17. The Methodists suddenly came to life and scored eight points while the Birds were held scoreless, Wofford winning 25-24. The Terriers also won a return game in an overtime period at Spartanburg, 35 to 32. With a bare three seconds to play, Smith who had been fouled, dropped in a throw from the foul line to tie matters at 30 all. Wofford, however, outlasted the Gamecocks in the extra five minutes to take a second straight victory and clinch no worse than a tie for second place, which it later won. Other close losses were a two-point reverse at the hands of Clemson and the three-point loss to Furman. The tide did not always go against the Gamecocks, however, Clemson being beaten in a return engagement by two points, the Citadel being bested by the same margin, and Newberry taking the short end of a one-point score.

Buck Smith of Columbia and a mainstay at center was elected captain for the 1933 cagers with Grayson Wolf, stellar forward from Charleston, as alternate.

Bob Bailey of Columbia was manager.

Freshman Basketball

In view of this year's brilliant freshman cage team which walked over fourteen consecutive opponents without the loss of a game, scoring at the rate of 52.3 points per game, students and alumni alike are well justified in expecting a good team in 1933.

Only three times during the season were the powerful Biddies held under 40 points and in each instance the feat was penalized in a return game in which the yearlings scored more than 40 points.

Dana Henderson, brilliant and hard-working center, tallied 88 field goals and 18 foul shots for high-point honors with 194 points. In addition to his ability to score points, Henderson was a consistent defensive player and figured largely in holding down the score of the opponents.

Fred Tompkins came second in the scoring with 188 points. This lad rang up 36 points against Spartanburg High for the highest individual score made during the season, collegiate or otherwise. Fred played only in nine of the fourteen games, joining the squad at mid-term.

Bennie Tompkins, was third with 185, and was first in foul shots, making good 35 times from the foul line. Bennie led the floor attack in every game, excelling in passing and feeding the ball to his mates in shooting position.

John Rowland, non-shooting guard, but a nonpareil at passing, played a consistent game all the season, confining his work to feeding the ball to his unerring forwards. Laurie, a long-shot artist and Ray and Evans, reserves, saw much service during the season.

Track

Capt. Frank Bostick, High Jump

Showing marked improvement as the season progressed, Carolina's field and track team, despite the fact that they won only one dual meet, displayed form that predicted a brilliant 1932 season. Although the Birds annexed victory only in the Furman meet while losing to P. C., Davidson, and Clemson, steady development was apparent in all events and resulted in the Gamecocks garnering second place in the State track meet.

Bowing only to the strong Presbyterian College aggregation, which won handily with its 64½ point total, Carolina, with 38 points, nosed out Clemson, scoring 34½, for second place in a spirited meet. Four new state records were established, two of which were set by Bird athletes. Frank Bostick, who incidently annexed high scoring honors for the meet with 12 points, beat his own high jump record by an inch and a half to hang up a new mark of 6 feet 3 inches. In the shot put Curran Hughey, who showed consistent improvement throughout the season, also boosted his own record by tossing the heavy ball 41 feet 3 inches. The Biddies also did well in the state meet, ranking second only to the strong Cub team from Clemson.

the Roosters 93⅓ to 32⅔, with Turk Osman, who gained high score with 13 points, in the stellar role for the visitors. The meet was held in a pouring rain and the times were consequently slow, but P. C. made a clean sweep of the first places in the track events to win handily.

Carolina won her only home victory of the season against Furman in reducing the Hurricane to a mere zephyr to the tune of 90 to 40. Furman won only four first places in the track events, and but one in the field. The Bird relay team showed to advantage and Hughey returned to form to win the shot put with a 40 foot 9½ inch toss.

Going to Davidson for the next dual-meet, Carolina took an 89½ - 36½ drubbing from the Wildcats. Davidson's tracksters took all firsts except three and tied for one of them. In four events the Wildcats made a clean sweep of points. In the field events the Gamecock squad again showed strength. Bostick, DuPre and DeVaughn starred.

In a hotly contested meet Clemson managed to nose out Carolina for a 64 - 61 victory. The lead changed hands several times and the Birds forged into the lead by a margin of 5 points with only one event yet to be run. The Tigers, however, made a clean sweep of the last race, a half mile run, and eked out a win. Carolina was considerably stronger than Hughey put the shot for a new record of 42 feet 9 inches, which did not, however, count as an official record since state records must be set at the state meet. Bostick was high scorer in the meet with 12 points.

In the state meet, in addition to the record-breaking performances of Bostick and Hughey, Captain-elect Mike Browne took first place in the pole vault, the Bird relay team won second place in their event, and Craig and Adair tied for second in the 220 low hurdles, following Bostick into the tape.

Capt. "Happy" Edens, Shortstop

Marching through a schedule of sixteen college games with fourteen victories and but a pair of defeats, Carolina in 1931 developed what was probably the most powerful aggregation ever to take the field for the Garnet and Black colors in the history of the University.

In winning the State Championship for the second consecutive year, the Gamecocks employed the batting punch of three .400 hitters and five men who smacked the ball for averages well over the .300 mark, playing regularly. The .400 hitters were Bill Harley, who topped the list with a season average of .440, N. B. (Swetto) Hicks, who hung up a score of .404, and Bill Brigham, who registered with an even .400. Archie Vaughn, Captain "Hap" Edens, Buddy Laval, Peter Richards and Bill Jenkins all kept their marks above the .300 line. Bru Boineau and Roy Blair batted over this mark for most of the season but slumped in the last few games to lower their averages.

Bill Harley, Fielder

In addition to sweeping most of its college opposition before it, the University nine divided a two-game series with the Florence Pee Deeans of the Palmetto League, who for a long time led the professionals in the percentage column. In the first game Carolina, with Grayson Wolf, then a Freshman, doing the hurling, dropped a hard-fought contest, 9 to 5, pushing the opposition hard throughout the game. The next day the Gamecock nine reversed the score on the professionals, with Bill Brigham on the slab for Carolina. Entering the ninth with the score deadlocked at 5-5, the Garnet and Black sluggers unlimbered their big bats and poled out hits for a total of four runs, giving them the decision.

The Gamecocks opened their collegiate season in Atlanta with an impressive 11 to 1 victory over Georgia Tech with Bill Brigham slinging them over for Carolina. Brigham was given errorless support while his teammates had a big day at the plate, cracking out ten safeties to nail a safe margin. Tech failed to recover from the drubbing and the following day Bill Ouzts hurled the Birds to a 4 to 3 victory over the Tornado. The Tech batsmen outdid the Gamecocks at the plate, but Carolina excelled on the field, making but one error to the Georgians' two. Jenkins' triple with a man on base was the deciding factor in this win.

BILL BRIGHAM, Pitcher

The Georgia Tech victories proved rather costly, however, in the loss of a veteran twirler due to injuries. Warming up prior to the first game Bru Boineau and "Bo" Keels collided when both went after a fly ball, and Keels' arm was broken in the accident. Veteran slabman of two season, Keels had been counted upon to do a goodly share of the Gamecock twirling but the mishap kept him out of the line-up all season.

ARCHIE VAUGHN, Second Base

Returning to their home state, the Gamecocks next met Erskine's Seceders in Columbia, to annex a pair of easy victories. With Brigham on the hillock the Gamecocks ran wild to win the first game, 13 to 1. The second game evidenced the same superiority as Ouzts pitched the Birds to an 18 to 6 win. The game took on all the aspects of a track meet as the Gamecocks tallied fourteen times in the first inning.

Presbyterian College was the next victim to fall before the Carolina sluggers. The first game was annexed by a 12 to 1 score, with Brigham on the mound, and the second by a tally of 10 to 1, with Ouzts tossing them up.

prise and the Gamecocks were well satisfied with a hard won 6 to 3 triumph.

Invading Charleston for a two-game series with the Citadel cadets, Carolina reached its highest peak in steam roller efficiency. Tallying 17 runs to the Citadels 1 in the opener Carolina came back next day to repeat with a 20 to 7 victory. The latter game was called in the seventh inning on account of the score.

Following the two-day series in Florence with the Palmetto league professionals, Carolina met Davidson on Davis Field, Ouzts pitching the Birds to a 13 to 3 victory. The Gamecocks then took a clean cut win from Clemson, 10 to 1, and journeyed to Newberry to meet the Indians. Repeating their unexpected performance in Columbia, Newberry put up a battle all the way, the score either being tied or in favor of the Indians for the first seven innings. In the eighth, however, the Carolina "Murderers Row" went into action, stepped into Epting's slants and slammed out seven runs to clinch the victory, 9 to 2.

Carolina then returned to Columbia to close its home season with a pair of games with the Citadel. The Gamecocks took the first game in handy fashion, winning 11 to 1, but wilted in the face of determined opposition the next day and dropped their final home game of the season, 8 to 7. This was the first collegiate game lost during the season. Relieving Ouzts on the mound, Bill Brigham gave a stellar performance, garnering a home run and a triple in two successive trips to the plate. Coming to the bat in the ninth, however, with two out and the tying run on third base, he popped a high foul which Red Whittington, Cadet catcher, snagged in a sensational catch, after diving into the crowd.

With the Championship at stake, the Birds moved on Clemson College for a two-game stand. Defeat in both contests meant loss of the state title in spite of the impressive record of the Birds. The Tigers jumped on Brigham in the opener, winning 5 to 4 when Decker, Clemson hurler, doubled in the ninth with the bases full, after Carolina had knotted the score in their half of the inning. Loss of this game meant that the championship lay in the result of the next. Bill Ouzts pitched his best game of the year the next day, whipping the Tigers 5 to 1 to lead the Birds to their second consecutive state title.

"Swetto" Hicks, Catcher

Carolina's team batting average of .320 is probably the best criterion to the team's strength. Statistics show that the Birds made 170 runs and 195 hits during the season, slamming out 23 doubles, as many triples, and eight home runs for a total of 54 extra-base hits, and stealing 56 bases in the sixteen college games.

"Bru" Boineau, Outfield

The pitching staff, handicapped by the loss of Keels, worked under a great strain throughout the season. The entire brunt of the work fell upon two men, Brigham and Ouzts, who did yoeman work during the entire season. Poliakoff was the extra member of the pitching force. Brigham and Ouzts each won seven games and lost one.

Prospects for another state championship nine next year are good as Harley, Hicks, Vaughn, Richards, Jenkins and Roy Blair are slated to return and this list of sluggers should form the nucleus for another powerful nine.

BOXING

"A GOOD OFFENSE IS THE BEST DEFENSE"

Boxing

Captain "Red" Watts, Lightweight

The University of South Carolina 1932 boxing team was a much stronger aggregation than its season record would seem to indicate. Starting the season with a fast, experienced and well-coached outfit the Birds in their first matches gave indications of skill that promised well for a successful season, but injuries and sickness which developed within the squad just after the first matches were largely responsible for the loss of two of the three closing matches.

The climax of the season was the fine showing made by the Gamecock mittmen in the Southern Conference Championship bouts, where Captain J. U. "Red" Watts battled his way through the elimination bouts to annex the Conference lightweight title. This is only the second time in the history of boxing as a sport at the University that a wearer of the Garnet and Black has won such an honor. The only other Gamecock boxer to ever win a Southern Conference crown was Harry Wolf, undefeated heavyweight of the 1928 team.

Johnny Scott, Welterweight

Altogether, Carolina pugilists took part in five matches, emerging victorious in three of these and dropping hard-fought decisions in the others. In the Conference matches two Bird scrappers reached the semi-final round.

In the opening setto of the season the Carolina fighters met Presbyterian College in the University field-house. Showing speed, power and deception the Bird fist-slingers took every fight on the bill. In the heavyweight scrap, Henry McManus, winner of the 1931 Intramural Heavyweight title, made his first appearance and staged a rally, after being battered almost at will by the P. C. heavy, to start a toe-to-toe slugging match that had the fans rolling in their seats, and win the bout by a narrow margin.

The proteges of Coaches Jack Alliston and Frankie DeMars next fought the North Carolina State squad, ekeing out a 4 to 3 margin of victory. Willard, another graduate from the 1931 intramural ranks, battered his way to a clean cut victory over Espey of N. C. State, who was heavily backed by the Wolfpack fans to win in a walk. Tommy Scott, flashy bantamweight, dropped a decision only after an extra round fight. The scrap was lightning fast from start to finish and Tommy tired badly in the extra session.

ALBERT MCCRAVEY, Middleweight

Immediately following the N. C. State match injuries and sickness played havoc with the squad in practically every weight from the batamweight through the heavy. In his smashing scrap with the Wolfpack lightweight Captain Watts crashed one through a little off center and broke his right hand. Jimmy Brailsford wrenched a muscle in his back rather badly during a workout and McCravy injured an arm in like fashion. Henry Willard suffered a badly sprained ankle during a spring football practice scrimmage which handicapped him for the rest of the year. McManus was lost to the squad as the result of a severe attack of tonsilitis and even his understudy, Redding DeVaughn, was confined to the infirmary up to within a few days of his first bout. Aside from these few minor ailments the Gamecock squad was in perfect shape!!

TOMMY SCOTT, Bantamweight

The crippled Bird team rose to the heights to nose out a 4 to 3 victory over a powerful Clemson team, winning the first four bouts and dropping the last three to the Tiger mittmen. Watts, in spite of his fractured hand, fought a cool, courageous battle and clearly outpointed his opponent, throwing punches with a reckless abandon which gave no indication of his injury. Willard, limping badly from his sprained ankle, staved off the rushes of his Tiger opponent and due to clever in-fighting had the other man in trouble several times. He was clearly way out in front on points when his weakening ankle kept him from answering the bell for the final round. In the heavyweight final, heralded as more or less a "grudge" affair, Reuben Seigel of Clemson pounded out a victory over DeVaughn, who was slow in starting a rally which swung the tide of battle for only a moment.

Following the Clemson match, the Birds took to the road for two cards, one with V. M. I. in Lexington and the other with Columbus University in Washington, D. C. The Birds lost the V. M. I. match by the close margin of 4 to 3. Tommy Scott, Brailsford, and DeVaughn won their bouts but the other decisions went to the cadets. All four of the fights won by V. M. I. were fast and furious settos which could have been given to either man in justice. Henry Willard again put up a slam-bang exhibition and several newspapermen expressed surprise when the decision was given to the cadet scrapper. The match with Columbus University was also lost by a score of 5 to 2. Due to the approaching Southern Conference Meet at Charlottesville, Virginia, to be held only a few days after this match Coach Frankie Demars used three substitutees in the Columbus University fights. Calhoun Lemon took Tommy Scott's place as the Bird's bantamweight representative, Heyward Clarkson fought in Brailsford's usual position, and Julius Rivers substituted for Watts. All three substitutes lost their bouts, although they put up courageous and heady battles. The high points in the match from a Carolina point of view were the extra-round decision won by DeVaughn in the heavyweight scrap and Johnny Scott's clean K. O. of his opponent in the welterweight class.

The entire Carolina team was entered in the Conference elimination tournament at Charlottesville, with the exception of Willard, whose name was withdrawn at the last minute because of the failure of his injured ankle to respond to treatment so as to enable him to participate. Quite aside from the brilliant performance of Watts in slugging his way to the championship over a formidable array of competitors, handicapped as he was by a still sensitive injured right hand which he was forced to use for feinting purposes only, other Gamecocks turned in brilliant performances. DeVaughn pulled a surprise by soundly threshing Seigel, the Jewish Clemson heavyweight who had so clearly beaten him in the dual meet with Clemson some time before. Having drawn a bye in the first round this unexpected victory advanced him to the semi-finals. Here, however, he caught a Tartar in Hill, 1931 titleholder, who outpointed him after a fast and furious scrap. Hill later won the Conference championship for his second consecutive title. Tommy Scott also advanced to the semi-finals. A clean cut victory over Terrell of Mississippi A. and M. was credited to him in the first round and he outpointed Williams of North Carolina in a fast and furious battle in the second round, only to lose to Robinson of Washington and Lee in the semi-finals. McCravey and Johnny Scott were outpointed in their first round bouts, and Brailsford, after drawing a first round bye, was beaten by a Florida pugilist in his first fight. One of Watts' outstanding victories was a decision over Henry Glaze of Louisiana State, who had beaten Fulmer of the Navy, 1931 Eastern Intercollegiate Champion. Captain Watts and Jimmy Brailsford were entered in the United States Intercollegiate Olympic Try-outs held at Pennsylvania State College, but both were forced out early in the contests.

JACK CRAWFORD
Director of Physical Education for Men

Physical Education

THE Department of Physical Education is in charge of Jack Crawford, or "Jack" as he is known to the boys. He has stimulated interest for those men who are unable to compete on varsity teams because of physical handicaps. Under his training, some of these same men have become splendid athletes and later became stars on our varsity teams.

Typical of his work are the teams that appear in this section. Without financial aid and with no other stimulus than Jack's own enthusiasm, he has built up splendid fields of activity for the men of the University.

At the present Jack is taking steps to secure a chapter of Sigma Delta Psi, National Athletic Fraternity, at the University. His efforts are very likely to be rewarded before the end of the school year and thus another worthy organization will be brought to the University. Sigma Delta Psi was founded at the University of Indiana in 1912 through the efforts of George Fitch, an eminent Journalist.

The object of the society is the encouragement of the moral, physical and mental development and training among college students.

Archery

THE Carolina Archers have met with gratifying success since this sport was introduced into the University but has been hampered this year due to lack of competition and equipment. Few meets were scheduled and the men had little opportunity of testing their metal. The archers meet the University of North Carolina in April and have scheduled a match with the Champion Japanese Team. This meet will be shot under the English rules of competition. Last year, Carolina placed three men in the first seven of the National Archery Association meet. Dave Stoddard was the best shot on the team.

Fencing

THE Gamecock fencers have engaged in three meets this year, two were dual meets and the third was the Southern Conference meet held at the University of North Carolina. Carolina lost by close scores, Georgia Tech winning, 5-4, and the University of North Carolina annexing the other, 6-3. Carolina is very fortunate in securing Wimberly, instructor of fencing at Georgia Tech, to take charge of this sport next year.

Intramural Basketball

THE 1932 Basketball Tournament was a hotly contested affair among the twenty-six teams that entered. The meet required five weeks and resulted in both good basketball and some comical imitations. Anyway it gave the boys an outlet for their athletic ambitions. An interesting occurance appeared in the quarter finals. The first three games were between fraternities and tenements with the tenements winning in each game. Tenement 10 met Tenement 16 and Tenement 28 met the Independents in the semi-finals. In the finals, Tenement 16 met the Independents with the Independents emerging triumphant, 23-20, after a hard fought battle.

Intramural Boxing

THE call for battle resulted in forty eager contestants for the coveted medal of the squared-ring. The elimination tournament lasted over a period of three days and afforded much amusement to the audiences that viewed the fighters' efforts. One of the most outstanding finds of the matches was R. F. Cuthberson, Freshman in the School of Engineering and winner of the featherweight crown. Much varsity material was discovered in the lighter weights.

THE University netmen started the season with a four-day trip into our sister state. On April 4th, the strong University of North Carolina team swept all matches winning, 7 to 0. The next day, Wake Forest bowed before our men 4 to 3. On April 6th, Davidson took the long end of a 4 to 3 score and the Gamecocks meeting Catawba College next day, sharpened their spurs and emerged with a 7 to 0 victory.

Returning home, the Gamecocks met Davidson on April 13th avenging their earlier defeat by taking the long end of a 5 to 4 victory. The Birds have yet to meet the following: Furman, April 28; Catawba College, April 22; Citadel, May 4; College of Charleston, May 11.

The Gamecock netmen have not been defeated in the state for two years and are looking forward to a clean sweep of the state for the third straight year. South Carolina has no outstanding players but is a well balanced team of experienced men and should have no difficulty in annexing their third straight State Championship.

NO sport brought more thrills to the co-eds than that of the hockey contests between classes. To the average onlooker, the girls seemed to let caution fly to the wind and slashed out with their heavy sticks in utter abandon. No one team reigned favorite and each contest was won only after a hard fought battle resulting in sore shins and heavy arms. ## Baseball

More enthusiasm was shown by the co-eds as a whole in this sport than in any other field of activity, and a brand of baseball that rivals that of the men was witnessed in the games between the classes. The Sophomores took first honors with the Freshmen in second place.

WORKING with green material, Misses Alexander and Pope developed a group of girls into tumblers of the first water. Any girl was eligible for the class and a rather large representation was made. The following feats were taught: head stands, hand stands, snap-ups, pyramid building, and a head foremost dive ending in a roll. This latter proved to be the best stunt mastered by the co-eds. There was no competition between classes and no girl was chosen winner of the class. Had this been the case, there would have been little choice between the performers of the various feats since each became a specialist in her own field.

FOOTBALL

South Carolina's 1932 Gamecocks, heralded as the greatest team ever to represent the University, got off to a slow start, gradually gathered speed and finished the season with a whirlwind bang, tieing Auburn, previously undefeated and untied and toppling the Plainsmen from an undisputed conference throne, to have a fairly successful season. The Birds took five wins, lost four and tied the last two games on the schedule. Coach Laval did a remarkable job of coaching, almost single handed, since Assistant Coach Rawl was away scouting other teams. Playing four of the country's outstanding teams, Tulane, Auburn, L. S. U. and Villanova, he won one, tied one and lost two by single touchdown decisions.

Four Gamecocks made the All-State mythical eleven, Willard, Shinn, Clary and Meers being so honored. Clary was given honorable mention on the All-American selections. Clary also made the reserve All-Southern team, while Craig, Willard, Shinn, McDougall, Moorehead were mentioned.

Carolina 7—Sewanee 3

The season-opener against Sewanee was a sluggish affair, the Purple Mountaineers holding a 3-0 lead till the last quarter. The Tigers had scored in the second period on a well-placed goal from the field, and apparently had the Lavaliers in check till Grayson Wolf, with minutes to play, ran back fifteen yards from formation and heaved a beautiful forty-yard pass into Captain Freeman's arms. Wolf also converted the extra point and the game ended 7-3 Carolina. Hambright starred on the defense and Clary on the offense. Captain Freeman Was played at full back this game, tho he was later shifted to his old guard position.

Carolina 7—Villanova 6

The Gamecocks traveled to Philadelphia to play their only intersectional game, and came back with a 7-6 victory, although outgained in yards and outplayed the second half completely by Coach Harry Stuhldreher's Wildcats.

The touchdown came in the second period after a vicious Bird attack that kept the ball continuously in Villanova territory culminated in the score on a long pass from Wolf to Tom Craig, who ran fifteen yards more for the score. Wolf also kicked the extra point that eventually decided the game. Hambright had previously intercepted a pass from Cavanaugh, returning it to Villanova's 31-yard line. The second half saw a rejuvenated Wildcat team come back, score in the fourth period after threatening twice, once on the one-foot line where Randour was forced out of bounds, and almost score again. The Bird line held however and the score ended 7-6, Carolina.

Craig, playing his first regular game as an end was the star of the contest, earning himself a first string end berth, Besides Wolf, Meers, Johnson, Shinn and Epps played outstanding ball. Randour, Cavanaugh, Hickey and Grimberg were best for Villanova. Villanova won seven games in a row after this loss and was beaten only by the University of Detroit in its remaining schedule. It boasted a 7-0 victory over Temple in its last game.

Wake Forest 6—Carolina 0

After outplaying, outgaining and outfighting a strong Deacon eleven from Wake Forest, the Birds took their first loss of the season at the hands of the Baptists 6-0 as the result of a forward pass that gained 44 yards in the last minutes of the fourth quarter. A pass from Wolf in that quarter had hit an ineligible man and gave the Deacons the ball on Carolina's 45. They scored on a pass from Ed Shinn, Deacon halfback to Russell, who raced to a touchdown. before this to score, taking the ball once to the three yard line, where Clary was hurt a few plays later, and again within the ten-yard line. Coach Laval started several new men in this game, Captain Freeman being transferred back to guard in the shakeup. Epps and Craig were placed at ends, while the backfield had Clary, Brown, Hamilton, Wolf, Mauney, Hambright and Yonce doing yeoman work.

SOUTH CAROLINA 19—WOFFORD 0

Carolina ran up a 19-0 score over Wofford's weaker and lighter Terriers, with Walker, Yonce and Rabbit Turner doing valiant service for the Birds. The regulars rested in preparation for the stiff Tulane contest the following week. The Birds gained 350 yards from scrimmage to 37 for the Terriers. Vauknight's punting for Wofford was a feature of the game, averaging nearly fifty yards. Yonce's first touchdown came at the end of the second quarter, on a 38 yard run, Clary running his interference. His second was on a four yard smash through the line. Dick Shinn scored the other marker with a nine-yard drive off tackle. The Birds led in first downs, 19 to 4.

CAROLINA 14—CLEMSON 0

Held scoreless the first half, the Gamecocks broke loose the second half for two touchdowns and a 14-0 win over Clemson's Tigers in the State fair Classic. Three chances were offered in the first half to score but every time the necessary punch was lacking. The first Bird marker came when Henry Willard, who played a bang-up game at end, fell on a punt that had touched a Clemson man and registered the score. The second score was a 9-yard pass from Clary to McDougall, who butted his way through two Tiger defensive men over the goal. Grayson Wolf kicked both points after touchdown.

Allie McDougall was the individual star of the game, though Dick Shinn, Clary and Turner played magnificently. Henry Woodward, star Clemson halfback was out of the game. The Birds outgained Clemson, 202 to 70 yards, Shinn being individual high gainer with 84 yards. Clary was next with 59. Carolina had 10 first downs, Clemson four. Captain Miller of Clemson was the Tiger star.

It was the second successive year that the Fair classic was taken by the Birds.

Tulane 6—Carolina 0

A 37-yard twisting run by Don Zimmerman, Tulane's All-American half-back in the first two minutes of play gave the Greenies a 6-0 margin over the stubborn Gamecock machine which then braced and withstood every other Tulane touchdown effort, holding the mighty 1931 champions to that lone touchdown.

Although clearly outplayed, the Birds made two attempts to score in the third quarter, when they advanced the ball deep into Tulane territory, first when Willard recovered a Tulane fumble on the Wave's 27-yard line, driving to the twelve yard line, but losing the ball there on downs. Zimmerman kicking, kicked out of bounds on the 25-yard stripe, but a Carolina pass to the goal was intercepted by Zimmerman himself. Fumbles were plentiful on both sides.

McDougall was praised after the game by Ted Cox, Tulane coach as the best fullback his team had faced this season. The Greenies completely outgained the Birds, 377 yards to 72, Carolina's valiant stands on their own goal being responsible for the lone score. Clary, McDougall, Wolf, Craig and Shinn played good ball.

Louisiana State 6—Carolina 0

Playing 57 minutes on even terms with Biff Jones's Louisiana State eleven, South Carolina succumbed to defeat along 37-yard pass from Yates to Fleming and dropped a 6-0 decision to the Tigers from L. S. U. on the Fair Ground field. The Birds had up to that pass, intercepted five consecutive Louisiana passes. The victory was the third conference victory for Jones's team, who eventually beat Tulane 14-0 to clinch a tie for the Conference crown.

The game was Carolina's homecoming day, and the Gamecocks showed their best form to date of the current season in the contest. Carolina held after a Tiger thrust to the Bird one yard marker in the first quarter and threatened the visitors by a drive down to the L. S. U. 20-yard line just before the half ended. The game see-sawed back and forth till the Bengals made their lone score that ended the game.

Mauney, Willard, Clary, McDougall and Meers starred for the Birds, while Yates, Torrance, Almokary, Leamon, Lobdell and Skidmore shone for L. S. U.

The game was a rubber match, Carolina having beat them in 1930, 7-6, L. S. U. winning last year 19-12 and this year 6-0.

FURMAN 14—CAROLINA 0

Before 10,000 fans, Furman's Hurricane took the State title away from the Birds by a 14-0 decision, the worst beating in points the Flock received this year. Passes led to both touchdowns. Lyles Alley, diminutive Furman back slipped through the line for the first counter after a 34-yard pass had placed the ball in scoring position. Carolina's passing attack was good, but lacked the punch to get over. Carolina had 8 first downs to Furman's five. The first Purple score came when the wind received the ball on Carolina's 47-yard line on a penalty. On third down, Bob Smith hurled a long pass to Hutt which put the ball on the 15-yard line, whence Alley scored on the next play. Adair fumbled the extra point, but picked up the ball and ran it over for the extra count.

In the last period, intercepted one of Carolina's 23 attempted passes and returned it 10 yards to the Birds' 23. Smith passed over the goal to Wood, who dropped the ball. A few plays later, Smith returned a punt to the Carolina 24 and then passed over to Wood who stepped over the goal. Adair made the kick good.

Wolf's long passes of 50 and 60 yards were a feature, but failed to give the Gamecock's a score. Wolf's punts averaged 41 yards. Clary starred on returns of four Furman punts, taking them back for 43, 35, 19 and 28 yards each. Twice on these plays he was almost away, but was nabbed by the Hurricane safety man.

Coach "Dizzy" McLeod, in his first year at Furman, took the state title and beat his old mentor, Coach Laval. The Furman team was beaten once all season, by Army 13-0, in the opening game. They captured the State and S. I. A. A. titles.

Carolina 19—Citadel 0

South Carolina crushed a weaker Citadel Bulldog eleven on Melton field, 19-0, the game having been transferred from the Orangeburg fair date to make room on the schedule for the Tulane game. Earl Clary got his touchdown gallop in form as he scored two of the three made, while Pott Brown tripped across the goal with the other, after a 13-yard pass from Harold Mauney. Two other touchdown plays were called back because of off-sides play.

Citadel, led by their great quarterback, Larkin Jennings, penetrated deeply into Carolina territory in the beginning of the game and later at the start of the second half. But the Gamecocks withstood every threat with a stone wall. Clary was a dynamo in action, crashing through the Cadet line with ease. Robbins, Turner, Yonce, Hamilton, Brown, Wolf, Hambright and McDougall all were substituted freely in the backfield.

SOUTH CAROLINA 7—N. C. STATE 7

After running over the N. C. State Wolfpack for two quarters and holding a 7-0 lead at the half, the Gamecocks fell back before the onslaught of Ray Rex, star sophomore fullback, while the Pack scored a touchdown and McQuage, the State quarterback converted the point to tie the score.

The first half was all Carolina's, with the Birds clicking for the first time this season in big-time fashion. Clary, Mauney, Hamilton et al. beat down the N. C. State defense, scoring after a 51-yard drive down the field. Two passes, for 30 and 12 yards placed the ball in scoring poisition, whence Clary carried it over on a drive through the line.

The second half was as much State's as was the first Carolina's, Rex personally conducting the rampage through the Bird defense. The rejuvenated Wolves scored on a series of off-tackle plays, Rex going over. McQuage tied the score with a perfect kick.

N. C. State had previous victories over Duke, Florida, Davidson and Appalachian and a tie with Wake Forest. Its only loss of the season was to North Carolina, 13-0, in their annual Thanksgiving game, at Raleigh.

SOUTH CAROLINA 20—AUBURN 20

South Carolina's football warriors of 1932 performed the greatest feat of any modern Carolina team when they tied a previously undefeated and untied Conference team, making a bid for an undisputed Conference crown and a clam to the nation's grid championship. Auburn, with victories over Tulane, Georgia, Mississippi, Florida Georgia Tech, Duke, Howard, Erskine and Birmingham-Southern and 252 points to its credit, was practically conceded the game and the crown before the contest, but in face of a 13-0 half lead, Earl Clary and Harold Mauney led a brave Bird comeback that finally knotted the count and tied the great Auburn team. The Bird line succeeded in stopping Jimmy Hitchcock, the Plainsmen's All-American halfback, Phipps and DuPree doing the Tigers' scoring.

"Barney Earl" Clary ticked off two of the Gamecock scores and "Pott" Brown butted across the line for the other. Clary was the leading ground gainer of the day with 110 yards, Harold Mauney, the " 'Cocks" valiant little field general measuring 98; Phipps, leading Auburn pacer was third with 96. Hitchcock gained only 60 yards from scrimmage. Carolina scored more points against Auburn than she did against any other opponent this season; Auburn scored more points against Carolina than did any opponent this season and Carolina scored two more touchdowns against Auburn than any of the Plainsmen's nine other opponents.

The Gamecocks' conference season ended exactly on the .500 mark with 2 wins, 2 ties, and 2 losses. They won three and lost two, outside the conference.

Captain Harry Freeman, alternate captain Gilmore, Ernest Correll, and Tom Brantly are lost to the team through graduation. Dave Meers, brilliant All-State tackle, was also lost through scholastic difficulties.

As a whole the season was mediocre, in spite of the last game finish, which promises a 1933 machine that cannot be stopped in the South. The 1933 schedule as arranged by Dr. Ralph K. Foster follows: Ten games are scheduled. Due to the split

BASKETBALL

BASKETBALL

Carolina's highly heralded basketball team brought South Carolina its first major sports title since the installation of intercollegiate sports at Carolina. Playing the hardest schedule that a Palmetto quint ever faced, the Birds lost only two games, those in early season to Southeastern foes, when the team had not yet the services of Grayson Wolf and Freddie Tompkins, both of whom later proved to be mainstays of the squad.

The climax of the brilliant season was the victory in Raleigh that brought with it the Southern Conference championship. Consecutive victories over the strong teams of Maryland, North Carolina and Duke paved the way to the Gamecock feat. Benny and Freddie Tompkins were unanimously placed on the All Southern team after the tournament while Dana Henderson, lanky center was given a berth on the second team.

Carolina's regular season opened with an extended road trip through Southeastern Conference territory, where the Birds won two and lost two games, their only losses of the season. The opening game Carolina thrashed the University of Tennessee Vols 34-29, with Dana Henderson ringing up 19 points. Continuing victorious, the 'Cocks whipped a small University of the South five (Sewanee) 55-24 in an unexciting tussle. Vanderbilt, one of the strong teams of the South won a tight game 31-29 after the melee had gone into two extra periods, the first defeat of two of the season. A feature game on the schedule with Kentucky's championship team, was lost 44-36 in Lexington. Coach Rupp's charges, every man either an All-Southern or All-American at one time or another, played a hard game and won only when playing their limit. Dana Henderson led the scorers with 18 points.

Carolina did not lose a game since then. Opening their state schedule, the Birds mangled a weak P. C. team to the tune of 64-20, with Grayson Wolf for the first time on the varsity lineup. The score was 35-6 at the half, while the Carolina subs, Captain Smith, Ed Nevergold, Vic Laurie, Son Powell and Bobby Killingsworth, played most of the second half.

Carolina had little trouble thrashing Clemson on the Columbia court, 47-26. The Tigers showed fight at first but when Henderson, Tompkins and Wolf had amassed forty points the visiting charges of Coach Neely apparently gave up.

The most prominent basketball game that Columbia ever witnessed was the Kentucky game February 5, when Freddie Tompkins made his first appearance as a varsity cager and the newly formed quint proceeded to thrash the famed Wildcat five to the tune of 44-38, almost reversing the score of the early season game. Dana Henderson shot 19 points while port-sided Freddie Tompkins looped in 17. A crowd estimated at 3,500 saw the game. Bill Davis, all-Southern guard played the best game for Kentucky, while Benny Tompkins kept Aggie Sale, the Cats' all-American from making many of his famous long shots.

After a first half scare when Citadel climbed to within one point of the Gamecock total, the Birds piled up a 57-36 victory led by Freddie Tompkins who threw in 27 points, many of them circus shots. Surhstedt starred for the Bulldog quint. The Carolina second team played a great deal of the game.

Carolina won its second conference victory easily when it thrashed N. C. State 49-25 on the Cocks' home floor. Two thousand people braved a cold rain to see the contest. Henderson dropped in 17 points, Benny Tompkins 13 and Freddy, in spite of the terrific guarding to which he was suscepted, rang eight. John Rowland and Grayson Wolf played remarkable floor games. The reserves played the last four minutes.

Newberry fell before the Birds in a closely fought game 42-31. Freddy rang up 16 points, but Ingram, sharp shooting Indian garnered 14 to follow closely. Most of the visitor's shots were long floor rings. Rowland, Wolf and Henderson starred and Benny made 13 points to come third.

Carolina downed Newberry at Newberry in a return game 37-27, in which Ingram and Repasky vied with Henderson and Tompkins for honors.

Carolina licked Furman 43-29 and continued on the way to the State title. Playing three games in as many nights Carolina came back to Columbia and licked Erskine, 49-29. Freddy Tompkins rang 16 points. The reserve team played about half the game.

Playing probably the second hardest game of the season against Duke, the team rated strongest in the conference, Carolina's sophomores came through with colors flying and trounced the Blue Devil machine 46-23. Especial care was taken by the North Carolina champs to guard Freddy Tompkins and Dana Henderson and in the meantime Benny rang up 19 points. Thomson and Weaver, potential all-Southern men, were stopped cold, but played a nice floor game. Carolina reserves got into the game in the final minutes.

Carolina found unexpected opposition in Clemson on the trip on the way to the Conference tourney, but edged out a 28-20 victory over the Neelymen. Woodward and Craig played good games for Clemson. Benny Tompkins rang 12 points and Dana Henderson 9.

Carolina finished its regular season with a win against Furman that clinched the State basketball title. 36-26 was the score with Benny high scorer with 9 points. The whole team played a smooth game and scoring was divided.

Birds Take Conference Crown

Carolina entered the Southern Conference Tourney ranked number 1, due to their three conference wins, but were hardly expected to win in face of the teams of Maryland, North Carolina and N. C. State or Duke.

However, the great work of the sophomore regulars and Grayson Wolf carried the Birds to the finals, helped by the heroic work of Buck Smith and Vic Laurie in the very close game with the University of North Carolina in the second round.

Carolina's opening game with Maryland was easy, the Lavaliers marking up 65 points to the 28 of the Old Liners. Freddy broke all scoring records by throwing in 31 points.

Against North Carolina the game went two extra periods before the Gamecocks rang in the winning basket. Vic Laurie and Buck Smith replaced Wolf and Rowland in Coach Laval's effort to replace the weak positions that let the Tarheels take a commanding lead. Final score, 34-32.

Duke proved an easy victim in the last game, 33-21, in spite of a 13-15 lead they held at the half.

South Carolina's tracksters took their first state championship in six years when they downed four other teams at Clinton.

The cinder stars lost only one dual meet, to Davidson by 8 points, and conquered Presbyterian, Clemson and Furman by overwhelming scores.

CAROLINA 72—P. C. 54

Opening the season against P. C.'s Blue Stockings whom they or any other state team had not conquered in a dual meet since 1926, Coach Norman's charges ran away with the field events and got even breaks in the track events to pile up a 72-54 score.

Carolina took all but one field event, Frank Bostick garnering twelve points of the team total, and came in first in four running events. Mike Brown, the 1932 captain, Tom Craig, Jack Fishburne, Teddy Duvall, Bryant, Adair, Curran Hughey and Bostick starred for the Gamecock's.

Hughey surpassed the state shot-put record, heaving the shot 42 feet 3¾ inches. Freeman of P. C. tossed the javelin 180 feet, six inches to break the javelin record. Neither is official since records are considered only when made in the State meet.

The Bird tracksters took eleven firsts against the Hurricane in Greenville, and swept to victory in spite of the brilliant work of Lyles Alley, versatile Purple athlete, who scored 11 of his team's points.

Frank Bostick took 10 points to come second in individual scoring. Carolina took all three places in the pole vault, Brown, Craig and Adair all tieing for first place at ten feet.

Duvall, Wetmore, Smith, Bostick and Donelan all took firsts in the track events. Ewing, Hughey, Bostick, Craig, Adair, Woodward placed first in their respective field events.

Carolina 72—Clemson 59

Curran Hughey and Bryant Adair beat state records in the shot put and discus as the Varsity crushed the Clemson Tiger squad, 72-59. Hughey's toss of the shot was 41 feet, 10½ inches; Adair threw the discus 131 feet 5 inches.

Adair, Freeman and DeVaughan finished 1, 2, 3, in the discus for Carolina. Wetmore, Donelan and Duvall took the three places in the 440-yard run. Brown and Adair tied for first in the pole vault. Buck Smith took first in the 220 and 120 hurdles.

The season of 1932 marked the beginning of the South Carolina State Collegiate Baseball League, one of Billy Laval's pet schemes and of which he was a most earnest backer. The league, composed of Newberry, Erskine, Clemson, Presbyterian and South Carolina played a schedule which gave every team four games with every other team.

Playing an uphill struggle, the state champion Gamecocks battled their way through the season to tie Clemson in the last game of the scheduled season. A post season series was arranged, the first two games; played at Tigertown, going to Jess Neely's cohorts and giving Clemson the state baseball title which Carolina had held ever since Billy Laval came to Carolina as coach, or three years before.

The Gamecocks played erratic ball through the season playing in major league style some days and others not even showing a slim knowledge of the game.

Grayson Wolf and Bill Outz took the brunt of the hurling assignments for the year, with Poliakoff as a relief man. Bill Harley, Jenkins, Blair, Hicks, Vaughan and Hambright performed the heavy hitting of the season.

The only series with a non-league opponent, Georgia, opened the season in Columbia. The first game went to the visiting Bulldogs 4-1, as Chandler pitched a magnificent game against Wolf. Carolina divided the series, taking the second game 7-3. Wolf got credit for winning the game after relieving Outz. Harley, Blair and Correll led the Bird stick work.

The varsity season opened in Columbia against Erskine. Carolina took both games, 8-2 and 5-4. In the first game Wolf let the Toddmen down with six hits, all scattered as Hambright, Reynolds and Hicks blasted out hits that brought in eight runs. The second game was more even, Bill Outz pitching a beautiful four hit game which Carolina won 5-4.

Presbyterian College, the weakest team in the league proved easy opposition the first game of their series with the Birds at Clinton, the Birds making 21 runs on 15 hits, aided by 17 Presbyterian errors, which set some kind of record. Wolf pitched the game and helped in the batting orgy.

The second game proved a reversal of form, the Blues holding a 3-run lead as the game went into the ninth inning. Carolina, led by Catcher Bill Jenkins, went wild and scored four runs to take the game 5-4 and remain undefeated in the league.

Jenkins was the star of the game making four runs on four hits in the game. Grayson Wolf got credit for the victory, having relieved Outz in the seventh.

The famed House of David team of beared players played the 'Cocks on a trip through the South. The visiting team of professionals took a slugging bee 16-8 as Laval used three pitchers trying to stop the spree of the visitors. Poliakoff started on the mound, holding till the third and relieved in turn by Outz and Wolf. Bird batters also went on a batting party but could only equal half the Beard score.

Clemson's strong team played the first series between the two teams in Columbia. Grayson Wolf pitched a shut-out in the opening game which the Carolina team took 4-0. The Tiger batsmen could only garner seven scattered hits off the offerings of the lanky Gamecock. Ernest Correll was the man of the moment, smashing out three hits and bringing in all four of the Bird counters.

In the second Clemson game the Lavaliers met their first league defeat, Clemson smashing ten runs off Outz, Poliakoff and Wolf while the best the Cocks could push across was four. The Birds still held first place in the league standings by virtue of five wins and one defeat.

Newberry, rated as the strongest contender to the Gamecocks crown, took the first game of their series 4-1, in spite of being outhit 9-8 by the Carolina batsmen. Bill Harley connected for three safeties during the game.

Grayson Wolf came back at the Indians the following day, giving them eight meager hits and only two runs while the Birds, led by the fielding and batting of Lefty Blair piled up ten runs on as many hits. It was Newberry's first league defeat.

The first game Friday was rained out so a doubleheader was played Saturday afternoon. Clemson jumped on Wolf in the sixth inning for nine runs and took a 13-9 decision. Fred Hambright added to the color of the game with his second home run of the season. In the nightcap Outz let the Cats down with four hits and the Birds took a 5-2 decision.

Grayson Wolf pitched the only no-hit game of the season as Carolina whipped P. C. against 22-1 in the first of the last series. A long outfield fly let a man come home and robbed him of a perfect game.

In the second game Outz held the Blues for eight innings and was relieved by Wolf. The game lasted 14 innings, the Birds finally winning 9-8. Wolf got credit for the win.

Carolina played the last series of the regular game of the season against the league-leading Newberry Indians and took both games to go into a tie with Clemson for first place in the league. The scores against Newberry were 13-5 and 9-5. Wolf and Outz were the winning pitchers. Lefty Blair hit two homers and a three-bagger in the series.

BOXING

With only three men from the 1932 squad from whom to build a mitt team, Coach DeMars developed several promising scrappers, mostly graduated from intramural ranks and filled out a team that gave every opponent plenty of opposition.

The outstanding feat of the season was Captain Henry Willard's dope-upsetting victory in the Southern Conference middleweight division, duplicating Red Watts' win in the lightweight section in 1932. Willard disposed of Jack Fabri, North Carolina State in the opening round and thrashed his way to the crown with clean-cut decisions over Sam Giddings of North Carolina in the second round and Hirum Smith of the championship Virginia team in the finals.

CAROLINA 4—PRESBYTERIAN 3

Carolina opened its season against Presbyterian College in Columbia before examinations. Only three men on the Carolina team had ever before engaged in intercollegiate matches, namely Henry Willard, Bill Callahan and Kid Rivers.

Several preliminary matches were fought by Bobby Moore, Jack Nathans, James Chaffin, John Meadors, Sid Wilkenfeld, Bryan Walters and others. Meadors and Nathans later fought in regular varsity matches.

Bill Geddings opened in the 115 pound weight and apparently had his opponent beaten easily when suddenly he went to pieces in the final fray and lost the decision on points to the P. C. scrapper.

Kid Rivers outclassed his opponent in the featherweight class to even the score with the visitors. In the third match Bill Humphlett, 1932 intramural champ, pounded away for three rounds on even terms with the Clinton man, but the judges gave the visitor the benefit of the doubt and the decision. The result was unpopular with the crowd.

Frank Cuthbertson, another intramural champ, again evened the score with a clean cut win in the lightweight division. Bill Callahan, a veteran of the 1931 squad, but who did not fight in 1932 because of injuries received in chemistry lab., took an easy win in the middleweight fight, mainly through defensive tactics. Carolina clinched the match when Captain Willard came back after losing the first round through a knockdown, and battered Bolick of P. C. for the other two rounds to register the fourth Bird win. Henry McManus lost the heavyweight fight which proved rather slow.

Carolina 3½—N. C. State 4½

Carolina met N. C. State in Raleigh in their only out of state match, and lost to the more experienced and veteran Wolfpack. Bill Geddings, forced to reduce five pounds in order to weigh in, was weakened and lost to Bilisoly of State on points. The fight was very close, nevertheless. State gained an advantage when Cuthbertson took a licking at the hands of Nease, the Pack's classy featherweight. Kid Rivers came through with a decision over Sauls to score the first Bird victory in the lightweight class. Meadors of Carolina was the first knockout victim of the season when Dunaway of State put him to sleep in the second round of their match. This was in the newly created 145 pound division.

Charlie Garner, Conference champ in the 155 pound weight and Captain of the State team, lost the first round of their match to Bill Humphlett of Carolina but came back and took the remaining rounds and gained the decision. In the 165 weight Jack Nathans fighting his first varsity match, drew with Hull of N. C. State in an evenly fought match. In the second round Nathans knocked Hull completely out of the ring, but the Northstater came back strong in the final round. Captain Henry Willard fought the feature of the meet when he completely outpointed Jack Fabri, State ace who had scored nine straight wins in his division till Willard beat him. McManus uncorked a terrific right hook that easily won the unlimited fight over Stephens, in the final match of the night.

Carolina 2—Clemson 6

Carolina, beset by injuries, lost five bouts and tied two to suffer their worst defeat in three years and lose the state mitt title with it. Captain Henry Willard won the only Carolina victory of the evening with a clear decision over Megginson of the Tiger squad. Most of the other decisions were very close and afterwards much was said in regard to the judges' decisions.

Lide, Clemson, beat Geddings in the bantamweight class. Featherweight: Crow, Clemson defeated Cuthbertson, Carolina. Rivers, Carolina lightweight fought three rounds with Blitch of Clemson in what the judges called a draw. Bannister, Clemson, beat Humphlett of the Gamecock machine in the welterweight division. Loftin of Clemson and Nathan of Carolina fought to another draw. It was Nathans' second draw in as many fights in the new Junior middleweight class. Middleweight—Willard defeated Megginson. Light-heavy—Medlin, Clemson, decision over Callahan, Carolina. Unlimited, forfeited to Clemson because McManus had become ineligible through scholastic difficulty.

Carolina 2½—L. S. U. 4½

Carolina lost an unscheduled match to L. S. U. here two days after the Birds had lost to Clemson. The more experienced Tiger team was too much for the tired Demars squad. Bill Callahan won the middleweight fight after spotting Khoury 12 pounds, in a hard hitting match. Frank Cuthbertson gained a draw against Phares of L. S. U. and Willard won a forfeit match when Norton of the visitors was unable to fight because of injuries.

Bill Geddings gave Zachariah a good licking for two rounds but lost in the last by a technical kayo. Griffo Griffiths, fighting his first varsity match, gave Luno a shellacking for two rounds but also suffered a technical knockout in the third. Henry Glaze, rated as one of the best lightweights in the south outpointed Kid Rivers in that weight. Joe Johnson, in spite of being out of training, fought Blalock, L. S. U. giant heavyweight for one round but was forced to lose technically because of not being in condition.

Willard Takes Conference Crown

Henry Willard capped an undefeated season by wading through tough opposition to take the Southern conference middleweight crown at Charlottesville, giving Carolina its third champion; the other two were Harry Wolf, heavyweight winner in 1928 and Red Watts, lightweight winner in 1932.

Only three Carolina men were entered because of rulings of the conference officials on the results of dual meets. Kid Rivers won his way to the semi-finals but was eliminated by Bobby Goldstein of Virginia, the ultimate champion. Bill Geddings in the bantamweight was beated by Archie Hahn also of Virginia, who too, won the crown in that weight.

As a whole Coach Demars had a successful season with his team of raw recruits and has a promise of a scrapping team for 1934.

Director of Physical Education for Men

It is through the untiring efforts of Mr. John A. Crawford, instructor in gym work, that several hundred students have become interested in minor sports and special gym work.

The work as laid out by Mr. Crawford offers every opportunity for the student to keep physically fit. For those who wish, the intramural sports, basketball, football and boxing, are available. Tennis, fencing, and golf teams representing the university are most successful in outside competition.

The Gamecock fencers have so far had only one meet, this being with Georgia Tech, and held in Columbia. Carolina showed a clear superiority, and won the meet handily.

We are very fortunate in having Mr. Wimberley, former coach at Georgia Tech, as instructor of fencing.

For the first year in the history of the University the squad numbered among its members a member of the fair sex, Miss Leah Zeigler.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

The Independents, a team composed of a group of experienced players, were again successful in winning the intramural basketball tournament. In the finals, they had comparatively easy sailing to win from Kappa Alpha by a score of 23-10. Tenement 25, in the semi-finals, gave them their hardest fight, forcing the game to a 26-25 count. In the other semi-final game, Kappa Alpha downed Sigma Alpha Epsilon by a score of 25-23.

The Yankees, Tenement 28, Kappa Sigma and Phi Sigma Kappa were also able to enter teams in the tournament. These teams were eliminated in the first round.

INTRAMURAL BOXING

It is the intramural boxing tournament which brings out men who form the varsity squad in subsequent years. Several good prospects were found this season for next year's squad.

Results of finals were as follows:

|---|---|---|
| Flyweight | Charlie Hollis | Nat Heyward |

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL

Interest in intramural football was greatly added to this year by the unusually excellent playing in most of the games. Sigma Nu, Tenement 28, Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Tenement 23 and Sigma Chi all put forth excellent teams. Sigma Nu had a tough time defeating Tenement 28 in the finals by a 13-0 score.

GOLF

The golf team has had only one match at the time the GARNET AND BLACK goes to press, losing a closely fought match to Furman University. Much credit is due Manager George Hart, Landon Jones, Allen Clarkson, and Pat Nelson for their efforts in this direction, as the University makes no provision whatever for this sport.

TENNIS

Carolina repeated its championship hopes in the State tennis race by consecutive victories over Citadel and Furman, the only other schools to enter teams in the race. With Holman, Crum, Collins and Killingsworth as veterans from the 1931 team, there was plenty of experienced material from which to build a team.

The racqueteers, who were captained by Elliot Crum of Orangeburg, opened the season with a trip through North Carolina, where four meets were played.

The strong University of North Carolina team trounced the Gamecocks 7-0 in the opening meet. The Tarheels, led by Bryan Grant, Wilmer Hines and Lenoir Wright, had little trouble in sweeping the match. The only match which the Birds even closely fought was the last doubles event.

Carolina evened the score against Tarheel teams with an easy 7-0 win over Catawba College. The affair was as lop-sided as the score. Davidson took the measure of the 'Cocks with a close 4-3 win. Carolina made an even break on the trip by beating Wake Forest 4-3 in the remaining match.

At home the Carolina netmen did not lose a meet the whole season. Opening against the Davidson team which had beaten them, they came right back with a brilliant 5-4 win. Ed Mann and Dave Ellison played their first varsity matches in the meet. The following match resulted in a clean cut 7-0 victory over the same Catawba team in a return match.

As the season neared an end, Carolina entered the state race which it eventually won.

Opening against a highly rated Furman team, the Gamecock racqueteers swept every event to gain a 7-0 win.

Then in the final dual meet of the season, the team trounced Citadel's Bulldogs 8-1, losing only one match, in the singles. Happy Edens and Ed Mann were the extra two players engaged.

Four members of the varsity made the trip to New Orleans to enter the Southern Conference tennis tournament, namely, Captain Elliot Crum, Bobby Killingsworth, captain of the 1933 team, Marion Holman, and Tommy Collins. They did not advance beyond the second round however.

Five varsity letters were awarded by the Athletic Advisory Board to Holman, Crum, Killingsworth, Collins and Edens.

The frosh team beat Furman in its only state meet to claim the state title. Frosh letters went to Sorentrue, Moore, Foster, Tighe, McIntosh and Blair.

The 1933 Varsity has scheduled the longest schedule a Carolina net team ever attempted. In the opening meet, Davidson beat the team 5-4. The remainder of the schedule follows:

College of Charleston at Columbia, April 20
P. C. at Columbia, April 22
Erskine at Due West, April 27
Furman at Greenville, April 28
P. C. L. at Clinton, April 29
Citadel at Columbia, May 2
Furman at Columbia, May 4
Erskine at Columbia, May 8
City Tourney, May 9-13
Wake Forest at Columbia, May 18
College of Charleston at Charleston, May 19
Citadel at Charleston, May 20

The rankings of the 1933 team are:

CO-ED ATHLETICS

The co-ed athletic program, directed by Misses Virginia Nettles and Nancy Pope, is designed to reach every girl enrolled in the school, and to foster and promote interest in athletics and exercise. During the early months of each session, hockey and volley ball are featured, with intraclass competitions being held. A feature of the hockey season is the annual game between the members of the faculty and the championship girls team. This year the portly and perspiring faculty members pushed through a well-deserved triumph. During the more inclement months rythmic dancing, clogging, tap and folk dancing are taught in the gymnasium. An exhibition given by two classes in folk and rythmic dancing was the high spot of this year's program. In the basketball tournament the lowly Frosh cleaned up by whipping the Seniors, who previously had beaten both Sophomores and Juniors. In the Spring the classes concentrate on tennis instruction and a tournament is being planned as the yearbook goes to press. Track tournaments are another annual affair and receive much attention from the individuals in each class. The meet for the current season is still in the future but candidates for the various events are working out daily.

TENNIS

Tennis is always the most popular form of athletics among the co-eds at the University. It is very gratifying to the athletic directors that each spring quarter the tennis squad increases considerably over the former year. This increase in numbers makes competition for the co-ed varsity team more keen, and a very active interest is manifest during this period.

At this time when the annual is going to press it is impossible to name those who have won the ranking positions on the tennis team, as the seeding of players has not been completed. The method of selecting those for their places on the team is carried on under the supervision of the Department of Physical Education by match play among the squad. This competition usually lasts until late spring, and it is for this reason we wish to apologize for our inability to name the winners.

GOLF

Golf is one of the most enjoyable forms of exercise offered by the Department of Physical Education. This sport does not offer as much opportunity for participation as in other sports, and consequently the number of co-ed enthusiasts engaged is not as large as in other forms of co-ed athletics. Much credit is due the Department of Physical Education as this sport is the newest innovation among the University co-eds. During the very short period it has been in vogue several very good players have been developed as a result of excellent coaching. The golf squad selected the Forest Lake Country Club for their home course, as this course offers a fine lavout with excellent greens. The actual golf instruction and stroke practice were given by Miss Pope and Miss Nettles on the campus three days each week during the spring quarter.

THE remarkable record made by teams representing the University in all branches of sport are due in large part to Head Coach William L. Laval. EARL CLARY
All-Southern Halfback

The "Gaffney Ghost" has galloped on. For four years the scintillating light of South Carolina gridirons, the football luminary of U.S.C.—this was Earl Clary.

Coming to Carolina with his all-southern high school ranking, Clary immediately went to work, and as the outstanding member of his University's great 1930 freshman team, proceeded to flash the names of Carolina and Clary, synonymous to the football world, throughout the nation. With seven touchdowns in his first two contests he gave the warning, which was to be fulfilled, that his previous exploits were to continue.

His shifting, squirming, stiff-arming, and eluding his way for long runs across opponents' goal lines, as well as his great defensive play, netted him the honor of co-captain of the 1933 squad and all-state berths for three seasons. His senior year found the name Clary in first rank on the All-Southern Conference eleven, and with honorable mention for the All-American. Hats off as the Ghost departs!

WITH a thrilling 16-14 victory over Auburn, Carolina closed the 1933 football season with her most impressive record in recent years, having won six, lost three, and tied one. The Gamecocks defeated three Southern Conference foes without allowing a single opponent to score, and claimed a share of the title along with the Blue Devils of Duke, who were the only other undefeated conference team. Carolina also completed the state race without a loss but was held to a scoreless tie by Furman, who claimed the championship along with the Gamecocks. In intersectional conflict, the Roosters fared ill, with losses to both Villanova and Temple.

Led by several senior stars, the Gamecocks played themselves into national recognition, and a place of prominence in the south. Earl Clary struck his old time stride, in mid-season, and was the sparkplug of the team for the remainder of the schedule. Buddy Morehead, co-captain along with Clary, played a great game at guard. CAROLINA'S 1934 basketball team, after running their string of consecutive victories to 35, extending over a period of almost two seasons, finally went down to its one and only defeat of the year at the hands of N. C State in the annual titular tournament at Raleigh. This single set-back, however, played without the services of Dana Henderson and John Rowland, was enough to eliminate the Roosters from the championship race and lost them the crown which they won last year.

The state title fell easily to the Gamecocks, and several of the best teams of the conference bowed to the Carolina five during the regular play.

Freddie Tompkins, Bennie Tompkins, Dana Henderson, Vic Laurie, Henry Gooding, Walter Taylor, Ed Nevergold, George Hart, Kenneth Outzs, Roy Powell, et al, proved that Carolina had as good a team as could be found, but were greatly handicapped by a weak schedule.

Fred Tompkins led the state scorers and Henderson and Ben Tompkins finished third and fourth. Their totals were 251, 170, and 157.

P. C. opened the Birds' intercollegiate season in Columbia but went home on the very short end of a 84 to 9 score.

Wofford proved to be Carolina's closest competitor in the state, but could do no better than hold the Birds to a 44 to 33 win in the Roosters' second game.

Wake Forest came next and the Birds turned back the invaders by a 40 to 23 margin.

The Newberry Indians were the next victims of Carolina's championship team, falling under a 52 to 28 onslaught.

Two thousand fans watched Clemson hold Carolina to a mere 41 to 15 victory at Tigertown. Dana Henderson alone equaled the Bengal's total score for the night.

of Furman, who were perched in first place in the state race, by a one-sided 42 to 18 score.

Erskine, second in the state race, came to Columbia only to go home on the bad end of an 80 to 28 reverse.

Newberry was next on the Gamecocks schedule, and the Indians went down again, this time by 49 to 27, in a fast and interesting contest.

Furman, resolved to hold down the Carolina score in their second meeting, had to be satisfied with 14 points, while the Birds garnered only 49.

Florida's Alligators came to Columbia next and received a good sample of the Birds' wares, by taking the short end of a 52 to 31 score.

The second Florida affair was probably the most exciting and doubtful game played on Carolina's home court. The final whistle, however, found the Birds out ahead of a 36 to 31 decision.

Clemson played a return series with the Gamecocks but in spite of fast, steady playing, was forced to bow to Carolina to the tune of 42 to 17.

In the second game, Clemson increased her score of the night before by only one point, while the Roosters fell off the same amount, the outcome being 41 to 18.

In an invasion of the Tar Heel state, North Carolina State College was the first to fall before her Southern sister by a score of 33 to 27.

Duke was the next on the Gamecock's string, giving them first-class opposition, but the final count found the Gamecocks on the long end of a 28 to 23 score.

North Carolina State Champions were the third unsuccessful team to try to save the face of that state, bowing to the Gamecocks 45 to 30. This last victory assured Carolina of first place in the Southern Conference standings for the regular season, and earned them the No. 1 place.

Carolina traveled to Spartanburg for her final regular game and trounced the Terriers 37 to 31.

"THE best college baseball team I have ever coached," said Billy Laval in expressing satisfaction with the remarkable work of his squad.

Winning the South Carolina League Championship and finishing in a technical tie for first place in the Southern Conference, the Gamecocks, by their excellent records in all departments of play, showed themselves a great team.

Sweeping through the college league with only two defeats in 18 starts, the Gamecocks easily took the state crown. Both setbacks were by 6-5 margins, to Furman and Newberry. Throughout the season the Gamecocks averaged approximately 10 runs per game to their opponents three.

Nine Roosters boasted batting averages of above .300, six of these being above the .366 mark, to raise the team average to .314. Robbins, with a .397, and Hambright at .389, lead the regulars, Hamilton, Roy Blair, and Jenkins following closely.

Wolf led in games won and lost, with seven victories and no defeats, while Captain Bill Ouzts lost two out of nine. Ouzts had a slight edge in statistics, allowing only 47 hits and 24 runs in 71 innings, while Wolf permitted 56 bingles and 29 tallies in 67 frames. Tompkins and Henderson chalked up a triumph apiece.

Clemson had the privilege of becoming the Roosters' first victim, and lost two games. Carolina tallied two runs in the last of the ninth, with two men out, to take a 5-4 decision. Munn hit a homer. In the second conflict Wolf pitched a splendid game, whitewashing the Bengals 6 to 0. Blair and Yonce got triples.

Ouzts and Correll slugged home runs in the 13 to 3 triumph over Furman. The Birds got 11 hits and 7 runs in the seventh. Furman came back the

By walloping Newberry 4-3 and 13-3 the Gamecocks started on their runaway chase for the league pennant. Correll, Yonce, and Munn starred at bat.

In a free-hitting contest Carolina bettered Erskine by 9 to 8, and the next day added another by 11-4. Ouzts pitched well in the second game, supported by the stick work of Blair and Hambright.

With 25 to 5 and 14 to 0 victories over P. C., Carolina built up a substantial margin in the state race, to finish the first half with a won 9 lost 1 record.

Clemson's razzers could not perturb Wolf and the Tigers had to bow 4-3. A beautiful catch by Munn saved the day. Then Furman fell twice before the avenging Gamecocks, by 6 to 3 and 16

Here Carolina lost her second and last game, Newberry being the stumbling block. Correll, Blair, Ouzts, and Hamilton batted hard but could not turn the tide. However the next day Carolina swept the Indians aside 6-3, led by the pitching and batting to Wolf.

Carolina beat Erskine 14 to 5 and 7 to 1 before entering the last game of the season with P. C., which contest the Roosters copped by 8 to 3. The Gamecocks finished the league with a 4 game margin over Newberry.

Hambright was elected Captain with Hamilton alternate. Letters went to sixteen: Jenkins, Robbins, Hambright, Yonce, Roy Blair, Hamilton, Correll, Munn, Horace Blair, McDougall, Reynolds, Wolf, Henderson, Tompkins, Ouzts, and Manager Tom Parler.

PACED by Tom Craig in the weights and field events and Buck Smith in the hurdles, Carolina's 1933 track team turned in several great performances but was able to win only one dual meet and also lost the State Championship to P. C.

Craig bettered three state records, the shot, discus, and javelin, but only the first two were official. Mauney eclipsed the 100-yard dash mark with a 9.8 against Davidson, Hutt trailing only a few inches. Hutt three times beat the 220 record.

Smith's 24.6 for the low hurdles was more than a second below record time. Taylor tossed the javelin 180 feet 6 inches, considerably above the mark.

With Carolina's runners not yet in shape, P. C. trounced the Roosters 88-38, Mauney registering all four of the Birds' running points. Craig, with 16⅓ points, won the shot and the high jump and took second in the javelin and discus. Smith won both hurdles.

In an exciting meet Carolina and Furman exchanged the lead often but the Birds won out

Wetmore took the 440 in 52.8, and finished second to Sease in the 880. Foster's third in the mile was Carolina's only point in the two long runs.

Craig again was high scorer with first in the shot, second in the javelin and high jump, and a tie with Ed Craig and Moore in the pole vault. Freeman won the discus with Taylor second. Taylor won the javelin.

By sweeping the two mile, Clemson secured enough lead to whip the Gamecocks by 68⅔ to 57⅓. Tom Craig outdid his Clemson brother by 14 points to 6½.

Carolina reached her peak against Davidson's classy team and turned in the best work of the season, losing by only 60⅔ to 65⅓ after spotting the Wildcats 18 points in the two longer runs. Mauney's 9.8 won the 100 from Fleagle of Davidson and Hutt of Carolina. Hutt's better than record performance in the 220 was only second to Fleagle's 21.6. Craig put the shot 45 feet 8 inches to win, but his discus toss, though better than the state record, got only second. Smith's low hurdle time, 1.2 seconds under record time, earned him his customary first. Taylor and Craig both threw the javelin over 180 feet. Sease ran a beautiful 880 to win in 2 minutes 6 seconds.

Mauney took the broad jump with a leap of one quarter inch under 21 feet, with Woodruff an inch behind.

Entering the state meet with prospects of a victory, the Gamecocks found themselves worn out by the hard meet of the week before, and lost to P. C. Except for Mauney and Hutt in the dashes, with a second and a third apiece, no Carolina man placed in running events.

Five men made 42 of Carolina's 46 points, to give the Birds second place. Craig reached a new high with 18 markers, setting two new records; in the shot at 45 feet 4⅞ inches and the discus at 131 feet 11¼ inches. He also won the high jump and finished second in the javelin. Smith captured the high and low hurdles in 15.6 and 26 seconds respectively. Woodruff took third and fourth respectively.

Woodruff picked up another marker with fourth in the broad jump, and Taylor added a fourth in the javelin. The relay team, Wetmore, Mauney, Sallenger, and Smith, finished second to P. C.

UNDEFEATED in six dual matches, with the state crown safely tucked away, and with one Southern Conference Champion among its members, Carolina's 1934 boxing team finished its most successful year on record.

The triumphant march saw the Roosters bowl over Florida, North Carolina State, Presbyterian College, Clemson, and The Citadel, the latter twice, and then send six men to the Conference tournament, emerging with one crown, the middleweight, won by Henry Willard for the second straight year.

Six Carolina pugilists were chosen on the All-State because of their outstanding records: Taylor, bantam weight; Hill, featherweight; Rivers, lightweight; Humphlett, co-champ; with Fudge, Clemson, welterweight; Griffith, junior middleweight; Willard, middleweight.

Taylor, Hill, Rivers, Humphlett, Griffiths, Nathans, Willard, Stoddard, Fennell, Wolf, and Brown all fought during the season.

Captain "Kid" Rivers proved himself a capable leader and boxer by going through the season without a loss, though he was held to a draw by the Florida lightweight.

Bill Humphlett established himself as one of the outstanding men of the squad, by going through the regular season without a loss, and then advancing to the semi-finals of the conference tournament, only to lose a doubtful decision. Bill was accredited with the two kayoes out of six fights.

Francis Griffiths always assured the fans of plenty of fighting when he was in the ring. From the opening bell to the final gong he was continuously slugging away, and his foes always held him in high regard. When the smoke of the season had cleared away "Griffo" had lost only one scrap, that to Medlin, the Clemson light-heavy ace, who was fighting two weights below his usual class. Francis went to the tournament at the end of the year, but lost a close decision in the semi-finals.

Lorenzo Taylor, squat bantam weight of the Gamecocks, lost two early season decisions but finished in a blaze of glory, to twice defeat The Citadel's pride, Nelson, who had lost only two out of sixty previous matches. Lorenzo also outpointed Gantt of Florida and Henley of Clemson.

North Carolina State came to Columbia the following week-end and gave the Gamecocks their closest call of the year, the final score being 4½ to 3½.

A scrapping bunch of Presbyterian pugs made it interesting for the Gamecocks at Clinton, but lost by a 5 to 2 margin.

Clemson's Tigers came to Columbia next, for a 5½ to 2½ licking.

Clinching the State title and showing some of the best fights of the year, Carolina defeated The Citadel 6½ to 1½.

In a 5 to 3 conquest of The Citadel at Charleston, Carolina completed her regular season.

At the close of the season, Bill Humphlett was chosen captain for 1935 and was awarded the Gittman medal as the most scientific boxer of the squad.

THE year 1933-34 has seen perhaps more interest in minor sports and intramural events than ever before. This would be far from true were it not for the work of Mr. John A. Crawford, Director of Physical Education, for whom every student enrolled in Carolina has an unusual admiration and respect. At the time the GARNET AND BLACK goes to press, intramural basketball, boxing, and varsity golf have not been completed; however, basketball games between 22 teams, representing about 330 players are in progress. Boxing will begin about April 10th, with 32 men already signed up, and probably more to come. The golf team will play a schedule of 8 matches in the south, with the University of Richmond, Georgetown University, Furman, Davidson and Clemson already scheduled. The fencing team has had a curtailed schedule having to date met Rollins twice. They will meet Georgia Tech and will participate in the Southern Tournament held at William and Mary at the end of the season.

CAROLINA'S 1933 tennis sextette defeated P. C., Erskine, and The Citadel, and split two matches with Furman to tie with the Baptists for the State championship.

Captain Bobby Killingsworth led his teammates through a most successful season. Those awarded varsity letters were: Killingsworth, Moore, Ellison, Powell, Mann, Gooding, and Palmer, Manager.

In their first match the Gamecock racketeers were nosed out by Davidson in an exciting contest (5-4) early in the season. Soon after, P. C. emerged on the short end of a 7-0 walkover and the Carolinians went on tour to win three encounters in as many days (April 27-29).

Erskine fell before the Gamecocks in a close 4-3 contest; Furman was crushed by Carolina's hard-hitting netmen by a score of 5-3; and P. C. was again swept off the court by another 7-0 trouncing at the hands of the Roosters.

Continuing a winning streak, Carolina turned back The Citadel on the University courts in a 5-2 battle on May 2. Then, on May 4, the State Championship race was tied up when Furman got revenge for their early season defeat, and won from Carolina by a 4-3 score.

Several letter men will be back on the court in 1934, and a successful season is predicted. Captain Ellison, Moore, Gooding and Powell, are to be the backbone of the new team, while Walker and Crawford are good prospects from the freshman squad.

FOOTBALL

SOUTH CAROLINA'S 1934 Gamecocks were not expected to conquer as other Bird teams had done in the past. Graduation took heavy losses from the 1933 State Championship team. Among those on the 1933 team who were missed this year were: Co-captains Clary and Moorehead, J. Shinn, Hambright, Wolfe, Johnson, Fortson, and McManus. Williard and D. Shinn failed to report to cause further losses. This year was the first in three years that the Gaffney Ghost did not haunt Bird foes.

Coach Billy Laval and assistants, C. Hughey, "Whitey" Rawl, and Freshman coach "Rock" Norman were not pessimistic about the success of the Birds in the 1934 campaign. Nine lettermen, including Captain Craig, Alternate-Captain Huskey, Fowble, Stroud, Epps, Mauney, McDougall, Brown and Younce, along with thirty-five others, reported for practice. From these men, Coach Laval built a fighting team that brought glory and praise to her alma mater.

Four Gamecocks made the all-State mythical eleven, Mauney, Craig, Huskey, and Gaffney being so honored. Craig and Mauney also made the reserve all-Southern team.

CAROLINA 25—ERSKINE 0

The season opener against Erskine was marked by early season fumbles and ineffective blocking.

Early in the game, Mauney went eleven yards around left end to score the first touchdown of the game. A few minutes later, McCady ran fifteen yards and then three more yards for another six points. About the middle of the second period, Craig blocked one of Stevenson's punts and Craft scooped it up to carry it over the goal for six more points. Mauney kicked the extra point. In the last quarter Mauney scored his second touchdown after Hopkins made seventeen yards and failed to score in two plays.

Johnson, Gaffney, and Captain Craig starred in the Bird forward wall as did Mauney, McCrady and Brown in the backfield.

CAROLINA 22—V. M. I. 6

Ten thousand ardent football fans braved rain and dampness to see the Birds turn back V. M. I. as their part in the dedication ceremonies of the new stadium.

Barely had the game started before Johnson blocked a punt and Rowland picked it up on the fourteen-yard line and ran over the goal for the first touchdown of the game and the first touchdown made in the new stadium. Mauney converted the extra point. Three plays after the second period started, McMillin took a punt and ran fifty-three yards for V. M. I.'s only score. A safety in the third period and a touchdown by Rowland and McCrady in the final quarter completed the scoring.

The whole Bird line starred. Captain Zimmerman was outstanding for the Cadets.

N. C. STATE 6—CAROLINA 0

Against Hunk Anderson's Wolfpack, the Birds came away with the short end of a 6-0 decision. The Wolfpack scored its touchdown by a rally late in the game. Hayden threw a long pass which hit Farrar on the shoulder and bounced into his arms as he crossed the goal. The attempt for the extra point failed. The Wolfpack, with Rex and Farrar doing most of the work, was constantly knocking at the goal, but the Birds defense stiffened to hold off the threats.

CAROLINA 20—CITADEL 6

The Gamecocks returned to the win column at the expense of the Citadel Bulldogs in the feature attraction of the Orangeburg Fair. On the third play of the game, Mauney slipped past the Bulldogs for sixty-five yards and a touchdown. As the half drew near, the Birds wanted another touchdown so Mauney threw Johnson a ten-yard pass into the end zone; Mauney kicked the extra point.

Citadel couldn't score until the middle of the last quarter when Captain Symmes blocked a punt and took it over for his team's only six points. McCrady wouldn't be outdone by the Bulldog so he marched forty-seven yards for the final six points. Mauney added the last point by a placement.

CLEMSON 19—CAROLINA 0

The greatest crowd, 17,000, ever to see an athletic contest in South Carolina saw the Clemson Tiger turn back the Carolina Gamecock 19-0. Hinson made forty-three yards on the first play and showed the fans that the Tiger was going to be master. After several futile attempts to score, Captain Fellers kicked a field goal for the first points made by Clemson against Carolina in four years. Shortly after, McCowan scored a touchdown and Fellers converted to give the Tigers a 10-0 lead at the half. Henry Woodward scored a touchdown in the fourth on a twelve-yard run around his right end.

Mauney's fine punting and defensive work of two sophomores, Johnson and Gaffney, brought praise from both Tiger and Bird supporters.

CAROLINA 20—V. P. I. 0

The Gamecocks showed their superiority to win from V. P. I.'s Gobblers before 4,500 fans by a 19-0 score. In this game Robbins, a new Bird star, was uncovered and played good football during the remainder of the season. Just before intermission, Mauney threw a pass to Robbins as he ran over the goal. Early in the fourth, a pass from Mauney to Younce netted another touchdown. McCrady scored the last touchdown from the three-yard stripe after he had twisted fifty yards from midfield. Younce kicked goals after the first and third touchdowns. Smith was the individual star of the game.

Wildcats recovered a fumble on the seven-yard line and scored two plays later when Kotys went around left end and over the goal. In the second period, Kotys scored again after a twenty-yard run to the ten-yard line by Wetzler. A drive from midfield brought a touchdown as Kotys passed over the goal to Emmerling. Lee kicked the extra points after the second and last touchdowns.

Mauney and Robbins were outstanding players for the Gamecocks as were Patzler and Lee for the Wildcats on defense.

CAROLINA 2—FURMAN 0

As 8,000 fans looked on Carolina defeated Furman 2-0 in Greenville. The Birds' two points came in the third after a penalty put the Purple on its eleven-yard line. As Stevens attempted to punt Huskey broke through to block it and give the Gamecocks a safety. Carolina threatened often, once in the first when they drove to the Purple two-yard line only to be stopped. Again in the third, Robbins ran thirty-two yards over the goal, but Carolina was penalized on the play for holding. The Hurricane threatened only once just before the half. Hutt intercepted a pass and ran sixty-eight yards to Carolina's twelve when Fowble tackled him.

W. & L. 14—CAROLINA 7

The outcome of the Turkey Day game gave W. & L. the Southern Conference Title. The rain and cold did not dampen the enthusiasm of 8,000 fans. Carolina was first to score. Two beautiful passes from Mauney, one to Rowland for ten yards and the other to Craig for sixteen yards and a touchdown. Mauney added the extra point.

Just before the half, Carolina was penalized sixty yards, and then three series plays by the Generals scored as a pass from Mattox to Elis was completed over the goal line. A field goal by Mattox fell short just before the game ended.

Carolina starts the 1935 season with a new coach, Don McCallister. Along with the new coach come the new hopes and enthusiasm of both students and Alumni. A nine game schedule has been arranged for Coach McCallister and his assistants. There are five Conference foes for the 1935 team.

BASKET-BALL

THE Gamecock basket-ball squad for 1935 received a setback in the loss of the two Tompkins brothers but their loss was replaced in an excellent way by Hank Gooding and Tom Craig. These, with Dana Henderson, John Rowland and Vic Laurie, made the first string, while the capable subs were: Johnson, James, the Taylor brothers, and Skidmore. These men started on a hard schedule of twenty-three intercollegiate games.

The Gamecocks opened with a close and thrilling victory over Duke by 24-23. Captain Henderson led the scoring with ten points. The winning goal was scored in the last few seconds of play.

Next the Birds took the College of Charleston to ride by the tune of 45-23. Again Henderson was high point man with thirteen points.

Carolina met defeat twice on a trip to Maryland and Virginia. The first was at the hands of Maryland by the score of 35-21. Then Virginia defeated us 33-27.

Back at home after two defeats the Carolina basketeers succeeded in trouncing Auburn in two games. The first was one of the best and most thrilling games of the season. The score was 35-34. Johnson, a sub, scored the winning goal and James, another sub, starred in the last few minutes. The birds took the next one easily, 42-26. James led the scoring with eleven points, followed closely

Next Carolina shot down the Fleet from Erskine 58-32. Henderson and Laurie led with twenty-six and thirteen points, respectively. Miller played well for the Fleet.

With Henderson leading the way, Carolina romped on Citadel 33-17.

At home again Carolina calmed the purple Hurricane 42-24. Good guarding and Henderson's twenty - three points were the features of the game.

Continuing their winning streak, the Birds licked N. C. State 42-25 in a rough and tumble affair. Henderson made twenty points before he was put out on fouls.

Next Carolina went south and brought back two Gator hides. The first was won in a battle to the finish plus two points by a Florida man for Carolina, 37-35. The next was won with ease 28-16.

BASEBALL

THE 1934 Gamecock baseball team proved its ability to follow in the tracks of the 1933 State champion team and brought to Carolina its second State Collegiate Baseball League title. Clemson, Erskine, Wofford, Furman, Presbyterian and Carolina were members of the league.

Coach Billy Laval's nine batted its way to the Palmetto State championship which title has been held by Carolina every year except one during Laval's stay at the University. Getting off to a poor start for its five conference and ten league games, the Birds improved rapidly, and soon had the title tucked under their wings. The Birds engaged in a number of duels with the Columbia Sandlappers, Albany Athletic Club, and local nines and gave a good account of themselves in each of these.

The strong, well-rounded nine from Duke shattered Carolina's hopes for a Southern Conference title in the first intercollegiate meet of the year for the Birds. Playing a double header with the Blue Devils at Carolina, the Gamecocks lost both affairs but not until a tough battle had been waged for the first game. The second proved easier for Duke.

"Country" Kneece, sophomore southpaw, engaged in a hurling duel with Weafer of Duke and the opposing moundsmen allowed only six hits each. Ten innings were required before the Devils emerged with a 3-2 victory in the first game. The second game found two new pitchers in the box for the Birds. Captain Fred Hambright, converted outfielder, started and gave a good performance. He was relieved by K. Outz, first baseman, in the seventh. "Hook" Williamson was the leading batsman for the two games.

Opening the Palmetto League season with Erskine on Dreyfess field, Carolina suffered her third collegiate loss in three starts. Paced by Simpson, Erskine defeated the Birds 3-2. Grayson Wolf made his first diamond appearance of the year and held the visitors to six safeties. Bolton, Erskine, allowed only four hits.

pitching, Carolina turned back N. C. State 10-4, for their first win in intercollegiate competition. Grayson Wolf, relieving Outz in the second inning, allowed only two hits the rest of the game. Hamilton and Munn started the fireworks with a double and a home run. With the exception of the final round not more than four men faced Wolf in any one inning. Ray Rex led his team with two for four.

Advancing one notch in Palmetto league standing, Gamecocks handed the Presbyterian Blue Hose a 14-2 shellacking. The Birds scored eight runs in the first two innings. Kneece pitched the entire game. Hamilton, Outz, Alexander, and Hambright wielded wicked willows for the Birds.

Grayson's two-hit pitching held the Clemson Tigers helpless, as the Gamecocks took the league contest from the Tigertown lads 8-1, and moved into second place in the State race.

Led at the bat by John Munn, slugging outfielder, Carolina defeated Newberry 8-6 to supplant the Indians in first place in the Palmetto College Baseball league. The hard hitting Lee County junior drove out two triples and a single for his three trips to bat, drove in three runs, and scored one himself. Wolf pitched a good game. Boozer Newberry vied with Munn for honors by smashing out a home run and two singles for the Indians.

Behind the three-hit pitching of Kneece and "Chick" Brown and against wild performances of four visiting moundsmen, the Birds defeated Wofford 15-1 to tighten their grasp on the college league baseball title.

Grayson Wolf held Erskine to four scattered hits while the Gamecocks battered out a 5-0 victory over the Toddmen at Due West. Younce, Munn and Hambright led the hitting.

The Gamecocks moved nearer the State championship by defeating Newberry 11-3 behind the fine hurling of "Country" Kneece. Alexander and Watson featured in the field work while Munn, Kneece and Younce led the Birds' stick work.

WHEN Coach Frankie DeMars issued the call for the 1935 Gamecock boxing team to report for practice, he had four lettermen, several intramural champs from last year, and a large squad of inexperienced but willing candidates. The lettermen who reported were: Captain Bill Humphlett, L. Taylor, A. Hill and Dave Stoddard.

The first setback came when the doctors advised Andy Hill to give up boxing for a year because of a new wound to an old injury. The team was further handicapped by the failure of Fennel, light-heavy letterman, to report to Coach DeMars. A heavy schedule had been arranged with teams from Duke, N. C. State, U. N. C., Citadel, Clemson and P. C.

DUKE 6—CAROLINA 2

Carolina opened the season with a match with Duke in Durham. The Blue Devils were superior in the heavier weight divisions and won a 6-2 decision from the Birds.

The excellent fighting of Taylor and Captain Humphlett was encouraging to the Bird team. Taylor knocked out Alterman after 1:22 of the second round. Captain Humphlett knocked out McCall after 1:28 of the first round. The other Gamecock fighters showed promise of better performances in the season. Jenkins, Stoddard, and Brown lost close decisions after fast and hard fighting.

N. C. STATE 5—CAROLINA 3

In their first home appearance, the Gamecock team lost to more experienced N. C. State Wolfpack team. Three fights were defaulted, but there was plenty of action in the five fights. The score was 5-3 in favor of the Wolfpack.

N. C. State forfeited to Taylor. Jenkins lost to Tuttle on a close decision. Both mixed freely and exchanged punches which did very little harm. Cardwell, a newcomer to the Bird team, lost to Penland on a technical knockout in the second after one minute and two seconds of fighting.

Captain Humphlett was upset when he lost to Hudson by a technical knockout after fifty-three seconds of the second round. Hilton, a sophomore, revenged Humphlett's defeat by licking State's Captain Fabri. Fabri was guilty of covering up too closely and not willing to box. In the last bout, Johnson of State won a decision over Brown. Johnson was the heavier and stronger, facts which helped.

U. N. C. 6½—CAROLINA 1½

In the battle of the Carolinas, U. N. C. defeated the S. C. Gamecocks 6½-1½. Taylor was the only Bird who won his fight and Dunn managed to fight a draw with Edwards.

Taylor badly defeated Diehli in three fast rounds of boxing. Jenkins and Stoddard lost their fights on decisions. Both were closely fought, and the Birds gave a good showing for themselves.

Captain Bill Humphlett suffered his second defeat by the knockout route when he lost to Fisher on a technical knockout just before the third round ended. The Gamecocks defaulted in the light-heavy and unlimited divisions.

CITADEL 4—CAROLINA 4

In their second home appearance, the Bird pugs fought the favored Citadel Bulldog to a draw. Coach DeMars showed future pugilists in preliminaries. The freshmen showed promise of becoming real Gamecocks when it comes to throwing gloves.

The best battle of the fights was between Taylor and Nelson. Taylor won a close decision over the Bulldog bantamweight in three furious rounds. Dillard and Padgett of the Citadel won decisions over Jenkins and Dunn of Carolina.

Captain Bill Humphlett returned to his old form by winning an easy decision over Britt. Harry Hilton obtained revenge for himself when he won a technical knockout

After a week's rest the Birds continued their winning, this time V. M. I. was the victim, 36-20. Henderson, Gooding, and Rowland were outstanding.

The largest crowd of the year assembled for the battle royal between the Gamecocks and the Clemson Tigers. After forty minutes of air-tight basket-ball, Carolina won 38-30. The scoring honors went to Henderson, Laurie, and Dillard of Clemson, with seventeen, eleven, and ten points respectively.

With a Clemson victory hangover and with Craig ill, the Birds lost to N. C. State at Raleigh 30-25. Another defeat was suffered at the hands of the Conference Champs, U. N. C. It was one of the most thrilling games of the year; a last second goal by McCachren won for N. C. 32-31.

Carolina next downed Citadel 54-25. Captain Henderson led the scoring by making as many baskets as the entire Citadel team.

The first State defeat in three years was handed the Birds at Clemson. The score was 22-16. Next the Furman Hurricane tasted revenge by defeating Carolina 30-25. The Birds were unable to stop the last half attack by Furman.

In the last State game the Birds defeated Wofford 31-25.

The Gamecocks ended up the season by losing two road games to Duke, 37-34, and to U. N. C. 42-17. In their last home game the Birds trounced W. & L. 46-30. Six Seniors, Henderson, Laurie, Craig, Gooding, Rowland, and Taylor played their last game.

The Southern Conference Tournament was held in Raleigh and the Gamecocks met the favored U. N. C. five in the first game. They were eliminated in this game from further tournament play. Captain Henderson was placed on the second all-tournament team and on the first all-Conference team.

Winning her seventh consecutive baseball victory by defeating Presbyterian 9-0, the Birds moved very close to the State championship. Three-hit pitching by Wolf and the 'Cocks blasting out thirteen hits accounted for the whitewashing handed the Blue Hose. No Blue Hoseman reached third base during the game. Ken Outz took batting honors with three bingles in four trips, Younce made five perfect pickups and throws for putouts.

Wofford was defeated 6-0 at Spartanburg. Kneece pitched a nice game while other Birds gave him errorless support.

By defeating Furman at Greenville 6-1 the Birds clinched the Palmetto College league title, the equivalent of the State intercollegiate baseball championship. The Gamecocks scored five runs in the tenth inning to hand Furman the defeat. Grayson Wolf and Guy Williams engaged in a brilliant pitcher's duel. Errors lost the game for Furman in the one bad frame.

Carolina put the finishing touches on a highly successful season by setting Clemson back 7-4 at Carolina. Taking advantage of the wildness of the Jungaleer hurlers and behind the smooth pitching of "Country" Kneece and Grayson Wolf, the Birds were never in danger. Outz started the works by catching one of Heap's fast balls on the nose and when it was retrieved, he was standing on second. K. K. Outz continued to lead the offense for the Birds and collected three hits in three trips to the plate. Harry Hamilton was the feature man of the day because of his fine work in the infield.

WHEN Coach Norman called for his tracksters, he received a squad of men that meant to go places and be track stars. Among the lettermen to report were Craig, the man who holds the state record for shot put and discus, Byron Hutt, Harold Mauney, Ed. Sallenger, and C. K. Sease.

This team had four meets besides the state meet and came out winning two meets and losing two meets. In the state meet, the Gamecocks tied with Clemson for first honors with forty-eight and one-half points each.

P. C. 70—CAROLINA 61

On March 31, the Gamecocks lost a hair raising meet to P. C. only after the last event was run off. Captain Tom Craig was high scorer in the meet with 23 points. The University boys took eight firsts out of fifteen starts.

Among those who starred in this meet besides Craig were Hutt who captured first places in the 100 and 220 dashes, Cardwell, who won the mile, and Petit, who hopped out first in the high hurdles.

Carolina seemed to have a team that knew how to get first places but was not so efficient in picking up points in the second and third places. The Blue Stocking Yearlings, also, gave the Carolina Biddies a taste of defeat by the score of 72-48.

CAROLINA 83½—FURMAN 47½

When Carolina journeyed up to Greenville, they blew the Hurricane to a breeze. Led by Captain Craig and Hutt, the Gamecocks rang up eleven firsts led by Craig with four and Hutt with three. Other Bird men to get first place were: Sease, in the mile; Petit, in the high hurdles; McLaughlin, in the 880; and Farnam, in the pole vault. The Gamecocks showed more power in the field events by winning six out of six and more dash in the cinder events by winning five out of eight stars.

In this meet the Gamecocks entirely outclassed the Terriers at Spartanburg. Led by Captain Tom Craig, who captured six first places, the Birds gained first honors in all but one event, the 440.

The Carolina men who took first place were: Hutt, in the 100 and 220-dashes, and the broad jump; Cardwell, in the mile and two mile; Turner, in the 880; and Farnam, in the pole vault.

CLEMSON 77—CAROLINA 45

The Bird tracksters did not show up very favorably against the Tiger. As usual Carolina had the high point man in Captain Craig, who gathered twenty points to outdistance his nearest rival, Lynn of Clemson, by ten points. In Craig's twenty points were two firsts, three seconds, and a third.

Other Gamecocks to win first place were Cardwell, McLaughlin, and Petit.

CAROLINA 48½—CLEMSON 48½ IN THE STATE MEET

Carolina broke four state records. Hutt broke the 100 and 220-dashes. His time for the 100-yard dash was 9.7. Hutt beat "Mountain" Lynn (formerly "Mountain Goat" Lynn until Hutt got his goat) in these two races. Captain Tom Craig broke two records in his three first places. The new records, the discus, 135 feet 8 inches, and the shot put 45 feet 7¼ inches; his first in the high jump, 5 feet 10 inches. Cardwell was the only other man to take a first place, the mile in 4:43.2.

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE MEET

The University of N. C. was the winner in the Duke stadium. The Gamecocks trailed in fifth place. Those who scored for Carolina were Craig, Hutt, Farnam, Cardwell, and Taylor.

in the second round over Jackson. Stoddard squared the fights at four all by giving Townsend a three-round licking. Carolina defaulted in the two heavyweight bouts.

CLEMSON 66—CAROLINA 2

Before a large crowd in Clemson, the Birds lost their first state match in two years. All the bouts were closely fought.

Taylor won easily over Williams. The Tiger was woefully weak against his feathered foe. Altman and Dawson won a decision and a technical knockout over Jenkins and Dunn. Captain Bill Humphlett evened the matches when he humbled Giner. Harry Hilton lost his fight to Lofton in the senior welterweight. McConnell won a referee's decision from Stoddard in the final bout. The Birds defaulted in the two heavyweight fights.

P. C. 5—CAROLINA 3

The Gamecocks closed their boxing season in Columbia with P. C. as opponents. A large crowd attended and saw some good fighting. The freshmen gave three preliminary fights before the varsity came into action.

The feature fight was between Taylor and Seagle. Both fought hard and mixed freely. The result was not decided until the last round when Taylor had the better finish. Clark of P. C. won a technical knockout over Dunn in the first. Dunn was just outclassed. Captain Humphlett easily outclassed McClary in three listless rounds. Hilton's superior speed and experience gave him a decision over Pitman. Cappleman defeated Stoddard when the referee stopped the fighting in the last round of the last fight of the match. P. C. won the last two bouts on defaults.

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE

Taylor was defeated in the semi-finals due to a bad eye cut. He had cleanly outfought his opponent. Humphlett lost to the defending champion in the finals of his weight.

The team next year will be much more experienced and will be bolstered by intramurals and the freshmen of this year.

MINOR SPORTS

THE year 1934-35 has seen a great deal of interest in Minor Sports and Intramural Activities. The success of these sports is due to the work of Mr. John A. Crawford, Director of Physical Education, for whom every student at the University has the greatest of admiration and respect. Intramural football was discontinued during 1934 because of lack of equipment. Intramural basket-ball is in full swing as the GARNET AND BLACK goes to press. More interest is being shown in it than ever before as is shown by the fact that over twenty teams and over 200 students are participating. Intramural boxing will begin within a few days and this is expected to create a great deal of interest among the student body. Much interest is being shown in fencing, golf and gymnastics. Regular classes in physical education are held every day in the week and both boys and girls are greatly benefited by them. Students take full advantage of the excellent equipment in the University Gym. Under Mr. Crawford's capable leadership, Physical Education has taken its place as one of the most important departments in the University.

THE 1934 University netmen went through a very successful season. They twice defeated Furman and Presbyterian Colleges; and also defeated the College of Charleston and Wofford. They lost once to Clemson, Davidson, and Wofford. The members of the 1934 team were Moore, Gooding, Captain Ellison, Powell, Crawford, and Walker. The No. 1 doubles team, Moore and Gooding, went to the finals in the State tournament but lost a hard match to Clinkscales and Stevens of Furman.

A great deal is expected of the 1935 team. Moore, Gooding, and Walker are the veterans returning and McCutchen is a valuable addition from the Freshman squad. Other promising candidates are McIntosh and Hussey. McCutchen is expected to push Moore and Gooding for the top positions. The University is hoping for one of the best teams in its history.

A hard schedule has been arranged and the Gamecocks will have to be good to have a successful season. The season opens with Davidson in Columbia and then the team will go to North Carolina and meet Davidson again and also Duke and the National Champions, the University of North Carolina. Home matches have been arranged with Clemson, Furman, P. C., Wofford, Lenoir-Rhyne, and the University of Miami. The Gamecocks second trip will be through the State and they will meet Clemson, Furman, Wofford, and P. C. on this trip. Then they will wind up what we hope will be a successful season with the State Tournament at Clemson and the Conference Tournament at Durham.

GYM TEAM

THIS is the second year the University has had a competitive gym team and for both years the teams have been very successful. Matches have been held with the Navy and West Point and although losing, the team representing the University has given an excellent account of itself. Joe Bellotte, John and Octavius Amato, and Peter Marchak compose the nucleus of the squad. Events on the parallel bars, the side horse, horizontal bars, tumbling, and rope climbing are featured. Octavius Amato has proven himself to be one of the most outstanding tumblers in the nation by taking second all-round in the 1934 National Intercollegiate Meet.

THE various teams are now busily practicing for the basket-ball tournament which will begin when the boys intramural tournament is completed. A great deal of interest and keen competition are shown in these tournaments. This work in physical education is required of the co-eds at the University just as it is for the boys. It is conducted like any other course in the student's curriculum. Credits are given toward a degree for this work and the students are graded as in any other subject.

EMERGING FROM WHAT WAS CLASSED on the books as a disastrous season, with a new Carolina spirit, the 1935 edition of Coach Don McCallister's Gamecocks went down to defeat in seven games with heads bent but unbowed. Three games were checked on the winning side of the ledger for the Garnet and Black cohorts.

Under the direction of a new regime consisting of Head Coach Don McCallister, Line Coach Frank Pauly, and Backfield Coach Lester Stamman, the problem of starting from scratch and molding a new football machine from a small group of inexperienced players was met and solved. At the close of the 1935 season Gamecock supporters were again filled with the hope that the football team was ascending from the depths to their rightful place on the football horizon.

Beginning the season with a brilliant victory over Erskine, the Birds tired against Duke and went down to a crushing defeat, only to come back strong the next week and fight a highly favored N. C. State eleven to a standstill. Coming along still stronger a week later they dropped a hard-fought game with Davidson by a narrow margin and then hit their high peak for the season against the Citadel Bulldogs, and crushed the hopes of the Citadel supporters who firmly believed that this was to be their day of reckoning. Another slump followed the Citadel game with Clemson taking the Birds' measure in the annual State Fair tilt, followed a week later by defeat at the hands of V. P. I. Furman's undefeated team made its appearance in Columbia and met a fighting band of Gamecocks but subdued them in the early quarters of the game. Defending Southern Conference champions, a highly favored Washington and Lee eleven met defeat from Carolina's revamped gridders. The last game against Florida found the Gamecocks in a let down which was taken advantage of by the Florida team and Carolina emerged on the short end of the season.

Salvaged from the season and making its appearance in every encounter came a new Carolina spirit, one that would never let the Gamecocks say die. Outweighed in nearly every battle, inexperienced and green, nevertheless the last whistle found Coach McCallister's boys fighting to the bitter end.

Wilburn Clary was awarded the medal as the most valuable player during the season. Captain Clay "Bud" Alexander was voted the most outstanding performer in the Glemson game. Clary and Paul Gaffney were awarded places on the All-State eleven, while Ernest Stokes and Bob Johnson were placed on the second team.

CAROLINA 33—ERSKINE 0

In the season's opening grid battle, the Gamecock eleven subdued the Erskine aggregation by a score that left no question as to the superiority of the Garnet and Black team. Held scoreless until a few minutes before the end of the first half, Carolina began its scoring spree on a spectacular run by their backfield artist, Wilburn Clary, who added the point after the touchdown. This star also made another run soon after the opening of the second half for another score.

Jack Derrenbacher led in the offensive, making 138 yards in four runs. Carolina's reserve team also proved that the varsity men were not the entire show after all.

CAROLINA 0—DUKE 47

Something happened to the Birds when they met the Duke Blue Devils in the Tarheels' backyard, as shown by the score. Led by their brilliant back,

Ace Parker, the Duke eleven could not be stopped as it ran rampant over the valiantly fighting Gamecock eleven. Many reporters agreed that the Duke eleven hit their peak for the season in this game. Much credit was also given the losing team for their fighting spirit which did not diminish from the beginning until the end. The followers of Duke were made to understand why the South Carolina eleven are always named the fighting Gamecocks.

Hopelessly outclassed in this tilt, the Birds gave a fine exhibition of sportsmanship amid the wave of touchdowns that descended on them from the opening whistle until the game was over.

CAROLINA 0—N. C. STATE 14

Sadly lacking in reserve material, the Gamecocks were finally worn down by innumerable substitutions for N. C. State and lost to the State eleven after a desperate fight.

The powerful State team completed two continuous drives down the field for the only scores of the day. The heavier eleven was thrown back time after time by back-to-the-wall stands from the Birds but this resistance broke twice, allowing the Wolfpack to convert two touchdowns.

This was Carolina's best defensive game of the season. Once in the latter part of the game, N. C. State made a first down on the one-foot line but in four tries were unable to do more than lose five yards.

"Cowboy" Robinson and Ed Berlinski were the stars for the Wolfpack, while Curry Farnham, Ernest Stokes and Paul Robelot led in the Birds' great defensive battle.

The improvement of the Carolina eleven in this game over the preceding week when they were swamped by Duke is proven by the bare 7-0 Duke victory over N. C. State later in the season.

CAROLINA 6—DAVIDSON 13

If there was one game during the season that Carolina deserved to win yet didn't, it was this one. Outplaying their rivals from start to finish, they were only defeated in the closing moments of the game by a long pass. Earlier in the game, the Birds had driven steadily down to the Wildcats' five-yard line where an unlucky fumble caused them to lose possession of the ball. Then Davidson scored the first touchdown of the game on a pass after finding the Gamecocks' line impregnable. Then Carolina came back strong, made one marker and was marching toward another when the half ended.

The second half was one long series of passes by both teams, with the Wildcats finally completing one for a touchdown and the deciding margin of the game.

Both teams played a wide-open game, taking chances and throwing innumerable passes. This was the kind of game that keeps the spectator on the edge of his seat.

CAROLINA 25—CITADEL 0

Because of the color, the intense rivalry and the usual hotly contested gridiron battle, the game with Citadel at the Orangeburg Fair always acts as a drawing card and this was no exception.

This tilt provided the biggest upset of the season for everyone, especially the Citadel gridders and student body. Rated only an even chance of defeating the powerful Bulldogs, the Gamecock eleven showed what a determined and inspired team could do even against an equal team.

Staving off an early Citadel attack, the Birds began their triumphant march down the field. Scoring on quick, successive thrusts, they soon had the Citadel eleven completely bewildered. Four touchdowns were scored in a masterly fashion and the reserve team also featured in this creditable showing.

McCredie was the sparkplug in the Bulldogs' offense. On two occasions he was seemingly free for a touchdown but was pulled down from behind on both occasions by Jack Derrenbacher.

Wilburn Clary, Bob Johnson and Paul Gaffney were the Carolina athletes who upset all predictions in teaching the Citadel Bulldogs how the old game of football really was meant to be played.

CAROLINA 0—CLEMSON 44

This was the heartbreaker of the 1935 football season. Carolina, doped to lose by one or two touchdowns, was completely swamped by an attack from the Bengal Tiger that could not be stopped. This was Clemson's best-played game of the season and from this point was on a decline. They had reached a too-high peak in overcoming the Gamecocks by such a large score.

The only thing that can be said about this game is "Clemson." It was all Clemson in every department of play. Using three teams, they pushed over touchdowns with the regularity of a steam roller that ground all resistance before it into the ground.

Carolina played a courageous game and should be highly commended. They gave their all and never stopped fighting, but they were up against insurmountable odds.

Held to a close score the first half, Clemson with her fleet of hard-driving backs began an offense in the latter portion of the game that was a sight worth seeing. They functioned perfectly and their teamwork was superb.

Carolina fought hard, played a clean game and came out of the game after giving their best. What else could one desire?

CAROLINA 0—V. P. I. 27

The Garnet and Black eleven had not recovered sufficiently from the Clemson fray to even give a battle to the V. P. I. team. The Gobblers were clearly the superior team that day, piling up the amazing total of 20 first downs to one for Carolina and gaining 351 yards compared with 43 for the Birds.

Led by their star back, "Foots" Dickerson, who made all the points scored in the contest, the Virginia team easily pushed over four touchdowns.

This was the game that drew so much favorable publicity for Bob Johnson, Carolina's fast end, who mixed himself in every play and made himself a nuisance to the Gobblers.

CAROLINA 7—FURMAN 20

Before a disappointing crowd of 2,500, due to inclement weather, the Gamecock eleven were subdued before the powerful Hurricane squad which showed flashing trickery and speed but little driving power. The Furman squad was held in check by the stubborn Bird eleven, who repulsed every attack to score over their line. Furman was forced to capture her touchdowns by a pass, a returned punt and a blocked kick. On several occasions, the Hurricane blew down to the five and 10-yard stripes, but there were completely stopped by the magnificent stands of the Carolina line.

In the last quarter, the Gamecocks started an aerial circus of their own and before the Hurricane gridders knew where the ball was going, a touchdown had been pushed over. This was the only touchdown made on Furman during the entire season by a South Carolina eleven, Georgia being the only other team to penetrate their stone wall of defense.

The running of Earnest Rohr of Furman and Wilburn Clary for Carolina provided most of the thrills of the day, although the fight between Bob Johnson and Bob King, opposing ends, kept the fans tense on the edge of their seats.

Carolina's fine passing attack netted 177 yards, 13 passes being thrown out, of which nine were completed.

CAROLINA 2—WASHINGTON AND LEE 0

In their last Conference game of the season, the Gamecocks broke into the winning column for the first time by a stunning upset over the highly favored Washington and Lee team. Scoring a safety in the second quarter after battling on even terms during the first period, the Carolina eleven retained this slim lead for the remainder of the game. This was a remarkable show of defensive play by a team that refused to be driven back and in turn, drove the Generals back to their own goal line where a safety was scored.

Carolina teams have always been noted for their ability of springing upsets over highly favored teams at the close of an unsuccessful season and this game preserved that reputation. Few daring plays were used and straight football was the theme of both teams.

CAROLINA 0—FLORIDA 22

As little as possible should be said about this game as it was an anti-climax to the game with Washington and Lee only two days before. The team was worn out and the student body had had plenty of football for the season. Little interest was manifested in the game, it having no effect on the Birds' Conference or State standings. Florida deserved to win and they did.

The 1935 edition of the Carolina football eleven under the tutelage of Don McCallister, who was serving his first season as head coach, won three games and lost seven. McCallister, with his staff of assistants, Frank Pauly and Lester Stamman, were faced with the difficult problem of molding a team from a small group of inexperienced players, but the results obtained were far from disappointing.

Carolina's fortunes on the football field fluctuated as wildly as the New York stock market. Beginning the season with a brilliant victory over Erskine, the Birds seemingly spent their force as they were then badly defeated by Duke and N. C. State. Regaining power, they dropped a hard-fought game to Davidson and then hit their peak of the season in subduing the Bulldogs of Citadel. Next came the second slump, with the Gamecocks receiving a sound drubbing at the hands of the Clemson eleven in the State Fair tilt, and V. P. I. and Furman both winning victories before the Birds were able to pull out of the slump. With everything dark and despondent, a new Gamecock eleven took the field against the favored Generals of Washington and Lee and proved themselves the complete masters of the day. The loss to Florida in the last game of the season did little to detract from Carolina's prestige gained in this victory over Washington and Lee.

At the close of the season, medals were awarded to Wilburn Clary as the most valuable player and to Captain Clay "Bud" Alexander as the outstanding performer in the Clemson game.

Wilburn Clary, triple-threat back, and Paul Gaffney, powerful guard, were awarded places on the mythical All-State eleven. Ernest Stokes and Bob Johnson were placed on the second team.

WITH BUT TWO LETTERMEN to serve as a nucleus for the 1936 edition of the Gamecock basketball squad, Coach Ted Petosky formed a green bunch of sophomores and juniors into one of the fightingest quintets to ever wear the Garnet and Black colors. Led by Co-Captains Bernard James and Goody Taylor, the basketeers finished second in the State race and chalked up 12 victories from a hard intercollegiate schedule of 19 games. The first string consisted of Bernard James, Goody Taylor, Reddy Mitchell, Guy Lipscomb and Bob Johnson, while the capable subs were Bill Simpson, Willis Cantey, Jack Fennell, Larry Craig and Jack Lyon. With every man on the squad eligible for competition next year, and with a schedule including 18 Conference games and other strong Eastern foes, Coach Petosky is looking forward to a winning season.

The Gamecocks opened the season with a close and thrilling victory over the College of Charleston, 35 to 31, made possible by the work of Jack Fennell in the closing minutes of play. The winning goals were scored in the last minutes of competition.

Next the Birds won out over Erskine in an overtime period by the score of 28 to 27. The team displayed excellent teamwork and steady improvement over the previous week's game.

Setting forth on a road trip Carolina met four straight defeats. The first was at the hands of Clemson, the State champions being hard pressed to take a 31 to 30 victory from the Birds in a nip and tuck battle. Tired from the previous night's battle, the Carolina five lost a close decision to Furman by a score of 36 to 32.

Then came the game against the University of North Carolina White Phantoms, 1936 Southern Conference Champs, and Carolina slumped into defeat by a score of 38 to 18. The following night the Birds were unable to snap out of their slump and N. C. State's Wolfpack took their measure by a score of 54 to 31. Berry of N. C. State led the scoring with 21 points. This marked the low level of the season.

Back at home after a brief rest during the examinations, the University of North Carolina played a return engagement with the Birds and won out in the last seconds of play by the score of 43 to 41, only the final whistle stopping the Birds' supreme rally. Bernard James was the high scorer.

P. C. came to Columbia with a fast-moving aggregation, but faltered, and the P. C. quintet came out on the short end of a 33 to 24 score.

Furman journeyed to Columbia and was leading the Birds 21 to 20 when the lights went out and the game was forced to be postponed.

Carolina came back strong to win against Newberry 48 to 33. Bob Johnson and Bernard James were the high scorers of the evening. This was the first game that the Birds won away from home.

Wofford, tied for second place in the State race, came to Columbia confident of victory, but the Birds couldn't be stopped that night and sent Wofford home on the short end of a 45 to 32 score. Bernard James led the scoring parade with 16 points.

Coach Rock Norman brought his Citadel cagers to town but met the Gamecocks when they were hot, and Petosky's Pets came through by a score of 54 to 18. Every man on the Bird squad saw action, and proved fully Carolina's superiority over The Citadel. Work of Guy Lipscomb, Bernard James, and Reddy Mitchell was especially outstanding.

The largest crowd of the year assembled in the field house to watch the Carolina-Clemson tussle. It was Clemson's night, however, and the Birds took the short end of a 43 to 30 score. Bob Johnson was the high scorer of the evening for the Gamecocks. Sophomore Lipscomb played a stellar game until banished from the game with four personal fouls. With his departure the Birds' attack weakened and wavered and was lost.

Basketball

Berry and his N. C. State cohorts proved too strong for the Gamecocks and on the Carolina home court won in a listless game by a score of 39 to 23.

At Clinton, the Birds received revenge for an earlier season setback and won from P. C. by a one-point margin, 33 to 32. Away from home the Birds suffered a relapse and Wofford took their measure 31 to 19.

Furman returned to Columbia to play off the postponed game but an aroused Gamecock quintet refused to be stopped in a magnificent last half drive which netted them 34 points to Furman's 33. Goody Taylor led the scoring parade, while Bill Simpson and Willis Cantey, sophomore substitutes, supplied the needed sparkplug of the Birds' last half attack.

Journeying to Charleston, the Birds again defeated the College of Charleston by a 28 to 23 count. Captain James led the scoring.

In the final game of the season Carolina defeated V. M. I. 37 to 34 to register their first Southern Conference win of the season, thus ending in eighth place in Conference standings. Reddy Mitchell was high scorer of the game, while Bill Simpson came through with two sadly needed field goals to knot the score at 34 all, and Mitchell supplied the margin of victory.

Carolina received no bid to the Southern Conference tournament in Raleigh because of their poor showing in the Conference, but with several strong men coming up from the freshman squad and with every man returning next year, the Gamecocks and Coach Ted Petosky expect to return to the basketball heights from which they tumbled upon the graduation of Henderson, Rowland and Company.

Reddy Mitchell was elected as captain for the 1937 edition of the Garnet and Black basketeers. Co-Captains Bernard James, Goody Taylor and Bob Johnson, Reddy Mitchell, Guy Lipscomb, Bill Simpson, Jack Fennell, Willis Cantey, Larry Craig, Jack Lyon and Manager Wallace Martin were awarded letters.

EIGHT BASEBALL LETTERMEN answered the early season call of Carl "Dutch" Stamman in 1935, gathered inexperienced rookies around them, dropped a couple practice tilts, and undertook the difficult assignment of retaining the State title and living up to the record of only two Palmetto League games lost in the preceding three years.

The University nine did not retain its State title; it did not live up to its record; but it was composed of a group of boys who, in spite of their desultory performances, sportingly played and enjoyed playing a schedule including a total of 18 intercollegiate games.

Carolina was an important opponent for league leading teams until the very end of the season. Not until the last game had become history was she definitely placed in second place. Ironically she was pushed out of a possible first-place tie into second place by the Newberry Indians, a trailing team that specialized in trouncing Palmetto League leaders.

When the boys had tucked their uniforms into the field house chests, it was found that Alma Mater had eight Palmetto League victories and one Southern Conference victory to her credit, and four defeats in each organization to her discredit. No member of the team was listed among the first ten leading State league hitters for the season.

Although the team as a whole didn't have a very heavy topic of conversation for posterity, the ace moundsman, J. J. "Country" Kneece, did have. He had the second best pitching average in the State, despite the fact that he was given the assignment for the most difficult games, and despite the fact that First Honor Bill Croxton, Clemson's 1.000 man, had pitched only three games. Kneece, winning six and losing two for an average of .750, was officially registered with 89 strikeouts to his credit and only 17 bases on balls allowed. His was the "most impressive record."

The Royal Bengal hauled the State title off to his mountain lair with a majority of one and one-half victories more than the Gamecocks.

The eight lettermen around which the Bird team was built are John Willis Brown of Darlington, and John Munn of Bishopville, co-captains; Horace "Cocky" Blair of Lockhart, alternate-captain; Hook Williamson and J. J. Kneece of Columbia; Tom Watson, Six Mile; Clint Brogden, Sumter; and Clay "Bud" Alexander, Seneca.

MARCH 28—MICHIGAN STATE 5; CAROLINA 1—COLUMBIA

The touring Spartans rolled over the South, smashing the University in our first intercollegiate encounter. With several games behind them, the roving nine uniformed an experienced group of boys and set them on the frightened Birds who were flapping their wings for the first time under a new coach. Kneece admirably held the invaders to four hits while "Bud" Alexander introduced himself royally by securing three of the Gamecock safeties. Abbott, Williamson, and James each slugged a single, the latter circling the bases for the home tally.

APRIL 1—ERSKINE COLLEGE 2; CAROLINA 9—COLUMBIA

Dana Henderson, of basketball fame, occupied the mound for the Birds to score Carolina's first victory under Coach Stamman. He let the Flying Fleet down with five hits while our safeties were racked up by Williamson 4, Alexander 3, Brogden 2, Watson, and Abbott. Carolina's showing in this game intimated an unfulfilled promise to the baseball public that she would cling to the Palmetto title. The game was an erratic nine innings on the part of both teams—definite evidence of early season inexperience.

The Carolina-Newberry game scheduled to be played there on April 6 was rained out before the first ball was tossed.

---

APRIL 9—WOFFORD COLLEGE 0; CAROLINA 4—SPARTANBURG

With Kneece restricting the Terriers to two safeties, his greatly improved teammates cooperated splendidly to win the game.

"Cocky" Blair and Clint Brogden wore the batting crown, each collecting a double and a single for five trips. It was Blair's first hit of the season. The other Bird singles were by Williamson 2, Munn, and Kneece.

---

The game scheduled with The Citadel here for April 12 wasn't played due to the fact that the military college removed baseball from its program.

APRIL 15—FURMAN UNIVERSITY 8; CAROLINA 11—GREENVILLE

With swift winds cutting capers over Graham field for three hours and five minutes, Carolina inserted four pitchers to bag her third Palmetto League victory in as many starts. Guy Williams, traveling the entire distance for Furman, traded us 14 hits for 10 strikeouts. An unassisted double-play in the ninth inning by John Munn squelched a potential Baptist rally. Carolina's Blair led at bat with a triple, double and single for five trips, with Alexander riding close in his wake on a triple and two singles for five AB's. Other Birds increasing the eggs in their nests were Brogden 2, Williamson, Munn, Clary, Abbott, Henderson, and Stokes. In addition to Stokes, who was credited with the victory, Henderson, Brown, and Kneece twirled for Carolina.

APRIL 16—CLEMSON 5; CAROLINA 4—CLEMSON

The Birds victoriously pulled out of Greenville on Tuesday morning headed for Tigertown—and the most heart-rending surprise defeat of the season. "Country" Kneece and Bill Croxton twirled some wonderful ball for their respective Alma Maters, but inopportune errors lost the game for the Birds. The score was four to two, Carolina, when the Tigers came home in the ninth. A simultaneous succession of three Tiger raps, three Bird errors, three Tiger scores, placed the host ahead in the Palmetto race by a one-point margin. It was the first State defeat for the Stamman proteges.

APRIL 18—PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE 8; CAROLINA 9—COLUMBIA

The lead changed hands four times, but the Gamecocks gained a one-run margin in the ninth to capture the game. The visiting Blue Stockings inched ahead twice, but each time the local boys jerked themselves out front. The score was tied when Carolina came to bat in the last inning, with Presbyterian so determined to keep it that way that two Carolina players had been set down before we scored. "Bud" Alexander had advanced to second via a fielder's choice and a walk by Horace Blair. John Munn, long distance batter, smashed one deep into right field to score the all-important tally.

Ernie Stokes, giving up two hits in one and two-third innings, was relieved by "Chick" Brown who was tapped for eight safeties during the remainder of the game, but credited with the victory. The Birds also collected 10 hits, they being divided: Blair 2, Munn 2, Abbott 2, Brogden, Alexander, Watson, Clary.

APRIL 20—N. C. STATE 7; CAROLINA 6—RALEIGH

The touring Gamecocks, meeting North Carolina State in the first of three spring-holidays encounters, slung a wicked willow at the wrong times to score most hits but lose the game. The Birds saw a ray of hope as they tied State 5-all in the seventh, but the North Carolinians leisurely shoved another couple across in the eighth. Carolina desperately tried to match them in the ninth but fell short by one point. Clint Brogden, flashy short, led the Bird batting parade with three singles for four times up, and Williamson, Clary, Abbott, and Henderson collected two each. Right-hander Dana Henderson held the host to nine safeties.

APRIL 22—DUKE 13; CAROLINA 1—DUKE 7; CAROLINA 2—DURHAM

Playing on a rain-soaked field before 2,500 fans, including a number of major league scouts, "Country" Kneece and "Chick" Brown successively dropped an Easter Monday double-header to Duke University. Ken Weafer, star moundsman, scattered six hits among the Birds thusly: Munn 2, Brogden, Blair, Williamson, Kneece. At the same time he and his teammates had made 16 safeties. Blair was the lone Bird scorer.

In the nightcap Carolina was allowed only five hits, but two were converted into scores. The Gamecock twirler, "Chick" Brown, had only nine hits wrested from him by the Duke willow-wielders. First Baseman Watson enjoyed nine innings of errorless baseball with three hits for three times up. Blair and Clary divided the other two bingles.

APRIL 25—ERSKINE 2; CAROLINA 3—DUE WEST

In the first of the post-holiday engagements, the Gamecocks invaded the serene atmosphere of Due West and left consternation on the Erskine campus when they came off with a tenth-inning victory. In addition to holding the Flying Fleet to a half-dozen safeties, "Country" Kneece shouldered the heavy end of the bat by chalking up the only twin bingles of the game. On the mound he secured 16 strikeouts for himself, an all-season record. Carolina's other six smashes were divided among Brogden, Alexander, Munn, Williamson, Watson, and Clary.

APRIL 29—WOFFORD 2; CAROLINA 5—COLUMBIA

Tom Watson swung his stick at crucial moments and Kneece drew "strike three" out of the umpire 11 times, to defeat the visiting Terriers and more securely place themselves in the running for the State title. The Methodists rapped Kneece for eight safeties; the local nine securing one less, like this: Watson 3, Blair, Munn, Williamson, Clary.

APRIL 30—PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE 3; CAROLINA 1—CLINTON

With the pitching honors about evenly divided between Presbyterian's "Lefty" Suggs and Carolina's Dana Henderson, the Blue Stockings copped the victory through a superior practice of fielding technique. P. C. had added up their total of three runs when the Birds came to bat in the ninth. The local boys feverishly fought back, but as fate, or baseball, or something would have it, their figurative accomplishments presented a picture of the numeral 1. Henderson dropped six hits, while the University's representatives sacked five, like this: Brogden 2, Alexander, Williamson, Clary.

MAY 1—FURMAN UNIVERSITY 8; CAROLINA 9—COLUMBIA

On the strength of "Country" Kneece's 14-strikeout pitching, the local boys built up a nine to three lead over the visiting Paladins. And it was lucky they did, because when Furman came to bat in the ninth they were mad. They wrapped the stick around Kneece's previously elusive offerings to the tune of six hits and five runs before the third man could be scratched out. The Hurricane blew back to Greenville with 14 safeties in the scorebook as compared to Carolina's 10, but tragically one score less.

Both J. J. Kneece and Guy Williams, Furman ace, tossed superb ball, except for "Country's" near-fatal final inning. "Cocky" Blair and Tom Watson chalked up three hits each, while the other four were divided among Brogden, Munn, Williamson, and James Good.

MAY 6—NEWBERRY 3; CAROLINA 0—NEWBERRY

Carolina's League championship hopes were extinguished when the Birds dropped a disappointing nine innings to the Indians. Although Newberrry had for some time been out of the race, she rose at unexpected times to smash League leaders.

Each team secured five hits but repeatedly Carolina's potential scorers went down as "left on base." Kneece fanned seven and Ward, Newberry's seriously working twirler, fanned eight. The Bird safeties: Blair 2, Clary 2, Munn.

MAY 9—CLEMSON 0; CAROLINA 2—COLUMBIA

Both teams secured three hits, but two of Carolina's portion came opportunely in the form of John Munn's homer and double—and that won the game, before a traditionally excited crowd of 1,500. Clemson's Sky-scraper Swails, remembered as the head that extended upward over all others on the cage floor, contorted the ball for eight strikeouts. Kneece flashed the third ball over 10 times. Munn made both scores, and Rightfielder Alexander copped the other safety.

MAY 11—NEWBERRY 4; CAROLINA 2—COLUMBIA

Although Carolina had no chance of tying Clemson for first place, she made things look worse by listlessly dropping the final game to the alert invading Indians. Newberry scored in the first frame, and the home boys came back with two in the second, using five costly hits in so doing. From here on Newberry maddeningly turned every freak of fate and skill to their advantage, while the Birds aggravated matters by blundering four errors. Henderson gave up four hits and poled out one for himself in the first three and one-third innings. Kneece substituted here, and was tapped for five more, also bingling one for himself. The other eight Bird safeties went to Williamson 2, George Tomlin 2, Watson, Munn, Clary, Brogden.

Upon the recommendation of Coach [illegible] P. Stamman, the following men received varsity letters for their participation in the 1935 season: Co-Captains John Willis Brown and John Munn, Alternate-Captain Horace Blair, Manager Howard Cooper, J. J. Kneece, Dana Henderson, Tom Watson, Lawrence Abbott, George Tomlin, J. Clint Brogden, Wilburn Clary, J. W. Williamson, Clay Alexander, James Good, Bernard James, Ernest Stokes.

COACH A. W. NORMAN had a problem on his hand when he called for the track candidates and found only a few regulars back. Captain Kenneth Sease and Joe Cardwell were the mainstays of the returning squad. Tom Craig, holder of three state records and Bryan Hutt, phenomenal sprint man who had beaten "Mountain Goat" Lynn in the state meet last year in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes had graduated.

The "dark horse" of the season turned out to be George Epps, sprinter, who led his team-mates in practically every meet.

The Gamecock trackmen had five meets, winning three of them and finishing fourth in the state track meet at Clinton. This proved to be Coach "Rock" Norman's last year at Carolina and it was a successful one.

The freshman track team won second place in the state meet, being nosed out by Clemson, 44-41.

P. C. 82½—CAROLINA 48½

Led by W. S. Clark, the Blue Hosemen ran away with the initial meet of the season. Clark copped the prize for high scorer with 14 points. He was followed closely by George Epps, unheralded dashman, who accounted for 12 of the Birds' points.

Kenneth Sease, captain of the Carolina team, came in second in the mile run behind his team-mate, Joe Cardwell.

Basil Petit took first honors in the 120-yard high hurdles while Walter Taylor came in first with the javelin throw.

Epps won first place in the 100-yard dash, third in the 220-yard run and pole vault and finished a close second in the broad jump.

The Biddy track team subdued the P. C. frosh by the score of 66 to 46.

CAROLINA 77½—FURMAN 53½

In their first victory of the season, the Carolina tracksters were led by George Epps who finished first in the 220-yard run, broad jump and tied for first place in the pole vault for 13 points.

Bob King and Roy Stevens of Furman captured 33 of Furman's 53½ points for high scoring honors of the day.

Harold Mauney returned to the spotlight in this meet by copping first place in the 100 and second in the 220-yard dashes and finishing second in the broad jump for a total of 11 points.

Joe Cardwell, winner of the mile run in the state meet last year, easily won first honors in the mile and 2-mile races.

Carolina got nine first places to five for the Purple Hurricane.

In the pole vault, George Epps, Curry Farnam and Park Jenkins, all of Carolina, tied for first place.

Carolina's relay team composed of R. Mitchell, Parrott, Mauney and Epps easily won that event.

CAROLINA 93½—WOFFORD 32½

Taking first places in every event except the high jump, the Carolina trackmen won their second straight victory of the season from Wofford.

One of the interesting sidelights of this meet was a demonstration of the shot put and discus throws by Tom Craig, holder of three state records and former captain of the tracksters.

George Epps again took high scoring honors with 17 points. He took first in the 220-yard dash, broad jump and tied for first in the pole vault. He finished second in the 100-yard dash.

Walter Taylor of Carolina took three firsts to be runner-up with 15 points.

William Wolfe ran the two-mile race for the Birds in 11 minutes and 3 seconds and finished a quarter of a lap ahead of his nearest rival.

In both the mile and two mile races, Carolina runners took all three honors.

CLEMSON 97½—CAROLINA 33½

The Clemson Tigers won every first place to completely swamp the Gamecocks by 67 points. Ford, of Clemson, was high scorer with 13 points. He ran the 100-yard dash in 9.9 seconds and the 220-yard run in 22 seconds flat.

Again, George Epps led his mates in scoring honors with 7 points.

In the mile run, Green of Clemson narrowly nosed out Cardwell and Penland of Carolina to take first place.

Three Clemson men, McMahan, Bryce, and Carter tied for first place in the high jump at 5 feet 11 inches.

Clemson's relay team easily won that event.

CAROLINA 86—CITADEL 40

With two victories and two defeats behind them, the Gamecocks won the last meet of the season from Citadel in fine style.

Elmer Wellons, of Citadel, was high scorer with 10 points, finishing first in the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

George Epps, Carolina's star sprinter, came in second in both these races.

Basil Petit took first prize in the 220-yard low hurdles and second place in the high hurdles.

Penland, Cardwell and Sease captured all places in the mile run and Mitchell. Parrott and McLaughlin did the same in the 440-yard run.

Joe Cardwell sprinted home in front of the pack in the 2-mile race.

STATE TRACK MEET

At the races in Clinton for the state titles, Carolina finished in fourth place with 17 points, the meet being won by Clemson with 71 points.

Carolina came third in the relay and Petit finished in the same position in the 220-yard low hurdles.

Joe Cardwell won first place in the mile and his team-mate, R. E. Penland, finished second but was disqualified.

G. Taylor copped second honors in the 120-yard high hurdles and W. Taylor finished third in the javelin event.

Curry Farnam won fourth place in the pole vault to constitute Carolina's scoring for the day.

WITH BUT TWO LETTERMEN to serve as a nucleus for the 1936 Gamecock boxing team, Coach Frankie DeMar faced a serious problem in trying to whip a team into shape from a small squad of inexperienced boxers. Captain Lorenzo Taylor facing his most promising season, suffered a broken nose in the North Carolina dual meet that kept him from competition against N. C. State and Clemson. The team was further handicapped by the absence of a heavyweight at the beginning.

Together with the inexperienced squad, the Carolina mittmen met its usual heavy schedule with matches against Duke, University of North Carolina, N. C. State, Citadel, and Clemson. P. C. was scheduled but gave up intercollegiate boxing for the year.

DUKE 6—CAROLINA 2

The Gamecocks opened the season with a match with Duke in Columbia. Frank Jenkins, sophomore, surprised the large crowd by winning the decision in the bantamweight. Captain Lorenzo Taylor won the second match of the evening in a decision from Bob Price of Duke. Carolina's other performers showed promise of improvement later in the season, though losing by knockouts to their Blue Devil opponents. Colina, Haskell, Hilton, and Rex Williams lost their bouts, while the Gamecocks forfeited the light-heavy and heavyweight classes.

NORTH CAROLINA 4½—CAROLINA 3½

North Carolina invaded Columbia with a seasoned bunch of veterans, and Jenkins continued his improvement by gaining a draw with Marion Diehl. Captain Taylor won easily over Ernie Eusler, although receiving a broken nose in the scrap.

Rex Williams coming back strong after his defeat against Duke won by a knockout over Norris. Novick, North Carolina, knocked out Red Fulmer, another Carolina sophomore.

N. C. STATE 5—SOUTH CAROLINA 3

In their first match away from home, and without the services of Captain Taylor, the Gamecock team lost to the more experienced N. C. State Wolfpack boxers. Frank Jenkins continued his steady improvement and won, while Rex Williams and Harry Hilton came through with victories to give Carolina three victories. The Gamecocks were forced to forfeit in the light-heavy and heavyweight classes.

CLEMSON 6—CAROLINA 2

Before a large crowd at Clemson, the Birds again went down for their second straight defeat at the hands of Clemson. For the first time in the season the Birds were represented by a heavyweight, Mackie Mills, a newcomer to the squad who lost by a knockout to Henley of Clemson. Mills, despite his inexperience, shows promise and should be one of the mainstays of the team next year. Frank Jenkins continued merrily on his winning way and defeated Williams, Clemson bantamweight. Gilbert Colina fighting in Captain Taylor's position lost to Bolleli, while Jones of Clemson won by a knockout over John Haskell. Harry Hilton lost by a decision to

CITADEL 5½—CAROLINA 2½

Carolina closed their season against the Citadel at Charleston. Frank Jenkins continued undefeated by a victory over the Citadel bantamweight, Hughes. Captain Taylor returning to fistic front showed the effect of his layoff by gaining a draw with Nelson of the Citadel, over whom he held a previous knockout and a decision. Sam Cartledge lost to Padgett, while Britt of The Citadel knocked out John Haskell in the second round. Hilton lost to Todd, and Rhea Haskell to Castello. Rex Williams won out by a decisive margin over Townsend. Mills, Carolina heavyweight, was forced to forfeit in his class because of an attack of the flu.

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE

Rhea Haskell lost by a knockout to Gormley of Maryland, in the opening round. Taylor defeated Shegogue, previously undefeated Maryland bantamweight, in the opening battle of his weight; then came along strong to defeat Koger of Duke, in the semifinals; but his midseason layoff told too heavily on him and he lost to Simpson, Virginia, in the finals. Frank Jenkins was knocked out by Captain Carey of Virginia.

The team next year will be more experienced and with Captain Taylor the only man lost to the squad, and several promising Freshman and intramural boxers coming up Coach DeMars will have one of the best squads of the past few years.

THE YEAR 1935-36 has seen a great deal of interest in Minor Sports and Intramural Activities. The success of these sports is due to the work of Mr. John A. Crawford, Director of Physical Education, for whom every student at the University has the greatest of admiration and respect. Intramural football was discontinued during the 1934 season because of lack of equipment. Intramural basketball is in full swing as the GARNET AND BLACK goes to press. More interest is being shown in it than ever before, as is shown by the fact that over 20 teams and over 200 students are participating. Intramural boxing will begin within a few days and this is expected to create a great deal of interest among the student body. Much interest is being shown in fencing, golf and gymnastics. Regular classes in physical education are held every day in the week and both boys and girls are greatly benefited by them. Students take full advantage of the excellent equipment in the University Gym. Under Mr. Crawford's capable leadership, Physical Education has taken its place as one of the most important departments in the University.

THE 1935 TENNIS TEAM accounted for the only State championship won by a University team last year. They defeated Clemson, Furman, Wofford and P. C. by wide margins and went through the State campaign without the loss of a match. The 1935 team was composed of McCutchen, Captain Moore, Gooding, Walker, Daniels, and McIntosh. The team was entered in the Southern Conference Tournament instead of the State Tournament and made an excellent showing.

The 1936 team begins the season without the aid of the three top men of the 1935 team. Walker, Daniels, and McIntosh are the returning veterans. Among the candidates for the team are Williams, Lipscomb, Hussey, J. Walker, Porter, Brooker and Bryan. Wesley Walker, Captain, was seeded Number One.

For the first time the team will have a coach. Prof. "Dutch" Wagner has taken charge of the squad and under his tutelage the team hopes to repeat the record it made last year.

The schedule is the hardest ever arranged for the netmen. It is as follows: March 27, P. C. at Clinton; March 28, Wofford at Spartanburg; April 1, Elon at Columbia; April 12, Davidson at Columbia; April 4, Furman at Columbia; April 6, Wofford at Columbia; April 9, Miami at Columbia; April 10, N. C. State at Raleigh; April 11, U. N. C. at Chapel Hill; April 13, Davidson at Davidson; April 17, Clemson at Columbia; April 20, P. C. at Columbia; April 25, Furman at Greenville; May 2, Citadel at Charleston; May 4, Citadel at Columbia.

The State tournament will be held in Columbia and the Gamecocks have high hopes of winning it. After that they expect to wind up the season with the Conference tournament at Chapel Hill.

The Dawning of a New Day In Athletics at the University

Beginning their second season under the tutelage of Head Coach Don McCallister, the Gamecock football eleven of the University of South Carolina completed a twelve game schedule with five victories and seven losses. Built around the nucleus of fifteen returning linemen, the squad was composed chiefly of sophomores who, although they demonstrated that they had great potential powers, folded in the pinches.

As usual, the season's most colorful tilt was the State Fair game with the Bengal Tiger of Clemson. The latter proved to be quite fierce after a two months' diet of raw meat. This game saw the shattering of all previous attendance records at any sporting event in South Carolina, as 19,000 cheering fans jammed the stadium. Many late-comers clamored for tickets which were going at a premium.

Carolina's "color man," William H. Harth, director of athletics, continued his second year at the helm by sponsoring radio broadcasts, dotting the landscape with billboard advertisements, inviting high school students as guests and spicing each game with doses of foot races, mock girlish grid games, colorful ceremonies and "the old Carolina spirit."

The Southern Conference took a forward step by accepting within its folds Furman and The Citadel, Carolina's Palmetto State opponents. Against conference foes, the Gamecocks won two games and lost five.

Carolina's Municipal Stadium which seats 18,500 fans was improved this season. A public address system was installed which aided the grid enthusiasts to more closely follow the events of the games. Scoreboards were built at each end of the stadium. The University now boasts of the finest and largest stadium in the State and ranks high among Southern stadia.

An Account of the Games

Carolina 38; Erskine 0 ● As the pop of the stopper of the champagne inaugurated another gridiron season at the University of South Carolina, the Gamecocks sweated to a 38-0 victory over Erskine. Scoring in every period on passes and determined drives, the Birds strutted majestically before 8,000 fans who seemed a bit out of place in their racoon coats under a 90-degree sun. Every Carolina player from the captain to the fourth string quarterback was used in this tilt. Ed Clary, cousin of the noted Earl and Wilburn, was the offensive plug that kept the home team clicking like a T-model Ford.

Carolina 7; V. M. I. 24 ● In a game featured by a 101-yard run by Andy Trzeciak, the Virginia Military Institute defeated the sophomores of the University of South Carolina, 24-7. After a scoreless first quarter, Farley recovered a Carolina fumble on the 10 yard line. Trzeciak threw a flat pass to Taylor over the goal line for the first score. Beard plunged over for the second tall. Following a 25-yard run by Ralph Dearth, halfback Art Urbanyi crashed over for the only Bird touchdown. « » Coach McCallister in a statement after the game said: "It was one of the toughest games I ever had to lose. That 101-yard run, coming as it did when we apparently had the game, was the most heart-breaking thing I have ever had to sit on the coaching bench and watch."

Carolina 0; Duke 21 ● Carolina gridsters played the best game of the season and lost. If there is such a creature as a moral victory, this was one. The highly-favored Dukesters found themselves pushed steadily backward until it profited from a fumble by Ed Clary on the 1-yard line and stopped the drive. This near-tally was made possible by a spectacular catch of a pass by Captain Johnson who carried the pigskin to the goal line where he was tackled. The referee ruled he lacked inches going over. After this, the demoralizing fumble ended the Birds' offensive drives. Duke was powerful. Carolina inspired. This equals a thrilling game!

Carolina 7; Florida 0 ● In a game where football uniforms should have been substituted by bathing suits, J. B. Henson did the Australian crawl for 40 yards with the pigskin grasped in his hand to defeat Florida Alligators 7 points to 0. Florida's far-famed finicky fishermen floundered foolishly as their passing attack was met by ingracious old Carolina players who persisted in slapping the pigskin to the mud before a Gator had a chance to catch it. Ye old meanies. The shades of night were being drawn, rain poured, fans froze, Old Sol hid his face in a nocturnal repose and the players struggled onward. The ball was snapped, the teams charged. A mass of flying arms and legs were thrust aside as

"Pinhead" Henson made his nonchalant way down past the stripes.

CAROLINA 14; V. P. I. 0 ● Ralph Dearth, quarterback specialty, sped 66 yards and Bob Johnson snared a spiraling bag of leather with rubber intestines while Art Urbanyi put his shoulders on a parallel to his knees and submarined over for a touchdown plus the tally by Dearth to cop the decision over the cadets of Virginia who blew retreat. Foots Dickerson tripped himself continually and gained little ground. Henry did quite well as a toter of pigskins and added 6 yards. Gallant goal line stands coupled with sudden bursts of offensive power did the trick. Hail, Carolina!

CAROLINA 0; CLEMSON 19 ● Mama, that man's here again!

CAROLINA 9; CITADEL 0 ● Infuriated by the "asinine caprices" of two Citadel cadets, the fighting Gamecock bowled over the soldiers, 9-0. The members of fandom rose to their feet in the closing minutes of the first quarter when Urbanyi tossed to Johnson, a forward pass, who saw to many tacklers and tossed the ball away. It landed in the arms of Frank Urban who saw the tacklers coming after him with fire in their eyes. With a savage yell, he tucked the ball under his arm, ran the remaining distance and when caught by the referee was trying to get out of the gate. Dearth yawned, stretched and placed the ball through the uprights. Score: 7-0. Paul Gaffney's chest deflected the forward motion of a punt which was recovered in the end zone for 2 points. The Garnet and Black, however, refuses to take a "hypocritical or hypercritical" attitude toward the pre-game incident.

CAROLINA 0; VILLANOVA 14 ● Baffled by perfectly executed forward and lateral passes by the Villanova eleven, the Gamecocks could not cope with the team that had lost only one game during the season. "Stay in your own back yard" was the theme song which the Wildcats dedicated to the Birds as most of the game was played in the University's territory. The "jinx" also made the newspapers again as a pass from Clary to Meyers' which would have resulted in a touchdown, slipped from his hands. Again, a near safety was lost when Stopper juggled the ball but fell onto the playing field on the 1-yard line.

CAROLINA 6; FURMAN 23 ● Furman did not look like a state championship team that it eventually turned out to be. Despite a victory by 17 points, the Purple Hurricane's only scores were the direct results of lucky breaks. The Hurricane was as soft as a gentle summer breeze. Carolina was as nervous as an old maid at her first wedding. The results: Two hours of boredom.

CAROLINA 0; UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA 14 ● A home-coming crowd of 10,000 supporters worked miracles with the Gamecock eleven and enabled them to battle desperately for four quarters, finally losing by two touchdowns. The Birds made two scoring attempts that carried them down to the 11 and 13-yard lines. There was plenty of rah-rah, plenty of color, plenty of football, and too, too much of the Tarheel gridsters.

CAROLINA 13; XAVIER 21 ● The Gamecocks traveled to Cincinnati but were bitten by old man winter who was equipped with freezing weather and sleet. Little can be said except that they slipped, slid and skidded for two hours, and the Northerners slid over the goal line once too often.

CAROLINA 6; MIAMI 3 ● Jack Lyons got tired of being tackled by the big Miami huskies and rushed down the field for 60 yards and placed the ball down by the goal posts. Seemingly satisfied, he left it there and returned to the game. The points received from this jaunt overshadowed the ones given to the Sons of Florida for their kicking the pigskin through the uprights. This game of football is rather queer, eh?

The "BIDDIES"

Heralded as one of the most outstanding arrays of football talent in the State and South, the 1936 Biddies played through a schedule of five games and lost only one, that to the powerful Tiger Cubs.

Opening the year against P. C. the Carolina frosh took the Blue Socks into camp by the score of 33-0 as Dick Little, Red Snyder, Gene Robinson, James Reynolds, and Heber Stroud crossed the goal line one time each. Every man on the squad saw service during the game.

In their second contest of the year, the Biddies succumbed to the power and elusiveness of the Clemson frosh. Red Snyder chalked up the lone tally for Carolina on an off-tackle play from the four-yard line.

Displaying their best form of the year, the Biddies staged a brilliant comeback in their next encounter and routed the Davidson freshmen 48-0. Dick Little scored four times in this game on runs which were all for more than 40 yards. Red Snyder did his part by adding two others, and Stroud made one from the 26-yard line.

Another victory was chalked up by the Garnet and Black at the expense of Furman's Purple Breeze. Dick Little and Tom Lonchar carried the ball across twice, and Lonchar place-kicked both extra points to give the frosh a 14-0 victory.

After the Citadel Bullpups had drawn first blood by scoring from the 30-yard stripe in the first quarter, the Biddies took things in their own hands and ran up 25 points to win their last game of the year in Charleston.

Dick Little tallied first for the Carolina frosh and Paul Rampey then added two other touchdowns. Gene Robinson scored the last marker on a left end run for 16 yards.

Composed of some of the best high school stars in the state, the Biddies, coached by Ted Petoskey, presented a smooth working gridiron machine that gathered momentum as the season progressed.

Especially in the backfield was there an abundance of brilliant talent. Dick Little, all-state high school back from Columbia, showed himself to be one of the best offensive and defensive players in the state. Red Snyder from Toledo excelled in blocking and line plunging. Paul Rampey, all-state and all-southern halfback from Easley, lived up to his high school reputation by his stellar play. Gene Robinson, another all-state and all-southerner from Chester, proved himself to be a fine field general, punter, and broken field runner. Besides these Heber Stroud, Tom Lonchar, and Cecil Wolfe left Petoskey little to worry about in backfielders.

In the forward wall Hartell, center; Makovic and Reynolds, guards; Biggs and Porter, tackles and Crews and Alexander, ends, formed a formidable line of defense.

Thirty-two men were awarded numerals at the close of the year. They were: Adams, Alexander, Beall, Biggs, Brazzel, Crews, Cope, Dryer, Granoff, Geroge, Hartel, Johnson, Lawson, Lonchar, Little, Makovic, Morgan, Moore, Norton, Nelson, Pack, Porter, Quick, Reynolds, Rampey, Robinson, Snyder, Stroud, Sossman, Wolfe, Webb, Weinges, McClellan, manager.

State Basketball Champions

Basketball at Carolina had one of its most successful seasons in years. With the team carrying off the state title; getting a coveted bid to the Southern Conference tournament, and placing three men on the all-state team. After losing most of its important games early in the season, Carolina came back later to become one of the chief contenders for Southern Conference honors, and easily won the state championship, losing but two games in the state during the season.

Disappointment awaited the team as they dropped the first game of the cage season to Erskine at Due West. Football season still kept some team prospects busy on the gridiron, and the squad had not reached its full strength. The score was 24 to 28.

Coming home to meet P. C. in the Field House, the Gamecocks were stronger, and managed to win by a score of 31 to 21. At the half, the home team led by only one point, but pulled away to a safe margin by the end of the contest.

Next came a game with the strong Duke University team in the Field House. Carolina started out with plenty of fight, and kept abreast of the Blue Devils throughout most of the exciting first half. At the intermission, Duke led by three points, but a flurry of long shots that swished through the basket put them well ahead soon after the second period opened. The final count saw Duke out in front, 45 to 35.

Christmas holidays intervened after the first Duke game, and retarded the Gamecocks, although informal practices were held during the fortnight.

Resuming the schedule after Christmas, the squad left for a trip into North Carolina. The first contest of the tour was with Duke, and the tourists came out of the small end of the horn by the decided score of 52 to 24. At home on their own court, the Devils took an early lead and stayed ahead all the way.

N. C. State came next on the menu for the Birds. The North Staters led at the turning point, but after the intermission the Gamecocks began to close the gap, and succeeded in coming within four points of the Wolfpack score, but the final whistle found N. C. State on top, 40 to 36.

After the discouraging defeats in out-of-state games, Coach Petosky's charges prepped for their third state contest, with Furman. The Purple Hurricane was no match for the Carolinians. Working their plays with smooth precision, the Gamecocks forged steadily ahead, swamping the visitors by a score of 54 to 24. Despite the one-sided count, the game was fought at top speed all the way, and was one of the most interesting of the season. Until the beginning of the second half, there was the possibility that Furman might make a come-back.

Encouraged by the victory over Furman, the Roosters were all set to get revenge for the early season loss to Erskine, their next opponent. The first half was close, with the two teams keeping the scoring fairly even. Leading by only one point at the half, Carolina spurted in the second session and pulled away fast, making the final score 40 to 24.

Another trip, this time up into Virginia, took the team away from home for three games. Guy Lipscomb, first string center, did not go with the team on this trip. The first meeting was with the University of Virginia. Badly "off," the Gamecocks allowed Virginia to pile up a big lead at the start, which they had little trouble in keeping throughout the game. The final score was 38 to 19.

Haunted by gloomy remarks from sports writers, and overshadowed by the dark cloud that hung over Carolina supporters, the team sprung a surprise victory over V. M. I. The Carolina squad dribbled through the Cadet's defenses to win with little trouble. The final score was 50 to 37.

Coming home down through North Carolina, the Roosters met Davidson College. In an exciting game, Davidson held the lead in the closing minutes of play, but three quick field goals put the Gamecocks out ahead before the final whistle.

Meeting Clemson on the home court, Carolina added another scalp to its string in a thrilling overtime game. With Clemson leading at the final whistle, Lipscomb was awarded two foul shots and tied the score. In the extra minutes, Carolina eked out a two-point lead to win 32 to 30.

N. C. State came for a visit after the Clemson game, and went down to defeat at the hands of their hosts. The Gamecocks fought all the way for their victory. The Wolfpack sharpshooters were kept out of range of the goal by the strong defensive play of the Birds. Carolina came out ahead 30 to 23.

Going to Clinton to meet P. C., Carolina took another victory in the state race. Holding the lead most of the way through the game, the Carolinians increased it in the closing minutes, winning by 31 to 21.

A game with the Mexico City Y. M. C. A. team in the Field House served as a breather for the Birds. Carolina subs played in most of the game, which was won by Carolina by the score of 28 to 25.

Another victory over Furman made Carolina's list of consecutive wins grow. Playing in Greenville, the Gamecocks won again by a large margin, the score being 43 to 28.

Davidson, coming to Columbia, failed to get revenge for the defeat Carolina had handed them earlier in the season. The lead changed hands often in the first half, but in the second Carolina forged ahead, winning by a count of 40 to 29.

Carolina suffered its second defeat in the state when it played Clemson at Clemson. The game was close all the way, with the Tigers keeping a slight lead most of the way. A free shot in the last thirty seconds meant the difference between defeat and victory. Clemson won 29 to 27.

Citadel came next for Carolina, the game being played in Charleston. The Gamecocks had little trouble in winning over the Bulldogs, the final count being 48 to 27.

A few days later, Citadel came to Columbia. It was Carolina's last game of the regular season, and was much closer than the preceding game with Citadel. Playing raggedly, the Gamecocks were able only to win by a slight margin. The score was 34 to 32.

Having received a bid to the Southern Conference, Carolina's final game of the season was played in Raleigh, N. C., the scene of the Southern Conference tournament. Bad luck hit the team, for they had to meet the winning Washington and Lee team in the first round of play. Outplayed, the Carolina team went down to defeat by a wide margin, 41 to 22.

Captain Bernard James, Tom Hutto, and Guy Lipscomb, two guards and center respectively, placed on the all-state team selected by coaches and sports writers. Those recommended for letters were: James, Hutto, Lipscomb, Goody Taylor, Bill Simpson, Oliver Wolfe, Jack Crawford, Willis Cantey, and Jim Polatty, manager. For the 1938 season, Lipscomb was elected captain and Simpson alternate. Jimmy Thomas was chosen manager. For James and Taylor the season marked the finals of their collegiate basketball careers.
