In each case the specific nature of the filtering process or industry or the material has been provided.

The number of classes has not been increased. To assist the Examining Attorney brochures describing the products of applicant have been supplied. With the present identification of the goods, all informalities would appear to have been removed. However, the Examining Attorney is invited to contact the undersigned by telephone at the number given at the foot of this amendment if there are any further problems with respect to the identification of the goods. Such a telephone call is expected prior to the expiration of the current term so that a pro forma Notice of Appeal will not be required.

Respectfully submitted,
The Firm of Karl F. Ross P.C.
