With over 100 years of family tradition, TONIC Herbs & Teas has a unique perspective on holistic healing.

strengthening their bodies, the Taoists noticed the subsequently profound effect these Chinese herbs had on their mental, emotional, and even spiritual condition.

Our products' simple focus is to put these elite Chinese herbs into action for the maximum possible health benefits. TONIC Herbs & Teas isn't just an herbal supplement company, by integrating Taoist wisdom with today's modern living, we're where your path to wellness and longevity begins.

What is a Tonic Herb?

Over the last thirty years, modern science has done extensive research on the Tonic Herbs that supports the knowledge discovered thousands of years ago by the Taoists.

Lab studies have found numerous phytonutrients in the herbs that are not found in everyday foods. An abundance of vitamins, minerals, amino acids, and antioxidants, as well as newly discovered nutrients known as saponins and polysaccharides provide the source of the Tonic Herbs many unique health benefits. These nutrients give the tonics the power to support all systems and functions of the body at their root, vitalizing, and strengthening every living cell.

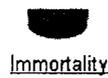

Three Treasures: Jing, Qi, and Shen

The Taoists stated that there are three intrinsic elements that make up the human organism. These elements are considered precious substances and if anyone strives to have a long and healthy life it is necessary to fortify, cultivate, and conserve the Three Treasures.

QUALITY.

Stringently sourced and analyzed herbal single extracts, formula extracts, and teas for purity and safety.

From the Taoists, these Chinese herbs by consuming them, and aptly named them "Tonic Herbs" or "Superior Herbs" because of their miraculous health promoting capabilities. While balancing and

Jing

Jing is essence. It is responsible for a strong immune system, powerful memory, structural integrity, healthy hair and nails, and sexual vitality. From a western point of view, Jing correlates to our hormonal system which naturally deteriorates as we age. Jing tonics support healthy hormone levels and functioning, and are the true anti-aging herbs in the tonic herbal system.

VALUE.

Guaranteed potency, efficacy, and easy consumption with one of the industry's highest concentration ratios.

Qi

All of nature and of life is energy taking form. The Taoists uncovered this truth in their practice of deep meditation, while Einstein in his research proved that energy and matter are two different forms of the same thing.

His formula $E=MC^2$ showed that matter can be turned into energy and energy into matter. The human body requires Qi to accomplish this feat. Qi extracts oxygen from the air, and nutrients from our food, powering our living cell. Cultivating an abundance of Qi, leads to the support of a strong immune system, good blood flow and cardiovascular health, strong respiratory function, clear thinking and enhanced concentration, toned muscles, and excellent metabolism. With matter being composed of energy, it becomes essential to consume energy promoting tonics in order to live a long life full of vitality.

Shen

Shen is the third treasure and can be translated as Spirit. It is the light behind the eyes that brings with it the virtuous qualities of human nature such as the ability to love, give, laugh, and smile. A person with strong Shen is at peace and content with life. Shen tonics ground the central nervous system easing mental and emotional anxiety and nervousness. Grounding creates the possibility for deep reflection and relaxation allowing us the space to make choices that lead in a positive direction towards realizing our goals.

Building a Tonic Herbal Program is easy. Remember the Taoists approach to health and longevity; the key to optimal health lies in supporting and fortifying the Three Treasures: Jing, Qi, and Shen. A program can be as simple as choosing to take a single herb or formula, or to take a broader spectrum of formulas that includes specific herb combinations that support the Three Treasures. Choosing which Tonic Herbal Program to follow of course depends upon an individual's constitution and the health goals one ultimately hopes to achieve. Vitamin supplements & bulk herb botanicals

We benefit from a myriad of drugs and pharmaceuticals derived from tropical forest plants. The commercial value of these products worldwide can be reckoned at $25 billion each year! And yet it's estimated that only 2 or 3 percent of this treasure trove has been discovered and made available to the public.

AMAZON DISCOVERY is dedicated to finding these miracle herbs, and then providing them in the most valuable Wholesale Bulk Herbs to help with the problems and diseases that beset our modern world. Our dedication towards the use of the world's natural resources specifically in the Amazon Rainforest is by helping the local population to understand the value and cultivation of these bulk herbs. By partnership through our supplier in Brazil we are able to provide quality and quantity natural diuretics shipped directly to consumers.

Save the Rainforests!

Our biomedical researchers have left their traditional labs for the laboratory of the Rainforests. Through interpreters they interview the indigenous people about what plants they use for medicinal purposes, and how they are prepared and taken by natives. It's hard to argue with centuries of human trials! The discovery and formulation of these medical miracles has the potential to bless all mankind—through not only better health, but by decreasing the native people's need to clear the land.

The Amazons Rainforest is more valuable alive than dead!

Amazon Discovery Manufacturing is bringing Rainforest herbs to the world with modern day technology. Our original antioxidant supplement formulas are concentrated extracts and standardize active ingredients as whole complexes, which can then be taken in controlled dosage. These enzymes and other phytonutrients are then carefully preserved by cold-processing techniques that ensure the effectiveness of these nutritional supplements. By combining these herb extracts along with the proper dosage of vitamins and or minerals Amazon Discovery believes to set a standard ingredient combination that is like no other. By taking pride in our FDA approved manufacturing facilities, our herbal supplements, herbal medicine and other herbal remedies quality standards are amongst the highest of today's standards. Before production all the herb extracts must meet the quality standard before the actual manufacturing and labeling of the Amazon Discovery nutritional supplement product line. Then and only then will we package each individual product into its double sealed bottle for safety and shelf freshness.

Grape Seed Extract

Benefits of grape seed extract supplements ...

Grape seeds are jam packed in naturally occurring substances called procyanidolic oligomers, or PCOs, antioxidant compounds that are extracted, purified, and concentrated to make grape seed extract. Grape seed procyanidins are a type of flavonoids. Nevertheless, this process provides you with the health benefits of red grapes.

These unique and rich antioxidant compounds are believed to be as much as 50 times more powerful than Vitamin E and 20 times more potent than Vitamin C!

What are Antioxidants?

Antioxidants are compounds that help protect the body from cellular damage caused by free radicals. The body needs antioxidants because with every breath you take you generate free radicals. Free radicals are highly reactive substances that attack and damage cells contributing to premature aging and disease. Therefore, grape seed supplements can serve as a good source of supplemental antioxidants.

In fact, through its unique antioxidant properties it has the ability to cross the blood-brain barrier, which means it protects the brain and spinal nerves from free radical damage.

What makes grape seed so unique?

It is one of the few antioxidants that can cross the blood-brain barrier and protect brain cells from free radical damage.

Health Benefits of Grape Seed Extract

How can it benefit you?

Besides being a powerhouse antioxidant, PCO's appear to have the ability to strengthen blood vessels and enhance circulation and, as such, it may help reduce the risk of heart attacks and strokes. Moreover, because of its positive effects on improving circulation, many Western European countries widely prescribe grape seed extract to treat or prevent vascular disorders. Such conditions include: varicose veins, numbness and tingling in the arms and legs, painful leg cramps and others. Grape seed also appears to offer heart disease protection by reducing the risk of atherosclerosis, the clogging of arteries.

In addition, the PCO properties may promote vision protection for diabetes-related damage to tiny blood vessels, and it may be helpful in slowing down the progression of macular degeneration and cataracts - vision stealers in the elderly. It may even ease eye strain, making it useful to those who stare at the glare of computer monitors for extended hours.

For those of you interested in youthful skin, grape seed is believed to strengthen collagen. As such, grape seed extract is added to some skin creams to make the skin more supple and reduce fine wrinkles.

Should you or anyone you know suffer from allergies, grape seed may lessen allergy symptoms such as sneezing, congestion and other hallmarks of an allergic reaction. It accomplishes this by inhibiting the release of histamines, which are substances that are instrumental in allergic reactions.

Another benefit of grape seed extract is that it harbors anti-inflammatory properties. It blocks the release of some prostaglandins, which are chemicals that produce inflammation and pain. This action may ease the symptoms of many diverse disorders, including endometriosis, rheumatoid arthritis, and muscle cramps.

Researchers are continuously under the "scope" looking for ways to help or cure devastating health conditions such as cancer. In the case of grape seed, many experts believe that it contains cancer-fighting constituents.

Side Effects and Precautions

No toxic reactions have been observed, nor have any major side effects been reported. However, if you are taking prescription drugs, speak with a health care professional before using grape seed extract

Speak with a health care professional before using grape seed extract supplements, especially if you are taking antiplatelet or anticoagulants, including aspirin.

Mild side effects include abdominal pain, cough, headache, nausea, and sore throat.

Individuals allergic to grapes should not take grape seed supplements.

Grape seed supplementation should be avoided by pregnant women and nursing mothers.

Tips on Choosing a (Grape Seed Extract) Supplement

1. Select a supplement that is standardized to contain 92% to 95% PCOs (proanthocyanidins). Proanthocyanidins are the active ingredient that will provide you with the health benefits.

Side note: Procyanidolic oligomers (also known as proanthocyanidins), commonly called PCOs.

2. Both grape seed and pine bark extract are rich sources of plant flavonoids PCOs (proanthocyanidins). However, grape seed extract typically contains 92-95% PCOs while pine bark extracts (PCOs) vary from 80-85%. Moreover, it is grape seed extract PCOs (proanthocyanidins) that's been more extensively studied.

3. To reap the full benefits of grape seed extract, select a product that is produced at a pharmaceutical GMP compliant facility. Such places adhere to the highest manufacturing standards.

Dietary supplements are not strictly regulated in the U.S. and, as such, manufacturers do not have to guarantee the safety, effectiveness, or even the true content of their products.

Although supplements should be labeled properly, many aren't, so what's stated on the label may not be in the container. The potency or purity may be inconsistent or misrepresented. Some products tested also contained very harmful contaminants! In fact, according to ConsumerLab.com, the leading provider of independent test results states:

"Testing by ConsumerLab.com shows that one in four supplements in the United States lacks the promised ingredients or has other serious problems."

This is why it's crucial that you only purchase your supplements from pharmaceutical GMP (Good Manufacturing Practice) compliant facilities. These facilities follow the exact same rigorous standards facilities. These facilities follow the exact same rigorous standards that pharmaceutical prescription medications must adhere to - thus - it ensures stringent requirements.
