Konpa Mix Radio was created as a medium to share with the rest of the world my passion for Konpa and at the same time helping promoting this musical Genre which is native of Haiti. The genre was developed by Nemours Jean Baptiste, a Haitian Jazz artist who was inspired by the musical stylings of the Dominican Republic & Cuba and originally spelled COMPAS. Today most people spell it Konpa or Kompa. From the beginning Nemours Jean Baptiste incorporated traditional Haitian sounds and rhythms into a lively musical style which incorporated a lot of brass and easily recognized rhythms.

Konpa music is typically accompanied with singing in Haitian Creole. Like jazz, this music pays homage to the African roots of Haitian culture, but takes those roots in a whole new direction. The word "compas" as originally spelled in Spanish means "beat" or "rhythm," and one of the most distinctive characteristics of compas music is the driving beat, a trait common to many styles of Caribbean music. Konpa is easy and fun to dance to, it incorporates musical traditions like Merengue, which propel dancers around the floor with lively, active beats.

Here at Konpa Mix Radio, Konpa is our business. We play today's hottest Konpa Songs as well as yesterday's hits Check us out Konpa Mix Radio

HEAD LINE: Local live music entertainment calendar jam-packed this week

BODY:

This week's local live music entertainment calendar is so full, I won't be able to fit it all in one column. Here are some highlights. For a full calendar of live music events, visit my blog at slowboosgravel.blogspot.com.

Elvis Has Left the Building will play Thursday at Senang Wine Bar Tapas on First Avenue, on Friday at Marigolds Wine on Flandro Drive and at Ruby Tuesday on Tuesday, July 13. Visit <http://site.elbinfo.com> for more information.

ELB plays original acoustic Americana. "We'll do an occasional cover song if there's a specific reason, but basically all of the material that we do is our own. Each of us has played in cover bands, where the goal is to play popular songs that everybody knows," says Angier Wilk.

Wilk is joined by Greg Mladenka and Bill Chalmers to form Elvis Has Left The Building, taking turns playing guitar, mandolin and bass. With three CD's under its belt and a fourth due out this fall, Elvis Has Left The Building has a loyal core group of listeners, many of whom are also musicians.

Every Thursday, Idaho State University plays host to free concerts, with regional and national musicians and bands. This week, Cary Judd headlines with John Alfred opening. Music starts at 6 p.m. The concert is open to the public of all ages.

Cary Judd typically plays in Idaho Falls and to the north of Pocatello, but he was a featured performer at ISU last year. He's been invited back this year, too. Judd is a solo guitarist and vocalist, playing rock n' roll louder than you'd think one person could pull off.

Born in The Czech Republic to an American woman and a Dutch man, Judd has lived in many places since, mostly in his car, hotel rooms, miscellaneous couches and camp sites over the past seven years.

Judd's third CD, "Goodnight Human," was released last year to rave reviews. MusicEmissions.com wrote, "Cary Judd delivers a poppy punch that has at least three tracks worthy mix radio rotation... a high sense of melody and just tad of Emo." For more, visit www.caryjudd.com.

John Allred, a singer/ songwriter from Salt Lake City, recently released a Download by Donation album , available on his website at www.allredmusic.com.

Also on Thursday, Balance of Power headlines a heavy metal show at The Icon, North Main Street in Pocatello, with Riksha, Denots and Cvltvs Mortem. Doors open at 6:30 p.m.; $8 advance tickets available through smithstix.com.

And on Thursday, Chloe Day, a singer/songwriter based in Los Angeles, plays an intimate concert at the Flipside Lounge, North Main Street, in Pocatello starting at 10 p.m. The locally-based Shawn and The Marauders, with Shawn Bamby, share the billing.

"Chloe Day's music resonates like a siren call," the Arizona Daily Sun wrote. "Her agonizing sound submerges listeners into a dream-like state with its seductive, yet dangerous feel.... edgy, breathy, flirty, eerie and eccentric." Find out more at www.chloeday.com. And for more on Shawn Bamby, visit www.myspace.com/shawnbarnby.

On Saturday, the Bannock Humane Society is holding an all-day fundraiser , Woofstock, from noon until 10 p.m. There will be adoptable animals, a raffle, silent auction, vendors, food, wine and beer after 4:30 p.m., and pet costume contests and activities for the kids.

Three local bands are lined up for music entertainment at Woofstock: Seven Feet Below in the early afternoon, Band Gap from 4 to 6 p.m. and Backtalk , based in Blackfoot, starting at 6:30 p.m. Call (208) 232-0371 for more information.

Portneuf Valley Brewing on South First Avenue, in Pocatello is celebrating its 14-year anniversary this weekend with live music on Friday, Saturday and Monday of next week. On Friday, Soul Full of Blues takes the stage at 8:30 p.m.

On Saturday, celebrate 14 years at the pub with a free appetizer buffet in the loft from 7 to 9 p.m. and five hours of locally-based acoustic singer/songwriters , 7 p.m. to midnight. Call (208) 232-1644 for details.

On Monday, Monday's Alibi performs a special concert at the brewery starting at 7:30 p.m. Visit www.myspace.com/mondaysalibi for more.

HEAD LINE: County music gets a new spice with Dee Jay Silver

BODY:

Filed under Lifestyle

America's most traditional genre is getting a new burst of energy and you can thank a man by the name of Dee Jay Silver for that.

Who is Dee Jay Silver? Well that all depends on who you ask: to his family and friends - a cool guy by the name of John Perdue who likes to party, to the Tennessee Titans front office - a die-hard Dallas Cowboys fan who djs at all of their home games, and to other country djs - he is a pioneer.

Silver is no different from any other Dj if you ask him. After djing in college for about three-to-five years as a second job so they he could make extra money, he realized that he could make a living out of it. "I figured if I'm going to do it, then I'm going to do it right," said Silver who began to take it more serious and export more time and energy into the field.

"When I got signed to my manager, I was like 'I want a record deal!'"

From performing at rapper's Nelly after parties - to mixing at small clubs - Silver has come a long way in the 18-plus years he has been involved in music. In the past year, not only did he become the first Dj to ever play the Academy of Country Music Awards, but he also became the first Country Dj to be signed to a major record label, landing a deal with RCA Nashville, which is part of Sony Music Entertainment.

Silver is not trying to reinvent the wheel, instead just add some nice rims to it.

"There's no one who listens to just one genre of music," said Silver. "No one wants to go anywhere and hear one solid song for five hours. Everyone wants to be entertained. I tell everybody, 'I'm not trying to recreate country music, I'm just trying to get people who wouldn't usually listen to country music to listen to it and become country music fans."

County music gets a new spice with Dee Jay Silver The Valencia Source: Valencia Community College January 25, 2014 Saturday

"The people who say they don't like country are like the people who say they don't like sushi, because they never really gave it a try."

As a man who looks at his beer as always half empty, Silver just wants people to know that country is party music.

With the release of his EP "Country Club" last June he helped prove that. The project's opening track is a remix that blends Carrie Underwood's "Two Black Cadillacs" with Dolly Parton classic "Jolene." While the track combines two of country's premier female vocalists into one tune, Silver states that it just kind of fell into play.

The four-track EP is a recommended listen for all music fans and will have you wanting more after first listen. While "Country Club" is a project released for purchase, the Dj/ producer often puts songs on his Soundcloud for free streaming purposes, including his remix of Rihanna's "Pour it Up" and a mix of Chris Young's "Aww Naw."

Silver is currently on tour in support of Brad Paisley's "Beat This Winter" tour and acts as more than just a hype man. While during Jason Aldean and Luke Bryan's tour he performed for 15-minutes before each artist went on to keep the crowd engaged, he is an actual part of Paisley's show and not a middleman.

"I am on stage for four songs with Paisley," said Silver. "I bring Brad on the stage and I do four songs with him. I do the encore with him. I also play between sets for 5 to 10 minutes."

Following many shows, Silver has also become host to his own official after party, the "Country Club." "I don't think it would be fair to Brad if I called it the official Brad Paisley after party," said Silver.

"I'm building a brand. A brand that is strong enough to put my own name behind it. When I hear "Country Club" I think party and I want people to think the same thing."

"When people see Dee Jay Silver - when people see Silverwear - when people see "Country Club," I want people to associate good times, party rock and laughing with their friends. I want people to understand that when Dee Jay Silver is there it's going to be a party."

Silver had a productive 2013 and looks as if he will carry that over into 2014. His country mix radio show is now being nationally syndicated and can now be heard outside of Nashville.

He plans to have his clothing line Silverwear in full swing by early summer, and will also be going on his own Spring Break tour, making stops in multiple cities in Mexico, as well as a performance Ja written in Panama City.

"Being able to play these festivals you see how passionate people are about the genre." said Silver. "Country music is cool. Trust me we are people you want to hang with."

HEAD LINE: Henry Rollins Joins "Sons of Anarchy"

BYLINE: admin

BODY:

From FXtoday:

Grammy Award-winning musician and actor Henry Rollins will guest star in the FX drama series Sons of Anarchy for its second season, which is scheduled to return to the network in the fall, announced Nick Grad, Executive Vice President of Original Programming, FX Networks. Rollins will play a new antagonist in the show's fictional town of Charming, California who poses a deadly threat to the Sons of Anarchy Motorcycle Club. He is scheduled to appear in six episodes.

"Henry will bring his intensity and muscularity to this complex part," said Grad. "We look forward to seeing him inhabit this role."

Sons of Anarchy stars Charlie Hunnam, Katey Sagal and Ron Perlman and is executive produced by Kurt Sutter. John Linsan and Art Linsan are Executive Producers. Sons of Anarchy is a co-production of FX Productions and FOX 21, Twentieth Century Fox Television's alternative production arm. Production of season two starts on April 27 in Los Angeles.

Henry Rollins first came into the public consciousness as lead singer of the seminal Los Angeles band Black Flag. He later founded the Rollins Band, receiving a 1994 Grammy nomination for the song "Liar." That same year he won a Grammy Award for Best Spoken Word or Non-musical Album for Get in the Van. He was host of the Independent Film Channel's The Henry Rollins Show and the radio show "Harmony in my Head" on Indie 103 FM in Los Angeles. He currently hosts his own music-mix radio show on KCRW-FM. Rollins' film appearances include Bad Boys 2 with Will Smith and Martin Lawrence and director David Lynch's Lost Highway.

Sons of Anarchy is an adrenalized drama with darkly comedic undertones that explores a notorious outlaw motorcycle club (MC) and its desire to protect its livelihood while ensuring that the ir simple, sheltered town of Charming, California remains exactly that: charming. The Sons of Anarchy Motorcycle Club must confront threats from drug dealers, corporate developers and overzealous law officers. Behind the MC's familial lifestyle and legally thriving automotive shop is a ruthless and illegally thriving arms business.
