ARGUMENT(S)

Surname Refusal

The examining attorney has refused registration on the basis that Applicant's mark is primarily merely a surname, within the meaning of Section 2(e)(4) of the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1052(e)(4).

In response, Applicant has amended the application to assert a claim of acquired distinctiveness under Section 2(f) of the Lanham Act. 15 U.S.C. § 1052(f). Applicant relies on its recently issued trademark registration for the mark MAISON PAQUIN to support its claim of acquired distinctiveness.

Ownership by the applicant of one or more prior registrations of the same mark on the Principal Register is prima facie evidence of acquired distinctiveness. Trademark Rule 2.41(b), 37 C.F.R. §2.41(b). A proposed mark is the same mark as a previously-registered mark for the purpose of 37 C.F.R. §2.41(b) if it is the "legal equivalent" of such a mark. A mark is the legal equivalent of another if it creates the same, continuing commercial impression such that the consumer would consider them both the same mark. In re Dial-A-Mattress Operating Corp., 240 F.3d 1341, 1347, 57 USPQ2d 1807, 1812 (Fed. Cir. 2001). Moreover, the goods identified in the prior registrations are sufficiently similar to those in the present application for acquired distinctiveness to apply. In re Owens-Illinois Glass Co., 143 USPQ 431, 432 (TTAB 1964) (applicant's ownership of prior registration of LIBBEY for cut-glass articles held acceptable as prima facie evidence of distinctiveness of identical mark for plastic tableware, the Board stating, "Cut-glass and plastic articles of tableware are customarily sold in the same retail outlets, and purchasers of one kind of tableware might well be prospective purchasers of the other."); In re Lytle Engineering & Mfg. Co., 125 USPQ 308, 309 (TTAB 1960) (applicant's ownership of prior registration of LYTLE for various services, including the planning, preparation and production of technical publications, held acceptable as prima facie evidence of distinctiveness of identical mark for brochures, catalogues and bulletins).

Same Mark

A proposed mark is the "same mark" as a previously registered mark for the purpose of 37 C.F.R. §2.41(a)(1) if it is the "legal equivalent" of such a mark. "A mark is the legal equivalent of another if it creates the same, continuing commercial impression such that the consumer would consider them both the same mark." In re Dial-A-Mattress Operating Corp., 240 F.3d 1341, 1347, 57 USPQ2d 1807, 1812 (Fed. Cir. 2001). The addition of non-distinctive terms does not alter the same, continuing commercial impression of the shared matter. In re Best Prods. Co., 231 USPQ 988, 989 n.6 (TTAB 1986) (holding that the marks BEST & Design and BEST JEWELRY & Design were immaterial differences).

Applicant's prior mark MAISON PAQUIN features the same dominant expression – PAQUIN combined with non-distinctive matter. The evidence in the record confirms that term MAISON is so commonly used in the field of clothing and related products that it make little or no impact in forming a commercial impression (see attached). Consumers encountering the term MAISON PAQUIN and PAQUIN are likely to disregard the MAISON terminology and focus solely on the PAQUIN portion as a source identifier. For that reason, the prior registration MAISON PAQUIN and the pending application PAQUIN make the same continuing commercial impression.

Similar Goods

There is no requirement that the goods and services in the application and prior registration be identical. In order to support a claim of acquired distinctiveness, goods or services named in the application must be sufficiently similar to the goods or services named in the prior registration(s). TMEP § 1212.04(c). The relation is often self-evident, and no further inquiry is required – for example with ordinary consumer goods or services where the nature of the goods or services is commonly known and readily apparent (e.g., a prior registration for hair shampoo and new application for hair conditioner). Id.

If the similarity or relatedness is self-evident, the examining attorney may generally accept the §2(f) claim without additional evidence. This is most likely to occur with ordinary consumer goods or services where the nature and function or purpose of the goods or services is commonly known and readily apparent (e.g., a prior registration for hair shampoo and new application for hair conditioner)

Further explanation and evidence regarding the relation of the goods in the prior registration and pending application is only necessary where the relation is not self-evident – for example industrial goods or services where there may in fact be a high degree of relatedness, but it would not be obvious to someone who is not an expert in the field. See In re Owens-Illinois Glass Co., 143 USPQ 431, 432 (TTAB 1964) (applicant's ownership of prior registration of LIBBEY for cut-glass articles held acceptable as prima facie evidence of distinctiveness of identical mark for plastic tableware, the Board stating, "Cut-glass and plastic articles of tableware are customarily sold in the same retail outlets, and purchasers of one kind of tableware might well be prospective purchasers of the other."); In re Lytle Engineering & Mfg. Co., 125 USPQ 308, 309 (TTAB 1960) (applicant's ownership of prior registration of LYTLE for various services, including the planning, preparation, and production of technical publications, held acceptable as prima facie evidence of distinctiveness of identical mark for brochures, catalogs, and bulletins).

The goods in the application are "sufficiently similar" to the goods or services identified in the active prior registration(s). See 37 C.F.R. §2.41(a)(1).

The prior registration identifies the following goods:

International Class 3

All purpose cleaning preparations; Cosmetic pencils; Cosmetics and cosmetic preparations; Dentifrices and mouthwashes; Essential oils; Essential oils for aromatherapy use; Fragrances and perfumery; Hair care preparations; Incense; Make-up; Mascara; Oils for cosmetic purposes; Oils for perfumes and scents; Perfume oils; Perfumes and colognes; Personal deodorants; Pot pourri; Shampoo-conditioners; Shampoos; Shaving preparations; Shoe polish; Shower gel; Sun care lotions

The pending application identifies the following goods:

International Class 3

Perfumes; toilet water; eau de Cologne; make-up preparations; cosmetics; deodorants for personal use; essential oils; soaps; hair lotions; dentifrices; anti-wrinkle creams; tanning creams and lotions; night creams; after-shave lotions; bases, namely essential oils for use in the manufacture of flower perfumes; preparations for perfuming rooms; perfumes in solid form; perfumed soaps; gels, foams, balms and aerosol products for hair care and hair styling; shampoos

International Class 9

For International Classes 3 and 25 – the goods in the prior registration and pending application are either identical or highly related. The similarity for these classes is self-evident and requires no further explanation.

For International Classes 9, 14, and 18 – fashion houses often produce and market goods of these kind under the same marks as their goods in International Classes 3 and 25. Applicant has attached representative sample of registrations from the USPTO TESS database showing the same mark registered for these kinds of goods.

In view of the evidence and arguments presented, Applicant requests that the examining attorney accept the claim of acquired distinctiveness and withdraw the surname refusal in this case.

Request for Reconsideration after Final Action

To the Commissioner for Trademarks:

Application serial no. 79151730 PAQUIN(Standard Characters, see <http://tmng-al.uspto.gov/resting2/api/img/79151730/large>) has been amended as follows:

ARGUMENT(S)

In response to the substantive refusal(s), please note the following:

Surname Refusal

The examining attorney has refused registration on the basis that Applicant's mark is primarily merely a surname, within the meaning of Section 2(e)(4) of the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1052(e)(4).

In response, Applicant has amended the application to assert a claim of acquired distinctiveness under Section 2(f) of the Lanham Act. 15 U.S.C. § 1052(f). Applicant relies on its recently issued trademark registration for the mark MAISON PAQUIN to support its claim of acquired distinctiveness.

Ownership by the applicant of one or more prior registrations of the same mark on the Principal Register is prima facie evidence of acquired distinctiveness. Trademark Rule 2.41(b), 37 C.F.R. §2.41(b). A proposed mark is the same mark as a previously-registered mark for the purpose of 37 C.F.R. §2.41(b) if it is the "legal equivalent" of such a mark. A mark is the legal equivalent of another if it creates the same, continuing commercial impression such that the consumer would consider them both the same mark. In re Dial-A-Mattress Operating Corp., 240 F.3d 1341, 1347, 57 USPQ2d 1807, 1812 (Fed. Cir. 2001). Moreover, the goods identified in the prior registrations are sufficiently similar to those in the present application for acquired distinctiveness to apply. In re Owens-Illinois Glass Co., 143 USPQ 431, 432 (TTAB 1964) (applicant's ownership of prior registration of LIBBEY for cut-glass articles held acceptable as prima facie evidence of distinctiveness of identical mark for plastic tableware, the Board stating, "Cut-glass and plastic articles of tableware are customarily sold in the same retail outlets, and purchasers of one kind of tableware might well be prospective purchasers of the other."); In re Lytle Engineering & Mfg. Co., 125 USPQ 308, 309 (TTAB 1960) (applicant's ownership of prior registration of LYTLE for various services, including the planning, preparation and production of technical publications, held acceptable as prima facie evidence of distinctiveness of identical mark for brochures, catalogues and bulletins).

Same Mark

A proposed mark is the "same mark" as a previously registered mark for the purpose of 37 C.F.R. §2.41(a)(1) if it is the "legal equivalent" of such a mark. "A mark is the legal equivalent of another if it creates the same, continuing commercial impression such that the consumer would consider them both the same mark." In re Dial-A-Mattress Operating Corp., 240 F.3d 1341, 1347, 57 USPQ2d 1807, 1812 (Fed. Cir. 2001). The addition of non-distinctive terms does not alter the same, continuing commercial impression of the shared matter. In re Best Prods. Co., 231 USPQ 988, 989 n.6 (TTAB 1986) (holding that the marks BEST & Design and BEST JEWELRY & Design were immaterial differences).

Applicant's prior mark MAISON PAQUIN features the same dominant expression – PAQUIN combined with non-distinctive matter. The evidence in the record confirms that term MAISON is so commonly used in the field of clothing and related products that it make little or no impact in forming a commercial impression (see attached). Consumers encountering the term MAISON PAQUIN and PAQUIN are likely to disregard the MAISON terminology and focus solely on the PAQUIN portion as a source identifier. For that reason, the prior registration MAISON PAQUIN and the pending application PAQUIN make the same continuing commercial impression.

Similar Goods

There is no requirement that the goods and services in the application and prior registration be identical. In order to support a claim of acquired distinctiveness, goods or services named in the application must be sufficiently similar to the goods or services named in the prior registration(s). TMEP § 1212.04(c). The relation is often self-evident, and no further inquiry is required – for example with ordinary consumer goods or services where the nature of the goods or services is commonly known and readily apparent (e.g., a prior registration for hair shampoo and new application for hair conditioner). Id.

If the similarity or relatedness is self-evident, the examining attorney may generally accept the §2(f) claim without additional evidence. This is most likely to occur with ordinary consumer goods or services where the nature and function or purpose of the goods or services is commonly known and readily apparent (e.g., a prior registration for hair shampoo and new application for hair conditioner).

Further explanation and evidence regarding the relation of the goods in the prior registration and pending application is only necessary where the relation is not self-evident – for example industrial goods or services where there may in fact be a high degree of relatedness, but it would not be obvious to someone who is not an expert in the field. See In re Owens-Illinois Glass Co., 143 USPQ 431, 432 (TTAB 1964) (applicant's ownership of prior registration of LIBBEY for cut-glass articles held acceptable as prima facie evidence of distinctiveness of identical mark for plastic tableware, the Board stating, "Cut-glass and plastic articles of tableware are customarily sold in the same retail outlets, and purchasers of one kind of tableware might well be prospective purchasers of the other."); In re Lytle Engineering & Mfg. Co., 125 USPQ 308, 309 (TTAB 1960) (applicant's ownership of prior registration of LYTLE for various services, including the planning, preparation, and production of technical publications, held acceptable as prima facie evidence of distinctiveness of identical mark for brochures, catalogs, and bulletins).

The goods in the application are "sufficiently similar" to the goods or services identified in the active prior registration(s). See 37 C.F.R. §2.41(a)(1).

The prior registration identifies the following goods:

International Class 3

For International Classes 3 and 25 – the goods in the prior registration and pending application are either identical or highly related. The similarity for these classes is self-evident and requires no further explanation.

For International Classes 9, 14, and 18 – fashion houses often produce and market goods of these kind under the same marks as their goods in International Classes 3 and 25. Applicant has attached representative sample of registrations from the USPTO TESS database showing the same mark registered for these kinds of goods.

In view of the evidence and arguments presented, Applicant requests that the examining attorney accept the claim of acquired distinctiveness and withdraw the surname refusal in this case.
