1. Refusal – Trademark Act § 2(d) – Likelihood of Confusion

Applicant received a Final Office Action on May 19, 2015. The Examining Attorney has refused registration of the applied-for mark under Trademark Act Section 2(d), 15 U.S.C. § 1052, because of a likelihood of confusion with the marks in U.S. Registration Nos. 2109713, 2232638, and 2578136. Applicant respectfully disagrees that its mark is confusingly similar to Registrant's marks under § 2(d).

Likelihood of confusion between two marks is determined on a case-by-case basis by a review of all relevant factors under the DuPont test. In re E.I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., 476 F.2d 1357, 177 USPQ 563 (C.C.P.A. 1973). Specifically, the following thirteen factors are useful in determining whether a likelihood of confusion exists between the registered mark and the mark under examination:

1. The similarity or dissimilarity of the marks in their entireties as to appearance, sound, connotation, and commercial impression.
2. The similarity or dissimilarity and nature of the goods . . . described in an application or registration or in connection with which a prior mark is in use.
3. The similarity or dissimilarity of established, likely-to-continue trade channels.
4. The conditions under which and buyers to whom sales are made, i.e. "impulse" vs. careful, sophisticated purchasing.
5. The fame of the prior mark.
6. The number and nature of similar marks in use on similar goods.
7. The nature and extent of any actual confusion.
8. The length of time during and the conditions under which there has been concurrent use without evidence of actual confusion.
9. The variety of goods on which a mark is or is not used.
10. The market interface between the applicant and the owner of a prior mark.
11. The extent to which applicant has a right to exclude others from use of its mark on its goods.
12. The extent of potential confusion.
13. Any other established fact probative of the effect of use.

In re E.I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., 476 F.2d 1357, 1361 177 USPQ 563, 567 (CCPA 1973). The two key considerations in ex parte likelihood of confusion analysis are the similarity of the marks and the similarity of the goods. See Federated Foods, Inc. v. Fort Howard Paper Co., 544 F.2d 1098, 192 USPQ 24 (CCPA 1976). Not all of the DuPont factors may be relevant or of equal weight in a given case, and any one of the factors may control a particular case depending on the evidence of record. Citigroup Inc. v. Capital City Bank Grp., Inc., 637 F.3d at 1355, 98 USPQ2d at 1260; In re Majestic Distilling Co., 315 F.3d 1311, 1315, 65 USPQ2d 1201, 1204 (Fed. Cir. 2003); see In re E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., 476 F.2d at 1361-62, 177 USPQ at 567.

In the following analysis, Applicant respectfully submits the most relevant of the DuPont factors to the present dispute are DuPont factors 1, 2, and 3: The similarity or dissimilarity of the marks in their entireties as to appearance, sound, connotation, and commercial impression; the dissimilarity of the nature of the goods; and the dissimilarity of established, likely-to-continue trade channels.

Regarding the first DuPont factor, Applicant's mark, when considered in its entirety, has a different sound, appearance, connotation, and commercial impression from Registrant's marks because the undiluted design elements and disclaimed portion of the marks should still be given weight, as the marks must be considered as a whole. Regarding the second DuPont factor, Applicant's mark is used in relation to different services from Registrant's marks, which relate to professional hockey exhibitions or organizing community-based street hockey. Further, the evidence of third-party registrations is not probative to show that entertainment in the nature of hockey games emanates from a single source under a single mark. Regarding the third DuPont factor, when considering the relevant market, Applicant and Registrant's marks are marketed through different trade channels to different consumers. Each factor will be discussed in turn.

a. Differences in the Marks

Applicant's mark is significantly different from Registrant's marks in sound, appearance, connotation, and commercial impression. Rather than comparing the overall commercial impressions of Applicant's "PHOENIX JR. COYOTES" mark and Registrant's "STREET COYOTES" (with "STREET" disclaimed) "COYOTES" mark, and "PHOENIX COYOTES" (with "PHOENIX" disclaimed), and "COYOTES" mark, the Examining Attorney maintains that the dominant portion of the marks is the word portion, specifically "Coyotes," and thus the marks are similar in sound, appearance, and connotation. (Final Office Action, May 19, 2015, p. 4-5). Applicant respectfully disagrees. Here, Applicant's mark is not likely to cause confusion with the registered mark in spite of common material, because the mark should be considered as a whole, including design elements and disclaimed material. When considered as a whole, Applicant's mark creates a different overall commercial impression.

i. The "COYOTES" portion of the cited marks is weak

The shared “COYOTES” element of the marks cited against Applicant is diluted and weak in relation to sports or sports teams and thus should not be given much weight in a likelihood of confusion analysis. The strength and distinctiveness of a mark is a vital consideration in determining the scope of protection a mark is accorded, with stronger marks being more widely protected than weaker marks. See Amstar Corp v. Domino’s Pizza, Inc., 614 F.2d 252, 259 (5th Cir. 1980). Additions to marks can be sufficient to avoid likelihood of confusion if the matter common to the marks is not likely to be perceived by purchasers as distinguishing source because it is merely diluted. TMEP § 1207.01(b)(iii) (emphasis added); see, e.g., Shen Mfg. Co. v. Ritz Hotel Ltd., 393 F.3d 1238, 1245, 73 USPQ2d 1350, 1356-57 (Fed. Cir. 2004) (reversing TTAB’s holding that contemporaneous use of THE RITZ KIDS for clothing items (including gloves) and RITZ for various kitchen textiles (including barbeque mitts) is likely to cause confusion, because, inter alia, THE RITZ KIDS creates a different commercial impression);

The record demonstrates that the common element “COYOTES” is diluted in relation to sports teams and thus is not entitled to broad protection. Specifically, the “COYOTES” element has little power as a source identifier in connection with sports teams or sports exhibitions. Applicant submitted at least seven sports team names that use the common element “COYOTES.”

In response to these submissions, Examining Attorney argues that the only relevant field of goods and services is “hockey.” (Final Office Action, May 19, 2015, p. 5) (claiming that only five third-party registrations recite “hockey” in the identification of goods and services in Class 41). Even if the relevant field of goods and services was limited to hockey, which it is not, Applicant has submitted substantial evidence that remains unrefuted by the Examining Attorney that many hockey teams throughout the country concurrently use COYOTES as a team name, without confusion. Instead, consumers look to other words in the marks, such as location, league-type, hockey-type (i.e. street, field, ice, etc.), when distinguishing marks containing COYOTES and related to sports.

The element “COYOTES” is commonly used in connection with sports teams and thus has little power as a source identifier, and therefore must be accorded limited protection. For example, <http://www.lcyh.com/>; <http://richmondhillhockey.com/Categories/1070/>; <http://www.caspercoyotes.com/>; <http://www.kankakeecoyotes.com/>; <http://www.northlandhockeygroup.com/aaa-hockey/coyotes.php>; <http://www.coyotesfieldhockey.com/>; and <http://pointstreaksites.com/view/ladycoyotes/home-page-917> all use “COYOTES” in connection with sports (please see attached screenshots). Thus, since consumers have been exposed to many uses of “COYOTES” in connection with sports teams, “COYOTES” is diluted and consumers will look to other elements of the mark to distinguish source.

Furthermore, the Examining Attorney argues that “Coyotes,” allegedly being the dominant element of the marks, connotes a small wolf native to western North America and attaches dictionary evidence. (Final Office Action, May 19, 2015, p. 4). Although Applicant respectfully disagrees, assuming solely for the sake of argument that this is true, the number of registrations that dilute “COYOTES” grows significantly. Applicant attaches registrations for eighteen (18) of registrations relating to hockey and containing a coyote, hyena, jackal, wolf image element, Sixty eight (68) registrations relating to sports containing a coyote, hyena, jackal, wolf image element, Twenty six (26) registrations containing the literal element WOLF or WOLVES and relating to sports, and Eight (8) of registrations containing the literal element WOLF or WOLVES and relating to hockey. Accordingly, based on the Examining Attorney’s own interpretation of COYOTE, the element COYOTE is highly diluted.

The Examining Attorney also argues that even weak marks are given protection against the registration by a subsequent user of a similar mark. (Final Office Action, May 19, 2015, p. 5). While it is true that weak marks are entitled to some protection, the protection that is afforded to a weak mark is substantially less than that given to a strong mark. Furthermore, the relevant inquiry is not whether the weak mark is entitled to protection, but whether a consumer when confronted with a weak mark will look to other indications, such as other portions of the mark, to identify source. In the present case, the consumers must look to other portions of the mark because COYOTES is a weak indicator of source (whether in connection with sports, generally, or hockey, in particular.) Accordingly, consumers are unlikely to be confused when confronted with two marks that are only tangentially related with respect to goods and services, but which share the common element, COYOTES. This point is further strengthened by the complete difference in commercial appearance between COYOTES, on the one hand, and

, which contains the literal element, “PHOENIX JR. COYOTES” on the other.

ii. Different Sound and Appearance

The sound, appearance, and connotation of Applicant’s design mark  or “PHOENIX JR. COYOTES” is significantly different from Registrant’s marks “PHOENIX COYOTES,” “STREET COYOTES,” or “COYOTES.”

A disclaimer does not remove the disclaimed matter from the mark. The mark must still be regarded as a whole, including the disclaimed matter, in evaluating similarity to other marks. See In re Nat'l Data Corp., 753 F.2d 1056, 1059, 224 USPQ 749, 751 (Fed. Cir. 1985); Specialty Brands, Inc. v.

Coffee Bean Distribs., Inc., 748 F.2d 669, 672, 223 USPQ 1281, 1282 (Fed. Cir. 1984); Giant Food, Inc. v. Nation's Foodservice, Inc., 710 F.2d 1565, 1570, 218 USPQ 390, 395 (Fed. Cir. 1983); Schwarzkopf v. John H. Breck, Inc., 340 F.2d 978, 144 USPQ 433 (C.C.P.A. 1965); In re MCI Commc'ns Corp., 21 USPQ2d 1534, 1538-39 (Comm'r Pats. 1991). This is because likelihood of confusion is determined by the reaction of ordinary purchasers who do not know about disclaimers, because a disclaimer does not remove the disclaimed matter from the mark. Giant Food, Inc. v. Nation's Foodservice, Inc., 710 F.2d 1565, 1570, 218 USPQ 390, 395 (Fed. Cir. 1983) (emphasis added).

“There is no general rule as to whether letters or designs will dominate in a composite mark; nor is the dominance of letters or design dispositive of the issue.” In re Electrolyte Labs. Inc., 929 F.2d 645, 647, 16 USPQ2d 1239, 1240 (Fed. Cir. 1990). Further, disclaimed matter may be dominant or significant in some cases. TMEP § 1213.10.

The Examining Attorney argues that “COYOTES” is the dominant element in Applicant’s and Registrant’s marks. (Final Office Action, May 19, 2015, p. 4). Applicant respectfully disagrees. The “COYOTES” element is actually diluted as to sports teams and the dominant portion of the marks are the undiluted elements, “PHOENIX,” “STREET,” “JR.” and the design portions of Applicant’s mark.

When considered in their entireties, including disclaimed material, a comparison of the marks is as follows:

Applicant’s design mark is:

Registration No. 2109713 is: PHOENIX COYOTES

Registration No. 2232638 is: STREET COYOTES

Registration No. 2578136 is: COYOTES

There are plain differences in the marks when they are considered as a whole. Most importantly, Applicant’s mark is a stylized mark “JR. COYOTES” in large, different sized letters to make a squeezed appearance. The word “PHOENIX” is relegated to a small line of text in an elongated rectangular box above the dominating “JR.” The “JR.” is the first portion of the mark isolated on its own, so it is the part that draws attention away from the remainder of the mark. Even at a glance, consumers could not possibly be confused by any similarity in appearance between the marks. In particular, Applicant’s mark has the words “JR. COYOTES” in large stylized block letters that are double outlined and at least six times as big as the word “PHOENIX.” The design is in completely different stylized letters than the three cited marks and with several outlines and borders around the letters. ” Importantly, Applicant’s mark also contains two completely different literal elements from Registration Nos. 2232638 and 2578136; both “JR.” and “PHOENIX.” None of the three cited registered marks contain the “JR.” element. Just because the marks simply share the common diluted element “COYOTES” does not mean they are likely to be confused. A consumer viewing the mark would first see the large isolated “JR.” design. In contrast, Registrant’s marks lack these design elements, which must be considered when comparing the marks as a whole.

Examining Attorney argues that “COYOTES” is the entirety of the mark in Registration No. 2578136 and that Applicant “merely” added “JR.” to the middle of the mark (Final Office Action, May 19, 2015, p. 5). Although the Examining Attorney attempts to minimize the significant difference between COYOTES and Applicant’s mark that contains “JR.” and “PHOENIX” and the thick borders around the letters, these differences are large, obvious, and sufficiently distinguish Applicant’s mark from Registrant’s “STREET COYOTES,” “PHOENIX COYOTES,” and “COYOTES” because Applicant’s mark has significantly different additions that a member of the purchasing public would consider when viewing the marks. Simply put, the marks should be considered as a whole, including disclaimed matter, as a consumer would perceive them. Once the marks are considered as a whole, their distinctions are clear and obvious.

Regarding sound, Applicant’s mark would be pronounced as four separate words: “Phoenix Junior Coyotes.” This is a significant difference in sound from just “coyotes,” “Phoenix coyotes” or “Street coyotes.” Once Applicant’s mark “PHOENIX JR. COYOTES” is regarded as a whole, it has clear differences in length, appearance, and sound from Registrant’s marks.

Thus, when Applicant’s mark is considered as a whole, it has a different appearance and sound from Registrant’s marks. Thus, there is no likelihood of confusion between the marks when they are considered as a whole.

iii. Different Connotations and Commercial Impressions

Further, Applicant’s mark has a different commercial impression from Registrant’s marks when considered in relation to their respective goods and services. In determining whether two marks give the same commercial impression, the question is whether the marks create the same overall impression. See Recot, Inc. v. M.C. Becton, 214 F.3d 1322, 1329-30, 54 USPQ2d 1894, 1899 (Fed. Cir. 2000); Visual Info. Inst., Inc. v. Vicon Indus. Inc., 209 USPQ 179, 189 (TTAB 1980). The focus is on the recollection of the average purchaser, who normally retains a general rather than specific impression of trademarks.

L'Oreal S.A. v. Marcon, 102 USPQ2d 1434, 1438 (TTAB 2012); Sealed Air Corp. v. Scott Paper Co., 190 USPQ 106, 108 (TTAB 1975); TMEP §1207.01(b). Likelihood of confusion cannot be predicated on dissection of the mark, that is, on only part of the mark. TMEP § 1207.01.

Even marks that are identical in sound and/or appearance may create sufficiently different commercial impressions when applied to the respective parties' goods or services so that there is no likelihood of confusion. See, e.g., In re Sears, Roebuck & Co., 2 USPQ2d 1312, 1314 (TTAB 1987) (holding CROSS-OVER for bras and CROSSOVER for ladies' sportswear not likely to cause confusion, noting that the term "CROSS-OVER" was suggestive of the construction of applicant's bras, whereas "CROSSOVER," as applied to registrant's goods, was "likely to be perceived by purchasers either as an entirely arbitrary designation, or as being suggestive of sportswear which "crosses over" the line between informal and more formal wear . . . or the line between two seasons") (emphasis added).

Applicant's mark is clearly not identical in sound or appearance to Registrant's marks (the marks are, in fact, nearly entirely different). Further, the marks do not create the same commercial impression.

Registrant No. 1's mark "PHOENIX COYOTES" (with "PHOENIX" disclaimed) in U.S. Registration No. 2109713 is used in connection with:

Class 41: entertainment services, namely, providing professional hockey exhibitions (emphasis added)

Registrant No. 1's mark "STREET COYOTES" (with "STREET" disclaimed) in U.S. Registration No. 2232638 is used in connection with:

Class 41: organizing and administering community based street hockey programs and competitions for youths (emphasis added)

Registrant No. 2's mark "COYOTES" in U.S. Registration No. 2578136 is used in connection with:

Class 41: entertainment services in the nature of professional ice hockey exhibitions (emphasis added)

Applicant's design mark is "PHOENIX JR. COYOTES" in U.S. Application Serial No. 86134808 in connection with:

Class 41: Entertainment in the nature of ice hockey games; entertainment services, namely, providing ice hockey teams and tournaments

The Examining Attorney argues that, "Coyotes," allegedly being the dominant element of the marks, connotes a small wolf native to western North America and attaches dictionary evidence. (Final Office Action, May 19, 2015, p. 4). However, this analysis overlooks most of Applicant's mark, including the design and disclaimed material, which must be considered. Applicant submits that the dominant elements of the marks are the undiluted elements discussed above. When the marks are considered as a whole, as a consumer would perceive them, it becomes clear that Applicant's mark connotes the opposite of a professional hockey exhibition, and in fact connotes an amateur sports team. An amateur league or sports team connotation is different from Registrant's "PHOENIX COYOTES," "STREET COYOTES," and "COYOTES" marks. The relevant consumers of Applicant's and Registrant's services would be highly cautious before confusing a mark like "PHOENIX JR. COYOTES" in relation to entertainment in the nature of ice hockey games with "STREET COYOTES," "COYOTES," or "PHOENIX COYOTES," which connote being outdoors or on the street. Registrant's "STREET COYOTES" gives the commercial impression of organizing community based street hockey programs, and "PHOENIX COYOTES" and "COYOTES" give the commercial impression of a professional sport or exhibition. Therefore, Applicant's mark "PHOENIX JR. COYOTES" when considered as a whole is not remotely similar to Registrant's marks and does not connote the animal coyote, but instead a team or affiliation for juniors or amateurs.

Furthermore, as explained above, the connotation of COYOTE that was given by the Examining Attorney is highly diluted with respect to sports and hockey, and therefore, consumers would be very unlikely to rely on this portion of the mark in determining meaning. Accordingly, this further distinguishes Applicant's mark from Registrant's.

The Examining Attorney further argues that the commercial impressions of the marks are the same because Applicant "merely" adds the descriptive two words "JR." and "PHOENIX." (Final Office Action, May 19, 2015, p. 4-5). Applicant respectfully disagrees that its mark is similar to any of prior Registrant's marks or that Applicant's mark is descriptive. The mark, when considered as a whole with its two distinct literal elements, does not give off the commercial impression of a small wolf. Moreover, Applicant maintains that its mark "PHOENIX JR. COYOTES" is arbitrary and undiluted with respect to Applicant's goods, as the terms "COYOTES" or "JR." have no literal connection to ice hockey within the field of entertainment in the nature of hockey games. Relevant consumers who come across "COYOTES" would not be able to connect the mark with services in the area of entertainment in the nature of hockey games.

Registrant's limitations to services for "professional hockey exhibitions" and "street hockey," are not minor. The marks "COYOTES" and "PHOENIX COYOTES" invoke a connection to a service that is unrelated to Applicants, as the commercial impression of professional ice hockey exhibitions are different from "PHOENIX JR. COYOTES" in connection with entertainment services, namely, providing ice hockey teams and tournaments. Professional ice hockey exhibitions are demonstration games, which are completely different from entertainment services, namely, providing ice hockey teams and tournaments. A member of the public would not draw any connection or affiliation between a team calling itself “COYOTES” and playing professional-level athletics and a professional team wearing specific NHL jerseys or community street hockey teams and a business that provides ice hockey teams and tournaments.

The difference in commercial impression can be further demonstrated by a closer look at the identification of services. As can be seen from the identification of services, Registrant’s services for “PHOENIX COYOTES” (with “PHOENIX” disclaimed) in U.S. Registration No. 2109713 is directed towards professional hockey exhibitions. Similarly, Registrant’s mark “COYOTES” in U.S. Registration No. 2578136 is directed towards entertainment services in the nature of professional ice hockey exhibitions. Professional hockey exhibitions are demonstration events where there is no competitive value, so they are different from competitive matches or tournaments (See https://www.tititodorancea.net/z/exhibition_game.htm). Applicant attaches screenshot evidence that exhibitions are different from competitive matches. Further, professional hockey exhibitions are typically played in large arenas or well-known stadiums. Applicant’s mark gives the commercial impression of exactly the opposite when connected with its goods and services, that is, the entertainment services, namely, providing ice hockey teams and tournaments are for juniors or amateurs. Therefore, a member of the public encountering a “COYOTES” mark would be highly cautious before drawing a connection between a professional hockey exhibition and ice hockey teams and tournaments.

Next, Registrant’s mark “STREET COYOTES” (with “STREET” disclaimed) in U.S. Registration No. 2232638 is directed towards community based street hockey programs and competitions. Community based street hockey is an entirely different sport from ice hockey (see http://cbha.com/page.php?page_id=51167). It uses a ball and stick as opposed to a puck and it is also known as “road hockey” or “ball hockey.” (See also <http://dcsocialsports.com/pages/rules-streethockey>). Street hockey is played in an open area such as a roadway or parking lot. Applicant attaches screenshot evidence of these definitions. In contrast, other types of hockey are played typically with ice skates. Applicant’s mark does not give off the impression of street hockey or hockey played with a ball. Therefore, a member of the public would be unlikely to encounter a business related to ice hockey teams and tournaments and street hockey in the same field of commerce. A member of the public would be highly cautious before drawing a connection between a business that provided entertainment services, namely, providing ice hockey teams and tournaments and a professional ice hockey exhibition.

Applicant’s mark “PHOENIX JR. COYOTES” has a different commercial impression from Registrant’s marks because it does not connote a professional hockey exhibition or community-based street hockey for youths. Therefore, when the marks are considered in their entireties and in relation to their goods and services, there are clear differences in commercial impression between Applicant's and Registrant's marks which preclude likelihood of confusion by relevant consumers.

b. Dissimilarity of the Nature of Goods and Services

Applicant mark "PHOENIX JR. COYOTES" is used on dissimilar services from prior Registrant's. Not only are the goods and services unrelated because they are dissimilar, but they are marketed in different trade channels and to different consumers.

The nature and scope of a party's goods or services must be determined on the basis of the goods or services recited in the application or registration. TMEP 1207.01(a)(iii). See, e.g., Stone Lion Capital Partners, L.P. v. Lion Capital LLP, ___ F.3d ___, 110 USPQ2d 1157, 1162 (Fed. Cir. Mar. 26, 2014); Coach Servs., Inc. v. Triumph Learning LLC, 668 F.3d 1356, 1370, 101 USPQ2d 1713, 1722 (Fed. Cir. 2012); Hewlett-Packard Co. v. Packard Press Inc., 281 F.3d 1261, 1267, 62 USPQ2d 1001, 1004 (Fed. Although Internet evidence is permissible to clarify uncertain terms in the identification of goods and services, a determination of the scope of Registrant's mark must be made on the basis of the identification in the registration.

The Examining Attorney alleges that Applicant's identification of services is similar to Registrant's because it encompasses Registrant's services. (Final Office Action, May 19, 2015, p. 7). However, Applicant submits that its services do not encompass Registrant's identified goods and services, but that the identified goods and services are distinct.

First, Registration Nos. 2109713 and 2578136 relate to professional hockey exhibitions. Professional hockey exhibitions are completely different types of services from "entertainment services, namely, providing ice hockey teams and tournaments," and the relevant consumers would not be confused between the two types of services. Professional hockey exhibitions are limited to professional players and are used where there is no competitive value regardless of the outcome of the competition played outside the regular season (see <http://www.sportingcharts.com/dictionary/nhl/exhibition-game.aspx>). Applicant has attached a definition of an Exhibition Game in the NHL as used by professional hockey players.

Next, Applicant respectfully disagrees that its services are related to the services Registration No. 2232638's mark "STREET COYOTES" (with "STREET" disclaimed) is directed to. Registrant's "STREET COYOTES" in connection with community-based street hockey programs and competitions for youths, has little to do with "PHOENIX JR. COYOTES" in connection with entertainment services, namely, providing ice hockey teams and tournaments.

The Examining Attorney provides website evidence to argue that Registration No. 2232648 for "STREET COYOTES" has related services to Applicant's. (Final Office Action, May 19, 2015, p. 7). However, the likelihood of confusion determination must be made on the basis of the goods and services as identified in the application or registration, rather than on the basis of what the evidence might show the applicant's or registrant's goods or services to be. In re Continental Graphics Corp., 52 U.S.P.Q.2d 1374, 1377 (T.T.A.B. 1999) (emphasis added). The Examining Attorney points to extrinsic website evidence to argue that the parties' goods and services are related when the comparison should be limited to the identified goods and services in the application and registration. When looking to the identifications of goods and services, Registrant's mark "STREET COYOTES" (with "STREET" disclaimed) in U.S. Registration No. 2232638 is directed towards community based street hockey programs and competitions. Applicant maintains that street hockey is played outside with a ball instead of a puck and usually on even surfaces with roller blades. In contrast, "entertainment services, namely, providing ice hockey teams and tournaments" are different from administering community street hockey games. Therefore, members of the public are unlikely to encounter providing ice hockey teams and tournaments and street hockey in the same fields of commerce

Examining Attorney provided evidence from the USPTO X Search Database containing registered third-party marks in an attempt to show that that services such as entertainment in the nature of hockey games are the kind that emanate from a single source. Specifically, The Examining Attorney states the following:

... This evidence shows that the services listed therein, namely, entertainment in the nature of ice hockey games, are of a kind that may emanate from a single source under a single mark. See In re Anderson, 101 USPQ2d 1912, 1919 (TTAB 2012); In re Albert Trostel & Sons Co., 29 USPQ2d 1783, 1785-86 (TTAB 1993); In re Mucky Duck Mustard Co., 6 USPQ2d 1467, 1470 n.6 (TTAB 1988); TMEP §1207.01(d)(iii). Specifically, the third party registered marks are THE BUSHNELL, A AVIATOR SPORTS AND RECREATION, ANAHEIM ICE, D DARTHMOUTH BIG GREEN, SAN ANTONIO RAMPAGE, MUDBUGS, C, WESTCHESTER VIPERS, SPRINGFIELD FALCONS, and MINNESOTA SHOWCASE HOCKEY.

(Final Office Action, May 19, 2015, p. 6). Applicant maintains that this evidence has little to no probative value to show that in the marketplace entertainment in the nature of hockey games are the kind that emanate from a single source or that Applicant's and Registrant's services are related. Two of the ten third party registrations submitted have been cancelled (A AVIATOR SPORTS AND RECREATION and WESTCHESTER VIPERS), including the only registration that may have been probative (WESTCHESTER VIPERS). This leaves eight third party registrations that are not probative to show entertainment in the nature of hockey games emanate from the same source, as explained below.

Third-party registrations that cover a number of different goods or services may have some probative value to the extent that they may serve to suggest that goods or services are of a type that may emanate from a single source, if the registrations are based on use in commerce. In re Mucky Duck Mustard Co., 6 USPQ2d 1467, 1470 n.6 (TTAB), aff'd per curiam, 864 F.2d 149 (Fed. Cir. 1988); see also In re Princeton Tectonics, Inc., 95 USPQ2d 1509, 1511 (TTAB 2010) (emphasis added). Applicant respectfully disagrees that Applicant's and Registrant's services are similar and further disagrees that entertainment services in the nature of hockey games are related. While third-party registrations can play an important role in establishing that the types of goods at issue are related, examining attorneys must review the registrations carefully to ensure that each registration presented is probative and that the number of registrations is sufficient, along with other types of evidence, to establish that the types of goods at issue are related. In re Princeton Tectonics, Inc., 95 USPQ2d 1509 (TTAB 2010).

The Trademark Trial and Appeal Board also found that third-party registrations have no probative value when the products or services listed in the respective descriptions of goods are different. See In re Thor Tech, Inc., Serial No. 85667188 (January 26, 2015) (emphasis added). The case In re Thor Tech, Inc. found that third party registrations showing marks in connection with land motor vehicles and towable recreational vehicle trailers showed the businesses in the two industries were distinct enough to avoid confusion between even identical marks, despite the Examining Attorney's third-party registration evidence. Id. at 7. "Registrations tend to define fields of use and, conversely, the boundaries of use and protection surrounding the marks and marks comprising the same word...for the various products." In Keebler Company v. Associated Biscuits Limited, 207 USPQ 1034 (TTAB 1980).

In In re Princeton Tectonics, Inc., the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board found that only one of six third-party registrations provided by the Examining Attorney that included personal head lamps was possibly probative of showing that personal headlamps and electronic lighting fixtures are related because the primary purpose of the goods "...is to emit and provide light." 95 USPQ2d 1509 (TTAB 2010). The TTAB found that registrations that also identified other goods, such as automatic bread-making machines, rice cookers, various types of cooking ovens, ventilation systems, and air conditioners diminished the probative value in establishing any two items identified in the registration are related. Id. At 6-7.

Similarly, here only one registration that was possibly probative of showing that entertainment in the nature of hockey games emanate from a single source has been cancelled (Registration No. 3518721 for “WESTCHESTER VIPERS”). All other descriptions in the third-party registrations are different from Applicant’s because they relate to different services such as professional ice hockey exhibitions or are used on a diversity of goods identified in the registration. Thus, they are not probative in showing that entertainment and ice hockey often emanate from a single source. Each non-probative third-party registration is discussed in turn.

- U.S. Registration No. 2746550 for “MINNESOTA SHOWCASE HOCKEY” is registered in Class 41 for “entertainment in the nature of organization and management of adult and youth off-season ice hockey [and in-line hockey] leagues.” (emphasis added).
- U.S. Registration No. 2757651 for “SAN ANTONIO RAMPAGE” is registered in Class 41 for “entertainment in the nature of professional hockey games.” (emphasis added).

The organization and management of off-season ice hockey is different from Applicant’s services, which relate to entertainment in the nature of ice hockey games. Moreover, as demonstrated earlier, professional hockey services are different from entertainment in the nature of ice hockey games.

Further, the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board has noted that a diversity of the goods identified in the registration diminishes the probative value in establishing that any two items identified in the registration are related. In re Princeton Tectonics, Inc., 95 USPQ2d 1509 (TTAB 2010); In re Davey Products Pty Ltd., 92 USPQ2d 1198, 1203 (TTAB 2009). Here, the following third-party registrations provided by the Examining Attorney have a diverse amount of goods identified in their registrations that diminishes the probative value of establishing that entertainment services and ice hockey are related:

- U.S. Registration No. 3039295 for “SPRINGFIELD FALCONS” is registered in
 - Class 25 for “Clothing, namely, short and long sleeved t-shirts, hats; baby clothes, namely, infant rompers; toddler apparel, namely, short sets, sweat shirts and t-shirts; sweat shirts, sweat pants, jackets, overalls, nylon wind suits, short and long sleeved golf shirts, game jerseys, game pants, socks, sweaters and mittens”

- Class 41 for “Entertainment in the nature of professional ice hockey exhibitions.” (emphasis added).

As demonstrated earlier, Professional ice hockey exhibitions are entirely different services from entertainment in the nature of ice hockey games. Further, this registration is used on a broad variety of goods which are unrelated (such as golf shirts, sweat shirts, game pants, and socks).

- U.S. Registration No. 3434046 for “C” is registered in
 - Class 25 for “CLOTHING, APPAREL, AND ACCESSORIES, NAMELY, JACKETS, SHIRTS, RUGBY SHIRTS, SHORTS, SWEATSHIRTS, CAPS, HATS, VISORS, NECKTIES, BOXER SHORTS, ATHLETIC UNIFORMS, COATS, SPORT COATS, INFANT WEAR, BABY BIBS NOT OF PAPER, SOCKS, SWEAT PANTS, SWEATERS, SLIPPERS, PAJAMAS AND SLEEP WEAR, FOOTWEAR, GLOVES, MITTENS, SCARVES, CARDIGANS, HEAD BANDS, WRIST BANDS, AND RAINWEAR”
 - Class 41 for “Educational services, namely, providing courses of instruction, seminars, training programs, and conferences at the undergraduate and graduate level; entertainment services in the nature of cross-country, ice hockey, basketball, soccer, softball, tennis, water polo and volleyball games; arranging and conducting athletic competitions; entertainment in the nature of cross-country, ice hockey, basketball, soccer, softball, tennis, volleyball, water polo, swimming, and ballroom dance tournaments; conducting entertainment exhibitions in the nature of community festivals, athletic tournaments, and sporting events; providing entertainment programs in the nature of promoting women in athletics and community service programs; organizing community festivals featuring a variety of activities, namely, sporting events, promoting women in athletics and community service programs; entertainment services, namely, organizing exhibitions for educational and sporting activities related to university events.” (emphasis added)

Thus, this Registration is based on a large variety of clothing apparel, accessories, and educational services for a broad amount of athletic events that are not related. Further, the Registrant conducts entertainment exhibitions and community festivals for both educational and sporting activities related to university events. Therefore, this registration is not probative of showing that entertainment services in the nature of hockey emanate from a single source.

- U.S. Registration No. 3906729 for “MUDBUGS” is registered in
 - Class 14 for “ornamental pins,”
 - Class 16 for “Books in the field of ice hockey; Bumper stickers; Decals; Event programs; Flags and pennants of paper; Ink pens; Paper pennants; Pennants of paper; Poster board; Posters; Posters made of paper; Unmounted posters,”
 - Class 25 for “Athletic apparel, namely, shirts, pants, jackets, footwear, hats and caps, athletic uniforms; Caps; Caps with visors; Hats”
 - Class 28 for “Hockey gloves; Hockey pucks; Hockey stick blades; Hockey stick shafts; Hockey sticks; Ice hockey goalie pads; Ice hockey sticks”
 - Class 41 for “Arranging and conducting athletic competitions; Conducting entertainment exhibitions in the nature of professional ice hockey games; Entertainment in the nature of hockey games; Entertainment in the nature of professional ice hockey games; Entertainment services, namely, arranging and conducting of competitions for professional ice hockey; Operation of sports camps; Organizing exhibitions for ice hockey; Sport camp services; Sport camps; Sports camp services; Sports training services”

This Registration uses its mark on a broad variety of goods in five different classes, from ornamental pins and ink pens to books and athletic apparel, all of which are unrelated. Further, as demonstrated earlier, professional ice hockey games and exhibitions are different from entertainment services in the nature of ice hockey games. Registrant also uses its mark with sports camp and sports training services, which further shows it is registered for use with a diverse description and variety of services, which limits its probative value.

- U.S. Registration No. 3123034 for “D DARTMOUTH BIG GREEN” is registered in
 - Class 41 for “Entertainment in the nature of athletic events, namely, baseball, basketball, crew, cross country, equestrian, field hockey, football, golf, ice hockey, lacrosse, sailing, soccer, softball, skiing, squash, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field, volleyball, badminton, boxing, cheerleading, cricket, cycling, dressage, fencing, figure skating, frisbee, [kendo,] rugby, tae kwon do, [tang soo do,] triathlon, water polo; organization of sporting events, namely, baseball, basketball, crew, cross country, equestrian, field hockey, football, golf, ice hockey, lacrosse, sailing, soccer, softball, skiing, squash, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field, volleyball, badminton, boxing, cheerleading, cricket, cycling, dressage, fencing, figure skating, frisbee, kendo, rugby, taekwon do, tang soo do, triathlon, water polo”

While Registrant is only registered in Class 41, it uses its mark on a diversity of goods including multiple athletic events like badminton, Frisbee, taekwon do, and squash. This third-party registration has little to no probative value to show that entertainment in the nature of hockey emanate from a single source.

- U.S. Registration No. 3228927 for “ANAHEIM ICE” is registered in
 - Class 25 for “Clothing, namely, shirts, jackets, sports jerseys, and athletic uniforms * sold or used in the context of Registrant's ice skating, ice rink, or ice hockey activities *”
 - Class 41 for “Providing ice skating rink services; providing ice skating rink facilities for ice sports exhibitions and training; providing information in the field of ice sports; education and training, namely, conducting classes and seminars in the field of ice sports; entertainment in the nature of hockey games, ice skating exhibitions and other live ice sports competitions; ice sports leagues, namely, entertainment in the nature of competitions in the field of ice sports and athletics” (emphasis added)

Registrant uses its mark on a diversity of goods in two different classes, from clothing articles to education and training. Thus, the probative value of this third-party registration is diminished and does not show that entertainment in the nature of hockey emanate from a single source.

- U.S. Registration No. 3445262 for “A AVIATOR SPORTS AND RECREATION” has been cancelled, but was registered in connection with an incredibly broad diversity of goods, including organizing community festivals, community sporting and cultural events, personal training services, art exhibitions, wrestling contests, and providing gymnasiums or gymnastic facilities. This third-party registration had little to no probative value to show that entertainment in the nature of hockey emanate from a single source.
- U.S. Registration No. 3988319 for “THE BUSHNELL” is registered in:
 - Class 35 for “Business and corporate event management services in the nature of operating and managing entertainment and sports venue for others”
 - Class 41 for “Entertainment services, namely, live music concerts; entertainment services, namely, organizing live sporting events in the field of football, soccer, rugby, lacrosse, field hockey, outdoor ice hockey and baseball; entertainment in the nature of live stage performances in the nature of plays, concerts, musicals, dance performances, performance art, comedy acts, circus acts, fairs, animal exhibitions, or lecture for hire in the fields of current events, music, arts, living, work, and politics by individuals or groups of individuals; entertainment services, namely, displaying films”

- Class 43 for “Providing banquet and social function facilities for special occasions, namely, weddings, business meetings, luncheons, Bar and Bat Mitzvahs, conferences and parties of all sizes”

As can be seen from the above identification of services, this third party Registrant uses its mark on a diversity of goods in multiple classes, including business and corporate event management services, entertainment services such as live music concerts and live stage performances in the natures of plays, concerts, musicals, and dance performances, and providing banquet and social function facilities for special occasions. Thus, it has limited to no probative value to show that entertainment in the nature of hockey emanate from a single source.

In conclusion, Registrant’s and Applicant’s services are dissimilar. Moreover, the third-party registrations do not show that that providing facilities for entertainment in the nature of hockey games emanate from a single source under a single mark. Therefore, the marks are not likely to cause confusion under § 2(d). Accordingly, Applicant respectfully requests that this rejection be withdrawn and this mark move forward to publication.

c. Difference in Channels of Trade

This leads to the DuPont factors concerning relevant trade channels and the conditions under which and buyers to whom sales are made. A focus on the marketplace in any likelihood of confusion determination is key. Applicant’s and Registrant’s goods and services are dissimilar and marketed so they would be encountered by different consumers in different situations and through different trade channels, so there is no likelihood of confusion.

If the goods or services in question are not related or marketed in such a way that they would be encountered by the same persons in situations that would create the incorrect assumption that they originate from the same source, then, even if the marks are identical, confusion is not likely. See, e.g., Local Trademarks, Inc. v. Handy Boys Inc., 16 USPQ2d 1156 (TTAB 1990) (LITTLE PLUMBER for liquid drain opener held not confusingly similar to LITTLE PLUMBER and design for advertising services, namely the formulation and preparation of advertising copy and literature in the plumbing field); Quartz Radiation Corp. v. Comm/Scope Co., 1 USPQ2d 1668 (TTAB 1986) (QR for coaxial cable held not confusingly similar to QR for various products (e.g., lamps, tubes) related to the photocopying field); TMEP 1207.01(a)(i).

The Examining Attorney attaches extrinsic evidence of Applicant's website to allegedly demonstrate that Applicant's and Registrant's marks travel through the same channels of trade. Again, a likelihood of confusion determination must be limited to the identification of the registration. Applicant's "PHOENIX JR. COYOTES" in connection with "entertainment services, namely, providing ice hockey teams and tournaments" would not travel through the same channel of trade as any of Registrant's, including "STREET COYOTES" for "organizing and administering community based street hockey programs and competitions for youths," where street hockey is played outdoors. These services would be marketed to the communities where the organization of street hockey programs for youths would be organized. In fact, professional hockey exhibitions such as those in Registrant's "COYOTES" and "PHOENIX COYOTES" are marketed to professional fans such as those who watch the NHL, while junior community-based games such as those in "STREET COYOTES" are marketed to the local consumers in that community. Thus, the consumers who would come across the respective marks would not overlap since the channels of trade are different.

Examining Attorney further states:

The Internet evidence attached to the Initial Office Action consisting of webpages from the websites of www.spokanechiefs.com, www.denvercutthroats.com, www.lakeeriemonsters.com, and <http://teamohio.com/> establishes that the same entity commonly provides the relevant services and markets the services under the same mark and that the relevant services are provided through the same trade channels. Therefore, applicant's and registrants' services are considered related for likelihood of confusion purposes. See, e.g., In re Davey Prods. Pty Ltd., 92 USPQ2d 1198, 1202-04 (TTAB 2009); In re Toshiba Med. Sys. Corp., 91 USPQ2d 1266, 1268-69, 1271-72 (TTAB 2009).

Applicant requested clarification of a portion of the above-reference paragraph. The evidence establishes that there are entities other than the applicant and the registrants that commonly provide similar services (i.e., entertainment featuring hockey) under their own mark.

(Final Office Action, May 19, 2015, p. 6-7). Applicant respectfully disagrees that the evidence above shows that Applicant's and Registrant's identified goods and services are similar. The evidence points to four other entities that provide a variety of services, such as scholarships, tickets, birthday parties, and hockey events, but it is unclear what services are specifically provided by each. Further, Applicant respectfully disagrees that the “relevant services” as related to Applicant’s goods and services are both entertainment featuring hockey.

Providing only a website address or hyperlink to Internet materials is insufficient to make such materials of record. In re Powermat Inc., 105 USPQ2d 1789, 1791 (TTAB 2013); In re HSB Solomon Assocs. LLC, 102 USPQ2d 1269, 1274 (TTAB 2012). In In re Thor Tech, Inc., Serial No. 85667188 (January 26, 2015), the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board found reprints from Internet websites of companies purportedly selling both trucks and recreational vehicles, namely, towable trailers did not show the products moved in the same channel of trade. Further, The Trademark Trial and Appeal Board noted that while trucks and recreational towable trailers may occasionally be sold by the same retailers, under the facts of that case the products were noncompetitive. Id. at 10. Further, evidence that generally fails to identify the particular types of goods at issue, or evidence that is from sources which sell a broad range of varied and unrelated goods online has not been found probative. In re Princeton Tectonics, Inc., 95 USPQ2d 1509 (TTAB 2010).

Simply put, the websites listed above merely show several different businesses who offer a wide variety of services. The four teams offer different services and are accordingly noncompetitive. These are all businesses and sports teams that sell a broad range of varied goods online. For example, the websites seem to lead to the following unrelated services below:

- The Spokane Chiefs offer merchandise, scholarships, tickets, alumni services, and various other events being sold through its site.
- The Denver Cutthroats offer birthday parties, tickets, group outings, and a party deck.
- The Lake Erie Monsters offer tickets, community funds, charity, and merchandise on their site.
- Team Ohio offers team stores, alumni services, and other services on its site.

Specifically, Examining Attorney cites websites for multiple different sports websites with different services. The businesses are different because they provide a wide range of services, including birthday parties, scholarships, coaching, and other types of sports. These services are dissimilar and are also dissimilar from Applicant’s services.

Therefore, when the marketplace is considered, Applicant’s goods and services are marketed to those who utilize “entertainment services, namely, providing ice hockey teams and tournaments” whereas Registrant’s goods and services are marketed to fans of professional hockey exhibitions and community-based street hockey for youths. Thus, the goods and services would be encountered by different consumers in different channels of trade and there is no likelihood of confusion between the marks.

d. Conclusion

In conclusion, Applicant respectfully submits that all the DuPont factors discussed favor Applicant and that a consumer is unlikely to be confused by the simultaneous registration of Applicant's and Registrant's marks. Therefore, Applicant respectfully requests that Applicant's applied-for mark be moved to publication.

About the sport

Although the sport is now much more organized, for many, their first experience remains the same as for those who first played ball hockey. It simply involved a few friends or family members, an open area, such as a roadway or parking lot near their home, some rocks or bricks to mark the goal posts, a tennis ball, old hockey sticks, and the game was on.

The official version of street or ball hockey is a relatively young sport, with a very short modern history, but its roots can be traced back to similar games played with a ball and stick. The first documented history of such a game, called hurling, dates back to the second millennium BC when it was played in Ireland. The word hockey derives from a similar game played by the Native Indians in North America, firstly observed in 1572.

The development of ball hockey until recently, has closely followed that of ice hockey, as it has spread around the world in the northern (colder) climates. Formally organized street or ball hockey leagues, in its modern form, grew independently in several countries, Canada (late 1960s), the USA (early 1970s), Austria, Czechia, and Slovakia (1980s), Finland, Germany, Japan, and Switzerland (early 1990s). Due to its close relationship with ice hockey, street and ball hockey developed with similar rules throughout these countries. After the political changes in Eastern Europe in 1989, international exchanges flourished, and included cross-Atlantic competitions as early as 1991, leading to the establishment of the International Street & Ball Hockey Federation in 1993, and the bi-annual World Junior and Senior Championships, which commenced in 1996. The past few years have seen an explosion of the game in tropical nations, and in the orient where it's ease of play is very attractive.

The Canadian version of the game began to take its shape in the late 1960s in Toronto, Ontario, with Habitant Arena hosting a summer program in 1969, and some speculate that it may have even started the year before in the east end of the city. The first plastic orange ball was introduced by Arnold Herka, of Viceroy Rubber, to George Butterwick who was operating a Toronto league circa 1970, and the game has never looked back.

The Canadian Ball Hockey Association was founded a few years later in 1977. For more information on the Canadian game, see the website page entitled About The CBHA.

Exhibition game

An exhibition game (also known as an exhibition match or simply exhibition, or a demonstration or demo or an "exhibit" event) is a sporting event in which there is no competitive value of any significant kind to any competitor (such as tournament or season rankings, or prize money) regardless of the outcome of the competition. Quality of play is generally valued over the end result. In association football a common equivalent term is friendly match. The term scrimmage is also sometimes used, especially with regard to team sports, but is ambiguous because it has other meanings even in that context. Another synonym is preparation match.

Throughout the world, many team and one-on-one sports and games feature exhibition matches. For example, two professional snooker or chess players, or two ice hockey teams, may play an exhibition to settle a challenge, to provide (compensated) entertainment, or often to raise money for charities.

In some sports, especially in North America, exhibition games also take the form of a handful of pre-season games that are intended to familiarize teammates with each other and prepare for upcoming matches. In professional sports, pre-season games also help teams decide which players to keep for the regular season.

Given the highly competitive nature of professional sports (and the frequent lack of disciplinary action by officiating bodies for rules or sportsmanship infractions during exhibitions), "friendly" matches are not always the exemplars of good will and fair play that the term might suggest.

Association football

In the early days of association football (soccer), friendly matches (or "friendlies") were the most common type of match. However since the development of The English Football League in 1888, league tournaments

What is Exhibition Game?

In the NHL, a game that does not count toward a team's regular season record, usually played as a preseason game between opponents in the same league.

Sporting Charts explains Exhibition Game

Exhibition games have been around for nearly as long as the NHL, and essentially include any games that are played outside the regular season (and the playoffs). In most cases, the term "exhibition game" refers to preseason games. These games are basically a way for teams to "warm up" for the regular season, get to know their opponents, and as a way for coaches to evaluate players and make decisions on the roster. The number of preseason games played by each team will vary, with some teams playing as many as 10. Often this is dictated by where preseason games are played-in recent years many NHL teams have played preseason exhibition games in Europe, which usually reduces the overall number of games these teams will play.

Exhibition games besides the preseason include prospect tournaments, such as the Vancouver Canucks's YoungStars tournament, where up-and-coming young players show off their skills. In 2012, in response to the NHL lockout, several NHL players participated in a "tour" of exhibitions games for charity, with the first game being played in Quebec.

Street Hockey Rules

Teams:

Each team shall consist of 5 players on the rink (including the goalie), at least one of which must be female. If a female player is in the penalty box, she will still count as that team's mandatory female.

Teams may borrow players from other teams to meet the minimum requirements during the regular season. During playoff games, teams must play only with the players on their roster.

Each team will have one Team Captain and one Alternate Captain. The Captain will be the only individual allowed to discuss with the officials any questions relating to the rules, (not judgment disputes). Any player other than the captain (on the bench or on the rink) whom makes a protest or interferes with play in any way is subject to a penalty or ejection. The Alternate Captain may assume the Captain's role if they are not on the rink. If either the Captain or Alternate are absent, a team may designate another player to fill their role for that game.

Equipment:

The league will provide sticks and balls. Players may use their own sticks as long as they are legal street hockey sticks. We also recommend players wear knee and shin pads and gloves (not provided). The game will be played on foot (no skates or roller blades permitted).

In addition to the regular equipment, goalies will be required to wear a mask. They may wear a baseball type or trapper glove on one hand with a blocker type glove in the other. They may also wear regulation goalie leg pads. A chest protector and elbow pads are recommended as well. Goalies are responsible for their own equipment.

Game Play:

Each game will consist of two 15 minute periods with a 4 minute break between periods. The clock will run continuously during the first half all but the final two minutes of the second half, during this time the clock will stop only on an injury, time out, or penalty shot. During the final two minutes the clock will stop on all whistles (only if the margin is 2 goals or fewer). Teams will switch goals at the end of each period. Each team will receive one time out per period, which can be called only during a stoppage of play. A face-off will be used to begin play each time play is stopped or to begin a period. Players must be outside the restraining circle on a face-off.

Time Outs:

Each team will be allotted one time out per game, including overtime. Unused time outs do not carry over to subsequent periods. Time outs can only be called during a stoppage of play and only by the captain or alternate captain.

Face-offs:

Face-off areas will be approximate, as they are not marked on the playing surface. Face-offs that should occur in a team's defensive zone will be in their end of the rink; face-offs that should occur in the neutral zone will be at the center line.

The ball must hit the ground before it can be touched by a player. Playing the ball before it hits the ground will result in a warning to the offending players and the face-off being repeated. After multiple warnings, a player may be removed from the face-off.

Substitutions:

Substitutions can be made "on-the-fly" as long as the player coming off is within 5 feet of their team's bench and is not involved in the play once the substitute is on the rink. If a team is serving a penalty during the running clock portion of the game, substitutions cannot be made during stoppages or must be made on the fly, unless the opposing team is also making substitutions. Violation will result in a delay of game minor.

Young Coyotes Sessions Starting

Published August 21, 2014

We will be holding our fourth year of Young Coyotes sessions at Resolute Sports at Easton (Formerly Sports Barn) beginning September 22 and running for 6 weeks (all Mondays). Last session is October 27th. Times are from 4-5:30pm.

We will cover Field Hockey basics (basic stick skills and movement) through more advanced skills (lifts, reverse play etc) and the curriculum is tailored for players both male and female age 5 through 13. We are actively trying to recruit boys to the sport and have 2 signed up for these sessions, an 8 year old and a 5 year old!

Cost for all 6 sessions is just $150 or drop in to any session for $30!

Assistant coaches for these sessions will be the same as last year with Adelaide and Genevieve Penzone helping out. Both Adelaide and Genevieve were selected for the National Futures Championship and also for Junior Olympics this summer!!!

We do have a couple of 30, 32 and 34 inch sticks available for those players still looking for an appropriate sized stick.

Please respond to let me know if you are interested in signing up for these sessions. They have been a great hit the past 3 years and we are looking at taking it to the next level this year

Players who participate in these sessions are also eligible to join us this winter for either our U12 or U14 indoor teams as well as our U12 or U14 teams for the Disney Showcase next July in Orlando.

Minnesota Coyotes

We are excited to announce the 2014 Coyotes Curriculum
In 2014, there will be 8 solo training sessions per team (Generally four hours in the spring and four hours in the summer), four competitive tournaments, a top notch sublimation jersey, backup jersey, and socks. Some players will have the opportunity to play for the Northland Selects, a challenge series which includes games and an all-star skills competition (see NHG selects page).

All hotels reserved by the Northland Hockey Group should help secure better rates and to get all the families together for the Tournaments. Tournament schedules will be available 7-10 days prior to the event. Generally, teams will play one game Friday, two games Saturday and one game on Sunday. Teams traveling the furthest for events will be taken into consideration when scheduling. Training sessions will be scheduled by the head coach and will be spread out throughout the season. The Coyotes will skate out of New Ulm Civic Center in New Ulm. Other arenas may be used depending on ice availability. Generally, practices will begin the weekend of March 22.

Player Fee: $625
Registration fee of $75 US is required. The balance of $550 US is due March 1st, 2014. You may pay the full fee if desired as well. If a player is not selected for a team, a full refund will be

Help Save Nishaat

Submitted by: Key Parkinson on Thursday, August 14, 2014 (222 views)

Dear Members, On December 19, 2011 Nishaat Sheraly, wife of long time 2004 STARS Assistant Coach Munshif Sheraly, was diagnosed with Acute Myeloid Leukemia. As an avid hockey mom of two young STARS boys - now 7 and 10, she fought with her strong will and determination and was in remission. Last month, Nishaat learned that she had relapsed. She has begun treatments again knowing she will need a Bone Marrow Transplant for certain. It's a life or death situation, with a KNOWN cure...she just needs to find her match. Read More

WELCOME TO LOWER CAPE CODDERS YOUTH HOCKEY!

by Lower Cape Coyotes posted 07/23/2014

WELCOME TO LOWER CAPE COD COYOTES HOCKEY

The Lower Cape Cod Coyotes is a non-profit youth hockey program serving the Lower Cape Cod area. Players from Harwich, Chatham, Brewster, Orleans, Eastham, Wellfleet, Truro, and Provincetown all call the Charles Moore Arena in Orleans home for the hockey season. Our program offers teams for the Mite, Squirt, Pee wee, Bantam, and Midget divisions. These teams play in different divisions and leagues throughout southern New England. These Leagues include the SNEHL in RI, the (Mite) Falmouth League, The Yankee League, and JR High and Independent divisions.

We are always welcoming growth to our program and urge all interested to reach out for more information. If you are interested in joining the Coyotes, please reach out to a board member or town rep for more information. Contact information can be located under the "Board of Directors" tab on this homepage.

Come on out and play a great sport, meet some friends, and have some fun!!
