LITERAL ELEMENT	NO KILL WORLD
STANDARD CHARACTERS	YES
USPTO-GENERATED IMAGE	YES
MARK STATEMENT	The mark consists of standard characters, without claim to any particular font style, size or color.
ARGUMENT(S)
The examiner has issued a final refusal of the mark NO KILLWORLD (Application Serial No. 86746413) in classes 36 and 45 (but not 35 and 44) on the basis that it is likely to cause confusion with the mark NKN NO KILL NATION + design (Reg. No. 4192653). Applicant again respectfully disagrees for the following reasons: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The terms WORLD and NATION have weak trademark significance because a) they are used and registered often, and b) they are not very distinctive, so marks containing either word are entitled to a very narrow scope of protection. 2. The phrase NO KILL is descriptive (as indicated by the examiner's evidence and disclaimer requirement), is used often, and would have no source indicating function among the public. 3. The marks are distinguishable in sight, sound and meaning (especially since the dominant portion of the registered mark is NKN + design). 4. Based on the weakness of these terms, and distinctions between the marks of the parties, Applicant's mark will be used, and the register should reflect that use. The examiner does not dispute that NO KILL is descriptive with little or no trademark significance. Moreover, the examiner does not dispute that the terms NATION and WORLD are used and registered often, but does indicate that evidence of that dilution must be "perfected" by the filing of excerpts from the USPTO database showing each registration. Applicant is aware of that requirement, but points out that it would be impractical and overly burdensome to attach the nearly 50,000 "hits" referred to in Applicant's initial Response to Office Action. Moreover, even when searches of NATION or WORLD are limited to class 36, there would be over 31,000 records. However, in an effort to comply with formal evidentiary requirements and not exceed the size limits of PTO electronic forms, Applicant is attaching samples of registrations from the USPTO database for a) marks containing the words NO KILL, and b) marks containing the terms NATION or WORLD specifically used in connection with services containing the term "charitable" (which is a small subset of class 36 in general). Again, the attachments are a small sample of the vast number of marks on file containing the words, NO KILL, NATION and WORLD, but they leave no doubt that NO KILL is a term in which no one party can gain exclusive rights, and that NATION and WORLD are diluted terms in the charity field. The examiner has given these points little weight, arguing that regardless of the limited trademark significance given to any particular element of the marks, the marks in their entirety still are similar. Applicant does not dispute this general statement of the law about how marks should be compared (in their entirety), but disagrees that the weak trademark significance of each term should be disregarded completely. If parts of marks have little source indicating power, then consumers are more likely to scrutinize differences so they can distinguish one mark from another.

Here, NO KILL has little or no trademark significance. First, the examiner has required a disclaimer, and there are disclaimers in other registrations. Second, common use of the term is illustrated by marks shown in the attachment to this Request: NO KILL SHELTER, NO KILL LOUISVILLE, NO KILL WORLD, NO KILL NATION, NO KILL ADVOCACY CENTER, NO KILL CONFERENCE, WAYSIDE WAIFS A NO KILL SHELTER, DOGS AND CATS FOREVER, INC NO KILL ANIMAL SHELTER AND NO KILL. The fact that some of these never issued to registration or have been abandoned/cancelled does not negate that the term NO KILL is prevalent in the world of animal shelters and charities raising money for those shelters and purpose.

NATION and WORLD clearly are different words in all categories that matter: visual (the letters of each mark are completely different other than the “O” which serves a different purpose in each word; sound (there are no aural similarities between a two-syllable word starting with an “N” and ending with “TION,” and a one syllable word starting with a “W” and ending with a “D”); and meaning (a “nation” is one country, while “world” refers to an entire planet). In fact, the only similarity between the marks (other than NO KILL) is that “nation” and “world” vaguely refer to some unspecific “place.” However, that doesn’t make NO KILL WORLD and NKN NO KILL NATION confusingly similar, any more than these pairs would be considered similar: UNITED NATIONS vs. UNITED WORLD; NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE vs. WORLD FOOTBALL LEAGUE; WAR OF THE WORLDS vs. WAR OF NATIONS; NATION BUILDING vs. WORLD BUILDING; or any other “pair” that contained either WORLD or NATION.

In short, as there is no dispute that each element of each mark is very weak. Therefore, the appropriateness of this refusal to register boils down to whether consumers would believe NKN NO KILL NATION and NO KILL WORLD identify the same source. Stated differently, the issue is whether consumers familiar with Registrant’s mark NKN NO KILL NATION would believe that NO KILL WORLD somehow is affiliated. Applicant believes that each word is so limited in trademark significance that consumers would notice the differences between the marks, and that there is little likelihood that substantial numbers of individuals would be confused or misled.

Based on the above, Applicant respectfully requests that the refusal to register be withdrawn.

Request for Reconsideration after Final Action

To the Commissioner for Trademarks:

Application serial no. 86746413 NO KILL WORLD(Standard Characters, see <http://tmng-al.uspto.gov/resting2/api/img/86746413/large>) has been amended as follows:

ARGUMENT(S)

In response to the substantive refusal(s), please note the following:

The examiner has issued a final refusal of the mark NO KILL WORLD (Application Serial No. 86746413) in classes 36 and 45 (but not 35 and 44) on the basis that it is likely to cause confusion with the mark NKN NO KILL NATION + design (Reg. No. 4192653). Applicant again respectfully disagrees for the following reasons:

1. The terms WORLD and NATION have weak trademark significance because a) they are used and registered often, and b) they are not very distinctive, so marks containing either word are entitled to a very narrow scope of protection.
2. The phrase NO KILL is descriptive (as indicated by the examiner's evidence and disclaimer requirement), is used often, and would have no source indicating function among the public.
3. The marks are distinguishable in sight, sound and meaning (especially since the dominant portion of the registered mark is NKN + design).
4. Based on the weakness of these terms, and distinctions between the marks of the parties, Applicant's mark will be used, and the register should reflect that use.

The examiner does not dispute that NO KILL is descriptive with little or no trademark significance. Moreover, the examiner does not dispute that the terms NATION and WORLD are used and registered often, but does indicate that evidence of that dilution must be "perfected" by the filing of excerpts from the USPTO database showing each registration. Applicant is aware of that requirement, but points out that it would be impractical and overly burdensome to attach the nearly 50,000 "hits" referred to in Applicant's initial Response to Office Action. Moreover, even when searches of NATION or WORLD are limited to class 36, there would be over 31,000 records.

However, in an effort to comply with formal evidentiary requirements and not exceed the size limits of PTO electronic forms, Applicant is attaching samples of registrations from the USPTO database for a) marks containing the words NO KILL, and b) marks containing the terms NATION or WORLD specifically used in connection with services containing the term "charitable" (which is a small subset of class 36 in general). Again, the attachments are a small sample of the vast number of marks on file containing the words, NO KILL, NATION and WORLD, but they leave no doubt that NO KILL is a term in which no one party can gain exclusive rights, and that NATION and WORLD are diluted terms in the charity field.

The examiner has given these points little weight, arguing that regardless of the limited trademark significance given to any particular element of the marks, the marks in their entirety still are similar. Applicant does not dispute this general statement of the law about how marks should be compared (in their entirety), but disagrees that the weak trademark significance of each term should be disregarded completely. If parts of marks have little source indicating power, then consumers are more likely to scrutinize differences so they can distinguish one mark from another.

Here, NO KILL has little or no trademark significance. First, the examiner has required a disclaimer, and there are disclaimers in other registrations. Second, common use of the term is illustrated by marks shown in the attachment to this Request: NO KILL SHELTER, NO KILL LOUISVILLE, NO KILL WORLD, NO KILL NATION, NO KILL ADVOCACY CENTER, NO KILL CONFERENCE, WAYSIDE WAIFS A NO KILL SHELTER, DOGS AND CATS FOREVER, INC NO KILL ANIMAL SHELTER AND NO KILL. The fact that some of these never issued to registration or have been abandoned/cancelled does not negate that the term NO KILL is prevalent in the world of animal shelters and charities raising money for those shelters and purpose.

NATION and WORLD clearly are different words in all categories that matter: visual (the letters of each mark are completely different other than the “O” which serves a different purpose in each word; sound (there are no aural similarities between a two-syllable word starting with an “N” and ending with “TION,” and a one syllable word starting with a “W” and ending with a “D”); and meaning (a “nation” is one country, while “world” refers to an entire planet). In fact, the only similarity between the marks (other than NO KILL) is that “nation” and “world” vaguely refer to some unspecific “place.” However, that doesn’t make NO KILL WORLD and NKN NO KILL NATION confusingly similar, any more than these pairs would be considered similar: UNITED NATIONS vs. UNITED WORLD; NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE vs. WORLD FOOTBALL LEAGUE; WAR OF THE WORLDS vs. WAR OF NATIONS; NATION BUILDING vs. WORLD BUILDING; or any other “pair” that contained either WORLD or NATION.

In short, as there is no dispute that each element of each mark is very weak. Therefore, the appropriateness of this refusal to register boils down to whether consumers would believe NKN NO KILL NATION and NO KILL WORLD identify the same source. Stated differently, the issue is whether consumers familiar with Registrant’s mark NKN NO KILL NATION would believe that NO KILL WORLD somehow is affiliated. Applicant believes that each word is so limited in trademark significance that consumers would notice the differences between the marks, and that there is little likelihood that substantial numbers of individuals would be confused or misled.

Based on the above, Applicant respectfully requests that the refusal to register be withdrawn.

EVIDENCE

Evidence in the nature of USPTO database excerpts showing the index of various searches, and copies of complete registrations containing a) the mark NO KILL, and b) the words NATION or WORLD used in connection with charitable services. has been attached.

Disclaimer NO CLAIM IS MADE TO THE EXCLUSIVE RIGHT TO USE "MASJID" AND "MOSQUE" APART FROM THE MARK AS SHOWN

Description of Mark Color is not claimed as a feature of the mark. The mark consists of a drawing of a domed mosque with three interior arches in each of which is a rendering of a portion of a flag or banner (the first an American flag, the second a Washington, D.C. flag, and the third a banner displaying only an open book), which three interior arches are shown to rest on three shorter and wider interior arches, with the entire building-and-arches structure shown as resting on the pages of an open book. To the right of this drawing is the word "MASJID" in large capital letters, with the name "MUHAMMAD" shown in slightly smaller capital letters just beneath it, with the by-line "THE NATION'S MOSQUE" shown in still smaller capital letters all on a single line just beneath the name "MUHAMMAD".

Description of Mark The color(s) red, yellow, brown, blue, green, orange, white, and black is/are claimed as a feature of the mark. The mark consists of a round logo of red and yellow in which the outermost ring contains the words "SOVEREIGN NATION OF THE CHITIMACHA" in yellow on a red background. There is a second ring which contains geometric basket weave design called the bear's ear / earring in black against a brown background. Superimposed over both rings at the bottom of the logo are four black-and-white eagle feathers with black and yellow stems signifying the four directions. The center circle of the logo contains a brown cypress tree outlined in black on a green patch, representing the tribe's sacred cypress trees, with green limbs and brown cypress knees outlined in black surround by green in the blue water. To the right of the tree in the center circle is an orange rising sun in the east signifying the dawn of a new day. In the center circle horizontally across the tree is a brown pipe outlined in black signifying peace.

Description of Mark The color(s) black, blue, white, green and brown is/are claimed as a feature of the mark. The mark consists of the word "WORLD" in black positioned above the word "NICE" in black with the "O" in "WORLD" and the dot of the "i" in "NICE" commonly depicting a globe encircled by a black border, wherein the globe has two human hands and two human side face profiles representing land masses that are primarily green in color with some brown shading, the two human hands having spread fingers extending inwardly toward one another from the top and bottom of the globe perimeter, and the two opposing human side face profiles extending inwardly toward one another from opposite sides of the globe perimeter, and the area between the land masses has a brushed blue and white appearance to represent water. The word "NICE" is displayed in script with the tail of the letter "e" forming an arrow which extends around the end of the word "WORLD" to point at the globe. The mark appears on a transparent background and no other color is claimed as a feature of the mark.
