REQUEST FOR RECONSIDERATION IN RESPONSE TO FINAL OFFICE ACTION

On March 1, 2019, the Examining Attorney refused registration for NIDO, in connection with “provision of temporary accommodation; provision of temporary accommodation for students; arrangement of temporary accommodation; arrangement of temporary accommodation for students; hostel services; hotel accommodation; provision of food and drink; cafes; cafeterias; catering services,” in Class 43, on the grounds that it is likely to cause confusion with two pre-existing registrations: NEST for “providing temporary lodging services in the nature of a condominium hotel; hotel services; and resort lodging services” (under the doctrine of foreign equivalents) and NIDO. CAFFE for “restaurant services” (the “Cited Marks”). The March 1 Office Action carried forward a previous refusal and is a Final Office Action. Respectfully, Applicant requests reconsideration of the Examining Attorney’s refusal for the reasons set forth below. Applicant is filing a Notice of Appeal concurrently herewith.

I. Amendment and Limitations to Identification of Services

Applicant hereby amends and limits its Identification of Services to read as follows:

“provision of temporary accommodations for students in study abroad programs; provision of temporary accommodation for students in study abroad programs; arrangement of temporary accommodation for students in study abroad programs; arrangement of temporary accommodation for students in study abroad programs; hostel services for students in study abroad programs; hotel accommodations for students in study abroad programs; provision of food and drink; cafes; cafeterias; catering services”

II. Applicant’s Mark is Not Liked to Be Confused with the Cited Marks

In determining whether there is a likelihood of confusion, courts and the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board (“the TTAB” or “the Board”) look to many factors, including the following, which are most relevant in the present analysis:

- the relatedness of the goods or services as described in the application and registration(s);
- the similarity of the trade channels of goods and services; and
- the similarity or dissimilarity of the marks in their entireties as to appearance, sound, connotation, and commercial impression;
- the number and nature of similar marks in use on similar goods.

See In re E.I. DuPont De Nemours & Co., 476 F.2d 1357, 1361 (C.C.P.A. 1973); T.M.E.P. § 1207.01. There is no mechanical test for determining likelihood of confusion and "each case must be decided on its own facts." Id. The application of these factors in this case leads inevitably to the conclusion that no confusion is likely between Applicant’s Mark and the Cited Marks.

1. The Goods of the Parties Are Different and Travel in Different Channels.

If the goods or services in question are not related or marketed in such a way that they would be encountered by the same persons in situations that would create the incorrect assumption that they originate from the same source, then, even if the marks are identical, confusion is not likely. T.M.E.P. § 1207.01(a)(i).

As amended and narrowed, there is no likelihood of confusion between Applicant's mark and the NI.DO. CAFFE registration (which covers "restaurant services"), as Applicant has removed "provision of food and drink; cafes; cafeterias; catering services" from its application. The remaining services all relate to arranging and providing study abroad program accommodations for students, which is not related to restaurant services.

Additionally, there is no likelihood of confusion with the NEST mark, particularly in view of the additional language added to the application. The cited services involve provision of a condominium hotel or resort lodging to consumers. Applicant's services involve providing study abroad accommodations for students. Thus consumers would not encounter them in close proximity; nor are they interchangeable or alternatives of each other.

2. The Appearances, Sounds, and Commercial Impressions of the Applicant's Mark Cited NEST Mark Are Different.

Applicant's Mark NIDO is not likely to be confused with Cited Marks because, when viewed in their entirety, the marks convey completely different appearances, sounds, and commercial impressions. See DuPont, 476 F.2d at 1361.

The Cited Mark NI.DO appears to be two words, and "do" is an active verb with its own commercial impression and meaning. There is no such two word impression in Applicant's Mark, and Applicant's mark does not carry with it the commercial impression of the term "do."

The Examining Attorney relies on the doctrine of foreign equivalents to conclude that NIDO and NEST are similar in commercial impression, though there is no dispute that the terms differ in appearance and sound. Applicant respectfully disagrees that the doctrine of foreign equivalents applies in this matter, as Applicant does not believe that the Examining Attorney has submitted sufficient evidence to support the conclusion that the ordinary American consumer would stop and translate NIDO, or that they would necessarily translate NIDO into the word “nest” (notwithstanding Applicant’s statement that a possible translation of the term is “nest”).

“Where the evidence shows that the English translation is not exact, literal, or direct, the doctrine of foreign equivalents has generally not been applied to find the marks confusingly similar.” TMEP § 1207.01(b)(vi)(B). The Trademark Manual of Examining Procedure provides the example from In re Buckner Enters., 6 USPQ2d 1316 (TTAB 1987) which is directly on point here “holding DOVE (with design) for stoves and furnaces, and PALOMA for various forms of gas heating apparatus, not likely to cause confusion, because, inter alia, the Spanish word ‘paloma’ and the English word ‘dove’ are not exact synonyms in that ‘paloma’ can be translated into either ‘dove’ or ‘pigeon’.” See TMEP § 1207.01(b)(vi)(B). Here, the term NIDO can also be translated into Spanish to mean “den” or “nursery” or into Italian to mean “home,” “honeycomb,” and “crèche,” (See Exhibit A), none of which is the equivalent of “nest.” Given that several translation dictionaries showing variations in the English meaning constitute evidence that the foreign word or term may not have a literal and direct translation, and the doctrine should not be applied. Examples of several apparent references to these other meanings of “nido” are included in the substantial third party evidence of use discussed below and shown in Exhibit B.

If the doctrine of foreign equivalents does not apply, NIDO and NEST cannot reasonably be believed to be confusingly similar in any context of goods and services, as they do not look the same, do not sound the same, do not have the same number of syllables, are not spelled the same, and do not offer a similar commercial impression.

3. The Nature and Number of Similar Marks in Use on Similar Goods Mitigates the Likelihood of Confusion.

Evidence of third-party use falls under the sixth DuPont factor – the "number and nature of similar marks in use on similar goods." DuPont, 476 F.2d at 1361. If the evidence establishes that the consuming public is exposed to third-party use of similar marks on similar goods, it "is relevant to show that a mark is relatively weak and entitled to only a narrow scope of protection." Palm Bay Imps., Inc. v. Veuve Clicquot Ponsardin Maison Fondée en 1772, 396 F.3d 1369, 1373-74, 73 USPQ2d 1689, 1693 (Fed. Cir. 2005); see also Mini Melts, Inc. v. Reckitt Benckiser LLC, 118 USPQ2d 1464, 1470 (TTAB 2016) (noting that evidence that third parties had adopted marks that were the same as or similar to opposer's mark for use in connection with food products "may show that a term carries a highly suggestive connotation in the industry and, therefore, may be considered weak ").

a. Substantial Third Party Evidence of Use of "NIDO-formative" and "NEST-formative" Marks Mitigates Confusion.

Applicant has attached as Exhibit B third party evidence of use of "NIDO-formative" and "NEST-formative" marks that establish that the Cited Marks are relatively weak and entitled to only a narrow scope of protection:

- EL NIDO PRESCHOOL FAMILY DAYCARE HOME, <https://www.yelp.com/biz/el-nido-preschool-family-daycare-home-redondo-beach-2>
(this third party evidence and other third party evidence below also reinforces the point made above that "nido" may be translated to "preschool" among other things)
- NIDO: COWORKING + CHILDCARE, <https://www.nidocoworking.org/>
- NIDOS DAYCARE, <https://www.nidosdaycare.com/>

- NIDO MARIA MONTESSORI, <https://winnie.com/place/nido-maria-montessori-dallas>
- NIIDO, <https://www.niido.com/> and <https://www.niidonashville.com/>
- CHATEAU ALTO NIDO APARTMENTS, <https://www.altonido-apt.rentals/>
- EL NIDO APARTMENTS, <https://www.apartmenthomeliving.com/apartment-finder/El-Nido-Apartments-Torrance-CA-90504-1909579>
- DEL NIDO apartments, <https://www.edenhousing.org/property/del-nido>
- NIDO CAFFE, <http://www.nidocaffe.us/>
- NIDO café, <http://www.nidocafevickery.com/menus/>
- NIDO restaurant, <http://www.nidoakland.com/>
- NIDO milk products, <https://www.nestlenido.com/en>
- NEST APARTMENTS, <https://www.nestapartmenthomes.com/>
- BEST NEST APARTMENTS, <https://bestnestliving.com/>
- NESTAPART corporate apartments and homes, <https://www.nestapart.com/>
- NESTPICK search engine for furnished apartments, <https://www.nestpick.com/>

The above references are just a sample of the many uses of NIDO-formative and NEST-formative marks in an exceptionally crowded field. Under the circumstances, each of the Cited Marks mark is “relatively weak and entitled to only a narrow scope of protection,” Palm Bay, 396 F.3d at 1373-74, 73 USPQ2d at 1693, and therefore the differences between Applicant’s Mark and the Cited Marks are sufficient to avoid a likelihood of confusion.

b. The Examining Attorney Even Cited Conflicting Marks Owned by Different Parties.

“During the examination of an application, the examining attorney should consider separately each registration found in a search of the marks registered in the USPTO that may bar registration of the applicant's mark under §2(d). If the examining attorney finds registrations that appear to be owned by more than one registrant, he or she should consider the extent to which dilution may indicate that there is no likelihood of confusion." T.M.E.P. § 1207.01(d)(x).

The Examining Attorney's citation to multiple registrations owned by more than one registrant indicates a level of dilution that mitigates the likelihood of confusion in this case.

III. Conclusion

Applicant's Mark is not likely to be confused with the Cited Marks due to differences in the marks, differences in the respective goods and services, and dilution of the terms "NEST" and "NIDO" that mitigates confusion. Accordingly, Applicant requests reconsideration of the refusal of registration, and that Applicant's Mark be approved for publication.

WE ARE THERE - FOR YOUR CHILD AND FOR YOU

WELCOME TO NIDOS DAYCARE

We are a home-based Spanish immersion daycare (Lic # 434413861). At Nidos Daycare the child is our Special Guest.

We believe that children are smart, clever and the protagonists of the learning process. We believe that children learn through play, meaningful experiences and exploration of the world around them.

Play provides opportunities for exploration, experimentation and manipulation that are essential for constructing knowledge and contributes to the development of representational thought.

We believe that children learn through social interaction with adults and other children and through meaningful relationships with peers, teachers and most importantly you!

We believe that children learn best when they feel safe, nurtured and understood, and our staff strives to meet the needs of the group as well as the needs on the individual child. The teacher's role is to support and facilitate development and learning.

Our goal is to make sure that your child gets to use and learn as many as she/he likes. We offer your child the chance to be immersed in the Spanish language and culture. At Nidos Daycare, your child will eat a healthy/organic Mediterranean diet cooked on site in a warm and caring environment.

We also have a fascinating, lively and friendly community of parents: at Nidos Daycare you will know your fellow parents and you will probably make many friends! Our parents are a mix of nationalities, lovers of Spanish bilingual education. We believe that having a close connection between school and home promotes learning and enhances your child's school experience.

Research shows that early childhood offers a unique opportunity to learn languages, as well as providing a critical basis for all future development and learning. Furthermore, immersion in a second language supports children to excel in linguistic, academic, social and cognitive development. By exposing your child to Spanish at an early age, you stimulate brain activity which can open doors of opportunity later in life.
