NOTICE OF OPPOSITION

UGO Networks, Inc., a Delaware corporation, located at 670 Broadway, 2nd Floor, New York, NY 10012 ("Opposer"), believes it would be damaged by registration of the mark YU-GI-OH!, as shown in Application Serial No. 76/071,879, and hereby opposes same under the provisions of Section 13 of the Trademark Act of July 5, 1946 (the "Lanham Act"), 15 U.S.C. 1063.

GROUNDS FOR OPPOSITION

1. Opposer owns the mark UGO ("Opposer's Mark"), for which it owns the following registrations on the Principal Register:

- Registration No. 2,450,661 in Class 41 for "providing information on computer game and video game hardware and software, music, film, television, comics, animation and sports via a global computer network; entertainment services, namely, providing online interactive games via a global computer network," registered May 15, 2001;

- Registration No. 2,519,204 in Class 35 for "computer services, namely computerized online retail services in the field of boxed games and games related merchandise; dissemination of advertising for others via an online electronic communications network," registered December 18, 2001; and

- Registration No. 2,562,837 in Class 42 for "providing information on technology via a global computer network; hosting Web sites of others on a computer server for a global computer network; designing and implementing network Web pages for others," registered April 23, 2002.

2. In addition, Opposer is the owner of the "UGO" trade name.

3. Since at least as early as March 1996, Opposer has used Opposer's Mark and the "UGO" trade name on or in connection with computer games, computer game programs and accessories, video games, entertainment services and providing information on subjects including comics and animation.

4. By virtue of its extensive, continuous and substantial use of Opposer's Mark, the expenditure of substantial sums on promotional and advertising activities, the excellence of Opposer's services provided under Opposer's Mark and media attention in connection with its mark, Opposer has gained substantial, valuable goodwill with respect to Opposer's Mark.

5. Opposer's promotion and use of Opposer's Mark has caused the public to associate UGO with Opposer and to believe that goods and services provided in connection with Opposer's Mark have an association with or are sponsored by Opposer.

6. Opposer's Mark has acquired secondary meaning in the eyes of the consuming public and the trade by virtue of Opposer's continuous and significant use and promotion of Opposer's Mark since at least as early as 1996.

7. Similarly, Opposer's "UGO" trade name has achieved wide recognition in the eyes of the consuming public and the trade by virtue of Opposer's continuous and significant use and promotion of the name since at least as early as 1996.

8. Upon information and belief, Applicant, Konami Corporation, is a Japanese corporation, located at 4-3-1 Toranomon Minato-Ku, Tokyo, 105-6021 Japan.

9. Applicant seeks to register the mark YU-GI-OH! ("Applicant's Mark") for "computer products, namely, computer game programs; video game cartridges; video game CD-ROMs; video output game units; computer game CD-ROMS; video game programs; video game programs for use with television sets; video game machines for use with television sets; game-playing equipment, namely, joysticks and game controllers" in Class 9.

10. Upon information and belief, Opposer's Mark and Applicant's Mark are pronounced identically. Accordingly, because of the similarity in sound and pronunciation, and the overlap of the parties' goods and services, Applicant's Mark is confusingly similar to Opposer's Mark.

11. In addition, Applicant's Mark is likely to be confused with Opposer's "UGO" trade name.

12. If Applicant were permitted to register Applicant's Mark, confusion in the trade and in the minds of the public, resulting in irreparable damage and injury to Opposer, would likely result. For example, persons familiar with Opposer's Mark and Opposer's "UGO" trade name and services provided thereunder would likely mistakenly believe that Applicant's goods are provided by Opposer, or mistakenly believe Applicant's goods are otherwise related to Opposer, all to the detriment of and irreparable damage to Opposer. Any such confusion could result in the loss of sales to Opposer and would certainly dilute the notoriety, distinctiveness and uniqueness of Opposer's Mark and Opposer's "UGO" trade name. Further, any defect, objection or fault found with products marketed under Applicant's Mark would most likely reflect upon and injure the reputation Opposer has established with respect to the services provided under Opposer's Mark and Opposer's "UGO" trade name.

13. If Applicant were granted the registration herein opposed, it would thereby obtain at least a prima facie right to the exclusive use of Applicant's Mark. However, Opposer was first to use the UGO mark and the "UGO" trade name on and in connection with the relevant services. Applicant's registration thus would confuse the trade and public, be a source of damage and injury to Opposer, and diminish the significant investment Opposer has made in Opposer's Mark and Opposer's "UGO" trade name.

RELIEF REQUESTED

A. Registration of Applicant's Mark as shown in Application Serial No. 76/071,879 should be refused in the Class for which registration is sought, in accordance with Section 2(d) of the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. 1052(d), on the ground that Applicant's Mark so resembles Opposer's Mark as to cause confusion, mistake or deception.

B. Opposer thus respectfully requests that registration of Applicant's Mark as shown in Application Serial No. 76/071,879 be denied and that this opposition be sustained.

Respectfully submitted,

NOTICE OF OPPOSITION

UGO Networks, Inc., a Delaware corporation, located at 670 Broadway, 2nd Floor, New York, NY 10012 ("Opposer"), believes it would be damaged by registration of the mark YU-GI-OH!, as shown in Application Serial No. 76/071,768, and hereby opposes same under the provisions of Section 13 of the Trademark Act of July 5, 1946 (the "Lanham Act"), 15 U.S.C. 1063.

1. Opposer owns the mark UGO ("Opposer's Mark"), for which it owns the following registrations on the Principal Register:

- Registration No. 2,450,661 in Class 41 for "providing information on computer game and video game hardware and software, music, film, television, comics, animation and sports via a global computer network; entertainment services, namely, providing online interactive games via a global computer network," registered May 15, 2001;

- Registration No. 2,519,204 in Class 35 for "computer services, namely computerized online retail services in the field of boxed games and games related merchandise; dissemination of advertising for others via an online electronic communications network," registered December 18, 2001; and

- Registration No. 2,562,837 in Class 42 for "providing information on technology via a global computer network; hosting Web sites of others on a computer server for a global computer network; designing and implementing network Web pages for others," registered April 23, 2002.

2. In addition, Opposer is the owner of the "UGO" trade name.

3. Since at least as early as March 1996, Opposer has used Opposer's Mark and the "UGO" trade name on or in connection with computer games, computer game programs and accessories, video games, entertainment services and providing information on subjects including comics and animation.

4. By virtue of its extensive, continuous and substantial use of Opposer's Mark, the expenditure of substantial sums on promotional and advertising activities, the excellence of Opposer's services provided under Opposer's Mark and media attention in connection with its mark, Opposer has gained substantial, valuable goodwill with respect to Opposer's Mark.

5. Opposer's promotion and use of Opposer's Mark has caused the public to associate UGO with Opposer and to believe that goods and services provided in connection with Opposer's Mark have an association with or are sponsored by Opposer.

6. Opposer's Mark has acquired secondary meaning in the eyes of the consuming public and the trade by virtue of Opposer's continuous and significant use and promotion of Opposer's Mark since at least as early as 1996.

7. Similarly, Opposer's "UGO" trade name has achieved wide recognition in the eyes of the consuming public and the trade by virtue of Opposer's continuous and significant use and promotion of the name since at least as early as 1996.

8. Upon information and belief, Applicant, Konami Corporation, is a Japanese corporation, located at 4-3-1 Toranomon Minato-Ku, Tokyo, 105-6021 Japan.

9. Applicant seeks to register the mark YU-GI-OH! ("Applicant's Mark") for "computer games, namely, stand-alone video games; hand-held units for playing electronic games; game pieces; action figures; toys, namely, action and play figures and accessories therefor; card games" in Class 28.

10. Upon information and belief, Opposer's Mark and Applicant's Mark are pronounced identically. Accordingly, because of the similarity in sound and pronunciation, and the overlap of the parties' goods and services, Applicant's Mark is confusingly similar to Opposer's Mark.

11. In addition, Applicant's Mark is likely to be confused with Opposer's "UGO" trade name.

12. If Applicant were permitted to register Applicant's Mark, confusion in the trade and in the minds of the public, resulting in irreparable damage and injury to Opposer, would likely result. For example, persons familiar with Opposer's Mark and Opposer's "UGO" trade name and services provided thereunder would likely mistakenly believe that Applicant's goods are provided by Opposer, or mistakenly believe Applicant's goods are otherwise related to Opposer, all to the detriment of and irreparable damage to Opposer. Any such confusion could result in the loss of sales to Opposer and would certainly dilute the notoriety, distinctiveness and uniqueness of Opposer's Mark and Opposer's "UGO" trade name. Further, any defect, objection or fault found with products marketed under Applicant's Mark would most likely reflect upon and injure the reputation Opposer has established with respect to the services provided under Opposer's Mark and Opposer's "UGO" trade name.

13. If Applicant were granted the registration herein opposed, it would thereby obtain at least a prima facie right to the exclusive use of Applicant's Mark. However, Opposer was first to use the UGO mark and the "UGO" trade name on and in connection with the relevant services. Applicant's registration thus would confuse the trade and public, be a source of damage and injury to Opposer, and diminish the significant investment Opposer has made in Opposer's Mark and Opposer's "UGO" trade name.

RELIEF REQUESTED

A. Registration of Applicant's Mark as shown in Application Serial No. 76/071,768 should be refused in the Class for which registration is sought, in accordance with Section 2(d) of the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. 1052(d), on the ground that Applicant's Mark so resembles Opposer's Mark as to cause confusion, mistake or deception.

B. Opposer thus respectfully requests that registration of Applicant's Mark as shown in Application Serial No. 76/071,768 be denied and that this opposition be sustained.

Respectfully submitted,

8. Upon information and belief, Applicant, Konami Corporation, is a Japanese corporation, located at 4-3-1 Toranomon Minato-Ku, Tokyo, 105-6021 Japan.

9. Applicant seeks to register a design mark consisting of the term "Yu-Gi-Oh" in stylized Kanji characters ("Applicant's Mark") for "computer games, namely, stand-alone video games; hand-held units for playing electronic games; board game pieces; action figures; toys, namely, action and play figures and accessories therefor; card games" in Class 28.

NOTICE OF OPPOSITION

UGO Networks, Inc., a Delaware corporation, located at 670 Broadway, 2nd Floor, New York, NY 10012 ("Opposer"), believes it would be damaged by registration of the design mark consisting of the term "Yu-Gi-Oh" in stylized Kanji characters, as shown in Application Serial No. 76/203,233, and hereby opposes same under the provisions of Section 13 of the Trademark Act of July 5, 1946 (the "Lanham Act"), 15 U.S.C. 1063.

1. Opposer owns the mark UGO ("Opposer's Mark"), for which it owns the following registrations on the Principal Register:

- Registration No. 2,450,661 in Class 41 for "providing information on computer game and video game hardware and software, music, film, television, comics, animation and sports via a global computer network; entertainment services, namely, providing online interactive games via a global computer network," registered May 15, 2001;

- Registration No. 2,519,204 in Class 35 for "computer services, namely computerized online retail services in the field of boxed games and games related merchandise; dissemination of advertising for others via an online electronic communications network," registered December 18, 2001; and

- Registration No. 2,562,837 in Class 42 for "providing information on technology via a global computer network; hosting Web sites of others on a computer server for a global computer network; designing and implementing network Web pages for others," registered April 23, 2002.

2. In addition, Opposer is the owner of the "UGO" trade name.

3. Since at least as early as March 1996, Opposer has used Opposer's Mark and the "UGO" trade name on or in connection with computer games, computer game programs and accessories, video games, entertainment services and providing information on subjects including comics and animation.

4. By virtue of its extensive, continuous and substantial use of Opposer's Mark, the expenditure of substantial sums on promotional and advertising activities, the excellence of Opposer's services provided under Opposer's Mark and media attention in connection with its mark, Opposer has gained substantial, valuable goodwill with respect to Opposer's Mark.

5. Opposer's promotion and use of Opposer's Mark has caused the public to associate UGO with Opposer and to believe that goods and services provided in connection with Opposer's Mark have an association with or are sponsored by Opposer.

6. Opposer's Mark has acquired secondary meaning in the eyes of the consuming public and the trade by virtue of Opposer's continuous and significant use and promotion of Opposer's Mark since at least as early as 1996.

7. Similarly, Opposer's "UGO" trade name has achieved wide recognition in the eyes of the consuming public and the trade by virtue of Opposer's continuous and significant use and promotion of the name since at least as early as 1996.

8. Upon information and belief, Applicant, Konami Corporation, is a Japanese corporation, located at 4-3-1 Toranomon Minato-Ku, Tokyo, 105-6021 Japan.

9. Applicant seeks to register a design mark consisting of the term "Yu-Gi-Oh" in stylized Kanji characters ("Applicant's Mark") for "providing information about the goods and services of others via the global computer network" in Class 35; "satellite communication services" in Class 38; "providing games played through communication by computer terminals, and providing information, images, music and/or sound regarding games; providing computer game software programs, images and music that are downloaded through computer networks, and providing games played through cellular telephone communication and providing information, images, music or sound regarding games; providing computer game programs, images and music that are downloaded through cellular telephone communication, and providing amusement arcade with game facilities; amusement arcades and centers; rental of computer game programs, arcade game machines and providing facilities for recreation activities, namely, amusement arcades and amusement parks; planning, organizing and conducting events for promotion of games; entertainment services, namely, production and distribution of game shows, events featuring voice artists and card game contests; educational services, namely, conducting classes and workshops in the field of training referees for card game contests; providing a computer game that may be accessed network-wide by network users" in Class 41; and "providing an on-line computer database in the field of providing information on planning and maintaining computer programs, arcade video game machines, and consumer video game machines" in Class 42.

10. Upon information and belief, Opposer's Mark and Applicant's Mark are pronounced identically. Accordingly, because of the similarity in sound and pronunciation, and the overlap of the parties' goods and services, Applicant's Mark is confusingly similar to Opposer's Mark.

11. In addition, Applicant's Mark is likely to be confused with Opposer's "UGO" trade name.

12. If Applicant were permitted to register Applicant's Mark, confusion in the trade and in the minds of the public, resulting in irreparable damage and injury to Opposer, would likely result. For example, persons familiar with Opposer's Mark and Opposer's "UGO" trade name and services provided thereunder would likely mistakenly believe that Applicant's goods and services are provided by Opposer, or mistakenly believe Applicant's goods and services are otherwise related to Opposer, all to the detriment of and irreparable damage to Opposer. Any such confusion could result in the loss of sales to Opposer and would certainly dilute the notoriety, distinctiveness and uniqueness of Opposer's Mark and Opposer's "UGO" trade name. Further, any defect, objection or fault found with products marketed under Applicant's Mark would most likely reflect upon and injure the reputation Opposer has established with respect to the services provided under Opposer's Mark and Opposer's "UGO" trade name.

13. If Applicant were granted the registration herein opposed, it would thereby obtain at least a prima facie right to the exclusive use of Applicant's Mark. However, Opposer was first to use the UGO mark and the "UGO" trade name on and in connection with the relevant services. Applicant's registration thus would confuse the trade and public, be a source of damage and injury to Opposer, and diminish the significant investment Opposer has made in Opposer's Mark and Opposer's "UGO" trade name.

RELIEF REQUESTED

A. Registration of Applicant's Mark as shown in Application Serial No. 76/203,233 should be refused in the Classes for which registration is sought, in accordance with Section 2(d) of the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. 1052(d), on the ground that Applicant's Mark so resembles Opposer's Mark as to cause confusion, mistake or deception.

B. Opposer thus respectfully requests that registration of Applicant's Mark as shown in Application Serial No. 76/203,233 be denied and that this opposition be sustained.

Respectfully submitted,

UGO Networks, Inc.

Under the terms of the agreement, UCS will manage Buy.com's inventory, fulfillment, site content, customer service, Web site hosting and e-mail marketing for the co-branded site. Through UCS's proprietary, Web-based reporting interface, UGO will also be supplied with real-time sales, click-thrus and conversion rates.

UGO (pronounced "Yu-Gee-Oh") is dedicated to the diversions young men obsess over: games, girls, movies, TV, music, sports, technology and animation. Offering a unique perspective on pop culture, UGO's content attracts an audience of 18 to 34 year old men who have embraced the Internet and rely on it for their information, communication and amusement. UGO reaches 1 in 10 men on the Web with approximately 10 million monthly unique visitors. Consistently placing among the Top 50 Internet Properties according to Media Metrix, UGO is a force in the male focused online entertainment category.

"UGO, Buy.com and UCS are the perfect partnership," said Sherman Atkinson, president of UCS. "We will offer UGO site visitors the latest name-brand products in all the categories that matter most to males ages 18 to 34, with a wide selection and more competitive prices than any other store in the world. Buy.com products, coupled with the UCS technology and the UGO audience, are a powerful combination."

"By providing UGO site visitors with their own store in which to buy the latest electronics, computers and entertainment products, we feel we have greatly increased the value of our users' experience," said J Moses, President and CEO of UGO Networks. "Whether it's the hottest game, the latest DVD or top electronics gadget they're looking for, it will be here in the UGO/Buy.com store."

One of the original pioneers in the development of online retailing solutions, UCS has set a new standard for e-commerce transactions and created one of the most powerful engines on the market, capable of handling hundreds of thousands of transactions daily. UCS is creator of the proprietary technology powering Buy.com, the second largest pure-play online retailer in the world.

UCS offers fully hosted e-commerce solutions for content providers, information portals, wireless service providers and niche e-tailers looking to extend their product offering.

Through a "virtual private label" or "co-brand" model, the solution allows companies to leverage their brand and current customers via their own storefront, while at the same time taking advantage of immediate "plug-and-play" e-commerce capabilities that the engine offers.

"Our C3 Internet solution is ideal for websites looking to expand their current offering by adding an e-commerce capability," said Keith Allen, general manager of UCS. "Our strategic partners provide the content and the audience, UCS runs the store, and we both share in the revenue. Plus, it provides for a more enjoyable user experience. It's a win-win for everyone."

In addition to the turnkey "commerce in a box" solution, UCS offers site development, hosting, transaction processing, content management, fulfillment, reconciliation, customer service and merchandising services.

Unified Gamers Online Relaunches Network Supersite – Transforms Into Internet's Number One Games Portal And Community

UGO (www.ugo.com) the Only Network of its Kind, Grows to 70 Affiliate Sites

SAN FRANCISCO, October 15, 1998 – Spurred by dramatic affiliate Web site growth and a rapid upsurge in user traffic, Unified Gamers Online (UGO) has implemented new, breakthrough user-features and relaunched as the only game focused network and number one navigation portal on the Internet. UGO has grown to a network of 85 professionally managed, Internet-based gaming sites, 70 of which are affiliates.

UGO's rebirth as a network and leading navigation portal has transformed it into a "supersite," and the premier online destination for gamers and advertisers alike. The relaunch is reinforced by a comprehensive redesign, including: improved ease of navigation; a game Web index unmatched on the Internet; improved graphics; a new URL, switching from UGO.net to UGO.com; and the introduction of a new logo symbolizing the strength generated by the community. Consumers will now be able to navigate throughout the UGO supersite with greater ease and organization, with quick links to each of the network's 70 affiliates and the 15 sites owned by UGO, including GameDealer.com, GamePen.com and HolidayGames.com among others.

"UGO is delivering increasingly compelling and timely content, and strengthening the strategic relationships between affiliates," said Chris Sherman, founder and president of UGO. "This relaunch is a natural and exciting evolutionary response to our rapid growth."

Based in San Francisco, the Unified Gamers Online network (http://www.ugo.com) is the World Wide Web's largest PC and video games community. UGO is comprised of 85 professionally managed, Internet-based gaming sites, services and a Web index that are operated by over 350 webmasters, editors and contributors. Focused on one of the fastest growing special interest Web categories, UGO plays host to over 5 million active users each month who visit sites that cover virtually every aspect of gaming, including all game genres and popular platforms, and provide reviews, news, cheats and downloads among other unique and seasonally-focused features. The network was recently rated by preeminent Web research firm Relevant Knowledge as the number one Web site for teen visits. UGO is an ActionWorld company (www.actionworld.com) and "supersite" that will soon announce a key strategic relationship with another ActionWorld game-focused family member, GameDealer.com, the Internet's Game Superstore. All advertising throughout the UGO network is handled by another ActionWorld family member, ProActive Media.

Buy.com and United Commerce Service (UCS) Announce Strategic Alliance with UGO Networks, Inc.

Leading online network for 18-34-year-old men now offers 1.5 million computer, gaming and entertainment products through Buy.com

(ALISO VIEJO, CA - October 14, 2002) - Buy.com and its wholly-owned subsidiary United Commerce Service Inc. (UCS), offering e-commerce solutions to companies providing Internet, wireless and interactive TV applications, today announced a strategic marketing alliance with UGO Networks, Inc., the leading online entertainment network for 18 to 34-year-old men.

UCS, which created the online retail solutions technology powering Buy.com, will provide a co-branded Buy.com Store for UGO visitors, offering more than 1.5 million SKUs in ten categories including top-branded computers, software, electronics, wireless, music, videos, DVDs, games, books and magazines.

Under the terms of the agreement, UCS will manage Buy.com's inventory, fulfillment, site content, customer service, Web site hosting and e-mail marketing for the co-branded site. Through UCS's proprietary, Web-based reporting interface, UGO will also be supplied with real-time sales, click-thrus and conversion rates.

UGO (pronounced "Yu-Gee-Oh") is dedicated to the diversions young men obsess over: games, girls, movies, TV, music, sports, technology and animation. Offering a unique perspective on pop culture, UGO's content attracts an audience of 18 to 34 year old men who have embraced the Internet and rely on it for their information, communication and amusement. UGO reaches 1 in 10 men on the Web with approximately 10 million monthly unique visitors. Consistently placing among the Top 50 Internet Properties according to Media Metrix, UGO is a force in the male focused online entertainment category.

"UGO, Buy.com and UCS are the perfect partnership," said Sherman Atkinson, president of UCS. "We will offer UGO site visitors the latest name-brand products in all the categories that matter most to males ages 18 to 34, with a wide selection and more competitive prices than any other store in the world. Buy.com products, coupled with the UCS technology and the UGO audience, are a powerful combination."

"By providing UGO site visitors with their own store in which to buy the latest electronics, computers and entertainment products, we feel we have greatly increased the value of our users' experience," said J Moses, President and CEO of UGO Networks. "Whether it's the hottest game, the latest DVD or top electronics gadget they're looking for, it will be here in the UGO/Buy.com store."

One of the original pioneers in the development of online retailing solutions, UCS has set a new standard for e-commerce transactions and created one of the most powerful engines on the market, capable of handling hundreds of thousands of transactions daily. UCS is creator of the proprietary technology powering Buy.com, the second largest pure-play online retailer in the world.

UCS offers fully hosted e-commerce solutions for content providers, information portals, wireless service providers and niche e-tailers looking to extend their product offering.

Through a "virtual private label" or "co-brand" model, the solution allows companies to leverage their brand and current customers via their own storefront, while at the same time taking advantage of immediate "plug-and-play" e-commerce capabilities that the engine offers.

"Our C3 Internet solution is ideal for websites looking to expand their current offering by adding an e-commerce capability," said Keith Allen, general manager of UCS. "Our strategic partners provide the content and the audience, UCS runs the store, and we both share in the revenue. Plus, it provides for a more enjoyable user experience. It's a win-win for everyone."

In addition to the turnkey "commerce in a box" solution, UCS offers site development, hosting, transaction processing, content management, fulfillment, reconciliation, customer service and merchandising services.

Unified Gamers Online Relaunches Network Supersite – Transforms Into Internet's Number One Games Portal And Community

UGO (www.ugo.com) the Only Network of its Kind, Grows to 70 Affiliate Sites

SAN FRANCISCO, October 15, 1998 – Spurred by dramatic affiliate Web site growth and a rapid upsurge in user traffic, Unified Gamers Online (UGO) has implemented new, breakthrough user-features and relaunched as the only game focused network and number one navigation portal on the Internet. UGO has grown to a network of 85 professionally managed, Internet-based gaming sites, 70 of which are affiliates.

UGO's rebirth as a network and leading navigation portal has transformed it into a "supersite," and the premier online destination for gamers and advertisers alike. The relaunch is reinforced by a comprehensive redesign, including: improved ease of navigation; a game Web index unmatched on the Internet; improved graphics; a new URL, switching from UGO.net to UGO.com; and the introduction of a new logo symbolizing the strength generated by the community. Consumers will now be able to navigate throughout the UGO supersite with greater ease and organization, with quick links to each of the network's 70 affiliates and the 15 sites owned by UGO, including GameDealer.com, GamePen.com and HolidayGames.com among others.

"UGO is delivering increasingly compelling and timely content, and strengthening the strategic relationships between affiliates," said Chris Sherman, founder and president of UGO. "This relaunch is a natural and exciting evolutionary response to our rapid growth."

Based in San Francisco, the Unified Gamers Online network (http://www.ugo.com) is the World Wide Web's largest PC and video games community. UGO is comprised of 85 professionally managed, Internet-based gaming sites, services and a Web index that are operated by over 350 webmasters, editors and contributors. Focused on one of the fastest growing special interest Web categories, UGO plays host to over 5 million active users each month who visit sites that cover virtually every aspect of gaming, including all game genres and popular platforms, and provide reviews, news, cheats and downloads among other unique and seasonally-focused features. The network was recently rated by preeminent Web research firm Relevant Knowledge as the number one Web site for teen visits. UGO is an ActionWorld company (www.actionworld.com) and "supersite" that will soon announce a key strategic relationship with another ActionWorld game-focused family member, GameDealer.com, the Internet's Game Superstore. All advertising throughout the UGO network is handled by another ActionWorld family member, ProActive Media.

Buy.com and United Commerce Service (UCS) Announce Strategic Alliance with UGO Networks, Inc.

Leading online network for 18-34-year-old men now offers 1.5 million computer, gaming and entertainment products through Buy.com

(ALISO VIEJO, CA - October 14, 2002) - Buy.com and its wholly-owned subsidiary United Commerce Service Inc. (UCS), offering e-commerce solutions to companies providing Internet, wireless and interactive TV applications, today announced a strategic marketing alliance with UGO Networks, Inc., the leading online entertainment network for 18 to 34-year-old men.

UCS, which created the online retail solutions technology powering Buy.com, will provide a co-branded Buy.com Store for UGO visitors, offering more than 1.5 million SKUs in ten categories including top-branded computers, software, electronics, wireless, music, videos, DVDs, games, books and magazines.

Under the terms of the agreement, UCS will manage Buy.com's inventory, fulfillment, site content, customer service, Web site hosting and e-mail marketing for the co-branded site. Through UCS's proprietary, Web-based reporting interface, UGO will also be supplied with real-time sales, click-thrus and conversion rates.

UGO (pronounced "Yu-Gee-Oh") is dedicated to the diversions young men obsess over: games, girls, movies, TV, music, sports, technology and animation. Offering a unique perspective on pop culture, UGO's content attracts an audience of 18 to 34 year old men who have embraced the Internet and rely on it for their information, communication and amusement. UGO reaches 1 in 10 men on the Web with approximately 10 million monthly unique visitors. Consistently placing among the Top 50 Internet Properties according to Media Metrix, UGO is a force in the male focused online entertainment category.

"UGO, Buy.com and UCS are the perfect partnership," said Sherman Atkinson, president of UCS. "We will offer UGO site visitors the latest name-brand products in all the categories that matter most to males ages 18 to 34, with a wide selection and more competitive prices than any other store in the world. Buy.com products, coupled with the UCS technology and the UGO audience, are a powerful combination."

"By providing UGO site visitors with their own store in which to buy the latest electronics, computers and entertainment products, we feel we have greatly increased the value of our users' experience," said J Moses, President and CEO of UGO Networks. "Whether it's the hottest game, the latest DVD or top electronics gadget they're looking for, it will be here in the UGO/Buy.com store."

One of the original pioneers in the development of online retailing solutions, UCS has set a new standard for e-commerce transactions and created one of the most powerful engines on the market, capable of handling hundreds of thousands of transactions daily. UCS is creator of the proprietary technology powering Buy.com, the second largest pure-play online retailer in the world.

UCS offers fully hosted e-commerce solutions for content providers, information portals, wireless service providers and niche e-tailers looking to extend their product offering.

Through a "virtual private label" or "co-brand" model, the solution allows companies to leverage their brand and current customers via their own storefront, while at the same time taking advantage of immediate "plug-and-play" e-commerce capabilities that the engine offers.

"Our C3 Internet solution is ideal for websites looking to expand their current offering by adding an e-commerce capability," said Keith Allen, general manager of UCS. "Our strategic partners provide the content and the audience, UCS runs the store, and we both share in the revenue. Plus, it provides for a more enjoyable user experience. It's a win-win for everyone."

In addition to the turnkey "commerce in a box" solution, UCS offers site development, hosting, transaction processing, content management, fulfillment, reconciliation, customer service and merchandising services.

Unified Gamers Online Relaunches Network Supersite – Transforms Into Internet's Number One Games Portal And Community

UGO (www.ugo.com) the Only Network of its Kind, Grows to 70 Affiliate Sites

SAN FRANCISCO, October 15, 1998 – Spurred by dramatic affiliate Web site growth and a rapid upsurge in user traffic, Unified Gamers Online (UGO) has implemented new, breakthrough user-features and relaunched as the only game focused network and number one navigation portal on the Internet. UGO has grown to a network of 85 professionally managed, Internet-based gaming sites, 70 of which are affiliates.

UGO's rebirth as a network and leading navigation portal has transformed it into a "supersite," and the premier online destination for gamers and advertisers alike. The relaunch is reinforced by a comprehensive redesign, including: improved ease of navigation; a game Web index unmatched on the Internet; improved graphics; a new URL, switching from UGO.net to UGO.com; and the introduction of a new logo symbolizing the strength generated by the community. Consumers will now be able to navigate throughout the UGO supersite with greater ease and organization, with quick links to each of the network's 70 affiliates and the 15 sites owned by UGO, including GameDealer.com, GamePen.com and HolidayGames.com among others.

"UGO is delivering increasingly compelling and timely content, and strengthening the strategic relationships between affiliates," said Chris Sherman, founder and president of UGO. "This relaunch is a natural and exciting evolutionary response to our rapid growth."

Based in San Francisco, the Unified Gamers Online network (http://www.ugo.com) is the World Wide Web's largest PC and video games community. UGO is comprised of 85 professionally managed, Internet-based gaming sites, services and a Web index that are operated by over 350 webmasters, editors and contributors. Focused on one of the fastest growing special interest Web categories, UGO plays host to over 5 million active users each month who visit sites that cover virtually every aspect of gaming, including all game genres and popular platforms, and provide reviews, news, cheats and downloads among other unique and seasonally-focused features. The network was recently rated by preeminent Web research firm Relevant Knowledge as the number one Web site for teen visits. UGO is an ActionWorld company (www.actionworld.com) and "supersite" that will soon announce a key strategic relationship with another ActionWorld game-focused family member, GameDealer.com, the Internet's Game Superstore. All advertising throughout the UGO network is handled by another ActionWorld family member, ProActive Media.

Buy.com and United Commerce Service (UCS) Announce Strategic Alliance with UGO Networks, Inc.

Leading online network for 18-34-year-old men now offers 1.5 million computer, gaming and entertainment products through Buy.com

(ALISO VIEJO, CA - October 14, 2002) - Buy.com and its wholly-owned subsidiary United Commerce Service Inc. (UCS), offering e-commerce solutions to companies providing Internet, wireless and interactive TV applications, today announced a strategic marketing alliance with UGO Networks, Inc., the leading online entertainment network for 18 to 34-year-old men.

UCS, which created the online retail solutions technology powering Buy.com, will provide a co-branded Buy.com Store for UGO visitors, offering more than 1.5 million SKUs in ten categories including top-branded computers, software, electronics, wireless, music, videos, DVDs, games, books and magazines.

Under the terms of the agreement, UCS will manage Buy.com's inventory, fulfillment, site content, customer service, Web site hosting and e-mail marketing for the co-branded site. Through UCS's proprietary, Web-based reporting interface, UGO will also be supplied with real-time sales, click-thrus and conversion rates.

UGO (pronounced "Yu-Gee-Oh") is dedicated to the diversions young men obsess over: games, girls, movies, TV, music, sports, technology and animation. Offering a unique perspective on pop culture, UGO's content attracts an audience of 18 to 34 year old men who have embraced the Internet and rely on it for their information, communication and amusement. UGO reaches 1 in 10 men on the Web with approximately 10 million monthly unique visitors. Consistently placing among the Top 50 Internet Properties according to Media Metrix, UGO is a force in the male focused online entertainment category.

"UGO, Buy.com and UCS are the perfect partnership," said Sherman Atkinson, president of UCS. "We will offer UGO site visitors the latest name-brand products in all the categories that matter most to males ages 18 to 34, with a wide selection and more competitive prices than any other store in the world. Buy.com products, coupled with the UCS technology and the UGO audience, are a powerful combination."

"By providing UGO site visitors with their own store in which to buy the latest electronics, computers and entertainment products, we feel we have greatly increased the value of our users' experience," said J Moses, President and CEO of UGO Networks. "Whether it's the hottest game, the latest DVD or top electronics gadget they're looking for, it will be here in the UGO/Buy.com store."

One of the original pioneers in the development of online retailing solutions, UCS has set a new standard for e-commerce transactions and created one of the most powerful engines on the market, capable of handling hundreds of thousands of transactions daily. UCS is creator of the proprietary technology powering Buy.com, the second largest pure-play online retailer in the world.

UCS offers fully hosted e-commerce solutions for content providers, information portals, wireless service providers and niche e-tailers looking to extend their product offering.

Through a "virtual private label" or "co-brand" model, the solution allows companies to leverage their brand and current customers via their own storefront, while at the same time taking advantage of immediate "plug-and-play" e-commerce capabilities that the engine offers.

"Our C3 Internet solution is ideal for websites looking to expand their current offering by adding an e-commerce capability," said Keith Allen, general manager of UCS. "Our strategic partners provide the content and the audience, UCS runs the store, and we both share in the revenue. Plus, it provides for a more enjoyable user experience. It's a win-win for everyone."

In addition to the turnkey "commerce in a box" solution, UCS offers site development, hosting, transaction processing, content management, fulfillment, reconciliation, customer service and merchandising services.

Unified Gamers Online Relaunches Network Supersite – Transforms Into Internet's Number One Games Portal And Community

UGO (www.ugo.com) the Only Network of its Kind, Grows to 70 Affiliate Sites

SAN FRANCISCO, October 15, 1998 – Spurred by dramatic affiliate Web site growth and a rapid upsurge in user traffic, Unified Gamers Online (UGO) has implemented new, breakthrough user-features and relaunched as the only game focused network and number one navigation portal on the Internet. UGO has grown to a network of 85 professionally managed, Internet-based gaming sites, 70 of which are affiliates.

UGO's rebirth as a network and leading navigation portal has transformed it into a "supersite," and the premier online destination for gamers and advertisers alike. The relaunch is reinforced by a comprehensive redesign, including: improved ease of navigation; a game Web index unmatched on the Internet; improved graphics; a new URL, switching from UGO.net to UGO.com; and the introduction of a new logo symbolizing the strength generated by the community. Consumers will now be able to navigate throughout the UGO supersite with greater ease and organization, with quick links to each of the network's 70 affiliates and the 15 sites owned by UGO, including GameDealer.com, GamePen.com and HolidayGames.com among others.

"UGO is delivering increasingly compelling and timely content, and strengthening the strategic relationships between affiliates," said Chris Sherman, founder and president of UGO. "This relaunch is a natural and exciting evolutionary response to our rapid growth."

Based in San Francisco, the Unified Gamers Online network (http://www.ugo.com) is the World Wide Web's largest PC and video games community. UGO is comprised of 85 professionally managed, Internet-based gaming sites, services and a Web index that are operated by over 350 webmasters, editors and contributors. Focused on one of the fastest growing special interest Web categories, UGO plays host to over 5 million active users each month who visit sites that cover virtually every aspect of gaming, including all game genres and popular platforms, and provide reviews, news, cheats and downloads among other unique and seasonally-focused features. The network was recently rated by preeminent Web research firm Relevant Knowledge as the number one Web site for teen visits. UGO is an ActionWorld company (www.actionworld.com) and "supersite" that will soon announce a key strategic relationship with another ActionWorld game-focused family member, GameDealer.com, the Internet's Game Superstore. All advertising throughout the UGO network is handled by another ActionWorld family member, ProActive Media.

Buy.com and United Commerce Service (UCS) Announce Strategic Alliance with UGO Networks, Inc.

Leading online network for 18-34-year-old men now offers 1.5 million computer, gaming and entertainment products through Buy.com

(ALISO VIEJO, CA - October 14, 2002) - Buy.com and its wholly-owned subsidiary United Commerce Service Inc. (UCS), offering e-commerce solutions to companies providing Internet, wireless and interactive TV applications, today announced a strategic marketing alliance with UGO Networks, Inc., the leading online entertainment network for 18 to 34-year-old men.

UCS, which created the online retail solutions technology powering Buy.com, will provide a co-branded Buy.com Store for UGO visitors, offering more than 1.5 million SKUs in ten categories including top-branded computers, software, electronics, wireless, music, videos, DVDs, games, books and magazines.

Under the terms of the agreement, UCS will manage Buy.com's inventory, fulfillment, site content, customer service, Web site hosting and e-mail marketing for the co-branded site. Through UCS's proprietary, Web-based reporting interface, UGO will also be supplied with real-time sales, click-thrus and conversion rates.

UGO (pronounced "Yu-Gee-Oh") is dedicated to the diversions young men obsess over: games, girls, movies, TV, music, sports, technology and animation. Offering a unique perspective on pop culture, UGO's content attracts an audience of 18 to 34 year old men who have embraced the Internet and rely on it for their information, communication and amusement. UGO reaches 1 in 10 men on the Web with approximately 10 million monthly unique visitors. Consistently placing among the Top 50 Internet Properties according to Media Metrix, UGO is a force in the male focused online entertainment category.

"UGO, Buy.com and UCS are the perfect partnership," said Sherman Atkinson, president of UCS. "We will offer UGO site visitors the latest name-brand products in all the categories that matter most to males ages 18 to 34, with a wide selection and more competitive prices than any other store in the world. Buy.com products, coupled with the UCS technology and the UGO audience, are a powerful combination."

"By providing UGO site visitors with their own store in which to buy the latest electronics, computers and entertainment products, we feel we have greatly increased the value of our users' experience," said J Moses, President and CEO of UGO Networks. "Whether it's the hottest game, the latest DVD or top electronics gadget they're looking for, it will be here in the UGO/Buy.com store."

One of the original pioneers in the development of online retailing solutions, UCS has set a new standard for e-commerce transactions and created one of the most powerful engines on the market, capable of handling hundreds of thousands of transactions daily. UCS is creator of the proprietary technology powering Buy.com, the second largest pure-play online retailer in the world.

UCS offers fully hosted e-commerce solutions for content providers, information portals, wireless service providers and niche e-tailers looking to extend their product offering.

Through a "virtual private label" or "co-brand" model, the solution allows companies to leverage their brand and current customers via their own storefront, while at the same time taking advantage of immediate "plug-and-play" e-commerce capabilities that the engine offers.

"Our C3 Internet solution is ideal for websites looking to expand their current offering by adding an e-commerce capability," said Keith Allen, general manager of UCS. "Our strategic partners provide the content and the audience, UCS runs the store, and we both share in the revenue. Plus, it provides for a more enjoyable user experience. It's a win-win for everyone."

In addition to the turnkey "commerce in a box" solution, UCS offers site development, hosting, transaction processing, content management, fulfillment, reconciliation, customer service and merchandising services.

Unified Gamers Online Relaunches Network Supersite – Transforms Into Internet's Number One Games Portal And Community

UGO (www.ugo.com) the Only Network of its Kind, Grows to 70 Affiliate Sites

SAN FRANCISCO, October 15, 1998 – Spurred by dramatic affiliate Web site growth and a rapid upsurge in user traffic, Unified Gamers Online (UGO) has implemented new, breakthrough user-features and relaunched as the only game focused network and number one navigation portal on the Internet. UGO has grown to a network of 85 professionally managed, Internet-based gaming sites, 70 of which are affiliates.

UGO's rebirth as a network and leading navigation portal has transformed it into a "supersite," and the premier online destination for gamers and advertisers alike. The relaunch is reinforced by a comprehensive redesign, including: improved ease of navigation; a game Web index unmatched on the Internet; improved graphics; a new URL, switching from UGO.net to UGO.com; and the introduction of a new logo symbolizing the strength generated by the community. Consumers will now be able to navigate throughout the UGO supersite with greater ease and organization, with quick links to each of the network's 70 affiliates and the 15 sites owned by UGO, including GameDealer.com, GamePen.com and HolidayGames.com among others.

"UGO is delivering increasingly compelling and timely content, and strengthening the strategic relationships between affiliates," said Chris Sherman, founder and president of UGO. "This relaunch is a natural and exciting evolutionary response to our rapid growth."

Based in San Francisco, the Unified Gamers Online network (http://www.ugo.com) is the World Wide Web's largest PC and video games community. UGO is comprised of 85 professionally managed, Internet-based gaming sites, services and a Web index that are operated by over 350 webmasters, editors and contributors. Focused on one of the fastest growing special interest Web categories, UGO plays host to over 5 million active users each month who visit sites that cover virtually every aspect of gaming, including all game genres and popular platforms, and provide reviews, news, cheats and downloads among other unique and seasonally-focused features. The network was recently rated by preeminent Web research firm Relevant Knowledge as the number one Web site for teen visits. UGO is an ActionWorld company (www.actionworld.com) and "supersite" that will soon announce a key strategic relationship with another ActionWorld game-focused family member, GameDealer.com, the Internet's Game Superstore. All advertising throughout the UGO network is handled by another ActionWorld family member, ProActive Media.

Re: UGO v. Konami
Opposition No. 21/153,578

Gentlemen:

We received your November 13, 2003 letter concerning depositions in this matter, and find your characterization of our discovery proceedings to be inaccurate.

In interrogatories served January 29, 2003, UGO asked for the names and addresses of persons with knowledge of uses of Applicant's Mark, the filing of applications for Applicant's Mark, clearance searches that preceded this application, and the manufacture, production, marketing and promotion of goods under Applicant's Mark, and those persons who had furnished information for Konami's responses. Konami responded with a litany of objections.

In contrast, in response to Konami's interrogatories asking for the identity of employees responsible for the promotion, sale and distribution of goods under Opposer's Mark, UGO identified J Moses, Michael McCracken and Alexander Loucopoulos. UGO also advised that these persons and several other named individuals had supplied documents and information responding to Konami's interrogatories.

It is hard to escape the divergence in our views of what constitutes a good faith discovery response. UGO maintains that a request for the identity of relevant witnesses calls for the responding party to supply such names. Konami appears to maintain that it instead may respond to such a request with a litany of boilerplate objections, statements about "investigating" and no substantive information. This encapsulates our basic disagreement over whether Konami has so cooperated in discovery or has acted in bad faith.

On May 7, 2003, we wrote to you, pointing out overall deficiencies in Konami's discovery responses and particularly Konami's failure to identify persons with knowledge of its use of Applicant's Mark. Having received no response, we wrote again on May 16. You finally responded on May 19 in regard to document production, but ignored our request that you revisit your interrogatory responses.

For several months thereafter, the parties agreed to put all discovery on hold while we pursued settlement discussions. While your letter acknowledges this agreed hiatus, it does not address the fact that Konami purported to engage in settlement discussions over these several months without once proposing terms of settlement or responding to UGO's proposal with any counter-proposal.

When it became clear that Konami had no intention of pursuing good faith settlement negotiations, on October 14, 2003, we noticed Konami's deposition to take place November 17, 2003. Since you had refused to identify a single individual with relevant knowledge, we were forced to serve only a 30(b)(6) notice. The following day, we wrote again regarding Konami's discovery responses, this time at length. This letter began with mention of your refusal to identify persons with relevant knowledge. We asked you to supplement this information immediately so we could proceed with discovery in an orderly fashion.

In an email exchange October 16 and 17, 2003, you advised that Konami was preparing a response to our October 15 letter along with supplemental discovery responses and production, and that you would be serving a 30(b)(6) notice of deposition and would discuss possible deposition dates with your client. We responded by asking you to identify the areas of questioning to be listed in your 30(b)(6) notice so we could identify appropriate witnesses. We also advised that we would be happy to set up depositions of UGO witnesses to follow the conclusion of the Konami depositions. We pointed out, however, that we would need Konami's supplemental production in order to prepare for our depositions of Konami.

On October 24, 2003 you wrote to us regarding our 30(b)(6) notice. You advised that Konami is a Japanese corporation with headquarters in Japan. You stated that, because of Konami's size and complexity, "many of those individuals with knowledge of the matters relevant to this proceeding are located abroad or, in some cases, are not employed by Konami Corporation." You advised that you would not make witnesses located in Japan available for deposition in the United States but that, given the approximately nine weeks left before the discovery deadline, "there appears to be ample time for the parties to arrange for the deposition of witnesses located in Japan." However, even at this stage, you did not identify specific witnesses or their affiliates or locations. In light of your withholding this information, UGO was in no position to set up depositions of witnesses in Japan or anywhere. We find your allegations to the contrary to be disingenuous.

Your October 24 letter went on to say that "in other cases, there may be certain employees of Konami's US subsidiary, KDE, who have knowledge of particular areas at issue." You offered to produce these (possible) "certain employees" in Virginia if we would agree to produce UGO's employees at depositions in Alexandria or Manhattan. You also pointed out that UGO would have to subpoena third party witnesses over whom Konami had no control. However, again you failed to identify the witnesses from KDE or non-employees who would need to be subpoenaed. UGO was thus unable to plan for or proceed with Konami's depositions.

You accompanied your October 24 letter with notices of deposition of Michael McCracken and J Moses, along with a 30(b)(6) notice. There is nothing remarkable about Konami noticing the depositions of relevant witnesses identified in UGO's interrogatory responses. What is extraordinary is that Konami could claim it acted in good faith while denying UGO the reciprocal opportunity to notice depositions of specific, relevant individuals simply by refusing to respond substantively to UGO's interrogatories.

As of November 4, 2003, you still had not served supplemental discovery/production. We again pointed out that the depositions could not go forward until Konami had supplied proper discovery responses. At this time, we understood that Konami might produce employees of Konami's US subsidiary who might or might not have relevant knowledge if we were prepared to produce UGO witnesses thereafter.

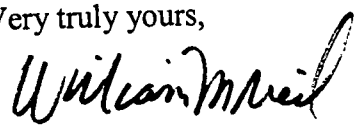
In our November 13, 2003 letter, you seem to claim that your only response to our 30(b)(6) notice was to advise that we should go to Japan to depose your witnesses (although you refused to identify them), and that you would produce an unidentified witness in Virginia once we agreed to go forward with UGO depositions. You also seem to assert that we did not respond to this offer. However, a response to your offer is exactly what is contained in our letter of November 4 and emails of November 7, November 10, November 12 and November 13, 2003. In each instance, we pointed out that you had yet to provide proper discovery responses, such as the identity of relevant witnesses, and that we could not proceed with the noticed deposition of Konami without these responses.

You now assert a right to proceed with your depositions despite making it impossible for UGO to conduct its earlier noticed deposition and that UGO has no legal right to contest this position. Moreover, now you have finally supplemented your discovery responses and yet still have not given us a proper identification of the named individuals. Instead, you seem to assert that Konami is entitled to withhold the identity of witnesses, refuse to produce discovery materials and then proceed with its depositions before UGO is able to conduct the previously noticed depositions. (We note that you have now finally given us names for some witnesses, although not their affiliations or their addresses.)

We find your position to be untenable. Konami cannot use its enormous resources and location in Japan to thwart UGO's legitimate rights to discovery.

Given that six more oppositions now involve the same marks at issue in this proceeding, we have asked several times for your agreement to consolidate all these oppositions. We propose that, once the related proceedings have been consolidated, and the Board has ruled on our pending motion to compel, we work together to set up a schedule of depositions of specific witnesses in Virginia and Manhattan. Please give us your response to our proposal about consolidation and our suggestion about scheduling. Thank you for your consideration and we look forward to your prompt response.

Very truly yours,



William M. Ried

Brian: Please first respond to the questions we keep asking:

1. Will you agree to seek consolidation of all the related oppositions once issue is joined?

2. Will you agree to work with us to schedule depositions in Virginia and Manhattan after the Board rules on our motion to compel?

We thank you for your anticipated cooperation in resolving these questions without any further delay. Bill

Please copy and courier to us the approximately three file drawers, located in your client's offices, filled with additional agreements. You have indicated that your client estimates that it would cost approximately $500 to send these documents out to copy, and some customary amount to deliver them to us. We agree to pay reasonable duplication and courier costs.

Thank you.

You have not right to withhold the documents so please produce them at this time.

As for consolidation, we are waiting on instructions from the client and hope to hear something soon, but I don't know precisely when we will receive those instructions.

As for the depositions, Konami Corporation witnesses are only available in Japan. That has consistently been and remains our position. There are procedures for obtaining evidence from foreign companies and you will need to follow those procedures.

As for Konami's U.S. affiliate, we have to check with them first as to whether any of their representatives, to the extent they possess any relevant knowledge, would be willing to be deposed in Alexandria, Virginia where we are based rather than California where they are based. They are not a party to this proceeding as you know. Of course, if representatives of that company are willing to travel to Alexandria, Virginia for a deposition, we believe that would be an arrangement we could recommend, but we do not have authority yet to offer that.

Let us know about UGO Networks' availability for deposition as well.

Thank you.

Brian: I think you misunderstand our position. We are not withholding documents from production. We offered you the chance to inspect and copy our remaining responsive documents and you need merely contact us to arrange a date and time to do this.

However, you have asked instead that we, as a courtesy to you, make the effort to copy and send the documents to you. We have said we are willing to do this, but have asked in return for the courtesy of a reply to two questions central to the orderly conduct of this case. Unfortunately, as in several other instances in the course of this case, we have asked these questions over and over without any meaningful response. We are only too aware that your client is headquartered in Japan, but do not see how this should prevent your responding to us on these procedural issues. We thus will try again:

1. All of the pending oppositions involve the same marks and the same issues between the same parties. We agreed to your request to consolidate the first two oppositions. It would save the parties and the Board considerable time and resources to consolidate the remaining oppositions as well. We would like your response to our proposal to consolidate all the oppositions before we must address the separate discovery requests you have served for the 3d, 4th and 5th oppositions. Please note that we would in any event be happy to respond to additional discovery requests that pertain to particular issues in any one opposition, though we suspect there would be few such issues in the discovery you want from UGO. If it is going to take your client some time to respond to this suggestion, we ask that you stipulate to extend UGO's time to respond to the latest discovery requests until after your client makes up its mind.

2. Is it your position that a Konami USA employee or employees would be competent to testify as 30(b)(6) witnesses for Konami Corporation? If so, when do you expect to know whether you can agree to produce such witness(es) in Virginia? Our proposal is that the parties stipulate to extend discovery until two months after the Board rules on our motion to compel, at which time we will arrange the Konami 30(b)(6) deposition in Virginia to be followed promptly by the UGO depositions in Manhattan. Will you agree to this?

Thanking you in advance for the courtesy of your reply,

Bill Ried

Jeffrey,

Further to our telephone conversation yesterday, please be reminded that we are still awaiting your response regarding our proposal to consolidate the remaining oppositions. We have reiterated this question numerous times over the course of the past several weeks, and, in anticipation of a response, have not begun preparing responses to each of your discovery requests for the remaining oppositions. Yesterday you advised that you would revert to us with a final answer; but as of this afternoon we have still not heard from you. We also asked that, in the event you do not agree to consolidation, you grant us an extension of 60 days to respond to the discovery requests. In either case, we are coming up on the December 6th deadline to respond to the first of the new discovery requests, and need time to draft a motion either to extend or to consolidate. Accordingly, we urgently require your answer on this issue.

We thank you for your anticipated cooperation in resolving this question without any further delay.

Subject: Re: UGO v. Konami - consolidation/extensions

Bill and Natasha:

This e-mail responds to your request for consolidation of the six new opposition proceedings and an extension of the time to respond to Konami's discovery in each of the new six oppositions.

Extension of Discovery Deadline

Regarding discovery, Konami will agree to an extension of UGO Networks time to respond to the newly-served discovery requests in these six new oppositions. However, we believe that two months is unnecessarily long, and instead would agree to a 30-day extension of time to respond to the discovery in each of the six new opposition proceedings. This consent is contingent on UGO Networks agreeing as follows:

1) If Konami should need such an extension of time to respond to discovery served by UGO Networks in each or any of these six new proceedings, UGO Networks will consent to a similar 30-day extension; and

2) If Konami deems it necessary, UGO Networks consents now and agrees that it will stipulate to a corresponding one-month extension of the discovery cut-off date in each of the six new proceedings, should Konami request such an extension.

Please confirm that this is agreeable.

Proposal for Consolidation

As for your proposal regarding consolidation, Konami has considered the proposal but cannot agree that the six new opposition proceedings be consolidated with the already pending and consolidated Opposition No. 91/153,578. Instead, Konami proposes that the parties agree to consolidation of the six new opposition proceedings separately from the pending (and previously-consolidated proceeding). Opp. No. 91/153,578 has progressed farther in discovery so consolidation of the new proceedings with the prior proceeding is not appropriate and either will delay a resolution of the earlier Opposition, or will not provide enough time for discovery and adjudication of all the issues involved in the six new opposition proceedings. For these and other reasons, Konami will only agree that the six new opposition proceedings be consolidated separately from the current consolidated proceeding.

If UGO Networks agrees to this proposed consolidation, we need to discuss how your client will respond to the previously-served discovery. We believe it important that UGO Networks respond to each set of discovery separately, because the Board will be required to adjudicate the issues regarding each of the six new applications separately.

Please advise if this is acceptable, or if you prefer to discuss these issues by phone.
