MICHAEL CRAIG SILVER,

Applicant.

Opposition No. 91/176,744

DECLARATION OF MARILYN DRUCKER

I, Marilyn Drucker, hereby declare as follows:

1. I am currently the Executive Director – Brand Management for DC Comics ("DC Comics"), which is headquartered at 1700 Broadway, New York, New York.

2. The facts stated herein are based on my personal knowledge.

3. DC Comics owns a vast network of thousands of character properties, including without limitation such internationally-famous characters as SUPERMAN and BATMAN.

4. DC Comics publishes comic books featuring its character properties and trademarks.

5. A substantial part of DC Comics' business originates from licensing its marks and characters for use in connection with a variety of goods and services, including without limitation: apparel and accessories, footwear, domestics and linens, fine arts and collectibles, food and beverages, gifts, novelties and decorations, toys, games, audio equipment, video games, computer products, house-wares, furniture, garden and hardware products, cosmetics, personal care and health care products such as bubble baths, toothbrushes, foam soaps, facial tissues, and bandages, pet products, promotions and entertainment, sporting goods, and stationery and paper goods.

6. DC Comics' merchandise licensing programs are among the largest and most successful in the world, involving hundreds of different licensees, and generating licensing royalties of approximately $100 million in 2006.

7. Beginning in 1966, DC Comics, jointly with Marvel Characters, Inc. ("Marvel") (including our and Marvel's predecessor-in-interest), have exploited their SUPER HERO and SUPER HEROES trademarks in connection with comic books, toys and masquerade costumes.

8. Typically, DC Comics' merchandise license agreements bundle groups of characters. Such agreements generally include a license to use the trademarks SUPER HERO and SUPER HEROES.

9. DC Comics has a long history of exploiting its other trademarks in connection with International Class 3 goods, including without limitation hand creams and lotions, body creams and lotions, sunscreen preparations, bubble baths, toothbrushes, foam soaps, facial tissues, and bandages. Consumers can find SUPERMAN toothbrushes and bandages at their local drug stores.

10. A true and correct copy of a photograph of a battery powered toothbrush bearing the BATMAN mark is attached as Exhibit A.

11. A true and correct copy of a photograph of a box of facial tissue bearing the SUPERMAN mark is attached as Exhibit B.

12. A true and correct copy of a photograph of a canister of foam soap bearing the SUPERMAN mark is attached as Exhibit C.

13. A true and correct copy of a photograph of a basketball bath set bearing the SUPERMAN mark is attached as Exhibit D.

14. A true and correct copy of a photograph of a bath set bearing the SUPERMAN mark is attached as Exhibit E.

15. A true and correct copy of an Internet page from Drugstore.com showing a toothbrush bearing the SUPERMAN mark is attached as Exhibit F.

16. A true and correct copy of an Internet page from Drugstore.com showing a package of bandages bearing the SUPERMAN mark is attached as Exhibit G.

17. DC Comics' exploitation of its trademarks on personal care products reflects a popular trend in consumer merchandising.

18. Comic books, toy figures, masquerade costumes (especially during the Halloween season), and suntan lotions can all be found at local drug stores, retail supermarket stores, big box stores like Wal Mart and Best Buy, and online.

I declare that the foregoing is true and accurate to the best of my knowledge under penalty of perjury of the laws of the United States.

Dated: October 24 2007
