v.

Royal Crown Company, Inc.

Cheryl Goodman, Interlocutory Attorney:

Proceedings herein are suspended pending disposition of the motion to compel, except as discussed below. The parties should not file any paper which is not germane to the motion to compel. See Trademark Rule 2.120(e)(2).

This suspension order does not toll the time for either party to make any required disclosure such as expert disclosures,<sup>1</sup> to respond to discovery requests which had been duly served prior to the filing and service of the motion to compel, or to appear for a discovery deposition which had been duly noticed prior to the filing and service of the motion to compel. See Id. The motion to compel will be decided in due course.

<sup>1</sup> Absent a consented motion to extend the dates for service of disclosures, the parties are expected to serve such disclosures while proceedings are suspended for consideration of the motion to compel. See Trademark Rule 2.120(e)(2) "The filing of a motion to compel . . . shall not toll the time for a party to comply with any disclosure requirement."
