California, 94085-2801, believes it will be damaged by registration of the mark shown in Application Serial No. 78/781,273, and hereby opposes that application, alleging as grounds for its opposition that:

1. As is evidenced by the publication of the PALMSECURE mark in the April 3, 2007 issue of the Official Gazette, Fujitsu Limited ("Applicant"), seeks to register the mark PALMSECURE as a trademark in International Class 9 for "vein authentication systems, comprising electronic vein sensors and computer hardware and software for vein identification and verification, to be used for security purposes."

2. Applicant's application for the PALMSECURE mark was filed on December 27, 2005, based solely on Applicant's alleged intent to use the mark.

3. Opposer is the owner of the following PALM-based incontestable U.S. trademark registrations for various types of computer software:

Trademarks	Reg. No./ Reg. Date	Class: Goods
PALMPRINT	1,887,791 April 4, 1995	9: Computer software programs for handwriting recognition and related instruction manuals sold together as a unit.
PALMCONNECT	1,965,938 April 2, 1996	9: Computer software which, when installed on a personal computer, allows a personal digital assistant user to exchange data between the personal digital assistant and the personal computer.

Said trademarks were registered on the Principal Register prior to the filing date of the Application. Copies of the Certificates of Registration for each of the above marks are attached hereto as Exhibits A and B, respectively. Said registered marks of Opposer are valid and subsisting and are conclusive evidence of Opposer's exclusive right to use said marks in commerce on the goods specified in said registrations. In view of the similarity of the respective marks and the virtually identical and/or closely related nature of the goods of the respective parties, it is alleged that Applicant's mark so resembles Opposer's registered trademarks as to be likely to cause confusion or to cause mistake or to deceive, thereby causing loss, damage and injury to Opposer and the purchasing public, and to dilute the distinctive quality of Opposer's marks, thereby causing loss, damage and injury to Opposer and the purchasing public.

4. In addition to the above incontestable PALM-based registrations, Opposer is the owner of a number PALM and PALM-based U.S. trademark registrations for various types of computer hardware, computer software, and related goods and services, including, but not limited to the following:

Trademarks	Reg. No./ Reg. Date	Class: Goods/Services

PALM III	2,637,822 Oct. 22, 2002	9: Computer software and firmware, namely operating system programs, data synchronization programs, and application development tool programs for personal and handheld computers; computer hardware and computer peripherals.
PALM VII	2,611,088 Aug. 27, 2002	9: Computer software and firmware, namely operating system programs, data synchronization programs, and application development tool programs for personal and handheld computers; computer hardware and computer peripherals.
PALM COMPUTING	2,613,597 Sept. 3, 2002	9: Computer software and firmware, namely, operating system programs, data synchronization programs, and application development tool programs for personal and handheld computers; computer hardware and computer peripherals.

Trademarks	Reg. No./ Reg. Date	Class: Goods/Services
SIMPLY PALM	2,619,261 Sept. 17, 2002	9: Computer software and firmware, namely, operating system programs, handwriting recognition computer software, personal information management computer software, data synchronization programs, and application development tool programs for personal and hand-held computers; computer hardware and computer peripherals, namely, modems, computer cables, computer styli, hand-held computers, including hand-held computers with wireless e-mail and wireless access to a global computer network; and instruction manuals sold therewith as a unit for all the aforesaid goods.
PALM POWERED (and design)	2,681,093 Jan. 28, 2003	9: Modems, handheld computers, mobile telephones, pagers, personal digital assistants, electronic organizers, portable media players.
PALM READER	2,740,330 July 22, 2003	9: Software for use as a graphical user interface for the viewing of text and graphics on handheld computers.

Said trademarks were registered or applied for on the Principal Register prior to the filing date of the application. Copies are attached hereto as Exhibits C, D, E, F, G, H, I, J, K, L, M and N, respectively. Said registered marks of Opposer are valid and subsisting and are prima facie evidence of Opposer's exclusive right to use said marks in commerce on the goods and services specified in said registrations. In view of the similarity of the respective marks and the virtually identical and/or closely related nature of the goods and services of the respective parties, it is alleged that Applicant's mark so resembles Opposer's registered marks, as to be likely to cause confusion or to cause mistake or to deceive, thereby causing loss, damage and injury to Opposer and the purchasing public, and to dilute the distinctive quality of Opposer's marks, thereby causing loss, damage and injury to Opposer and the purchasing public.

5. As a consequence of Opposer's extensive use, sales, promotion, advertising, licensing and marketing activity in interstate commerce, the PALM Marks and Names have become well known in the computer industry, and beyond, to identify Opposer's products. The PALM brand, as a designation of computer hardware and software products, has come to identify to consumers goods of Opposer. As a result, Opposer's family of PALM Marks and Names has become a valuable asset of Opposer and is symbolic of the goodwill and consumer recognition built up by Opposer through the use, sales, promotion, advertising, licensing and marketing activity in interstate commerce of its PALM products.

6. In view of the similarity of the respective marks and the competitive and highly related nature of the goods of the respective parties, it is alleged that Applicant's PALMSECURE mark so resembles Opposer's PALM and PALM-based marks as to be likely to cause confusion or mistake or to deceive, to dilute the value and source identifying power of Opposer's PALM identifier, and to disparage and falsely suggest a connection with Opposer, thereby causing loss, damage, and injury to Opposer and the purchasing public.

WHEREFORE, Opposer prays that this Notice of Opposition be sustained, that Applicant's Trademark Application Serial No. 78/781,273 be rejected, and that Applicant be denied registration of PALMSECURE as a trademark for the goods specified in that application.
