2866. Entertainment Law Reporter, January, 2005, RECENT CASES; Previously Reported:: Vol. 26, No. 8, 420 words, ASCAP "rate court" refuses to certify pre-trial orders for appeal. Federal District Judge William Conner, sitting as the ASCAP Consent Decree "rate court," has denied a motion filed by Muzak and DMX Music that asked the judge to certify two pre-trial orders for immediate or interlocutory appeal. The orders that the background music services wanted to appeal - but now won't be able to, until a final judgment is entered - are those by which Judge Conner ruled that; (1) ASCAP is not required to grant public performance licenses to Muzak and DMX for the catalogs of particular music publishers (ELR 26:4:15); and (2) once the judge determines a blanket license fee, it will not be reduced to reflect direct licenses entered into by Muzak and DMX with publishers, during term of that blanket license (ELR 26:7:14).
