SUPPLEMENTAL AFFIDAVIT OF JERROLD I. COHEN

I, Jerrold I. Cohen, being duly sworn upon oath, depose and state as follows:

1. I am President of JC Management, Inc., which is the manager of CR License, LLC, which owns the CANYON RANCH® trademarks. CR License, LLC and its related and predecessor companies are referred to collectively below as “Canyon Ranch.” I have worked at Canyon Ranch since its founding in 1979. The matters contained in this affidavit are based upon my own personal knowledge and based on the business records of Canyon Ranch that I have access to in my position with the company.

2. In the past 35 years, hundreds of thousands of guests have visited the various CANYON RANCH locations and in excess of a million CANYON RANCH services have been enjoyed through the CANYON RANCH SpaClub day spa available at the Venetian resort in Las Vegas and on cruise ships, including Cunard's Queen Mary 2 and the many ships of Oceania Cruises and Regent Seven Seas Cruises. Tens of thousands of products bearing the CANYON RANCH brand have been sold since their introduction.

3. Canyon Ranch has advertised, promoted and marketed its marks in every geographic area in the world since at least as early as 1998 on the world wide web at its website www.canyonranch.com. Moreover, Canyon Ranch has advertised its services in numerous print and electronic media channels, including regular direct mailing campaigns to tens of thousands of people, promotional contests with OK! Magazine, Lucky Magazine, Shape Magazine, and best selling author Jonathan H. Ellerby, Saks Fifth Avenue, and Jockey International, Inc., in addition to social networking media, such as Facebook - where it is 'liked' by over 12,000 members, YouTube - where its official videos alone have drawn over 8,600 video viewers, in addition to regularly run print ads in media channels such as the New York Times and Wall Street Journal.

Re: www.canyonranch-hotelsathome.com

Dear Sir or Madam:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to ZC Investments, L.L.C. d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. Since 1979, Canyon Ranch has set the standard for health spas all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel and Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler.

It has recently come to our attention that you have registered the domain name www.canyonranch-hotelsathome.com (the "Domain Name"). Your registration of the Domain Name may constitute trademark infringement, dilution of our client's trademark rights, and cybersquatting. Canyon Ranch is particularly concerned that your use of the Domain Name will cause confusion about the source of your services or as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, or affiliation between you and Canyon Ranch when none exists. As you currently do not use the Domain Name, we are willing to assume that you will not place any content at this website. However, should you use the Domain Name, the CANYON RANCH® trademarks, or transfer the Domain Name to a third party other than Canyon Ranch, our client will take all available legal action.

Please note that the Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers ("ICANN") has established a procedure for resolving disputes which arise in situations such as this, where one party attempts to use and benefit from domain names that incorporate another's trademark. Under that procedure, Canyon Ranch may seek to have the Domain Name transferred to it.

To resolve this matter, we request that you abandon any actual or planned use of the Domain Name and not renew the Domain Name when it expires in February 24, 2007.

This letter is sent without prejudice to Canyon Ranch's rights and claims, all of which are expressly reserved.

Sincerely,

Jennifer A. Van Kirk

Re: www.canyonranchkorea.com

Dear Sir or Madam:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to ZC Investments, L.L.C. d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. Our client also has an international trademark registration in South Korea for CANYON RANCH®. (See South Korean Reg. No. 44,938). Since 1979, Canyon Ranch has set the standard for health spas all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel and Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler.

It has recently come to our attention that you have registered the domain name www.canyonranchkorea.com (the "Domain Name"). Your registration of the Domain Name may constitute trademark infringement, dilution of our client's trademark rights, and cybersquatting. Canyon Ranch is particularly concerned that your use of the Domain Name will cause confusion about the source of your services or as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, or affiliation between you and Canyon Ranch when none exists. As you currently do not use the Domain Name, we are willing to assume that you will not place any content at this website. However, should you use the Domain Name, the CANYON RANCH® trademarks, or transfer the Domain Name to a third party other than Canyon Ranch, our client will take all available legal action.

Please note that the Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers ("ICANN") has established a procedure for resolving disputes which arise in situations such as this, where one party attempts to use and benefit from domain names that incorporate another's trademark. Under that procedure, Canyon Ranch may seek to have the Domain Name transferred to it.

To resolve this matter, we request that you abandon any actual or planned use of the Domain Name and not renew the Domain Name when it expires on May 19, 2005.

This letter is sent without prejudice to Canyon Ranch's rights and claims, all of which are expressly reserved.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Jennifer A. Van Kirk". The signature is stylized with several overlapping loops and a long horizontal stroke extending to the right.

Re: The www.blackcanyonranchhomes.com,
www.blackcanyonranchrealestate.com,
and www.blackcanyonrancrealty.com Domain Names

Dear Mr. Chaszar:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. Since 1979, Canyon Ranch has set the standard for health spas all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel and Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler.

It has recently come to our attention that you have registered the domain names www.blackcanyonranchhomes.com, www.blackcanyonranchrealestate.com, and www.blackcanyonranchrealty.com (the "Domain Names"). Your registration of the Domain Names may constitute trademark infringement, dilution of our client's trademark rights, and cybersquatting. Canyon Ranch is particularly concerned that your use of the Domain Names will cause confusion about the source of your services or as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, or affiliation between you and Canyon Ranch when none exists. As you currently do not use the Domain Names, we are willing to assume that you will not place any content at this website. However, should you use the Domain Names, the CANYON RANCH® trademark, or transfer the Domain Names to a third party other than Canyon Ranch, our client will take all available legal action. Your use of the CANYON RANCH® trademark is especially concerning given our Canyon Ranch's incontestable federal trademark registrations for real estate services. (Fed. Reg. No. 1989399).

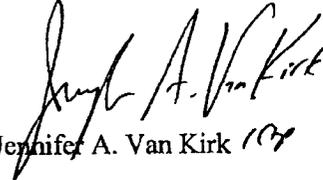

Please note that the Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers ("ICANN") has established a procedure for resolving disputes which arise in situations such as this, where one party attempts to use and benefit from domain names that incorporate another's trademark. Under that procedure, Canyon Ranch may seek to have the Domain Names transferred to it.

To resolve this matter, we request that you abandon any actual or planned use of the Domain Name and not renew the Domain Name when it expires on May 6, 2006.

We have often found that those who use the CANYON RANCH® trademark have not acted intentionally or in bad faith. We certainly hope yours is such an instance and we look forward to working with you to resolve this matter. This letter is sent without prejudice to Canyon Ranch's rights and claims, all of which are expressly reserved.

Dear Ms. Pacheco and Ms. Spurr:

As you may recall, our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. In 2005 we corresponded with you regarding Ms. Spurr's registration and use of the domain names www.canyonranchchildcare.com, www.canyonranchchildcare.net, www.canyonranchchildcare.org and www.canyonranchchildcare.biz. At that time, Ms. Spurr was represented by counsel, Stephen A. Madoni. Please advise whether Mr. Madoni is still counsel representing you on this matter and we will be glad to correspond directly with him.

Since 2005, we have been monitoring the above domain names, which to this day, host no content. Nonetheless, we have recently noticed that Ms. Pacheco has registered and is now using a different domain name, namely, www.crchildcarecenter.com, to advertise a child care facility named "CANYON RANCH CHILD CARE CENTER," which is currently under construction. Our client was surprised to find out that after being put on notice of its rights in the CANYON RANCH® mark and its objections to your use of the name "Canyon Ranch" with a child care facility you expanded your use of the mark. Your conduct may be characterized as willful infringement.

Canyon Ranch has for several years been offering youth camp services in conjunction with Julian Krinsky under the CANYON RANCH® mark. Canyon Ranch is justifiably concerned that your use of the CANYON RANCH® mark in its entirety, followed by common descriptors that explain the services offered by you, will cause confusion as to the source of your services, or as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, or affiliation between you and Canyon Ranch, when none exists. The risk of confusion is enhanced as you use the name CANYON RANCH with services that are commercially related to those offered by our client. Even in the absence of any likelihood of confusion, your proposed use of the mark would dilute the CANYON RANCH® mark in contravention of anti-dilution trademark laws.

Therefore, we must insist that you immediately stop all use of the CANYON RANCH mark, including, but not limited to, your website(s), domain name(s), promotional materials, corporate materials, business card and Facebook and other social networking websites. Since your child care facility is still under construction, changing its name should not represent an undue burden to you. Note that we do not object to your use of the words CANYON and RANCH, as long as they are not used together, for example CANYON LAKES CHILD CARE CENTER or RANCH CANYON CHILD CARE CENTER.

Even though Canyon Ranch wishes to solve this matter amicably, it values its intellectual property rights and will spare no efforts to protect its rights in the CANYON RANCH® mark. This letter is sent without prejudice to Canyon Ranch's rights and claims, all of which are expressly reserved.

Sincerely,

Jennifer A. Van Kirk

Re: The www.blackcanyonranchhomes.com,
www.blackcanyonranchrealestate.com,
and www.blackcanyonrancrealty.com Domain Names

Dear Mr. Chaszar:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. Since 1979, Canyon Ranch has set the standard for health spas all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel and Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler.

It has recently come to our attention that you have registered the domain names www.blackcanyonranchhomes.com, www.blackcanyonranchrealestate.com, and www.blackcanyonranchrealty.com (the "Domain Names"). Your registration of the Domain Names may constitute trademark infringement, dilution of our client's trademark rights, and cybersquatting. Canyon Ranch is particularly concerned that your use of the Domain Names will cause confusion about the source of your services or as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, or affiliation between you and Canyon Ranch when none exists. As you currently do not use the Domain Names, we are willing to assume that you will not place any content at this website. However, should you use the Domain Names, the CANYON RANCH® trademark, or transfer the Domain Names to a third party other than Canyon Ranch, our client will take all available legal action. Your use of the CANYON RANCH® trademark is especially concerning given our Canyon Ranch's incontestable federal trademark registrations for real estate services. (Fed. Reg. No. 1989399).

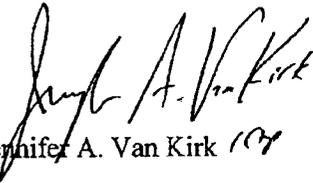

Please note that the Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers ("ICANN") has established a procedure for resolving disputes which arise in situations such as this, where one party attempts to use and benefit from domain names that incorporate another's trademark. Under that procedure, Canyon Ranch may seek to have the Domain Names transferred to it.

To resolve this matter, we request that you abandon any actual or planned use of the Domain Name and not renew the Domain Name when it expires on May 6, 2006.

We have often found that those who use the CANYON RANCH® trademark have not acted intentionally or in bad faith. We certainly hope yours is such an instance and we look forward to working with you to resolve this matter. This letter is sent without prejudice to Canyon Ranch's rights and claims, all of which are expressly reserved.

Sincerely,

LEWIS AND ROCA LLP

Re: ITU Application for RED CANYON RANCH

Dear Ms. Rader:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. In 1979, Canyon Ranch founders Enid and Mel Zuckerman created a vision of healthy living with the launch of the first Canyon Ranch Health Resort. Their vision was molded into an environment in which Canyon Ranch can directly influence the quality of its customers' lives by inspiring them to live healthier lifestyles through a wide range of products and offerings.

Over the past 25 years Canyon Ranch has set the standard for spas and healthy living goods and services all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel and Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler. The CANYON RANCH® marks are well known and enjoy an enviable reputation for quality. Canyon Ranch owns over one hundred registrations in the U.S. and internationally for the CANYON RANCH® mark covering a wide variety of goods and services, many of which are incontestable.

Canyon Ranch's business has greatly expanded and broadened to include diverse products and services such as medical, real estate development and child care services and clothing, packaged food and skin care products. Most relevant here, Canyon Ranch owns several federal registrations for the mark CANYON RANCH® for a wide variety of goods and services, covering not only its world famous health spa services but also restaurant services, cookbooks, vitamins, cereal preparations and cereal based products, namely granola bars and mixes for breads, cookies and muffins. (See e.g., Fed. Reg. Nos. 1350012, 1402143, 1422145, 1411031 at Ex. A). Canyon Ranch also owns an Intent-to-Use (ITU) application filed on April 4, 2005 for the mark CANYON RANCH™ for "pre-packaged dinners consisting primarily of meat, fish, poultry or vegetables; soups; apple sauce; frozen fruits; dried fruit; processed nuts; snack mix consisting primarily of processed fruits, processed nuts and raisins; yogurt; processed olives; olive oil." (See Serial No. 78601532 at Ex. B).

It has come to our attention that on May 4, 2005, your client Carneco Holding Inc., filed an Intent-to-Use (ITU) application for the mark RED CANYON RANCH for beef. (ITU at Ex. C). Canyon Ranch is justifiably concerned that any use by your company of the CANYON RANCH® mark would be likely to cause confusion as to the source of your goods, or as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, or affiliation between your company and Canyon Ranch when none exists. Even in the absence of any likelihood of confusion, your client's proposed use of the mark may dilute Canyon Ranch's CANYON RANCH® mark in contravention of anti-dilution trademark laws.

Our investigation indicates that your client is planning on using the name RED CANYON RANCH and that the product is still in its market-testing stage. Therefore, since your client's product has not yet been launched, the costs involved in abandoning the trademark application and picking a different name for the product are of minimal impact to your client.

To resolve this matter, we request that your client expressly abandon application Serial No. 76,637,861 for the mark RED CANYON RANCH and refrain from using this mark or any other version similar to Canyon Ranch's mark in the future. For your convenience we have attached a voluntary abandonment of trademark application form to this letter for your client's signature. (Abandonment at Ex. D). A modification of this name that places an additional word between the words CANYON and RANCH would be agreeable to our client.

We have often found that those who use the CANYON RANCH® mark or confusingly similar marks have not acted intentionally or in bad faith. We certainly hope your client's is such an instance and we look forward to working with you in resolving this matter. Please note, we do not consider your client's cooperation in this matter to be an admission of wrongdoing. So this matter does not linger, we ask that you confirm your company's intention to comply with this request in writing to me at the above address no later than October 4, 2005.

This letter is sent without prejudice to Canyon Ranch's rights and claims, all of which are expressly reserved.

Sincerely,

LEWIS AND ROCA LLP

Jennifer A. Van Kirk

Re: Use of CANYON RANCH® Mark

Dear Mr. Gunderson:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to ZC Investments, L.L.C. (d/b/a Canyon Ranch), owner of the federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. Our client has forwarded your letter of April 4, 2002 to us for response. As was made clear in our client's previous letter, Canyon Ranch views your client's proposed use of the WILD HORSE CANYON RANCH & SPA name as blatant trademark infringement and will take any action necessary to protect its invaluable name and goodwill.

Given your client's apparent failure to recognize our client's superior rights in this mark, we reiterate those rights for you. Since 1979 the CANYON RANCH® mark has represented high-quality spa and resort services throughout the world. The CANYON RANCH® mark has earned its enviable goodwill and international reputation through the investment of countless resources. As a result, Canyon Ranch intends to vigorously protect its intellectual property rights, which include the following United States trademark registrations:

MARK	REG. NO.	GOODS AND SERVICES
CANYON RANCH	1608449	Rendering technical assistance in the establishment and/or operation of health resorts and spas; health resort and spa services
CANYON RANCH	1350012	Fitness resort and restaurant services; conducting programs in exercise and physical conditioning
CANYON RANCH	1989399	Real estate services, namely leasing, licensing, listing, managing, brokerage, and time sharing services relating to real estate; real estate services, namely real estate development

MARK	REG. NO.	GOODS AND SERVICES
CANYON RANCH	1635213	Body and hair lotions, toilet soap and hair shampoo
CANYON RANCH	1594300	Clothing, namely wristbands, sun visors and warm-up suits
CANYON RANCH	1598938	Transportation of passengers by means of automobile and reservation services for transportation
CANYON RANCH	1560924	Traveling bags and luggage
CANYON RANCH	1409026	Retail store and mail order services in the field of nutrition, exercise and fitness equipment and products
CANYON RANCH	1404734	Prerecorded video tapes in the fields of health, fitness and exercise
CANYON RANCH	1422145	Cereal preparations and cereal based products, namely granola bars and mixes for breads, cookies and muffins
CANYON RANCH	1411031	Vitamins
CANYON RANCH	1402143	Publications, namely cookbooks
HE MUST HAVE BEEN TO CANYON RANCH	2107322	Conducting programs in exercise and physical conditioning; fitness resort and restaurant services, health resort and spa services
THEY MUST HAVE BEEN TO CANYON RANCH	2107301	Fitness resort and restaurant services, health resort and spa services; conducting programs in exercise and physical conditioning
SHE MUST HAVE BEEN TO CANYON RANCH	2107300	Fitness resort and restaurant services, health resort and spa services conducting programs in exercise and physical conditioning
CANYON RANCH IN THE BERKSHIRES	1642345	Conducting programs in exercise and physical conditioning; fitness resort and restaurant services, health resort and spa services

Twelve of these CANYON RANCH® registrations are incontestable under 15 U.S.C. § 1065, making them “conclusive evidence” of the validity of the marks, of Canyon Ranch’s ownership of the marks, and of Canyon Ranch’s exclusive right to use the marks in commerce. 15 U.S.C. § 1115(b). The CANYON RANCH® mark’s fame and cache is further shown by the dozens of unsolicited media mentions it receives every month. The following are just a few examples:

- “Backstage at the Walden Woods benefit resembled a Canyon Ranch reunion rather than a rock star retreat.” Gayle Fee/Laura Raposa, Clean Living in the Woods, THE BOSTON HERALD, September 8, 1993 at 8.

- "... putting Tucson's 'Canyon Ranch' on a t-shirt has equivalent appeal to writing the word 'Polo' on one." Patricia McLaughlin, T-shirt Tastes Change, but Lure of the Exotic Doesn't, UNIVERSAL PRESS SYNDICATE, August - September 1993.
- "The legendary Canyon Ranch, whose spas virtually define the pampering experience . . ." Lark Ellen Gould, Pamper Yourself, LOS ANGELES TIMES, December 8, 2000.
- "... the production crew's camp seems as luxe as the Canyon Ranch spa." Tom Gliatto, Who Will Survive?, PEOPLE WEEKLY, February 5, 2001 at 113.
- "Canyon Ranch. Just those two words side by side are balm to a woman's weary soul." Amy Graves, Spa vs. Spa, THE BOSTON GLOBE, January 6, 2002.

Despite our efforts to resolve this matter amicably, your client refuses to alter its plans to launch its business under a name confusingly similar to the famous CANYON RANCH® mark. Such refusal can only be explained as an attempt to capitalize on the goodwill of the CANYON RANCH® name as your client has not yet used the WILD HORSE CANYON RANCH & SPA mark in commerce and presumably has not yet invested significant sums in the mark. Your client's predatory intent is also evident from its use of the term "SPA" in its name immediately after the words "CANYON RANCH" as CANYON RANCH® is one of, if not the most, famous spa in the world. We are hard pressed to imagine a clearer case of willful infringement.

Your letter claims that the WILD HORSE CANYON RANCH & SPA mark is "sufficiently dissimilar" from the CANYON RANCH® mark used for spa services. Your analysis is incorrect. A mark need not be identical to another mark to infringe that mark. Instead, it need only be confusingly similar in sight, sound and commercial impression. Importantly, similarities weigh more heavily than differences in this analysis. AMF, Inc. v. Sleekcraft Boats, 599 F.2d 341, 351 (9th Cir. 1979) (finding SLEEKCRAFT and SLICKCRAFT marks similar). Here, your client's proposed mark appropriates the CANYON RANCH® mark in its entirety, heightening the likelihood of confusion. Moreover, as a strong, well-known mark, CANYON RANCH® is entitled to a broad scope of protection. Specialty Brands, Inc. v. Coffee Bean Distributors, Inc., 748 F.2d 669 (9th Cir. 1984) (finding likelihood of confusion between SPICE ISLAND and SPICE VALLEY marks for teas). This principal is even more compelling in Nevada, home to one of the three CANYON RANCH® spas.

Although brothel services are obviously distinct from our client's services, it appears your client will offer other services that exactly overlap services offered by our client, including lodging, restaurant, and spa services. See Dreamwerks Production Group, Inc. v. SKG Studio, 142 F.3d 1127 (9th Cir. 1998) (DREAMWORKS mark for movie studio services confusingly similar to DREAMWERKS for Star Trek conventions because both parties engage in movie merchandising). Moreover, your client describes its WILD HORSE CANYON RANCH & SPA as a "beautiful hotel facility,"¹ exacerbating the likelihood of confusion with our client whose spas and resorts are known for their beautiful settings and architecture.

Finally, you refer to third party use of CANYON RANCH marks as allegedly justifying your client's actions. Such third party use is irrelevant, however, unless employed with similar goods or services. Fleischmann Distilling Corp. v. Maier Brewing Co., 314 F.2d 149, 160 (9th Cir 1963) (only relevant third-party uses of BLACK & WHITE mark were those within alcoholic beverage industry where plaintiff used the mark for Scotch whiskey). Nonetheless, even competitive third party use would not excuse your client's willful infringement. American Optical Corp. v. North American Optical Corp., 489 F. Supp. 443, 452 (N.D.N.Y. 1979) ("the existence of other wrongdoers is not an excuse for defendant's misconduct"); Council of Better Business Bureaus, Inc. v. Better Business Bureau, Inc., 200 U.S.P.Q. 282, 294-95 (S.D. Fla. 1979) ("the cases holding that the existence of infringers other than a Defendant is irrelevant in determining whether the Defendant should be enjoined from trademark infringement or from engaging in unfair competition are legion").

Although our client would prefer to resolve this matter without litigation, it is very concerned that your client's use of the WILD HORSE CANYON RANCH & SPA mark will confuse consumers and will seriously harm its famous CANYON RANCH® mark and corresponding goodwill, its most valuable asset. As a result, our client will take all action necessary to stop your client's use of this mark.

In a further effort to resolve this matter amicably, we strongly urge your client to consider a simple solution – do not use the words CANYON and RANCH next to one another. For example, our client would not object to your client's use of WILD HORSE RANCH & SPA, as long as your client never uses the words CANYON and RANCH next to one another. Regardless, we will view any use by your client of the WILD HORSE CANYON RANCH & SPA mark as willful infringement, potentially exposing it to liability for attorneys' fees and exemplary damages.

Please confirm in writing to me your client's intention to comply with these demands no later than Friday, April 26, 2002.

Sincerely,

Jennifer A. Van Kirk

Re: The Paso Robles AVA Committee and "Paso Robles Canyon Ranch"

Dear Mr. Maher:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademark. Over the past 25 years Canyon Ranch has set the standard for spas and healthy living goods and services all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel and Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler. The CANYON RANCH® brand is well known and enjoys an enviable reputation for quality. Canyon Ranch owns over one hundred registrations in the U.S. and internationally for the CANYON RANCH® mark covering a wide variety of goods and services. Most relevant here, Canyon Ranch owns several federal trademark applications for the mark CANYON RANCH for wine, non-alcoholic wines, wine bars, and wine stores. (See Serial Nos. 78601539, 78601538, 78601544, and 78601540).

It has come to our attention that your client, the Paso Robles American Viticultural Area Committee (the "Committee"), has submitted a petition to the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau ("TTB") to establish 11 viticultural areas in the larger Paso Robles viticultural area. It is our understanding that the proposed name for one of these regions is "Paso Robles Canyon Ranch." Canyon Ranch is justifiably concerned that your client's proposed use of this name would negatively affect its famous and valuable CANYON RANCH brand.

In order to facilitate our client's review of this matter, we request a copy of the materials submitted in this petition to the TTB and any supporting evidence demonstrating that the area in question is commonly known as "Paso Robles Canyon Ranch."

Our investigation indicates that the Committee is considering an alternative name, "Paso Robles Canyon." Please note that Canyon Ranch would not object to use of the name "Paso Robles Canyon."

So this matter does not linger, we ask for your response no later than June 18, 2007. This letter is sent without prejudice to Canyon Ranch's rights and claims, all of which are expressly reserved.

Sincerely,

Re: Infringement of the CANYON RANCH® Trademark

Dear Mr. Lamotta:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. In 1979, Canyon Ranch founders Enid and Mel Zuckerman created a vision of healthy living with the launch of the first Canyon Ranch Health Resort. Their vision was molded into an environment in which Canyon Ranch can directly influence the quality of its customers' lives by inspiring them to live healthier lifestyles through a wide range of products and offerings.

Over the past 25 years Canyon Ranch has set the standard for spas and healthy living goods and services all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel and Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler. The CANYON RANCH® marks are well known and enjoy an enviable reputation for quality. Canyon Ranch owns over one hundred registrations in the U.S. and internationally for the CANYON RANCH® mark covering a wide variety of goods and services, many of which are incontestable.

Canyon Ranch's business has greatly expanded and broadened to include diverse products and services such as medical, real estate development and child care services and clothing, packaged food and skin care products. Most relevant here, Canyon Ranch owns several federal registrations for the mark CANYON RANCH® for a wide variety of goods and services, covering not only its world famous health spa services but also restaurant services, cookbooks, vitamins, cereal preparations and cereal based products, namely granola bars and mixes for breads, cookies and muffins. (See e.g., Fed. Reg. Nos. 1,350,012, 1,402,143, 1,422,145, and 1,411,031 at Ex. A). Canyon Ranch also owns an Intent-to-Use (ITU) application filed on April 4, 2005 for the mark CANYON RANCH™ for "pre-packaged dinners consisting primarily of meat, fish, poultry or vegetables; soups; apple sauce; frozen fruits; dried fruit; processed nuts; snack mix consisting primarily of processed fruits, processed nuts and raisins; yogurt; processed olives; olive oil." (See Serial No. 78/601,532 at Ex. B).

It has come to our attention that your company registered and is using the domain name www.silvercanyonranch.com (Ex. C) in association with the provision of beef products and that on January 26, 2007 your company filed an Intent-to-Use (ITU) application for the mark SILVER CANYON RANCH for beef and pork. (ITU at Ex. D). Canyon Ranch is justifiably concerned that any use by your company of the CANYON RANCH® mark would be likely to cause confusion as to the source of your goods, or as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, or affiliation between your company and Canyon Ranch when none exists. Even in the absence of any likelihood of confusion, your company's proposed use of the mark may dilute Canyon Ranch's CANYON RANCH® mark in contravention of anti-dilution trademark laws.

The use of another's trademark, such as the CANYON RANCH® mark, within a domain name may constitute cybersquatting and Canyon Ranch can seek transfer of the domain name under either the Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy or under the Anti-Cybersquatting Protection Act (ACPA). Either option enables Canyon Ranch to protect its CANYON RANCH® mark from third-parties who use a confusingly similar domain name with similar goods and services.

Since our investigation indicates that your company's product has not yet been launched, the costs involved in abandoning the trademark application and picking a different name for the product are of minimal impact to your company. To resolve this matter, we request that your company:

- (1) Expressly abandon application Serial No. 76/671,885 for the mark SILVER CANYON RANCH;
- (2) Agree not to register the SILVER CANYON RANCH name for state trademark, federal trademark, trade name rights, domain name, or incorporation under this name;
- (3) Immediately disable the website at the www.silvercanyonranch.com domain name; and
- (4) Stop using the SILVER CANYON RANCH name in association with beef products.

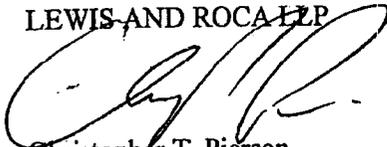

For your convenience we have attached a voluntary abandonment of trademark application form to this letter for your signature. (Abandonment at Ex. E). A modification of the SILVER CANYON RANCH name that places an additional word between the words CANYON and RANCH would be agreeable to our client.

We have often found that those who use the CANYON RANCH® mark or confusingly similar marks have not acted intentionally or in bad faith. We certainly hope yours is such an instance and we look forward to working with you in resolving this matter. Please note, we do not consider your cooperation in this matter to be an admission of wrongdoing. So this matter does not linger, we ask that your company confirm its intention to comply with this request in writing to me at the above address no later than Friday, May 25, 2007.

This letter is sent without prejudice to Canyon Ranch's rights and claims, all of which are expressly reserved.

Sincerely,

Re: Use of the Canyon Ranch® Trademark

Dear Mr. Logue:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. We recently noticed that your client, Charles G. Logue, filed a federal trademark application, Serial No. 77/267,613, for the mark SANTA RITA CANYON RANCH for vineyard and winery services and our client is concerned that use and registration of this mark is likely to cause consumer confusion.

Over the past 25 years Canyon Ranch has set the standard for spas and healthy living goods and services all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel and Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler. The CANYON RANCH® marks are well known and enjoy an enviable reputation for quality. Canyon Ranch owns over one hundred registrations in the U.S. and internationally for the CANYON RANCH® mark covering a wide variety of goods and services, many of which are incontestable. Canyon Ranch's business has greatly expanded and broadened to include diverse products and services such as medical and child care services, real estate development, clothing, packaged food and skin care products. Most relevant to you, Canyon Ranch owns trademark applications for wines, filed in April 2005, well before your client's application. Moreover, Canyon Ranch has signed a letter of intent for a development in the Santa Barbara area that features a winery under the CANYON RANCH name.

Because your client's mark incorporates the CANYON RANCH® mark in its entirety and will be used with vineyard and winery services, Canyon Ranch is justifiably concerned that your client's use of the SANTA RITA CANYON RANCH mark will likely cause confusion as to the source of its goods, or as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, or affiliation with Canyon Ranch when none exists. Even in the absence of any likelihood of confusion, your client's proposed use of the mark may dilute Canyon Ranch's CANYON RANCH® mark in contravention of anti-dilution trademark laws.

To resolve this matter, we request that your client refrain from using the SANTA RITA CANYON RANCH mark or any other name that includes our client's CANYON RANCH mark and expressly abandon application Serial No. 77/267,613. The express abandonment form can be found on the USPTO's website at <http://www.uspto.gov/teas/eTEASpageF.htm>. We noticed that your client filed applications for other trademarks such as SANTA RITA HILLS RANCH, SANTA RITA HILLS WINERY, SANTA RITA WINERY, SANTA RITA RANCH, among others. Canyon Ranch does not object to these marks and asks your client to adopt one of those marks for his future enterprise.

We have often found that those who use the CANYON RANCH® mark or confusingly similar marks have not acted intentionally or in bad faith. We certainly hope your client's is such an instance and we look forward to working with you in resolving this matter. Please note, we do not consider your client's cooperation in this matter to be an admission of wrongdoing. So that this matter does not linger, please confirm your client's intention to comply with our requests in writing to me by November 23, 2007.

Re: Use of the Canyon Ranch® Trademark

Dear Mr. and Ms. Hinesley:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. We recently noticed that you filed a federal trademark application, Serial No. 77/334,819, for the mark INDIAN CANYON RANCH for "providing facilities for recreation activities" and our client is concerned that use and registration of this mark is likely to cause consumer confusion.

Over the past 25 years Canyon Ranch has set the standard for spas and healthy living goods and services all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel and Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler. The CANYON RANCH® marks are well known and enjoy an enviable reputation for quality. Most relevant to you, Canyon Ranch owns trademark registrations for recreational camps; sport camps; and operation of recreational, summer and sports camps.

Because your mark incorporates the CANYON RANCH® mark in its entirety and is being used with facilities for recreation activities, Canyon Ranch is justifiably concerned that your use of the INDIAN CANYON RANCH mark will likely cause confusion as to the source of your services, or as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, or affiliation with Canyon Ranch when none exists. Even in the absence of any likelihood of confusion, your use of the mark may dilute Canyon Ranch's CANYON RANCH® mark in contravention of anti-dilution trademark laws.

To resolve this matter, we request that you refrain from using the INDIAN CANYON RANCH mark or any other name that includes our client's CANYON RANCH mark with goods and services commercially related to those offered by Canyon Ranch. We also request that you expressly abandon application Serial No. 77/334,819. The express abandonment form can be found on the USPTO's website at <http://www.uspto.gov/teas/eTEASpageF.htm>. Note that Canyon Ranch does not object to your use of "INDIAN CANYON RANCH" with a cattle farm.

Re: The www.santafecanyonranch.com Domain Name

Dear Mr. Rutt:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. Since 1979, Canyon Ranch has set the standard for health spas all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel and Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler.

It has recently come to our attention that you have registered the domain name www.santafecanyonranch.com (the "Domain Name"). Your registration of the Domain Name may constitute trademark infringement, dilution of our client's trademark rights, and cybersquatting. Canyon Ranch is particularly concerned that your use of the Domain Name will cause confusion about the source of your services or as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, or affiliation between you and Canyon Ranch when none exists. As you currently do not use the Domain Name, we are willing to assume that you will not place any content at this website. However, should you use the Domain Name, the CANYON RANCH® trademark, or transfer the Domain Name to a third party other than Canyon Ranch, our client will take all available legal action.

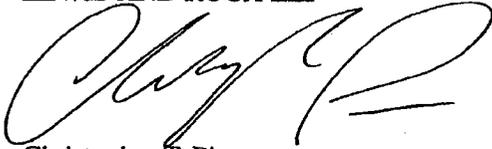

Please note that the Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers ("ICANN") has established a procedure for resolving disputes which arise in situations such as this, where one party attempts to use and benefit from domain names that incorporate another's trademark. Under that procedure, Canyon Ranch may seek to have the Domain Name transferred to it.

To resolve this matter, we request that you abandon any actual or planned use of the Domain Name and not renew the Domain Name when it expires on June 27, 2007.

We have often found that those who use the CANYON RANCH® trademark have not acted intentionally or in bad faith. We certainly hope yours is such an instance and we look forward to working with you to resolve this matter. Dear Mr. Arnowitz:

We make reference to our letter sent on November 2, 2007 (attached for your reference) re the above matter. We have not received a response from you and we also noticed that your website at www.canyonranchlistings.com is still operational.

The use of another's trademark, such as the CANYON RANCH® mark, within a domain name may constitute cybersquatting. Canyon Ranch can seek transfer of the domain name under either the Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy or under the Anti-Cybersquatting Protection Act (ACPA). Either option enables Canyon Ranch to protect its marks from third-parties who use a confusingly similar domain name.

Our client, however, still prefers to reach an amicable solution for this matter and therefore, requests that you transfer the above domain name to it. In order to proceed with the domain name transfer you need to provide us with the "authorization code," also called an "Auth code" or "EPP code." If you don't know the authorization code, please contact the domain name registrar, Go Daddy. We ask to receive this code no later than December 28, 2007.

Re: Use of the Canyon Ranch® Trademark

Dear Mr. Arnowitz:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. We have recently noticed that you are using the website located at www.canyonranchlistings.com to advertise your real estate services in Miami Beach, FL. Our client is concerned that your use and registration of this domain name is likely to cause consumer confusion.

Over the past 25 years Canyon Ranch has set the standard for spas and healthy living goods and services all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel and Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler. The CANYON RANCH® marks are well known and enjoy an enviable reputation for quality. Canyon Ranch owns over one hundred registrations in the U.S. and internationally for the CANYON RANCH® mark covering a wide variety of goods and services, many of which are incontestable. Canyon Ranch's business has greatly expanded and broadened to include diverse products and services such as medical and child care services, clothing, packaged food and skin care products. More important here, for more than twenty years Canyon Ranch has offered real estate services under the CANYON RANCH® mark. (See attached federal trademark registration).

Because the domain name www.canyonranchlistings.com incorporates the CANYON RANCH® mark in its entirety and hosts a website that offers services commercially related to those offered by Canyon Ranch, our client is justifiably concerned that your website will likely cause confusion as to the source of your services, or as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, or affiliation between you and Canyon Ranch when none exists. Even in the absence of any likelihood of confusion, your website and domain name may dilute our client's CANYON RANCH® mark in contravention of anti-dilution trademark laws.

To resolve this matter, we request that you stop all use of the CANYON RANCH® mark and transfer the domain name www.canyonranchlistings.com to Canyon Ranch.

We have often found that those who use the CANYON RANCH® mark or confusingly similar marks have not acted intentionally or in bad faith. We certainly hope yours is such an instance and we look forward to working with you in resolving this matter. Please note, we do not consider your cooperation in this matter to be an admission of wrongdoing. So that this matter does not linger, please confirm your intention to comply with our requests in writing to me by November 23, 2007.

This letter is sent without prejudice to Canyon Ranch's rights and claims, all of which are expressly reserved.

Sincerely,

Flavia Campbell

Re: Federal Trademark Application, Serial No. 77/664,097, for RED CANYON RANCH, owned by Red Bird Farms Distribution Company

Dear Mr. Block:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. We have noticed that your client, Red Bird Farms Distribution Company, filed a federal trademark application, Serial No. 77/664,097, for RED CANYON RANCH for beef and prepared beed. We write you today to put your client on notice of our client's rights in the CANYON RANCH® mark.

Over the past 25 years Canyon Ranch has set the standard for spas and healthy living goods and services all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel and Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler. The CANYON RANCH® marks are well known and enjoy an enviable reputation for quality. Canyon Ranch owns over one hundred registrations in the U.S. and internationally for the CANYON RANCH® mark covering a wide variety of goods and services, many of which are incontestable. Canyon Ranch's business has greatly expanded and broadened to include diverse products and services such as medical and real estate development services and clothing and skin care products. Most relevant here, Canyon Ranch has long been known for its innovative cuisine and owns prior applications for food products including meat products.

Because your client's mark for RED CANYON RANCH incorporates our client's CANYON RANCH® mark in its entirety and covers goods commercially related to those covered by our client's applications, Canyon Ranch is concerned that use and registration of the RED CANYON RANCH mark will likely cause confusion about the source of your client's goods or as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, or affiliation between it and Canyon Ranch. Therefore we request that your client expressly abandon its application for the RED CANYON RANCH mark and agree not to use this mark or any other mark including the words "CANYON RANCH" in the future. Because it seems that your company has not yet launched its beef product line under the RED CANYON RANCH mark, adopting a new name should not be burdensome to its business.

We have often found that those who use the CANYON RANCH® trademark have not acted intentionally or in bad faith. We certainly hope your client's is such an instance and we look forward to working with you to resolve this matter. To ensure this matter does not languish, please confirm your client's intention to comply with Canyon Ranch's requests in writing to me by April 7, 2009. Your client's cooperation will not be viewed as an admission of wrongdoing. This letter is sent without prejudice to Canyon Ranch's rights and claims, all of which are expressly reserved.

Sincerely,

Jennifer A. Van Kirk

Re: Use of the Canyon Ranch® Trademark

Dear Sir or Madam:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. We noticed that you recently purchased a property named SNIPES CANYON RANCH located in Prosser, WA and renamed it to CANYON RANCH VINEYARDS. We write you today to put you on notice of our client's CANYON RANCH® mark.

Over the past 25 years Canyon Ranch has set the standard for spas and healthy living goods and services all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel and Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler. The CANYON RANCH® marks are well known and enjoy an enviable reputation for quality. Canyon Ranch owns over one hundred registrations in the U.S. and internationally for the CANYON RANCH® mark covering a wide variety of goods and services, many of which are incontestable. Canyon Ranch's business has greatly expanded and broadened to include diverse products and services such as health resort services, namely, providing food and lodging, medical and child care services, real estate development, among others. Most relevant to you, Canyon Ranch owns federal trademark applications for wines; retail store services featuring wine; non-alcoholic wines; wine bars; providing information about wine characteristics; and sommelier services, namely, providing advice on wine and food pairing. Moreover, Canyon Ranch has signed a letter of intent for a development in California that features a winery under the CANYON RANCH name.

We are concerned that your use of the "Canyon Ranch Vineyards" name with goods and services that overlap with those offered by Canyon Ranch will likely cause confusion as to the source of your products and services or as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, or affiliation between your company and Canyon Ranch when none exists. Canyon Ranch believes, however, that the risk of consumer confusion can be minimized if your use of the mark remains limited to vineyard services (e.g. growing and selling grapes to be included in wine bottled under other brand names) in Prosser, WA and does not expand to use of the mark with branded wine, e.g., CANYON RANCH VINEYARD branded wine and or winery.

Therefore, in order to settle this matter in an amicable manner, Canyon Ranch proposes the following:

Canyon Ranch will not take action against your company's use of the CANYON RANCH VINEYARDS name, as long as:

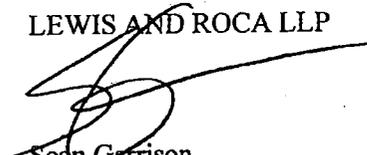

- Your use of the name CANYON RANCH VINEYARDS is limited to use with the vineyard located in Prosser, WA and does not expand to other locations;
- Your use of the name CANYON RANCH VINEYARDS is limited to use with vineyard services and is not used with branded wine or as the name of a winery or other retail outlet for wines;
- Your company does not register any trademark, trade name, copyright, or domain name that incorporate the CANYON RANCH mark; and
- The name CANYON RANCH VINEYARDS is not advertised and promoted in the Internet.

We look forward to working with you in solving this matter. So that this matter does not linger, please confirm your intention to comply with our requests in writing to me by September 29, 2008.

This letter is sent without prejudice to Canyon Ranch's rights and claims, all of which are expressly reserved.

Sincerely,

Re: Use of the Canyon Ranch® Trademark

Dear Sir or Madam:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. We have recently noticed that your company is using the CANYON RANCH mark on your website and on a promotional postcard, where your design services are offered. Our client is concerned that your use of the CANYON RANCH mark is likely to cause consumer confusion.

Over the past 25 years Canyon Ranch has set the standard for spas and healthy living goods and services all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel and Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler. Canyon Ranch's business has greatly expanded and broadened to include diverse products and services such as medical and child care services, clothing, packaged food, skin care products and real estate services under the CANYON RANCH® mark.

Your unauthorized use of the CANYON RANCH® mark on your website and promotional postcards will likely cause confusion as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, endorsement or affiliation between your company and Canyon Ranch when none exists. We understand that your services may have been used by an individual owner of a condo unit located at the CANYON RANCH Miami Beach real estate development. Nevertheless, such use does not give you permission to use the CANYON RANCH® mark on your website and other advertisements.

To resolve this matter, we request that you stop all use of the CANYON RANCH® mark on your website(s), promotional postcards and any other printed materials.

We have often found that those who use the CANYON RANCH® mark or confusingly similar marks have not acted intentionally or in bad faith. We certainly hope yours is such an instance and we look forward to working with you in resolving this matter. Please note, we do not consider your cooperation in this matter to be an admission of wrongdoing. So that this matter does not linger, please confirm your intention to comply with our requests in writing to me by August 13, 2009.

Re: Use of the Canyon Ranch® Trademark

Dear Ms. Grant:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch ("Canyon Ranch"), owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademark. We write you today regarding the use of the mark CANYON RANCH® on your company's website at www.oraspa.com, where you offer oral health products and services.

As you know, over the past 25 years Canyon Ranch has set the standard for spas and healthy living goods and services all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel + Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler. The CANYON RANCH® marks are well known and enjoy an enviable reputation for quality. Canyon Ranch owns over one hundred registrations in the U.S. and internationally for the CANYON RANCH® mark covering a wide variety of goods and services, many of which are incontestable. Most relevant to you, Canyon Ranch owns trademark registrations covering medical and spa services.

You are receiving this letter because trademark law requires Canyon Ranch to monitor and review third party unauthorized use of its trademarks. Where appropriate, we try to educate third parties who have inadvertently used Canyon Ranch's trademarks and open a dialogue to amicably resolve any unapproved use.

Our client is justifiably concerned that your use of the mark CANYON RANCH® within the quote "PERIROMATHERAPY™ treatment feels like Canyon Ranch for my teeth" will cause confusion about the existence of an endorsement, sponsorship, or affiliation between your enterprise and Canyon Ranch, when none exists. Although the quote is from a customer, your company's use of that quote on its website to advertise its services is an unauthorized commercial use of the CANYON RANCH name and infringes our client's rights.

Therefore we must request that you stop all use of the CANYON RANCH® trademark on your website(s) and on any other materials where the mark is being used, such as, but not limited to, brochures, advertising materials, letterhead and business cards. We note that the quote at issue appears on your website's "About Us" page as well as on the "Community Success Stories" page.

We have often found that those who make unauthorized use of the CANYON RANCH® mark have not acted in bad faith. We certainly hope yours is such an instance and we look forward to working with you to resolve this matter. To ensure this matter does not languish, please confirm your cooperation with our requests in writing to me by July 31, 2009. Your cooperation will not be viewed as an admission of wrongdoing. This letter is sent without prejudice to Canyon Ranch's rights and claims, all of which are expressly reserved.

Re: Use of the Canyon Ranch Living® Trademark

Dear Mr. Zilbert:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® and CANYON RANCH LIVING® trademarks. We have recently noticed that your website at www.zilbert.com displays the CANYON RANCH LIVING® logo, shown below, along with listings of CANYON RANCH condos for sale and rent.

Even though Canyon Ranch does not object to your use of the CANYON RANCH name as a reference to the properties for sale or rent at the CANYON RANCH LIVING® development in Miami Beach, it is concerned that your use of the CANYON RANCH LIVING® logo will likely cause confusion as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, affiliation or endorsement between you and Canyon Ranch when none exists.

Canyon Ranch wishes to solve this matter amicably and believes it can be resolved if you stop all use of the CANYON RANCH LIVING® logo, including but not limited to, your website(s) and other brochures and print materials where the logo may be displayed. You may continue to use the CANYON RANCH® and CANYON RANCH LIVING® marks as a reference to the condos for rent and sale at the client's Miami Beach development.

Re: Use of the Canyon Ranch® Trademark

Dear Sir or Madam:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. We noticed that you are using the CANYON RANCH mark within the name of your ranch, CRICKET CANYON RANCH, and on your website at www.cricketcanyonranch.com, where you advertise services of property rental for special events, women's retreats and movie location. We write you today to put you on notice of our client's trademark rights in the CANYON RANCH® name.

Over the past 25 years Canyon Ranch has set the standard for spas and healthy living goods and services all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel and Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler. The CANYON RANCH® marks are well known and enjoy an enviable reputation for quality. Canyon Ranch owns over one hundred registrations in the U.S. and internationally for the CANYON RANCH® mark covering a wide variety of goods and services, many of which are incontestable. Canyon Ranch's business has greatly expanded and broadened to include diverse products and services such as clothing, packaged food, skin care products, restaurant services and most importantly here, providing resort, spa and real estate services under the CANYON RANCH® mark.

Canyon Ranch is concerned that your use of the CANYON RANCH® mark with the offering of services so similar to those offered by Canyon Ranch will likely cause confusion as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, endorsement or affiliation between your company and Canyon Ranch when none exists. Note that Canyon Ranch does not object to your use of the name "Cricket Canyon" or the words "canyon" and "ranch," but it does object to your use of the word CANYON directly followed by the word RANCH.

It is our understanding that your company may no longer be offering services to the general public and may now operate as a private ranch. Canyon Ranch does not object to your use of the name "Cricket Canyon Ranch" to designate your private property, but it does object to use of the CANYON RANCH name with the offering of commercially related services to the public. Although your website at www.cricketcanyonranch.com states that "Cricket Canyon is a private family ranch (...) not open to the public for accommodations," other sections of the website still state that "the ranch hosts special ladies only retreats along with special events and western style weddings."

Canyon Ranch wishes to solve this matter amicably and believes this matter can be resolved if you simply make changes to your website to reflect the current private nature of your ranch. For your prompt reference, we enclose a few printouts of sections of your website that still advertise services to the public and therefore, should be amended.

We have often found that those who use the CANYON RANCH® mark or confusingly similar marks have not acted intentionally or in bad faith. We certainly hope yours is such an instance and we look forward to working with you in resolving this matter. Please note, we do not consider your cooperation in this matter to be an admission of wrongdoing. So that this matter does not linger, please confirm your intention to comply with our requests in writing to me by July 2, 2010.

Welcome to Cricket Canyon Ranch

Cricket Canyon is a private family ranch nestled in the beautiful foothills of the Santa Ynez Valley. The ranch is not an open to the public for accommodations. CCR is an everyday real working ranch with animals to care for, training, and a full schedule of never-ending ranch chores. It is this fact that makes Cricket Canyon an authentic western delight.

Ree welcomes you to Cricket Canyon Ranch

The ranch is named in memory of Jacqueline "Cricket" Embley Kron, our daughter, an energetic, beautiful and vibrant young lady who inspired all who met her. We believe Cricket Canyon reflects her warmth and gentle nature, and it is our intent to hold this ranch to the highest standard for that very reason.

The ranch is surrounded by thousands of majestic red and white oak trees, some dating back hundreds of years before the Spanish Missions and Santa Barbara Presidio.

This very special atmosphere - all who visit with a sense of serenity as it offers a mystical quality that seems to transcend reality. It's amazing what four thousand oak trees can do to one's spirit.

Hosts the Santa Ynez experience at its very best.

From hilltop vistas to the Santa Ynez River and Santa Barbara Mountains rise up from the valley floor and greet you with an awe-inspiring panoramic view of your morning walk. In the evening, the hilltop provides the perfect spot for star gazers, as the darkened valley is the perfect location to watch the heavens.

In contrast the ranch also provides the serenity of the oak meadows where you can picnic under huge oak limbs that seem to embrace you.

Each spring thousands of native birds migrate to the ranch and the lush oak canyons providing a chorus of songs throughout the day. We have a wide assortment of wildlife including deer, bobcat, grey squirrels, coyotes, red fox, raccoons, owls, golden eagles, bald eagles, hawks, and falcons, all call the ranch home during different seasons.

Miles and miles of hiking, riding, cycling trail all seem to connect right from the ranch entrance. The horse barn is a favorite hangout for the western pleasure, with its 200 foot riding arena.

The ranch hosts special ladies only retreats along with special events and western style weddings. The ranch is also a favorite of the film and commercial photographers who find the ranch and its location very desirable.

The ranch team can design a unique meeting event that incorporates cowboy rodeo. This event is one that combines the virtues of hard work and the old west. As a team development theme, we can provide a sharp contrast to the office when individuals, self reliance, independence and core competencies are the focus of the event. We are currently offering a 2010 program to explore the attributes of a true cowboy and how to coordinate with a mare's special skills.

Re: Use of the Canyon Ranch® Trademark

Dear Sir or Madam:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. We noticed that you are using the CANYON RANCH mark within the name of your ranch, CRICKET CANYON RANCH, and on your website at www.cricketcanyonranch.com, where you advertise services of property rental for special events, women's retreats and movie location. We write you today to put you on notice of our client's trademark rights in the CANYON RANCH® name.

Over the past 25 years Canyon Ranch has set the standard for spas and healthy living goods and services all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel and Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler. The CANYON RANCH® marks are well known and enjoy an enviable reputation for quality. Canyon Ranch owns over one hundred registrations in the U.S. and internationally for the CANYON RANCH® mark covering a wide variety of goods and services, many of which are incontestable. Canyon Ranch's business has greatly expanded and broadened to include diverse products and services such as clothing, packaged food, skin care products, restaurant services and most importantly here, providing resort, spa and real estate services under the CANYON RANCH® mark.

Canyon Ranch is concerned that your use of the CANYON RANCH® mark with the offering of services so similar to those offered by Canyon Ranch will likely cause confusion as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, endorsement or affiliation between your company and Canyon Ranch when none exists. Note that Canyon Ranch does not object to your use of the name "Cricket Canyon" or the words "canyon" and "ranch," but it does object to your use of the word CANYON directly followed by the word RANCH.

It is our understanding that your company may no longer be offering services to the general public and may now operate as a private ranch. Canyon Ranch does not object to your use of the name "Cricket Canyon Ranch" to designate your private property, but it does object to use of the CANYON RANCH name with the offering of commercially related services to the public. Although your website at www.cricketcanyonranch.com states that "Cricket Canyon is a private family ranch (...) not open to the public for accommodations," other sections of the website still state that "the ranch hosts special ladies only retreats along with special events and western style weddings."

Canyon Ranch wishes to solve this matter amicably and believes this matter can be resolved if you simply make changes to your website to reflect the current private nature of your ranch. For your prompt reference, we enclose a few printouts of sections of your website that still advertise services to the public and therefore, should be amended.

We have often found that those who use the CANYON RANCH® mark or confusingly similar marks have not acted intentionally or in bad faith. We certainly hope yours is such an instance and we look forward to working with you in resolving this matter. Please note, we do not consider your cooperation in this matter to be an admission of wrongdoing. So that this matter does not linger, please confirm your intention to comply with our requests in writing to me by July 2, 2010.

This letter is sent without prejudice to Canyon Ranch's rights and claims, all of which are expressly reserved.

Sincerely,

Jennifer A. Van Kirk

Welcome to Cricket Canyon Ranch

Cricket Canyon is a private family ranch nestled in the beautiful foothills of the Santa Ynez Valley. The ranch is not an open to the public for accommodations. CCR is an everyday real working ranch with animals to care for, training, and a full schedule of never-ending ranch chores. It is this fact that makes Cricket Canyon an authentic western delight.

Ree welcomes you to Cricket Canyon Ranch

The ranch is named in memory of Jacqueline "Cricket" Embley-Kron, our daughter, an energetic, beautiful and vibrant young lady who inspired all who met her. We believe Cricket Canyon reflects her warmth and gentle nature, and it is our intent to hold this ranch to the highest standard for that very reason.

The ranch is surrounded by thousands of majestic red and white oak trees, some dating back hundreds of years, before the Spanish Missions and Santa Barbara Presidio.

This very special ranch inspires all who visit with a sense of serenity as it possesses a mystical quality that seems to transcend reality. It's amazing what four thousand oak trees can do to one's spirit.

This is the Santa Ynez experience at its very best!

From hilltop vistas, the surreal Figueroa and Santa Barbara Mountains rise up from the valley floor and greet you with an awe-inspiring panoramic view for your morning walk. In the evening, the hilltop provides the perfect spot for star gazers, as the darkened valley is the perfect location to watch the heavens.

In contrast the ranch also provides the serenity of the oak meadows where you can picnic under huge oak limbs that seem to embrace you.

Each spring thousands of native birds migrate to the ranch and the lush oak canyons providing a chorus of songs throughout the day. We have a wide assortment of wildlife including deer, bobcat, grey squirrels, coyotes, red fox, raccoons, owls, golden eagles, bald eagles, hawks, and falcons, all call the ranch home during different seasons.

Miles and miles of hiking, riding, cycling trail all seem to connect right from the ranch entrance. The horse barn is a favorite hangout for the western pleasure, with its 200 foot riding arena.

The ranch hosts special ladies only retreats along with special events and western style weddings. The ranch is also a favorite of the film and commercial photographers who find the ranch and its location very desirable.

The Ranch House

This ranch is our home, and as such our guests become members of our extended family.

The lodge is authentic pine log, constructed of 20 inch peeled pine logs. The 6,000 square foot log residence comprises the heart of the ranch complex.

The lodge offers retreat guests a feeling of old fashion ranch living in a state western style and elegance. Relax and enjoy the rustic charm of the old country porch swings. Spend a relaxing afternoon in our spa room where you can enjoy a deep massage and take in an aromatherapy session. Our media room has a great selection of DVD's and if you need to get on line, if you must, you can reconnect to the outside world.

Retreat accommodations are limited to just 15 people, making each retreat personal and very special.

Ranch Kitchen:

The kitchen acts as the ranch Kiwa. It is where guest gather for stimulating conversations, great country cooking. Mexican, western and Italian foods are all specialties with terrific local wines and newly found friendships.

Retreat Accommodations:

The lodge can accommodate up to 15. Each room has it own unique charm including down comforters, antique accents and enchanting serene atmospheres.

Main Lodge Rooms:

The Yosemite Suite: Two adjoining bedrooms with a bath in the middle. It is a perfect for a girlfriends getaway.

The Timbers Room: A double occupancy junior suite with adjoining private screened porch looking out on the oak.

The Ponderosa Room: This double occupancy spacious suite comes complete with it's own wood burning stove and lots of western artifacts and antiques.

Ranch "Boss" Cabin: The 1920 Cowboy Cabin is a real ranch hand line cabin moved log by log from a ranch in Montana in the 1950's to the ranch. This real deal cowboy cabin has a single potbelly stove, and a downstairs bunk house. This is a perfect choice for a writer's getaway or pretending your punching cattle. The cabin is a pictorial favorite for commercial photographers, who want an authentic western cowboy look and feel.

Wranglers Bunkhouse: Located on the ranch right where it should be right next to the tack room. This is for City Slicker roughing it in real cowboy style. The loft is great for a base camp if you are riding the canyons. Our equestrian, cycling, and biking friends love the bunkhouse, for its western authenticity.

Sunset Lodges, Authentic Lakota Sioux Teepees: Sitting on a majestic vista, the camper's compound comprises several 8x8 foot Teepee lodges. It is the ultimate western camping experience. Each lodge is a complete living environment with lush buffalo robes, with queen and double beds. The lodges are not available in the winter.

The ranch team can design a unique meeting event that incorporates the Cowboy Code. This event is one that probes the virtues, attitude and values of the old west. As a team development theme it can provide a sharp contrast to the time when individuality, self-reliance, independence and courage were the defining traits of the cowboy. Re: Use of the Canyon Ranch® Trademark

Dear Ms. Elsea:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. We noticed that your company is using the CANYON RANCH mark with a 10-person family tent being offered at Sears and Kmart stores. We write you today to put you on notice of our client's trademark rights in the CANYON RANCH® name.

Over the past 25 years Canyon Ranch has set the standard for spas and healthy living goods and services all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel and Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler. The CANYON RANCH® marks are well known and enjoy an enviable reputation for quality. Canyon Ranch owns over one hundred registrations in the U.S. and internationally for the CANYON RANCH® mark covering a wide variety of goods and services. Many of these registrations are incontestable. Canyon Ranch's business has greatly expanded and broadened to include diverse services and products such as recreational, sport and summer camps, sports and entertainment services, packaged food, skin care products, backpacks and luggage under the CANYON RANCH® mark.

Canyon Ranch is concerned that your company's use of the CANYON RANCH® mark with products related to goods and services offered by Canyon Ranch will likely cause confusion as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, endorsement or affiliation between your company and Canyon Ranch when none exists. Because Canyon Ranch is known for promoting a healthy and active lifestyle and offering a variety of fitness and outdoor activities at its health resorts, we believe the risk of confusion is enhanced.

It is our understanding that only recently has your company adopted the name CANYON RANCH to identify its family-sized tent. Therefore, adopting a different name should not represent a burden to your company. Note that Canyon Ranch does not object to your company's use of the words "CANYON" or "RANCH" separately, but it does object to its use of the word CANYON directly followed by the word RANCH.

Canyon Ranch wishes to solve this matter amicably and believes this matter can be resolved if your company stops all use of the CANYON RANCH name, including on its website(s), product catalogs, brochures, advertisements and other printed materials.

We have often found that those who use the CANYON RANCH® mark or confusingly similar marks have not acted intentionally or in bad faith. We certainly hope yours is such an instance and we look forward to working with you in resolving this matter. Please note, we do not consider your cooperation in this matter to be an admission of wrongdoing. So that this matter does not linger, please confirm your intention to comply with our requests in writing to me by July 30, 2010.

Law Office of Mark J. Nielsen

Re: Use of the Canyon Ranch® Trademark

Dear Mr. Nielsen:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. We have recently noticed that your client, Mercer Wine Estates, LLC, filed a federal intent-to-use application Serial No. 85/012,058 for the mark DEAD CANYON RANCH for wine. Canyon Ranch is concerned that your client's use and registration of the DEAD CANYON RANCH name is likely to cause consumer confusion.

Over the past 25 years Canyon Ranch has set the standard for spas and healthy living goods and services all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel and Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler. The CANYON RANCH® marks are well known and enjoy an enviable reputation for quality. Canyon Ranch owns over one hundred registrations in the U.S. and internationally for the CANYON RANCH® mark covering a wide variety of goods and services, many of which are incontestable. Canyon Ranch's business has greatly expanded and broadened to include diverse products and services such as clothing, packaged food, skin care products, restaurant services and real estate services. Most relevant here, Canyon Ranch owns federal trademark applications and registrations for wines; retail store services featuring wine; non-alcoholic wines; wine bars; providing information about wine characteristics; and sommelier services, namely, providing advice on wine and food pairing. Copies of sample registrations and applications are enclosed for your reference.

Because your client's trademark application incorporates the CANYON RANCH® mark in its entirety and is intended to be used with wine, Canyon Ranch is concerned it will likely cause confusion as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, endorsement or affiliation between it and Mercer Wine Estates when none exists.

It is our understanding that your client is not yet producing wine under the name "Dead Canyon Ranch" and that it will not do so within the immediate future. Therefore, choosing a new name for its future wine label should not be a burden to your client. It is our understanding that the name DEAD CANYON RANCH was chosen as a reference to the DEAD CANYON VINEYARD, located within the Mercer Wine Estates property. Note that Canyon Ranch does not object to your client's use of the name DEAD CANYON VINEYARD, but it does object to its use of any name that encompasses "CANYON RANCH."

To resolve this matter, we request that your client expressly abandon its trademark application for DEAD CANYON RANCH and agree not to use the name CANYON RANCH with wine and vineyard services.

We have often found that those who use the CANYON RANCH® mark or confusingly similar marks have not acted intentionally or in bad faith. We certainly hope your client's is such an instance and we look forward to working with you in resolving this matter. Please note, we do not consider your client's cooperation in this matter to be an admission of wrongdoing. So that this matter does not linger, please confirm your client's intention to comply with our requests in writing to me by June 29, 2010.

Re: Use of the Canyon Ranch® Trademark

Dear Mr. Kirschen:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. We have recently noticed that you have registered the domain name www.canyonranchmiami beach.us to advertise CANYON RANCH® condos in Miami Beach. Our client is concerned that your use of the CANYON RANCH mark is likely to cause consumer confusion.

Over the past 25 years Canyon Ranch has set the standard for spas and healthy living goods and services all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel and Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler. The CANYON RANCH® marks are well known and enjoy an enviable reputation for quality. Canyon Ranch owns over one hundred registrations in the U.S. and internationally for the CANYON RANCH® mark covering a wide variety of goods and services, many of which are incontestable. Canyon Ranch's business has greatly expanded and broadened to include diverse products and services such as medical and child care services, clothing, packaged food and skin care products. More important here, for more than twenty years Canyon Ranch has offered real estate services under the CANYON RANCH® mark.

Because your company's domain name incorporates the CANYON RANCH® mark in its entirety, our client is justifiably concerned that your conduct will likely cause confusion as to the source of your services, or as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, or affiliation between you and Canyon Ranch when none exists. Your confusingly similar domain name is likely to mislead consumers looking for Canyon Ranch's real estate services. The risk of confusion is enhanced by your use of the CANYON RANCH LIVING® logo on your website, along with copyrighted photographs copied from Canyon Ranch's official website. Your copying of these photos without permission may constitute copyright infringement. We also note that the look and feel of your website mimics Canyon Ranch's official website by using the same color scheme and similar fonts. Even in the absence of any likelihood of confusion, your website and domain name may dilute our client's CANYON RANCH® mark in contravention of anti-dilution trademark laws.

Canyon Ranch wishes to solve this matter amicably and believes this matter can be resolved if you take the following steps:

- (i) Stop all use of the CANYON RANCH LIVING logo on your website(s) and on any other materials;
- (ii) Stop all use of the photos of the CANYON RANCH Miami Beach facility on your website;
- (iii) Stop all use of the CANYON RANCH® mark, including but not limited to, business cards, brochures, letterhead, etc. You may refer to the CANYON RANCH® real estate development in your listings, but you may not use the CANYON RANCH® mark to refer to your business; and
- (iv) Transfer the domain name www.canyonranchmiami.com and any other domain names that incorporate our client's trademark to Canyon Ranch, or at a minimum, deactivate these domain names

We have often found that those who use the CANYON RANCH® mark or confusingly similar marks have not acted intentionally or in bad faith. We certainly hope yours is such an instance and we look forward to working with you in resolving this matter. Please note, we do not consider your cooperation in this matter to be an admission of wrongdoing. So that this matter does not linger, please confirm your intention to comply with our requests in writing to me by November 22, 2010.

This letter is sent without prejudice to Canyon Ranch's rights and claims, all of which are expressly reserved.

Re: Use of the Canyon Ranch® Trademark

Dear Sir or Madam:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. We noticed that your company is using the CANYON RANCH mark with a knit tunic designed by Ann E. Smith advertised on your websites at www.caron.com and www.naturallycaron.com. We write you today to put you on notice of our client's trademark rights in the CANYON RANCH® name.

Over the past 25 years Canyon Ranch has set the standard for spas and healthy living goods and services all over the world. CANYON RANCH® has repeatedly been named the World's Best Spa by Travel and Leisure Magazine and Condé Nast Traveler. The CANYON RANCH® marks are well known and enjoy an enviable reputation for quality. Canyon Ranch owns over one hundred registrations in the U.S. and internationally for the CANYON RANCH® mark covering a wide variety of goods and services. Many of these registrations are incontestable. Canyon Ranch's business has greatly expanded and broadened to include diverse services and products such as retail store services, packaged food, skin care products, backpacks and luggage and, most importantly here, clothing under the CANYON RANCH® mark. Note that our client owns two federal trademark registrations for the CANYON RANCH® mark covering clothing, one of which is incontestable. (See details of Reg. Nos. 1594300 and 3190074 pulled from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office database, attached for your easy reference).

Canyon Ranch is concerned that your company's use of the CANYON RANCH® mark with clothing -- a product category also offered by Canyon Ranch -- will likely cause confusion as to the existence of a connection, sponsorship, endorsement or affiliation between your company and Canyon Ranch when none exists. Note that Canyon Ranch does not object to your company's use of the words "CANYON" or "RANCH" separately, but it does object to its use of the word CANYON directly followed by the word RANCH.

Canyon Ranch wishes to solve this matter amicably and believes this matter can be resolved if your company stops all use of the CANYON RANCH name, including on its website(s), product catalogs, brochures, advertisements and other printed materials.

We have often found that those who use the CANYON RANCH® mark or confusingly similar marks have not acted intentionally or in bad faith. We certainly hope yours is such an instance and we look forward to working with you in resolving this matter. Please note, we do not consider your cooperation in this matter to be an admission of wrongdoing. So that this matter does not linger, please confirm your intention to comply with our requests in writing to me by May 31, 2011.

This letter is sent without prejudice to Canyon Ranch's rights and claims, all of which are expressly reserved.

Sincerely,

Jennifer A. Van Kirk

Re: Use of Canyon Ranch® Trademark

Dear Mr. Bolland:

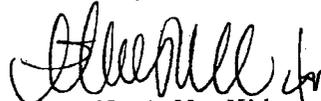

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks. We write you today regarding your use of the mark CANYON RANCH® within your website at www.swingolf.net, where you advertise golf lessons at CANYON RANCH® resorts in Arizona and Lenox in March, April, June and October of 2011.

Canyon Ranch has not engaged you to offer golf lessons or any other classes or workshops at its resorts. Therefore, the use of the CANYON RANCH® mark on your website is, at a minimum, misleading to the consumer public. Moreover, your use of the CANYON RANCH® mark on your website will likely cause confusion about the source of your services or about the existence of an endorsement, sponsorship, or affiliation between your company and Canyon Ranch, when none exists.

Therefore we request that you stop all use of the CANYON RANCH® mark on your website(s) and on any other promotional materials where the mark is being used. Please note that your cooperation will not be viewed as an admission of wrongdoing.

We look forward to working with you to resolve this matter and ask you to please confirm your cooperation with our requests in writing to me by May 13, 2011. This letter is sent without prejudice to Canyon Ranch's rights and claims, all of which are expressly reserved.

Sincerely,

Jennifer A. Van Kirk

Re: Advertising of fares and booking of rooms at Canyon Ranch® resorts on Expedia.com

Dear Sir or Madam:

Our firm is intellectual property counsel to CR License, LLC d/b/a Canyon Ranch, owner of federal and international trademark rights to the famous CANYON RANCH® trademarks.

We recently noticed that your website claims the ability to check availability and book rooms at the CANYON RANCH® resorts in Tucson, AZ, Lenox, MA, and Miami Beach, FL. Your website also purports to display rate information for these resorts. However, as you know, Canyon Ranch does not accept reservations from Expedia. Even more concerning, your website generates false availability information for our resorts. When one inputs random dates for CANYON RANCH resorts into your reservation search engine the same message is always returned, stating no availability for the dates searched.

Because Expedia is not authorized to accept bookings for CANYON RANCH properties, your listings are, at a minimum, misleading. Since your website falsely claims no rooms are available at our client's CANYON RANCH resorts, consumers may be dissuaded from booking rooms at CANYON RANCH resorts and may chose instead to visit one of Canyon Ranch's competitors. These actions are damaging to Canyon Ranch.

Therefore, we request that you remove all the listings referring to the CANYON RANCH® resorts in located in Tucson, AZ, Lenox, MA, and Miami Beach, FL from your Expedia website and other affiliated websites.

Please note we do not consider your cooperation in this matter to be an admission of wrongdoing. So that this matter does not linger, please confirm your intention to comply with our requests in writing to me by [INSERT THREE WEEK DEADLINE]

"Worst place EVER"

Reviewed 2 days ago NEW via mobile

We had booked for 4 nights at the end of October but only stayed for 2 because it was so bad. We have been trying to reclaim our money back but to no avail and as a last resort we are putting this review on to warn others about how they treat their customers.

1. On arrival the young girl on reception was downright rude.
2. A new road is being built to the Skywalk and consequently there are lorries thundering up and down not 100 yards from the ranch from early morning until after dark. Not only did it cause noise but awful dust.
3. At night there was a constant humming of the generator which kept the fridges going.
4. The food was awful, but I understand that how good it is depends on which ranchhand was on cooking duty that particular day. There is also no choice just take it or leave it. For breakfast there is a fry up, no cereal, yogurt or even toast!

5. Evening meal was at 7pm and they encouraged us to eat up quickly as when we had finished they could clear up and go home so at 8.30 we all sat around the bonfire for a singsong. This was good except we couldn't have another drink, (including tea or coffee) before we went to bed as the main hall had been locked. It's not very nice to drink cold water (which they provide in each cabin) after sitting out in the cold for a couple of hours.

6. As previously stated the food is awful and there is no shop, except an overpriced gift shop, to buy anything to eat or drink or even any toiletries.

7. The ranch is completely rundown and in desperate need of refurbishment but it seems that the owner is more interested in the helicopter flight side of the business rather than the ranch.

I have emailed and complained, my travel agent has also complained on my behalf, but nothing. I now challenge the Company to reply to my comments on here as they are all truthful and correct.

Needless to say we would not recommend this as a holiday destination.

“Be warned these people are crooks”

Reviewed November 20, 2013

At the beginning of January 2013 I booked three nights stay at the Grand Canyon Ranch Resort for the nights of 17th, 18th and 19th September 2013. This stay was part of a longer trip in the USA and followed my partner having stayed on a working ranch previously in Montana which she thoroughly enjoyed.

This visit tied in with my partners birthday. The intention was to enjoy a relaxing three day and nights in comfortable surroundings (per the ranch website and promotional material etc.) and to enjoy an evening horse ride on her birthday. To ensure we could go on the horse ride this I booked separately over the telephone in early September.

At no time were we advised of the incredible noise and disruption being experienced as a result of road works being undertaken immediately adjacent to the property.

On arrival at the ranch following a reasonably long drive from Las Vegas we were extremely concerned to be confronted by the noise and disruption from the road works – hardly the relaxing experience we had expected! However we were also horrified to be faced with/experienced:

1) A property (the ranch as a whole) that appeared to be a major need of refurbishment. As explained we have some experience of a working ranch and were not expecting this to be anything other than relatively tidy and also a clean and comfortable cabin.

2) Once finding 'reception' we were met by a young girl on reception who was far more interested in eating her ice cream than she was in dealing with us. We asked about the noise and were advised this had been going on for some time and nothing to do with the ranch. She gave us our key for the 'cabin' and explained where this was situated.

3) We then went to the 'cabin' which frankly would be better described as a pigsty but out of courtesy let me call it a shack. The shack was immediately adjacent to pens holding horses and cattle and the dung and preponderance of flies around the shack was very bad. The shack was also very close to the boundary of the ranch and within a short distance (100 yards say) of the road works.

4) The shack itself was tiny and has seen better days and probably should be demolished. Inside the shack was alive with flies and the floor was covered with dead flies. I cannot believe this had been cleaned for a number of days.

5) There was no way on this earth that we could stay in this accommodation booked over 8 months earlier. You would have had to pay me a lot of money as a challenge to have done so but my partner would not have done so at any price and I strongly suspect the owners of this 'establishment' would not either!

6) We returned to reception to be met by the incapable and disinterested ice cream eating girl who simply said there was nothing she could do when we advised we could not stay, we would have to try and find alternative accommodation somewhere and wanted a refund of our monies already paid. These were $447 for the 'accommodation' and $138 for the horse ride which of course also had to be cancelled. At my insistence she called for the duty manager – Reba Jacobs – who was very apologetic and advised there had been a number of guests who had either cancelled or cut stays short given the problems at this establishment. Reba did also say she didn't understand why this 'cabin' had been used in the first place given its location and issue with livestock alongside it. She then offered to show another 'cabin' to us (which begs the question why a booking made 8 months previously was placed in possibly the worst shack on this property in the first place) but by this time we explained we had lost total confidence in the ability of the establishment, the noise issue remained and we simply wanted our money returned so that we could get on and forget this experience and enjoy the remaining time we had in the USA. Reba then promised to sort out a refund of our monies and said would e-mail us which needless to say hasn't happened and would get the monies refunded to my credit card account which also needless to say hasn't happened. She did though give us the ranch telephone number and the booking agency (Heliusa) contact details in the event of further queries.

7) Since returning to the UK we have written (e-mailed) many times. The initial e-mail was to Heliusa (Rich Johnson) who passed our complaint on to the ranch and a reply from the ranch manager (Casey Adams) was received on 7th October advising a refund was being resolved. This has not happened and subsequent e-mails to both the ranch and Heliusa have been ignored.

8) We have now had to revert to our Credit Card provider and seek reimbursement via them under the dispute criteria. Fortunately we have the e-mail from Mr Adams to refer to!

We can see that some travellers have enjoyed the ranch experience and that is great. However I can also see that many other travellers are angry and have given very poor reviews. We were not expecting anything other than average (at best) but clean accommodation. We have stayed in what many would regard as substandard 'hostels' in South Africa and 2* accommodation in parts of Asia. Whilst extremely basic these were of a much higher standard than that we were expected to accept at the Grand Canyon Ranch!

Despite receiving assurance at the time of our 'visit' and by e-mail since our return to the UK this outfit have not refunded our monies.

Please be warned DO NOT under any circumstances trust these guys. My strong advice is TO KEEP WELL CLEAR! If you want a working ranch experience go elsewhere (the Lonesome Spur in Montana is highly recommended!).

If you insist on going to the Grand Canyon Ranch I repeat be warned!! Pay by credit card and if you get there and cannot stay get something in writing whilst there confirming refunds. Do not take them at their word - do not believe their terms & conditions.

You must contact your credit card providers to seek reimbursement.

We are very sorry to hear of your experience and take reviews quite seriously. Please know that the road construction was unfortunately started without due notice to Grand Canyon Ranch and was certainly not known of at the time of booking. Unfortunately, there were several complaints as a result of this construction but please be assured that any valid refund requests due are and will be processed. To help expedite this, we kindly ask that you forward your full name, date of stay and requested amount to be refunded to our Controller at Controller@heliusa.net. Again, we apologize for any inconvenience and do hope you visit Grand Canyon Ranch again under better circumstances.

"The worst service of any company I've ever had."

Reviewed November 19, 2013

It's been almost two months since I canceled my reservation and I still haven't received my refund. I canceled my reservation well within the time frame of their policy and have been exchanging emails and phone calls for over two months. I keep getting the same email every time I ask what is going on...

"Stephen,

I will look into this for you.

Mark"

I do not recommend this place at all. If they can't even refund your money, I can't imagine what the stay would be like.

"Road To No where"

Reviewed November 11, 2013

After booking some luxury 4 and 5 star hotels along the way on my Road Trip from Las Vegas to San Francisco and back I had just a one night gap in the itinerary which I left up to Virgin Holidays to fulfil on my behalf. They booked me into the Grand Canyon Ranch which at first I thought I had taken the wrong road and then was not sure if there were two hotels with the same name and unfortunately my sat-nav was taking me down the only road that led to the Ranch which was 21 miles of mud gravel and dust as there is no other road not only to the ranch but also to the Grand Canyon Skywalk, that's not to say they are not working feverishly hard to make a road but I would think it will be at least another 5 years before there will be anything to resemble a road.

 The Ranch is a collection of Wigwams and large Sheds scattered around more dust and mud. if this is your idea of an adventure so be it, but unfortunately not mine so as I made my excuses it started to rain and within moments the entire landscape turned into no more than one sliding mud pool and the road became traitorous. If you do decide to go there or the Skywalk just remember you have to do the journey in return as it is a dead end and you have to drive nearly all the way back to Flagstaff which is a good hour and a half drive if you put your foot down.

"Warning: Resort does NOT refund in accordance with its cancellation policy"

Reviewed October 12, 2013

We made a reservation at the Grand Canyon Ranch Resort in May 2013 for 3 Tipi's for 1 night at the end of August 2013. Payment was made in full at the time of booking ($447). I enquired at the time of making the reservation what the cancellation policy was and was advised that provided 72 hours notice was given, a full refund would be made. This was also clearly set out in the confirmation email I received at the time of booking.

Unfortunately, due to an illness in our party (we were 2 families on a 2 1/2 week holiday) we had to cancel the reservation but this was done within the timeframe advised to entitle us to a full refund.

Despite numerous phone calls and follow up emails, no refund has been made to date and no response has been received to my emails. On the occasions when I have called, I have been advised that the refund is with the manager for "approval" but he has always been unavailable to take my call.

I would advise anyone NOT to make a reservation at the Grand Canyon Resort if there is any possibility that you may have to subsequently cancel it, as you will not receive a refund of your money.

"Grand Canyon West Ranch"

Reviewed October 9, 2013

Having visited Grand Canyon West Ranch four times previously I was looking forward to our trip.

I booked the cabin for 2 nights and arrived to be greeted by a harassed receptionist who told us they had a large party expected any minutes for check in and to stand aside and they would see to us after them.

Our healing didn't work.

There were diggers and road work going on all day and startin at 7am.

We were also told to step aside in the rut arrant as there was a large party due in.
 At in all this will be my last visit as it has changed so much... I would have recommended it previously but the welcome is now all to do with who spends the most money...can have the best experience.
 We only stayed on night but paid for 2 and the cost is not cheap..
 I won't be returning and have written an email of complaint and am awaiting a reply.
 The only positive thing about the ranch is Casey Adams, the resident singing cowboy who is a lovely welcoming sight.
 The room was also dirty as the quilt cover was covered I stains..

"Very Dissappointed"

Reviewed September 23, 2013

Unfortunately the Grand Canyon Ranch was the worst place that I stayed at during my one month, eighty city visit of the United States. Some of the staff treated us like we were an inconvenience to them. When we asked for towels as none were provided in the room the staff asked "did we really need them." Also there was rubbish left in our room from the previous guests. Our helicopter ride which was organised by the ranch was 3 hours late without apology or explanation. When we asked if we could leave the ranch to do other site seeing and come back later for the ride we were told we would not be given an alternative flight time and would risk missing our non-refundable $450 ride. Instead we had to sit and watch while dozens of other people who were on daily bus trips from Vegas were given priority over us and went on their helicopter rides. The staff also discouraged us from using other tourists operators in the area, such as the skywalk, by grossly exaggerating they prices charged. Skywalk was a great experience and all the operators there were helpful and friendly. The loved the Grand Canyon but were so glad to be leaving the Ranch.

This was ment to be a holiday of a life time 10 days on the ranch and 8 days on the strip, we arrived after a 10 hour flight and 2 hour drive to find the place ankle deep in water and to find they had given our cabin to someone else, we were left out in the rain for an hour while they moved people out of our cabin and us in, we went to bed got up in the morning to have a shower to find that the shower flooded the cabin and soaked our luggage, on telling them what had happened we were told to put our towels down to stop the flooding ,we were treated like animals staff were rude and uncaring for both people and the animals, I ride western already so know a lot about horses and I would of not Sat on them poor horses with ill fitting saddles with over weight men on them pulling at there mouths, you could go and see the bison ha ha they take you on a cart up to where the bison are kept which is in a walled area way to small for the animals it made me feel sick, the food was over priced but they have you by the balls because once there you have no option but to eat there under cooked burgers for $20 each, I have never felt so out of place and uncomfortable in my life, to top it off outside the cabins is a construction site that starts at 06,00 and bangs away at the canyon till 17,00 five days a week, please save your money and stay some where you will be respected !!!!!!!!!!!

"Nightmare"

Reviewed July 22, 2013

Visited this place a few years ago with 2 other couples. We were surprised at how horrible we were treated here. Firstly, the "sunset champagne" horseback ride??? No champagne! In fact, drinking here is pretty much frowned upon, especially if you have your own cooler. (And after a 5 hour drive to get here in the middle of nowhere, you pretty much have to.)

The rooms are Tuff Sheds!

It's one of those places where you go once, and never go back.

My only advice, don't waste your money the first time.

The only good experience we had there was the helicopter ride, and you can get one of those from Vegas and still save!

Beware fellow travelers. Don't do it.

"Just a short stop en route to the Canyon"

Reviewed June 16, 2013

Unfortunately our day trip to the west rim of the canyon was spoilt by the apparent greed of this establishment. We stopped here for refreshments.

All seemed idyllic and following ice creams, drinks and use of the facilities, we continued. Then it all went wrong. Employees of 'Nigel - the owner' told us we could not continue along the only access route to the west rim and 'skywalk' without paying $80!! They blocked the road, became aggressive and abusive and eventually forced us to turn back and return to Vegas, after a 2 1/2 hr drive. When we questioned their motives, (beyond money) they stated that 'they were only doing their job' 'only paid minimum wages to be there' and that apart from intimidating and robbing tourists 'there was no other work available to them' - unbelievable but true. I urge all potential travelers to seriously consider the ethics of this organisation.

Due to a current legal dispute regarding Diamond Bar Road, we find this review to be in violation with TripAdvisor's guidelines and kindly request for its removal. That said, for those visitors who are interested in visiting the west rim of Grand Canyon Ranch, please note that the road in question does in fact go through private land owned by Grand Canyon Ranch. Although the road is currently open to all guests, there was a previous admission fee requested from non Grand Canyon Ranch prebooked guests which included a rodeo show, music entertainment and a complimentary lunch. For those who wished to drive directly to the west rim and not go through Grand Canyon Ranch private property, there has always been an alternate route available that can be accessed further down via Peach Springs on Buck and Doe Road.

"From 5 star to a disaster!"

Reviewed April 10, 2013

We booked to stay for 3 nights but left after 1! We came from staying in a 5 star hotel in Vegas to somewhere where the cabin was like a garden shed! Virgin holidays booked us into a mid sized cabin and assured us it was big enough for me, my husband and our 24 year old son well they were wrong. My son had to bend down to get into his bed in the loft area, there was very little hanging space for our clothes and no drawers. The bed linen wasn't ironed, there was no soap in the bathroom, the towels had holes in them and the shed floor was dirty! The food was basic and the service at the check in desk/bar was not much better! The only good thing about the place was Cowboy Dave - thank you for your friendliness! I must mention that we have stayed in similar basic accomodation in South Africa and thoroughly enjoyed ourselves because it was spacious clean and friendly so we are used to a no star facility!

"BEWARE, Reserve at your own risk!"

We made our reservation 2 months in advance. Part-way through our trip, I called them to confirm we would be arriving the same night. Oh... uh... uh... we CANCELLED your reservation! REALLY??!! Overbooked! Are you kidding me??!! We have a family of four, en route, in the middle of NOWHERE!

Apparently they had sent an email just DAYS before. We did not have internet access where we were staying just before the ranch, so we did not receive the notice. They would not make ANY accommodation for us. Just left us out to dry, with two young kids, in the middle of the desert. They would not call another establishment for us, much less pay for us to stay somewhere else. They would do NOTHING.

Perhaps they have a nice ranch. Perhaps they have singing cowboys. But is it really worth the RISK to have your family stranded in the middle of the desert with no place to stay? Do you want to take that kind of chance? Does this only happen to other people? Or might it be YOUR FAMILY next time they cancel someone due to "overbooking?" Better check your email every day, right up to the day of arrival!

"Do not stay here!"

"All around bad experience"

Reviewed January 5, 2013

Arrived here with my family of five to be given a room with two single beds and a queen.

Was asked to tough it out one night and problem would be fixed in the morning. Paid flat rate of 40 dollars for a bad dinner.

Next day at 5:00 p.m. Was given a large cabin. 2 singles and a queen again. Now they tell me that's the biggest they have. A pure lie or the web site advertises falsely. Booked in October what a scam.

I left and called heliusa who does booking for them. Was told manager (Jackson) would call me back within the hour That was yesterday. Don't go here

"Very bad experience!"

Reviewed October 29, 2012

We were really excited to visit this ranch! We wanted to celebrate our 15th anniversary there with horses, rides, romance and good food.

Well, we had NOTHING of that! The greeting at the gate was already more than cold: „Show me your reservation papers, maybe you are anyway wrong here!“ Thanks a lot. After proving that we were at the right place with a proper reservation, the „lovely“ lady at the entrance sent us to the reception-house. There, another very cold greeting. It was 3pm, our room was not ready and they were in complete chaos.

Finally, a big disappointment when we entered our pine-cabin. Lots of flies, no aircondition (it was there, as booked, but did not work, nobody cared about it from the staff). The double bed was more than small, but so what, we wanted an adventure and we got it (for more than 220 Euros per night!!!!)

We are experienced horseback-riders and wanted to go for the sunset-ride. Big disappointment. For more than 80 Dollars per Person (for 45 minutes) we expected a bit more than just being screamed at by the staff.

The whole atmosphere was more than hostile between the staff (and also towards the guests). Screaming all over, really nothing much to enjoy!

We were still hoping for a nice dinner, but that was a disappointment, too. Steaks (we generally LOVE it) were more than chewy, side-dishes were just awful. Thank god we were not the only ones, other guests sitting at our table were not amused either.

We were soon looking for the proprietor of the ranch, Susan Thomason. She first seemed to be a nice person, very understandable, excused herself for her rude staff and said that she does not want us to leave the ranch with a bad feeling. She promised us a refund for the second night (220 Euros) if we wanted to leave.

Well, nothing happened. After contacting Susan Thomason by e-mail several times after our return to Switzerland, we got 3(!) times the promise, that the refund would be transferred to our credit card within the next days. Now it is more than a year ago, last few e-mails were not answered anymore by Susan and we are still waiting for our money. What a rip-off!

This is not what I expect from a place that costs 220 Euros (almost 300 Dollars) for one night in a lousy cabin with a lousy dinner and an even worse breakfast!

Just don't go there, it's definitely not worth it!

"Camp Rip Off!"

Reviewed October 18, 2012 via mobile

I purchased a 2 night stay in a teepee... Thought it would be a fun thing to do with my husband and young daughter over a weekend (we live in Las Vegas, about 2 1/2 hours away). First thing that happened was we had to change our Friday/Saturday stay to Saturday only. This seemed to be hugely difficult as the girl on the phone could not find the reservation. And this is not a big place. Should have been my first clue. So we show up and are shown to our teepee (which still had the dirty/muddy tarp protecting the "bed" from the rains the night before). We are then told that "dinner" is $40/person and is, in essence "camp" style food which really should not cost more than $14.95 (and I am being generous). We are still "hanging in there" and go to the "lodge" for lunch. We had a BLT, pork sandwich and a kids corndog. All served with potato chips. And 2 Corona beers (bottles). The tab was nearly $50! And the service was terrible. An older woman (manager?) came out after the lunch "crowd" left and was banging chairs around, loudly cleaning off tables, and generally made us feel uncomfortable. So we got back in our car and headed home. Two thumbs DOWN... Highly do not recommend!! Save your money!

"BE VERY CAREFUL!"

Reviewed October 2, 2012

This place is not what is represented on either their brochure or their website!! When calling to book I questioned the $149 per night price for a Tipi and was told it was luxurious accommodation - hence the price...The Tipis are in fact the polar opposite of luxurious and how they can charge this kind of money is frankly shocking!! I was then told that there were no smaller Tipis available and would have to pay $169 for a larger one...on arrival at the Ranch I was informed that there is only 1 Tipi size and only 1 price!! The Tipi itself was filthy and stank of mildew and dirt...even if you are going for the "rustic" feel their is no excuse for just plain old lack of cleanliness!! When showed our Tipi the bed had a dirty old tarpaulin over it - not attractive - in case it rained...what happens when it rains at night?!

Judging from other reviews I'm glad we did not stay for the ludicrously priced $40 dinner which was never mentioned when booking...the alleged "Restaurant and Bar" is neither and I'm glad that we did not have to endure the experience of trying them.

After spending an hour and a half on the phone getting passed from pillar to post and they made 1 excuse after another for their blatant misselling - 30 minutes of this experience was enhanced by them leaving me on hold! - they have agreed to refund me in full...I am however still waiting for this to happen. If you could facilitate this Mr. Jackson, it would be much appreciated!

PEOPLE WHO SELL HELICOPTER TRIPS SHOULD NOT TRY AND SELL ACCOMMODATION! CHANGE YOUR BROCHURES TO ACCURATELY DEPICT WHAT YOU ARE SELLING AND NEVER MENTION THE WORD LUXURY IN CONNECTION TO THIS AWFUL PLACE!

The only silver lining was the fantastic receptionist Tammy who was incredibly helpful, sympathetic and friendly.

"Stole money from my account"

Reviewed September 28, 2012

BE VERY CAREFUL SYAYING AT THIS RANCH, THEY STOLE MONEY FROM MY ACCOUNT, I stayed on the ranch on the September 7th. I payed for everything upfront costing $665, then was charged another $131 dollors for food and drink which was completely over priced for a meal for two.

After I left the ranch another $325 dollors and the following day another $20 was stolen from my account by the Grand Canyon Ranch. I have made at least 10 calls and sent numerous emails, but have got no reply or explanation from them as to why I was charged this amount, the phone has been hung up on me on numerous occasions. Basically they stole this money and are now ignoring me.

The sad thing is I would have been writing a good review for this place, but the fact is I would advise anyone not to let this Ranch get any Credit Card details as they cannot be trusted. I can verify everything stated in this review.

The whole experience has left a bad taste in my mouth.

"Website TOTALLY misrepresents property and experience"

Reviewed August 20, 2012

If they put the time, money and attention into the resort (how can they even use the R word?) that they put into the website, it might actually be a nice place. Upon arriving, the path to the front gate had piles of cow pies. Other piles were in the court yard. Really? They don't have someone to constantly clean up after the animals. There is another post saying what we're saying and the ranch says their website does not overstate the actual experience. I have 33 years of marketing experience that says otherwise.

Tepee was furnished so sparsely you wonder why they went that far. Our tepee door flapped/banged all night in the wind. No sleep. The bathroom in the courtyard of tepees was slightly better than an outhouse. Dinner was really expensive and I was asked to pay for it upfront - breakfast, too. Dinner was better than breakfast with cold food and luke warm coffee.

My 12 year old son, did not enjoy the ranch either. The only part of our entire stay we liked was the campfire and entertainment. My son enjoyed the smores, but his favorite part of the entire stay was the dog Beanie. He played with her for an hour at night and in the morning for a little bit. He was so sad to leave this dog who had no fresh water and drank from the mossy area. He also noticed she smelled like cow dung and had not had a haircut or bath in a year or two.

Room Tip: Never even go here - don't even check it out.

We're sorry you did not enjoy your stay with us. Please note however that our website accurately states that we are a working cattle ranch. In fact, there are over 250 head of cattle that freely roam the ranch property which means that you most likely will see some "cow pies" (although our cowboys do their best to keep areas surrounding the ranch headquarters clean). The tipi (tepee) accommodations are furnished exactly as stated and pictured on our website with a double bed, nightstand and lantern/fashlight. Similar to camping, there is no electricity, indoor plumbing or air conditioning. As a summer promotion, they were also recently offered at a discounted rate of fifty percent off for a two night stay. Our website also accurately promotes pine cabin accommodations, horseback riding, wagon rides, rodeo demonstrations, wild buffalo safaris and helicopter tours of the Grand Canyon. All of these should have been made available to you and your son. In reference to the dog, Beanie, he is a cattle dog who is cared for by one of our cowboys. Although he may not have had a "haircut" in awhile, we can assure you that he has access to fresh water and food on a daily basis.

I'm afraid I could have written that last review. We stayed there for 2 nights sat week. Never again. We were not made to feel welcome, never knew who were staff or guests and never shown around (which wouldn't have taken long). We too had booked the tipis and my daughter and I also upgraded one night to a cabin. The cabins are ok - electricity, bathroom, 3 beds, air con, sockets and even a mirror. The tipi has a bed, a chair and a light. There appeared 1 bathroom (unfinished) with shower, loo and sink in to serve 6 x 2 person tipis. No mirror. Food unimaginative, over cooked and cold. Breakfast just plonked in front of you and cold coffee. Best part of day was evening after dinner with camp fire and Cowboy Dave tried hard to entertain. There is nothing to do in the day but we had luckily per booked an "over the edge with cruise" helicopter flight (papillon flights) from grand canyon west terminal which was FAB. We then went up to South Cove and swam in Mead Lake. Anything to delay return to campsite!

Room Tip: Choose a cabin if you must stay there.

They are very similar to camping tents only with the comfort of a double bed and are conveniently close to the restaurant, restroom and shower facilities. Please note that we are a working cattle ranch so you will notice flies especially during the summer months. There are also several activities offered at Grand Canyon Ranch including horseback rides, wagon rides, wild buffalo safaris, rodeo demonstrations and helicopter tours of the Grand Canyon.

"This report should come with a Health and Wealth Warning....."

As part of our family trip (76yr old mother and two teenage daughters in tow) we decided to dip out of the bright lights of Vegas for a couple of nights and see the Grand Canyon via helicopter and experience the wild west lifestyle. What a mistake, a very expensive over rated resort. 107 degrees of heat and booked in to sleep in teepees! with no way of keeping cool! except buying very expensive bottles of water. Going back to basics has a new meaning to us all. This made Alcatraz look plush! This is not the place for the elderly, less able, teenagers, babies or anyone that wants activity as there is nothing here to do apart from the expensive hour long horse rides, wagon rides or helicopter experiences. An abundant of flies and insects left us all with our skin crawling. Getting in and out of the teepee was challenging and nights spent on a very small and uncomfortable bed/hammock, listening to dogs barking, wolves howling, cattle mooing and things hissing, left us all on edge and drained. Thanks to the torch, we were able to find our way to the toilet in the middle of the night. Food was very basic and mediocre. Drinks very expensive with $7 for a small bottle of local beer. We did pay extra to get one night in a cabin, which did have air con albeit very noisy so turned it off at night time. But very uncomfortable bed and flies, all night long! It was sheer relief when we got back to our Vegas hotel.

Thank you for sharing your review on TripAdvisor. We apologize for any inconvenience you had during your stay at Grand Canyon Ranch. We are in fact a working cattle ranch so you will find a presence of flies, cows, horses, buffalo and other animals. Please note that the Grand Canyon and surrounding areas have generally high temperatures during the summer months. You may find the Fall, Winter or Spring better seasons to visit. The tipi accommodations are equipped with double beds, nightstands and lanterns/flashlights but do not have air conditioning, private bathrooms or electricity. For those seeking more comfortable accommodations, we recommend booking one of our pine cabins.

“NOT WORTH THE TRAVEL & MONEY”

Reviewed July 26, 2012

My friend and I booked an overnight stay in a large Tipi and the moonlight buffalo safari on horseback. We are both from the United Kingdom. We paid online upfront via VISA. The website made it sound so great, that we were really excited to experience the trip.

It took us over 4 hours to reach the ranch and it is in the middle of nowhere. There is nothing close enough to walk to and the closest life is the Grand Canyon West Skywalk, but that is another 15-20 mins drive. The road down to the ranch is not completed, so you have to drive over an extremely bumpy road with lots of loose stones. Not recommended in a nice new car!

I have to be completely honest and tell you here and now, that this place is NOT what is represented on their website - not even close! It is NOT worth the money that they demand.

We were greeted by complete indifference when we arrived and told to make our way up to the top area with the restaurant, where "someone would deal with us". The "restaurant" area was filthy and swarming with flies and other bugs. The toilets were just awful and stank and were very close to the tables where people ate. It was 105 degrees F when we arrived and we weren't even offered a drink of water.

When we were finally approached by someone, they told us that the moonlight buffalo trip was cancelled due to flash flooding. This is fair enough, as they cannot control the weather. We advised them that this was one of the main reasons that we wanted to stay here, but that we understood that the weather was not their fault. We asked for a refund on the trip and they agreed that they would refund the trip asap. We are now back home and it is 12 days later. I have been chasing and chasing for a refund, but I have not even received a courtesy response from them and no refund!

Just for additional information, when we arrived in Las Vegas, we arranged a tour to the Grand Canyon with the Skywalk trip and we were told by the tour operator that they used to use the ranch a lot for "add-on" trips, but they don't anymore due to bad reports and very bad service.

I'm sorry guys, but as nice as it looks on their website, don't be fooled and save your money for a trip that deserves it!

Thank you for sharing your review. We're sorry you did not enjoy your stay with us. We do believe our website accurately describes Grand Canyon Ranch. We are a working cattle ranch with also horses and wild buffalo. With animals and summer heat, also unfortunately comes flies. In reference to the cost of beverages, our retail prices are comparable to many of the restaurants and casinos in Las Vegas, however delivery to our location comes at a much higher cost to us.

"Will you be joining us for dinner? NO!"

Reviewed July 24, 2012

During my stay at the grand canyon hell ranch... sorry i mean ranch, i discovered fears that i did not have before i went to this ranch. for instance OCD.

When we got to the main reception we were sent to the restaurant to sign in. I looked around the restaurant and I immediately wanted to leave. The tables were sticky the food was luke-warm and very expensive. We were told that if we weren't having the $40 dinner we would have to dine by 5 pm.

Our cabin was disgusting, it had three beds, each of them had foul blankets and sheets that felt like they had never been washed. The bathroom was alright, still dirty though.

On the first night we decided to go to the restaurant for dinner at 5 o'clock. I had a corn dog with crisps (i thought i was getting chips!). My parents both had luke-warm ribs that were over priced! Then cowboy dave came and sang songs to everyone. We took our chance and headed back to our cabin before cowboy dave serenaded my dad.

On the second night cowboy dave came to our cabin and asked my dad "will you be joining us for dinner tonight?". we declined the kind offer, we would much rather have sandwiches in our cabin. Which were still better than the food we'd had the previous night.

Overall the staff were kind, but i felt that the management needed to take a look at the standard of accomidation.

All in all the Grand Canyon ranch was shocking! i hated it.

Room Tip: don't go here until they've cleaned it up!

"BE WARNED!!!!!!!!!!!"

Reviewed July 1, 2012

We drove over 7 1/2 hours and over 350 miles to come here. I made my reservation on May 20 for the night of June 29. When we arrived, we were told we were the first to check in, yet they were overbooked and they wouldn't give us a room!!!!!!!!!! They didn't even act like it bothered them. It was over 107 degrees and they couldn't even offer us a bottle of water!!! Also, this place is by no means what it looks like on the website. If you do insist on going, please provide your own drinks and snacks as this is out in the middle of nowhere, and you will pay dearly for their restaurant.

"Held Captive"

Reviewed June 28, 2012

Don't do it! Gorgeous drive to the ranch, but immediately disappointed on arrival. Very misrepresented via internet ad. The concept of the ranch is for you to be totally dependent on them due to the remote location. You are not even provided with an ice bucket or access to an ice machine despite the 100+degree heat. Meals are small and overpriced- $20 for a "bison" burger for lunch! Our cabin was dirty and the air conditioner did not work. You are forced to stay in your cabin much of the time due to the heat and lack of activities, no swimming pool. No tv in cabin. The only option for activity, other than horseback riding, is to travel farther still to the skywalk which is run much the same way, expensive with restrictions and fees for everything. Dirt and bugs are a realistic expectation as it is a ranch, but your cabin should be a different matter. Most staff try to be accomodating within their boundaries, ranch hands work long days for little pay and obviously are appreciative of tips they deserve for putting up with the whole mess. I thought it would be a break away from the typical resort experience, but you should be able to expect some degree of comfort when paying this much. Never again.

"Poor experience, not worth the money"

Reviewed April 13, 2012

I took my family here beginning April, the place is hard to find but that really wasn't a problem, what was, was the awful accommodation. The cabins are so small, the pictures DO NOT show the real sizes, the bedding is awful, really old, thread bare blankets that look and smell unclear. The beds were so uncomfortable which ruined the whole experience, it was such a shame, the front reception and manager were no help at all. I have read some really good reviews on here and have to question if we are either staying at the same place or that the staff write these reviews. This really has to be the worst place myself and family have ever stayed and if this place came gift wrapped and free we would not return.

"Place from hell, and customer service to match"

Reviewed April 5, 2012

Let me explain my heading, firstly this place is so hard to find, we called the number we had and got through to the booking agents who advised they were on the other side of vegas and could not direct us there, they gave us the ranch number and after several attempts some one answered the phone. They advised that we would be too late for food and would leave the key in the cabin door. The cabin is minute!!! there were 5 of us and we were literally tripping over each other. I checked the beds upstairs and this was where the nightmare really began. The beds were shocking, we were staying in the smith cabin and the beds were so worn that you could literally feel every spring by just lightly running your hand across, the bedding was discusting, the blankets old with wires running through them. I immediately went to find a member of staff and found the bar manager who was on her way out (there were no other staff on hand) I explained the issue and that we could not sleep on those beds, she advised there was nothing she could do as was on her way out but to see the manager Tex in the morning and he would refund us our extra night that we booked and we would be free to go. My 14 year old daughter cried that night as it was so uncomfortable and my son in law put his back out (seriously,) we went and saw Tex who was no help at all and not at all interested, there would be no refund to release us from this extra night even though the cabin was unsleepable. I have camped out before and stayed in many places but never one as uncomfortable and dirty as this. Please don't make the same mistakes as us, avoid at all costs this is not a fun place to stay, and if you have any problems the management are NOT interested in helping you

We pre-booked & pre-paid for 4 sunset horseback rides for Dec 28th 2011. We confirmed 4 times - once with the ranch itself, since we had asked for 2 rides to go on my credit card and 2 on my son's yet they called back to ask for the 2nd payment! Once confirmed all was paid, all on my credit card as it turns out, we confirmed our ride details again. We were told the food was amazing so come early for lunch and be there by 3:30 pm to saddle up for the ride as the sun sets early. There were 4 riders going and my family who lives at Lake Mead was going to join us for lunch then head back home while we did our ride. We arrived at 1:30 for lunch. We checked in with the main desk to let them know we were there and they told us they had no record of our booking and no record of our payment and they were not doing a sunset ride that day!

Thankfully I had my booking number so they called the booking service Helitours to confirm it. Still, no sunset ride was available (which included a singing cowboy escort, a sunset ride for photo opportunities and a glass of champagne). We were told we could have an hour ride. No sunset, no champagne, no singing, no apology! The whole atmosphere was one of us being an inconvenience to them as if it was our fault! I told them we were hungry could we have lunch first? NO - take this ride right now or leave it. So we took it. In the meantime our family ate at the restaurant & said it was so bad they couldn't eat the food. We had our one hour ride and the 'buffalo herd' was actually about 7 buffalo lazing around behind a fence! The guide was okay, but he complained about constant screw ups with the booking service. When we returned our family said, "Do NOT eat here!" So now it was mid afternoon & we were starving. Nobody said, "Oh I'm so sorry for the mix up - have a round of drinks on us." "So when we got back to the house I called with a complaint and asked for a refund since we did not get what we had paid for and were treated very badly. In addition, the whole place looked run down and very basic and people working there had a really negative attitude - not the 'warmth and country care' that we were sold in the brochure. So all in all a very bad travel experience. It's now the 2nd week of January and I'm STILL fighting for my refunds. I'm told I will see them next week. If not, I will tell my C.C. company the charges are not authorized by me. Save your money and the aggravation and do NOT use this company!

I'm the kind of guy that usually has a high tolerance for so-so food and will eat everything on my plate anyway. Took a couple of bites and left the rest on the plate. When we told the cashier (the waitress never stopped by to see how we were doing) she just shrugged us off. Lousy experience that spoiled what was otherwise a great day. DO NOT STOP HERE!

"What a disappointment! What a rip-off!"

Reviewed November 27, 2011

We spent a night at this ranch recently and we were both bitterly disappointed by the whole experience. Our cabin (thankfully we had booked a cabin) was freezing cold, smelly and far from clean and the facilities left much to be desired. We found the bed uncomfortable and unwholesome. Like others we were huddled together all night to try and keep warm. OK, we expected a rustic experience but this was beyond everything we anticipated and we felt it was a complete rip-off. Even worse, the staff kept dropping far from subtle hints about gratuities and where the boxes were for our donations. The subject of gratuities was raised directly or indirectly several times. Eventually we sat around a fire in the dark and freezing cold surrounded by snow capped mountains and were told by the singer that someone had given a generous tip for which he was thanking them publicly - 'they know who I mean!' The implication was that others should do something similar. We did not succumb and neither did the other people we spoke to about it. When we rang, as instructed, to reconfirm our helicopter flights we were pressured into purchasing a sunset ride in the wagon at 49USD each. I doubt the trip in the wagon was further than half a mile and the view was little better than at the 'ranch' so do not bother with that if you find yourself there at sunset. The food was cold and unappetising both at dinner and breakfast and the early return flight with 05.30 wake up call would have been a merciful release but never materialised until 07.30. We tried to purchase postcards from the 'shop' (joke) but there were only curled up cards of Indians and there was not one of the magnificent Grand Canyon we had come so far to see. We did, however, purchase a drink and cookie which were both past their 'sell by' dates - the cookie by two months! The best part was the helicopter flight to and fro and both pilots were absolutely excellent and spent time explaining what we were seeing. The views were sensational and every bit as fantastic as we had hoped. It was just a shame that we were lured into the disorganised 'ranch' experience run by disinterested staff who did not appear to know what was required. This was to be the highlight of our holiday (indeed one of the highlights of our lives - my husband is 76). We travelled over from the East Coast especially to do this trip and it was a bitter disappointment. Save your money and steer clear of this place overnight. (I seem to have clicked the couples trip in error!)

Room Tip: Steer clear of this place completely. It is a rip-off. There are no good rooms that we saw.

"Tourist Trap beware!"

Reviewed October 20, 2011

dont be fooled by the website which makes the ranch look like a nice relaxation getway to the outback but inreality it is far from it. We booked 2 nights in the tipi which not an issue it was probably well over priced but we were in it for the experience. The place had nothing to do only if you had the 15 min helicopter and 30 min horse ride booked but then you were left with nothing to do. The website regarded this place as a resort but its more like a helicopter stopover. There is no information about the canyon or the area in general. The Drinks were over priced $8 beer and $5 water!! The only place to hang out was the cabin or tipi. We booked 2 days so you could imagine how bored we were. There were no surrounding towns that we could do anything or see. We couldnt even hang out in our tipi because it was to hot. We felt uncomfortable and felt and were made feel that we shouldnt of booked there for more then a night staff made us feel awkward. We spent well over $1000 for the 2 days with only 2 activities. We regret wasting our time at this place as we could of moved on but because everything is pre paid we had no choice. Our advise to anyone that wants to go there is dont stay just do the activities and move on or make it as day trip from vegas because you will get bored it is not a welcoming place. Staff were constantly fighting with each other which was also awkward! I honestly wish We had just skipped grand canyon! I dont have thing positive to say about this place rather then The count down was to leave and what a relief it was when we did... You dont spend thousands of dollars to go to another a country to sit there and be bored !!

“TERRIBLE”

Reviewed October 8, 2011

Review is 12 months old as we have just discovered how helpful tripadvisor is.

We chose the Grand Canyon Ranch, due to its location for us last year. We hired a car and were on our way from Vegas to Winslow AZ. The Ranch was on the way so seemed like a good stop over, and we were really looking forward to spending a night in an "authentic indian tipi."

As other people have said, when you get there there is nothing to do at all. We walked round the place and had a good look at everything within half an hour. They were very pushy to try and get us to go horse riding (for an extra charge) which we didn't want to do.

The tipi was a joke. Not authentic at all. All it was was a modern tipi tent on a wooden base, inside was a wooden bed on legs and a chair, not what we would have classed as authentic. The bedding was stained, dirty, and covered in hairs.

We spent the night huddled together in bed wearing jeans, trainers, sweatshirt and fleeces and had very little sleep.

“Take the helicopter trip.....skip the ranch!”

Reviewed September 4, 2011

As per some of the other reviews we also took a HeliUSA tour of the canyon and decided to stop in at the ranch for a few hours. We were also left stranded there for several more hours than promised. While at the ranch we were served an ordinary breakfast then went for the horse ride (At an additional cost) which only lasted a short time. When we and the other couple that travelled with us dared to ask where the helicopter was that was due to arrive we were given no information and told "It will be here when it arrives". The staff were rude and unhelpful and to top it off we were charged $5.00 per bottle of water while waiting for the delayed helicopter service. I'm only glad we didn't stay overnight. BEWARE - Don't waste your money.....do the helicopter trip but skip the stop at the ranch.

"Poor quality service and value for money"

Reviewed July 30, 2011

We booked this as part of a trip from Las Vegas, principally to take a helicopter flight through the Grand Canyon and decided that an overnight stay in a tipi sounded like fun. At the helicopter airport we were offered a wagon ride or horse ride and although we thought it was expensive ($35 for the wagon and $49 for the horse ride), we thought it a good idea to fill the time whilst there. The helicopter ride was great, just the 4 of us in a 6 seater and a nice pilot. On checking in at the ranch they discovered that we hadn't been told about the sunset rides which were longer - an hour instead of 30 mins - and more expensive of course - a further $107 on top of the $154 we had already paid for 3 wagon and 1 horse ride. The horse ride was just a walk and the wagon ride didn't go very far, maybe about half a mile in total, to the top of a hill where we watched the sun set and had a glass of fizz with the horse riders who met us there. This was very poor value for money I feel and we could have walked there for nothing.

The tipi itself was very basic, just a double bed and a single camp bed with a rather threadbare hand towel and a bar of soap. There were no shower facilities for those in the tipis, only 2 toilets and 1 of them the light didn't work and our torch died quickly. I am 5'10" and my husband is 6'2" - he is used to his feet hanging off the end of the (very short and bouncy) bed but I am not! Dinner was OK and the songs around the campfire passable but not very comfortable if you don't have a rock seat to sit on. During the afternoon there was nothing to do but sit in the diningroom as the tipis are obviously not airconditioned and there is no lounge area to speak of - very boring. Breakfast the next morning was barely edible. I think what we objected to most of all was the lack of customer care - I felt like just another tourist they were trying to screw money out of and there was no attempt to make sure we were comfortable or had a good time. I have no doubt that the wagon/horse ride selling was no "error" on the part of the airport staff but a 2 stage selling process - we would never have signed up at the airport for £261 cost in total just for a ride. (Along with the safety video before the flight there was also a hard sell for a souvenir video.) To add insult to injury, our bar tab was $57 - for 6 beers and 4 soft drinks - no prices were displayed and I feel this was another example of screw the tourist for all they've got. We asked about bus tours up to the sky walk but they don't do them - probably because the competition is better! I don't feel this was a genuine ranch experience either - having spent 3 wonderful nights at Stagecoach Trails Guest Ranch there was just no comparison. To sum up - go for the helicopter flight but avoid the overnight stay at the ranch like the plague - and bring your own drinks!

Room Tip: Cabins were apparently en suite and airconditioned - go for these if you really want to stay over as...

"Overpriced and unhelpful"

Reviewed July 20, 2011

As a group of eight we decided to head to the skywalk on the west rim after leaving our Vegas base. After a couple of hours driving we stumbled upon the ranch and decided to stop off for breakfast. This proved to be a bad decision. We ordered eight breakfasts which was a set menu with no choice and grossly overpriced at $15. My wife asked for a couple of pieces of toast as she was not keen on what was presented in front of her, the toast never arrived. While we were sitting eating a cowboy came over and started singing. Once he had finished singing he went on to tell us what a rip off the skywalk was and we would see more by having one of their helicopter rides. After a chat amongst ourselves we decided to go for helicopter option. While we were booking the flight the receptionist was ignorant and more interested in doing other things. We booked the flights at 10am and they told us the earliest they could do was 2.30pm. We decided to wait and have a look around, that took approx 15 mins as there is very very little to do. If we wanted a can of drink then it was $3 and an alcoholic drink was $8. At 2pm we went in for our safety debrief only to be told that there was a 2 hour delay due to a technical hitch with the helicopter, again the receptionist did not seem to be bothered. They would not even give us a drink to make up for the delay. We decided to get a refund and leave the place rather than waste any more time or money. My advice would be to skip the west rim completely and stay in Williams which is near the south rim, then drive through the Grand Canyon National Park. The views are magnificent and a quarter of the price.

Room Tip: We decided to head for Williams on route 66, there is plenty of reasonably priced hotels

“Helicopter good. Grand Canyon West Ranch bad.”

Reviewed February 25, 2008

First, let me say the Grand Canyon is awesome and is a must for everyone. Seeing it by helicopter was truly amazing and well worth every penny. Honestly, I would recommend it to all.

HeliUSA's pilots were friendly and professional. It was my first time in a helicopter and I was terrified but their attitude and narrative as we were flying put me at ease (eventually :0)

Grand Canyon West Ranch however is a massive rip off. It's about as authentic a ranch experience as riding on the carousel at the fairground.

From our arrival we were treated like cattle (oh the irony) and told by the big phony cowboy that we had to hurry along as the next lot of 'guests' were due in an hour.

We were ushered to the dining room where food was instantly served on paper plates. The food was beans, baked potato, and fried chicken leg with cornbread...everybody looked shocked...it was not good. Luckily for us, we were told we had to eat up within 10 minutes to go on the horse ride, so we didn't have to pretend to eat it.

The horse ride was ok. I can understand from insurance, taking people of different levels, etc. that you not going to ride too far or go more than a gentle pace. But we just had a feeling that the rancheros were not happy to be taking us and were in a rush to get back.

After that (20 minutes?) we were then told we were going to see a "re-enactment" of a saloon shoot out. It was so cringe-worthy but at least it only lasted 4 minutes. We then had 10 minutes free time before we were herded back to the helicopter.

The constant hawking for tips was insulting considering the price we had paid and the way we were treated.

I would have liked to know more about the ranch - it's supposed to be a working ranch, breeding cattle for rodeos, which sounds a lot more exciting than having a couple of overweight men in cowboy costumes fire blanks at each other before asking for tips.

FYI, we didn't stay over night but we did get a look at their teepees - they were plastic and the smell and heat in side was overwhelming. The cabins were glorified garden sheds.

So definitely visit the Grand Canyon, if you can afford it you must go by helicopter but give Grand Canyon West a miss. There are plenty of other ranches to visit in the area, which is what we intend to do when we go back.

"Get all the facts before you go"

Reviewed August 6, 2006

This ranch/resort promotes itself as being on the rim of the Grand Canyon. It is in fact 15 miles away by an unimproved dirt road. Accomodations are cabin or tipi and very basic, but expensive. Meals are supposed to be authentic cowboy fare, but they were mediocre at best. Dinner was a tough steak, frozen ear of corn, potatoes, roll and a salad with iceberg lettuce and a tomato slice. Dessert was a gooey underdone chocolate mess that was unedible. We paid $374.00 for one night, and unless you are willing to pay an additional $119.00 pp to take a helicopter ride, you probably won't see the Grand Canyon from here. There was very little authentic about this weekend except we feel we were duped by misleading advertising. Aug 2006

"Very Disappointed in Outcome!!"

Reviewed September 1, 2013

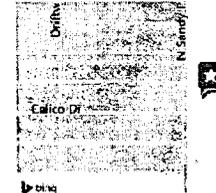

We were to stay at the ranch June 22 to the 24, 2013, but had to cancel our stay because my grandson had a reaction to the horses upon arrival to the ranch. It was pretty bad. It would have been impossible for us to stay. We went up to the office with my grandson. They understood totally why we shouldn't stay and told us they saw no reason we would not be reimbursed for the money we paid. After we got home, I sent an email to the resort booking desk and after a long time, they sent an email stating they would not return our money. This action we took was due to extenuating circumstances, not a fly by night decision. We were very disappointed with this outcome. We sent another email explaining our reasoning again and have NEVER heard back. As for the place, I was disappointed in the looks of the grounds and the cabin we were going to stay in. Very old.

"Want to try a school camp experience?"

Reviewed July 2, 2013

You travel miles to get here. It is stinking hot and dessert. The old original farm buildings are being used to accommodate tourists. Some might say cute, I reckon darn uncomfortable and very weird. You have to eat what you are given according to the schedule. It is a working station and the farm hands wear spurs and six shooters! Some English folk thought it was a great outback experience. I was glad to escape!

"Disorganized trip"

Reviewed January 19, 2013

Visited Las Vegas Oct 2012. Wanted to see the Grand Canyon. My friend & I book a helicopter flight/ranch visit from one of the stores along the strip, 1st bad decision! The girl we booked with was a liar! We were to get transportation, continental breakfast, helicopter tour of Grand Canyon, lunch, buggy ride at a working ranch. I questioned her on the length of the trip, she made calls and promised we would be back by 3 pm.

Small van picked us up at the LVH hotel at 7:30 am. We spent an hour picking up our fellow travellers before we left Vegas, spent a total of 4+hrs driving to the ranch. We did not receive breakfast. We stopped once for about 20 min for a washroom break and to fill out the waivers for the flight. We got to the ranch around noon.

On arriving at the ranch, we entered the reception/dining room building. We all lined up at the reception desk, for about 20 minutes. The staff person then reviewed the papers, called out a name. I was standing at the front of the line and had to inform her that she should be doing this by the line.....she complied. So this took my friend & I another 5-10 minutes. We then went outside and walked around the complex taking photos of the teepees, buildings and scenery. We waited and waited and waited. Another tour group came in and were taken to the helicopters before us. Our whole van of people (about 12-14) had now been at the ranch about 90 minutes. We were taken up to the helicopters in small groups and each flight could take 4-5 people. THIS WAS WHY I WAS HERE AND I WAS NOT DISAPPOINTED. The flight was fantastic, the pilot's commentary was interesting and very informative. When we landed we had some champagne, waiting for the rest of our group to finish and then we were driven back down to the dining room.

Lunch was around 2:30-3:00. Food was tasty but not plentiful. The servers were friendly, courteous.

We finished up and went back outside, and waited for a long time again. It then came to our attention that 3 members of our tour group had been completely missed, so we ended up waiting for them to have there flight & lunch. Some of our group went horseback riding and some did a wagon ride. And we waited again. We went to the store, not much there to look at or to buy.

On our trip back to Vegas, our driver forgot to stop at the Hoover Dam, so we had to turn around. Really glad we did not miss it!

Needless to say, what I was told was a 6-7 hour trip was over 12 hours. It probably would have been even longer but we got off at the first hotel so we could spend the rest of our evening on the strip.

I am very glad I got to see the Grand Canyon, Hoover Dam and the scenery but I have never been on such a poorly organized trip before. It left a very sour taste in my mouth. Even now, over 3 months later I get angry at the time mismanagement.

If you want to see the Grand Canyon look elsewhere, I would not recommend this business

"Wanted to love it - but not what was promised"

Reviewed November 27, 2012

We stayed here for 4 days and booked it initially because of its proximity to the West Rim and it's rustic Ranch experience. We stayed in one of the pine cabins, which was rustic and cosy and in that respect exactly what we were expecting. We hadn't quite appreciated that luxury cabins would actually be quite shabby (not dirty though) - with cracked and loose floor tiles, a shower that flooded the bathroom (the shower area was just a concrete plinth tiled on top with the drainage hole at the highest point) and actually drained (very slowly) only via a couple of holes drilled through the cabin floor as an emergency measure. The plug was too large to fit the plug hole of the basin - ironically the depth of water on the floor was more suitable for washing in than we could achieve with the basin! Our cabin promised a work desk and chair as well as daily maid service - we got neither. Not once during our stay was our room serviced.

The setting of the ranch is lovely - lying at the foot of Spirit Mountain and amidst the Joshua Tree forest which was particularly attractive at sunrise and sunset.

We hadn't appreciated that in such a remote setting we would have so much traffic noise - the pine cabins are situated right next to the main (only) road out to the West Rim so from approx 6 in the morning there was a near constant stream of traffic passing along the gravel road which somewhat spoils the atmosphere.

The only real option for food is at the ranch itself, which provides breakfast and dinners for guests and day visitors alike. One day I ate a cold breakfast of scrambled eggs, homestyle potatoes and crispy bacon ($10) - both agreeing that had it been warm, it would have been tasty. We also reserved dinner ($40 a head) that evening - this was perhaps the biggest disappointment of all. Having gone to the trouble of cooking a great roast dinner, it too was then served stone cold on stone cold plates - the other diners at our table ate no more than a couple of forks full before giving up (cold gravy and mashed potato is after all an acquired taste!). Staff simply cleared away full plates without bothering to enquire if anything was wrong (admittedly maybe the diners should have raised the point themselves). For the rest of our stay we voted with our feet and chose to eat elsewhere (the elsewhere being in Kingman, the closest proper town to the ranch - a 120 mile round trip).

The nightly cowboy entertainment - singing country songs around a campfire whilst toasting marshmallows - was fun and very atmospheric and perhaps the highlight of the ranch. It's just such a shame that with little effort the rest of the experience could have been equally good - we're just so disappointed that it didn't live up to expectation (or website promises).

Room Tip: The traditional (but more attractive) pine cabins are close to the road - the less traditional looki...

We drove out to the ranch from being in Vegas for the first part of our trip, the 4 of us (me, my girlfriend and parents). It was raining when we arrived in the late afternoon but we were still excited and impressed by the look of the camp. Then we got to the reception and that was the start of a 24 hour ordeal. The receptionist (who I am going to name Receptionist1), checked us in and asked if we required dinner that evening. We thought we had paid for it in the package but she said no we hadn't. So we said yes (obviously because where else could we go?!?!?) and she charged us 40USD each for dinner. At the time we thought this is pricey but kept an open mind, I understand they have to get supplies out to the remote location and hoped for a cut of one of their finest cattle. She also stated that our evening sunset ride to see the buffalo might not go ahead because the trails were unfit because of the weather (fair enough, they cannot control the weather). We then asked when will we know but she was very vague and dismissive, just saying 'we will see if the weather improves.' It wasn't up for discussion so we went to check out our 'luxury cabin'.

We were escorted there by the entertaining Cowboy Dave, who was a really nice man, and it was clean but it was not in any way luxury. We were in "Turner" cabin which is named after the ranch's current owner. There were pictures of him and his wife and young children on the walls, which I found a bit strange, but each to their own I suppose. When we showered the bath tub filled up to ankle height and stayed that way for a good half an hour after. Again, I doubt the luxurious-ness of the cabin here!

We kept ourselves entertained by having pictures around the camp for a couple of hours by playing the horseshoe game and reading various flyers. We asked Receptionist1 what was happening with the sunset ride and were once again met with the same dismissive attitude as before, doubled with her speaking to their booking company on the phone in an abrupt way in front of half a dozen guests. I know they cannot control the weather, but there was no contingency plans in place. All the guests were dejected and bored. Yet they were still getting guests in on the helicopters and making them stand around too! We were paying a lot of money just to sit there doing nothing and I found it very annoying at the time reading about how Nigel Turner acquired the property and his buffalo herd, which they described were once nearly extinct due to "mans greed." Very ironic, I thought.

Our sunset ride got cancelled but we were assured we would have one to make up in the morning by receptionist1. The 2nd night there we were scheduled to do a 'camp out' and a helicopter canyon trip when we got back from there. Because we were bored we were thinking ahead. So out of curiosity my mother asked her if there was somewhere we could get a shower after the camp out, like one of the rooms for an hour or so. She replied "no we don't have anywhere like that." She was the sort of person you did not feel comfortable around and she made you think you were an inconvenience to her- even though she is in a customer service role! I said to my family "I can't believe they expect you to ride out on horseback and stay the night in the bush, spend all that money and then not have anywhere you can shower after!!"

Dinner came and the quality was poor. It must have cost them 2USD in ingredients per meal. The corn was cold on one side, and the steak was obviously no finest cut! We couldn't believe we'd just paid 160USD collectively for it. Mum thought to check on her emails to see if we should have had it included in the already ridiculous amount we had paid. She looked for a wifi on her phone and picked one up but it had a code on it. She asked Receptionist1 if there was a code for the wifi and she said "there is not a wifi for the guests here!" We were not shocked she didn't come forth with any help.

Cowboy Dave came round to try lift spirits with his songs and then had a camp fire, which we bailed on as the rain came down again, typifying our day. We had just had 5 great nights in Vegas but we went to bed that night at 8.45pm, very upset.

The next morning a cat came to see us which was nice. The weather was better too. Apparently the owner was on site. My Dad spoke to another english couple who had been complaining about everything at the camp too, all the same feelings as us (ie we were being taken for a ride, no contingency plans, expensive, vague receptionist etc). In fact they said "that receptionist was only proactive about taking money from us." Determined to check up about if we paid for dinner, Mum was trying to get reception on her phone when another guest at the ranch said to her "Do you want the passcode?" and she gave it to her and it worked. We could not believe a guest knew the code and the receptionist refused to give it to us!

It did state on the email that dinner was included. Mum was fuming and went to reception to complain. She was then greeted by another lady on reception (Receptionist2). She was very helpful and arranged for us to have lunch 'on the house' (I use that term loosely). She was great but had clearly been left with other disgruntled customers from the previous day, and organised a wagon ride for us in the morning to make up for the sunset ride. When we said to the cowboy we were due a ride he asked for our token. We showed him our print off confirmation but he refused to move if we didn't have our token we didn't know where to get! He had an attitude but we later discovered on the ride his beef was not with us- all the cowboys seemed to have a grievance with the accommodation staff. It turned out Receptionist1 should have given us a token on our arrival but didn't. But the helpful Receptionist2 wrote us out a new one. We asked Receptionist2 about the showers and she pointed across the way to the tipi stayers shower and said we could use them as soon as we got back!!

We had our what should have been '45 minute sunset ride to see the buffalo', which was a 25 minute the wagon ride and surprise surprise did not see any buffalo. A great way to waste 200USD. We then escaped to the Sky Walk which was good because of the Grand Canyon and was also a massive relief to get away from the hostile ranch.

After that we returned to the ranch, had another hard jacket potato, cold corn and OK ribs to then hang around for a few hours before our camp out. We saw the owner driving round in his Hummer but he avoided contact with the clearly disgruntled customers. We felt it was poor customer relations by him that he did not acknowledge us as we are from about 45minutes drive away from where he is from in England. The camp out had a lot of making up to do we thought.

It did not disappoint. The moment we got saddled up and left the camp on horseback we had forgotten all the stress and annoyance and had an amazing time. The horses were all immaculate and a joy to ride. I will not detail too much about what happened to ruin it for anyone who goes on to do it, but we saw a lot of great wildlife (we actually saw the buffalo this time!), unforgettable views and heard some great stories from the cowboy, Boot. He took some great photos for us too. Boot was a great guy very chilled out and welcoming- the exact opposite of the ranch! We were so shocked to hear that Boot's girlfriend was Receptionist!!! We obviously did not say much to him but he agreed when we said about the busyness (capitalism) of the ranch and said "its a bit like the rat race down there." Sitting out watching the sunset then night coming in out on the iconic Arizona range was very special.

We got back and Receptionist2 had some fresh towels waiting for us and had brought our helicopter tour forward too so we could get on our way sooner! We finally bumped into the owner who revealed he was worried about trip advisor!! If I was him I would be worried about advertising something I didn't provide (luxury cabins, good food etc) and employing rude staff. If only the first 24 hours was as good as the 2nd.

Because of how bad the first 24 hours of the trip were I have to score this low. It would have been a 'terrible' had it not been for the camp out and the camp out would have been 'excellent' had it not been for the ranch. There are some big issues here that need addressing. Receptionist1 either needs major training on how to deal with people or a new job in another department. They need to lower the prices or upgrade the accommodation and food to match the prices. Also, a proper programme of events would be good for times when the weather comes in to play.

Room Tip: Just do a camp out, do not stay in the ranch

"Could be great but aint"

Reviewed April 26, 2012

This has so much to offer but fails on the basics. The setting is fabulous, the ranch is authentic, the staff and resident cowboy Casey are excellent and the horse riding a novel experience. However the bed linen is the worst I have ever seen, the smaller cabins $200 a night (not shown on the website) are pretty pokey. The food is barely passable and at $40 was the most expensive we encountered in the US, beer at $8 encourages abstinence. We felt sorry for the hard working staff who are clearly let down by a tight fist management who run it for money and don't expect guests to return.

Room Tip: Avoid the smaller rooms

"beds are terrible"

Reviewed April 23, 2012

Was meant to stay here for 2 nights, could only stand one, which was a shame as at first glance looked like would be a good experience. In a beautiful setting and close to Grand Canyon, had a real cowboy feel. Very hard to find. The accommodation is VERY small, the beds are TERRIBLE, the blankets are old electric blankets with wire running through them, had a dusky unclean smell and beds were rock hard. Would only recommend this for Brownies or Cub scouts.

"Expensive and cheesy"

Reviewed October 18, 2011

We drove out from vegas with 2 kids (11+8) who were looking forward to a break from hotel rooms. That they got and if you asked them they would probably tell you it was a favourite of theirs but a big park with fogs to play with would have the same effect. This place targets non-Americans and were proud to have had "59 different countries here over the years", probably because the locals wouldn't put up with it. Stayed in a cabin that was perfectly nice and fine but was awoken pre sunrise to be ready because our helicopter was coming (the time of our flight could not be confirmed the night before). Would have been happy just to fly over it on the way to the canyon which is why you are there anyway

Room Tip: Nights are cold so think about the log cabin over the tipi

"This place is a tourist trap"

Reviewed September 5, 2011

From their website you would think this place is awesome, but what we experienced was a desolate hotel, with no staff around to help or guide us. The only thing that functions are a bunch of very expensive helicopter tours (run by Hel-USA out of Las Vegas, $164/pp) Once you do that - you can take a horse ride (at $40 per person for 30 mins) take a twilight wagon ride ($35 pp or something close to that). We did all this in one day -but other than that - There is NOTHING else to do at the ranch. You cannot access the Grand Canyon from here - except by helicopter!!!

Room Tip: DONOT stay at one of those teepees!!!

"Cute but totally unorganized! A bit of a tourist trap!"

Reviewed May 2, 2011

My husband and I stayed here for one night, and thank god it wasn't any longer.

Cute place with the tipis and cabins, don't get me wrong.. but you aren't getting the views that they promote on their website. They were completely un-organized! There was one person at the desk taking care of everything!! It was really frustrating when trying to check in and check out. And there was no introduction about the ranch or anything, so we had no idea what there was to do or what we were allowed to do.

Basically they just wanted your money. To us it seemed like it was a tourist trap! They over charged for anything additional, ie: $8 for a beer. No choices at meal time-- not even how you would like your steak cooked. They just bring everyone the same meal. There are also no cowboys roaming around the ranch where the visitors stay like in the pictures. They also took too many people on the horseback rides, which basically meant the horses were just following each other, so don't expect to actually ride! There are no bathrooms or showers near the tipis though they charge you as much as the cabins!

"Creepy, expensive, bad service...but nice cabins."

Reviewed February 21, 2011 via mobile

First off I believe if you are going to run a business such as this you should take a course in hospitality. As soon as we arrived we were dissappointed because they're brochure and Internet pictures are a huge difference from what you'll see in person. They did not have anyone in front to guide you anywhere and it was alone and empty it was so creepy I wanted to say forget the money let's go before we get killed. We had to go looking for the office ourselves. The cabin was very nice I must say. Dinner was definitely not bad and the campfire with the cowboys was really nice they were nice and funny guys. However when it came to trying to sleep it was just not an option no matter how tired I was. It was beyond creepy. The wood outside is constantly creaking as if someone is walking in front of your cabin and the door locks are less than reliable. For breakfast I'm assuming they're waitress of whatever you'd call her must have been on something because she did not look sober when we walked in and she said "want breakfast?" ummm hello? Yeah. We then wanted to go horseback riding and found no one to guide us or help us telling us where to go. We had 2 different people walk past us when we were by the horses and they just kept walking without even asking if we needed anything.

Might I add we paid nearly $500 for our night here. (theres 4 of us and it was $100 each, plus the overpriced cheap wine we got and their $18 veggie burger we had) they are the biggest rip off ever. I don't know how they sleep at night giving this place an absolute fake vige and idea to people who have not arrived and then charge unbelievably stupid prices for what it is.

Let me say I would've rather spent that money in a nice hotel with a hot tub, room service and GOOD wine.

They should be charging $40 a person at the most.

"Such a disappointment"

Reviewed February 8, 2011

We booked our honeymoon here, was quite expensive but thought it would be soo wonderful and worth it.. Boy were we wrong. We drove for 2 days to arrive only to find out when we got there that the ranch was closed (what good was a reservation..a year in advance??) We were refused our refund.. because they allowed us to stay, b ut there was no one else at the ranch. We felt like intruders. It all looked good in pictures, but do your research. This place only caters to the people who buy their helicopter flights $$$.

Such a disappointment :(

"Expensive for what it is"

Reviewed September 28, 2010

Decided to stay in a Tipi, have to say the horse riding was fantastic - sunset ride and champagne. After this sadly all down hill, previous guests rubbish had been left in tipi, no light in tipi at all, and had to make do with a torch after tenth time of asking. Food wasnt great, and the snack shop closes at 5.30 and bar at 10.00. They do songs round the campfire, be warned if full not enough room to sit. Also no showers and only one sink between 8 tipis, we left as early as we could after breakfast. Actually wished we had just done the canyon and stayed in vegas the extra night.

"Not Worth It"

Reviewed June 6, 2008

I booked a night here thinking it would be an experience of a lifetime... it's was rather a big bore... We got there around check-in - 3pm... there was nothing to do - we played horseshoes for about an hour... after that we just hung out in the room.

We decided to do the sunset horseback ride - it was pretty nice - not worth the $100+ we spent - you get to the top, the pass out champagne, take a picture (assuming you brought your own camera) and then you head down... you get to see about 5 minutes of the sunset.

Then we have to wait another hour for dinner... it was ok, nothing spectacular. they did a big campfire - it was cool. The families with kids seemed to really enjoy it.

The night sky was absolutely amazing!!!

The next day, we had breakfast & waited around doing nothing until noon for our helicopter ride. This was pretty amazing. That was worth the trip - though had I known now, I would have just booked a flight, not an overnight stay.

The "cowboys" put on a show every couple hours when a new group gets flown in from Vegas - it gets old & since there's nowhere to go, you are pretty much stuck hearing it over & over again... then you get to hear them asking for more tips, saying they are volunteers - even though they work on the ranch???

I think they could really do a lot with this place for those staying overnight, but they don't really put the effort into it - it's very obvious who they look at as the "real" customers - the ones coming in just for a flight. There's nothing in the area, if you drive from Vegas, make sure you leave Boulder City with a full tank & stock up on drinks/snacks - since there is nothing out there. The ranch carries pop & some alcohol, but very limited selection & they charge you per drink. Though they did have some good, free cookies.

Overall, I don't believe this was worth what I paid to stay there...

"not as discribed on website"

Reviewed April 29, 2007

We were booked in to stay 2 nights before travelling on las vegas

the website advertised, cattle branding, working ranch, cowboy cookouts, nature trails, wagon rides, horse rides, indian and cowboy stories, cowboy songs around the campfire.

This is not a working ranch, there are no cattle so therefore no cattle branding, there are no wagon rides only for those who arrive by helicopter, there are no nature trails, the cowboy singing finished at 9pm.

We stayed in a log cabin which was quite quaint but very cold at night open fire that was not lit.

there are not tea/ coffee facilities in the cabin and as the bar/dining room closed at 9pm there was no way of getting a drink until the morning.

the owner of the ranch owns helicopters that fly people in from las vegas they are taken on a wagon to the ranch were they have lunch and horse riding.

If you make you own way to the ranch by car there is no wagon rides and only 2 horse rides per day 7am and 7pm .

the 2nd day of our stay the staff at breakfast where rude the food was not very good, people where turning up on the helicopter and taken out on horse rides , we were just left sat in our cabin with nothing to do.

when we ask about the entertainment advertised on website the staff shrugged there shoulders and said they didn't know anything about it.

we left after one night, the manager of the ranch didn't usually have people stay more than one night as there is nothing during the day , the owner is only interested in the people who come over on the helicopter.She told us to contact travel agent.

My advice would be to stay for lunch and horseride or one night at the most .

Liked — beautiful scenery
Disliked — nothing to do during the day

"Disappointing introduction to the Grand Canyon"

Reviewed April 25, 2006

Having looked forward to this trip as the "highlight" of our holiday we were sadly disappointed. To be fair, the Ranch staff were friendly (all barring one of the cowboys who was positively rude), the cabins comfortable (if cool..) and the food very good, but the much hyped flight over the Grand Canyon is a joke! We travelled a very short section indeed - spending at the most 8 minutes (it seemed more like half that!) within the Canyon itself. A bit like expecting dinner at the Ritz and being given a ham sandwich in the foyer - It left you feeling somewhat short-changed! We would recommend you look elsewhere if the Grand Canyon experience is what you are seeking.

"Enjoyable but don't believe the hype"

Reviewed April 11, 2006

We saw this trip in the Virgin USA brochure before we left the UK. The full trip included a helicopter flight from Vegas and back. It looked like great value when compared to other Grand Canyon helicopter tours. I had already been to the Grand Canyon a few years before so was looking forward to some fantastic scenery. I would not recommend this trip to those who haven't seen the Canyon before. Heli USA only flies you over a very small section of the Canyon and misses the awesome West Rim.

On the way home, the helicopter doesn't take you over the Canyon or the Hoover Dam at all. We were very unlucky to have rain on our flight too which took away much of the 'wow factor.

The ranch experience was good on the whole but did not live up to the expectations that were presented in the brochure. Our cabin (blue and white) did not have a real fire as stated in the brochure and the so called gourmet meals were more like those I used to get at guide camp! The starter was lettuce and tomato followed by a tiny plate crammed with baked potato, beans and steak. The breakfast was hardly 'gourmet' either.

The biggest disappointment was the horse ride - this is completely overpriced. We paid $55 to walk up a hill and back again with a glass of cheap fizzy wine - about a half hour trip. If you can ride in the UK, you will probably be disappointed. I also found the cowboys doing the horse rides rather fierce. That said, the sunset was amazing but save your money and walk up the hill yourself!

If you have already seen the canyon and ignore some of the hype in the brochure, this is a trip worth doing. The cabins are cosy and quiet and the ranch is a great overnight getaway from crazy Las Vegas. Singing 'House of the Rising Sun' around the camp fire under the stars is also not to be missed.

"grand Canyon Ranch : le site est beau mais le reste....."

Reviewed August 6, 2012

Google Translation

Nous avons passé une nuit le 3 aout 2012.
A notre arrivée,dans l'après-midi, nous avons été séduits par le site : toutefois, une fois installés, on nous a demandés si nous souhaitions diner : 40 USD par tête : OK , mais compte tenu que nous avions loué une cabine , en bois, pour 4, mais confirmé pour 5 (?) à 380USD, benoitement , nous pensions que le dîner était compris . Puis , nous avons dû payé le peiti déjeuner pour USD 10 par personnes . Compte tenu que cet endroit est éloigné de tout, le choix était vite fait Puis vient le top de l'arnaque touristique : que l'on soit cavalier ou pas, nous emener , au pas, pendant 45 mn (pour 1 heure indiquée) , voir les terribles Bisons (parqués dans 1 enclos, au nombre de 13, vous les voyez que si le cow-boy les pousse vers vous...) et se faire offrir un verre de mousseux pendant que cow-boy Dave vous chante une balade , c'est vraiment se faire prendre pour un pigeon..

De plus, sur le site (et je vous invite à y aller) la balade du coucher de soleil est annoncée pour 2 heures au prix de USD 70 alors que sur place , elle n'est que de 1 heure pour USD 70.

Honnêtement, faites vous un super trip en prenant une balade dans Monument Valley , pour € 45 à 55 pour 1 heure dans un lieu majestueux et avec une possibilité de galop (si c'est possible) .

en clair, au tiers du prix , ce site de Grand Canyon peut éventuellement être visité : au delà c'est de l'arnaque et on le sent bien dans la manière d'agir du personnel ...time is money !
Bonnes vacances à tous.

A Hotels.com Traveler

Este Rancho que está lejos de todo , te ofrece al llegar una impresión muy pobre porque las fotografías de su pagina web son fantásticas, han recreado una especie de artificio con pretensiones para turistas, que puede resultar simpático . Es como un parque temático cutre. Lo mejor, que está lo mas cerca posible de increíble Gran Cañon Este. Lo peor, el increíble sablazo que te pegan por montar a caballo o en carro para ver sus laderas, y sus bufalos. Fue muy decepcionante pues las fotos no reflejan la realidad. No tienen tienda, por supuesto y estas obligado a comer, desayunar y cenar allí, pues está en medio del desierto , se aprovechan de ello, y te engañan con los menús. Los precios, de restaurante de cinco tenedores y LA COMIDA: BAZOFIA. No puedes elegir nada, te ponen un plato por delante de lo que sea y eso es lo que hay. Pagas por adelantado, por supuesto, al contratar cuando llegas y despues al irte te vuelven a cobrar porque las bebidas NO estan incluidas, pero eso no te lo advierten, te van sirviendo, te mantienen llena la copa y luego te cobran una fortuna por lo que has bebido . Ponen en el menú patatas fritas con hamburguesa y luego las patatas son un paquete de lays de 30 grs. No hay leche en los desayunos, ni galletas , ni pan, ni nada de nada. Mi familia y yo nos sentimos totalmente estafados . Las raciones son de hambre. Si vais, por lo pintoresco del sitio, llevar en las maletas algo para alimentarlos .

03/07/12 DINNER.
03/07/12-03/08/12 LODGING.
03/08/12 BREAKFAST.

On 11/29/11 my spouse paid $44 for a Living Social for a night at this "resort", thinking it might fit into a 2-day trip from home. Las Vegas, for our 32nd anniversary. We'd arrive, stay a night, next morning visit Grand Canyon West, also doing the Grand Canyon Skywalk, then drive home.

WRONG. Let me put it a better way. THIS WAS THE WORST VACATION / ANNIVERSARY OF MY ENTIRE LIFE.

The 2-day trip started with us driving to, and arriving at, this "resort". This place is tens of miles off paved highway. Meaning, to arrive, you must drive a paved road to a point, then a very rough, rocky road for a very long time. It must've taken 45 minutes from the paved road.

We arrive, having to park in an outside visitor's parking lot, a great distance from the office/restaurant, the cabins, everything. We go to the office/restaurant, to check-in, to find 2 girls with somewhat of an attitude.

We ask why the road is dirt-only for so long. They tell us the dirt road is dirt on purpose, to give the place "authenticity". Are they kidding? We ask if we can pull our car up to our cabin, just to unload our stuff, as there is a road from the outside parking area to inside. "You cannot drive your vehicles anywhere in our area. You must walk your luggage to your room." We do so, and it was not a short hike. NOTE: Not much later a couple of Brits, one a handicapped wife, were able to drive their car to their cabin, as well as all around the inside, even over to the restaurant for dinner. I can understand the making of allowances for the handicapped, but to allow no one else to even drive just to dump their stuff at their cabin is ridiculous.

We go into the cabin. It was, at most, 15 x 15 feet. That's it. The bed was supposedly a queen, oh no, that's a double, at most. Two large people sleeping in one barely double-sized bed. A loft, which can be reached by a wooden ladder nailed into the wall, could have had a mattress, but not in our case. The bathroom was reminiscent of one during a trip to Argentina in 2008 - very primitive and not pleasant. And the entire cabin was off balance, leaning in a back-left direction. (That's where the open shower water would run off to in the bathroom, and just pool up there, in the corner.)

I had brought my computer along, only because I'm on emergency call with some clients. I go to the cabin, to try to use wireless, which is very strong, but it is password protected. When I ask one of the girls about it, she states "There is NO internet. Oh, and no cellular use is possible, or allowed." My phone got a little 3G, but it came and went. We were essentially off-the-grid, whether we wanted to be or not. Fine, we can live with that. My clients might be upset, but what can we do, we are literally in the middle of nowhere.

Next, dinner. "$40 per person, fixed menu, no options/substitutions, 6pm, everyone sits communal, steak or fish?" No other food options were available, there or nearby. We get there at 6pm, doesn't start until 630pm. Purchased a normally-$13 bottle of wine in their "grocery store" for $44. Salad arrives, OK, but there was a visiting French family across from us who were perplexed, because it was "american-style" (iceberg with too much dressing), but at least it had a little asparagus. But it's all downhill from there. A gristle-filled steak (no choice for temperature, it was very well done) arrives with overcooked squash, bad rice and an obviously from-a-bag dinner roll. The French were bummed. Dessert was ice cream with Kool Whip (that threw the French!) and some "frozen strawberry" substance on top. $80 for 2 people, but then add two bottles of wine, tax & tip, it was $175, for a crappy anniversary dinner.

We went back to cabin for bed. Worst sleep of my entire life.

Morning comes. Spouse wants breakfast. I beg not to eat at the "resort", but anywhere else. I lose. Breakfast was an abomination. Again, it's $10 prix fixe, no options or substitutions. They plop my breakfast down (eggs, potatoes, melon + canned pineapple, bacon) and then I see one of the morning cowboys with brown gravy in his grits and ... (white gravy) and ask about it. He says "You'll have to ask your server." She says "I'll ask if you can have some." Huh? It comes, way too salty, entire pieces of barely-cooked bacon strips in a white gravy on hard biscuits, not even chopped up, instead of sausage (as it usually is). We paid $24 total for a horrible breakfast. We leave the "resort".

Oh, but after that? I WAS ILL FOR 3 STRAIGHT WEEKS. It turned out the bacon was tainted. I have a strong stomach, but not for that. I DID NOT HAVE A SOLID BOWEL MOVEMENT FOR 3 STRAIGHT WEEKS.

AVOID THIS "RESORT" AT ALL COSTS.

I booked a room in January and they cancelled it just a few days before arrival - not leaving me enough time to book another place (all resorts/hotels nearby fully booked because of the late timing). Nor did they help arranging alternative lodging. They do not care about their guests, only about making money.

What a disaster! We booked 2 months in advance. The day we were to arrive, I called to confirm, but they had CANCELLED our reservation just days earlier due to "overbooking." We did not get the message because we were already on the road. So there we were, with our young kids and NO place to stay. They would not do anything to help us, despite being in the middle of the desert. Not book us somewhere else, not give us a recommendation, not a make a phone call, NOTHING. Who does that? What kind of business spontaneously cancels a reservation and will not lift a finger to mitigate the mess they have created? It is unethical. How can the people who work there be so callous toward families under such circumstances? It is truly mind-boggling.

So we had to fend for ourselves, traveling some distance to find new accommodations on the fly. And our kids, who were so excited about the "cowboy ranch" experience we had anticipated, were sorely disappointed.

Is it worth the risk? You might be lucky and have a great experience. Or your vacation (and pocketbook) may be ruined. Apparently we were not the first guests to have this experience at Grand Canyon Ranch. You take your chances.

We (husband and I) went for the overnight ride and tent camp out. We had lunch (included in the price) at the ranch before we left, dinner at the campsite, and breakfast back at the ranch the next morning. The food? Meh. Pretty nondescript, but served its purpose. The ride to the site was gorgeous, and we very much appreciated the fact that our guides (the cowboys) tailored the horses and the ride to our abilities. The comedy of errors that came next was no one's fault but Mother Nature's. That night we had a crazy storm-it started with a little rain, which hampered our ability to make a campfire to cook dinner. It required some work and some humor, but dinner was soon ready. The sky cleared after a bit and the night sky was AMAZING! Eventually we headed to bed....and the storm came back. The wind threatened to lift our tent off the ground and the water poured in. (Desert, remember? Usually no need to worry about the holes in the tent!) Eventually the storm cleared and morning came and brought with it an incredibly vivid sunrise. Cowboys woke up, saddled up the horses, and we headed back to the ranch. All in all, I would do it again. This isn't really a trip for those who prefer hotel-type amenities...

We just got back from the trip, spending Christmas Eve night there, it was fun. My daughter loves the pony ride and sunset wagon ride with cowboy Joe. We love them too, especially when cowboy Dave entertained us with music at the campfire and a story at the sunset ride. We saw the buffalo (Bison). Thanks to the great chef with a great bbq port rib, so tender and great taste. He was so nice to give us more ribs, great cooks, all people were so nice at the ranch, we enjoyed the stay. The cabin looks and feels great, we got a great night sleep. The spirit mountain and Joshua trees view were beautiful to whoever loves nature and will appreciate it greatly. Thanks. But one bad thing happened when we got back on Christmas Day while looking for a way out with no car around us, just empty street happened when the gentleman sometimes stay, while looking for a dry spot, than the car became just empty desert and Joshua trees, we saw a police car and with no helping of giving us the direction, instead he gave us a ticket for speeding 60 miles, the police was mean and nasty, he almost put my husband to jail when my husband said one sentence "I disagree." Isn't the power of the policeman should go against crime or gangster but not use it to abuse to the innocent citizens. My daughter was tear out because she was scared, she said, she had a bad Christmas because of the mean and heartless policeman. His life must has been very rough, that was why one bad policeman ruin the great impression and reputation of the real kind of policeman who suppose to protect the country and the citizens. It was just our bad luck of the year.

I live in Santa Rosa, CA and my good friend and I just had the best vacation ever at this ranch. I read the bad reviews and can't imagine even one of those things happening. However they are talking about a manager named Michelle and the manager we had was Jessie so maybe management has changed hands - obviously. Everyone at the resort was so accommodating, friendly and polite. They went out of their way to make our visit so wonderful that we are already planning to go back again next year. I cannot think of one reason to give them less than four stars. If you are not looking for an authentic "cowboy" experience than you should not plan a trip here but then that is clearly explained on the website. Yes, you are going to get dirty and you might have to do a little walking from your car to the cabin or tipi, whichever one you choose to stay in, but the parking lot is not far at all - nothing like the one reviewer said. I just could not believe he was so negative. He apparently was expecting a Hilton style "ranch" so I blame them for not doing their research before booking their anniversary trip. We took the sunset ride our first night and stayed in a cabin afterwards. We took the helicopter ride the next day and then the overnight ride that night. It's so quiet you could hear the coyotes howl at night and the birds singing in the morning. It's the most awesome, peaceful feeling ever. I have only been home for two days and all I can think about is wishing I was back there. The cabins are small but perfect for the type of experience this is. The food was great, especially the ribs - the trail rides were awesome - but the people who work there made the trip extra special. From Casey singing and playing his wonderful music to Cody and Kayla telling us all the wonderful history of the ranch on the sunset ride, to Tamr at the front desk and then Dean, our awesome "cowboy poet" and lead on our overnight camp out, plus everyone else we came in contact with at the ranch. It just wouldn't have been the same without them. I guess you can find something wrong with anything you do in life if you try hard enough or you can take life as it comes and look at the good. This was an experience we will never forget and we want to thank everyone who had a part in making it so special. Keep up the good work guys and don't let the negative people bring you down. We loved it!!!

Reading some of the reviews on here are amusing. My wife and I stayed at the ranch for one night and loved our time there. The users with complaints on here obviously did not understand what a ranch would be like. This ranch is not a typical resort with a pool, internet access, or TV. The intended target is for someone looking to get away from all of those distractions and enjoy the scenery and experience. Both my wife and I found the food to be more than satisfactory. Also the ranch does have a menu with options that are not near 40 dollars. I got a burger and I believe it totaled some where around 13 dollars, which expected knowing how remote this ranch is. I would say for anyone going to the Grand Canyon and enjoys scenery and getting away from all of the distractions in life, this is a great place to go. One last suggestion if you do stay at the ranch, make sure to go down to the Bon fire at night. Listening to Cody sing and tell stories was our favorite part of our stay.

AFFIDAVIT OF NIGEL TURNER

I, Nigel Turner, declare and state as follows:

1. I am the Managing Member of Grand Canyon Ranch, LLC, a Nevada limited liability company (hereafter "Respondent"), which owns the GRAND CANYON RANCH® mark, Reg. No. 3,927,500 and is the applicant for the mark GRAND CANYON RANCH AT SPIRIT MOUNTAIN, App. No. 77/905,088. I am also the Managing Member of Grand Canyon Ranch, LLC, an Arizona limited liability company, which operates the facilities of Grand Canyon Ranch, a fully operating ranch located in the west end of the Grand Canyon, near Spirit Mountain, where various services are provided under the above-referenced two marks. (Grand Canyon Ranch, LLC, a Nevada limited liability company and Grand Canyon Ranch, LLC, an Arizona limited liability company are hereafter collectively referred to as "GCR"). I am further the President of Heli USA Airways, Inc. I am the present owner of the ranch and facilities presently known as Grand Canyon Ranch. The matters set forth in this affidavit are based upon my personal knowledge as the owner of Grand Canyon Ranch and are further based upon the business records of GCR that I have access to as Managing Member of both companies, and the business records of Heli USA Airways, Inc. that I had access to as its President.

2. My fascination with the wild west dates back many decades, but became a reality when I purchased the ranch. Via a company I also own, Heli USA Airways, I provided helicopter tours over the Grand Canyon and the ranch -then known as Diamond Bar Ranch- for years, and when the opportunity came, I made a bid to acquire the ranch. I purchased the ranch and facility in or about 2002, and ever since have been operating it as a cattle ranch that gives guests the opportunity to see an operating cattle ranch up close and also allows them to experience the vast outdoors and old-fashioned Western hospitality.

3. To the best of my knowledge, today my ranch is the only privately owned property that is bordering the Grand Canyon. It is located on the western rim of the Grand Canyon, and is a fully operational cattle ranch. Therefore, upon acquiring it I renamed it “Grand Canyon West Ranch” and advertising materials from the early years of our operation reflect this name.

4. An objection was raised by the Hualapai Indians to the “Grand Canyon West Ranch” name, based on the fact that they operate a facility that they call “Grand Canyon West - Hualapai Ranch. Attached hereto as Exhibit 1 is a true and correct copy of a webpage printout showing the Grand Canyon West lodging operated by the Hualapai Indians. In order to resolve the dispute amicably, I agreed to change the name of my ranch and facilities to “Grand Canyon Ranch”, and it has been referred to by that name ever since.

5. The Grand Canyon Ranch is located immediately adjacent to Spirit Mountain, an emblematic desert rock formation. Spirit Mountain towers over the Grand Canyon Ranch, and is an integral part of the visual landscape of the Grand Canyon Ranch. Photographs taken of the Grand Canyon Ranch or at the Grand Canyon Ranch will inevitably include the Spirit Mountain. Therefore, GCR have also been using “Grand Canyon Ranch at Spirit Mountain” to refer to the ranch and facilities.

6. GCR have worked in close cooperation with Heli USA Airways, Inc. (hereafter “Heli USA”) promoting the Grand Canyon Ranch, and the wide array of services the Grand Canyon Ranch offers. True and correct copies of the pages of Heli USA's 2008/2009 Tariff and catalog is attached hereto as Exhibit 2. True and correct copies of the pages of Heli USA's 2009/2010 Tariff and catalog is attached hereto as Exhibit 3.

7. The Grand Canyon Ranch has been a favored destination for many of our guests who took a helicopter tour of the Grand Canyon. In particular, Pages 4-7 of the Heli USA 2008/2009 Tariff and Pages 5-6 of the Heli USA 2009/2010 Tariff set forth examples of news clips and guest testimonials raving about the special outdoors experience the Grand Canyon Ranch offers. The two catalogs also depict the "GRAND CANYON WEST RANCH AT SPIRIT MOUNTAIN" mark, the forerunner of the "GRAND CANYON RANCH" and "GRAND CANYON RANCH AT SPIRIT MOUNTAIN" marks.

8. GCR - in collaboration with Heli USA - has been offering the following services in connection with the Grand Canyon Ranch:

- helicopter flights to the Grand Canyon Ranch from Las Vegas, since 2000;
- restaurant and bar services, since about 2003;
- hay rides, since about 2004;
- rodeos, since about 2009;

- buffalo visits, since about 2004;
- wagon rides, since about 2002;
- horseback riding since about 2000;
- overnight stay in cabins and/or tents, since about 2003.

9. The experience at the 165 square mile Grand Canyon Ranch is one of old fashioned Western hospitality. It includes a stay in a pine log cabin or tipi, guided horseback rides, evening entertainment of cowboy musicians playing traditional Western music by the campfire, and visitors have the opportunity to see our live buffalo herd at the ranch. Our main goal is to provide our visitors with an experience of the “old west”, complete with a stay at an operating ranch and being able to experience the untouched outdoors. We combine the visit to the Grand Canyon with the spirit of the American West. Among its other program offerings, Grand Canyon Ranch features a herd of wild bison. Attached hereto as Exhibits 4 and 5 are flyers and brochures advertising the programs and services offered by the Grand Canyon Ranch in collaboration with Heli USA.

10. Our visitors come from throughout the United States and from numerous foreign countries. We welcome people looking for a rustic yet romantic getaway, spiritual retreat or wanting to have a “dude ranch” experience. We offer not only lodging, but overnight campouts, yet can also accommodate tailor-made weddings in the shadow of Spirit Mountain. The Grand Canyon Ranch is renowned for the special experience it offers to its visitors. While the Grand Canyon Ranch aims at offering a rustic, outdoors experience, our services are high quality, and to the satisfaction of all of our guests and clients. True and correct copies of the pages of an advertising brochure of GCR are attached hereto as Exhibit 6 and true and correct copies of the pages of an advertising catalog of GCR are attached hereto as Exhibit 7. In particular, Page 24 of the advertising catalog of GCR sets forth selected news clips showing the acclaim and worldwide media coverage the Grand Canyon Ranch has received.

11. GCR also advertise the services of the Grand Canyon Ranch through the website of the Grand Canyon Ranch, www.grandcanyonranch.com. True and correct copies of select pages of the website showing the history of the Grand Canyon Ranch, and the various services available are attached hereto as Exhibit 8.

12. As stated above, Spirit Mountain is a recognized geographic formation that towers over the Grand Canyon Ranch. Throughout their advertising materials GCR use the image of the Spirit Mountain. The image of Spirit Mountain is recognized by our visitors and clients as an emblem of the Grand Canyon Ranch, and therefore it was inevitable that we make it part of the “GRAND CANYON RANCH” and “GRAND CANYON RANCH AT SPIRIT MOUNTAIN” marks.

13. I created the brand of the Grand Canyon Ranch that we use to identify our cattle by combining the old symbol of the Diamond Bar Ranch with the silhouette of a helicopter. Throughout their advertising materials GCR use the image of the Spirit Mountain. The image of the Brand of Grand Canyon Ranch is recognized by our visitors and clients as an emblem of the Grand Canyon Ranch, and therefore it was inevitable that we make it also part of the “GRAND CANYON RANCH” and “GRAND CANYON RANCH AT SPIRIT MOUNTAIN” marks.

14. In or about August 2012, I conducted a Google search for the name “Grand Canyon Ranch”, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 9. To the best of my knowledge, the only hits received were our ranch and facility the Grand Canyon Ranch located at the western rim of the Grand Canyon; the facility of Grand Canyon West that is operated by the Hualapai Indians; Bar 10 Ranch at the north rim of the Grand Canyon; and Phantom Ranch Lodging & Dining.

15. Prior to being served with the Opposition in this matter opposing the “GRAND CANYON RANCH AT SPIRIT MOUNTAIN” mark, I was not aware of the marks of Opposer CR License, Inc. (hereafter Canyon Ranch).

16. To the best of my knowledge, there were no actual instances of confusion between the Grand Canyon Ranch and Opposer/Petitioner Canyon Ranch, and none of our customers, clients, visitors or guests believed that we are affiliated with or sponsored by Opposer/Petitioner Canyon Ranch.

I declare under penalty of perjury pursuant to the laws of the United States of America that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on this 28th day of February, 2014 at _____ 4.40 pm. California

Our Company – Our Mission

From CEO and President – Nigel Turner

Dear Travel Colleague:

Welcome to our 2008/2009 tariff. This year we look forward to introducing our new VIP tours in Las Vegas, Hawaii and our privately owned, Grand Canyon West Ranch.

At Grand Canyon West Ranch, we have received an overwhelming response from our guests who appreciate a true western ranch experience unlike anywhere else. The great ranches of the Old West are like time capsules of the American frontier. Here, guests can hear tales of infamous gunfighters, enjoy a western barbeque, take a peaceful horseback ride overlooking a Joshua Tree valley, or watch a live rodeo. On our VIP Overnight Getaway, guests can enjoy a champagne toast, an optional sunset horseback ride and an intimate candlelit dinner followed by a cowboy serenade under the stars, all before retiring to their comfortable pine cabin. Whether it's for an evening or a fun day trip, Grand Canyon West Ranch offers an unforgettable western experience in an intimate and peaceful setting.

To get to Grand Canyon West Ranch, guests can either fly direct from our convenient Heli USA terminal in Las Vegas, self-drive or be driven in comfortable tour coaches or 4X4 vehicles. Either way, your customers will have the opportunity to experience the grandeur of the Grand Canyon, without waiting in long lines or being subjected to other unnecessary frustrations, all at a fair and reasonable price.

It is my personal commitment to always provide a higher standard in service, value and safety for all of our esteemed guests. On March 30, 2007, Heli USA Airways successfully completed a two-week extensive audit with the Western Pacific Regional Office of the Federal Aviation

Nigel Turner, President and CEO

Administration at Heli USA's bases in Las Vegas and Hawaii. In a recent letter, the FAA stated that Heli USA's company procedures and manuals were to a "higher standard than often seen" and that Heli USA's best practices were "above and beyond procedures required for their certification". In addition to the FAA audit, Heli USA will continue to have extensive company evaluations through independent auditors each year.

On behalf of Heli-USA Airways and Grand Canyon West Ranch, I would like to thank you for your continued support and look forward to a successful year together.

Sincerely,

Nigel Turner
President/CEO

City Slicker Turned Cowboy Nigel Turner!

MANCHESTER EVENING NEWS BY SPET - UNITED KINGDOM

CITY slicker turned cowboy Nigel Turner, originally from Ludley Road, Offerton, opened the Grand Canyon West Ranch in Arizona four years ago. He feared one stop coach trips from Las Vegas would spoil the experience for his small number of eco-tourists enjoying life on his working cattle ranch 70 miles from civilisation.

His guests have included the family of Sir Richard Branson and rugby star Matt Dawson.

Nigel is now negotiating to have the proposed road fenced off to protect animals and built on the edge of his land. He also wants felled trees replaced.

"I just want to protect my ranch and the valley. The desert is very fragile."

Nigel's ranch, where he married Californian bride Leney last year, is more than three times larger than Stokport and only just five miles from the Grand Canyon.

He left the borough aged 10 to study zoology before becoming a pilot in the army.

His first business in America was operating helicopter flights over Los Angeles.

Get High In Las Vegas

AIRTRAVEL SPECIAL - UNITED KINGDOM

There was a whir overhead as the helicopter blades began to kick in. With a small shaky start we were soon floating just above the ground at Las Vegas' McCarran Airport. Within 10 minutes we'd flown past Lake Mead, a grand holiday resort for Las Vegasans, and towers of concrete that seem to almost hold together by their own weight in human built desert. We'd then descended into the Grand Canyon. It all passed in a second and our helicopter had now drifted into a dense scrub of Pinyon pines, at seeing this natural wonder from the air.

Bet on a good Time in Vegas

THE RUSH - UNITED KINGDOM

A helicopter flight with Heli USA over the glittering cityscape that is Las Vegas at night is not far behind when it comes to memorable experiences.

Taking off at one end of the world famous Strip, we checked up on to the night sky towards the MGM Grand and out over a carpet of lights that shows you just how much the city has expanded.

Viva Las Vegas city of LOVE

WHAT SON TRAVEL - UNITED KINGDOM

Heading up along Las Vegas Boulevard (known as the Strip) Paddy Las Vegas had sized Eiffel Tower came into view, looming over the Bellagio Lake Forum, where 240ft fountains dancing to music are one of the city's best free shows.

Further north, we swapped Lower the Fremont Experience, a dazzling corridor of lights in downtown Las Vegas. Before heading back towards the Strip - beckoning allure.

Then we were back on the ground, safe and sound but exhilarated by a flash of fantasy over the city that never sleeps.

Make Your Vows In Vegas

UK'S CLOSEST MAGAZINE

Las Vegas may be best known for its sexy chapels of love, but there's now an even wackier way to increase the wow factor of your vows: you can get married at night, while you fly over the glittering city in a helicopter.

In true VIP style, you'll be collected from your hotel by stretch limousine and whisked off to McCarran International Airport. After a champagne toast, you and your groom, plus two guests will board your private helicopter - a luxury helicopter with luxury seats and panoramic views.

GUEST & PASSENGER TESTIMONIALS

GRAND CANYON WEST RANCH

"LOVED THE WHOLE EXPERIENCE"

This was fantastic and I would defiantly recommend it to anyone. Watching the sunset over the Grand Canyon while drinking champagne on a horse with a cowboy singing back in the saddle again is something I'll never forget. PAUL & ANITA ELLIOTT, IRELAND

"A MEMORY I WILL ALWAYS CHERISH"

My son and I took the heli there and back, staying overnight. It was, at least for me, the best part of our stay in Las Vegas. The heli riding was so different to anything in England. The entertainment was brilliant. Casey Adams, with his band, entertained all evening and the next morning. CHRISTOPHER & JILL COLEMAN

"THE EXPERIENCE OF A LIFETIME"

If you want to experience something completely different, this is the place to go. The helicopter flight from Heli USA was superbly operated. The staff at the West Ranch are so free, friendly and the horse back riding and the sun to see unforgettable. Casey Adams sang to us from 4pm until practically 7am the next morning. We took my friend here as a surprise 40th birthday gift and we wouldn't have dreamed of anything more memorable. ROSEMARY ALLEN

"I WANT TO BE A COWGIRL AND WHO'S A PANDA!"

Stayed here half way through our honeymoon. The package experience itself was brilliant - BBQ dinner, songs and stories around a campfire in the evening and an early morning horse riding session which was just what we needed. Fantastic views in Joshua Tree Forest. HELEN & IAN MURPHY, ENGLAND

"SIMPLY THE BEST"

This was the best ever experience I've had. The staff were extremely friendly and helpful and went out of their way to accommodate our wishes and needs. The horseback sunset ride was great and my husband loved this especially as it was his first time on a horse. LIZ & ANDREW WOOD, ENGLAND

"EXPERIENCE OF A LIFETIME"

It was the experience of a lifetime I will never forget the beauty of this beautiful island. Thanks so much! PAUL & ANITA ELLIOTT, IRELAND

"WE LOVED IT"

This was our first heli flight and we all loved it. Thank you, thank you! MICHAEL & COWGIRL, ENGLAND

"UNIQUE & AWESOME EXPERIENCE"

We so much enjoyed this unique kind of experience. Thank you for providing such good service. ANDREW & FRANK WOOD, ENGLAND

Grand Canyon West Ranch

Historic Guest and Working Cattle Ranch

Grand Canyon West Ranch has an exciting and colorful history. The original ranch headquarters is located next to Diamond Bar Springs, known to Native Americans for the last 3,600 years. The oldest inhabitants at the springs were the Cibola Indians, whose roasting pits have been carbon dated back to circa 1600 B.C. The Indians called the springs "Tanika Springs." Around 1860, after the Hualapai Indian War, gold miners built a Stamp Mill to crush ore for the King Tut Gold Mine. From the 1870's onwards, the Mormons used the springs as a resting and watering place for their wagon trains. In May 1889, the Hualapai Indian Tribe's First Ghost Dance ritual was held at the Springs. In 1904 the famous gunfighter and cattle rancher, "Tip" Duncanson, purchased the ranch to escape from his previous "profession." He became one of the most widely respected pioneer cattlemen. From 1915 onwards, an unknown cowboy called Bruce Kisteadon worked for Tip. He wrote about the ranch and in doing so started "Cowboy Poetry." The famous Western author Louis L'Amour also worked for Tip, and later claimed the gunfighter taught him everything he knew about ranching and buckarooing.

Preserving The Grand Canyon

Ranching and nature working together! Strong environmentalists, the owner and staff of Grand Canyon West Ranch only raise Corriedale cattle, which are free to roam over 106,000 acres (165 sq. mi.) of mountainous terrain. The hardy Corriedale can be traced back to the first cattle brought to the new world by the Spanish as early as 1493. Our policy is to protect and preserve the wild animals and plants that are indigenous to this beautiful southwest region of the United States. Monitoring water resources and protecting this unique and fragile desert habitat are important to us, and we work closely with the Arizona Department of Game and Fish and the Bureau of Land Management.

Nigel Turner

President and CEO Heli USA Airways and Grand Canyon West Ranch

Flying and accommodating over 130,000 people a year, he takes a "hands-on" approach in everything he does...

Born in Stockport, England, Nigel Turner grew up with a passion for flying. "I remember when I was six, my parents allowing me to stay up late to see the first Pan Am flight land," he remembers. "After that, I would sit by the runway and watch in awe... I couldn't imagine anything more exciting than flying." After graduating from Newcastle University in Physiology and Zoology and later, from the Royal Military Academy Sandhurst, Nigel served as an officer in the First Royal Tank Regiment before joining the Army Air Corp as a helicopter pilot. The highlight of his military flying career was as VIP Flight Commander in Berlin flying patrols of the Berlin Wall. Here, he flew numerous politicians and heads of state, such as Maggie Thatcher, on orientations of Berlin. This is where he got the idea of helicopter sightseeing as a business. "I knew it would work because they thoroughly enjoyed the flights and the detailed information I gave them," says Nigel. "It was a true turning point in my life."

LOS ANGELES

Upon leaving the military in 1986, Nigel moved to Los Angeles, California. With a small retirement from the military and a small helicopter, he started flying night tours over Los Angeles... a world first which proved to be an instant success for the trendy L.A. dating scene. Soon, with the addition of more helicopters, Nigel expanded his company to San Francisco, flying day tours over the city. In 1994, the Los Angeles Earthquake hit. As covered by CNN Headline News, Nigel immediately started a helicopter shuttle service to help people get to their homes, work and loved ones over the damaged freeway system. This was the first of many specialized flight services offered by Nigel, whose experiences include flying 3,500 passengers over the famous Christo Umbrellas, as well as flying professionally for several Hollywood films and television shows, ironically making him a member of the Screen Actors Guild.

HAWAII

In the same year, Heli USA expanded their sightseeing flights 2,500 miles away, flying exclusively from the beautiful Princeville Airport on the island of Kauai. In 2003, Nigel expanded his Hawaiian operations to Oahu and in 2004, in Lihue Kauai. Heli USA plans to open a new heli-port facility at Lihue Airport in the fall of 2009.

GRAND CANYON WEST RANCH

Like so many, Nigel went through difficult times in 2001 with the advent of the September 11th terrorist attacks. "This was one of the hardest times but our team got through this by staying positive and thinking of new innovative ideas." Despite these challenges, Nigel turns his future ambitions out West... the Old West. Nicknamed "The English Cowboy" by the local press, Nigel opens his doors to Grand Canyon West Ranch, a 106,000 acre guest ranch located on the west rim of the Grand Canyon, offering overnight accommodations, helicopter flights to the Grand Canyon and scenic horseback rides. "It was again one of the highlights of my life buying a massive cattle ranch larger than Stockport then restoring and protecting the land and its indigenous animals for future generations to see. Too many beautiful cattle ranches have been destroyed by track home developers. This is my opportunity to help preserve the West Rim of The Grand Canyon."

Today, Nigel looks back at his diverse and multi-million dollar tourism business with pride. Flying and accommodating over 130,000 people a year, he takes a "hands-on" approach in everything he does, paying meticulous attention to safety, customer service and product development. Tourism is his everyday way of life. His motto, "If its fun and you're passionate about it, you can achieve anything."

Nigel, Lesley and Richie Sambora.

LAS VEGAS

In 1997, Nigel moved to Las Vegas and started Heli USA Airways. Servicing the fastest growing entertainment city in the world, he saw a new opportunity to fly visitors from Las Vegas to the bottom of the Grand Canyon. "Once we started taking the press and tour operators on these flights everyone realized helicopters were a much better way than planes to really see the Grand Canyon." With several million dollar jet helicopters, excellent customer service and a massive emphasis on safety, the tours were a phenomenal success. By 2000, Heli USA Airways was flying over 80,000 passengers a year. President and CEO Heli USA Airways and Grand Canyon West Ranch.

Our Company – Our Mission

From CEO and President – Nigel Turner

Dear Travel Colleague:

Welcome to our 2009/2010 Exclusive Helicopter and Ranch Tour brochure. As always, Heli USA and Grand Canyon Ranch are committed to providing only the very best in customer service and new innovative tours, all at fair and reasonable prices.

For those seeking a romantic night flight, Heli USA is proud to offer VIP night tours over the amazing Las Vegas strip. By night or day, our exclusive Grand Canyon Ranch is synonymous with family fun, romantic getaways and the ultimate in customer service. Since our initial opening in June of 2003, we have received an overwhelming response from our guests who appreciate a true western ranch experience unlike anywhere else. Here, guests can experience a real working cattle ranch, hear tales of the infamous gunfighters who once lived here, enjoy a western barbeque with their choice of wine, beer or cool non-alcoholic beverages at our popular Diamond Bar, or take a peaceful horseback ride overlooking the Joshua Tree valley.

On our VIP Overnight Ranch Getaway, guests can begin the evening riding off into the sunset on one of our unforgettable horseback rides, then enjoy an intimate candlelit dinner followed by a cowboy serenade under the stars. For the first time, we will soon be introducing several in-cabin spa treatments featuring our exclusive Grand Canyon Spring Water to all our overnight guests.

To get to Grand Canyon Ranch, guests can either fly via the Grand Canyon from our convenient Heli USA terminal in Las Vegas, self-drive or be driven in a comfortable tour coach or 4X4 vehicles. No matter how you arrive, you'll experience the grandeur of the Grand Canyon with the personal attention that's so hard to find with other tours.

On behalf of Heli-USA Airways and Grand Canyon Ranch, I would like to thank you for your consideration and continued support.

Sincerely,

Nigel Turner
President/CEO

NEW – IN DEVELOPMENT:

GRAND CANYON RANCH SPA TREATMENTS

Grand Canyon Ranch is proud to provide our exclusive Grand Canyon spring drinking water to all of our guests. Dubbed "Spirit Water", by those who believed it to have unique healing properties, the natural spring water found at Grand Canyon Ranch has been used for centuries by ancient Native American tribes and early American settlers. Under the shadow of Spirit Mountain, the natural water springs of Grand Canyon Ranch (formerly known as the Diamond Bar or Duncan Ranch, after illustrious gunfighter, Tap Duncan) were once named the Grass Springs or Tenyaka Springs. It was here that one of the great Indian Ghost Dances took place where Paiute tribe members were reported to have danced and fasted for several days and nights in an effort to reach their spiritual ancestors⁽¹⁾. Currently in development at Grand Canyon Ranch are several new spa treatments featuring this amazing spring water. Please check with our website, www.grandcanyonranch.com for updates.

Daily Mail

PRINT - DECEMBER 18, 2004 UNITED KINGDOM

"Get there in a 45-minute helicopter ride over the Grand Canyon - a sight that truly takes your breath away."

"How ironic that during a visit to the temple of man-made magnificence, the most fabulous part of my weekend was spent at the one place of true natural beauty."

One Hell of a trip

IRISH DAILY MIRROR - IRELAND AUGUST 20, 2005

Of course the definitive Vegas outing comes in the shape of the grand Canyon - at 277 miles long, 10 miles wide and a mile deep it's a sight that even the Strip can't match. The Only way to see it properly is by helicopter.

Heli USA is the best of many firms offering chopper flights from McCarran International Airport and between you and me it's worth EVERY penny.

Flying low through the massive split in the earth in a cloudless sky is an unbelievable experience. I will never forget as the helicopter soared over the western rim of the canyon and the sheer immensity of this natural wonder hit me smack between the eyes.

Heli USA also offer a stay at their 106,000 acre Grand Canyon West Ranch. There in the shadow of Spirit Mountain, you can get to do your best John Wayne impersonations whilst riding, cattle driving and enjoying a stagecoach ride.

As overnight guests we saddled up and rode off to see the Joshua trees and watch the sun set over the desert.

A magnificent dinner back at the ranch house was followed by a few beers and some tall stories round an open camp fire before a night's sleep in a traditional cowboy cabin.

The next morning, after a hearty breakfast we left the dust of the desert behind and headed back on the 45-minute flight to the glitz of vegas, flying up the strip before finally touching down.

I was sad to leave the ranch behind - it was the best experience of the trip - but I guess in a city where big is beautiful, the Grand Canyon is always going to have the upper hand.

GMTV toDAY

BBC - Jet Set

UNITED KINGDOM

This exclusive Grand Canyon Overnight Getaway was featured on the BBC's Jet Set Television Program! Jet Setters Shane and Rebecca boarded their luxurious jetcopter for a flight to Grand Canyon West Ranch. During their flight, they descended 1,500 ft. into the Grand Canyon itself. After departing the Grand Canyon, they landed at the exclusive Grand Canyon West Ranch where an authentic stage coach awaited for a journey along the Old Mormon Trail through the Joshua Tree Forest. Shane and Rebecca mounted their horses for a trail ride before sitting down for a romantic private dinner overlooking Spirit Mountain. After dinner, they enjoyed a bottle of champagne around a blazing campfire with live entertainment under the stars. They retired to their cabin where a log fire and candles awaited. Next morning, a ranch breakfast awaited before they boarded their helicopter to Las Vegas concluding with a flight down the "Strip."

News of the World

UNITED KINGDOM

From EastEnd to Wild West - Playing Alfie has left Shane Richie over the Moon. As cheeky chappie Alfie Moon, Shane Richie is soapland's favourite landlord. But even he was shocked to find out just how far-flung his character's popularity is.

To celebrate his success at the Queen Vc, Shane, girlfriend Chris-tie Goddard and his sons Shane Jr, 14, and 11-year-old Jake - flew to a remote ranch in the depths of the Grand Canyon in the States. And he was besieged by fans who watch EastEnders on BBC America! "A helicopter took us from Las Vegas to this ranch in the middle of nowhere," says Shane.

"And as soon as I stepped out, there was a crowd of people wanting photographs. "People had been coming up to me on the streets in LA and Vegas saying 'Hey Alfie, how ya doing?' But I didn't expect it out on a ranch!" "I'm just so glad that people now shout out 'Hey, Alfie' instead of 'Hey, aren't you that prat off the Daz ad?'"

AUSTRALIA

Travel Journalist Monique Wright, from Australia's premier morning show Sunrise 7, experiences Heli USA's exclusive Grand Canyon Overnight Getaway by Helicopter!

Monique's jetcopter takes her from Las Vegas to the peace and tranquility of the Grand Canyon Plateau. Her flight included a descent into the Grand Canyon to marvel at its towering geological rock formations. After landing at Grand Canyon West Ranch Monique checked-in to her cabin, followed by a stagecoach ride on the Historic Mormon trail. After dinner, it was time for a campfire under the stars.

Testimonials

From Guests & Passengers

"SIMPLY THE BEST"

This was the best ever experience I've had. The staff was extremely friendly and helpful and went out of their way to accommodate my husband and myself. The horseback sunset ride was great and my husband loved this, especially as it was his first time on a horse. - LESLEY ANDERSON, ABERDEEN, SCOTLAND UK

"THE WEDDING OF MY DREAMS"

We have just arrived back home. Just wanted to send an email to say a huge THANK YOU for organising my wedding. I had the wedding of my dreams it was truly amazing. Please can you pass on my thanks to: Roger the helicopter pilot he was very informative and made the flight there and back perfect. Ranch staff they were brilliant the ranch was stunning and they were so friendly. The setting was perfect and we all enjoyed the gunfight and dressing up as cowboys. Just watched the DVD what can I say it made me cry it was perfect. Thank you again, everybody was just so nice and made my wedding the wedding of my dreams. There's no words to describe how I feel, it was truly amazing and a day to remember. All my guests thought it was superb we had an excellent time and its all down to Heli USA thank you again. Everybody was truly amazing please thank everyone.
- DAISY FROM BELFAST, IRELAND

"A MEMORY I WILL ALWAYS CHERISH"

My son and I took the heli there and back, staying overnight. It was, at least for me, the best part of our stay in Las Vegas. The horse riding was so different to anything in England. The entertainment was brilliant. Casey Adams, with his friends, entertained all evening and the next morning. - JOHN FROM CAMDEN, ENGLAND

"I WANT TO BE A COWGIRL AND WORK A RANCH!"

Stayed here half-way through our honeymoon. The overnight experience itself was brilliant - BBQ dinner, songs and stories around a campfire in the evening and an early morning horse riding session which leads you to some fantastic views in Joshua Tree Forest. - REBECCA WHIP, MANCHESTER, UK

HOLLY BRANSON & FRIENDS HORSEBACK RIDING

"OH MY GOD!!!!!"

Oh my god what an experience, the helicopter ride, the views of the canyon, the stay at the ranch (bring warm clothing, stayed in November). Totally amazing. My husband Steve & I went as part of our Vegas Trip. Highlight of trip.!!!!!! My husband wants to be a cowboy when he grows up!!!!!! Cant fault anything. We had 'Thanksgiving' at the ranch, ate pumpkin pie! to sweet but different. Sang with Mike around the campfire (THANKS MIKE) for being so good. Took very spiritual photos of Spirit Mountain, have lots of pictures with spiritual orbs in it. Amazing!!!!. Everyone at the ranch was so welcoming. Cabins really comfy, food great. WHAT A PLACE TO VISIT!!!!!! Would love to come back and stay longer!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! THANKS TO ALL. - AVRIL MOORE, SCOTLAND

"WHAT A BLAST!"

They offered the best heli packages around, most liked everything about the ranch especially the meals (not too big, just right), be sure to bring warm cloths and boots if you're going hiking or trail riding. From the minute we arrived we were treated like long-lost relatives being welcomed home. Casey and the rest of the gang made us feel so comfortable. There were 4 of us so we stayed in one of the "loft" cabins about 50 yards from the main horse corral, which was great. I'm a big Louis L'Amour fan so I sat on the porch of our cabin in the big 'ol rocking chair reading my book just before dinner while I watched the sun set and listened to the horses. I did the same the following morning when I was treated to a mini-stampede as some of the horses decided they'd rather drink the water in the creek in front of the cabin than go into the corral. What a hoot. Sitting around the campfire listening to Casey sing his songs while playing the guitar was a highlight to our stay. Any song you can imagine, he can play, note-for-note, and sing, verbatim. He went from singing some country and western song right into Led Zepplin's Stairway to Heaven and American Pie. He was just awesome. He also seemed to have a specific song for each group that come into the ranch depending on what part of the world you were from. He sang "Sudbury Saturday Night" for us and a song about the tobacco fields in Tillsonburg. What a treat he was. A true host and gentleman. We only stayed one night at the ranch but felt as though we knew everyone there. We even received hugs upon our departure - what a place. We can't wait to go back!

Grand Canyon West Ranch

Grand Canyon West Ranch has an exciting and colorful history. The original ranch headquarters is located next to Diamond Bar Springs, known to Native Americans for the last 3,600 years. The oldest inhabitants at the springs were the Cohina Indians, whose casting pits have been carbon dated back to circa 3,600 B.C. The Indians called the springs "Mahka Springs." Around 1800, after the Mexican War, gold miners built a Stamp mill to process ore for the King of the Mines from the Colorado Territory. In 1860, a group of miners discovered the springs and built a small settlement. The settlement was called "Mahka Springs" and was the site of a dance ritual. The dance ritual was performed by the family of the miners and was a celebration of the discovery of the springs. Cattle

Grand Canyon Ranch raises Charolais cattle, which are free to roam over 100,000 acres of beautiful, diverse terrain. The Charolais breed is a natural beef producer, known for the preferred quality of its beef. The Charolais was the first and largest breed to come from France, imported to America in 1825. Much of the breed's genetic diversity comes from a wide range of crosses in the early 1800s. European breeders often crossed their cattle with the heavy, muscular animals of the original Spanish breed, which was bred with the immense strength and productivity of the French, because the Spanish breed had the reputation of being the best of its kind. The Charolais breed is a result of this hybridization, producing a breed that is known for its size, strength and productivity.

Why Cattle Branding?

For centuries, the trade in livestock has been a vital part of the American economy. The cattle industry has been a major source of food and fiber for the United States. The bison was a keystone species in the Great Plains ecosystem, and its removal had a profound impact on the land and the people who lived there. The bison provided food, clothing, and shelter for the Plains Indians, and their presence helped maintain the health of the grasslands. The bison was also a vital part of the economy of the American West, and its removal led to the collapse of many bison-dependent communities. The bison is now a symbol of the American West, and its recovery is a major goal of conservation efforts in the region.

Grand Canyon Ranch Has A Colorful History and is located next to Diamond Bar Springs, a place that has been known to Native Americans for 3,600 years.

The oldest inhabitants at the springs were the Cohina Indians whose roasting pits have been carbon dated back to circa 1800 B.C. In 1871 the Wheeler expedition first surveyed the springs during their exploration of the Grand Canyon. The Indians called the springs, Tanyaka Springs or Grass Springs.

Around 1880, after the Hualapai War, gold miners built a Stamp Mill to crush ore for the King Tut Gold Mine. They named the springs Guffan Springs. From the 1870's onwards the Mormons used the springs as a resting and watering place for wagon trains which used Diamond Bar Road. In May of 1888 the Hualapai Indian Tribe's first Ghost Dance ritual was held at these Springs. All participants were dressed in white and danced for five days and nights.

In the late 1800s Wellington Starky started a cattle ranch and called it Diamond Bar Ranch. In 1904 at the age of 41 a notorious gunfighter and cattle rancher called Tap Duncan bought the ranch to escape from his previous... "profession." It is believed Tap rode with Kid Curry and the hole in the wall gang.

Tap Duncan became one of the most well-known and widely respected pioneer cattlemen running over 2,000 head of cattle on over a million acres. His other ventures included involvement in the aforementioned King Tut Gold Mine. He was eventually killed at the ripe age of age of 74, ironically, run over by a car in Kingman, Arizona.

From 1915 onwards an unknown cowboy called Bruce Kiskaddon worked for Tap. He wrote about the ranch and in doing so started cowboy poetry. In 1915 cowboy poets were not popular but he was encouraged by Tap. The Los Angeles Times published his works for 30 years. "Rhymes and Ranches" published in 1947 is about Tap and Diamond Bar Ranch. Bruce became one of the most famous Cowboy Poets.

What happened here is the real deal, a slice of genuine Wild West history

The great ranches of the Old West are time capsules of the American frontier, where one can hear tales of gunfighters and desperadoes, wranglers and cowpokes, and cattle drives of a thousand miles up the dusty Chisholm and Goodnight-Loving trails to the railheads of Abilene, Dodge City and Denver. These historic ranches are the stuff of legend, and more than one classic John Ford western movie.

Yet right here, close to the gleaming casinos and luxury hotels of Las Vegas, is one of the great western ranches, the historic 165 square mile Grand Canyon Ranch Resort, which wrote an exciting chapter of its own in the settlement of northern Arizona. Part of the Mormon Trail ran through its land. Indians practiced their mysterious (and frightening!) ritual of the Ghost Dance here. In addition, a notorious gunfighter, Tap Duncan, settled here after riding with the real Hole in the Wall Gang. After he hung up his six-guns and became a somewhat reputable member of society, Tap bought the ranch then known as the Diamond Bar. He enlarged it to 1.45 million acres, and ran 10,000 head of cattle on it. After Tap's long tenure the Ranch passed into the hands of several owners, including Tap's daughters, a world champion rodeo rider, and finally was purchased by an Englishman from Stockport in northern England, a man with a passion for the Old West.

That would be me, your host at Grand Canyon Ranch.

On acquiring the Ranch, I found that its history had never been documented, so, with my wife Lesley, we set about reconstructing that history from the time of the Cohina Indians, who settled here nearly four thousand years ago. Surveys of the ranch by a professor of archeology were undertaken, along with numerous visits to local museums and area newspapers, plus interviews with descendants of families who once owned the property. Tap Duncan's grandson, a gentleman in his eighties and a guest at the ranch, held us spellbound with stories about the real Tap Duncan—a feared gunfighter in the tradition of Wild Bill Hickok and Doc Holliday, and whose brother was hanged for murder by the old corral at the entrance to the Ranch.

My fascination with Western lore began when I rode with my own outfit – the British Army, in Germany. As an officer flying VIPs and politicians in helicopters around the country and along the Berlin Wall, I dreamed about starting a helicopter sightseeing company of my own. The dream became reality with the formation of Hell USA Airways. After flying tourists for years over the Grand Canyon and Ranch, I made a bid to acquire the Ranch. It was pretty run down, but I welcomed enthusiastically the challenge to preserve its history and legends, and to restore the ranch to its former glory.

Join us as we delve into the exciting history of Grand Canyon Ranch Resort. What happened here is the real deal, a slice of genuine Wild West history just 2 hours from the Vegas Strip. I guarantee you'll enjoy the trip.
