Sorry for the wait we've been extremely busy, however the marks you showed me I have never seen them until this situation came up, and my question is before my trademark was sent and there were no errors as far as with the microphones that your trying to have us to change, what we would want to know is how did my trademark go threw with no problems, but now you guys want us to change our mark. I feel that sending a mark should be highly secured by someone so they won't have to go threw this, but if it is possible can we have more time, and can you work with us because all of this is uncalled for.
