The Applicant found that this process involves many additional deadlines, stipulations, and logistical conditions to be met that are all encompassing under even the best of circumstances. A general state of sudden upheaval without regular access to work space and necessary documents, along with the rigorous demands of relocation and the normal scope of obligations of running a small business resulted in an oversight and confusion regarding the trial dates and deadlines. Once the oversight was discovered, the Applicant moved to correct the oversight by submitting the necessary testimony.

As previously requested in the Applicant's paper dated July 17, 2015, the Applicant would like to again submit her most sincere plea for relief in the matter of the June 2nd deadline, the acceptance of her testimony into record, and the reset of trial dates to allow the Opposer sufficient time for rebuttal, as well as the remaining trial dates if the board would allow it.

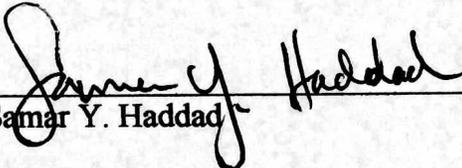

Respectfully Submitted,

By
