CaseWare International Inc.

v.

Openidea, Tecnologias DeE
Telecomunicacoe S E Sistemas
De Informazao S.A.

On July 23, 2013,¹ the parties filed applicant's proposed amendment to its application Serial No. 85189570, with opposer's consent, and opposer's withdrawal with prejudice of the opposition, contingent upon entry of the amendment.

By the proposed amendment applicant seeks to change the identification of services in Class 42 from "Computer software development; computer software technological consultancy; consulting in the field of telecommunications technology; providing telecommunications planning and engineering services in the field of information technologies and networks and communications technologies and networks" to "computer software development in the fields of communications and telecommunications; computer software technological consultancy in the fields of communications and telecommunications;² consulting in the field of telecommunications technology; providing telecommunications planning and engineering services in the field of information technologies and networks and communications technologies and networks."

¹ It is noted that applicant submitted the motion via ESTTA and the motion fails to include a certificate of service. Future filings must comply with the service requirements in Trademark Rule 2.119 and TBMP Section 113. The Board may decline to consider future non-compliant filings.

Inasmuch as the amendment is clearly limiting in nature as required by Trademark Rule 2.71(a), and because opposer consents thereto, it is approved and entered. See Trademark Rule 2.133(a).

The contingency in opposer's withdrawal having now been met, the opposition is dismissed with prejudice.
