INTERESTED DIRECTORS, OFFICERS AND SHAREHOLDERS

7.01 Validity Unaffected. If paragraph 7.02 is satisfied, no contract, act, or transaction between this corporation and any of its directors, officers or shareholders, or any firm, trust, or association in which any of them are directly or indirectly interested, shall be affected or invalidated solely because of this relationship or because of the presence of a directors, officer, or shareholder at the meeting authorizing the contract or transaction, or his participation, or both, in the meeting or authorization, except as may be otherwise provided in Article 2.41 of the Texas Business Corporation Act. No duty to pay damages to this corporation shall be imposed upon any directors, officer, or shareholder of this corporation solely by reason of such fact or facts, regardless of the vote, action, or presence of any such director.

7.02 Disclosure, Approval, Fairness. Paragraph 7.01 shall only apply if:

- (1) The material facts of the relationship of interest of each director is known or disclosed:
 - (a) to the Board of directors, and the board authorizes or ratifies the contract, act, or transaction by a vote of the majority of the directors present (each interested director shall be counted in determining whether a quorum is present, but not counted in determining the majority necessary to carry the vote); or
 - (b) to the shareholders, and they authorize or ratify the contract, act, or transaction by a majority of the disinterested shares present (each such interested person shall be counted for quorum and voting purposes); or
- (2) the contract, act, or transaction is fair to the corporation as of the time it is authorized or ratified by the Board of directors or the shareholders.

7.03 Nonexclusive. This provision shall not be construed to invalidate a contract, act, or transaction which would be valid in the absence of this provision.

ARTICLE VIII

INDEMNIFICATION

8.01 Persons Covered. The corporation shall indemnify, to the extent provided in paragraphs 8.02, 8.04, or 8.06:

- (1) any person who is or was a director, officer, agent, or employee of the corporation; and
- (2) any person who serves or served at the corporation's request as a director, officer, agent, employee, partner, venturer, proprietor, or trustee of another corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, sole proprietorship, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise.

8.02 Extent of Coverage - Derivative Suits. In case of a suit by or in the right of the corporation against a person named in paragraph 8.01 by reason of his holding a position named in paragraph 8.01 the corporation shall indemnify such person, if he satisfies the standard in paragraph 8.03, for expenses (including court costs and attorneys' fees, but excluding amounts paid in settlement) actually and reasonably incurred by him in connection with the defense or settlement of the suit.

8.03 Requirements for Coverage - Derivative Suits. In case of a suit by or in the right of the corporation, a person named in paragraph 8.01 shall be indemnified only if:

- (1) he is successful on the merits or otherwise; or
- (2) he acted in good faith in the transaction which is the subject of the suit, and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in, (or not opposed to, but only in cases in which he was not acting in his official capacity as director of the corporation) the best interests of the corporation. However, he shall not be indemnified in respect to any claim, issue, or matter as to which he has been adjudged (1) liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him, whether or not the benefit resulted from action taken in his official capacity, or (2) liable to the corporation, unless (and only to the extent that) the court in which the suit was brought shall determine, upon application, that, despite the adjudication but in view of all the circumstances, he is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnity for such expenses as the court shall deem proper.

8.04 Extent of Coverage - Nonderivative Suits. In case of a suit, action, or proceeding (whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative) other than a suit by or in the right of the corporation, collectively hereafter referred to as a nonderivative suit, against a person named in paragraph 8.01, by reason of his holding a position named in paragraph 8.01, the corporation shall indemnify such person, if he satisfied the standard in paragraph 8.05, for amounts actually and reasonably incurred by him in connection with the defense or settlement of the nonderivative suit as:

- (1) expenses (including court costs and attorneys' fees);
- (2) amounts paid in settlement;
- (3) judgments;
- (4) fines; and
- (5) penalties.

8.05 Requirements for Coverage - Nonderivative Suits. In case of a nonderivative suit, a person named in paragraph 8.01 shall be indemnified only if:

- (1) he is successful on the merits or otherwise; or
- (2) he acted in good faith in the transaction which is the subject of the nonderivative suit, and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in, (or not opposed to, but only in cases in which he was not acting in his official capacity as director of the corporation) the best interests of the corporation and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, he had no reasonable cause to believe his conduct was unlawful. The termination of nonderivative suit by judgment order, settlement conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent shall not, of itself, create a presumption that the person failed to satisfy the standard of this paragraph 8.05(2).

8.06 Determination Standard Met. A determination that the standard of paragraph 8.03 or 8.05 has been satisfied may be made by a court. Or, except as stated in paragraph 8.03(2), the determination may be made:

- (1) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of directors who at the time of the vote are not named defendants or respondents in the action, suit or proceeding;
- (2) if such a quorum cannot be obtained, by a majority vote of a committee of the Board of directors, designated to act in the matter by a majority vote of all directors, consisting solely of two or more directors who at the time of the vote are not named defendants or respondents in the action, suit, or proceeding;

- (3) by special legal counsel selected by the Board of directors or a committee of the board by vote as set forth in (1) or (2) of this paragraph, or, if such a quorum cannot be obtained and such a committee cannot be established, such selection may be made by a majority vote of all directors; or
- (4) by the shareholders in a vote that excludes the shares held by directors who are named defendants or respondents in the action, suit, or proceeding.

8.07 Proration. Anyone making a determination under paragraph 8.06 may determine that a person has met the standard as to some matters but not as to others, and may reasonably prorate amounts to be indemnified.

8.08 Advances. The corporation may pay in advance any expenses (including attorneys' fees) which may become subject to indemnification under paragraph 8.01-07 if:

- (1) the corporation receives (1) a written affirmation by the director of his good faith belief that he has met the standard of conduct necessary for indemnification under paragraph 8.03 or 8.05 and (2) a written undertaking by or on behalf of the director to repay the amount paid or reimbursed if it is ultimately determined that he has not met those requirements; and
- (2) a determination that the facts then known to those making the determination would not preclude indemnification under paragraphs 8.01-8.07.

8.09 Nonexclusive. The indemnification provided by paragraph 8.01-8.07 shall not be exclusive of any other rights to which a person may be entitled by law, bylaw, agreement, vote of shareholders or disinterested directors, or otherwise.

8.10 Continuation. The indemnification and advance payment provided by paragraph 8.01-8.08 shall continue as to a person who has ceased to hold a position named in paragraph 8.01 and shall inure to his heirs, executors, and administrators.

8.11 Insurance. The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who holds or who has held any position named in paragraph 8.01 against any liability incurred by him in any such position, or arising out of his status as such, whether or not the corporation would have power to indemnify him against such liability under paragraphs 8.01-

8.12 Reports. Indemnification payments, advance payments, and insurance payments made under paragraphs 8.01-8.11 shall be reported in writing to the shareholders of the corporation with the next notice of annual meeting or within six (6) month, whichever is sooner.

ARTICLE IX

LIMITATION OF DIRECTOR LIABILITY

If a Board of Directors is established, a director of the corporation will not be liable to the corporation or its shareholders for monetary damages for an act or omission in the director's capacity as a director except that this article does not eliminate nor limit the liability of director for;

- (1) a breach of a director's duty of loyalty to the corporation or its shareholders;
- (2) an act or omission not in good faith or that involves intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of the law;
- (3) a transaction from which a director received an improper benefit, whether or not the benefit resulted from an action taken within the scope of the director's office;
- (4) an act or omission for which the liability of a director is expressly provided for by statute, or
- (5) an act related to an unlawful stock repurchase or payment of a dividend.

ARTICLE X

INTERESTED DIRECTORS, OFFICERS AND SHAREHOLDERS

7.01 Validity Unaffected. If paragraph 7.02 is satisfied, no contract, act, or transaction between this corporation and any of its directors, officers or shareholders, or any firm, trust, or association in which any of them are directly or indirectly interested, shall be affected or invalidated solely because of this relationship or because of the presence of a directors, officer, or shareholder at the meeting authorizing the contract or transaction, or his participation, or both, in the meeting or authorization, except as may be otherwise provided in Article 2.41 of the Texas Business Corporation Act. - (2) the contract, act, or transaction is fair to the corporation as of the time it is authorized or ratified by the Board of directors or the shareholders.

7.03 Nonexclusive. This provision shall not be construed to invalidate a contract, act, or transaction which would be valid in the absence of this provision.

ARTICLE VIII

INDEMNIFICATION

8.01 Persons Covered. The corporation shall indemnify, to the extent provided in paragraphs 8.02, 8.04, or 8.06:

- (1) any person who is or was a director, officer, agent, or employee of the corporation; and
- (2) any person who serves or served at the corporation's request as a director, officer, agent, employee, partner, venturer, proprietor, or trustee of another corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, sole proprietorship, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise.

8.02 Extent of Coverage - Derivative Suits. In case of a suit by or in the right of the corporation against a person named in paragraph 8.01 by reason of his holding a position named in paragraph 8.01 the corporation shall indemnify such person, if he satisfies the standard in paragraph 8.03, for expenses (including court costs and attorneys' fees, but excluding amounts paid in settlement) actually and reasonably incurred by him in connection with the defense or settlement of the suit.

8.03 Requirements for Coverage - Derivative Suits. In case of a suit by or in the right of the corporation, a person named in paragraph 8.01 shall be indemnified only if:

- (1) he is successful on the merits or otherwise; or
- (2) he acted in good faith in the transaction which is the subject of the suit, and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in, (or not opposed to, but only in cases in which he was not acting in his official capacity as director of the corporation) the best interests of the corporation. However, he shall not be indemnified in respect to any claim, issue, or matter as to which he has been adjudged (1) liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him, whether or not the benefit resulted from action taken in his official capacity, or (2) liable to the corporation, unless (and only to the extent that) the court in which the suit was brought shall determine, upon application, that, despite the adjudication but in view of all the circumstances, he is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnity for such expenses as the court shall deem proper.

8.04 Extent of Coverage - Nonderivative Suits. In case of a suit, action, or proceeding (whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative) other than a suit by or in the right of the corporation, collectively hereafter referred to as a nonderivative suit, against a person named in paragraph 8.01, by reason of his holding a position named in paragraph 8.01, the corporation shall indemnify such person, if he satisfied the standard in paragraph 8.05, for amounts actually and reasonably incurred by him in connection with the defense or settlement of the nonderivative suit as:

- (1) expenses (including court costs and attorneys' fees);
- (2) amounts paid in settlement;

- (2) he acted in good faith in the transaction which is the subject of the nonderivative suit, and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in, (or not opposed to, but only in cases in which he was not acting in his official capacity as director of the corporation) the best interests of the corporation and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, he had no reasonable cause to believe his conduct was unlawful. The termination of nonderivative suit by judgment order, settlement conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent shall not, of itself, create a presumption that the person failed to satisfy the standard of this paragraph 8.05(2).

- (4) by the shareholders in a vote that excludes the shares held by directors who are named defendants or respondents in the action, suit, or proceeding.

8.07 Proration. Anyone making a determination under paragraph 8.06 may determine that a person has met the standard as to some matters but not as to others, and may reasonably prorate amounts to be indemnified.

8.08 Advances. The corporation may pay in advance any expenses (including attorneys' fees) which may become subject to indemnification under paragraph 8.01-07 if:

- (1) the corporation receives (1) a written affirmation by the director of his good faith belief that he has met the standard of conduct necessary for indemnification under paragraph 8.03 or 8.05 and (2) a written undertaking by or on behalf of the director to repay the amount paid or reimbursed if it is ultimately determined that he has not met those requirements; and
- (2) a determination that the facts then known to those making the determination would not preclude indemnification under paragraphs 8.01-8.07.

8.09 Nonexclusive. The indemnification provided by paragraph 8.01-8.07 shall not be exclusive of any other rights to which a person may be entitled by law, bylaw, agreement, vote of shareholders or disinterested directors, or otherwise.

8.10 Continuation. The indemnification and advance payment provided by paragraph 8.01-8.08 shall continue as to a person who has ceased to hold a position named in paragraph

8.01 and shall inure to his heirs, executors, and administrators.

8.11 Insurance. The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who holds or who has held any position named in paragraph 8.01 against any liability incurred by him in any such position, or arising out of his status as such, whether or not the corporation would have power to indemnify him against such liability under paragraphs 8.01-808.

- (5) an act related to an unlawful stock repurchase or payment of a dividend.

C I Host Named Number One Web Hosting Company in Dallas Business Journal's Annual "Book Of Lists"

FORT WORTH (March 13, 2007)

FORT WORTH (March 13, 2007) - C I Host, a global leader in Web hosting and software development, has been named the number one Web hosting company in the Dallas/Fort Worth Metroplex by the Dallas Business Journal in its annual "Book of Lists."

"We are pleased and honored to be chosen by the Journal as the top Web hosting company," said Christopher Faulkner, CEO of C I Host. "The Dallas/Fort Worth Metroplex is one of the top business markets in the country and it is fertile soil, allowing us to grow worldwide."

The Dallas Business Journal determines which companies win a coveted spot on its list by reviewing revenue and overall industry growth.

A combination of business acumen, putting the customer first and a solid financial foundation has enabled C I Host to grow consistently throughout the ups and downs of the economic cycle over the past nine years.

"We've grown, expanded and stayed ahead of the curve in the industry," Faulkner said. "We consistently put our customers at the center of our company and make sure that giving them the tools to succeed is guiding our decisions."

Over the past year, C I Host has expanded its core data center in Bedford for the fourth time and formed a strategic partnership with Iomega Corporation, a global leader in data protection and developer of OfficeScreen managed services, and developed an anti-scam toolbar and other strategies to protect Internet users from Internet crime.

As part of its expanding services, C I Host pioneered the use of web-based technology to expand the market for musicians and artists to sell their products and services and to help nonprofit organizations linked with the arts to raise funds to help those hurt by national disasters.

"This is an exciting time to be part of the information technology and eCommerce industry," Faulkner said. "We are working consistently to keep the Internet healthy, secure and accessible."

CI Host Invests for Growth, Expands Operations with New Texas Datacenter Facility

FORT WORTH (November 11, 2008)

Company implements 11 years of best practices and better technology for customers

Today, CI Host announced a new datacenter facility scheduled to open in 2009 in Dallas, Texas. The new facility maximizes best practices from the company's 11 years in business, along with providing improved technology to customers. The company continues to offer industry-leading services for the same low prices. The new datacenter facilities expand the company's capabilities while consolidating operations to more efficiently serve customers worldwide.

The new datacenter facilities represent a transformation for the company, as the datacenter is built out for maximum performance, efficiency and availability for the customer - all before customers are ever moved in.

"CI Host is a pioneer in the Web hosting industry and we have the opportunity to use more than a decade of experiences to build a customer's ideal datacenter from the ground up - and then deliver it to them," said Erin Bullock, Executive Director of Business Development for CI Host. ;

The new facilities, which will open in February 2009, boast 60,000 square feet of space with diverse electrical feeds and fiber entrances, while a 1.5-megawatt power transformer and 750-kilowatt transformer will ably handle electrical loads. On-site fuel storage and a generator with Automatic Transfer Switches will help ensure consistent power availability.

Nicholas Giancola, Chief Network Architect at CI Host adds: "We're using the new facilities as a blank slate opportunity to provide the kind of technology and service our customers demand."

The new buildings are located in the Dallas Love Field Corridor, 6 miles from downtown Dallas, 2.5 miles from Love Field Airport, and 10 miles from DFW International Airport.

New customers will be added to the new facility in early 2009, while current CI Host customers will be migrated during the following six to twelve months.

CI Host struggling back after server crash

Kerry Curry
Staff Writer

BEDFORD -- When CI Host's name server went down and dumped its 48,000 customers off the Internet, the company experienced a "very catastrophic event" but not a business-ending one, an information-technology analyst says.

Even so, "this can have a significant impact on a hoster's reputation," said Audrey Apfel, vice president and research director at the Gartner Group in Stamford, Conn.

CI Host, a Web-hosting company in Bedford, said its primary name server experienced data corruption that rendered it useless on Dec. 29. Though the company said its name server was restored by Jan. 1, it took time to get customers' sites operating again. Some customers said their sites were down for more than a week, and customers were still reporting problems with their sites working properly this week.

Such problems aren't unheard of in the hosting industry, although Apfel said CI Host's problems were "worse than most."

The incident spells an opportunity for competitors to go after CI Host's customers, she said. "CI Host has hundreds of competitors. None of these guys are big enough to make a foray, but there will be plenty of nibbling at the edges."

Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.-based ValueWeb, which hosts 50,000 Web sites, is one of the companies doing some nibbling.

"It is unfortunate that our competitors have problems, but when they do, we do try to capitalize on that," said Jeffrey D. Rubenstein, president and chief operating officer at ValueWeb. Rubenstein said ValueWeb had gained some former CI Host customers, but declined to say how many.

Apfel said CI Host is most at risk for losing its top-tier customers -- those who use their Internet sites for e-commerce and expected a stable environment. Others who have more passive sites likely will be satisfied with the steps CI Host has taken to remedy the situation.

C I Host has been honored as one of HostPulse.com's 100 Most Dynamic Web Hosting Companies and has received a Top 10 Host Award from WebHostsOnline.com in recognition of its superior service, speed and introduction of cutting edge technology.

"We are certainly pleased with these awards," said Christopher Faulkner, founder and CEO of C I Host. "Putting our customers first and doing our part to keep the Internet healthy and accessible for all our global citizens is central to our mission."

In explaining how it chose the hundred most dynamic web hosting companies, HostPulse.com said: "Web users want a hosting partner rather than a vendor. Our '100 Most Dynamic Web Hosting Companies' listing recognizes companies in the web hosting industry that demonstrate three characteristics -- responsiveness to market demand, marketing expertise, and building successful customer relationships."

In addition, C I Host was ranked in the top 20 web hosts tested by targetblaster.com for having 99.45 percent uptime, one of the highest ratios in the industry.

"We aren't surprised by our high ranking," Faulkner said. "We have invested significant amounts of money and resources in the past year to make our network one of the most robust and reliable in the world."

C I Host, founded to be a customer-centric operation, has been at the forefront in passing its good fortune on to its customers. Long after other companies stopped trying to copy its two-for-one server offer, C I Host was still reaping the benefits of its "share the wealth" marketing philosophy.

"Other companies copied it but couldn't reproduce the profits and stopped," Faulkner said. "Because of our relationships with more than 25 of the world's largest computer parts vendors, we can buy the best hardware for the lowest prices and pass that savings on to our customers through the two for one server offer. We sold more than 900 paid servers through this offer over the past 12 months."

C I Host's success is due in large part to its marketing savvy and its sound financial footing.

A combination of forces and business decisions has given C I Host the solid foundation that has enabled it not only to withstand, but to thrive in the unsettled economic climate that has forced other firms to cut back, withdraw and sometimes fold their tents.

C I Host has data centers in Texas, Chicago and Los Angeles, will open its first European center in London in April, and has more planned to open in Germany, India and Japan within the year.

"We are growing even faster than we were a year ago," said Faulkner, who turned 25 in December amidst one of C I Host's best months. "Our finances are as sound and secure as our robust network. The future is bright."

CI Host opens store in the Galleria

CI Host, a Bedford-based Web hosting company, has opened its first retail store at the Galleria mall.

CI Host said it believes it is the first company to sell Web hosting and Internet infrastructure services in a bricks-and-mortar store.

"Selling Web hosting services in a retail setting is a new concept," said Christopher Faulkner, CEO of CI Host. "This gives us the ability to meet our customers face-to-face."

CI Host's Technology Store will sell services aimed at small and medium-sized companies, as well as those geared for larger companies. Services will include shared hosting, in which the data from several clients' Web sites are housed on the same server, and dedicated, managed hosting, which gives a large company its own server and technical support staff.

Customers can walk in, buy a Web hosting account, have it set up in the store, and leave the store with all logins necessary to start uploading content when they get home, the company said. They also can order a dedicated server and have it set up and on CI Host's network and their logins e-mailed to them the same day.

CI Host's store also will sell its boxed products, e-Business in a Box and e-Memories on the Web.

The company plans to open future stores in Chicago, Los Angeles and Baltimore, where CI Host has facilities and strong markets, and eventually in malls all over the country.

'Human Billboard' Recruits 800 New Clients for C I Host

More ▾

DALLAS, Oct. 19 /PRNewswire/ -- C I Host, a global leader in Web hosting and software development, today announced its walking, breathing "Human Billboard" captured 800 new accounts since the promotion began in March of 2003. After signing a contract with C I Host, Jim Nelson had the company's logo tattooed on the back of his head.

"The campaign brought C I Host's message to the masses," said Christopher Faulkner, CEO of C I Host. "The 'Human Billboard' is responsible for bringing us hundreds of new clients -- a success by any means."

The 800th customer, Marion Rice of Omaha, Neb., saw the tattoo and instantly questioned Nelson.

"The 'Human Billboard' caught my eye and when I stopped him, he told me about C I Host," Rice said. "He was a big factor in my decision to go with C I Host."

The unique advertising idea has been featured in the press worldwide. Nelson agreed to the unusual use of his head to raise money for a dot.com business.

The five-year contract requires the "Human Billboard" to keep the tattoo visible at all times and make daily treks promoting C I Host, which includes trips throughout the continental U.S.

Faulkner knew the program would be successful shortly after it began -- 23 new accounts were generated directly from the tattooing event and C I Host Web traffic increased 12 percent just within the first two months of the campaign.

"The 'Human Billboard' is one of the most aggressive salespeople I've got," Faulkner said. "This proves the power of grassroots, guerrilla marketing should never be underestimated."
