DECLARATION OF ELIZABETH GALTON IN SUPPORT OF OPPOSER'S MAIN ACR BRIEF

I, Elizabeth Leocardia Galton, declare as follows:

1. I am a Creative Director of Aurum Group Limited (“Aurum”). Aurum is a luxury goods company based in the United Kingdom. Aurum is comprised of four brands: Mappin & Webb, Watches of Switzerland, Goldsmiths, and Watchshop. Mappin & Webb Limited is a subsidiary of Aurum Group Limited, and is the owner of the MAPPIN & WEBB trademarks, which it licenses to Aurum. Aurum is the world’s largest distributor of brands such as Omega, Tag Heuer, and Gucci, and is the United Kingdom’s largest distributor for Rolex, Cartier, and Breitling.

2. The statements set forth in this declaration are based on my personal knowledge and/or on documents and records maintained by Mappin & Webb in the regular course of its business by employees of Mappin & Webb whose responsibility it is to maintain these documents and records in the course of their employment, including the Exhibits attached to this Declaration. I am knowledgeable about the matters set forth in this declaration and the record-keeping practices of Mappin & Webb based on my work experience and training, hands-on experience, and supervision of others with hands-on experience.

3. I have been employed at Aurum since July 2012. My job responsibilities as Director of Aurum include providing strategic direction and managing and implementing product design, product launches, advertising, marketing, sales, public relations, and media campaigns for the MAPPIN & WEBB brand. In my position, I also oversee the planned expansion of the MAPPIN & WEBB brand into the U.S. in conjunction with the Chief Executive Officer of Aurum, Brian Duffy, and the Executive Director of the Luxury Division, François Le Troquer.

4. In my capacity as Director of Aurum, I have curated and managed the Mappin & Webb archive and I am familiar with the history of Mappin & Webb; Mappin & Webb's products; Mappin & Webb's sales, advertising, and promotion of its products; Mappin & Webb's plans for expansion into the U.S.; Mappin & Webb's marks and names comprised of or containing MAPPIN & WEBB (collectively, the "MAPPIN & WEBB Marks"); and media attention and publicity surrounding Mappin & Webb, its products, and the MAPPIN & WEBB Marks.

I. Founding of Mappin & Webb in 1775, Its Prestigious Heritage, and Commercial Success

5. Mappin & Webb is a United Kingdom corporation with its principal place of business in Leicester, United Kingdom.

6. Mappin & Webb traces its origins to Jonathan Mappin, who started a silver workshop in Sheffield, England in 1775. (Ex. 1, MappinWebb0000024.) His four great grandsons incorporated the business as Mappin Brothers, Ltd. in the mid-19th century. (Ex. 2.) The youngest great grandson, Jonathan Newton Mappin, broke off from Mappin Brothers and was joined by George Webb in 1860. (Ex. 2.) The first Mappin & Webb store opened at 77/78, Oxford Street in London that same year. (Ex 1, MappinWebb0000026.)

7. Mappin & Webb has served five British sovereigns over a continuous period since Her Majesty Queen Victoria granted Mappin & Webb a Royal Warrant as silversmiths in 1897. (Ex. 2.) Mappin & Webb currently maintains its Royal Warrant as silversmiths to Her Majesty The Queen and His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales. (Ex. 1, MappinWebb0000025.) In 2012, Mappin & Webb craftsman Martin Swift was appointed Crown Jeweller. (Ex. 1, MappinWebb0000029.)

8. Among other things, Mappin & Webb supplies the British Royal Household, military, and other institutions with commemorative items. (Ex. 1, MappinWebb0000028.)

9. Mappin & Webb also designed the Ryder Cup trophy (a prestigious biennial men's golf competition between teams from Europe and the United States), and has designed and produced the Royal Ascot trophies and cups (one of the world's most acclaimed race competitions attracting many of the world's finest racehorses, including from the U.S.) for the last 75 years. (Ex. 1, MappinWebb0000028.)

10. Mappin & Webb products have been worn by prominent members of the British royal family such as Princess Diana and the Duchess of Cambridge (Kate Middleton), and by Princess Grace Kelly of Monaco—who are well-known in the U.S. and throughout the world. (Ex. 1, MappinWebb0000032-34.)

11. Mappin & Webb seeks to make its brand a more affordable and contemporary “lifestyle” brand, while still embodying its historic prestige and royal connections. (Ex. 1, MappinWebb0000038-39, 42.)

12. Sales of Mappin & Webb products have enjoyed widespread commercial success over the years. For example, in the most recent financial year alone (which ended in May 2015), global gross sales of Mappin & Webb's products totaled

20. Mappin & Webb has also used the mark MAPPIN & WEBB in its trade name since at least as early as 1868 in the United Kingdom and in its corporate name for over a century (as shown in the 1903 leather goods catalog in Paragraph 14 above). Mappin & Webb's current corporate name is Mappin & Webb, Ltd., and its previous names included Mappin and Webb & Co. For over a century, Mappin & Webb has consistently and prominently displayed the MAPPIN & WEBB Marks in its advertising and promotional materials. The MAPPIN & WEBB Marks have also consistently appeared on Mappin & Webb's products (See, e.g., Ex. 17, MappinWebb0000332; Ex. 1, MappinWebb0000040, MappinWebb0000126; and the images below):

21. For over a century, Mappin & Webb has also abbreviated the MAPPIN & WEBB Marks as “MW” and placed the “MW” monogram on some of its products, including on leather goods. All Mappin & Webb’s precious metal products have always been hallmarked, and the Mappin & Webb hallmarks have for over a century been abbreviated, including to “M & W.” Below are photographs of representative Mappin & Webb hallmarks that have been stamped into the Mappin & Webb precious metal products:

22. The “MW” monogram has appeared on many Mappin & Webb products for many years. For example, the monogram was displayed on handbag clasps and leather goods as shown below:

It turns out the necklace is by a notable jewelry firm, Mappin and Webb. It was first noted by Jenny on Facebook, then Anna of My Small Obsessions got in touch with Mappin & Webb who confirmed it is their piece. Below we show a slightly different version, just to provide a sense of the piece.

Kate's necklace is white gold and diamonds, part of the firm's Fortune Collection; that line features a variety of items in white, rose and yellow gold. Below, the Fortune Duo earrings and pendant in white gold and diamonds.

VIII. Applicant's M WEBB Mark and the Goods Intended to Be Offered Under It

55. I understand that Applicant M Webb, LLC ("Applicant") intends to offer handbags, purses, wallets, tote bags and women's apparel and accessories under the mark M WEBB.

56. I have reviewed Applicant's Application Serial No. 85460569 for the mark M WEBB. Like the MAPPIN & WEBB Marks, Applicant's proposed mark begins with "M" and ends with "WEBB." The letter "M" in Applicant's mark is an abbreviation of a word that begins with "M."

57. I understand that Applicant has not offered any products in the U.S. under the M WEBB mark.

58. Applicant, however, has offered apparel products under the MARISSA WEBB mark in the U.S., and those products have been featured in the same fashion and lifestyle publications where Mappin & Webb's products are routinely featured in, including Harper's Bazaar and Marie Claire. (Ex. 31, Mappin & Webb featured in Harper's Bazaar and Marie Claire; Ex. 32, Marissa Webb media mentions from Harper's Bazaar and Marie Claire.)

59. Mappin & Webb and Applicant's products are identical and/or closely related in that both companies intend to offer bags, purses, and wallets. Moreover, Mappin & Webb's leather goods and jewelry are closely related and/or complimentary to Applicant's apparel and accessory products. Handbags, leather goods, and jewelry are often chosen to complement clothing or complete a desired “look.” Indeed, MAPPIN & WEBB-branded jewelry products are often featured alongside clothing, purses, and accessories in fashion magazines, as shown below in the representative excerpt from Harper’s Bazaar UK (July 2015):

60. Moreover, numerous fashion brands offer products listed in both Mappin & Webb’s and Applicant’s trademark applications, including Oscar de la Renta, Christian Dior, and Cartier, among many others.

I declare under penalty of perjury of the laws of the United States that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746. This declaration was executed on June 25, 2015 in London, United Kingdom.

OUR STORY SO FAR - A VERY BRITISH AFFAIR

In 1775, at the age of 18, Jonathan Mappin started a small cutlery workshop in Sheffield. Within a year the first Mappin hallmark was recorded at the assay office and in 1780 Jonathan Mappin was given the Freedom of the Cutlers Company.

The 'Cutlers Company of Hallamshire', to give it its full title, was incorporated in 1624 to provide jurisdiction over those making cutlery near Sheffield and to promote Sheffield as a place of expertise. The Company and Sheffield's cutlery trade and reputation persist to this day.

Jonathan Mappin's son Joseph followed him into the business and was also a Freeman, then came his grandson, also called Joseph. But it was under his four great grandsons, who incorporated the business as Mappin Brothers Ltd, in the middle of the 19th Century that the significant expansion began – at the time, the youngest brother, Jonathan Newton Mappin, was only 14 years old.

In 1849, the first London showroom opened at 17 Fore Street; shortly afterwards the eldest brother was knighted, becoming Sir William Mappin but as the business grew the brothers each took a different path.

Sir William Mappin left in 1859, to become the senior partner at Thomas Turton & Sons' steel mill, and gave his share of Mappin Brothers to the other three. In 1860, John Mappin, the youngest but by now 22 years old, broke away from Mappin Brothers and started his own business Mappin & Company. John Mappin was joined in the new adventure two years later by his brother in law George Webb.

Although Webb's name was included in the company name from 1864, it was not until 1868 that Mappin and Webb & Co was formed, the very year that George Webb was to die. 'Mappin & Webb Ltd' was first recorded in 1889, and at this stage the business was focussed on manufacturing based in Sheffield.

Meanwhile Mappin Brothers Ltd had remained with the middle brothers, Joseph and Edward, and as the British Empire grew they had grown with it, with stores being opened world-wide. They were succeeded by Edward's son

Shortly afterwards the eldest brother was knighted, becoming Sir Fredrick Mappin.

As the business grew the brothers each took a different path.

1859 Sir Fredrick Mappin left to become the senior partner at Thomas Turton & Sons' steel mill, and gave his share of Mappin Brothers to the other three.

1860 John Newton Mappin, the youngest but by now 22 years old, breaks away from Mappin Brothers and starts his own business Mappin & Company.

1862 John Newton Mappin was joined in the new adventure
by his brother in law George Webb.

Mappin & Webb opens its first shop on Regent Street.

1868 Mappin and Webb & Co was formed, the very year that George Webb was to die.

1884 Mappin Brothers Ltd had remained with the middle brothers, Joseph and Edward, and as the British Empire grew they had grown with it, with stores being opened worldwide.

Joseph and Edward Mappin of Mappin Brothers were succeeded by Edward's son Charles Mappin who eventually sold the business in 1884.

1889 Mappin & Webb Ltd is first recorded, and at this stage
the business is focussed on manufacturing based in Sheffield.

1897 HM Queen Victoria granted a royal warrant to Mappin & Webb the year of The Queen's diamond jubilee. This was the first as silversmiths.

1903 John Newton Mappin acquires the original London
retail business, Mappin Brothers.

1904 The Company was known as 'Mappin & Webb Ltd
incorporating Mappin Brothers'.

The double named business is evident in some of the old store photographs from this era which show both Mappins and Mappin & Webb names on shop exteriors.

The war
years During the First and Second World Wars the company factories were converted for the manufacture of armaments.

2007 The company forms part of the successful, privately owned retail group Aurum Holdings, along with Watches of Switzerland and Goldsmiths.

2012 Today Mappin & Webb holds a Royal Warrant as Silversmiths to HM The Queen and to HRH The Prince of Wales.

VINTAGE COSTUME JEWELLERY

VINTAGE ITEMS

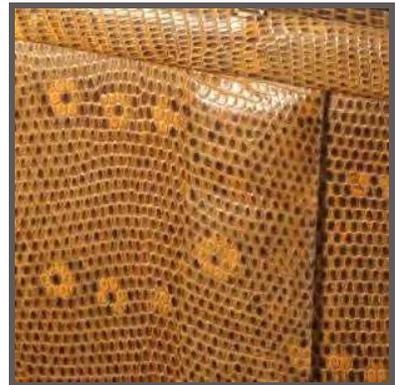

A fine example of a vintage Lizard Skin Handbag by one of the most famous British companies "Mappin and Webb". They began trading in Sheffield in 1810 and went on to trade from Regent Street in London and are well known for their excellent quality items, they hold a Royal Warrant for being suppliers to the Her Majesty the Queen.

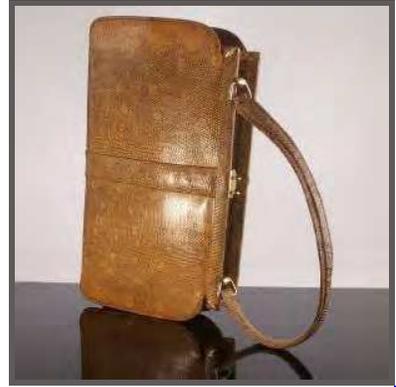

This is a beautiful Lizard skin with no scuffs or damage to it, the interior is suede lined and has four pockets. One with a zip fastener which is in perfect working order another for storing your lipstick and two others so this handbag is very well designed as one would expect from any Mappin and Webb item. Very popular design that they used in the 50's and 60's so a lovely vintage example.

The clasp works well and this is indeed a fine example of a British Vintage Handbag and as all us ladies know there is nothing better to make a statement than a good quality handbag.

The measurements are approx 29cm wide, 17cm high and 5cm deep but of course expands to a larger size.

Vintage mid century Mappin Webb England black lizard and leather clutch

Vintage mid century Mappin Webb England black lizard and leather clutch

Beautiful and very elegant clutch bag made from lizard skin and black leather. Made by Mappin Webb from UK. I love the deco style silver clasp MW - gives it a contemporary edge. Originally, it would have had a separate removable thin shoulder strap, as there are two tabs on the underside. This is missing and the price reflects this.

The epitome of British style and taste, Mappin & Webb was founded in 1774 by Jonathan Mappin. Famous for producing quality jewellery, silverware, watches and glassware. They also produced and continue to produce lizard skin handbags of the very highest quality. These bags are highly sought after by collectors.

11/13/2014

bags are highly sought after by collectors.

It is 11" (28cm) wide at the base X 7" (18cm) high X 2 3/8" (6cm) deep.

In very good vintage condition - the outside fine grained lizard skin is perfect and the black solid leather body of the bag has some texture on it due to the thick leather drying out a bit, but the stitching is intact and the interior has a working zippered pocket. There are some marks right down inside the corners of the inside of the bag on the leather - which are not noticeable unless you look for them and don't effect performance or solidity of the bag.

A lovely stylish British designer bag to add to your collection or a gift for the fashionista in your life.

Available for pick up from Summer Hill

Delicious and very rare bright cherry red, original true Vintage 1960s, boxed, Mappin and Webb patent leather handbag. Absolutely craftsmanship. Highly prized by 50s and 60s fashionistas and very "Mad Men" in style. (Mappin and Webb is a very famous, high quality manufacturer of silverware, jewellery and luxury items, and holds a Royal Warrant silversmith both to Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II and to the Prince of Wales, Prince Charles. The same high standards are reflected

The front and back of the bag are rich, thick, glossy, polished bright red patent leather and side gussets are more durable soft red call All stitching intact. No marks or scratches on leather. Gold coloured (Brass?) hardware, bag closes with top clasp that snaps firmly with click. Soft light tan suede lining, (Which smells of deep, rich leather - not musty or "Cigaretty"!) Also in lovely condition. Two side with proper brass zip! (None of your cheap, plastic nonsense here!!) Labelled inside "Mappin and Webb Ltd". Guaranteed authentic made in London, England.

Bought for myself for Goodwood Revival some years ago, worn once, relished and never used since. Kept carefully packed away in Immaculate. Unusually the bag is with the original box, also in great condition and original fine tissue paper. All over 50 years old, but after and as good as new!!

My international customers should contact me for specific shipping costs, and be aware of any import taxes that are paid by the buyer

Stunning Vint Mappin Webb Beige Lthr Kelly Bag w Accessories

This is a really gem of a vintage bag. Remember when expensive handbags came with little accesories? This exquisite vintage faux lizard beige leather kelly bag from Mappin Webb is worth the money just for the accessories alone. The little note pad and the compact are both beautifully made and have the same beige faux lizard leather on the outsides. Metal frames for both. Truly lovely pieces. As for the bag itself, fabulous. Everything works well and it is immaculate. The lovely gold tone clasp is in excellent condition, as is the outside and inside. The quality is top notch. If you look carefully, you can see the faux lizard in different patterns. This was a very expensive purchase by my Aunt back in the 60's. It has been stored away carefully and looks like new. If you like unique, quality vintage items, this may be the bag for you. Measurements to follow.

ODDS & ENDS

Most of my items were purchased by me. Some come from relatives. I also haunt designer sample sales, etc. I look for exceptional bargains, so that I can pass on savings to my valued customers. Items from sample sales are new but usually found in bins that have been tossed, and thus, may have some scratches and other minor marks. I do occasionally offer new items with tags, but most of my inventory is either new, never carried, but has been in my possession for awhile, or, gently used-previously owned. All are classics. I do not like "trendy" things. My favorite designers are those who offer exceptional quality for the money, as opposed to those who charge thousands for something that may be in style for one season. If you savor elegant classics that will endure you have come to the right place.

Shipping

I charge a low flat fee of $8.00 for Priority mail anywhere in the U.S.

Payments

I accept Paypal or Moneybookers(Skrill). Payment due immediately upon purchase. Thanks for your cooperation.

HEN BANANA REPUBLIC tapped New York-based designer Marissa Webb as its new creative director in April, fashion insiders dubbed the move "the beginning of a new era." They had good reason for the hyperbole. After all, installing the ultrachic Webb—who left her position as head of womenswear and accessories design at J.Crew in 2011 to launch her own eponymous label—to guide Banana Republic's overall creative direction was widely viewed as an audacious move to reposition the brand and its more than 700 stores as the go-to for stylish, affordable workwear in a marketplace crowded with competitors like Zara, H&M, and, ahem, J.Crew. Known for her edgy high-low sensibility (think fashion-forward tweed separates with moto and military detailing, and collared shirts with undone bow ties), Webb has been credited alongside former boss Jenna Lyons, the patron saint of mix-and-match, for modernizing the once stodgily preppy J.Crew.

Born in Seoul, South Korea, and adopted at age 4 along with her biological siblings, Webb was raised Jewish by her finding her way to J.Crew, where she spent more than a decade rising through the ranks before striking out to launch her own label. "I was told the burnout rate for this industry was 10 years, so I figured I was ahead of the curve," she quips. Her line is now sold at more than 30 stores worldwide and online. Webb hasn't abandoned it for her new gig. In fact, Banana Republic's parent company, Gap Inc., became an investor.

As for what's ahead for Banana Republic, Webb hints at big changes. "It's everything from the clothes to the in-store experience to online styling," she says. "It's important that people see us as a lifestyle brand, not just a wear-to-work brand." She says she's been most inspired by the company's "travel DNA": "I went back to 1978 and how Banana Republic started, which was really about travel as inspiration. Utilitarian detailing can be very modern." Just don't expect the safari chic from the retailer's early days. "It's not right for our times to have a big giraffe in the middle of the store," she adds.

Also look for Webb's signature mixing of feminine and masculine to influence the retailer's offerings. Time to say buh-bye to traditional gender-segregated sections? "I don't limit myself to the women's or men's side," Webb explains. "I believe in showing people how to step out of their comfort zone. Maybe it's: How do you wear men's shirts? How do you make it feminine? We are a huge company, and we should be able to have something for everybody." —Karen Schwartz

Marissa Webb's Solo Debut

J.Crew's former head womenwear designer, Marissa Webb, surprised the fashion world when she announced her departure from the brand in late 2011—but she soon revealed that she would be launching an eponymous line. The wait for what it will look like (read: will it have any of her old J. Crew references) is nearly over, as Webb will show her inaugural collection at NYFW on Saturday, September 8.
