RESPONSE

On October 20, 2014, the Trademark Trial And Appeal Board noted that applicant had filed a response to the Board's Notice Of Default without serving a copy on opposer and gave opposer twenty days to file a response if desired. While applicant's response to the Notice Of Default was not in full compliance, e.g., there was a failure to serve opposer, opposer recognizes the lenient standard used by the Board in reviewing responses to notices of default and the desire to resolve proceedings on the merits. Opposer accordingly requests that the schedule be reset so the parties can proceed.
