v.

Compania de Licores
Internacionales, Inc.

Frances S. Wolfson, Interlocutory Attorney:

On August 30, 2004, at approximately 9:30am, the undersigned Board interlocutory attorney held a telephone conference with Mr. John Keene, counsel for petitioner, and <sup>1</sup> The caption in this proceeding originally recited Isehan Company Limited Corporation as respondent. However, respondent confirmed that Compania de Licores Internacionales, Inc. is the real party in interest, as it owns the registration involved in these proceedings, and not Isehan Company Limited Corporation. Further, petitioner's counsel noted that Isehan Company Limited is defendant in cancellation no. 92043106 (filed by petitioner) and that Isehan was identified by mistake in the caption of the petition to cancel for cancellation nos. 92043274 and 92043264.

a telephone conference with Mr. Michael Cesarano, counsel for respondent.

In an effort to move this case forward in an orderly manner, the Board clarified during the telephone conferences that the petitions in Cancellation Nos. 92043274 and 92043264 had inadvertently misidentified the registration number of the registration against which petitioner intended to file a petition to cancel; that the Board instituted the above cancellation actions based on the misidentified registration numbers; and that petitioner agreed neither action would be pursued by petitioner inasmuch as the registration number identified in each petition was incorrect.

Accordingly, respondent's motion to dismiss (filed August 25, 2004 in cancellation no. 92043274) is hereby granted; the notice of default (issued August 20, 2004 in cancellation no. 92043264) is hereby vacated; and the petitions to cancel (filed in cancellation nos. 92043264 and 92043274) are hereby dismissed without prejudice.
