Damages

EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") alleges that their mark is and continues to be damaged by the registration of the mark EPISODE ("respondent") registered by WIREPATH HOME SYSTEMS, LLC; hereafter WirePath ("respondent"), registration number: 3343180 as set forth below.

1- 1-4-2005 to 1-9-2005, EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") first use in commerce.

Includes: Alma International (American Loudspeaker Manufacturing Association) membership, Alma {EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner")} (as exhibitor)} Symposium 2005 pictures.

T.H.E (The Home entertainment show, EPISODE AUDIO's model Episode1 pictures by Positive-Feedback, AudioGon pictures, 6moons picture, product sheet, Voice Coil magazine (an international trade, speakers/ audio magazine). Hence, it would be costly for EPISOD AUDIO to compete or assume a different trademark/trade name to continue business. Exhibit 1 (P1-10)

2- Defamation of the good will of the trade name EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") in the audio and loudspeaker industry by WirePath by using EPISODE/ EPISODE AUDIO as their own trademark or trade name.

3- 3-8-2007 to 8-20-2010, WirePath's ("respondent") registration of the mark Episode has and will impose economic tort due to interference and unfair business practices to EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner"). Registration of the mark EPISODE by WirePath ("respondent") has and it is continuing to obstruct EPISODE AUDIO's business rights and efforts to carry on and to take its normal course. Exhibit 17 (P 1-54)

- 4- WirePath ("Respondent") registration of the mark EPISODE falsely suggests a connection to the petitioner mark and identity of EPISODE AUDIO. Exhibit 3 (P1-3) and Exhibit 17 (P1-54)
- 5- Dilution of the mark EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") that offers patented, first patent filed 6-29-2004 granted by USPTO on 8-18-2009 and patent pending speaker technologies (horn speaker) by Ira Pazandeh ("petitioner") for licensing by WirePath's ("respondent") registration of the mark EPISODE identical or similarly confusing used in the consumer electronics market as well as in the audio industry and trade. Exhibit 1 and 2, 3, 4, 6 (P1-7) and 17 (P1-54)
- 6- 2008- 2010, WirePath's alleged unlawful activities concurrently using the mark EPISODE and EPISODE AUDIO on the internet. Therefore, hindering and causing loss of potential past and future business due to the conflict in trade names EPISODE AUDIO/ EPISODE in the same industry. Some of these alleged activities have been withdrawn. Exhibit 17 (P1-54)
- 7- WirePath ("respondent") after registration of the mark EPISODE with USPTO allegedly unlawfully registered various conflicting domain names to intimidate, cause damage and confusion and to discourage EPISODE AUDIO ("respondent") and its goodwill in fair business use of the mark EPISODE allegedly without any regards to trademark laws or any intention to use. Exhibits 17(P1-54), 5 and 6
- 8- Alleged violation of intellectual property rights of EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") by WirePath ("respondent"). Exhibits 1, 17, 3, 4, 5 and 6

Ground for Cancellation

WIREPATH HOME SYSTEMS, LLC ("respondent") allegedly knew/ should have known has registered trade name/trademark used by another. WirePath's ("respondent") sworn declaration signed on 3-8-2007 under penalty of perjury constituting alleged fraud. WIREPATH has registered a trade name/ mark EPISODE identical or confusingly similar to another, EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner")

EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") was established in October 29, 2004 by Ira Pazandeh ("petitioner") to design, research, develop, manufacture and market speakers for domestic and international market and consequently audio products under the trademark EPISODE AUDIO for consumer electronics. Model EPISODE 1 was the first model shown at CES (Consumer Electronics Show) in January of 2005.

The preponderance of evidence in possession of EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") indicates that there may have allegedly been misrepresentation of material facts in the application dated 3-8-2007 by WIREPATH HOME SYTEMS, LLC ("respondent") for registration of the mark EPISODE similar to a previously existing mark EPISODE AUDIO owned by Ira Pazandeh ("petitioner"). Ira Pazandeh of EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") had already met the owner of WirePath ("respondent") Mr. Jay Faison and four of his staff in Manila, the Philippines in February or early March of 2007 prior to the registration of the mark EPISODE by WirePath ("respondent"). Therefore, the application by WIREPAHT HOME SYSTEMS, LLC for registration of the mark EPISODE may have been refused by the United State Patent and Trademark Office by the applicant WirePath ("respondent") disclosure due to the previous knowledge of another using identical and/ or similarly confusing to the mark "EPISODE". WirePath ("respondent") allegedly might have knowingly and willfully deceived the United States Patent and Trademark Office in obtaining registration as shown below in the time line information.

- 1- 6-6-2005, EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") Ira Pazandeh registered the domain name www.episodeaudio.com with Go Daddy domain registry. Currently in use BY EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner"). Exhibit 5 (P1-14)
- 2- 8-2-2005, WirePath ("respondent") registered www.episodespeakers.com with Go Daddy domain registry. Currently in use by WirePath ("respondent")
- 3- 4-1-2008, WirePath ("respondent") registered www.episodeaudio.net with Go Daddy domain registry. Currently in use by WirePath ("respondent"). Exhibit 5 (P1-14)
- 4- 4-1-2008, WirePath ("respondent") registered www.episode-audio.com and www.episode-audio.net with Go Daddy domain registry. Not currently in use by WirePath ("respondent"). Exhibit 5 (P1-14)
- 5- 4-19-2007, WirePath ("respondent") registered www.episodeelectronics.com with Go Daddy domain registry. Not currently in use by WirePath ("respondent"). Exhibit 5
- 6- www.episodespeaker.net and www.episodespeakers.net or www.episode-speaker.net domain names are available and are not currently registered by WirePath ("respondent"), whereas, the above www.episodeaudio.net and www.episode-auido.net are registered by WirePath ("respondent") to conflict, harass and discourage Episode Audio. Exhibit 5 (P1-14)

7- 1-11-2007, EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner"), DAI-ICHI speaker manufacturing and MENLO SCIENTIFIC signed an agreement in a collaborative partnership to design, develop and manufacture new line of speakers for the international market. Exhibit 4

8- 1-11-2007, I ("petitioner") at CES (consumer Electronics Show) was asked by Mr. Pablo Tobiano the director of DAI-ICHI speaker manufacturing if I knew of EPISODE speakers. Surprised, I told him that I had never heard of any company named EPISODE in the speaker market. Consequently, I asked him where he had heard the name EPISODE. In response he said: he knew of them because he was manufacturing speakers for them. It is reasonable to assume that Mr. Pablo Tobiano of DAI-ICHI had informed WirePath ("respondent") of my company EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") and its relationship with my company.

9- 2-4-2007, on this date, after the agreement with the above partners, Ira Pazandeh of EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") left for Manila, Philippines to design and develop a new line of loudspeakers for the international market.

10- 2-4-2007 to 3-8-2007, while at DAI-ICHI speaker manufacturing designing speakers, I ("respondent") EPISODE AUDIO ran to Mr. Phil Bunch president of Phase Technology, vice president of ALMA China. We did talk briefly, but the subject matter was never brought up or discussed.

11- 3-9-2007, Ira Pazandeh of EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") returned from the Philippines with speaker samples and speaker parts.

12- 2-?-2007 to 3-?-200, early March, while in the Philippines at DAI-ICHI speaker manufacturing, Ira Pazandeh of EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") met Mr. Jay Faison president of WirePath ("respondent"). We at DAI-ICHI demonstrated our first design of the new speakers (On Wall for Home Theater) designed by EPSODE AUDIO and DAI-ICHI manufacturing to Mr. Jay Faison president of WirePath ("respondent") and four of Mr. Faison's staff as one of our potential buyers of EPISODE AUDIO/ DAI-ICHI and MENLO SCIENTIFIC new product line. The demonstration was arranged by Mr. Pablo Tobiano the director of DAI-ICHI. Samples will be available up on request.

13- 8-12-2005, Intent to Use application, registration no. 3320350 was filed by WirePath ("respondent"). Exhibit 7

14- 7-11-2006, application of Notice of Allowance for the above registration to WirePath ("respondent"). Exhibit 8

15- 2-15-2007, petition to Revive SOU- Intent to use for the above registration by WirePath ("respondent") Exhibit 9

16- 2-15-2007, WirePath filed Petition to revive abandoned 'Intent to Use' application, registration no. 3320350 when Mr. Jay Faison of WirePath allegedly knew and was aware of possible conflict with EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") mark. It is reasonable to assume that it was allegedly explained to Mr. Faison by Mr. Tobiano, the director of DAI-ICHI, as well as Mr. Phil Bunch what my purpose of being at DAI-ICHI was in Manila, Philippines when WirePath and staff visited DAI-ICHI speaker manufacturing. Exhibit 10. Exhibit 2, 4

17- 2-16-2007, Notice of Revive Application for registration no. 3320350. Exhibit 11

18- 3-8-2007, a new application filed by WirePath ("respondent") , registration no. 3343180, petitioned to cancel, allegedly without disclosure of material fact, while I ("petitioner") was returning to the U.S, when EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") had already met Mr. Jay Faison back in Manila, Philippines and Mr. Faison allegedly new EPISODE AUDIO was in partnership with DAI-

ICHI to design new line of speakers with collaboration/partnership of DAI-ICHI speaker manufacturing and MENLO SCIENTIFIC for the international market. Exhibit 12

19- 3-09-07, Ira Pazandeh ("petitioner") of EPISODE AUDIO returned to the U.S. with various samples and parts from the Philippines. Samples will be available up on request. Exhibit 13

20- 4-10-2007, as far as I ("petitioner") remember received a phone call from Mr. Jay Faison of WirePath ("respondent"). He told me, EPISODE AUDIO ("PETITINER") that it was going to cost him X amount of dollars in attorney fees to stop me from using EPISODE. So he offered me ("petitioner") this amount. The offer was cordially refused by the petitioner.

21- 4-19-2007, EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") received a certified cease and desist letter from Ms. Jayne C. Hunter of Robinson, Bradshaw & Hinson, P.A. law firm, the attorney for WirePath ("respondent") threatening EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") with infringement and demanding to discontinue using the name EPISODE in the speaker market. Exhibit 15 (P1-2)

22- 5-15-2007, in response to the 4-19-2007 letter, Mr. John Buche of John Buche & Associates, p.c. was hired by EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") to respond to WirePath's ("respondent") cease and desist letter. Mr. Buche asked WirePath ("respondent") not to threaten EPISODE AUDIO and asked WirePath (respondent") to provide trademark searches done prior to filing with the United States Patent and Trademark Office. Neither Mr. Buche the attorney for the petitioner, nor the petitioner received any material on that matter. Exhibit 16 (P 1-3)

23- 5-17-2007, as far as I ("petitioner") remember again received a phone call from Mr. Jay Faison president of WirePath ("respondent"). He offered me, EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") Ira Pazandeh a cash amount to give up the mark EPISODE AUDIO. The offer was cordially refused by the petitioner.

24- 1-?-2008 date. Mr. Jay Faison of WirePath ("Respondent") called EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") again and he said ("petitioner") he will discuss the situation with his partners and get back to me. He called back on 1-24-2008. We did not reach to any agreement and the offer was refused by the petitioner.

25- 4-20-2008, e-mail Communication between EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") and Mr. Phil Bunch, president of Phase Technology and vice president of ALMA INTERNATIONAL (American loudspeaker Manufacturing Association) CHINA. The above date presents that WirePath ("respondent") was notified of the potential of conflict in the trademark EPISODE ("respondent")/EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner"). According to the e-mail dated above Phase Technology also provided initial engineering services to WirePath ("respondent"). Date is unknown for these services. I ("petitioner") was not able to get the date of services rendered to WirePath ("respondent") by Phase Technology. Please see the actual email. Exhibit 2

26- 2008 to present after the registration of the mark, registration date 10-23-2007, of EPISODE, WirePath ("respondent") went on a sort of allegedly intimidation campaign on the internet to stop and discourage Episode Audio ("respondent") from using the mark EPISODE. At some point some of these activities have slowed down and have been removed or deleted. Some copies of the alleged trademark violations are attached. Exhibit 17

27- From early 2008-2010, WirePath ("petitioner") used EPISODE AUDIO as trade name on his website as well as EPISODE instead of what (EPISODE) is registered in the USPTO for promoting their products on their website site. EPISODE ("respondent") as well EPISODE AUDIO ("petitioner") was posted under the domain name EPISODE SPEAKERS with Go daddy domain registry. Exhibit 6, pages 1-6

28- WirePath (“respondent”) using an oval shaped logo identical to EPISODE AUDIO’s logo first used in commerce in January of 2005. Exhibit 1 (P1-10)

29- WirePath (“respondent”) has allegedly illegally and falsely presented itself as EPISODE AUDIO as well as EPISODE since registration of the mark EPISODE when they have no connection to EPISODE AUDIO

As I continued on through different listening rooms, fatigue from eight hours of traveling started to set in. Luckily, I happened to see a beaded curtain with parrots painted on it. I laughed and thought, "Now this is fun! I'm going in." So I pulled back the curtain to find John DeVore and our own Jules Coleman discussing all things audio while listening to a pair of Apogee loudspeakers sipping wine. I introduced myself and kicked back on the sofa next to Jules. The lights were dim and the music sounded fine. The NFS Audio (as in Not For Sale) room was set up by two audio buddies who just wanted to have fun at the show. "Can I get you something to drink?" asked one of the exhibitors. Sparkling water, thank you! It was just what I needed - an oasis of musical coolness. It figured that Jules would be there. Jules and John both recommended rooms to visit and put me at ease with the universe again. After drinking my fill at the oasis, I decided not to be overwhelmed but simply to be. Like the wonderful image of a jellyfish at the start of Ursula K. LeGuin's Lathe of Heaven, I floated through the rest of the exhibits and let the tide carry me.

I really enjoyed the music made by the Dueval Jupiter loudspeakers in the HighEnd Audio room although I can already tell you what my wife will say about them based on their looks. Still, they did a lovely job representing my old Ella Fitzgerald CD after it was loaded into the VRS Systems hard-drive music server. Does this make me guilty of file sharing? The sound wasn't about pinpoint imaging. Instead, it was about a more natural representation of music in the space of a living room (or hotel room, in this case). On "Angel Eyes", the piano smoldered in the background while Ella's voice glowed like a hot ember.

After meeting John DeVore, I had to stop and listen to his new DeVore Gibbon Super 8 loudspeakers ($4,000/pair) powered by Shindo electronics. The sound was quite good and, compared to the sonic assaults in other demonstrations, egalitarian. I sat in the middle of the communal sweet spot and asked the exhibitor to play a cut off a CD I brought - "Orenda" by Joanne Shenandoah and Lawrence Laughing. Their voices were separated nicely without losing the honest intimacy of the performance. Joanne's voice floated in the background and Lawrence's speaking voice was deep without sounding boomy. A ceremonial prayer song was a great way to clear the air.

Some of the exhibitors had such loud demonstrations that I found myself wandering into other, quieter rooms just to escape the din. The exhibitor for Episode Audio noticed my plight and was kind enough to allow me to play some music. He mentioned that he wasn't happy with a subwoofer he recently borrowed to add some LF information to the Episodes. After listening for a bit, I asked if he would turn off the sub. Without the sub, the wide dispersion and clear image focus of the Episode speakers was more apparent. The midrange was articulate and the rhythm section on Santana's Abraxas sounded tight. The tone of Santana's guitar was appropriately electric, inviting and warm.

Loctite Adhesive Workshops

Henkel Corporation has announced the 2005 Loctite Advanced Adhesive Technology Workshops that are available in locations throughout the US and Mexico. A total of 23 workshops will take place between April 5 and May 26. Loctite Advanced Adhesive Technology Workshops provide manufacturing, product, and design engineers with an in-depth understanding of the range of adhesive technologies available for industrial bonding and assembly applications, including popular Loctite brand products. The programs not only review available dispensing and curing equipment, but also actually allow the attendee to use processing equipment in problem-solving exercises. Henkel engineers will present information on proper joint design, key adhesive selection criteria, unique adhesive technologies, and processing equipment, and will review available technical literature from Henkel on bonding plastics, elastomers, and metals.

Scheduled dates and locations are: April 5, Marlborough, Mass.; April 6, Salt Lake City, Utah; April 12, Santa Clara, Calif.; April 12, Las Vegas; April 12, Amherst, N.Y.; April 19, Garden Grove, Calif.; April 20, Knoxville, Tenn.; April 20, Tigard, Oreg.; April 26, Omaha, Nebr.; April 28, Elkhart, Ind.; April 28, Germantown, Wis.; May 3, Hampton, Va.; May 4, Itasca, Ill.; May 4, Grand Rapids, Mich.; May 10, Cleveland, Ohio; May 10, Greenville, S.C.; May 10, Wichita, Kans.; May 17, Tulsa, Okla.; May 18, Houston, Tex.; May 24, Louisville, Ky.; May 24, Denver, Colo.; and May 26, Cd. ### New Technology from Episode Audio

Episode Audio is offering to license its patent-pending technology to manufacturers. As you can see in the Episode prototype (Photo 1), the content of the patented technology is to use an upward-firing woofer crossed at between 200–300Hz to a pair of opposing and angled midrange domes. The primary claim of this invention is improved sound staging and image quality as a result of the driver layout. In terms of on- and off-axis measurements, I measured the Episode product at 2.83V/1m at 0, 15, 30, and 45° off-axis in both the horizontal and vertical plane. Figure 1 gives the on-axis response, Fig. 2 the horizontal plane on- and off-axis, Fig. 3 the same as Fig. 2 but with 1/3 octave smoothing of the curves, Fig. 4 the

 Phil,

I also want to clarify a few points. I'll make it short. The important issue here is that as an active member of Alma since you had met me at Alma Symposium 2005 exhibition, if I were you, I would have notified the other party when you started working for them back in 2005 and I would have at least made sure to verify their claim. The issue would have been a lot less complicated now. In my opinion, that would have been the right thing to do.

Ira,

I have just wrapped up my call and have a lunch appointment. I believe it is too late to call you now, so I will clarify my position on this deal.

Yes, I did point out the fact that there as an Episode Audio. When I asked about the potential conflict, I was told that it was not an issue; that it was in process and would be handled or not a problem. The client was very clear in organization of their business and I was in no position or need to question them on branding. I assumed that they were in contact with you or had arranged an agreement in process.

Let me say that I do sympathize with you and understand the issue you are facing. If I could assist you, I would, but we terminated the relationship with that client and are bound by our NDA for confidentiality.

I will be happy to discuss by phone, but my schedule is very tight these days and getting me free in the mornings is tough.

Phil,

Thanks for clarifying that. What we also need to know is that what was the date you started working for them.

Ira,

Yes, I do know the brand you are referring to. Yes, my company did perform engineering services for them in the past strictly as a core level engineering and procurement consultant.

For the record, neither my company nor I have any affiliation with the Episode brand or the company who is selling under that brand name nor do I have any connection with the decision to use the name "Episode" for loudspeakers or any related components. Marketing and branding decisions were all made at the main office by the directors of the company; Phase Design was not involved, nor did we have any vote or influence one way or the other on the name or use of any name within the overall branding strategy of the company.

Hi Phil,

How are you doing? I have a question for you. Do you know of Episode Speakers? If you do, did/ do you work for them? We have some trademark issues with this company, which seems not to go away since we are the original Episode Audio manufacturing speakers. I thank for your cooperation.

Letter of Intent

Between Menlo Scientific, Ltd. and Episode Audio and Dai-Ichi, 11/7/06

This letter is not a legally binding agreement and the failure to execute and deliver a subsequent contract shall impose no liability on any of the parties. Each party covenants not to institute or participate in any proceeding seeking to establish a contrary position.

Upon execution of such subsequent contract, this letter shall be superseded by such contract and the rights and obligations of the parties shall be governed only by such contract.

Episode™ 2 channel x 100 Watt Amplifier

The Episode E-2100 is perfect for powering a 2nd zone in a whole-house system, or can be bridged to make a full 300W of continuous power available for use with a passive subwoofer. With its built-in adjustable crossover and gain controls, adding a subwoofer to a multi-room system couldn't be easier.

100 Watts x 2 Channels into 8 Ohms or 150 Watts x 2 Channels into 4 Ohm

Plenty of power to run 6 or more volume controls in a whole-house system. Need to run a 4 ohm load? No problem, the E-2100 is designed to handle it.

300 Watts bridged into 8 ohms

Simply flip the bridging switch for a full 300W of continuous power when using it with a passive subwoofer. Or, for the truly power-hungry use two E-2100s for 300W x 2 channels of continuous power.

Variable Gain and Crossover Frequency for Subwoofer Use

Have an application for a passive sub? With the built-in crossover and gain controls, the E-2100 offers incredible flexibility, making it the perfect replacement for in-wall subwoofer amplifiers.

Multiple turn-on modes

Different houses call for different configurations. Whether you're an expansive home automation system or simply a single receiver, the E-2100 can accommodate.

Re: Use of EPISODE trademark

Dear Mr. Pazandeh,

We represent WirePath Systems, L.L.C. producer of EPISODE speakers. It appears there is some misunderstanding about trademark rights in the trademark EPISODE, which has been in use by WirePath on audio speakers since at least as early as January 1, 2006. In accordance with trademark law and good business practice, prior to adopting the trademark WirePath had a trademark search performed which searched records of the United States Patent and Trademark Office as well as state and common law databases to undercover any pre-existing uses of the mark EPISODE on audio equipment. No conflicting uses in commerce were discovered.

WirePath then filed an application for federal trademark registration of its mark with the United States Patent and Trademark Office. This application was filed on August 12, 2005 and has survived the opposition period following publication in the Official Gazette. Once a Statement of Use as evidence of my client's use of the mark in commerce is filed the mark should proceed to registration. As you may be aware, registration of a federal trademark confers the exclusive right to the use the mark throughout the United States on the goods for which it is registered. Since WirePath filed its application on intent to use in commerce, once the registration issues, its date of first use will be considered to be the filing date of the application.

All the information we have available to us indicates that your company has not yet used the mark EPISODE in commerce. Use in commerce means that the mark has appeared on a product or product packaging on a product that is offered or available for offer for immediate sale. Documentation discussing future use of a mark on products not yet in the marketplace does not constitute use in commerce, even if such material has appeared on the Internet. Further, the only protection available for an intention to use a mark is through the filing of an intent to use application with the United States Patent and Trademark Office. It does not appear that your company has made any intent to use filing. In any case, any such filing would have had to have preceded WirePath's filing to have provided any benefit.

Therefore, even if WirePath's mark were not on its way to registration, its prior and continuing use of the mark in commerce establish its superior trademark rights in the mark.

Since WirePath has superior rights in the trademark EPISODE in the field of audio and video equipment, my client demands that you immediately discontinue any further use of the name EPISODE with any speaker or audio equipment or systems you may be developing or preparing to bring to market. Any unauthorized use of the name EPISODE on speakers or other goods related to speakers constitutes infringement of WirePath's trademark.

In light of the foregoing, we request that you sign this letter and return it as an acknowledgement that you will immediately cease and desist any use of the mark EPISODE. Should you fail to comply with the demands set forth herein, or otherwise fail to act in a manner consistent with our client's rights in the mark EPISODE, WirePath will be compelled to pursue all avenues of recourse available to it to protect and preserve its rights. Please contact me as soon as possible if you, or your counsel, would like to discuss this matter further.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Re: EPISODE Trademark

Dear Ms. Hunter:

This letter is to advise you that my firm has been retained by Mr. Ira Pazandeh, the owner of Episode Audio, in connection with matters pertaining to the EPISODE trademark. Please direct future communications to my attention.

We are in receipt of your letter of April 19, 2007 concerning use of the EPISODE trademark. I have reviewed your client's pending trademark application, and conducted an investigation of my own on the facts.

Based on my review, it appears that your client has attempted to register a trademark for which my client is the senior user. Your application was filed as "Intent to Use" application on August 12, 2005. By contrast, my client's first actual uses in commerce are far earlier than any claimed uses in your application. We have assumed name certificates that go back to at least 2004, as well as substantial notoriety in the loudspeaker industry, at trade shows and on the Internet.

In fact, my client's use of EPISODE is so extensive, we are frankly inclined to question whether any alleged trademark searches performed were competent searches, and whether the attempted registration is not fraudulent. Based on the extensiveness of my client's use of the EPISODE mark on the same goods, it would seem nearly impossible that a search would not turn up references of my client or that your client did not know of our client. For your review, I have attached one of many prior uses of the mark EPISODE in connection with loudspeaker equipment.

An opposition proceeding would have resulted in a failure to register the mark. A cancellation proceeding or federal lawsuit would likely yield the same result because of my client's prior use and/or because of what appears to be a fraudulent attempt to register the mark of another. If there are other facts I should know, or if you would like to share the trademark searches performed, I would be interested in such information.

At any rate, you have a problem with this trademark. The threats of infringement only add insult to injury. My suggestion is that it would be in your client's interest to call me and see if we cannot work something out that is mutually beneficial to all parties.

Sincerely,

Buche & Associates, P.C.:

Together with these new wave guides, the G40 family grows with the new models 6G40 and 5G40, designed to be used in perfect symbiosis with these wave guides. These two new models have a considerable magnetic circuit, which allows them to be used in equality of conditions with the waveguides, obtaining high sensitivities (about 95 dB) in very compact sizes of boxes, with a considerable power handling for units of this size (200 and 340W Program).

With these new incorporations, together with the present models of neodymium and ferrite, the designers have to their disposition an ample range of possible combinations, allowing a total freedom and adaptability to any necessity.
