U.S. Patent & TMO/TM Mail Rpt Dt. #72

Dear United States Trademark Trial and Appeal Board,

In response to Body-Solid Inc. ("Petitioner") vs. Nutraloid Labs Inc. ("Respondent") and U.S. Registration No. 4085118 for the mark BICEP BOMBER ("Registration"), provided for your review is this Respondent's responses to the 19 allegations by Petitioner seeking to petition and cancel said Registration (Exhibit F). Respondent is the lawful owner of BICEP BOMBER verified by the United States Patent & Trademark Office (Exhibit A).

1. Respondent has well-known brands in the fitness and sports nutrition industry and sells both dietary supplements and weightlifting equipment throughout the United States and internationally. Respondent's products have been widely marketed and advertised using Information and Communications Technology (ICT). These marketing and advertising forums have included presentation in the Respondent's websites www.goliftlabs.com & www.bicepbomber.co, authorized resellers and business partners, social networking sites, formal press releases and fitness industry publications. Respondent promotes its business and generates consumer recognition and goodwill for its brands through participation in social media sites, including Linked In, <http://www.linkedin.com/pub/bicep-bomber/2afa65386>. Respondent spends significant operating funds annually on marketing and advertising the business and the company's brands and has built a strong reputation for quality products and considerable goodwill in the sports nutrition and fitness industry. Respondent is the lawful owner of BICEP BOMBER verified by the United States Patent & Trademark Office (Exhibit A).

2. Unlike the Petitioner, the Respondent continuously has offered a popular weightlifting and fitness harness to the public under the coined name and mark BICEP BOMBER. The Respondent "only" uses their mark BICEP BOMBER in all their advertising and marketing. Despite the Petitioner's allegations and claims, Petitioner does not advertise and market their product as BICEP BOMBER, but has consistently advertised and marketed their product as Body Solid Bicep Bomber BB23, Body Solid BB23 Bicep Bomber (BB23), Bicep Bomber Body Solid and various other combinations and derivatives.

Attached is a screen shot of a Google search (Exhibit E) with BICEP BOMBER as the keyword phrase, taken on 8/29/12. This screenshot will verify that the Petitioner actively markets their fitness harness using a variety of terms noted and does not market their weightlifting harness as BICEP BOMBER. In fact, Body-Solid Inc. does not have a domain name with the mark as Respondent has, www.bicepbomber.co. As alleged by Petitioner, "A simple Google search for "BICEP BOMBER" yields a link to Petitioner's product as the top result and multiple additional links to Petitioner's product on YouTube and various other websites." their claim is correct, but as can be easily verified (Exhibit E) (Exhibit B), their paid Google ads include Body Solid Tools BB23 Bicep Bomber and Body Solid Bicep Bomber. At the Petitioner's website, www.bodysolid.com, they do not list BICEP BOMBER as one of their available products. To locate their fitness harness, the Petitioner's webpage, <http://www.bodysolid.com/Home/Body-Solid-Tools/Accessories>, lists their fitness harness, not as BICEP BOMBER, but as BICEP BOMBER (BB23). Analysis of the Petitioner's website page source code information verified on 8/29/12, for their fitness harness, does not state BICEP BOMBER, but uses as its page title (Exhibit D) "Body-Solid - Bicep Bomber - (BB23)" Furthermore, In Google's paid shopping advertisement, verified on 8/26/12, Petitioner has their fitness harness not listed as BICEP BOMBER, but as "Body Solid Tools BB23 Bicep Bomber Weight Lifting Accessory". Respondent conducted an analysis of 60 online stores (Exhibit B) and found only 4 of 60 sites noted the Petitioner's fitness harness as "BICEP BOMBER."

3. Based on Respondent's research, Petitioner rarely uses, past and present the mark, BICEP BOMBER, as evidenced by the Petitioner's usage of various terms and product names to advertise and market their fitness harness. Exhibits B & E will verify that the Petitioner's Use of BICEP BOMBER is used as part of their full products listings. (Exhibit B) & (Exhibit E)

4. Based on Petitioner's allegations, it is clear the Petitioner is engaging in hyperbole and may be engaging in corporate defamation by suggesting the Respondent, Nutraloid Labs Inc., engaged in nefarious activities by having full knowledge of Petitioner's prior trademark rights in the mark BICEP BOMBER. Respondent is the lawful owner of BICEP BOMBER verified by the United States Patent & Trademark Office (Exhibit A). Given the Respondent has never heard of Body Solid Inc. or their fitness harness they call the "Body Solid Tools BB23 Bicep Bomber Weight Lifting Accessory," Respondent lawfully applied for and received Trademark Registration on 1/10/12 (Exhibit A).

5. Respondent does display their mark BICEP BOMBER on packaging for its fitness harness and uses the mark BICEP BOMBER to promote its fitness harness product on the website, www.goliathlabs.com, www.bicepbomber.co, and through various third party resellers, including but not limited to, Amazon (www.amazon.com), GNC (www.gnc.com) and Vitacost (www.vitacost.com). Respondent sells its competitive product through the same Internet channels and on some of the same websites where Petitioner sells its own products. Respondent lawfully applied for and received Trademark Registration on 1/10/12 (Exhibit A). Furthermore, Petitioner does not advertise and market their product as BICEP BOMBER, but has consistently advertised and marketed their product as Body Solid Bicep Bomber BB23, Body Solid BB23 Bicep Bomber (BB23), Bicep Bomber Body Solid and various other combinations and derivatives. An interesting aside to point 5 is the obvious attempt by Petitioner to recently apply for Trademark on July 24, 2012 (Exhibit C).

6. Despite Petitioner's felonious allegations, Respondent did register and presently uses the domain name www.bicepbomber.co to direct Internet traffic and potential customers to Respondent's website. As stated, Respondent lawfully applied for and received Trademark Registration on 1/10/12 (Exhibit A) by the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

7. Respondent filed U.S. Trademark Application Serial No. 85243335 ("Application") with the United States Patent and Trademark Office on February 16, 2011, seeking to register the mark BICEP BOMBER under Section 2(b) of the Trademark Act in connection with "exercise equipment, namely, weight lifting harness that allows users to localize bicep curls with weights."

8. Based on Petitioners allegations, it is clear the Petitioner is engaging in hyperbole and may be engaging in corporate defamation by suggesting the Respondent, Nutraloid Labs Inc., engaged in nefarious activities by having full knowledge of Petitioner's prior trademark rights in the mark BICEP BOMBER.

At the time Respondent filed its application for BICEP BOMBER, Respondent was unaware of Petitioner's prior use of the mark BICEP BOMBER, did not know Body Solid Inc. existed and lawfully applied for and received Trademark Registration on 1/10/12 (Exhibit A) by the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

9. Respondent and Registrant confirms counsel represented under oath in the Application that, "... he/she believes applicant to be entitled to use such mark in commerce; to the best of his/her knowledge and belief no other person, firm, corporation, or association has the right to use the mark in commerce, either in the identical form thereof or in such near resemblance thereto as to be likely, when used on or in connection with the goods/services of such other person, to cause confusion, or to cause mistake, or to deceive..." The Application eventually was approved for publication and a registration certificate was issued to Respondent on January 10, 2012. (Exhibit A)

10. Respondent denies ever making false and misleading representations to the United States Patent and Trademark Office in the Application and takes issue with Petitioner alleging Respondent engaged in fraud. As stated, Respondent lawfully applied for and received Trademark Registration for BICEP BOMBER on 1/10/12 (Exhibit A) by the United States Patent and Trademark Office. Based on the Respondents observations, counsel for the Petitioner, Edwards Wildman Palmer LLP, is attempting to skew the Trademark and Appeal Board's determination of this matter by presenting the Respondent as engaging in nefarious and unlawful activities.

11. Respondent denies Petitioner's allegations that Respondent wrongfully misappropriated the BICEP BOMBER mark. Secondly and even more preposterous, Respondent denies Petitioner's allegations that "Respondent has embarked on a concerted campaign to mislead and deceive the public, including Petitioner's customers, online resellers and others, into believing that Registrant owns exclusive rights in the mark BICEP BOMBER and is the only legitimate manufacturer of the BICEP BOMBER product." As stated above, counsel for the Petitioner, Edwards Wildman Palmer LLP, is attempting to skew the Trademark and Appeal Board's determination of this matter by presenting the Respondent as engaging in nefarious and unlawful activities.

12. Respondent confirms sending takedown notices through EBay's EVO system and Amazon to Internet resellers of Petitioner's fitness harness product. Respondent denies Petitioner's allegations that Respondent contacted several of Petitioner's customers offering to sell them Respondents BICEP BOMBER product. Respondent did not send these take down notices to prevent sales of their fitness harness, but to inform resellers of Petitioner's fitness harness product to remove the term BICEP BOMBER in their advertising and marketing. As stated above in point 2 of the Respondent's response, Petitioner does not advertise and market their product as BICEP BOMBER, but has consistently advertised and marketed their product as Body Solid Bicep Bomber BB23, Body Solid BB23 Bicep Bomber (BB23), Bicep Bomber Body Solid and various other combinations and derivatives.

13. Respondent proudly confirms that on their website and in marketing and advertising they state, "Beware of Knock Offs: Buy Direct We Are The Manufacturer & Made in the USA." Given the economic strife present in the United States, Respondent is proud Americans are employed in the manufacturing of the BICEP BOMBER. Although the Respondent is hoping to prevent a long and expensive litigation process, Respondent respectfully would be interested to know where Petitioner has their "Body Solid Tools BB23 Bicep Bomber Weight Lifting Accessory" manufactured. Furthermore, when Respondent mentions in their advertising, "Beware of Knock Offs," Respondent is not implying or casting disparagement towards Petitioner. As stated, Respondent was not aware the Petitioner, Body Solid Inc., existed until receiving communications from counsel for the Petitioner, Edwards Wildman Palmer LLP.

14. Respondent confirms in July 2012, Respondent issued a press release entitled "Male Enhancement, Workout & Bodybuilding Supplements Sale Announced by Goliath Labs" circulated to media online through the press release distribution company PR Web, <http://www.prweb.com>. Respondent also confirms in that press release stating, "Nutraloid Labs also acquired ownership in 2010 of an innovative work out tool called the Bicep Bomber." Despite counsel for the Petitioner's hollow claims that Respondent was being misleading and deceptively leading members of the public to believe that Nutraloid Labs (and its affiliate Goliath Labs) acquired, and now is the owner of, all rights in the mark BICEP BOMBER, Respondent was simply stating fact (Exhibit A). As commonly called in a press release template, the Petitioner's counsel is referring to what is called the boilerplate and typically included at the base of all press releases. The Respondent is unable to find where in the boilerplate it is stated "all rights in the mark BICEP BOMBER." The Respondent's press release boilerplate is as follows:

"Nutraloid Labs Inc., owner of Goliath Labs, Colossal Labs and Herberex Inc., is a New York State based Sports Nutrition and Male Enhancement Supplement Company, which offers for wholesale, retail and private label their proprietary blend dietary supplements. In addition to sports nutrition and natural male enhancement supplements, Nutraloid Labs also acquired ownership in 2010 of an innovative work out tool called the Bicep Bomber. All Nutraloid Labs Inc. products are manufactured under a strict GMP certified manufacturing process using high quality naturopathic ingredients. In addition to being manufactured in GMP certified facilities and made in the USA, all Nutraloid Labs Inc. products are compliant with dietary supplement regulations set forth by the United States Food and Drug Administration. To discuss private label, wholesale or international distribution partnerships, feel free to contact the Chief Executive Officer, Bart Panessa, at (772) 291-7510."

15. Respondent confirms on July 23, 2012, Respondent issued a press release through PR Web (<http://www.prweb.com/releases/goliathlabs/bicepbomber/prweb9723948.html>) titled, "Nutraloid Labs Announces Trademark Patent Registration for Bicep Bomber." Respondent confirms on July 23, 2012, Respondent issued a press release stating,

"Nutraloid Labs Inc., owner of Goliath Labs, Colossal Labs and Herberex Inc., is a New York State based Sports Nutrition, Home Gym Equipment and Male Enhancement Supplement Company. After months of testing, upgrades and durability improvements, the Bicep Bomber has recently received a United States Trademark Patent Registration. Unlike other bicep curl tools, Nutraloid Labs reports they placed an emphasis on comfort, stability and lower back support in their upgrade."

According to CEO and owner of Nutraloid Labs, "Regularly using the Bicep Bomber is an inexpensive way to achieve "preacher" like isolation to your biceps. We're proud to receive our trademark patent registration and want weightlifters to know, it's made in America and tough as the weightlifters who use it."

Respondent is unable to conclude why counsel for the Petitioner chose to illustrate this statement in their complaint from Respondent's July 23, 2012 press release, but Respondent once again suspects counsel for the Petitioner, Edwards Wildman Palmer LLP, is attempting to skew the Trademark and Appeal Board's determination of this matter by presenting the Respondent as engaging in nefarious and unlawful activities.

16. Respondent completely disagrees with counsel for the Petitioner's allegations that Respondent's July 23, 2012 press release in any way misstates or mischaracterizes to the media the nature and extent of Respondent's rights in the BICEP BOMBER trademark registration. In no way, shape, manner or form does Respondent's press release falsely imply that Respondent's BICEP BOMBER product is technically superior to competitive products. Also, Respondent completely disagrees with counsel for the Petitioner's allegations that Respondent's July 23, 2012 press release is in any way causing the media or public confusion. Respondent firmly denies their press releases, or any advertisements or marketing materials, constitute trademark misuse, unfair competition, and false advertising. As stated, Respondent lawfully applied for and received Trademark Registration for BICEP BOMBER on 1/10/12 (Exhibit A) by the United States Patent and Trademark Office. Based on the Respondent's observations, counsel for the Petitioner, Edwards Wildman Palmer LLP, is attempting to skew the Trademark and Appeal Board's determination of this matter by presenting the Respondent as engaging in nefarious and unlawful activities.

17. Respondent has rightful and lawful use and advertising of the mark, BICEP BOMBER and completely disagrees with counsel for the Petitioner's allegations that, "Registrants use and advertising of the mark, BICEP BOMBER is likely to cause confusion, mistake, or to deceive, as to the affiliation, connection, or association of Registrant with Petitioner, or as to the origin, sponsorship or approval of Registrant's goods, in violation of Section 43(a)(1) of the Trademark Act." Respondent has thoroughly reviewed and sought legal counsel on Section 43(a)(1) of the Trademark Act and no violations have been noted. As stated, Respondent lawfully applied for and received Trademark Registration for BICEP BOMBER on 1/10/12 (Exhibit A) by the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

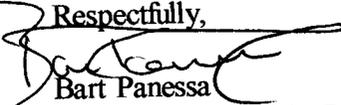

18. Respondent is not liable or responsible for counsel for Petitioner's allegations the Petitioner has lost sales, been damaged and will be continue to be damaged by the continued registration of Respondent's mark. As stated, Respondent lawfully applied for and received Trademark Registration for BICEP BOMBER on 1/10/12 (Exhibit A) by the United States Patent and Trademark Office. Respondent also completely disagrees with counsel for the Petitioner's allegations that Respondent's use of their lawfully and rightfully acquired mark, BICEP BOMBER, mark, gives color of rights to Respondent. Without sounding petty, Respondent strongly suspects counsel for Petitioner is using complex and confusing terminology that has little bearing on the reality that Respondent lawfully applied for and received Trademark Registration for BICEP BOMBER on 1/10/12 (Exhibit A) by the United States Patent and Trademark Office. Respondent is unable to succinctly understand what counsel for Petitioner means when they make statements such as, "gives color of rights to Registrant, Petitioner's prior and superior rights in the mark, and violation of Section 43(a)(1) of the Trademark Act."

19. Respondent is not liable or responsible for counsel for Petitioner's allegation that the Respondent's lawful registration of their mark, BICEP BOMBER, is injurious to Petitioner, in that said registration likely will constitute a bar to Petitioner's pending application (U.S. Serial No. 85685705) to register the mark BICEP BOMBER in the United States Patent and Trademark Office. Most relevant to notice is the counsel for Petitioner's date of their pending application (U.S. Serial No. 85685705) has a filing date of July 24, 2012. (Exhibit C) and was filed a full 6 months after Respondent received their Trademark Registration on January 10, 2012.

In conclusion, the Respondent, Nutraloid Labs Inc., certifies that the information provided in this document to the United States Patent and Trademark Office Trademark Trial and Appeal Board is valid, truthful and honest. Despite that counsel for Petitioner has attempted to present Respondent as being felonious and deceitful engaging in Fraud, Respondent is available to forward and provide proof of all statements illustrated above. If you have any questions, feel free to contact Respondent anytime at bart@nutraloidlabs.com or via phone at 772-291-7510.

PETITION FOR CANCELLATION

Petitioner, Body-Solid, Inc. ("Petitioner"), an Illinois corporation, located and doing business 1900 Des Plaines Avenue, Forest Park, Illinois 60130, believes that it is, and will continue to be, damaged by U.S. Registration No. 4085118 for the mark BICEP BOMBER ("Registration"), and hereby petitions to cancel said Registration.

As grounds for cancellation, Petitioner alleges the following:

1. Petitioner has a well-known brand in the fitness industry and sells products throughout the United States and internationally. Petitioner's products have been widely marketed and advertised, on the Internet at www.bodysolid.com, on the websites of Body-Solid's authorized resellers and business partners, on television and radio, and in widely circulated fitness industry publications. Petitioner promotes its business and generates consumer recognition and goodwill for its brands through participation in social media sites, including

Facebook and Twitter. Petitioner spends tens of thousands of dollars annually on marketing and advertising the business and the company's brands and has built a strong reputation for quality products and considerable goodwill in the fitness industry.

2. For over fifteen years, Petitioner continuously has offered a popular weightlifting harness to the public under the coined name and mark BICEP BOMBER. Petitioner's products, including its BICEP BOMBER product, are marketed through Petitioner's website, at www.bodysolid.com, the websites of its business partners, and at retail outlets. A simple Google search for "BICEP BOMBER" yields a link to Petitioner's product as the top result and multiple additional links to Petitioner's product on YouTube and various other websites. Petitioner's online resellers of the BICEP BOMBER product include, but are not limited to, Amazon.com, SamsClub.com, and eBay.com. Petitioner has sold tens of thousands of BICEP BOMBER products since the product's introduction.

3. As a result of Petitioner's extensive sales and marketing efforts - for over a decade prior to Registrant's alleged first use date - Petitioner's mark BICEP BOMBER has become a distinctive and valuable symbol of Petitioner's products and the goodwill associated with those products.

4. Registrant offers a directly competitive weightlifting harness that is a nearly exact copy of Petitioner's popular BICEP BOMBER. For a time, Registrant offered its own product under the trade name "Arm Blaster" or "Armblastor." Then, at some point on or after January 5, 2010, with full knowledge of Petitioner's prior trademark rights in the mark BICEP BOMBER, Registrant willfully adopted and began using in interstate commerce the identical mark BICEP BOMBER, in connection with its own product.

5. Registrant displays the confusingly similar mark BICEP BOMBER on packaging for its weightlifting harness and uses the mark BICEP BOMBER to promote its weightlifting harness product on the website, www.goliathlabs.com ("Registrant's Website"), on affiliated sites such as www.bicepbomber.co, and through various third party resellers, including but not limited to, Amazon (www.amazon.com), GNC (www.gnc.com) and Vitacost (www.vitacost.com). Thus, Registrant sells its competitive product through the same Internet channels and on some of the same websites where Petitioner sells its own product.

6. With full knowledge of Petitioner's rights in the mark BICEP BOMBER, Registrant registered and is using in bad faith the domain name <bicepbomber.co> to redirect Internet traffic and potential customers to Registrant's Website.

7. Registrant filed U.S. Trademark Application Serial No. 85243335 ("Application") with the United States Patent and Trademark Office on February 16, 2011, seeking to register the mark BICEP BOMBER under Section 2(b) of the Trademark Act in connection with "exercise equipment, namely, [w]eight lifting harness that allows users to localize bicep curls with weights."

8. At the time Registrant filed its Application, Registrant was well aware of Petitioner's prior and ongoing use of the mark BICEP BOMBER and of Petitioner's common law rights in the mark.

9. Notwithstanding Petitioner's prior rights, Registrant's counsel represented under oath in the Application that, "...he/she believes applicant to be entitled to use such mark in commerce; to the best of his/her knowledge and belief no other person, firm, corporation, or association has the right to use the mark in commerce, either in the identical form thereof or in such near resemblance thereto as to be likely, when used on or in connection with the goods/services of such other person, to cause confusion, or to cause mistake, or to deceive...”

The Application eventually was approved for publication and a registration certificate issued to Registrant on January 10, 2012.

10. Registrant’s false and misleading representations to the United States Patent and Trademark Office in the Application constituted fraud and thereby cast a cloud on the Registration.

11. Since wrongfully misappropriating the BICEP BOMBER mark, Registrant has embarked on a concerted campaign to mislead and deceive the public, including Petitioner’s customers, online resellers and others, into believing that Registrant owns exclusive rights in the mark BICEP BOMBER and is the only legitimate manufacturer of the BICEP BOMBER product.

12. Upon information and belief, Registrant has sent take-down notices through Ebay’s EVO system to Internet resellers of Petitioner’s BICEP BOMBER product and contacted several of Petitioner’s customers offering to sell them Registrant’s BICEP BOMBER product.

13. Ironically, Registrant’s website advertising the BICEP BOMBER states in relevant part, “Beware of Knock Offs: Buy Direct We Are The Manufacturer & Made in the USA.”

14. In July 2012, Registrant issued a press release entitled “Male Enhancement, Workout & Bodybuilding Supplements Sale Announced by Goliath Labs” which was circulated to the public online, including to members of the fitness products industry, falsely claiming that “...Nutraloid Labs also acquired ownership in 2010 of an innovative work out tool called the Bicep Bomber...” This false claim is misleading and deceptively leads members of the public to believe that Nutraloid Labs (and its affiliate Goliath Labs) acquired, and now is the owner of, all rights in the mark BICEP BOMBER. A copy of this press release in Digital Journal is attached as Exhibit A.

15. On July 23, 2012, Registrant issued a press release on PR Web (<http://www.prweb.com/releases/goliathlabs/bicepbomber/prweb9723948.htm>) titled, "Nutraloid Labs Announces Trademark Patent Registration for Bicep Bomber." The press release states in relevant part:

Nutraloid Labs, A New York State Sports Nutrition and Workout Equipment Company proudly announces receiving a United States Trademark Patent Registration for their Bicep Bomber. Unlike other bicep workout products, receiving the trademark patent places the Bicep Bomber in a class of its own.

After months of testing, upgrades and durability improvements, the Bicep Bomber has recently received a United States Trademark Patent Registration. Unlike other bicep curl tools, Nutraloid Labs reports they placed an emphasis on comfort, stability and lower back support in their upgrade.

According to CEO and owner of Nutraloid Labs, "Regularly using the Bicep Bomber is an inexpensive way to achieve 'preacher' like isolation to your biceps. We're proud to receive our trademark patent registration and want weightlifters to know, it's made in America and tough as the weightlifters who use it."

A copy of this press release is attached as Exhibit B.

16. Registrant's July 23, 2012 press release completely misstates and mischaracterizes to the public the nature and extent of Registrant's rights in the BICEP BOMBER trademark registration. This public "announcement" falsely implies that Registrant's BICEP BOMBER product is now patented and is technically superior to competitive products. In fact, Registrant's trademark registration has no relationship whatsoever to the technical aspects of its product. These false and misleading statements are confusing to the public and to the industry, damaging to Petitioner, and constitute trademark misuse, unfair competition, and false advertising.

17. Registrant's use and advertising of the mark BICEP BOMBER is likely to cause confusion, mistake, or to deceive, as to the affiliation, connection, or association of Registrant with Petitioner, or as to the origin, sponsorship or approval of Registrant's goods, in violation of Section 43(a)(1) of the Trademark Act.

18. Petitioner has lost sales and has been damaged, and will be continue to be damaged, by the continued registration of Respondent's mark because such registration supports and assists Registrant in the confusing and misleading use of Registrant's BICEP BOMBER mark, and gives color of rights to Registrant despite Petitioner's prior and superior rights in the mark BICEP BOMBER.

19. Moreover, Registrant's registration is injurious to Petitioner, in that said registration likely will constitute a bar to Petitioner's pending application (U.S. Serial No. 85685705) to register the mark BICEP BOMBER in the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

WHEREFORE, Petitioner respectfully requests that the Registration be cancelled in the records of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.

Respectfully submitted.
