v.

Restaurant Consulting Group,
Inc. and CFD Enterprises,
Inc. dba Restaurant Trends

On July 19, 2013, respondent was allowed time to show cause why its answer should not be stricken, and to file an answer that complies with the requirement that a single answer be signed by both party defendants. A review of the record shows that a response has not been filed.

This case now comes up for consideration of petitioner's motion, filed March 21, 2013, for default judgment against respondent for failure to file an answer. The motion is uncontested.¹

Inasmuch as respondent failed to file an answer in this case, and failed to respond to petitioner's motion in any

¹ If a defendant fails to file an answer to a complaint during the time allowed therefor, the Board, on its own initiative, may issue a notice of default allowing the defendant time to show cause why default judgment should not be entered against it. The issue of whether default judgment should be entered against a defendant for failure to file an answer may also be raised by means of a motion filed by the party in the position of
