Ellen Yowell, Paralegal Specialist:

On March 15, 2017, Applicant filed a request to remand the application to the Examining Attorney for consideration of an amendment to the identification of goods. Inasmuch as good cause has been shown, the request is granted.

Accordingly, action on the appeal is suspended and the application is remanded to the Examining Attorney for consideration of the proposed amendment.

If the amendment is accepted and the mark is found registrable on the basis of the amendment, the appeal will be moot and proceedings on the appeal will terminate in due course.

If the amendment is accepted but the refusal to register is maintained, the Examining Attorney should issue an Office Action so indicating, and notify the Board. The appeal will then be resumed and Applicant allowed a time in which to file its appeal brief.

If the Examining Attorney determines that the amendment to the identification is not acceptable, the Examining Attorney should issue an Office

Action to that effect, indicating the reasons why the proposed amendment is unacceptable and, if possible, advising Applicant as to how to cure any deficiency in the identification. The amendment to the identification should be treated as raising a new issue, such that any refusal to accept the proposed identification cannot be made final until Applicant is given an opportunity to respond.
