Serial No.: 88488724

By the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board:

On May 20, 2020, Potential Opposer, Beyond Meat, Inc., filed a 60-day request to extend time to oppose. The request was not received within the previously granted extension. Through each of two notices published by the USPTO pursuant to the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (CARES Act), the Office recognized that the national emergency resulting from the COVID-19 outbreak may have prevented timely filing by parties of various documents.[1] The Office explained the circumstances under which those affected by the outbreak may have an otherwise late-filed extension of time to oppose accepted by the Board.

The extension file does not include the necessary statement required by the Office's notices for Potential Opposer to obtain the relief offered by the Office. Inasmuch as there is no statement of record that the delay in filing was due to the COVID-19 outbreak, Potential Opposer is allowed until TWENTY DAYS from the date of this order to provide such a statement, if appropriate. To timely respond to this order, Potential Opposer may use the Respond to Board Inquiry form available at https://estta.uspto.gov/filing-type.jsp under the Request for Extension of Time to File an Opposition filing option. In the alternative, if Potential Opposer's next filing is a request for further extension of the opposition period OR a notice of opposition, the statement explaining delays in any of these filings may be included in or with the next filing.

If Potential Opposer fails to file the required statement, the extension of time process may be terminated as to the above-referenced Potential Opposer, or any notice of opposition refused.
