Opposition No. 91120894

INTEL CORPORATION

v.

INTELLOPS, INC.

LaToya C. Johnson, Paralegal:

Opposer's consented motions (filed May 30, 2002; June 28, 2002; July 30, 2002 and August 23, 2002) to extend discovery and testimony periods are noted.

However, because the parties are negotiating for possible settlement of this case, the motions are granted to the extent that proceedings herein are suspended until SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this action, subject to the right of either party to request resumption at any time. See Trademark Rule 2.117(c).

While the Board has exercised its discretion to suspend proceedings at this time to allow the parties ample time to continue settlement discussions without the need to continue to file further requests to extend, the parties are advised that to continue suspension after this period expires, or to seek further extensions, the parties will be expected to provide a report on the progress of their settlement talks to establish good cause for any future requests.

This report must include: a recitation of issues that have been resolved, issues that remain to be resolved, and a firm timetable for resolution. Absent such a report, any future motion to extend or suspend may not be approved, even though agreed to by the parties.

In the event that there is no word from either party concerning the progress of their negotiations within the next six months, the Board will issue an order resuming proceedings and resetting trial dates, including the time for discovery.

If, during the suspension period, either of the parties or their attorneys should have a change of address, the Board should be so informed.
