v.

Kent G. Anderson

Andrew P. Baxley, Interlocutory Attorney:

Due to clerical errors by the Patent and Trademark Office, notice of allowances were inadvertently issued in application Serial Nos. 76247198 (the involved application in Opposition No. 91158509)[1] and 76299227 (the involved application in Opposition No. 91158786),[2] and application Serial No. 76235435 (the involved application in Opposition

[1] Such notice of allowance was issued on January 3, 2006. Application Serial No. 76247198 subsequently became abandoned because applicant failed to file a statement of use.

[2] Such notice of allowance was issued on March 14, 2006.

No. 91158520) was allowed to mature into Registration No. 3402194.[3] The notices of allowance and registration were issued inadvertently during the pendency of these consolidated proceedings and will be forwarded to the Intent to Use Division and the Office of the Commissioner for Trademarks, respectively, for appropriate action.[4]

Notwithstanding the foregoing, remaining briefs on the case are due in accordance with the schedule set forth in the Board's November 4, 2006 order.

[3] Such registration as issued on March 25, 2008 after a notice of allowance was issued in connection with the underlying application on January 3, 2006.

[4] The applications at issue were also involved in Opposition No. 91158509, which was dismissed with prejudice on October 18, 2005.
