RETAIL ROYALTY COMPANY

v.

CLUETT PEABODY RESOURCES
CORPORATION

Vionette Baez, Paralegal

Now before the Board are the parties' stipulated requests for extension of time to file an answer, filed March 23, 2004, and April 22, 2004.

On March 17, 2004, the Board issued an order suspending proceedings in this matter for six months in view of the parties' settlement negotiations. Accordingly, the parties' motions are DENIED as moot. During the course of the suspension, the parties should not file any papers (with the exception of changes of address), unless a resumption of proceedings is desired. Filing of such papers is unnecessary, and is a waste of the resources of both the Board and the parties.
