Few cities in the world exude the excitement, energy, diversity and cultural richness of New York City. From Central Park's expanse of trees, meadows and ponds to busy Fifth Avenue's chic stores to the glittering lights of Broadway, New York has something to satisfy every whim and wish.

The Ritz-Carlton New York, Central Park welcomes guests with a luxurious but warm atmosphere befitting one of the world's most impressive destinations. Exquisite details such as antique chandeliers, original paintings by American modernist Samuel Halpert and works of floral art by renowned designer Jane Packer create a residential air complemented by glorious views of Central Park.

*M*emorable menus

Culinary ingenuity and the finest of the earth's bounties come together for superb dining experiences at Atelier.

An original, modern French menu with a distinctly American accent delights guests with the bold flavors of fresh, seasonal ingredients and herbal infusions. An impressive thousand-bottle wine list is presented by the master sommelier.

In the Star Lounge, an American bistro-style lunch, traditional Afternoon Tea, cocktails and light fare may be enjoyed to the soothing sounds of harp and piano music in a living room setting.

From behind the chic Star Bar, Norman Bukofzer serves guests with the finesse and hospitality that for more than 30 years have endeared him as one of New York's friendliest bartenders.

Our two Boston hotels offer a bold study in contrasts,
each enchanting travelers
with its own distinctive kind of artistry.

Wonderfully different and artfully designed, The Ritz-Carlton Hotels of Boston present an entirely new concept in personal service and elegance. One reflects the historic charm, the other the modern energy of the city itself.

Inspired by the great hotels of Europe, The Ritz-Carlton, Boston first opened its doors in the same year that Charles Lindbergh made his solo flight to Paris. Now, The Ritz-Carlton has an even greater presence in a city known for its culture, history and diversity—in two distinctive locations. Of course, the original 1927 hotel remains the landmark it has always been, and a major renovation has added an innovative sparkle to its venerable grandeur. Décor and amenities are polished to state-of-the-art perfection. On the other side of the Public Garden, The Ritz-Carlton, Boston Common welcomes guests with a contemporary sense of style and a genuine appreciation for refined sophistication.

The palms announce a light breeze off the Gulf. Which is right outside your window. The temperature is perfect, it's sunny. As usual. Your room is as inviting and comfortable as the weather. And the service: incomparable.

Welcome to The Ritz-Carlton, Naples — Florida's loveliest resort hotel. And premier conference and meeting facility.

Our location on the Gulf of Mexico, the famous "Platinum Coast," is ideal. We're pleasantly removed from the everyday — yet so convenient. You can fly in from any major city in the U.S.

Our surroundings are resort surroundings: three uninterrupted miles on bright, white beach to jog — or just stretch out on. Our Mediterranean architecture is accented by flowered courtyards and verandahs overlooking a lush mangrove hammock. And a formal English rose garden.

The hotel interior is just as splendid. Art and antiques everywhere, a marble fireplace, fresh flower arrangements. And in the guest rooms — marble baths, armoires containing honor bars and color television, terry robes, French doors opening to the Gulf.

And then there is the service. Uncompromising, personal. As warm and welcome as the breeze.

A L L T H I N G S T A S T E F U L

Dining at The Ritz-Carlton, Naples is an occasion. Always. It may also be a culinary surprise. A six-course celebration. A delectable cookout on the beach. A poolside snack. Something special for all the senses. A wonderfully relaxing, rewarding way for two or 800 people to mix business with pleasure. In grand style.

Here's a taste of a few of the things you can expect:

The Dining Room is formal, yet extraordinarily comfortable. Twenty-foot windows afford a spectacular view of our tropical gardens. You'll enjoy lovely English china and crystal, original 18th and 19th century oil paintings, grand piano. And incomparable food artfully presented.

An 18th century French mantelpiece, antique oils and bronzes give our smaller, more intimate Grill the ambience of an exclusive English club. The bill of fare includes grilled chops, steaks, seafood.

And a superb selection of wines by the glass or bottle.

The Cafe is our indoor-outdoor bistro — with palm trees as your neighbors. It's casual, tropical. The menus include fresh seafoods, chef and pasta salads, an interesting selection of fine Italian dishes. And our special fitness cuisine. This is where you may also enjoy an immodest ice cream sundae at our marble soda counter.

Now take the boardwalk through the mangroves — or come in from the beach — and you'll find The Beach Pavilion. Cool, relaxed. Just the place for a burger, fried fish, a salad. Or join us at The Pool Bar, order a pizza and frozen daiquiri. And dive in.

Then, of course, there's afternoon tea at The Ritz-Carlton. A tradition honored daily in the lobby — with a delightful selection of scones, biscuits, special breads.

And piano music. Bon appétit!

Our beach attendants will handle everything from providing towels and refreshments to helping you push your sailboat into the surf.

Our lovely pool sports an outdoor Jacuzzi. We have lighted tennis courts. With a pro on hand to give you a hand. And after the match, you'll find refreshment at The Tennis Pavilion. Challenging golf is available nearby at top-rated courses. You may join an aerobics class. Work out in our fitness center. Relax in a steam bath. Or enjoy a sauna and massage. Your stay will be fun. The meeting facilities and personal services at The Ritz-Carlton, Naples are second to none.

The Ballroom—graced with a beautiful garden terrace—is ideal for large meetings, presentations, exhibits and banquets. Our smaller ballroom, conference rooms and boardrooms are all supremely functional and elegantly appointed.

Our in-house conference catering and services staff will work with you any time of the day or night. And your conference concierge will help with last minute details. In short, we'll make sure the coffee is hot, the drinks are cold and you are always calm and cool.

Perhaps, after the meeting, a party would be appropriate. But not just a party—something a bit different; something you and your associates will not soon forget. Like a formal affair in our palm-shaded courtyard. Or a gathering at twilight on our secluded, three-mile beach. With torchlights, a buffet and a bonfire. Or a party at our lovely pool or The Beach Pavilion.

With flowers in the water, lights in the trees and a jazz trio or string quartet in the background. The possibilities are exciting, unusual. And virtually countless.

Welcome to the meeting place:
The Ritz-Carlton, Naples.
