REPLY MEMORANDUM OF LAW IN FURTHER SUPPORT OF APPLICANT'S MOTION TO FILE AN AMENDED ANSWER

I. INTRODUCTION

Applicant First Quality Hygienic, Inc. ("FQH") submits this Reply Memorandum of Law in further support of its Motion to amend its Answer to assert a counterclaim to cancel Registration No. 2,438,301 ("the Subjection Registration").

Applicant seeks to cancel the Subject Registration, which is for the mark FEMGEST (the "FEMGEST Mark") as applied to medicated topical transdermal creams for application to irritated or itchy skin ("Creams for Irritated or Itchy Skin") on the grounds that: (1) Opposer Vitamin World, Inc. ("Vitamin") abandoned the FEMGEST

Mark; and (2) Vitamin committed fraud on the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office when it obtained and maintained the Subject Registration.¹

II. Argument

1. If Vitamin Had Used The FEMGEST Mark On Creams For Irritated Or Itchy Skin, It Would Have Affirmatively Stated So In Its Opposition To FQH's Motion

FQH seeks to cancel the Subject Registration on the basis that neither Vitamin nor its predecessors-in-interest used the FEMGEST Mark in connection with Creams For Irritated Or Itchy Skin. Surely, if Vitamin or its predecessors-in-interest had used the FEMGEST Mark in connection with these goods, Vitamin would have stated this in a simple declaration (with or without documentary evidence) in opposition to FQH's Motion. It failed to do so.

Vitamin makes a transparent attempt to distract the Board from this fatal failure by arguing (without any supporting evidence) that the smoking gun label on its FEMGEST progesterone cream which states: "Do not apply to broken or irritated skin or areas affected by rashes" (emphasis added) should not be taken at face value because such "warning notices" "are routinely and regularly placed on labels." Mem. in Opposition at p. 9. Vitamin's allegation that it was able to find three instances in which a product which is the subject of a trademark registration for "irritated or scarred skin" contains a warning not to use the product on broken skin, even if true, is simply not a substitute for a clear statement from Vitamin that its product is, in fact, intended for use on irritated or itchy skin.

¹ The Board has the discretion to consider a Reply brief. See T.B.M.P. § 3:17. Since Vitamin World's Opposition raises new issues and/or mischaracterizes FQH's position, it is respectfully submitted that the Board should consider this Reply. See Id.

In any event, Vitamin has mischaracterized the nature of the three referenced registrations. Specifically: (1) Vitamin Exh. D is a printout of a registration for “topical gel for the treatment of scars,” and a scar is not broken skin (see Second Pekowsky Decl., Exhibit B, submitted concurrently herewith, defining a scar as “a mark left (as in the skin) by the healing of injured tissue”); (2) Vitamin Exh. E is a printout of a registration for a topical pain reliever for nerve damage caused by shingles, diabetes, injury and related causes, which suggests that the product is not used on broken skin, but rather, on skin that has already healed; and (3) Vitamin Exh. F is a printout of a registration for cosmetics, which has nothing to do with broken skin. Moreover, although the mark is apparently used for a product to help improve the appearance of scars, as indicated above, a scar is not broken skin.

Vitamin’s attempt to distract the Board with its advertisements is equally unavailing. Although the advertisements may not expressly state “do not use on irritated or itchy skin” this does not mean that Vitamin’s cream is intended for use on irritated or itchy skin. This is particularly true since the advertisements tout alleged advantages of the product, such as relieving hot flashes, night sweats and mood changes, none of which relate to irritated or itchy skin. See Pekowsky Decl., Exhs. E and G.²

2. FQH’s Counterclaim Is Not Untimely

Contrary to Vitamin’s contention, when FQH filed its Answer, it had no reason to suspect that the FEMGEST Mark was not being used for the goods covered by the Subject Registration. Indeed, Vitamin specifically alleged in Par. 2 of the Notices of Opposition that it was using the Mark in connection with these goods. Vitamin's allegation that FQH, as the defendant in the Oppositions, had an affirmative duty, at the time it answered the Notices of Opposition, to locate and purchase Vitamin's cream, even though it had no reason at that time to suspect that Vitamin had abandoned the FEMGEST Mark, is clearly a misstatement of the law.

Indeed, it is Vitamin which had a duty to confirm that its Mark was in use in connection with the goods covered by the Subject Registration before asserting the Registration in the Oppositions. See T.B.M.P. § 5:27.02 (a party in a Board proceeding may be subject to sanctions if it violates Rule 11, Fed. R. Civ. P., which requires, among other things, that "the allegations and other factual contentions have evidentiary support"); The Clorox Co.. v. Chemical Bank, 40 U.S.P.Q.2d 1098 n. 9 (T.T.A.B. 1996) (where respondent stated in its papers that the relevant assignment was recorded on a certain date and the related registration issued in the name of a certain entity, and those statements were "blatantly false", the Board cited Rule 11 and cautioned that "greater attention to accuracy in factual representations is expected.").

Vitamin's allegation that FQH could have learned of the non-use solely through the materials Vitamin provided during discovery (which, as previously advised, were not received until approximately March 22, 2007), is equally disingenuous. Vitamin neglects to tell the Board that none of the "specimens" it produced contain a clear copy of the label which currently appears on the product with the warning not to use the product on "broken or irritated skin or areas affected by rashes."³ The fact that neither a current specimen nor a legible copy of the current label were provided appears to be a deliberate attempt on the part of Vitamin to mislead FQH and the Board.⁴

In any event, the amount of time between receipt of Vitamin's discovery by FQH's counsel on or about March 22 and FQH's Motion To Amend on April 23, 2007 is just over a month, and therefore, even calculated from this date, FQH's Motion was clearly timely. See Turbo Sportswear, Inc. v. Marmot Mountain Ltd., 77 U.S.P.Q.2d 1152 (T.T.A.B. 2005) (granting motion filed approximately five weeks after discovering relevant facts); Boral Ltd. v. FMC Corp. 59 U.S.P.Q.2d 1701 (T.T.A.B. March 29, 2000) (granting motion filed approximately five weeks after relevant statute enacted).

The cases cited by Vitamin are clearly distinguishable. In S&L Acquisition Co. v. Helene Arpels, Inc., 9 U.S.P.Q.2d 1221 (T.T.A.B. 1987), there was no allegation that the facts relevant to the claim were unknown at the time the original answer was filed (the issue was whether the relevant case law was sufficiently developed at the time of the answer, and the Board held it was). In Vitaline Corp. v. General Mills, Inc., 891 F.2d 273, 276 (Fed. Cir. 1989), the party which asserted a counterclaim for cancellation based on fraud in a Board proceeding sought, three years later, to bring a separate cancellation proceeding against the same registration based on abandonment, relying on the same facts it had alleged in its counterclaim three years earlier. Lastly, in Capital Speakers, Inc. v. Capital Speakers Club of Washington, D.C., Inc., 41 U.S.P.Q.2d 1030 (T.T.A.B. 1996), labels for the creams (as well as advertisements and labels for another FEMGEST product), without any indication as to whether they were actual labels or mock-ups, and whether they were currently in use. See Second Pekowsky Decl. at Exh. A.

⁴ This conclusion is bolstered by the fact that the Bates Nos. for the "specimens" are referenced in the Declaration of Vitamin's counsel as "evidence" that the "specimens" were provided, but the actual documents were not included as part of Vitamin's Opposition to the Motion.

the motion to amend was made three years after the relevant factual information was obtained through discovery.

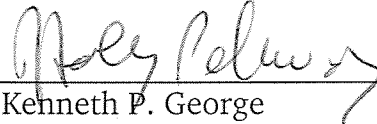

III. CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, it is respectfully requested that Applicant's Motion be granted in its entirety.

Respectfully submitted,

SECOND DECLARATION OF HOLLY PEKOWSKY IN FURTHER SUPPORT OF APPLICANT'S MOTION TO FILE AN AMENDED ANSWER

HOLLY PEKOWSKY declares as follows:

1. I am an associate at the law firm of Amster Rothstein & Ebenstein LLP, counsel of record to Applicant First Quality Hygienic, Inc. ("FQH") in the above-entitled Consolidated Oppositions (the "Oppositions").

2. I submit this Declaration in further support of FQH's Motion to amend its Answer to assert a counterclaim to cancel Registration No. 2,438,301 ("the Subjection Registration"), the registration asserted against FQH by Opposer Vitamin World, Inc. ("Vitamin") in the Oppositions.

3. Unless otherwise indicated, I have personal knowledge of the facts and circumstances set forth herein.

4. Attached as Exhibit A are the documents referenced in Paragraph 5 of Declaration in Opposition To Applicant's Motion For Leave To File An Amended Answer With Counterclaim which purportedly contain "specimens" of Vitamin's products sold under the FEMGEST Mark, namely, Bates-stamped documents VW0008, VW0010, VW0012, VW0014, VW0016, VW0071, VW0079-83, 89, VW0091-93, VW0096, VW0107, VW0110 and VW0190-92.

5. As is evident from a review of Exhibit A, these documents are not specimens of FEMGEST products, but rather, photocopies of what appear to be portions of labels for FEMGEST products, as well as some advertisements. There is no indication whether the labels are actual labels or mock-ups, and whether they are for current products or past products.

6. As is also evident from Exhibit A, none of the "specimens" Vitamin produced contain a clear copy of the label which currently appears on the product with the warning not to use the product on "broken or irritated skin or areas affected by rashes."

7. Attached as Exhibit B is a definition of the word "scar" from the online medical dictionary http://www.intelihealth.com/cgi-bin/dictionary.cgi?book=-Medical&adv=0&cgi=1&t=9276&p=%7Ebr%2CRNM%7C%7Est%2C331%7C%7Er%2CWSRNM000%7C%7Eb%2C*%7C&WEB_HOME=%2FIH%2F&MIVAL=ihIH&WEB_HOST=http%3A%2F%2Fwww.intelihealth.com&va=scar&search.x=8&search.y=10

8. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, I declare under penalty of perjury that all of the foregoing is true and correct.

ISO-GEN™

Isoflavones - Genistein and Daidzein

Soybeans contain a type of phytoestrogen called Isoflavones. Health promoting benefits are being studied by the National Cancer Institute that are attributed to soy isoflavones. They may serve as adaptogens for hormonal balance in women, may positively affect bone mass, and may have antioxidant and cholesterol lowering properties. This soy extract is subjected to a heat process to reduce protease inhibitors and maximize the digestibility of soy proteins.

Warning: Consult a health care professional first if you are pregnant or nursing.

When Your Customers Reach Menopause, They'll Reach for

The natural cream for women

Femgest™ Progesterone Cream

FemGest is a natural progesterone cream created for:

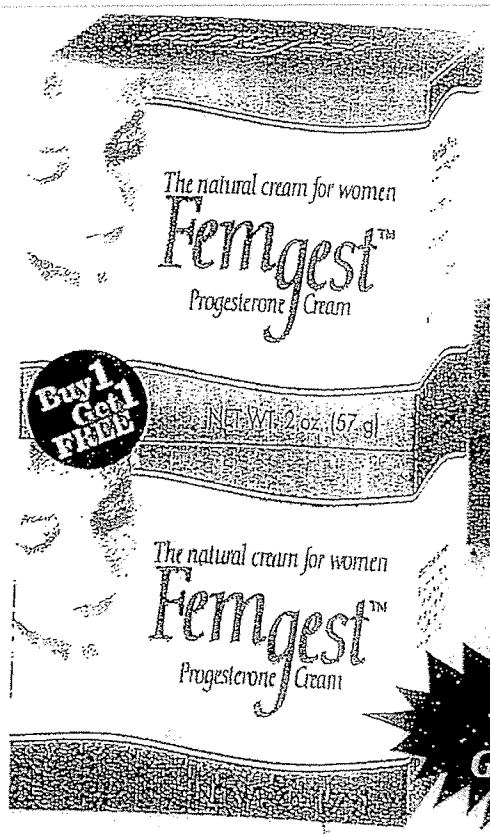

- Women of childbearing years
- Peri-menopausal, menopausal and post-menopausal women.

Every change brings challenge. For a woman, normal life stage transitions can be especially challenging. Disruptions in mood and sleep can disturb the natural rhythm of life and create a feeling of disharmony within. But now there is an answer... FemGest.

FemGest combines ancient wisdom with modern science to offer women a holistic alternative. Created from naturally occurring plant sterols, this transdermal progesterone cream was developed to help ease the discomfort caused by a woman's natural transitions and to help achieve a more harmonious balance. Now, help your customers achieve inner health and harmony with the soothing comfort of FemGest.
