SERIAL # 76/678943

I contacted the office of Conley Rose and spoke to Clare Jackson assistant to Kristin Jordan Harkins.

Kristin was unavailable but Clare logged the verbal call as a response. I said that in view of the circumstances they could ask their client for AmegA's out of pocket expenses for all the work relating to this Trade Mark. NOTE: AmegA Sciences Inc had paid for graphics for the artwork for the GeoWet TM and also paid all the filing costs. AmegA was going to produce a range of wetting agent products for this Legget Platt Company that they have subsequently had manufactured elsewhere but using graphics originated and paid for by Amega Sciences.

Clare told me that they would contact their client, document my call as a response before the May 12th deadline and let me know when their client responded.

I phoned through a few times and spoke with Clare who told me that there had been no response so far from their client. I was reluctant to use an attorney as Amega Sciences had spent far too much time and money on this project already.

I heard no more until I received this notice of abandonment.
