IN THE UNITED STATES PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE BEFORE THE TRADEMARK TRIAL AND APPEAL BOARD

Opposer, Research in Motion, Limited ("RIM") believes it will be damaged by registration of the mark CRANBERRY (the "Opposed Mark") claimed in Application Serial No. 77/489,668 (the "Application") filed by Futurelogic Incorporated (Applicant") on June 3, 2008 and published for opposition on September 9, 2008.

As grounds for opposition, RIM alleges as follows:

1. Since long prior to the filing date of the Application, RIM has been making, selling and/or offering handheld devices including smart phones and related goods and services under the mark BLACKBERRY in U.S. commerce. RIM is a highly successful, global company and the BLACKBERRY Mark is famous in connection with RIM's handheld wireless communications devices and services. The BLACKBERRY Mark is a source of considerable goodwill for RIM and the integrity of the BLACKBERRY brand is of utmost importance to RIM.

2. RIM owns numerous U.S. trademark registrations and approved applications for marks that incorporate the suffix -BERRY, most of which are for BLACKBERRY in standard characters or with a design. See Schedule of Marks attached as Exhibit A.

3. RIM's Registration No. 2,402,763 is incontestable pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1065 and provides conclusive evidence of RIM's ownership of the mark therein, of the validity of the mark therein, and of RIM's exclusive right to use the mark in commerce in connection with the services identified in the registration.

4. RIM began actual and constructive use of its BLACKBERRY marks in commerce long prior to Applicant's filing of its intent-to-use based application on June 3, 2008. RIM has been using marks that incorporate the term BLACKBERRY in connection with handheld devices including smart phones and related goods and services in US commerce since at least as early as January 19, 1999. Through this use, RIM has established valuable goodwill in the marks, and the relevant public has come to associate BLACKBERRY marks for handheld devices including smart phones as an indication of products and services that emanate from RIM.

5. RIM has prior common law rights in the mark BLACKBERRY as a trademark for handheld devices including smart phones and related goods and services as well as promotional and collateral goods.

6. RIM is the owner of all right, title, and interest in and to the mark BLACKBERRY and other marks containing the term BLACKBERRY as heretofore alleged (referred to hereinafter, collectively, as the "BLACKBERRY Marks"), in connection with its goods and services.

7. RIM has spent substantial sums of money to widely and extensively advertise and promote the goods and services it sells and offers under the BLACKBERRY Marks.

8. As a result of the same, RIM's BLACKBERRY Marks have acquired a highly favorable reputation among members of the purchasing public and have become valuable symbols of RIM's goodwill.

9. By virtue of the high degree of inherent and acquired distinctiveness of the BLACKBERRY Marks, the long duration and extensive use of the BLACKBERRY Marks in connection with the goods and services with which the BLACKBERRY Marks have been used, the long duration and extensive advertising and promotion of the BLACKBERRY Marks, the expansive trading area in which the BLACKBERRY Marks have been used and the high degree of recognition of the BLACKBERRY Marks, the BLACKBERRY Marks have become well-known and famous as distinctive indicators of the origin of RIM's goods and services, and were famous before the date of first use of the Opposed Mark and the filing date of the Application.

10. Notwithstanding RIM's prior rights in the BLACKBERRY Marks, on June 3, 2008, Applicant filed the Application in the United States Patent and Trademark Office for registration of the mark CRANBERRY for "network access server operating software; computer software, firmware and computer hardware for use with thermal printers; thermal printers; computer servers.

11. On information and belief, Applicant knew or had reason to know of RIM's prior rights in the BLACKBERRY Marks when Applicant filed the Application.

12. Each of RIM's registrations listed on the attached Schedule A issued prior to the filing date of the Application and prior to any use by Applicant of the Opposed Mark in the United States.

13. The BLACKBERRY Marks and the Opposed Mark are confusingly similar in sight, sound, and meaning.

14. Further, Applicant's goods are similar to RIM's goods and services.

Therefore, the public is likely to be confused, to be deceived, and to assume erroneously that Applicant and Applicant's services are in some way connected with, sponsored by, or affiliated with RIM, all to RIM's substantial detriment.

15. Likelihood of confusion in this case is increased by the fame and high degree of recognition of RIM's BLACKBERRY Marks as distinctive indicators of the origin of RIM's goods and services.

16. Similarly, Applicant's goods and RIM's goods and services will be targeted, offered, and sold to the same classes of prospective consumers, namely members of the general public who use electronic products and related goods and services.

17. Registration of the Opposed Mark will support and assist Applicant in the confusing and misleading use of the Opposed Mark, will give color of exclusive statutory right to Applicant in violation and in derogation of the pre-existing and superior rights of RIM, and will cause RIM to lose control over the good and valuable reputation represented by and derived from the BLACKBERRY Marks, all causing irreparable harm and injury to RIM.

18. Moreover, Applicant's Opposed Mark, when applied to Applicant's services for commercial use in commerce, causes dilution of the distinctive quality of RIM's BLACKBERRY Marks and lessens the capacity of RIM's famous BLACKBERRY Marks to identify and distinguish RIM's goods and services.

19. By reason of the foregoing, RIM will be damaged in the registration of the Opposed Mark and registration should be refused.

Respectfully submitted,
