Hudson Clothing, LLC

v.

Jennifer Hudson

Michael B. Adlin, Interlocutory Attorney:

Applicant's consented motion, filed January 13, 2012, to again extend discovery and trial dates in this almost two year old case is granted.¹ Trademark Rule 2.127(a). Dates are reset in accordance with applicant's motion.

In each instance, a copy of the transcript of testimony together with copies of documentary exhibits, must be served on the adverse party within thirty days after completion of taking of testimony. Trademark Rule 2.125.

¹ The parties are reminded that there is a continuing obligation to provide good cause in the form of progress reports for any further extension or suspension request. Absent such a report, any future motion to extend or suspend may not be approved, even though agreed to by the parties. Furthermore, applicant's motion makes clear that it is only awaiting a signature in order to finalize the parties' settlement agreement. Accordingly, further extensions or suspensions should be unnecessary, especially because the next deadline is the close of discovery, and discovery should not be required given the settlement.
