(Collectively, “Applicant’s Goods and Services”).

GROUND I: LIKELIHOOD OF CONFUSION

4. Applicant’s AC MILAN Mark is confusingly similar in sight, sound, meaning, and commercial impression to Opposer’s AC Marks. Applicant has disclaimed “1899” and “MILAN”, leaving “ACM” and “AC” as the only portion of Applicant’s word mark for which it claims exclusive rights. “ACM”, however, is incorporated into the design portion of the mark and is significantly smaller than the text portion of the mark. As a result, “AC” is the most dominant portion of the mark.

5. Moreover, there is substantial overlap as between Opposer’s services and Applicant’s services, the latter of which not only include services relating to business management, in general, but also include specific services in Class 43 that are among Opposer’s core services under its AC Marks—specifically, “Providing food and drink; providing temporary housing accommodation; . . . restaurant services; self-service restaurants; hotel services; bar services; catering; hotel and motel services; snack-bars; canteen services; providing temporary lodging at holiday camps.” In addition, many additional goods listed in Applicant’s application are likely to be found in Opposer’s gift shops, and souvenir and convenience stores, and the circumstances surrounding their marketing are such that they are likely to be encountered by the same persons under circumstances that, because of the marks used in connection therewith, would lead to the mistaken belief that they originate from the same source.

6. Opposer will be damaged by registration of Applicant’s AC MILAN Mark because the mark so resembles Opposer’s AC Marks as to be likely to cause confusion, mistake and deception. Persons familiar with Opposer’s AC Marks and the services offered thereunder would be likely to believe erroneously that Applicant’s products and/or services bearing Applicant’s AC MILAN Mark are either Opposer’s products and/or services or are authorized, endorsed, sponsored, approved, or licensed by Opposer. Thus, registration of Applicant’s AC MILAN Mark on the Principal Register would be inconsistent with Opposer's prior rights in its AC Marks under Sections 2(d) and 13 of the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 1052(d) and 1063.

GROUND II: LACK OF BONA FIDE INTENT TO USE

7. Applicant does not have a bona fide intent to use the mark in connection with all of the hundreds or thousands of goods and/or services identified in Application Serial No. 79/200,885.

8. By reason of the foregoing, Opposer will be damaged by registration of the opposed mark, and Opposer therefore requests that the Board sustain this proceeding in Opposer's favor by refusing registration to the mark underlying Application Serial No. 79/200,885.

The required opposition fee is being electronically processed in connection with this Notice of Opposition.
