Spark Therapeutics, Inc.,

Opposer,

v.

Bluebird Bio, Inc.,

Applicant.

Opposition No. _____

UNITED STATES PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE
Trademark Trial and Appeal Board
P.O. Box 1451
Alexandria, VA 22313-1451

NOTICE OF OPPOSITION

Opposer, Spark Therapeutics, Inc. (“Spark”), a Delaware corporation with an address at 3737 Market Street, Suite 1300, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19104, believing it will be damaged by registration of I AM THE SPARK, as shown in Application Serial No. 79/301,139, hereby opposes registration pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §§1051 et seq., including specifically 15 U.S.C. § 1063.

This Notice of Opposition has been timely filed. As grounds for opposition, Spark alleges as follows:

Spark's SPARK Trademarks

1. Spark is a globally recognized, industry-leading biotechnology company specializing since 2013 in the research and development of groundbreaking gene therapy cures for a range of inherited genetic diseases, including but not limited to inherited retinal disease, hemophilia A, and neurodegenerative diseases. Today, Spark is the only biotechnology company that has successfully commercialized a gene therapy for disease in the United States, bringing to doctors and patients the prospect of a one-time treatment to cure disease.

2. Spark has been continuously using its SPARK and SPARK THERAPEUTICS word marks, and its  design mark (jointly, the “SPARK Marks”) in connection with biologic therapies for retinal degenerative and hematologic disorders and diseases, as well as patient advocacy services, since at least as early as February 2014.

3. Spark made and continues to make extensive use of its SPARK Marks via the launch and commercialization of its groundbreaking gene therapy, LUXTURNA®. In early 2018, after successful clinical trials dating back to 2014, Spark launched LUXTURNA® to treat blindness caused by a specific retinal mutation. LUXTURNA® is the first directly administered gene therapy approved in the United States that cures a disease. The groundbreaking nature of this gene therapy has been widely heralded, and its pioneering FDA approval was recognized throughout the medical community.

4. Moreover, Spark is developing a gene therapy for hemophilia A (a rare bleeding disorder) that is currently in clinical trials. Accordingly, the SPARK Marks are well known by doctors, nurses, and other caregivers who treat hemophilia (and other blood disorders such as sickle cell disease), patients with rare disease and rare disease patient advocacy groups, and other companies in the healthcare and biotech/pharma industries, as well as with the professional investors who invest in such companies.

5. In addition, Spark has been continuously using the SPARK Marks in connection with education initiatives related to genetic disease and potential genetic therapies, as well as medical research services, since at least as early as October 2013.

6. Spark has made extensive use of its SPARK Marks for years in connection with promoting education and cutting-edge science to physicians, scientists, and other healthcare professionals. Spark regularly has participated in and has extensively used the SPARK Marks in connection with scientific and healthcare conferences for blood disorders, retinal disease, neurodegenerative disease, including in connection with Spark-sponsored educational symposia and informational booths at these conferences.

7. Spark also uses the SPARK Marks in conjunction with its hemophilia community outreach and educational programs, including on a Spark website (<https://sparktx.com/patients-families/hemophilia>) and Hemophilia Forward (<https://www.hemophiliaforward.com>), which provides patients, caregivers, and the public with information about hemophilia and related therapies, resources, and a community from which to draw support

8. Since Spark's founding, it has secured more than $1 billion in public and private financing to support the growth of its clinical programs and platform. As a result, Spark has enjoyed an extraordinary level of success and consumer recognition associated with the SPARK Marks. For example, Spark has been named in MIT Technology Review's list of the world's "50 Smartest Companies," in Bloomberg Businessweek's "50 Companies to Watch," and in Fast Company Magazine as one of the World's Most Innovative Companies. In 2019, Science Magazine ranked Spark as #5 in a list of Top Employers in the field of biotechnology and pharmaceuticals, based in part on its success as an "innovative leader in the industry." Also in 2019, Spark was awarded the prestigious 2019 Prix Galien USA Award for Best Biotechnology Product in the country.

9. Spark owns U.S. Trademark Registration No. 5,068,997 for the trademark SPARK covering "biologic preparations for use in the diagnosis and treatment of retinal degenerative and hematologic disorders and diseases," in International Class 5. A true and correct copy of the electronic record for this registration, printed from the United States Patent and Trademark Office's ("USPTO") Trademark Status & Document Retrieval ("TSDR") online database, is attached hereto as Exhibit A. This registration was issued on the Principal Register and is presently in full force and effect.

10. Spark has also applied to register its SPARK design mark as reflected below, both applications on the basis of use and covering the same goods and services:

Mark	Ser. No.	Goods/Services
	87/312,892	International Class 5: Biologic preparations for use in the treatment of genetically based diseases and disorders; Biologic preparations for medical purposes, namely, biologic preparations for gene therapy for treating genetic disorders International Class 42: Scientific and medical research in the field of gene therapy
	87/312,895	International Class 44: Providing a website featuring educational information regarding potential genetic therapy International Class 45: Providing patient advocacy services in the field of gene therapy to people suffering from genetic disorders

(See Exhibit A.)

11. Spark also owns U.S. Trademark Registration No. 6,404,122 for the trademark SPARKMEDICAL.COM covering:

International Class 9: Educational materials in electronic form, namely, downloadable slides, letters, and brochures pertaining to gene therapy research and products

International Class 42: Providing information and a website featuring information about gene therapy research

International Class 44: Providing information and a website regarding medical resources in the field of gene therapy and medical information; providing a website featuring educational information in the field of gene therapy

A true and correct copy of the electronic record for this registration, printed from the USPTO's TSDR online database, is attached hereto as Exhibit A. This registration was issued on the Principal Register and is presently in full force and effect.

12. Spark has also applied to register, on the basis of use, multiple other SPARK formative marks first used in 2017 or 2018, as described below:

Mark	Ser. No.	Goods/Services
SPARK PATH SPARK THERAPEUTICS PIONEERING ACCESS TO HEALTHCARE	87/812,913	International Class 36: Providing information for patients, families and health care providers about health care insurance coverage, insurance reimbursement programs, insurance payer policies and patient financial assistance programs; claims and billing processing services involving processing and obtaining approval from insurance companies and government agencies for the payment of gene therapies
	87/812,916
	87/812,917	International Class 44: Providing health care information in connection with patient and family support programs; patient and family health care coordination services, namely providing health care advocacy, advisory and information services for patients and their families regarding the coordination of medical services and travel International Class 45: Patient and family health care coordination services, namely, providing health care advisory and management services for coordinating educational, medical, social, and claims processing services for patients and their families relating to the treatment of gene-based diseases; providing patient advocate services for patients and their families regarding the coordination of medical services and related travel for patients and their families relating to the treatment of gene-based diseases; health care case management advice and consultation services, namely, care coordination for patients and families and coordinating medical, physical, personal care, and claims processing and services for patients and their families in dealing with medical service providers, hospitals, insurance companies, and others involved in patient care
SPARK THERAPEUTICS GENERATION PATIENT SERVICES	90/607,954	International Class 45: Patient health care coordination services for use in case management, namely, providing health care advisory and management services for coordinating educational, medical, and social services for patients and their families relating to the treatment of gene-based diseases; providing patient advocate services for patients and their families regarding the coordination of medical services and related travel for patients and their families relating to the treatment of gene-based diseases
	90/607,956

(See Exhibit A.)

13. Spark also owns U.S. Trademark Registration Nos. 6,119,291 and 6,119,292, for the word mark SMARTT SPARK MARKET ACCESS & REIMBURSEMENT THINK TANK and a corresponding design mark, which marks were first used in 2017, covering:

International Class 35: Arranging advisory boards that offer business management consulting services in the field of healthcare to achieve advances in health economics and business outcomes research and health outcomes research

International Class 41: Organizing events in the fields of healthcare, medicine, and pharmaceuticals for educational purposes

International Class 44: Arranging medical advisory boards that offer consulting services in the healthcare, medicine, and pharmaceutical fields; providing peer-to-peer medical advisory boards that offer consulting services in the fields of healthcare, medicine, and pharmaceuticals

True and correct copies of the electronic records for these registrations, printed from the USPTO's TSDR online database, are attached hereto as Exhibit A. These registrations were issued on the Principal Register and are presently in full force and effect.

Bluebird Bio's Infringing Application

14. According to U.S. Patent and Trademark Office records, Applicant Bluebird Bio, Inc. ("Bluebird") is a Delaware corporation with an address at 60 Binney Street, Cambridge, MA 02142.

15. Notwithstanding Spark's prior and extensive use of its SPARK marks in connection with biologic therapies and education initiatives related to genetic diseases and disorders, as well as Spark's registered trademarks such as Registration No. 5,068,997 for SPARK, Bluebird filed the subject application on August 6, 2020 for a SPARK formative mark – I AM THE SPARK – for the following closely related services in International Classes 35 and 41:

International Class 35: Promotional activities relating to awareness of disease states; advertising in the form of public advocacy to promote disease state awareness; organising advertising programs and initiatives to promote disease state awareness; provision of information, consultancy and advice relating to the aforesaid.

International Class 41: Educational activities and service related to gene therapy, namely, classes, workshops and/or seminars in the fields of diseases and disease states; organisation of conferences, seminars, symposiums, workshops, and in-person educational forums relating to diseases and disease states; providing prerecorded audio, visual, and audio-visual educational programs, not downloadable, via video-on-demand services, that relate to diseases and disease states.

Likelihood of Confusion under Lanham Act Section 2(d)

16. No issue of priority exists. Spark has been using its SPARK Marks since at least as early as October 2013 or February 2014. See U.S. Reg. No. 5,068,997; U.S. App. Ser. Nos. 87/312,892 and 87/312,895. Bluebird claims priority from a United Kingdom application dated February 25, 2020 and, as part of its Section 66(a) filing basis, alleged only a bona fide intent to use the mark in commerce in the United States in connection with the identified services.

17. Over the past eight years, Spark has invested substantial time, money and effort to establish, own, and protect the reputation of its SPARK marks. This effort includes a substantial investment in the marketing and use of these marks, and the filing of trademark applications and obtaining registrations in the United States (among other jurisdictions). As such, consumers and the healthcare industry regard these marks as symbolizing the goodwill inherent in the marks and associate them exclusively with Spark and its related goods and services.

18. The SPARK marks are inherently distinctive.

19. Bluebird's I AM THE SPARK mark is confusingly similar to the SPARK marks in terms of appearance, sound, and commercial meaning, pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1052(d). Indeed, Bluebird has incorporated the registered SPARK mark in its entirety into Bluebird's applied-for mark. Bluebird's addition of descriptive words and phrases ("I AM THE") to the SPARK mark is not sufficient to distinguish the marks.

20. The likelihood of confusion is further exacerbated by the relatedness of the applied-for services, which Spark has been rendering for many years under its SPARK marks. Specifically, Bluebird's application is focused on "promotional activities" relating to awareness of "diseases and disease states" and "educational activities and service related to gene therapy," as described above, Spark has long used its marks in connection with promoting awareness of diseases and disease states (such as blood disorders, retinal disease, and neurodegenerative disease) and of therapies for such diseases.

21. Moreover, as also described above, Spark has long used its marks in connection with educational activities and services related to gene therapy. Indeed, Spark's SPARK mark (U.S. Reg. No. 5,068,997) is registered for use with "biologic preparations for use in the diagnosis and treatment of . . . diseases," and raising awareness and educating the medical community and consumers are integrally related to the marketing and sales of any such therapies.

22. Further, Spark's SPARKMEDICAL.COM mark (U.S. Reg. No. 6,404,122) is registered for use with, inter alia, "[e]ducational materials . . . pertaining to gene therapy research and products"; "[p]roviding information and a website regarding medical resources in the field of gene therapy and medical information"; and "providing a website featuring educational information in the field of gene therapy." Thus, Bluebird's identified services are identical or closely similar to Spark's goods and services.

23. Bluebird's intended use of I AM THE SPARK is assumed to target the same types of consumers through the same channels of distribution as Spark's. Indeed, there is no limitation in Bluebird's description of services to a particular or different class of purchasers that would exclude Spark's consumers or channels of operation.

24. Given the goodwill and public recognition arising from the association of the SPARK marks with Spark, Bluebird's proposed use and registration of I AM THE SPARK in connection with the identified services is likely to cause consumers mistakenly to believe that Bluebird's services are somehow related to Spark or to its goods and services, or that Bluebird's services originate from or are sponsored or approved by Spark. This confusion and mistake will cause injury to Spark.

25. If Bluebird is awarded a registration for I AM THE SPARK in connection with the identified services, as shown in Serial No. 79/301,139, Bluebird would be entitled to the presumptions flowing from such a registration, all to the injury of Spark.

26. Spark has not given Bluebird permission to use I AM THE SPARK or any variant of the SPARK Marks.

27. Accordingly, registration for the mark applied for under Serial No. 79/301,139 should be refused under the provisions of Section 2(d) of the Trademark Act.

WHEREFORE, Opposer Spark Therapeutics, Inc. requests that Application Serial No. 79/301,139 be rejected, that no registration be issued to Applicant, and that this opposition be sustained in favor of Spark.

Please address all future communications regarding this opposition to:
