JOINT MOTION TO EXTEND

Opposer, Aston Martin Lagonda Limited (“AML”), and Applicant, The Coryn Group II, LLC (“Coryn”) (collectively, the “Parties”), hereby jointly request an extension of all current deadlines by sixty (60) days, such that the new deadlines would be as set forth below:

Time to Answer	12/17/2022 (CLOSED)
Deadline for Discovery Conference	12/06/2024 (CLOSED)
Discovery Opens	12/06/2024 (CLOSED)
Initial Disclosures Due	May 5, 2025	July 4, 2025
Expert Disclosures Due	September 2, 2025	November 1, 2025
Discovery Closes	October 2, 2025	December 1, 2025
Plaintiff’s Pretrial Disclosures Due	November 16, 2025	January 15, 2026
Plaintiff’s 30-day Trial Period Ends	December 31, 2025	March 1, 2026
Defendant’s Pretrial Disclosure Due	January 15, 2026	March 16, 2026
Defendant’s 30-day Trial Period Ends	March 1, 2026	April 30, 2026
Plaintiff’s Rebuttal Disclosures Due	March 16, 2026	May 15, 2026

Plaintiff's Reply Brief Due	July 29, 2026	September 27, 2026
Request for Oral Hearing (optional) Due	August 8, 2026	October 7, 2026

On March 7, 2025, the Board issued an order requiring that any future motion to extend the deadlines in this opposition be supported by a detailed report establishing good cause. 34 TTABVue. As set forth below, there is good cause to grant the instant joint motion, which is not being filed to cause delay or for any other improper purpose.

AML sent a counter-offer to Coryn on March 24, 2025. Coryn is currently considering AML's counter-offer and expects to provide a response soon.

The Parties have been engaged in good-faith negotiations to resolve this matter since November 18, 2021. The Parties have successfully resolved many issues during the course of negotiations, with only two issues remaining: 1.) the circumstances under which the Parties will provide each other with letters of consent if one of their prior filings blocks the other's application, and 2.) whether The Coryn Group's withdrawal of its opposed application will be with or without prejudice.

The Parties will make a good-faith effort to fully resolve this matter by the extended deadline the Parties request herein for the exchange of initial disclosures.

Accordingly, the Parties respectfully ask the Board to grant the instant motion so they can focus their efforts on continuing negotiation and resolution of this matter.

Dated: April 30, 2025

Respectfully submitted,
