COUNT I

No Use in Commerce, Failure to Function - 15 U.S.C. § 1051

18. Opposer herein incorporates by reference each of the foregoing paragraphs.
19. Upon information and belief, the specimens Applicant submitted in the Application show only ornamental use of Applicant's Mark, and such use is not use in commerce.
20. The specimens in the Application the mark applied to the front of a t-shirt, in large decorative lettering, around the entirety of the front of the neck of the t-shirt. Such use is merely decorative and ornamental and thus cannot function as a trademark to indicate the source of Applicant's Goods. Consumers may not perceive larger designs as trademarks when such matter is prominently displayed across the front of a t-shirt. See In re Pro-Line Corp., 28 USPQ2d at 1142; In re Dimitri's Inc., 9 USPQ2d 1666, 1667-68 (TTAB 1988); TMEP §1202.03(a), (b), (f)(i)-(ii).
21. Upon information and belief, Applicant was not using Applicant's Mark in interstate commerce in connection with all of the recited goods in the Application.
22. Upon information and belief, Applicant was not using Applicant's Mark in interstate commerce, pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1051, when Applicant filed the Application.
23. As a result of such non-use, the Application lacks a valid filing basis for all of Applicant's Goods.
24. Refusing registration of Applicant's Mark serves the public interest in not registering marks which are not in use.
25. Refusing registration of Applicant's Mark serves the public interest in limiting the scope of registered rights to be commensurate with the actual use of Applicant's Mark.
26. Applicant requests the Application be refused registration because it fails to meet the use requirements under 15 U.S.C. § 1051.
27. In the alternative, the Application is void ab initio, pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1051, and the Application should be refused accordingly.

COUNT II

Likelihood of Confusion - 15 U.S.C. § 1052(d)

28. Opposer herein incorporates by reference each of the foregoing paragraphs.
29. Opposer has priority with respect to the Application based on the valid and subsisting Opposer's Registrations, which registered before the filing date of the Application.
30. Opposer has priority based on its prior use of Opposer's Registered Trademarks and Opposer's Common Law Trademarks in commerce before the filing date of the Application and any date of first use that Applicant may prove.
31. Applicant's Mark is confusingly similar to each of Opposer's Registered Trademarks in sound, spelling, appearance, connotation, and commercial impression. Applicant's Mark appropriates the term COMFY from each of Opposer's Registered Trademarks.
32. Applicant's Mark is confusingly similar to each of Opposer's Common Law Trademarks in sound, spelling, appearance, connotation, and commercial impression. Applicant's Mark appropriates the term COMFY from each of Opposer's Common Law Trademarks.
33. Applicant's Goods are related to Opposer's Goods and Opposer's Services advertised, promoted, and/or sold by Opposer under both Opposer's Registered Trademarks and Opposer's Common Law Trademarks.
34. Applicant's Mark so resembles Opposer's Registered Trademarks and Opposer's Common Law Trademarks as to be likely, when used in connection with Applicant's Goods, to cause confusion, to cause mistake, or to deceive under 15 U.S.C. § 1052(d). Consumers in the marketplace are likely to mistakenly believe that Applicant's Goods are offered, sponsored, affiliated, approved, or otherwise related to Opposer, Opposer's Goods, or Opposer's Services. Applicant's use or registration of Applicant's Mark will cause Opposer injury because such use or registration is likely to cause confusion, to cause mistake, or to deceive, by incorrectly causing consumers to believe that the goods offered by Applicant are offered, sponsored, affiliated, approved, or otherwise related to Opposer, Opposer's Goods, or Opposer's Services. Moreover, any defect in goods provided by Applicant under Applicant's Mark may be improperly connected to and injure the reputation and goodwill of Opposer, which Opposer has worked to develop.

35. Opposer asserts that Applicant's Mark is barred from registration because it consists of or comprises a mark which so resembles Opposer's Registered Trademarks and Opposer's Common Law Trademarks as to be likely, when used in connection with Applicant's Goods, to cause confusion, to cause mistake, or to deceive under 15 U.S.C. § 1052(d).

WHEREFORE, Opposer believes it will be damaged by registration of Applicant's Mark, and so Opposer prays that this Opposition be sustained, that Application Serial No. 97/811,411 be refused registration, and that no registration be issued thereon to Applicant.

Respectfully submitted,

/Thomas W. Galvani/

Ok, we'll be honest: we're still not 100% sure being on The Tank actually happened. But you saw it, right? That was us, wasn't it?

What a ride it was. And the same thing could happen to you, too. How do we know? Because our mother said so, that's why! We'll explain later. First, the journey.

Original prototype - April 2017

It started back in May of '17 - just a month after forming our company - when we decided to fly up to an open call in Denver. All we had was a dream, a prototype, and - as you're now (painfully) aware - our magnificent singing voices!

The Comfy Bros. at the Shark Tank audition in Denver - May 2017

Fast-forward to mid-September, and we'd survived the mounds of paperwork, the stress of advancing through each stage of the process, and the months of uncertainty not knowing if we'd even be chosen to film. As we sat in the on-deck room hearing the commotion of the pitch before us off in the distance, it hit us: 'We're gonna be on Shark Tank!!'

Behind the scenes as we get ready for the biggest moment of our lives.

Walking down that famous hallway, having that last set of doors open, and finally stepping into the world of Mark, Lori, Kevin, Barbara, and Robert was the most surreal moment of our lives. This was our chance to stand on the most sacred ground in all of entrepreneurship and pitch five of the most famous names and brilliant minds in business on our product. It's like you're suddenly inside your favorite TV show - because we were.

We filmed for about half an hour. (It's then edited down to about an eight-minute segment.) We sang - we laughed - and we stared in amazement as the Sharks tried on their Comfys (even Mark!) and joked around with each other. It's like time was standing still. Amazing.

Were there things we'd do differently? Of course; we think anyone who's ever been lucky enough to stand in The Tank would say the same thing. But our goal was to be entertaining, to be compelling, and to sell the Sharks on what we think could be one of the most successful products in the history of the show. Our business was so young that we still didn't have a product to sell, so we knew we'd have to convince the Sharks to invest in us as much as they would be investing in our idea.

That night, driving back to the hotel, was an out-of-body experience. You're numb. You can't really process what just happened. But we looked at each other knowing that we'd not only survived The Tank, but that we'd realized our own version of the fabled American Dream. We're just a couple of brothers from the desert who had a crazy idea. The only difference between us and so many others who have great ideas is that we did something about it. We took action. We didn't take no for an answer. And getting back to where this story started - to why you should consider doing the same things we've done - we remembered those three simple words our mother always told us: "Why not you?" Yes, mom: Why not us, indeed. We hear you. We've heard you for all these years. And after hearing our story we hope it's you who will now be asking yourself... 'Why not me?'

The Comfy Bros & family. Without the support of each of these people, this journey would not have been possible.
